CRISIS LOOMS AT CONFERENCE

FANS FLOCK TO GARDEN GATE TO SEE TITLE ROW

Big Italian Now Even Money; Says He's Confident

NEW YORK, June 29. (UP)—A rush for the gates to the fight arena began with new impetus today for the championship scrap tonight between Jack Sharkey, champion, and Primo Carnera, contender.

Sharkey weighed in before boxing commission officials, weighing the beam at 201 pounds. He appeared in prime condition.

Carnera weighed 260½, and was gay and confident.

In the only bout in which they ever appeared together, Sharkey early knocked down his huge adversary, who had a difficult time weathering the gale of leather blows from the other.

The 5-round bout tonight finds the Italian even money in the betting, much different from the 1-5 shot he was in the former bout.

Railroad Overpass Sweetwater Project

SWEETWATER—Construction of an overpass over the Santa Fe and Orient tracks on West Broadway—a project, estimated to cost between $30,000 and $100,000—may be one of the first undertakings of such a size started in West Texas under provisions of the recent federal recovery program in the public works measure.

Under provisions of the national recovery act, the state highway department, which has received $24,000,000 in federal aid, will be permitted to spend part of the sum for construction of grade crossings within corporate limits.

The state highway department will be able to handle the construction of the project to the best advantage, though the city would have to provide the right-of-way.

Santa Fe engineers in 1929 estimated cost of the project to be between $80,000 and $100,000.

Plans for the project, as prepared by Santa Fe engineers, have been forwarded to George Wickline, state highway department bridge engineer, on advice of W. R. Ely of Abilene, member of the commission.

The Austin offices of the highway department have been asked to check the plans as quickly as possible so as to speed any construction that might be undertaken here.

Board to Settle Pipeline Matter

Controversy over the laying of the Humble pipe line over the Elliott F. Cowden ranch is expected to be amicably settled July 6 when a board of appraisal sits at Odessa.

Humble offered 25 cents a rod and the rancher asked $150 a rod.

It is understood Humble plans to go ahead with the line as soon as an agreement is made with Cowden through the appraisal board.

Child Missed in Fall from Train

DALLAS, June 29. (UP)—Ned Draughon, 7, fell from the window of a Katy train near Garland, 12 miles north of here.

The parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Draughon, Muskogee, Okla., did not miss the baby until they left the train at Dallas with three other children.

A motor coach retraced the route and found the youth seriously injured.

Sees Dark Future

A quarter of a million Jews will be cut off from livelihood in Germany within six months, declared Dr. Chaim Weizmann, former president of the World Zionist Organization, when he arrived in New York from Palestine on his way to Chicago to be guest of honor on Jewish Day, July 3, at the Century of Progress Exposition. Dr. Weizmann is pictured upon his arrival.

FEDERAL BLDG. FOR MIDLAND RECOMMENDED

Recommendations amounting to about $80,000 for Texas federal buildings to be included in the government's gigantic public works program, are being prepared by the treasury department for submission to the director of public works.

This includes Midland's application for a $100,000 federal building. The Reconstruction Finance Corporation has transferred all the activities of financing self-liquidating projects to the bureau of public works. Under that authority from congress the corporation loaned about $218,000,000.

It is the government's intention to bring together all projects of federal character, including public buildings, rivers and harbors, etc., and which may absorb as much as 30 per cent of the total fund allocated for public works. The work will be supervised from Washington through state directors who are to be named by President Roosevelt soon after his return to Washington next week. It is indicated these selections will be made with much care.

Already a large number of names have been recommended from one source or another, and while the limit of cost for the federal aid is $100,000, the limit of cost for the state engineers since all of the work will be of that character.

A number of states, among them Texas, have organized committees of public works to aid in gathering data of work desired in the states, and where such organizations exist, it is understood their recommendations will be given consideration; however, that does not foreclose others desirable recommendations or submitting projects.

The federal buildings for which allocations have been made, but are awaiting appropriations, $100,000; Arkansas Pass quarantine station $90,000; Athens $85,000; Austin, federal courthouse, $625,000; Ballinger $80,000; Berger $100,000; Bowie $75,000; Brady $85,000; Childress $100,000; Colorado $85,000; Corpus Christi $165,000; Dalhart $100,000; Dallas, parcel post station, $850,000; Eastland $85,000; Edinburg $85,000; El Paso immigration $1,250,000 (subject to final approval); Galveston, post-office $775,000; Graham $85,000; Henderson $80,000; Kerrville $85,000; Kingsville $75,000; Lamesa $85,000; Laredo $225,000; Lockhart $85,000; Longview $35,000; Lufkin $105,000; Luling $90,000; Mercedes $85,000; Midland $100,000; Mission $85,000; Nocona $85,000; Pecos $100,000; Fort Ranger $85,000; Quanah $85,000; Ranger $85,000; San Antonio $1,400,000; Shamrock $80,000; Vernon $50,000; Waco $500,000; and Wharton $80,000.

Other Structures Approved

Sketches have been approved for new buildings at Breckenridge, McAllen and Pampa and bids will be opened in Washington July 24 on the Breckenridge building for which $127,350 is available. Bids will be advertised soon for construction of postoffices at the other two places. The limit of cost for the McAllen postoffice is $123,150 and for the Pampa building $171,475.

Bids are on the market for construction of postoffice buildings at Big Spring and Seguin and will be opened at Washington July 12, for Big Spring and July 21 for Seguin. (See FEDERAL BLDG., Page 4)

WALLACE TO INTERVIEW COTTON DELEGATES ON MONDAY MORNING

Delegates from 15 dry counties seeking cotton acreage out privileges will confer in Washington Monday with Secretary of Agriculture Wallace and Cotton Administrator Cobb. They will leave Thursday night for the capital.

Sen. T. Watson, Big Spring, one of the delegates, telephoned the Midland chamber of commerce Wednesday that the money for the trip must be raised by Thursday and that organization was telephoning the various counties to send in their quotas. Practically all counties responded.

R. M. Barron, county cotton control chairman, was at work Thursday taking affidavits of farmers who in previous years planted cotton in July and made a crop. These will be taken by Watson, B. Davis and Senator Arthur P. Duggan to Washington to use in arguments for cotton reduction money.

This committee will also take with it affidavits on the night of the delegates, telephoned the Midland and other counties affected included, they will appeal for direct relief.

No significance is attached yet to the meeting in Washington, beyond the fact that the secretary of agriculture and cotton administrator agreed to a joint conference, Watson stated.

TO HOLD SCOUT WATER CARNIVAL

The fourth annual water carnival for boys scouts of the Buffalo Trails council will be held here some time in August, it was voted by officials of the council, the chamber of commerce and Pagoda pool this morning.

Date will be set as soon as it may be considered desirable according to A. C. Williamson, scout executive of the council.

A district committee, headed by Guy Brenneman, was appointed to supervise preparation for the July 12-26 summer encampment on the Nueces river, at which 20 Midland scouts expect to attend. Assisting Brenneman will be the Rev. Winston F. Borum and Busby Howard.

As many as 400 scouts have attended the water carnival, and plans will be made to care for almost that many this year.

Brand Likely to Be Next Banking Chief

SWEETWATER—E. C. Brand of Sweetwater is being prominently mentioned in Austin as a likely successor to James Shaw, Texas banking commissioner, according to United Press dispatches late Wednesday afternoon.

Brand is a close friend of the Ferguson and lent his influence in their behalf in the last election. Brand was not here Wednesday, being in Hamilton on business.

Oiling and Dragging of Track Puts It in Better Condition Than in Seasons

Little change was reported by Lions club race committees today except that work on the track at Cowboy park had reached an advanced stage. Oiling was under way yesterday and dragging was resumed today. Some who inspected the half mile oval declared it was better by far than when July fourth was in effect.

Goat ropers were holding conferences to agree on entrance fees and division of moneys. George Underwood will receive the fees, issue passes to ropers and disburse the moneys. He is one of the racing and rodeo secretaries, working with Joe D. Chambers and Harry L. Haight.

Interest in the jelly bean race increased when it was learned that Cotter Hiett had been equipped with

Naked Farmers to Go 'Nudist,' Says

Establishment of a nudist colony in a farm community south-east of Midland is proposed by Henry Abbott, farmer.

Abbott says the farmers don't have money enough to buy clothes, so they had as well become fashionable and nudists instead of just poor naked farmers.

"If it rains so we can grow good vegetable crops this fall, you'll see the fattest naked farmers in Texas," Abbott said.

Highway No. 70 Paving Is Sought

SWEETWATER—Completion in the near future of state highway No. 70 from the county line at Blackwell through Coke county to a point near San Angelo, meeting a concrete highway, has been promised by state highway officials.

A delegation from Tom Greene county has just returned from Austin, where it conferred with highway officials concerning immediate paving of the route.

All grading and drainage work has been completed on the route in Coke and Tom Green counties. Nolan county's portion of the highway has been hard surfaced for several years.

OVEN IS REDUCER

NORTON, Kan. (UP)—It is not bad to have your oven a baker especially when you like "goodies," and when you want to reduce. Levon Enly was two pounds overweight to make the school's track team on the day of the contest. So he donned a heavy sweat shirt, sat down beside the huge oven, and after a few hours walked out at two pounds less.

TEXAS LEADS IN VALUE OF GAME

AUSTIN. (UP)—Scouring through the underbrush and hiding in streams of Texas are game and fish estimated to have an annual value of $23,510,860, according to the U. S. biological survey.

This vast wealth, contends the Texas game, fish and oyster commission, is without adequate protection. Its conservation program has been crippled by lack of funds.

To fill the gap, Texas sportsmen have been asked to volunteer in the task of conserving the state's wild life.

Game leads the nation in the established value of its game. Annual meat and fur values of game in Minnesota, second state in the list, total only $7,244,976. The biological survey also estimates the combined annual positive values of all wild life in Texas are $94,350,394, nearly three times as great as the next ranking state.

The combined values of wild life in Pennsylvania, which spends large sums for conservation, total less than one-third of those of Texas.

TAX ON LIVESTOCK SUGGESTED BY SEC. HENRY A. WALLACE

KANSAS CITY, June 29.—A 20-million-acre reduction of the nation's corn land through a processing tax on livestock was suggested to the midwest yesterday by Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace as the means of averting overproduction in beef cattle and hogs, which he described as imminent.

"I'm telling you," the secretary asserted, "there'll be a definite over supply of fat cattle in several years, and a tariff won't help you. If we have two normal corn crops we'll have an over supply of hogs, too. The foreign market has been lost. We are dependent on domestic consumption."

Secretary Wallace, describing himself as a "corn and hog man" from Iowa, arrived from Des Moines by train, unaccompanied and pocketing his own handbag, addressed a meeting of agriculturalists and business men here, conferred with Prof. M. L. Wilson, federal wheat administrator, and took a plane for Salina, Kas., to speak before a large farm gathering.

"If twenty million acres of corn were taken out of production," he said, "it would mean corn prices would rise, and the average feeder makes more money when the price of corn is high than when it is down. High prices would not bring in the inexperienced feeder."

World Aid Stockmen

"I think you will conclude that if twenty million acres of the 100 million now in production were taken out, it would be definitely favorable for the livestock man."

TERRAPIN RETURNS EVERY SIX YEARS

FULTON, Mo. (UP)—A terrapin which first appeared here in 1835 and disappeared in 1899, is back again after a six years' absence.

D. E. Shely first noticed the terrapin on his farm in 1835 and carved the year on its shell. In 1899 the "old timer" returned for another carving. Then nearly 25 years passed before the turtle reappeared. In 1921 and again in 1927 he returned to the same farm. Now he is back again with all four dates carved plainly on his back.

PORTLAND, Ore. (UP)—David Brauer, proprietor of a shoe store here, bent over to lace a new shoe on the foot of a customer in his shop recently. He said he was "hit by something heavy."

"I'm sure you are looking for a male 'Cinderella' who ran out with one shoe on—the other lying laces awry, in the shoe store."

Not Money, But the Principle of Thing

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UP)—Doek Heavens, negro, pressed for payment of $3.65 which he said he did not owe, filed bankruptcy papers at a cost of $28 rather than pay the debt. His lone liability was listed at $3.65.

"It's not the money! It's the principle of the thing," was Heavens' philosophy.

FDR IS ASKED BY MACDONALD TO LEND HELP

Secretary of State Hull advised President Roosevelt of the crisis. France spurned the American offer of stabilization based on war debt agreement. France issued an ultimatum threatening to seek export agreement unless stabilization is reached within a week.

Prime Minister MacDonald personally appealed to Roosevelt to save the situation.

The world economic conference was at disaster's cross roads today, with America stubbornly backing inflation and European gold countries angrily seeking stabilization.

Estonia abandoned the gold standard, spreading panic in gold countries.

The gold bloc appealed to England for aid and Neville Chamberlain, British chancellor of the exchequer, urged an end to currency fluctuations.

AUSTRALIAN WHEAT PROPOSAL IS PUT

LONDON, June 29. (UP)—Australia offered a wheat acreage reduction plan which already had been rejected by other wheat exporting nations.

The plan, however, was slightly modified, and asked European wheat importing nations to participate, asking that nations to export an average of the last three years be given.

Texans Are Warned Against Fireworks

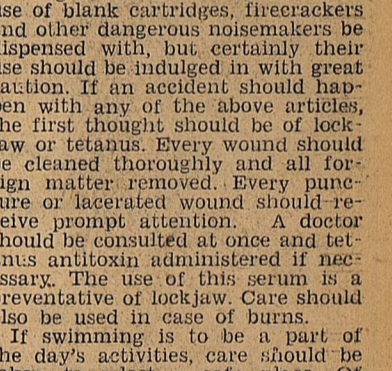

AUSTIN.—On July fourth Texans will celebrate the one hundred and fifty-seventh anniversary of our national independence. Thousands of people will lay aside their business cares and in various ways celebrate the occasion. The Texas state department of health believes in this observance but desires that it be as free from accidents as possible and has issued a warning in this connection.

"Perhaps it is asking too much of 'Young America' to insist that the use of blank cartridges, firecrackers and other dangerous fireworks be dispensed with, but certainly their use should be indulged in with great caution. If an accident should happen with any of the above articles, the first thought should be of keeping law or tetanus. Every wound should be cleaned thoroughly and all foreign matter removed. Every puncture or lacerated wound should receive prompt attention. A doctor should be consulted at once and tetanus antitoxin administered if necessary. The use of this serum is also the use of the case of burns."

If swimming is to be a part of the day's activities, care should be taken to select a safe place. Of course, pools that have guards are the safest places; but unprotected places will claim their number of bathers and those that cannot swim should be very careful and not venture beyond their depth. In case of accidental drowning, artificial respiration should be started at once and continued until medical assistance arrives.

According to the vital statistics records automobile accidents always show an increase on holidays as there are more people on the road on those days. Care should be used in driving, keep on your side of the road, give the other fellow a little more than half the road, have lights all tested and inspect your brakes. If everyone would drive carefully and practice common courtesy a large number of accidents and deaths would be avoided.

MAYBE JAPAN WAS RIGHT

The ins and outs of disarmament conferences must sometimes strike the ordinary citizen as being just a trifle difficult to follow.

Japan's delegate at Geneva, Ambassador Sato, threw the conference into an uproar the other day by asserting that his country would refuse to renounce bombardment from the air until the navies of the world abolished their aircraft carriers.

This action, of course, was an obstacle in the path of agreement, a stumbling block on the road to disarmament. But doesn't it, after all, sound like common sense? Are we all to agree to outlaw aerial bombardment, and at the same time spend millions to build and support aircraft carriers, which are designed with aerial bombardments in mind? If we are never, never going to launch our bombing planes, do we need expensive carriers for them?

THE FOREST ARMY AIDS

Some of the actual accomplishments of the reforestation camp program are cited in a recent report by Robert Fechner, director of emergency conservation work. According to his report, the project has already justified itself.

Already, says Mr. Fechner, the 250,000 men enrolled have arranged for the payment of cash allotments to more than 300,000 families, involving altogether close to a million persons. The arrival of this allowance money, he remarks, will bolster up family budgets so that local relief organizations will find their load substantially lighter.

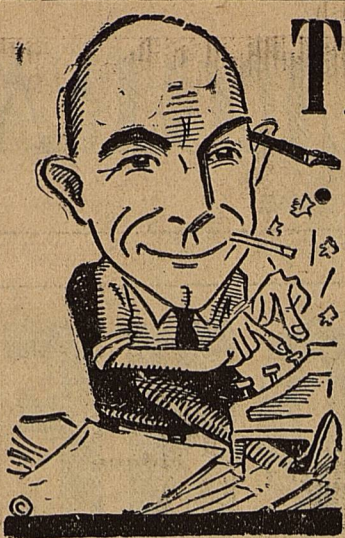

Not that all. Millions of dollars are being spent on the forest army—$90,000 a day is being spent for food alone, for instance, more than $4,600,000 is being spent for clothing, tents and other equipment, and fully $185,000 is being spent for athletic equipment.

All in all, these expenditures should provide a very valuable stimulus for business generally.

They said it was "Toasting" that made Luckies so good. I've never questioned the reason—because I have always found Luckies so fragrant, so mild—and (perhaps a man will smile at this) so pure to my lips! I can smoke lots and lots of them and still find them refreshing to the taste. Now I'm telling my brothers "Luckies Please", and each of them says, "You're telling me?" because "It's toasted"

"Cynara" Among The Best Films

"Cynara," from the international stage success, is a perfect vehicle for the admirable talents of Ronald Colman, a United Artists picture which opens at the Ritz theatre preview Saturday night, showing also on Sunday and Monday.

Indeed, even the suave, urbane Colman has made few pictures more artistic and entertaining than this one. Advance reports from Hollywood—and from disinterested observers, too—has placed "Cynara" far up in the list of the season's best efforts, and certainly local audiences are to be pleased.

Colman was never better than in the role of Jim Warwick, the young English barrister who, much against his better judgment, is drawn by his best friend into what is called a harmless flirtation and which results in disaster for everybody concerned.

Kay Francis, in the role of Warwick's young wife, gives one of those finished performances which is her wont, only this time she is better than ever. And a newcomer from England named Phyllis Barry soars to the heights in this, her first Hollywood effort. Miss Barry is bound to be in great demand because of this artistic portrayal.

FIVE RACES ON FOURTH OF JULY

A crowd that comfortably filled the big grandstand at Cowboy park saw five horse races the afternoon of July 4, 1933.

The races carried with them the thrill of days hitherto believed to have passed in Midland, as the ponies from select stables, race horses that had known several big race courses and half-outlaw cold breeds from the ranges here to surprise one with their speed.

All that was lacking in the atmosphere was the call of the bookies. But betting went on in true western fashion, the third party being called in as "holder" and the bone-breaking "east of the Pecos" handclasp signifying a "gentleman's agreement" where a holder was not convenient.

The day was ideal, occasional cooling breezes sweeping out of the wide rangelands and circulating with efficiency not known to mechanical contrivance among those in the stands. More like a circus crowd, the mass, with peanuts and soda pop—and everyone running out of cigarettes and forgetting about it as the races were unreeled.

Cars were parked around the stand, between the side boards of the polo field and the fence of the track and along the highway that leads to the park.

In the first race, for three-year-olds and up over the three-eighths, Doc Bloss booted Red Star under the wire a full length ahead of James Kenney on Jim Fow's Jimmie Rowe. Filmore Parmer was third on Captain Jay Floyd's horse. Red Star broke away fast at the start and was timed at 39 seconds.

Much trouble was encountered in getting the race started, the flag having to be dropped by W. E. "Cap" Wallace 21 times before the field could get away even.

A feature of this race was the great bit of riding by 16-year-old Kenney, who was lost to get off yet who edged out five of the ponies that led him at the first quarter.

But for his horse's getting his feet tangled as he tried to pass Red Star near the finish line, he probably would have finished in a dead heat with the Buchanan-Bloss mare.

The second race was for two-year-olds, over the three-eighths, for the Hotel Scharbauer handicap winners of July 2. B. W. Floyd's Four Mile Parmer up, topped after getting off third. Time was 39 1/2. John Dublin's Tomcat was second. Kenney rode the animal ahead of the field most of the way, but Tomcat "flew the turn" and lost the lead. Clarence Scharbauer's Prunes, Bloss up, was third.

Two-year-olds ran the three-eighths mile distance in the next race, which was conducted for horses classified as non-winners in the July 2 races. Myrl Jowell's Golden Dreamer, Pete Patterson up, finished first. Time was 41 seconds. L. C. Cook's Joe Brown, Curtis Cook, 10-year-old son of the owner, up, was second. This miniature rider brought much applause from the stands because of his comeback, having broken his hand on Friday, his horse running wild with him. B. W. Floyd's horse, Fairy Story, was third.

The fourth race was for polo ponies, and looked like a bad start, Jay Floyd getting away to a big lead on "King Tony." But the horse that placed third out of 500 at the polo tournament a few weeks before at San Antonio did not need the lead, increasing without trouble the distance that separated him from Dick Whittenburg on Dick and Myrl Jowell on Lura Lee. Floyd came home

THRILLING DEAD HEAT AND TUMBLE BY JOCKEY FEATURES OF JULY 4TH RACE MEETING HELD HERE IN 1930

Editor's Note: The following is the beginning of a series of articles written on race meetings of Midland since 1930. Tomorrow's installment will tell of the special match race of the cow pony Pankin of Fort Stockton and Tomcat, Midland horse, and of the Labor day races of 1931. Polo articles will follow the race meeting series.

The first Midland race meets in the last three years were held July 2 and 4, 1930. Three fast and exciting races were held July 2, featured by a dead heat over the three-eighths and a cropper taken by a jockey.

John Dublin's then 2-year-old Tomcat, Clayton Stewart's 2-year-old Flossey, B. W. Floyd's Maude F and Stewart's Red Star were the outstanding winners.

John Dublin's Tomcat, with Jimmy Kinney up, won the first quarter race, with time of 25 1/2 seconds. B. W. Floyd's Flossey, with Joe Roberts up, was second. Buck King's Dot, with Buck King, Jr., up, was third.

Clayton Stewart's Flossey barely beat out Booger Bryant's Piccolo Pete in the second 2-year-old race. Clarence Scharbauer's Prunes, with Jimmy Kinney up, with third. Time was 27 flat.

The day was almost marred by an accident, Joe Roberts falling from one of B. W. Floyd's horses, but being uninjured.

The third race, for three-eighths of a mile, proved the sensation of the afternoon, when Maude F. Floyd mare, and Red Star, owned by C. Arnett of Big Spring, ran a dead heat, splitting first and second money. Floyd's Captain was third.

Two-year-olds ran the three-eighths mile distance in the next race, which was conducted for horses classified as non-winners in the July 2 races. Myrl Jowell's Golden Dreamer, Pete Patterson up, finished first. Time was 41 seconds. L. C. Cook's Joe Brown, Curtis Cook, 10-year-old son of the owner, up, was second. This miniature rider brought much applause from the stands because of his comeback, having broken his hand on Friday, his horse running wild with him. B. W. Floyd's horse, Fairy Story, was third.

The fourth race was for polo ponies, and looked like a bad start, Jay Floyd getting away to a big lead on "King Tony." But the horse that placed third out of 500 at the polo tournament a few weeks before at San Antonio did not need the lead, increasing without trouble the distance that separated him from Dick Whittenburg on Dick and Myrl Jowell on Lura Lee. Floyd came home in a canter. Phil Griffin's entry did not run, and Guy Weeks rode Light-foot instead.

Convicts Rival Baron Munchausen

SAN QUENTIN PRISON, Cal. (UP).—Prison authorities claim the greatest preparators live in prison. San Quentin guards cite the following tales as examples:

"San Quentin has held a score of men whose imaginative talents, if turned to fiction, would have netted them fortunes instead of landing them in prison," said Warden Hoelahan.

Latest rival of Baron Munchausen, San Quentin guards believe, is Manuel Duke Ledbetter, artist and sculptor serving a life term. He pointed proudly to the fifth horse in a picture of the huge memorial being carved on the sides of Stone Mountain, in Georgia.

"I wielded the chisel on that horse," Ledbetter solemnly averred. He acquired much renown among the prison's intelligentsia until Clinton Duffy, the warden's secretary, returned from a trip to Georgia with a photograph he took of the memorial. Only the first two horses are completed, the rest are merely outlined.

Genevieve Paddleford, old-married adventuress, who has served two terms at San Quentin, aroused the envy of fellow prisoners with stories of her rich and noble relatives in Europe and the banks filled with money awaiting her release. Paroled recently, she was almost immediately returned to prison when her checks began to come back marked "no funds."

When Electricity Steps in!

Cooler In Every Room.

What a whale of a difference a few breezes make—you'll find an electric fan means the difference between being hot as a firecracker and cool as a cucumber, figuratively speaking.

Easily portable, electric fans make it possible to carry coolness around from room to room as you go. Better still, have fans for every room—a small one for sleeping, a medium-sized one for the dining room and a large one or two for the living room. It'll be much cooler in every room.

$6.95 and up
It will operate your fan 4 hours

Cooler For Perishable Foods

Keeping perishables cooler means less waste and lower food bills. Electric refrigerators DO keep foods perfectly a remarkably long time, even in hot summer. New model electric refrigerators are now available for less than $100.

It will operate your refrigerator 2 1/2 to 5 hours

Cooler in the Kitchen

All-electric kitchens have proven beyond a shadow of doubt that they are actually many degrees cooler than less-modern kitchens with old-fashioned, open-flame cooking appliances.
