Dollar Days Offer a Bargaining Period For Big Area

Dollar Days will dawn in Midland tomorrow.

And again on Friday and Saturday Dollar days will draw hundreds of shoppers to Midland.

The first great city-wide Dollar days set for Thursday, Friday and Saturday are expected to draw shoppers from miles around. Dollar days are to be monthly features in Midland. The next Dollar days will come on May 14, 15 and 16.

All Midland merchants in all lines of business are urged to join in the Dollar days events to help make it a city-wide trading event. Dollar days as a city-wide movement was initiated last week at a meeting of the retailers and trades extension committee representatives of the chamber of commerce.

Dollar days are to supplement Trades days and are placed in the middle of the month so as to divide the concentration of trading in Midland.

Various merchants will offer big bargains this week for Dollar days, and thrifty men and women plan to do some heavy spending the next three days of this week. It was the unanimous intention of merchants to offer genuine money-saving bargains for Dollar days.

WHEAT CROPS TO BE BIGGER SAYS REPORT

WICHITA FALLS, April 15. (UP).—Bumper wheat prospects in North Texas were improving business as field mills and elevators prepared for the season.

The acreage is larger than ever and the yield is expected to run 25 to 40 bushels an acre. The recent freeze did little damage and the fields will be waist high in ten days.

2-A Cowden Is Drilling at 4248

Southern Crude's 2-A Cowden well in Ector county was drilling ahead at 4248 feet today, according to scouts who had visited the well. No change was reported.

The well, 680 feet from the north and east lines of section 34, block 44, township 2 south, T. & P. Railway survey, does not open a new pool, but extends that discovered last year by the company about three-quarters of a mile southwest. At 4,230 feet, Southern Crude No. A-2 Cowden was 1,165 feet below sea level. The last increase in No. 1-A Cowden was obtained at 4,235 feet, or 1,188 feet below sea level and the discovery was drilled to 4,244 feet, or 1,197 feet below sea level.

Mexican Studies Entertain Lions

Students of the Mexican school entertained at the Lions club luncheon today in the Methodist church under the direction of their teacher, Mrs. J. Holt Jowell. Readings and songs in Spanish and English were given.

Kathleen Scruggs and Merwin Haag, senior declaimers of the high schools, gave selections they will use at the district meet in San Angelo next week.

The luncheon was served ranch style by the Methodist women. The meat was donated by Frank Elkin and prepared by Virgil Ray and A. B. Cooksey.

McKee Debunks Favored Adage

There's nothing to the "Think twice and then act" doctrine, says Roy McKee.

If he had stopped to think this morning, he would have been a victim to a six-foot rattler.

McKee was on his mother's Mrs. A. F. McKee farm, six miles east of Midland. A rattler sounded near him and, as he leaped, struck, narrowly missing McKee.

He killed the snake and brought it to town. It had 12 rattles and a button.

PUERTO CABEZAS FEARFUL

Americans in Danger There, Say All Dispatches

MANAGUA, April 15. (UP).—Marine corps airplanes loaded with bombs and ammunition were ready today to dash to Puerto Cabezas where 300 United States citizens were awaiting an attack of rebel forces.

The U. S. S. Asheville was ready to take Americans from the city if rebels reach there. The cruiser Rochester was en route to Nicaragua to aid American Nicaraguan forces to defend Puerto Cabezas against the attack.

British Also Molested
NEW ORLEANS, April 15. —Standard Fruit and Steamship company officials said last night they had received reports from Nicaragua indicating 11 Americans and an undetermined number of British subjects had been killed by insurgents who were reported moving on Puerto Cabezas.

The Americans listed mostly were employes of the fruit company and its subsidiary, Bragman's Bluff Lumber company, the officials said. They were working in the interior, they explained, and Americans at Puerto Cabezas were in no danger as the United States gunboat Asheville and two of the Standard Fruit and Steamship company boats were standing by ready to offer refuge. The officials said the insurgents were not molesting native Nicaraguans but were centering their antagonism against American and British residents.

The insurgents, the company reports said, greatly outnumbered the guardia nacional.

Names of those killed were not available, the company said.

MORE GRASS FED CATTLE FOR THE MARKET COMING

The present prospect in Texas points to a larger than usual number of grass-fat cattle available for market this year, and the prospective movement of this class of cattle will be considerably larger than a year ago. While the spring shipments to other states is estimated at 436,000 head or 5 per cent less than the 1930 shipments, the slaughter at the Texas markets fell far below those of other years, making the total disappearance of Texas cattle during these months well in line with recent years, but considerably below the disappearance of 1925, 1926, and 1927.

Last year 459,000 head of cattle moved to other states, but only 156,807 were slaughtered at the 5 Texas markets. (Fort Worth, San Antonio, El Paso, Dallas, and Laredo) The small slaughter last year may be partially accounted for by the very poor range conditions, and to the scarcity of grass-fat cattle during the period. At the present time condition of ranges has seldom been better, and a large number of grass-fat cattle will be available for a direct market movement, and receipts at Texas market points, such as (See MORE CATTLE page 8)

Tuesday's program is to open with a breakfast for club presidents and secretaries, and the general program for the morning will include in addition to a number of interesting addresses, nomination of candidates for district governor, and balloting for the nominee. The nominee will be introduced following the report of the election committee in the afternoon, and he and the international president and their wives will be honored with an informal dinner at the Hilton hotel that evening.

BRANDS EAST TEXAS FIELDS AS MENACE

API Speaker Points Out Danger to Industry

ST. LOUIS, April 15. (UP).—Flush production in the new oil fields of East Texas has created a new problem in the industry, W. R. Boyd, vice-president of the American Petroleum Institute, told 400 oil leaders here today.

Boyd declared that the field has been allowed to flow uncontrolled at full capacity since the recent discovery, whereas a check is being held on older fields.

Demos Can Win From GOP Provided They Forget Prohibition, He Says

AUSTIN, April 15. (UP).—President Hoover will be renominated by the republicans and a united democratic party can win the next presidential elections, United States Senator Tom Connally told a joint session of the senate and house here today.

The senator declared that democrats must keep prohibition out of the platform in 1932 as the question will divide the ranks.

"Vote Dry, Drink Wet"
WASHINGTON, April 15. (UP).—

Declaring that there are 40,000,000 drinkers in the United States under prohibition, Mrs. Florence Rodgers of Dallas admitted today that voters of her state would "still vote dry and drink wet." She said that public sentiment is turning against prohibition.

Health Round-up Here in Early May
A health "round-up," instituted nationally for the purpose of insuring healthful children enrolling in schools next fall, will be carried on in Midland in cooperation with a national movement, early in May.

All children to enter school will be examined by physicians. The campaign in Midland begins May 4 and ends May 11. It is hoped that all parents will assist in the move.

Defects will be corrected. In years to come children in public schools will be vitally improved over those of today if the round-up achieves the success wished for it.

The north and south ward schools of Midland will enlist children. An executive meeting is called for this afternoon by the north ward school for the purpose of mapping plans.

Those who will meet are: Mrs. Percy J. Mims, chairman of the round-up; Mesdames E. C. Adams, Ben Dublin, M. E. Cole, Myrl Jowell, Clyde Barron, J. G. Gemmill and Fred Wemple.

Good Response to Poster Contest
Health posters to be entered in the May day contest are being made by students of city and rural schools.

One teacher in south ward school announced this morning that 20 of her students had finished charts.

It is understood that rural school students will turn in an unprecedented number of posters.

NORMALCY REIGN IS BEGINNING

Catalonia, However, Issues Orders for Strike

MADRID, April 15. (UP).—Climax of the Madrid republican celebration began today as 100,000 gathered to see the return of political exiles. The people were also attracted by the departure of King Alfonso and the royal family.

Queen Victoria and the children were en route to France.

The king's farewell message will not be published, according to authorities.

Meanwhile a strike has been declared in Catalonia today.

Proclamation Tuesday
MADRID, (UP).—The provisional government headed by Alcalá Zamora proclaimed a republic throughout Spain Tuesday.

Proclamation of a republic followed the abdication of King Alfonso XIII.

The republic was proclaimed at 5:30 p. m. at the Madrid city hall, over which the republican flag floated.

Zamora and five colleagues were tried only three weeks ago on a charge of signing the same manifesto and were sentenced to six months' imprisonment.

The sentences were remitted. Six other signers avoided trial by escaping abroad.

Life Guarded
The ancient throne of Spain joined the other royal houses that have gone down in the past-war debacle, and a republican government was formed to rule the country.

Alfonso XIII, born a king and head of the house of Bourbon, acceded to the demands of the triumphant republican leaders that he get out—not merely abdicate in favor of his son—but resign and let the republicans rule, ending 981 years of monarchical government in Spain.

The king was granted a safe conduct from Spain and was expected to leave as soon as possible with the royal family. All the princes and princesses were in Madrid, with the exception of one son, who is absent at a military academy.

Populace Rejoices
Demonstrations of rejoicing were held in cities throughout Spain. Fair order was maintained, although there were riotous scenes in some places. Two were killed at Dalarosa and three injured in Hevia.

The triumph of the republicans was so swift and bloodless that the country could hardly realize what momentous events were taking place until they had become an accomplished fact.

The overturn started Sunday, when municipal elections were held throughout Spain. The republicans carried almost every city. When the extent of the victory was realized Monday, Alcalá Zamora called on the king to resign.

AND NOW, SPAIN GIVES WAY

The proud Spanish monarchy apparently is no more. King Alfonso is to be escorted under guard from the borders of the former kingdom.

Throughout history, nations have fallen. Greece and Spain are the latest kingdoms. One can name on the fingers of one hand the truly great nations that have not gone through the throes of internal reform just as sweeping as those now convulsing Spain.

But, with the downfall of the Spanish monarchy, a reversal falls on a Spain that suddenly is back in the disjointed days of Ferdinand and Isabella, before the provinces of Castile and Aragon were united.

The Spanish problem appears much worse than it really is. The revolution is just a few centuries late, that is all. And, coming late, it appears anachronistic to students of today.

THE GREATEST AUTHORS

One of the best ways to start a fine argument is to make up a short list of the best American novels. No matter what books you select, there will always be plenty of people to disagree with you.

John Galsworthy, who is surely one of the greatest living novelists, recently named what he considers the four greatest American novels.

Now we can sit back and wait for the various critics to fall upon him and tell him where he is in error.

Probably the most notable thing about it is that it overlooks the great writers of the present day. Hawthorne belongs far back in an earlier, almost forgotten, generation.

But where are the writers of today—those writers whom earnest critics exalt mightily, as if they had only they, among all Americans, had been permitted to see the true inwardness of things?

Where, to be specific, are Messrs. Lewis, Dreiser and Cabell? Mr. Galsworthy seems to have ignored them.

Naturally, there is nothing final about Mr. Galsworthy's selections. There are plenty of qualified judges who are convinced that Dr. Dreiser and Mr. Lewis have more to say to us than had Mark Twain and Hawthorne.

There were able writers in the land before most of the present-day reading public were born; and it is just possible that some writers of the present generation have been praised a trifle more generously than they deserve.

Progressives and Other Friends of Federal Power Regulation Who Attacked Commission for Discharging Aides, Now Praise It for Decision in the New River Case

WASHINGTON. — The Federal Power Commission's unanimous decision in the New River case, commonly interpreted as a splendid victory for "the people" over the "power trust," has shifted attention to an offshoot of the long and bitter power war which has brought President Hoover into violent conflict with the Senate.

The power commission refused to grant the Appalachian Power Company a "minor part" license, which would have freed the company's proposed $11,000,000 development on the New River of federal regulation.

That was the second important thing the commission had done since its appointment a few months ago. The first thing it did was to fire Solicitor Charles A. Russell and Chief Accountant William V. King, who had been trying to keep the power companies honest in their grabs for power sites under federal control.

Senate Withdrew Approval
Just before the Christmas holidays, the nomination of Smith and Commissioners Draper and Garzaud to the commission were confirmed by the Senate. It organized immediately and fired Russell and King.

Smith and his colleagues are now being praised for their New River decision by the Progressives and other friends of federal regulation who howled loudest when they discharged Russell and King.

King Got Job Back
Another sidelight on the original back to his old job while Russell, who was louder and noisier but also able, honest and more effective than King against the "trust," had to go looking for a job and had a hard time landing anything until Governor Roosevelt of New York engaged him as his legal adviser on power problems.

Former Senator George Wharton Pepper of Pennsylvania and Attorney General Mitchell will appear for Smith and argue his right to the job, Mitchell will act as a "friend of the court."

Pepper, who will act as Smith's counsel, was counsel for Postmaster Myers of Portland, Ore., in a case which was the last important legal clash between Congress and the Smith reconsideration within two successive legislative days an act of accepted procedure and that reconsideration was more before Smith legally held office. Smith's contention is that when a man is confirmed he stays confirmed, regardless of Senate rules, and that the attempt to oust him is an attempt to punish him for an administrative act.

She replied, "Pop painted the gate this morning and it ain't dry yet."

It just happens that I am looking for my paste. It is one of these small bottles with a little brush in it. There is not much paste in it.

I asked her if I could be of any assistance to her and she answered in the affirmative. She said she wanted me to open the gate.

She was plenty big to swing that gate open but I was not going to argue with her about that. I opened

Tariff Boost Is Asked on Eggs

SAN FRANCISCO, Apr. 15. (UP)—President Hoover and the Federal Tariff Commission have been asked by John E. Pickett, agricultural economist, to increase the duty on eggs imported from China to prevent another $200,000,000 loss to the American egg industry.

This sum represented the loss in income to American poultry men last year due to a 27 per cent slump in prices, Pickett, who is editor of the Pacific Rural Press, told the commission.

"At a time when the egg price cycle should have tilted upward and agricultural economists were predicting that it would, a flood of cheap, processed Chinese eggs came into the country," Pickett said in an open letter.

"This has probably cost the hen owners of the nation more in the last 18 months than it cost to build

Texas Drillers Are "Oil Poor"

AUSTIN, Tex., April 15. (UP).—The envious, perhaps even covetous, way you regarded old acquaintances who struck oil a few years ago would no longer be justified.

Some of the worries of the oil man outlined at a week's hearing before the Texas Railroad Commission in an effort to get a rigid limit on production are:

If you own oil land, drill a well and produce the oil, there is no profitable market for it. Cost of lifting the oil in some fields was put above the price received.

If you store it, the oil deteriorates. The most valuable part is the most volatile. It disappears first leaving stale oil.

If you do not drill or operate your well when drilled, the man owning adjoining property will drain out the oil from under your property. He can do so in Texas lawfully if his well is not within 150 feet of the property line.

If he doesn't take the oil out from under your property, he does take the gas. Without the gas there is nothing left to force the oil to the surface. Besides, with the gas gone, water seeps in and takes the field.

Other oil facts adduced were: In a typical field like the new East Texas field, it costs $35,000 to install a properly equipped well.

Natural gas worth three to four cents a thousand cubic feet after it has lifted the oil to the surface sells for 65 cents a thousand cubic feet in cities a few hundred miles away. Pipe line cost is given as the reason for the increase.

SALAD DRESSINGS TO SUIT THE SALADS

"THERE is a right kind of salad for each occasion, and a right kind of dressing for each different kind of salad."

That is nothing new! It is simply that some things go together and some do not. It is as old as flowers in spring, overcoats in winter, going to bed at night and getting up in the morning.

So mix a dressing appropriate to the salad. For the right dressing, mixed to suit the particular flavors of the salad, really decides the success of the salad.

Each different kind of salad has a different flavor. That is why we like them. Then why smother all their flavors under a blanket of thick dressing like mayonnaise? Mix a dressing appropriate to the salad.

In my little booklet I suggest a few salads appropriate for each occasion and the dressings that go best with them. I feel sure you will enjoy it because I have written it just for you. I hope it will help you make all your dinners and parties the charming successful occasions you want them to be.

By PHILIP J. SINNOTT,
NEA Service Writer.

BURBANK, Calif. — John Henry Mears, wealthy New York theatrical producer and sportsman, just can't stand to have anybody travel faster than he does.

And Vance Breese, one of the West's greatest pilots and aeronautical designers, happens to have a two weeks' vacation in May.

The result is a combination of the pair for Mears' third drive for a round-the-world speed record; a mark that Mears avers will "stay put" for some time if all works out as planned.

Back in 1913, Mears heard that a French globe trotter held the record for the shortest trip around the world.

"That ought to be an American record," said Mears. And he forthwith started out. By steamer and train, he girdled the globe in 35 days. That held until airplanes came into more general use.

In 1928, Mears decided again that an American ought to set the record for a trip around the world. With the late Captain Charles E. D. Collyer as his pilot, Mears used fast liners across oceans, and his plane across continents. They made it in 23 days.

Beaten by Graf Zepp

Then, a year later, along came the dirigible Graf Zeppelin, to make the trip in 21 days. Again Mears was bothered, and wanted Americanize the mark once more.

A year ago he talked to Breese then chief test pilot for the Lockheed plant here. Breese already had won fame as a pilot, and as a constructor of successful trans-Pacific airplanes. He was busied with some design problems and couldn't get away.

Recently Breese became assistant to the president of the Lockheed Aircraft Co. He has been busied in making some changes in the Lockheed commercial plane—adding 40 miles an hour to its speed.

Plan 1931 Trip

Again Mears met Breese. The

FASTEST TRIPS AROUND WORLD

1519-1522 — Magellan's ships, 1083 days.

1899—Nelly Bly, 72 days.

1901 — Police Chief Charles Fitzmorris of Chicago, 60 days.

1911—Andre Jaeger Schmidt, 39 days.

1913—John H. Mears, 35 days.

1924—U. S. Army airplanes, 175 days (14 days, 15 hours of actual flying time).

1926 — Edward S. Evans and Linton Wells, 28 days.

1928—John H. Mears and Captain C. E. D. Collyer, 23 days.

1929 — Raffaele Maiullari, 34 days; Charles Olsen, 39 days.

1929—Graf Zeppelin, 21 days.

latter mentioned the redesigning results he had attained; also his May vacation.

"Let's give your new design a thorough test," said Mears. "I'll buy one, add some special equipment, and you spend your vacation with me, going around this world faster than anybody ever went before."

That caught Breese's fancy. The two are working out all the plans and supervising construction, arranging fuel supplies, etc. And in May they plan to hop from New York, cross the Atlantic, and return to New York via Siberia and Alaska in less than three weeks.

It's a 19,000 mile flight they plan. Of this, 5500 will be over water. All the way around the world, they will be hugging pretty closely the 53rd meridian.

Here Is Their Route

Leaving New York, the first stop will be Harbor Grace, N. F., then across the North Atlantic to Dublin. From Dublin, they fly to Moscow will be next, then 8000 miles across Siberia, along the Trans-Siberian Railway, to Khabarovsk, on the Manchurian border. Wheels will be there exchanged for pontoons, for the 600-mile jump across the Sea of Okhotsk to Petropavlosk, the jump across the North Pacific via the Aleutians to Chignik, Alaska, and down the Pacific and Puget Sound to Seattle, Wash. Wheels will be replaced at Seattle for the transcontinental home stretch dash to New York.

"We plan no night flying," Mears explains. "Our redesigned ship, with special streamlining and cowling, plus a powerful motor, will average 220 miles an hour. Our equipment will include a new type compass, and radio, of course. For the trans-Atlantic hop, we are allotting 10 hours' time."

Breese was not a competitor in the ill-fated Dole race from San Francisco to Honolulu in 1927. But a ship built and designed by him carried Martin Jensen across to Hawaii to win second prize. His flying is marked by skill rather than daring; witness the occasion two or three years ago when the engine dropped clear out of the plane he was piloting over San Francisco. There were seven passengers in the plane. Breese coolly directed them to move for better balance, and he landed the motorless plane and all his passengers without a bump or a scratch.

Mears a Born Rover

Mears is a born rover. As a mere boy he devoured everything he could find on Drake and Magellan. Jules Verne's "Around the World in 80 Days" was a favorite, and he early decided to eclipse Verne's hero, Phineas Fogg.

In 1900, at 20, he was sputtering about the streets of Chicago in one of the first "gas buggies" seen there. In 1913 he decided to try for the round-the-world record, then held by Andre Jaeger-Schmidt, a French newspaperman. Mears planned to cover 21,066 miles in 25 days, 21 hours and 35 minutes. And he arrived within four-fifths of a second of the allotted time. Then in 1928 he and Collyer again broke the World-circling record, cutting the record to 23 days.

The comparatively de luxe aspect of this journey was in marked contrast with his first trip, when he actually made one-leg of the trip clinging to the wing of a "jenny" plane which he had to use to save time, and which had only a single seat for the pilot. His new plane will, of course, be the last word for long-distance aerial travel.

So it looks as though Breese's vacation limits and Mears' record-making avidity may be setting some real aviation marks a few weeks hence.

APARTMENTS CHANGE ORIENT TO MODERN

SHANGHAI—The apartment house has changed this Oriental city which, a few years ago, was steeped in the civilization of days gone by, into a modern city.

Within the last ten years approximately 2000 apartment houses have been built or are being erected here at present. No other city in the Far East had taken to modern civilization like Shanghai. Some of these houses are more than 10 stories high, and one rises 17 stories.

The modern hotel is gaining a firm hold here also, and a new one of the modern American type is under construction.

VACUUM UNLOADS FISH

TACOMA, Wash.—The vacuum cleaner idea is now used here to unload fish from the deep holds of fishing schooners. In place of the old bucket and cable unloader, the suction system has been installed and is proving more efficient, unloading a fish hatch in one-tenth the time it took by the old method. The fish are sucked out of the hatch by an eight-inch rubber hose.

JONES AND HAGEN GONE, WHO'LL THWART THOSE BRITISH GOLFERS?

Gemmil Clouts Homer to Place News Team in Tie with TES Company

SEVEN AMERICANS LEFT BUT VETS HAVE PASSED

By CHESTER L. SMITH, NEA Service Special Writer.

This is to be a quiet spring along the British golfing front, with no Bobby Jones to confound Briton and fellow countrymen alike nor a Hagen to blow hot and cold shivers up and down the backs of breathless galleries with his capricious weapons.

Unless Jones has a complete change of heart, he is out of it entirely. Sir Walter is very positive in his decision to remain on this side. The two have accounted for six British Open championships out of the eight played since 1922, and without them the American invaders cannot hope to put on as colorful a show as before.

In addition, the Ryder Cup matches are to be played over here this year, so the greater part of the annual trans-Atlantic traffic in professionals will be east to west for a change. The American Open, at Iverness, Toledo, the first week of July will be the outstanding international battleground this season, instead of ancient Carnoustie, site of the British Open.

At present, six Americans have indicated they intend to compete for the trophy Jones is vacating. Horton Smith, whose visits to old country links have been none too memorable, is to try again. Joe Kirkwood will accompany Smith, while Tommy Armour, Tony Manero and El Espinosa are also planning the voyage. Mac Smith is already at Carnoustie.

Whiffy Cox, the seasoned Brooklyn, N. Y., campaigner, who has been coming along nicely in recent seasons, declares he too may try his hand.

Should the seven all be present at Carnoustie when the fight begins on June 1, the United States would have a formidable enough entry—although far below the power of recent years when Jones and Hagen were bulwarked by Johnny Farrell, Gene Sarazen and one or two others. The chances of keeping the cup in our possession would be no better than seven against the field, nor are they likely to be greater for some time with Jones devoting his time to Hollywood and the radio and "Calamity Jane"—that Aaron's Rod to putters—putting in idleness. Bobby has been the buffer which stood between American golf and the world. When he didn't win, he snuffed the life out of the field so thoroughly that some fellow citizen generally did, and with this protection withdrawn, fairways here and abroad are once more free hunting grounds.

Those professionals who go to England likely will plan to arrive in

EXTRA INNING IS REQUIRED FOR DECISION

Manager Gemmill of the Reporter-Telegram playground ball club hit a home run in an extra inning to put over the winning run on the Texas Electric Service company Tuesday, bringing the two clubs into a dead-lock for the league supremacy.

The score was 11-9. The newspaper lads led most of the way, but the heavy hitting and fast fielding electricians came from behind and knotted the score in the seventh.

The extra inning was played and Gemmill, with one on, socked one on the snout and galloped four bases. Each club has won six and lost one game, having lost only to each other. Their percentage is .855.

Morse pitched for the winners, Hodges for the losers. Ratliff and A. Estes caught.

time to tune up in the Southport Open, May 11, and the Leeds Match Play tournament, May 19. These events offer a combined purse of $12,500 and an opportunity to iron out seagulls. Then there is a week remaining before the Open, June 1, in which to learn the bypaths of Carnoustie.

Carnoustie is best known in this country as the course which nurtured the illustrious Smiths, of whom Macdonald stands out as the most prominent of the decade, although Willie and Aleck achieved even greater fame earlier in the century. Mac's return is a fitting gesture to the memory of boyhood friends and conquests.

Mac's addition strengthens America's forces immeasurably, but the opportunity for Britain to retrieve its treasured mug still must be considered bright. Perhaps those cousins of ours deserve a break of some kind; goodness knows, they've stood patiently by and rendered gracious applause while the trophy was given into alien hands.

Not since Arthur Havers beat back all rivals at Troon in 1923, has the Open been won by other than an American, unless one counts out the expatriated Jim Barnes. Since Barnes, it has been Jones three times and Hagen twice.

John I. Moore and B. C. Mann, oil men of San Angelo, spent Tuesday night in Midland.

SPORTS REPORTS

"We're with you, Bulldogs, and, dern our cowhide, we'll be the guy to put epicure in their water and cockle burrs in their breeches if it will take that to help them win from the balance of the teams in Class A. . . . This scribe glories in the spunk and the ambition the Bulldog aggregation of the Midland high school has shown in crashing the gates to Class A. . . . The Buffalo camp regrets to lose the Dogs from the Class B division. . . and joins in hoping Midland will wade through their contenders in Class A like forked lightning through etherial space."

The paragraph above is part of the liberal good wishes expressed by James Kelly of the Stanton Reporter. Writing in "Snooter Nose," his front page column, he weaves the good wishes on the end of sincere doubts that Midland can survive the slings of outrageous fortune slung by the San Angelo Klitters and Big Spring Steers.

The Bisons will trample opposition in Class B. Kelly threatens. He points out that Midland and Stanton have been splitting honors in annexing the district title but that, Midland removed, the Buffs will start a serious bid to become a perennial champion.

Stanton has always been fast on the offense and dogged on defense. We are not well versed with what material will return to other Class E schools of the district, but Stanton is going to give someone a lot of trouble. In fact, Midland and Stanton might play during the season. Midland will fill out a schedule that now includes only five games, and a Stanton-Midland game played in Midland would bring out the fans in packs.

And, despite the fact the Stanton editor mentions a desire to strew crushed tarantulas in our soup, we express appreciation for his good wishes to the football club here.

Bobby Campbell suggests that, along with the one-year rule that is sought by several school officials, that "a measure be passed restricting the height, weight and breadth of each player, as that would be the obituary for the behemoths." He refers to Boyce House's statement on Chuck Bird's transfer and makes this rejoinder: "Chuck wasn't any transfer. When he was lured away from Mineral Wells it was nothing more than a wholesale robbery committed in broad daylight."

Campbell would take this department fishing, only he is afraid we "would take along a thin little booklet of poetic matter" and spend the time "preening" our beard. He says when he fishes, he fishes. "It's an old fisherman's custom." Bobby should ask Blondy Cross how little a scholar we were when the Angelo sports writer and this department received our mail at TCU. We busted more courses than Bobby does infinitives. Besides, we can't fish with Bobby, as he uses prairie spoons on unsuspecting fish.

Here are some belated reports on the Sand Belt Golf association matches Sunday. It appears all invading teams lost. Bobby Campbell gives us this information:

Lamesa, Texon and Colorado golf teams emerged victors in the opening skirmishes of the Sand Belt association, held Sunday.

The Big Spring team was downed 24 to 26 by the Lamesa aggregation. Texon won over Midland at Texon, while Snyder invaded Colorado and was beaten decisively, 31 to 13.

Six-Hour Day Aids Unemployment

NEW YORK.—Does the six-hour day strike at the heart of the country's present economic difficulties? The president of a front-rank industry that adopted the shorter day approximately six months ago, reporting here today on its practical results, declared that in addition to providing new jobs—and thereby stimulating consumption—the plan has proven profitable for his stockholders as well as the employees.

The Kellogg company of Battle Creek, Michigan, largest manufacturer of cereal foods, adopted the six-hour day last December 1 primarily to help relieve unemployment. By continuing to operate twenty-four hours a day and replacing the former three daily shifts of eight hours each with the present system of four shifts of six hours each, the company was enabled to employ about twenty per cent more persons.

Simultaneously with this change, the base wage scale was increased twelve and one-half per cent in order to maintain the employees' purchasing power. As a result of an investigation of the minimum daily wage a male employee should have, it was decided this minimum should be $4.00 a day, this being the same rate the company was paying when operating on the eight-hour basis. Thus, in working on a six-hour-day basis, the base rate for the minimum wage of an employee was increased 33 1-3 per cent.

"The plan has proved so satisfactory that so far as we can see now we shall adopt the six-hour day as a permanent operating policy," said Lewis J. Brown, president of the Kellogg company, in his report today.

FOREIGN INVASION

WASHINGTON.—Another foreign-built midget automobile is due to invade the United States shortly, according to reports from its German maker. It is considerably smaller than any car in the United States at present. It is powered by a two-cylinder, 15-horsepower motor, and will do sixty miles an hour. It is very inexpensive to operate.

CITY SELLS FOOD

BUENOS AIRES.—The Municipal Government is endeavoring to reduce living costs in the city by taking over the selling of food. Flour, bread, potatoes and meat are being sold directly from the producer to the consumer by the city and the expense of the middlemen is eliminated. The plan has the hearty approval of all city residents.

Remember the Alamo!

SANTA ANNA SURRENDERS TO HOUSTON (From a Painting by W. H. Huddle in the Capitol at Austin, Texas)

FIFTEEN minute battle, ninety-five years ago this month, changed the map of all America and brought the Pacific Coast within the political view of the Atlantic. A pitiful handful of men, principally from Louisiana, Arkansas and Texas, led by a stalwart Virginia-Tennessean, swept Santa Anna's proud army from the field of San Jacinto and set the seal of liberty on a domain soon to be extended from the Louisiana Purchase to the Golden Gate.

The soldiers who marched painfully from Gonzales to San Jacinto, their families who fled destitute before the invaders, left sons and daughters to develop the magnificent country they had saved for liberty. Oil, a resource undreamed of by Houston, Rusk, Burleson or Deaf Smith, has, within a single lifetime, contributed more to the material comfort and happiness of millions of people than any other single resource.

From the beginning of commercial production in Texas at Corsicana in 1896, oil, within a little over three decades, has proven a magic wand... changing the tide of an empire, turning pastures into towered cities, giving employment and fortune to thousands and placing the Southwest fifty years in advance of what it would have been without the assistance of petroleum and its many diversified by-products. With the discovery of Spindletop in 1901, Texas forged to the front as an oil producing State.

The domain, directly or indirectly, brought into the United States by the battery of "Remember the Alamo!" now produces three-fourths of the crude petroleum of the entire country and about half of the world production. Refineries of the Southwest handle over a half billion barrels of crude annually, while Texas produces more gasoline than any other State.

The history of the Magnolia Petroleum Company is closely entwined with the successful development of Petroleum as a Southwestern industry. An outgrowth of the first refinery in all the Southwest, Magnolia Stations and Dealers today dot every highway in the Southwest, serving Socony Motor Oil and Magnolia Ethyl and Maximum-Mileage Gasoline to thousands who motor over historic trails to visit scenes where pioneer Texans struggled for independence.

SHARKS? POO-POO!

BRISBANE—Sharks aren't so much, according to Stanley Roser, 18, who recently staged a quiet little bout with one of the man-eating fish. While swimming the shark attacked him, swooping up from beneath with a furious rush. Just as the shark closed on him, Roser extended one of his fingers and pushed it directly in the shark's eye, ending the struggle then and there.

FAKE!

MILWAUKEE—You can fool some of the people some of the time, some of them all of the time, but you can't fool all of 'em all the time. So Anthony Molter and Ernest Varesdi found after they paraded around the city for a few days, decorated with a tin star labeling them as "detectives," and taking small "gifts" from grocers, department stores and drug stores. They were discovered to be "phonies," however, and had to pay a $10 fine for impersonating officers.

MARGARINE TAX RECEIVES STATE WIDE APPROVAL

AUSTIN.—Support of the Tarwater bill for a three cents per pound tax on oleomargarines has been pledged by creameries, dairy herd owners, and individuals interested in promotion of the dairy industry, according to A. B. Tarwater of Hale Center, sponsor of the measure. The bill also was endorsed by J. E. McDonald, commissioner of agriculture, who pointed out that the tax measure would not adversely affect any Texas product, since margarines now are made principally of palm and coconut oils. Texas is one of five states, Rep. Tarwater said, which now has no restrictions on the sale of margarines. In 33 of the states, additional legislation is pending. Formerly beef fats, cotton seed oil and peanut oil were used in the manufacture of this product, but the imported oils have virtually re-

Bonner to Roswell To Open Theatre

John Bonner, Ritz theatre manager, goes to Roswell, N. M., Friday morning to assist in opening the $100,000 Yucca theatre built there by the Griffith interests. He will go from Roswell to Plainview, where the district Rotary convention is to be held Monday and Tuesday. "There's quite a bit of interest in the selection of the name for the new Roswell theatre," Bonner said. "It is possibly the only theatre of the name in America, except the great house of that name here. A public contest decided the name, the Methodist minister of Roswell submitting it and receiving a $25 prize. The Yucca is the state flower of New Mexico."

Endorsement of CC Should Be Required

"Don't let anybody tell you he has the endorsement of the Midland chamber of commerce unless he shows a letter on chamber stationery" is a warning issued Wednesday to protect Midland people. A certain salesman of an article told a business man Wednesday morning he had the chamber's endorsement on what he was selling. As a matter of fact the chamber had a few days previously not only refused to endorse the proposition, but told the salesman that Midland people could get free from the chamber what he was selling. If business men will demand written proof of the chamber's endorsement, like the business man did Wednesday, they can save money. The business man Wednesday saved nearly $5.

AIR INSPECTOR HERE

Lieut. Thad V. Foster, in charge of airways of the Eight Corps area, landed his army plane in Midland this morning for an inspection of the army radio and meteorological station at Sloan field.

More Cattle--

as Fort Worth, San Antonio, etc. should be fairly heavy during the next few months. A material increase is expected in the South Texas movement this year. Conditions are excellent in this area, and there will be more fat cattle than there has been in a number of years. The movement from South Texas in 1930 was the smallest of record, due to the scarcity of grass-fat cattle. The bulk of the inter-state movement during the past year was destined to Kansas and Oklahoma grass, while this year, most of the shipments will move direct to market points. There will be some shipments to grass from this district, but they will not reach the same proportion as they did last year. The shipments from this district will begin much earlier than usual.

Spain Quiet--

The cabinet, headed by Premier Juan B. Aznar, advised the ruler that they could not remain in office, and counseled him to accede to the Republican demands. Dramatic Moment The king resisted to the last, hoping for a peaceful solution. But he bore himself well, saying he realized his duty to his people and the significance of their repudiation of him in the election. At the last, he capitulated when he realized that resistance would lead to civil war and bloodshed. The dramatic moment came when Count Romanones, minister of state, was sent from the royal palace to Alcala Zamora to announce that the king would give in.

GOOD CUSTOMERS

LONDON.—The Todd family has furnished quite a lot of work to Canon J. W. Littlewood, vicar of the Thorne Parish Church. The minister recently baptized the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Todd, both of whom were baptised and married by him. Canon Littlewood also married the child's grand-parents, who were present at the christening.

JUSTICE?

KABUL.—There are many sympathizers with the stand Hazrat Sher Aga, Afghanistan minister of justice, has taken in handing in his resignation after the execution of Ahmed Shah, rebel leader, who surrendered to King Nadir Khan with the understanding he would be allowed to seek a pardon here. Instead, officials disregarded their pledge and ordered him executed by shooting his body through a cannon.

Midland Invited to McCamey Convention

MCCAMEY, April 15. (Special).—The Price Poole post of the American legion and auxiliary are completing arrangements for the Sixteenth district convention of the organizations which will be held here April 25 and 26. Hal Brennan, state commander, will be here. The Sweetwater band will furnish music for the event. McCamey war buddies are fighting to double their quota of 75 and have already reached a total membership of 121. McCamey is the youngest town to ever entertain the district convention of ex-service men. An invitation is extended by the McCamey post, auxiliary and the citizens of the host community to ex-service men and their ladies of Midland county to attend the convention. Towns having posts in the Sixteenth district are: Alpine, Balmorhea, Bandera, Big Spring, Bronck, Colorado, Del Rio, Eldorado, El Paso, Fredericksburg, Fabens, Fort Stockton, Iraan, Junction, Legion, Marfa, Macon, McCamey, Midland, Monahans, Odessa, Pecos, Robert Lee, San Angelo, Sanderson, Stanton and Wink.
