Final Appeal Made Before Xmas Seals Go Into Mails

D'ya Want a Pal?

You wouldn't pick him for a pal even if his name is "Chummy." But he hasn't an ounce of pep. Doc Watz, Hot Springs showman, indicates to a Los Angeles correspondent that the vigor and length of the big pythons were at issue in a stuff Courtroom. Spectators stood agape as Doc gave "Chummy" a near-kiss—keeping a tight grip on his neck, incidentally.

The STORY of Christmas

Near Bethlehem in Judea were shepherds abiding in the fields, keeping watch over their flocks by night. And an angel of the Lord came upon them and the glory of the Lord shone about them and they were sore afraid.

SHOPPING DAYS with CHRISTMAS

"Read carefully the letters you receive and consider just as carefully the value of your buying the Christmas seals enclosed, and send the money or the seals back as soon as possible to the county health board," came as a final announcement before seals of the Texas Tuberculosis association go into the mails Monday.

The campaign against tuberculosis was begun Thanksgiving with a proclamation from County Judge Elliott H. Barron, and will be continued until Christmas, with special events being arranged to lend publicity to it. A radio program, discussed in another copy of this issue will be presented over a national hook-up this evening. Next Sunday will find special programs at the churches.

During the campaign, volunteer committees will be set up and there will be a daily check of accomplishments, under the direction of Mrs. J. W. Day, anti-tuberculosis chairman of the health board.

BUY SEALS HERE—NOT ON OUTSIDE, IS PLEA

An appeal that Midland county people return Christmas seals sent them by organizations on the outside and buy here, was made Saturday by the Midland county health board, which is sponsoring a seal drive here for the Texas Tuberculosis association.

It was pointed out that several business and professional men and women have received seals from other Texas cities for several years and that several have received them again this year, but that there is a necessity for local sales since the health board receives a percentage to be used to combat the dreaded disease locally.

Xmas Plan to Be Presented Monday

Plans for an economical but effective Christmas trade stimulation campaign will be proposed for the consideration of Midland businessmen by the Midland chamber of commerce and The Reporter-Telegram. The plan will be presented to business men by James P. Harrison, business manager of the newspaper Monday.

If the idea is accepted, the business men can make it cost them as little, or as much as they feel is justified. The cost is optional. The cost to the chamber of commerce will be restricted to a small printing bill. The idea, however, has been a good business stimulus here on a previous occasion and has been worked effectively elsewhere.

"The most beautiful blond in the world," if Charlie Chaplin is any judge, is matrimony bound. GREATER QUOTA OF CATTLE IS ASKED

Request for a larger quota of beef cattle to be bought in Midland county under the government's processing plan was sent to Austin this week by the Midland county judge. Only 35 cattle are to be bought in Midland county under the present quota. The judge urged that this be heavily increased because of drought conditions here and because Midland is a great cattle producing county.

The official request from Midland county was echoed by the Midland chamber of commerce which also wrote the authorities in Austin. The Midland chamber sought a processing plant immediately upon receiving information that such plants were to be established but so far the plants have all been established in larger centers of population.

A Jealous Husband for Her!

Besides her pet Scotty and pretty smile, Pat Patterson, the English actress, had some pronounced views on marriage when she arrived in New York. American husbands, for instance, won't do for Pat. They give their wives too many liberties. Now a jealous husband—that's something. He's the sort who'll be suspicious whenever she's out of sight—and that suits Pat just dandy. She's on her way to Hollywood to fulfill a movie contract.

Development of Sulphur Planned

PECOS.—Immediate development of the long-known sulphur deposits in Reeves and Culbertson counties is seen as a result of the activity of the Coloidal Plant Foods Co., Inc.

J. M. Wood of Henderson, Texas, secretary-treasurer of the company, and his son, H. D. Wood, superintendent, arrived here to superintend the moving in of machinery and installation of a plant at the site of the old Michigan mine in Culbertson county.

Their idea is not to attempt refining of pure sulphur, since the cost would be prohibitive, but to use the sulphur compounds found there in such large quantity in the making of scientific fertilizer and soil restorer. There is a tremendous potential market for scientifically balanced fertilizer, they state.

Already several thousand dollars worth of machinery has been shipped to the site and this week construction of a building to house the machinery, an office building, and a structure for living quarters will be built.

The Coloidal Plant Foods Co. is amply financed and is figured as a permanent asset to this section. Development of the sulphur deposits, which are known to be of great value, has long been sought in this section. Charles Nicolls is one of those locally interested in the project.

PUBLIC TORTURE

One of the most heart-breaking things about life is the thoughtless cruelty that human beings can show to one another.

A 17-year-old farm boy landed in jail in an Ohio town the other day. He had shot his brother-in-law to death "because he had brought disgrace to the family"; and back of his explanation there is a tragic example of the way in which his thoughtless cruelty can operate.

The brother-in-law had been convicted of assaulting a 14-year-old girl and had served time for it. And the young chap who finally killed him says that neighbors taunted him wherever he went because his sister's husband had turned out to be a scoundrel.

"They all threw it up to me," he explained. "I made up my mind that I never would let him live with my sister again."

Why, in a world which has tragedies enough anyway, must people exercise that thoughtless and vicious form of cruelty?

The Hunters Are Getting Into Action Again

The Town Quack

(Reserves the right to "quack" about everything without taking a stand on anything.)

Every man who owns a cow has to get up early in the morning, as Holt Jowell will tell you.

Which reminds me of my Saturday morning mail. I got this letter from BATCH:

"Who else noticed the unusual brightness of the old limelight midnight before Thanksgiving?"

"Over here on the ancient south side, someone's bovine songster, lonesome, I suppose, heralded until someone else tuned in a radio baritone to console said bovine."

"And then, all pandemonium broke loose. Every dog and cat in the county seemed to have met in the city limits to proclaim a new mating season."

"This morning, I'm conscious of being not the only individual standing pajama-clad on front walks to view a truly remarkable 'lover's moon.'"

"And the dozen or so roosters preluded until morn."

Batch, your ailment is simple. It's insomnia. This malady is curable, although in some cases it takes quite a while. The duration of the malady depends largely on its cause. If insomnia is caused by a bad conscience it can best be cured by "paying off", whatever that takes. If it is caused by disappointment in love, you can outgrow it. The hardest cases of unrequited love to outgrow are among people in their second childhood. If you are not in that state, and I judge you are not, even though you call yourself Batch, you should recover in time. Look around a little and see if there aren't other birds in the bushes, Batch.

Ever since Dr. Roma was around here, it seems that I am called upon for advice and to give the answers. It's worth something to the public, or should be, to have someone in town who knows the answers.

As I started in to church the other day a stranger walked up to me and asked:

"How long has your pastor been preaching?"

"A little over two years here," I replied.

"Well, I guess I won't go in," the stranger remarked. "It's hard to tell when he will quit."

One of our boys was told the other day that he must have a blonde wife because it was noticeable that he was partial to brunettes.

There used to be the Three R's, but now we have Roosevelt, Recovery, Repeal and Russian Recognition.

R. G. Wilkerson is head coach at Reagan junior high, and said he would handle matters about the unofficial title game.

Baylor Was Cradle For Old Fraternity

AUSTIN, (U.P.)—Baylor university, from whose campus Greek-letter fraternities have long been excluded, nursed the first Texas chapter of Phi Gamma Delta.

That chapter, now at the University of Texas, observes its 50th anniversary with a Diamond Jubilee celebration here Dec. 8, 9 and 10.

The national fraternity was founded in 1848 at Cammotsburg, Penn., and began westward expansion in the early '50s. In 1856 it established a chapter at Baylor university, then located at Independence in Washington county.

The Civil war disrupted the fraternity chapter, and the Baylor chapter was not revived after reconstruction. In 1883 when the University of Texas was opened, J. H. Cobb, late governor-general of Alaska, entered the law school here as a transfer from Baylor.

Cobb, Judge R. C. Crane of Sweetwater, and others secured the transfer of the fraternity to the University of Texas. The Tau Deuteron chapter was duly installed Dec. 11, 1883.

The anniversary celebration begins Dec. 8 with a costume ball. Among the alumni expected to attend are Judge Crane, University Regent Luther Stark of Orange, former Postmaster General A. S. Burlison, Byron C. Foy, vice-president of Chrysler Motors; J. Barry Benfield of Scribner's, New York, and A. P. Barrett, Fort Worth.

A high explosive factory has been opened at Fiquete, Sao Paulo, Brazil, which country plans to cancel all munition orders placed in Europe.

Fred Lowry Had Strange Career

FORT WORTH, (U.P.)—An interest aroused through a chance meeting while he attended the State Institute for Blind at Austin led to a stage career for Fred Lowry.

The young whistler is known to Dallas and other Texas audiences. In 1923 a professional vaudeville whistler visited the school. He heard Lowry whistling.

"Young man, keep at that. You've got something," he told the student.

Lowry bought a portable phonograph and whistled with it for four hours every day for six years. When he was graduated from the institute in 1929, he began a whistling career.

He went to Chicago and made a recording of the "Indian Love Call" for a nationally known phonograph and recording company. Radio and theatre engagements followed.

Lowry is partially blind. He attends movies seeing the picture from the balcony. He walks unscathed. His vision at close range is so impaired he cannot read books or newspapers.

$2 BILL 95 YEARS OLD

MONTREAL, (U.P.)—A 95-year-old $2 bill, believed to be the oldest in existence in Canada, was found between the leaves of an old book bought in a second-hand store here by A. H. Ward, of Montreal. The bill is drawn on the Union Bank of Lower Canada. The form was printed in New York and issued on Aug. 1, 1838.

Dinner-Dance at Hotel Scharbauer Friday Evening Celebrates Twenty-Fifth Wedding Anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. C. Scharbauer

Smilax, silver tinsel, autumn flowers of gorgeous tints and hues, together with softly shaded lights, formed a pretty setting for Midland's outstanding social affair Friday evening, when Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Scharbauer were hosts at a dinner-dance in celebration of their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary.

The mezzanine floor and the Crystal ballroom of Hotel Scharbauer where the party was held, was decorated with pom-pom chrysanthemums, ferns, smilax and silver tinsel, combined to for the color scheme used twenty-five years ago when they married. Lights were softly shed from crystal chandelier and silver candelabra. The dance program, as were the place cards, were engraved in silver with the dates 1908 and 1933 and announced to the fifty-three couples present the reason for the celebration.

Punch was served during the reception hour from a beautifully appointed table on the mezzanine. A ten-piece orchestra, directed by Durwood Cline and imported from Dallas to furnish the music, played for both the reception and the dance. Miss Martha Louise Nobles entertained the guests while they dined, as she gracefully and lightly went through the intricate steps of toe-dancing.

Mrs. Scharbauer was frocked in a train model frock of gold lame cloth. Orchids ornamented her gown. Her shoes and accessories were of silver; her jewels were diamonds.

Mrs. Joe Crump looked regal in black velvet and terra.

The newest fall fashions were seen at the affair.

Mrs. Claude Duffy was charmingly costumed in blue and silver beaded Nemser model; Mrs. Chas. B. Addison also in blue.

Mrs. Homer Rowe was becomingly ensembled in dull black mottled crepe frock with contrasting creese evening wrap; Mrs. Elliott Cowden was lovely in ruby colored velvet; Mrs. Leon Goodman was attractive in a black velvet gown with princess lines; Mrs. Roy Park's blonde loveliness was further emphasized by her pansy-blue frock; Mrs. Bob Martin was charmingly gowned in black lace; Mrs. Marvin Ulmer wore a handsomely blue beaded model. Many other strikingly beautiful costumes were observed on the dance floor.

LETTERED FOR SWEATER

STANTON.—Fourteen Buffaloes lettered for a sweater this year. There were 21 that were on both the first and second teams. Those that lettered were:

Clair Epley, quarter, 3rd year; Henry Bridges, fullback, 2nd year; Wayne Vaughn, fullback, 1st year; N. J. Bell, fullback, 1st year; Virgil Hogan, end, 2nd year; Allen O'Conner, end, 3rd year; Tull Ray Loder, end, 1st year; Stanley Reid, guard, 2nd year; Seth Donelson, guard, 1st year; Elvis Clements, guard, 1st year; Tex Hammer, tackle, 1st year; Truman McClain, tackle, 1st year; Jiggs Hall, tackle, 2nd year; Johnnie Bassett, center, 1st year.

There were eighteen that lettered last year, only four more than lettered this year. So the depression wasn't so bad on the Buffaloes after all.

MEDICINE SHOWS REVIVED

MANAWA, Wis. (U.P.)—An old fashioned medicine show, the first to make its appearance in this vicinity for a number of years, was so enthusiastically received by the public that the operators reported a complete sell-out. Among the contests staged by the show was one for the best accordion player in the county, and one for the most popular housewife.

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (U.P.)—Repeal of the 13th Amendment will return prosperity to the Virgin Islands, according to Mrs. Paul M. Mrs. Pearson bases her prediction on pre-prohibition popularity of St. Croix rum, for which one of the islands is noted.

WARBURTON, BERNARD AND BUCKLER, LATTER OF WACO, ARE UNANIMOUS IN CHOICES OF OUTSTANDING COACHES

By BILL BRAUCHER
NEA Service Sports Writer

Selections by outstanding coaches in seven geographical sections, and their reasons, were balanced in deciding the NEA Service All-America football team of 1933, which is presented here.

The coaches of the NEA All-America committee who cooperated in picking the teams are: Jock Sutherland, University of Pittsburgh; Noble Kizer, Purdue; Harry Mehre, University of Georgia; Bill Spaulding, University of California at Los Angeles; Ike Armstrong, University of Utah; Bo McMillin, Kansas State College, and Fred Thomson, University of Arkansas.

Each of these coaches made his All-America nomination which were tabulated with the results shown herewith. In several cases where the result was a tie, this writer took the liberty of casting the deciding tally.

Several of the choices were remarkably decisive in view of the fact that 117 players were nominated. Three players were elected by majorities so substantial that any doubt of their superiority was removed. These were "Ootton" Warburton, quarterback, "Chuck" Bernard, center, and Johnny Buckler, fullback. These men polled four first choice votes each, an unusual consensus of opinion considering the geographical differences.

Running next strongest were Frank Larson, end; George Sauer, fullback; Freddie Crawford, tackle; Bill Corbus, guard, and "Alley Oop" Rosenberg, guard. Each received three first team and one second team vote. Beattie Feathers, the south's great halfback, polled two first and two second team choices. Skladany, Pitt's peerless end, received two first team and one second selection, as did Yezerski of St. Mary's.

Though the choice of Freddie Crawford was definite, balloting on the other tackle position, resulting in Yezerski's choice, was what political writers would call spirited—due to the shortage of outstanding tackles. One coach named Jorgenson, who plays the opposite tackle on Yezerski's own team.

The election, if it may be called that, produced several remarkable angles. Only two men were chosen from any one team—Rosenberg and Warburton of Southern California—which gives Howard Jones the edge this year in developing All-America players, even though his team has lost the Rose Bowl assignment to Stanford.

The Big Ten, productive annually of several All-America men, landed two positions on the first team—Larson and Bernard—and one on the second team—Everhardus.

The player receiving the most verbal praise was Feathers of Tennessee, "who gained 504 yards in seven games" and "averaged 45 yards per kick." Feathers in seven games also scored 12 touchdowns. The record seems to speak for itself.

The vote if taken as a reflection on the quality of football as played in various parts of the country (an opinion not contemplated) gives the palm to the Pacific coast, with four coaches on the first team. Not a Yale, Harvard or Dartmouth man figured in the voting, indicating the wide westward sweep of the game since Walter Camp picked the first All-America away back in the days when Alonzo Stagg was playing football. What chance would a man named Sauer, from Nebraska, have had being named in that remote day?

Eastern players on this All-America are Skladany and Buckler, first team, and Jablonsky, Johnson and Ceppi, second team—five places out of 22 possible positions.

MAY BE A REASON

EL PASO, Tex. (U.P.)—There may be some reason when a man takes a shot at his wife, Judge W. D. Howe decided when he suspended Ramon Enriquez' three-year sentence on charges of assaulting Mrs. Enriquez with intent to murder. Judge Howe suspended the sentence because Enriquez had no previous criminal record and Mrs. Enriquez has obtained a divorce suit since the shooting, he said.

THREE GENTS GET HIGH RECOGNITION

SHREVEPORT, (U.P.)—Three players on the Centenary College football team share the spotlight this year as being among outstanding football men of the Southwest.

Each was developed from a mediocre high school football player by Coach Homer H. Norton, Southwest conference coaches whose teams have played the Gents this year have rated the three—End Paul Geisler, Quarterback Manning Smith and Harry (Shorty) Oslin, 145-pound halfback—as the finest players their men have faced. Geisler, six feet, two inches tall and weighing 185 pounds, was recognized as the best player on the Centenary team. He was named on the New York Sun second all-American team last year.

The Gents ended this year's season with a 7 to 6 victory over the University of Mississippi, playing two years without a defeat and were undefeated in 19 consecutive games. Geisler was recognized as both an offensive and defensive star. Bill Jones, former West Point coach and now football coach at Louisiana State University, described him as "the greatest end he ever saw" including Dairyville, all-American end of Tulane.

He played an unorthodox game, following the ball with sledge hammer attacks. On the offensive, Geisler runs with the ball in end-around plays or from a backfield position. With big hands and feet, he isn't easily knocked off his feet. His team mates call him "Big Hoss" from the size of his feet.

Geisler had two years experience on the high school football team at Morgan City, La., his hometown, before entering Centenary. Coach Ray Morrison and Matty Bell, of Southern Methodist university and of Texas A. & M. college, respectively, rate Manning Smith as the coolest and ablest field general against whom their men have been pitted this year. Bell will be succeeded by Norton in 1934.

Weighing 175 pounds and of medium height, Smith was recognized as the passing ace of the Centenary team. The passing combination of Smith to Geisler was effectively used against a majority of foes this year. He was graduated from Shreveport high school and is a straight "A" student.

Nimble, shifty and able to stand hard knocks, Oslin was the leading scorer on Centenary's team for the past two years. Oslin was rated by Norton as the "fastest man in college football today." He stands five feet, five inches tall and has run the 100-yard sprint in 9.5 seconds. To the surprise of opposing players, he was an effective blocker.

STOLEN, A DEER!
SWEETWATER.—Returning Tuesday evening from a hunt in the Delaware mountains of the Guadalupe chain in West Texas, Ed Alexander brought a six-point black-tail deer, neatly wrapped and tied securely on the side of his automobile.

Parking his car near the home of friends to boast of his luck and to show off the 140 pound deer, he made arrangements with a local wholesale grocery for overnight storage. Returning some few minutes later to his automobile, he found no deer. Upon close examination ropes were found cut and lying near the machine.

It necessitated two days hunting with some 80 miles of horseback riding for Alexander to secure the deer and a ride of several hundred miles to bring it to Sweetwater. Friends, however, relieved his mind by reporting sometime later they already had placed the deer on storage.

LILIAN HARVEY LIVING PARADOX

HOLLYWOOD—Outwardly as gay and ebullient as newly released champagne, Lilian Harvey reveals an undercurrent of somnolence in repose.

Her momentary lapses from gaiety are no indication of an inner tragedy. Rather, she seems a living paradox—and recognizes the fact—in a world that accepts face values and forgets the finer qualities beneath.

Lilian's history in filmland holds the same paradoxical elements that mark her personality. Outwardly a person of romantic possibilities, she pursues her private life decorously and in the most proper tastes.

Seldom Has Dates
Rarely is she seen with men, although she has, she says, suffered no disillusionments. It would appear that she considers men a necessary convenience for such times as when one must go to dinner or premiers. There is for her no necessity for romance.

Possibly she gets her romance through the enactment of romance before the camera, day in and day out. Maybe it is because she has found no man who can interest her for long.

For months her name was linked with Gary Cooper's. She met the rangy actor one day, attending a picture opening with him the next week, and never saw him again. No romance there.

Affects Indifference
There may be some truth to the rumor that her heart is in the keeping of Willie Fritsch, Continental actor. While Lilian affects indifference, it still might explain why Hollywood men don't interest her, why she sometimes drops into that deeply reflective mood.

Jesse L. Lasky, producer of Lilian's new picture, "I Am Suzanne," characterizes her accurately.

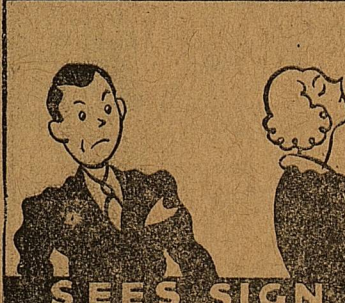

"She is deeply sensitive, a person of great possibilities as a tragedienne, who believes life is best lived with a laugh."

ANCIENT MOUNDS FOUND

EUGENE, Ore. (U.P.)—Ancient Indian mounds and relics believed to have been made in remote ages were discovered on the Long Tom River, near here, by Dr. J. L. Cressman, professor of sociology at University of Oregon. In two of the mounds excavated, Dr. Cressman found arrow heads, human bones and other relics characteristic of pre-civilization ages.

FEDERAL POLICE FORCE BEST

AUSTIN, Tex. (U.P.)—Dr. C. M. Rosenquist, adjunct Professor of Sociology at the University of Texas, believes a federal police force is the best remedy for the present day crime problem. Because the power of municipal, county and state officials is limited geographically, they cannot hope to cope with the criminal and his modern means of escape, the professor said.

An important reason why the Diesel engine has not been widely used as a power unit in transportation, has been its excessive weight.

HOPE REPLACES FEAR

NEW YORK.—A most significant statement was given out today by Channing E. Switzer, managing director of the National Retail Dry Goods association. He said: "The progress that has been made toward national recovery during the recent months is most encouraging. The fear of last spring has given away to hope and a determination to make the recovery program succeed. In the first flush of enthusiasm for the plans inaugurated by the new administration, many expected miracles to happen. They thought the depression period would be all over and forgotten in a few months. Consequently when they found difficulties still facing them, they be-

Airlines in United States flew more miles in July, 1933, than in any other month in history of scheduled air transportation. Planes from the 27 companies operating in United States flew 4,868,717 miles that month.

Reducing the wattage of beacon lights 50 per cent on federal airways will save the aeronautics branch of the Department of Commerce $75,000 a year and will not reduce the effectiveness of the lights. Clear cover glasses for the lamps will take the place of the prismatic type used at present. The Graf Zeppelin is the only dirigible in the world which maintains a regular international commercial and freight schedule.

The latest figures show that the Graf Zeppelin has made a total of 336 voyages.

BIG SPRING MAY BE CO-WINNER OF DISTRICT 3 IF SWEETWATER GIVES NO PROOF IN BIG ELIGIBILITY ROW

BIG SPRING.—Indications are the Sweetwater high school football team will withdraw from the District Three football race.

Such action would leave Big Spring and San Angelo high schools tied for the district championship.

However, Big Spring has played ten games, the limit set by Inter-scholastic league rules for competition prior to determination of the district championship.

Local school officials expressed the opinion that in case of withdrawal by Sweetwater Big Spring and San Angelo would decide the championship by the flip of a coin.

The threat of withdrawal by Sweetwater was the aftermath of a protest filed prior to the Sweetwater-San Angelo game in the latter city Thursday, in which the eligibility of Holbert, Sweetwater guard, was questioned by Chester Kenley, San Angelo high school principal.

Kenley notified other members of the district committee that he had filed the protest with Superintendent McLain of Sweetwater and that if Holbert played Thursday and Sweetwater won the game he would ask a decision by the committee.

After San Angelo had upset the hope by beating Sweetwater 12 to 0 Kenley was reported as having notified the other teams that he would not press the protest.

By defeating Sweetwater San Angelo clinched the district championship barring disqualification of Sweetwater.

If Sweetwater had won the Mustangs would have finished the district race undefeated and untied. San Angelo has lost no games, but was tied by Big Spring. The local team has a defeat by Sweetwater on its record.

Toy Matinee at Yucca Thursday

In an effort to assure a visit from old Santa to some of Midland's more unfortunate kiddies, the Yucca theatre will hold a toy matinee for kiddies next Thursday afternoon from 2 to 5, announced Hal Gray, manager.

All kiddies between the ages of 5 and 11 who bring a toy will be admitted. The toys may be either new or old and the children are urged to bring one or more. The toys will be turned over to the boy scouts, who will repair them and, in turn, will turn them over to the welfare board for distribution. The parents of Midland are urged to have their kiddies attend this show as there will be many of Midland's children who will not receive gifts from Santa Claus without some outside help. The picture will be "Jimmy and Sally."

WINK-WINTERS GAME SATURDAY

WINK—"Tails" said Capt. McInnis of the San Saba Armadillos, but "heads" said Coach Lee and so the Winters Bilzards became champions of District 13. Winters will meet Wink for the bi-district championship Saturday, December 9. The site of the game has not been determined and according to Coach Lee Johnson, it will probably be the first of this week before an agreement is reached.

The toss of the coin occurred at Brownwood, Wednesday. Coach Clyde Pratt of Winters threw the coin into the air. Present were Supt. Campbell and Clarence Gosen of San Saba and Supt. Stringer of Winters.

San Saba won the championship of the eastern half of the district and Winters the western half. A playoff could not be held as each team had played the maximum number of games in district competition, which was five. Roy Henderson of the Interscholastic league suggested a coin be tossed.

LEG IS SPLINT

PECOS.—Broken legs need splints. And Carlos Chacon, lying in bed with a broken left leg, believes he has the most unique splint in West Texas. His splint is—his good right leg.

Chacon's leg was broken and his hip dislocated in an automobile crash a few weeks ago. Ordinarily, his condition would require his being cradled on a tripod in an uncomfortable position, and his entire hip and leg encased in a plaster cast. But Dr. Hilliard Camp, with the aid of a special steel brace, placed each leg in a cast, and clamped them both immovably in the brace.

Under the Dome Of the Capital

AUSTIN.—Few legislative actions are popular among state officials. They will work diligently through the hot summer, but with the opening of the deer and turkey season the vacation urge gets the best of them.

Department records show that more clerks ask time off during a hunting season than at any other period of the year. The movement to the fields and woods is not confined to clerks. It is participated in by department heads and supreme court judges.

In even numbered years, July and August are the popular vacation periods. Primary elections are held in those years.

It is not unusual for several official hunting parties to meet in the hill country above Kerrville which abounds with deer. A few go to West Texas for black tail venison. Deer to be found in the open and are better meat, it is claimed, than the ordinary bucks.

For all the enthusiasm of the "wets," hot Tom and Jerry hardly will be a legal drink in Texas for two more winters. Ignoring "Jim" Ferguson's suggestion that the Dean law might be nullified, the anti-wet met here to cast the state's vote for repeal, favored a movement for direct repeal of state prohibition. State Chairman Maury Hughes, as democratic leader, advocated that course. He said that his action followed conferences with "the boys" all over the state.

Conceding that the movement will be successful, there is little prospect for repeal before late spring of 1935. Repeal can be submitted only at a regular session of the state legislature. The next regular session will open Jan. 8, 1935. A week usually is required for its organization. It would be unprecedented for a constitutional amendment to be submitted in the first month of the session. When it is submitted it must be advertised once a week for four weeks. After that election 40 days must elapse before the official canvass.

The proposed local option law could be submitted at the same session that is unprecedented for a popular vote. It could be passed to take effect when and if the constitutional amendment carried. Beer regulation was enacted in that way. The validity of such conditional legislation now is before the state court of criminal appeals.

Although it voted wet the ratification convention was totally dry. There was not a whisky breath in the assemblage. There does not seem to be the same old frenzy to drink. "I have not had a bottle of beer for two weeks," admitted Maury Hughes, ardent for repeal of prohibition against that beverage, just community pay the major part of the taxes to keep the schools, the public institutions of every kind going.

"Again, I'll wager you that I can break every business institution in any community, close every bank, every business establishment, in town, regardless of its size, within ninety days. How? Just let every citizen in that community buy needs outside that community for ninety days and the community will be broke. Schools will be closed, churches will be empty.

"Every dime you spend outside the community you live in helps just that much to keep your little town little.

"There has never been a community that grew to be a city, except through the pride of the citizens, who were too busy building that little town to a city to go to Dallas, Ft. Worth, or El Paso for a pair of socks or a new casing."

"Show me any small town, which over a period of year, has remained a little town and I'll show you a citizenship that always thought the grass was greener in the pasture across the fence.

"Show me a little town, that has ceased to grow and in ninety times out of a hundred, I'll show you a citizenship who thought it had to go to the city to buy its needs.

"On the other hand if you will show me a town that has grown and progressed, I'll show you a town that takes pride in its schools, its civic affairs, in the fact that that town has the best stores, picture shows, automobile show rooms, churches, filling stations, etc.

"Show me a community that takes pride in these things and I'll show you a community that will not stay a community long, but will continue to grow and grow, just so long as that spirit exists.

"Show me a town where citizens feel they must go elsewhere for their furniture, automobile, tires, dry goods and who feel that spending a dollar-fifty on gasoline, to save fifteen cents on a dozen cans of groceries is good business, and I'll show you a shipping and a fast getting to be, or staying, a little town.

"The fastest growing town in any county or any state is the town whose citizens are too busy to look up an out-of-town store's catalogue, who have invested their savings in the property in the own and who are so anxious to see property values advance that they haven't time to go some place else to shop.

"I'll make you a wager that the business, the population of Midland can be doubled within two years, without costing a single citizen an extra dime, that will make property double in value. That will double our tax renditions and half our tax burden.

"This will happen and continue to happen time after time. If every citizen of Midland bought his needs in Midland.

"It is the most short-sighted thing in the world to practice that 'penny wise pound foolish' idea of going to some other town to buy your needs.

"The merchants, the banks, the business enterprises in any community as he now seeks repeal affecting hard liquor.
