CHAMBER BOOKS SHORT COURSE IN THE COUNTY

Rural Schools Will Benefit From Program

The Midland chamber of commerce and the International Harvester company closed a joint arrangement Thursday whereby the International will conduct a 6-day institute in Midland county, giving six different programs at six different rural schools.

H. S. Mobley, head of the short course department of the International Harvester company, will speak at the rural schools in the county and will put on a motion picture program where electric current is available and use charts and maps where current is not available.

These rural programs come without cost to the chamber of commerce, all expenses being paid by the International Harvester company. The chamber of commerce will arrange nights for the rural meetings and will use each night for a good visit by Midland business and professional folk. On each night, Midland folk will attend to get better acquainted with farm folk. Each school will be asked to have its own presiding officer.

J. L. Brasher, salesman for International, and Offie Walker, manager of the J. J. Willis Truck & Tractor company, local representatives of the farm machinery company, said Thursday that Midland was given first chance to get the lectures in the Sweetwater district because of the outstanding success of the institute last January. The meetings in Midland county will be held in some week in January yet to be determined.

Dates will be arranged through school officials of the various rural schools and the county superintendent of schools. It may be that one general meeting will be held in Midland on an afternoon.

Gypsies Change To Automobiles

Several large automobiles filled with gypsies have passed through Midland within the past 10 days, according to filling station attendants.

Evidently, the days when the Magyars trekked slowly across the country in wagons, stopping here and there to trade horses and tell fortunes, have passed.

Of 13 automobiles to be refilled in Midland were Packards and Cadillacs.

POST OFFICE TO REMAIN OPEN ON SAT. AFTERNOONS

The Midland post office will remain open on Saturday afternoon for the same hours as obtain on other days of the week. Postmaster John P. Howe said Thursday.

The postoffice has been closing on Saturdays at noon for several months, because of lack of clerk hire funds, but when business men and farmers requested that the office remain open on Saturday afternoons, Howe took the matter up with the postoffice department, and got a small additional appropriation, but not sufficient to cover all the cost. Hence, he and Miss Elma Grayson will work alternate Saturdays, donating their time to keep the office open the remainder of the year.

The new plan will be operative until Jan. 1, which will cover the period while farmers are the busiest with their crops and usually have only Saturday afternoon away from their fields. Business men said Thursday they appreciated Howe's successful appeal to keep the post office open. It had been feared by some that farmers might change their trading point from Midland to nearby towns where post offices remained open. As a matter of fact, cities many times larger than Midland have been compelled to close at noon on Saturdays because of decreased available funds.

Court of Honor To Reward Boys

The boy scout court of honor session this evening at the First Baptist church will be marked by the presentation of badges and other awards to deserving boys, according to A. C. Williamson, of Sweetwater, council executive.

The program will be opened at 7:30 by a song, followed by a prayer. The Rev. W. J. Coleman will pronounce the invocation. The following awards will be made: second and first class, Paul T. Vickers; merit, John P. Howe; star, T. Paul Barron; gold eagle palm, Marion F. Peters; eagle, W. I. Pratt.

Conrad Dunagan is the scout who presented the eagle palm. The latter is next to the highest earned award scouts can receive.

The public is invited to the court.

Youngest Pep Squad Is Here

Beginning a series of games, the second and third grades of the North ward school engaged in a playground ball game Wednesday afternoon.

The third grade won, 21 to 9. The fourth grade was supported by a pep squad of 12 girls, led by Liza Jane Lawrence. This squad, the youngest pep squad ever, represented a Midland school, did a snake dance during the game.

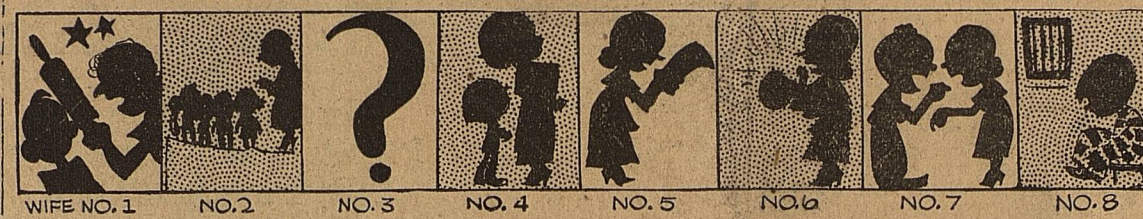

Seventh Graders To Be Examined

Students of the seventh grade of the city schools will be given physical examinations this Saturday afternoon.

Husband of Nine Wives

BRITISH TROOPS PRESERVE ORDER IN RIOT ZONES

BELFAST, Oct. 13. (UP)—British troops, cooperating with Belfast police, preserved order today after two days of rioting, looting and hand to hand fighting between police and unemployed.

The curfew regulation was enforced, clearing the streets from 11 o'clock at night until 5 o'clock in the morning, except with permission the eagle palm. The latter is next to the highest earned award scouts can receive.

Bootlegger Sought After Prohi Shot

STILLWATER, Okla., Oct. 13. (UP)—Edward Dudley, reputed bootlegger, was sought throughout the hill country today by posse after the fatal shooting of Howard Ouster, federal prohibitionist, and the wounding of Elmer Philip, federal informer. Two officers approached Dudley on Main street here late yesterday and the shooting followed. Dudley fled.

CHILD BORN TODDAY

A baby boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. Ernest J. Vanner today in a Midland hospital. The child weighed six pounds and nine ounces.

COP NEEDED COPS

PITTSBURGH—Constable M. J. McCann, of the 15th ward, vows he'll never stop his auto to aid a fair motorist in distress. He recently stopped for a woman driver who seemed to be having trouble. When he did three men stepped from behind her car and robbed the officer of his revolver, blackjack and $9.

PROGRAM FOR INTER-CITY PROGRAM OF THREE TOWNS RELEASED TODAY

By MARION F. PETERS The opening number of the inter-city chautauqua Friday night will be presented by the Lions club of Wink. Exceptional entertainment is to be maintained throughout the other two parts of the program, the Lions clubs of Big Spring and Midland finishing the evening.

The chautauqua program will not exceed one hour in length. The admission prices of tickets, 35, 25 and 10 cents entitle the purchaser to see both the chautauqua program and the regular picture featuring Jackie Cooper in "Divorce in the Family."

Big Spring Lions club, E. W. Potter, program chairman. Roberta Gray, accompanist. "Some Hula Hula"—Betsy Payne, accompanied by Ukulele Twins. "So Low", solo—E. W. Potter. Acrobatic dance—Dorothy

Hoover Urges Legal Minds to Appose Falsity

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—Conceding that "our very form of government is on trial," President Hoover urged members of the American Bar association to stand guard against "false prophets of a millennium."

Appointed as he entered Constitution hall to address an audience containing justices of the supreme court and internationally recognized legal leaders in his audience, the president asserted that some men in public life today are offering "seductive but unworkable and disastrous theories of government."

Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes himself accorded an ovation to Hoover for a minute and a half. He said the bar association's members welcomed Hoover "as American citizens, regardless of party, as lawyers devoted to the institution of our government."

Among those seated on the platform as the president entered, were Lord Reading, former ambassador of Great Britain to the United States; Paul Reynaud, holder of several portfolios in the cabinets of Premier Laval of France, and other international legal authorities.

The president was accompanied by Attorney General Clegg, who rose to speak there with applause. The president spoke without gestures and in measured tones.

"Interests Betrayed" Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes, himself accorded an ovation to Hoover for a minute and a half. He said the bar association's members welcomed Hoover "as American citizens, regardless of party, as lawyers devoted to the institution of our government."

"The menace is doubled," he said, "by the fact that these vain allures are under the guise of a full reputation in economics and even by men in public life."

"You have your duty in this era to defend the history of the republic, to defend the rights and liberties that have been won, to warn of repetitions of old and fatal experiments under new and glamorous names, to defend the system of government against reckless assaults of designing persons."

The president earlier had told his legal audience that American citizens now were more secure in their persons and liberties and in the possession of their properties than at any other time or in any other country in the history of the world.

"I assert this," he said, "with full consciousness of many deficiencies of lawyers and of the law and its execution. In spite of these the state is held together by the law."

Later, Mr. Hoover called upon the bar members to "purge your profession of men unworthy of its trust."

"You occupy a position," he said, "which you use for the common good. You are, besides that, quite specifically officers of government, sworn members of the courts in which you practice and who take an oath to see not only that justice is done but that the laws are enforced. Too many men have been allowed to take this oath and then be false to it. They use the complexities of law and procedure not to effect justice, but to defeat it. These men you must scourge from the temple which they profane."

"Speaking in terms of crime problems, the president reiterated suggestions that an effort be made to make less complicated the criminal law, which, he said, has become a complex and often tortuous thing. Court procedures likewise, he said, had become too unwieldy.

Wickizer Herdsman For Show Animals

Neal Wickizer, former herdsman with the Gist Hereford farms, was here today on a business trip. He is now in charge of the Hereford herd of Judge Davidson of Ozona and has his string of 12 show animals at the State Fair at Dallas.

Wickizer's herd has been exhibited in nine leading fairs over the southwest and come off this fall, winning the state grand champion bull awards as well as a fair share of general ribbons. He will go to Chicago, Kansas City and Los Angeles after the fair at Dallas.

MRS. H. N. GARRETT, WIFE OF ONE OF MIDLAND'S FOUNDERS, SUCCUMBS

Funeral services for Mrs. H. N. Garrett, 73, pioneer Midland resident, who died early this morning, will be held Friday morning at 10:30 from the Ellis mortuary. The Rev. Edwin C. Calhoun, pastor of the First Methodist church, will officiate. Interment will follow immediately afterward at Fairview cemetery.

Mrs. Garrett's death followed a long illness and an operation which was performed Tuesday night. She is survived by her husband, three daughters, Miss Lizzie Garrett, of Midland; Mrs. Gordon Reiger of Grand Falls and Mrs. Sam Holmes of Jarrell, Texas, two sons, A. Garrett of McCamey and Mike Garrett of Monahan, and by a grandson, Horace Rankin of Midland, who had been reared in the Garrett home.

Roosevelt to Visit The South, He Announces

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 13.—Governor Roosevelt, the democratic candidate for president, will leave Albany Oct. 18 for an eight-day campaign trip of 3,000 miles through the middle west, the border states, and into the south.

Roosevelt will make three major speeches on the trip, at Pittsburgh on Oct. 19; St. Louis on Oct. 21; and Baltimore on Oct. 25. Important addresses will be made at Indianapolis, Springfield, Louisville and perhaps other stops on the trip.

Seeks to Regain South Four years ago three of the states of the Old South voted with President Hoover and against Alfred E. Smith. The border states, West Virginia, Maryland, Kentucky, Tennessee, and Missouri also were in Hoover's column.

Mr. Roosevelt will cross Ohio, in the mid-west battle zone, five days after President Hoover makes his campaign speech at Cleveland. The democratic nominee likely will not make an appearance in the Buckeye state, as he has done in the past for a night run across that state. He has twice appeared in Ohio, first when he opened his campaign in Columbus, in August, and again at the beginning of the western swing last month.

Pennsylvania, always under the republican banner in past elections, will hear one of the three major speeches. It will be made in Pittsburgh, home of Andrew W. Mellon, secretary of the treasury under three presidents.

"Well, get your bags packed; we're going to the south," Roosevelt replied. "I can't say just now; we haven't prepared them."

"Will the bonus be one of them?" he was asked. "I can't answer that either," he replied.

He was reminded that at Indianapolis he will be in the "home" of the American Legion, which has its general headquarters in Columbus, Ohio. Roosevelt devoted a large part of yesterday to the radio speech he will make tonight on his views of the extent to which the federal government should enter into local relief work.

The "Roosevelt Special" which on Oct. 3 completed a trip of 8,900 miles through 21 states, will on the next swing cover 3,000 miles in 16 states and the District of Columbia. For nine of the states, West Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee, Georgia, South Carolina, North Carolina, Virginia, Maryland and Delaware, as well as the national capital, it will be the first visit of Mr. Roosevelt since his nomination on July 1.

During his stay in Atlanta, the New York governor will motor to Warm Springs, Ga., to attend a meeting of the board of trustees of the Warm Springs foundation.

On his way to the state capital, holidayer Roosevelt will stop in his office at the capitol for conferences with several persons before setting down to the work of writing his relief speech for tonight.

VALLEY IN OCEAN

MONTEREY, Calif.—Just north of here the U. S. coast and geodetic survey has located a sunken valley in the floor of the Pacific that may be valuable to mariners. It is three miles long, one mile wide and about 1200 feet deep. It is an important underwater landmark.

Cotton Flat Will Have Scout Troop

Committeemen of Troop 52 met last night with Scoutmaster Wallace Wimberly and completed arrangements whereby Troop 52 will become the sponsor of a rural scout troop in the Cotton Flat community.

An all night hike will be made Friday, October 21, by Troop 52. It will meet with the rural troop for the night at Scharbauer No. 2 place, where camp will be pitched.

W. B. Gibson will be scoutmaster of this rural organization. This work is the first effort of the local council in its attempt to put in effect a part of the ten-year plan recently adopted by the national council. Boy Scouts of America.

Attending the meeting Wednesday were Guy Breneman, chairman of the committee, John P. Howe, member of the committee, and Wallace Wimberly, scoutmaster Troop 52.

MRS. CRUMP HAS OPERATION

Mrs. J. L. Crump underwent an operation at the Taylor hospital in Dallas Wednesday evening and is improving, according to word received by friends here today.

QUARTER MILLION APPLIED FOR BY EAST TEXAS C C

New Advance to Help Farmers Announced In New York

AUSTIN, Oct. 13. (UP)—Governor Sterling today approved applications from 30 East Texas towns for loans from the Reconstruction Finance corporation, totaling a quarter of a million dollars. The applications were presented by Hubert Harrison, general manager of the East Texas chamber of commerce, after a meeting in Longview yesterday of the chamber's relief committee which approved the applications.

Harrison planned to leave Saturday night for Washington to present the applications to federal authorities.

Most of the money, Harrison said, if obtained, will be used in the oil areas where a large number of transients are living under critical conditions. The Longview community chest alone has fed more than 50,000 transients from 36 states in the past nine months, he said.

REC TO FINANCE SURPLUS EXPORTATION

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13. (UP)—The Reconstruction Finance corporation today announced that it would advance funds to aid agriculture by financing exports of surplus farm crops.

The corporation said it would advance funds to finance the sale of 15,000,000 bushels of wheat to China as soon as the legal division is established and the loan meets all requirements.

Naval Enlistment Requirements Sent

Several Midland boys have recently made application to the U. S. navy recruiting station at Abilene, according to Frank P. Evans, gunner's mate, officer in charge.

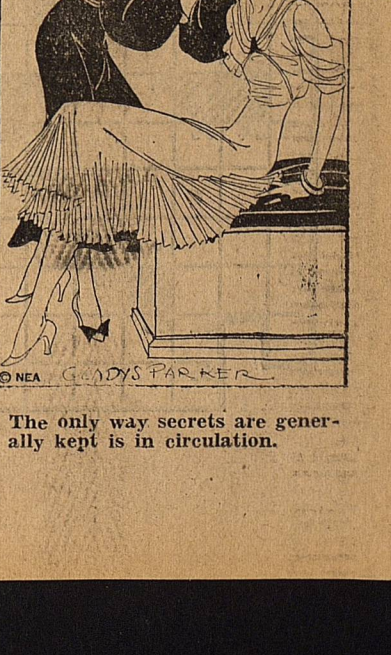

Evans has sent the following letter of requirements for first enlistment: "Applicants must be between 17 and 25 years of age. U. S. citizens, single, have at least a grammar school education and be of material suitable for the naval service. This letter includes no police or juvenile record in the case of the applicant. Applicants between the ages of 17 and 21 must have the written consent of their parents or legal guardian."

"During the time I have been in charge of the station here I have had five men accepted from Midland. According to the reports received by me from their respective ships all are doing very well in the service."

WILL RETURN FRIDAY

Mrs. E. F. McCall and daughters, Annie Margaret and Mary, of San Diego, Calif., are visiting in the home of Dr. and Mrs. C. G. McCall. They will leave Friday for their home and sail in November for Manila, where they will join Dr. McCall, who is a surgeon in the U. S. navy and is now stationed in China.

THE FRENCH MARKET PASSES

Another of America's historic landmarks—the old French Market at New Orleans—is to be sacrificed in the name of progress.

The city council there recently announced that the rambling old building is to be replaced by a $700,000 white tile structure, which will doubtless be far more sanitary and modern.

At the same time, New Orleans will hardly be the same without the old market, where one could buy anything from a rose to a veal cutlet. It was built in 1791 and was probably the largest market place in what is now the United States when it was completed.

Andrew Jackson fed his men there after they had beaten the British regulars at Chalmette, and members of Lafitte's pirate band sipped their coffee under its rambling roof.

The loss of the old French Market will mean the end of a very definite part of New Orleans' charm.

Swapping Yarns with Col. True

Col. True maintains a standing invitation to others to write to him and tell of their own extraordinary experiences. No holds barred. Address Col. True, in care of The Reporter-Telegram.

Dear Colonel: My grandfather was a great swimmer. I have seen him swim as much as a mile and a half with a horse on his back. He lived near the Mississippi river where it was two miles wide, and he used to swim across it three times every morning before breakfast.

ALLEN DORSEY. Sir: I learned to swim when I was just one day old. When my father saw what I looked like he thought it his duty to drown me, but I fooled him and swam ashore. He tried to shoot me, but couldn't look at me long enough to get aim, and when he gave me poison I bit the dog and it died.

On my way back to the ship, I encountered more trouble. A whale, seemingly in a bad temper, came toward me with ears laid back and his mouth wide open. In self defense I had to grab him by the tail and smack him against the water to stun him until I could get away.

Crooners May Enchant Fish

VICTORIA, B. C. (UP)—Judging from experiments recently conducted at the Pacific Biological station at Nanaimo, a robust baritone voice and a net to land the fish may prove the only requirements of a successful angler.

It is possible that all the fisherman of the future will do is to lol in the boat and croon a desert love song while his girl friend scoops the enchanted fish into the net.

As the result of its investigation, the biological station is able to answer in the affirmative to the repeated question, "Do fish hear?" It goes one better and says fish can be trained to associate noise with food, they will come rushing to the surface to get it.

The experiments showed rock cod, flounders, sculpins, and dogfish gave no consistent signs of being affected by noise. The perch avoided it and crowded to the other end of the aquarium. But they soon became accustomed to it and seemed to like it.

When the experimenters made noise the signal for feeding time, the perch flipped their tails and came a-running.

Such experiments, says the technical report on the subject, "indicate the mistake of concluding that fish are insensible to noise at all times because they happen to show no sign of reaction under certain conditions. When these are altered by making noise a signal for food, a very strong response to sound is readily demonstrated."

Demcs Sweeping Electoral Votes

AUSTIN.—Collapse of the Hoover candidacy was seen by Roy Miller, director of the democratic campaign in Texas, in the totals shown in the third straw vote summary published in the Literary Digest.

"Two hundred and forty-four electoral votes for the democratic ticket to a party fifty-five for the republicans is more than was expected at this stage of the campaign by the most sanguine democrat," Miller said.

"The crushing blow to Hoover hopes dealt by former Governor Alfred E. Smith when he joined forces with Governor Roosevelt will be of tremendous help to the democrats in the east, which was the only portion of the country in which the result seemed to be in doubt.

"The democratic ticket will surely be elected, thus fulfilling the fond hopes of millions of John Garner's fellow citizens."

"We feel that the sale of Roosevelt-Garner medallions in Texas will be aided greatly by the feeling of certainty that our nominees will be overwhelmingly elected," Miller said.

Saturday has been designated as "Dollar for Democracy Day" by the democratic organization in Texas. On that day it is hoped that the quota of 100,000 medallions will be sold for $1 each.

This Woman Lost 45 Pounds of Fat

"Dear Sirs: For 3 months I've been using your salts and am very much pleased with results. I've lost 45 lbs., 6 inches in hips and bust measure. I've taken 3 bottles—one lasting 5 weeks. I had often tried to reduce by dieting but never could keep it up, but by cutting down and taking Kruschen I've had splendid results. I highly recommend it to my friends."—Mrs. Carl Wilson, Mantion, Mich.

To lose fat SAFELY and HARMLESSLY, take a half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast—don't miss a morning. To hasten results go light on fatty meats, potatoes, cream and pastries—a bottle that lasts 4 weeks costs but a trifle—but don't take chances—be sure it's Kruschen—your health comes first—get it at any drugstore in America. If not joyfully satisfied after the first bottle—money back. (Adv.)

INJURIES MOCK EFFORTS OF MIDLAND TO GET READY FOR S. W.

HALLMAN MAY NOT START THE GAME AND SEVERAL OTHER SQUADMEN ARE NURSING LEG AND SHOULDER HURTS

Injuries more than Sweetwater threaten to block Midland from making her best showing Saturday. It was revealed in a rather stiff scrimmage at the stadium Wednesday.

"They will look pretty good if they can get over those sore legs and shoulders," Head Coach L. K. Barry said, ruefully looking over a limping group of men forming into a huddle preparatory to running another line play.

There was every indication, however, the men are keyed higher for the game. Several times the first string backs, playing against the first string line were thrown hard, or a full string back plowed his shoulders and knees into one of the men who will give him support Saturday.

Captain G. B. Hallman, who has been out of the game since the Stanton engagement, may not start against Sweetwater, Barry said. The ramming accident suffered a slight injury again Wednesday, and has not entirely recovered from another hurt. Lewellen appeared to be working with the aid of only one good eye, the other having been stepped on hard during the scrimmage. Various other men had sore legs and shoulders, and a couple of first stringers still nurse bad hands.

On the whole, however, Barry injured men snap out of their disabilities. The hunt for additional cars for transporting the 40-piece band, 70-girl pep squad and 40-man team was still under way this morning. It is estimated that more than 50 cars will be in the motorcade that leaves here around noon, and no less than 50 or 75 additional cars may make the trip at various hours. The dope still strongly favors Sweetwater to win by at least three touchdowns.

It is a doubtful sort of a situation we now face. Baugher will play in Sherrod's place, we understand. But Baugher himself is injured. And so are about seven more men.

Coupled with this last minute information came a letter from Chas. Green, Sweetwater sports scribe, listing the heavy roster of the Mustangs. While only four men are shown as having played football before in high school, three of these are three-year men, and the Mustang half-back backfield is made up of three starters. The rest of the club seems to weigh out like that of Midland, with light men and heavy men intermingled throughout the squad. Only one Mustang will be unable to play because of injuries, Fomby, an end. Hampton has been substituted for him. Sam Baugh, the Pony passing ace, will be in uniform, but will not play. Baseball during the summer has cast a shadow on his eligibility, and the district committee will have to become vocal one way or the other in his case before he will be unleashed.

It's a tough break to have something up the proverbial sleeve all week and then realize the surprise will not materialize to the degree expected. Midland was cocked and primed, even with Captain Hallman injured, to give Sweetwater a tough assignment. While few Midland players have said much about it on the outside, it was understood by those on the "inside" that the Bulldogs were getting rather tough—and it had not been conceded by the team and coaching staff that Sweetwater had much on the locals. But with the sparkplug of the backfield and the mainspring of the line injured, it begins to look like Saturday will be "Sweetwater day."

We received a clipping that said Pecos is flaring on some places against Midland this season. The Eagles had a stronger club than last year, when they held Midland to a comparatively low score. How-

NINE—Mrs. Rae Schuster Ellis, who, despite her predecessor's warnings, she married her, became Ellis' wife three months later. Since then she has presented him with three children. But in 1929 she complained to the court of domestic relations that he had given her nothing—but beatings.

To the four children of the second and favorite Mrs. Paul Ellis, King Solomon's great rival owes his momentary freedom. When a physician examined him recently and found that in addition to an acute case of matrimony, he was also suffering from heart trouble and other ailments, they passed the hat among themselves and collected enough to satisfy the alimony claims of their sixth stepmother.

Before Circuit Judge Daniel P. Trude would sign a release, however, he exacted from the over-widowed Ellis a promise to declare a matrimonial moratorium—at least until business is better.

Second Campaign Showed Different Mrs. M. Ferguson

Editor's Note: This is the last of a series of articles on the career of James E. and Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson.

By GORDON K. SHEARER United Press Staff Correspondent

AUSTIN. (UP)—One of the early acts of the new legislature was to propose repeal of the amnesty act, which had attempted to wipe out the impeachment verdict against former Governor James E. Ferguson.

In Mrs. Ferguson's administration a pardon from a forgery sentence was issued to one of the senators who had voted to convict Ferguson.

His opponents, however, were not willing to let by-gones be by-gones. Amnesty was repealed. He bided his time. He moved The Forum to Austin. But from his Bell-Boquist ranch was sold and used in state institutions. He waited for Governor Moody to complete two terms.

Ferguson then took the field. By virtue of Mrs. Ferguson's pardon and the amnesty act, he claimed any bar that might have existed against his candidacy was removed. He demanded a right to a place on the democratic primary ballot as a candidate for governor. Democratic Chairman D. W. Wilcox refused to let him file. A mandamus was filed in the supreme court. Ferguson's lawyers argued both the executive and the legislative had rescinded the impeachment, one by proclamation and the other by the amnesty act. It was contended, was void as a sentence since unconditionally assented could not be revived. The supreme court held the amnesty act itself was of no effect, and that a governor's pardon power did not extend to impeachment verdicts. In short, James E. Ferguson was still barred from office.

Mrs. Ferguson again took the field. "Confronted with another crisis, it again becomes necessary for me to announce myself a candidate for governor," she said. She adopted the platform her husband already had announced with one exception. She declared for strengthening the liquor laws. Her method was unique. She proposed the state oath of office have added a clause requiring the official to swear he had not violated the prohibition laws in the six months preceding his election. She proposed no judge might try a liquor case nor a jurymen sit in one, who could not take such an affidavit.

"If people won't or can't elect officials who don't drink bootleg liquor, then prohibition hopes are vain. In my opinion this is the fundamental cause of our trouble," she said.

"For me for Ma" was the campaign slogan. Gov. Dan Moody hesitated about attempting to buck the prejudice against a third term.

He found Mrs. Ferguson prepared to meet him on the stump. Her voice had been trained. She spoke from prepared manuscript confidently, enthusiastically, swinging the strength to Sterling in the runoff and he had 473,371 to her 384,402.

of Martin county. H. N. Garrett had about 600 head of sheep in his own herd.

The old town of Marienfeld, now Stanton, was started in 1883 but no one moved to where Midland now is until 1884. The town lot sale was held that year, resulting in the removal here of a few families. T. J. Mullinix was the first of Garrett's few neighbors to move in to the townsite.

Banker Cites Duty Of Fire Prevention

"It is the duty of every man, woman and child to exercise daily efforts in reducing all fire hazards to a minimum. This is not only an economic duty, but a social and patriotic duty as well," M. C. Umen, Midland banker, today, during Midland's observance of Fire Prevention week ends Saturday, after seven days of continuous work of presenting programs before school students, inspection of business districts and making by students of fire posters and writing by them of fire prevention essays.

Famous Scaler Falls to Death

CAIRO, Egypt, Oct. 13. (UP)—Eldridge Rand Herron of New York, famous mountain climber, was killed today by a fall from one of the great pyramids of Gizeh.

Although the ascent of the pyramids is considered comparatively easy, the famous climber who had scaled the Alps, Dolomites, Himalayas and Atlas Caucasus, stumbled and fell several hundred feet, fracturing his skull.

The first Negro to hold public office in the United States was Ebenezer Don Carlos Bassett, of Philadelphia, who was made consul-general to Haiti by President Grant in 1869.

Late News

ATLANTIC CITY, Oct. 13. (UP). Henry L. Doherty, utilities magnate, today returned to work, following a long illness, with the warning that ill-considered economies will not end the depression.

"Economy has become fetish. Our national life threatens to defeat its very purpose," he said.

ATHENS, Oct. 13. (UP)—Samuel Insull refused to surrender his passport when the American consul asked for the document, it was revealed today.

Insull was awaiting the arrival of his wife and son from Paris. He was expected to be requested to leave Greece. There was no indication of where he would go.

GRAND ISLAND, Neb., Oct. 13. (UP)—Four bandits today robbed the National bank here of $40,000.

ABILENE, Oct. 13. (UP)—R. E. Compton, pioneer druggist here and widely known over the state, died suddenly early today. He was struck, on three hours previously with a heart attack.

TOKYO, Oct. 13. (UP)—Fishing boats were capsized by a typhoon off the coast of Ogasawara island, and 117 persons were missing.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 13. (UP)—Fifteen men were injured, two seriously, today when they fell into a huge siphon of the Los Angeles aqueduct near Indian Wells in the Mojave desert. They dropped 200 feet down the shaft. Crews tore away a section of the siphon at the bottom and removed the uninjured.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13. (UP)—A delegation of men and women from the bonus expeditionary force's first national convention was successful today in obtaining audience with Hoover for the purpose of presenting demand for immediate payment of the soldiers' bonus. The audience was arranged following an hour's conference between bonus leaders and the president's secretary.

TULSA, Oct. 13. (UP)—The Continental Oil company of Ponca City and the Arkansas Fuel subsidiary of Cities Service, met a crude advance today, conforming with levels posted by seven other majors.

SAVED 44 PEOPLE

LONDON.—It's strange how people forget!

Biddy Statham has been master of a fishing smack, and for 23 years had been a member of the Hastings lifeboat crew. In his lifetime of coastguard work he had saved 44 people from drowning. His biggest feat of valor consisted of directing the saving of eight persons from a wreck. For that heroic deed he and his crew received about three cents apiece.

He is 58 years old and carries his years lightly. He is a well known character along the beaches, pulling off an act which consists of padding a bathtub back and forth in the breakers.

A foreign born person can become a member of the president's cabinet, providing he is a United States citizen.

The largest lump of silver ever found in a natural state was that discovered by an Indian in Mexico. It weighed 3,750 pounds.

Winter Motor Trouble Avoided

DALLAS.—"Almost human in their ability to obey the will of their owners, modern motor vehicles also have the human attribute of being susceptible to changes in the weather," J. M. Marnan, chief of the technical department, Magnolia Petroleum company, said in warning automobile owners to prepare for winter driving.

"People are warned of the approach of winter and instinctively put on heavier clothing and change their diet to assure their personal comfort and well-being in the cold months ahead," Mr. Marnan said. "Our automobiles need the same kind of care and protection, but they cannot provide for themselves. The only way they can let us know they are suffering from the cold is to refuse to start easily on cold mornings and consume more fuel than they have been in the past summer. They have no way of telling us that their working parts are wearing out and deteriorating rapidly on account of our neglect. When the symptoms appear, much harm may already have been done, so the prudent car owner prepares his car for winter driving at the same time he puts away his straw hat and begins to add layers of clothing."

"With the approach of winter a complete check-up of the motor car is often advisable and certain mechanical adjustments may be necessary," Marnan said. "But the first thing to do is to make certain that your automobile is receiving the proper cold weather diet." Gasoline which may have given satisfactory service in summer is never suited for winter use and is often the cause of hard starting, crankcase dilution, loss of power and engine missing. Magnolia provides in its new Mobilgas the added property of Climatic Control which assures the highest usable level of performance under winter driving conditions by reason of the readjustment of manufacturing specifications before delivery.

"A change in the grade of the lubricants used is also necessary with the change in the seasons. For cold weather driving, higher lubricants are recommended by automobile manufacturers in order to avoid excessive wear, difficult steering, hard gear shifting and other evils. Mobiloil and other Magnolia lubricants are manufactured in accordance with car makers' specifications and the Mobiloil lubrication chart shows exactly which grade should be used to lubricate every working part in winter time as recommended by the car factories," Marnan said.

"To adequately prepare the car for winter driving the cooling system should be cleaned and tested for any leaks before anti-freeze solution is added, the battery should be tested and it is often advisable to replace spark plugs. Safety appliances on your car also will be called upon to perform greater service in winter. These include lights, horns, brakes, windshield wiper and steering mechanism. They should be carefully checked and repaired when necessary."

"This fall Magnolia service stations and dealers are again providing Winter-Proof service for car owners throughout and southwest. This 7-point service prepares the car for winter driving and has proved very satisfactory in the past."

Haight Donates Map To Junior Hi School

Harry L. Haight of the Scharbauer interests here recently presented to the junior high school a large map of the United States measuring seven by five and a half feet. The map shows the official public land surveys, national parks and monuments, Indian, military, bird and game reservations, national forests, railroads, canals and other details.

This map, said J. H. Williams, principal of the junior high school, is one that every school needs but one that few have, and will be of great service to teachers and students of American history in the school.

Health Nurse Has Praise for Studes

"I have found that the standard of personal cleanliness among students in the Midland schools is higher than that in most schools," said Miss Elizabeth Wilson, new county health nurse.

Miss Wilson bases her statement on her observation of Midland school children while making vision tests and other slight tests in the schools. She expressed the hope that parents will cooperate as satisfactorily in the matter of correcting defects among the children as they have cooperated in the matter of cleanliness.

Cotton Pickers May Be Had at B'Spring

Farmers can get cotton pickers with ease by going outside the city limits of Big Spring and stopping cars, a statement from the chamber of commerce said Wednesday.

M. W. Whitmore found pickers going through in good numbers and found that Big Spring was not needing pickers nearly so badly as Midland. Pickers are headed north at Big Spring and need to be told about the cotton in Midland and Martin counties. Whitmore obtained promise of a filling station attendant to route pickers to Midland.

Aid of the federal labor bureau at Fort Worth was sought Tuesday by the chamber of commerce, and requests have been sent by the organization to four other places. All pickers are warned to save money enough to return home on so they will not become charity wards here this winter.
