New Yorker Proves Difficult To Stop, Ignores His Wounds

FORCES OUTSIDE MUNDA, July 23 (Delayed) (AP)—Second Lieut. Joseph Sarcoma of New York City is a hard man to stop In the bitter fighting for Munda on New Georgia Island he led a platoon against strong Nipponese positions protected by machine guns. Sarcoma was wounded by two bullets. He continued his advance.

Within a few yards, two more bullets struck him. He continued to storm pill boxes. Just as he reached his objective, another pair of Japanese slugs struck him. The lieutenant waved aside first aid and although blood was streaming from many places in his body, went on to destroy enemy nests one by one.

Twelve hours after receiving his first wound, the last machine gun emplacement assigned his platoon had fallen. Then Sarcoma walked unaided 300 yards to a medical aid station and after treatment had to be forcibly evacuated. Surgeons said he would recov

Washington had quite a watershortage scare this week. The city commissioners banned all non-essential uses of water when serious break was discovered in the aqueduct that supplies us with water from the Potomac. There was no suspicion of sabo-tage. Fortunately the break was discovered in time to prevent a serious situation, and now I can look forward to my regular bath

Dry weather and its resultant of parched ranges and dwindling stock pond reserves weakened stocker biddings at the weekly sale of the Big Spring Livestock Commission Co. Wednesday. Butcher classes were comparatively steady.

Total for the day was $30,000 for 750 head. This was approximately on the same level as the previous week, except for head stamps to tourists was a thriving volume, when the total stood at $28,000 for 700 head.

I remembered that she had lived in Latin America most of her life and that she was the daughter of an unscrupulous man. For all I knew, she was a Gestapo agent, the daughter of a Gestapo agent murdered for his blackmail attempts. The Gestapo, of course, would not send her a death notice. They would more likely send her condolence or suppress the fact of her father's murder if they thought that she could still be useful. But one thing was definite. She didn't know that her father was dead. I thought of how she had acted towards me prior to the Mirtilo visit. Somebody had instructed her to change from the keep-your distance role to this all - out - charm - him - at - any -cost role. Why? The answer was Apparently rationing works in reverse. Label an article as rationed, and Joe Citizen rushes down to get his share. Take the rationing off, and nothing seems to happen.

At least, a check of grocers here today showed that the lifting of day sales and the manager pointthe coffee ration as announced by the president Wednesday night ed out that this condition would probably continue until coffee on brought no increase in coffee buying Thursday. In some cases, sales were way off for the day. One grocer reported that he usually sold between 75 and 100
