Geographic-Pictorial Record of Abductions Since the Lindbergh Case

Angeles on March 1, 1933. Two convictions and two indictments resulted from the abduction of Charles Boetcher, Jr., at Denver, Colo., on February 12, but no one was ever arrested for the capture of Peter Myers, Jr., at Warren, Ohio, on March 1. The spiriting away of youthful Jerome Factor at Chicago on April 12 was followed on July 1 by the disappearance of his father, John (Jake the Barber) Factor, recently released. Meanwhile, at Harwich, Mass., on May 2, little Margaret McMath had been kidnaped from school (a neighbor was convicted of the crime); on May 27 Mary McElroy, daughter of the Kansas City Manager, was abducted (four alleged kidnapers are awaiting trial); and on June 15, at St. Paul, Minn., William Hamm was kidnaped—and returned three

PLANE CRASHES IN GERMANY AS GAS GIVES OUT

Post Making Faster Time Than on Other Try

SOLDIN, Germany, July 17. (UP)—Stephen Darius and Stanley Girenas, Lithuanian team attempting a flight from New York to Kovono, capital of their country, were killed today in a crash in a wooded area near here.

After flying the Atlantic safely, they apparently lost their way, ran out of gasoline in the darkness and crashed.

POST 13 HOURS AHEAD OF RECORD

MOSCOW, July 17. (UP)—Wiley Post, seeking to beat the record he and Harold Gatty set in a round the world flight in 1931, took off from Novosibirsk, Siberia, today at 10:15 (EDT). He reached here at 7:30 this morning from Koenigsberg, East Prussia.

He is 13 hours and nine minutes ahead of the record he and Gatty made at the same stage of their flight.

PLANE OF LITHS HEARD ONLY ONCE

The orange and black monoplane of Capt. Stephen Darius and Stanley Girenas, who hopped off from Floyd Bennett field an hour after Wiley Post's departure, was last heard over the east coast of Newfoundland at 2:38 p. m. Saturday (Eastern Standard time) heading for the Atlantic.

From Newfoundland the flyers' route lay over the ocean to the north line of Scotland, then across the southern end of the Scandinavian peninsula and over the Baltic sea to Kaunas, the Lithuanian capital.

A report from the Wolf News Bureau had placed the plane over Koenigsberg, in East Prussia, Sunday afternoon, but when the craft landed, it was found to be that of Post.

Wiley Post's plane was the only one of the Lithuanians' line of flight.

Friends of Darius and Girenas, who had estimated a maximum of 34 hours for the flight, remained optimistic as the hours passed without word. They suggested the plane might have been forced down in an inaccessible spot in Norway or Sweden, pointing out that hours had elapsed over paying cable tolls for the permission, and hopped off without passports or other credentials.

The Lithuanians carried 779 gallons of gasoline, which probably would have lasted for 36 hours. If all had gone well, they should have landed at Kaunas by 3:30 p. m. (E. S. T.).

The plane was heavily loaded—it nearly crashed on the takeoff—so that neither wireless equipment nor parachutes had been added to the burden. Besides its regular fuel supply, it carried 135 gallons of gasoline in five-gallon tins.

The flyers were well equipped with food, having stowed away roast chicken, apples and oranges, malted milk tablets, coffee, and drinking water.

In view of Wiley Post's statement that he had flown through bad weather on much of his trip across the Atlantic, it was scabbed that Darius and Girenas were killed. (Page 4)

FROM CHARITY TO JOBS

For a graphic picture of what an industrial revival really means to the people most directly concerned—the unemployed working men—you might cast an eye at recent events in Youngstown, O.

Youngstown is a steel town, and until a very short time ago the depression was almost crushing the life out of it. But the mills are operating almost at normal levels now, and business is beginning to hum; and during June the Youngstown charities released a total of 8000 persons from their rolls.

Furthermore, a good many of the people who were subsisting on charity a month or so ago are now driving about town in new automobiles. Their bills are paid, they have new clothes, they can look any man in the eye again. On top of that, the things they are buying are creating new employment in a dozen other cities.

It makes a tremendously cheering picture.

So many uses have been found for discarded automobile inner tubes that apparently they do not become really servicable until they are unfit for further use.

Little seems to be known about inflation, but if it will inflate the pocket there will be few complaints.

Health Angel No Adventuress

By ALANSON EDWARDS
United Press Staff Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD. (UP)—There's an angel in the clouds, in the class of Heather Angel as a participant in wild adventures.

Fragile as a rose petal, calm as a lull, she can look back upon the best four of her 18 years and realize she has lived in a mad whirl that she wouldn't have missed for anything.

This diminutive actress, catapulted to fame in the year's choice acting plum, opposite Leslie Howard in "Berkeley Square," never has faced hungry lions but she came close to it.

In China, while touring with an English stock company, Heather was molested by mutinous mobs, and in Simla, India, she was forced off the stage when a horde of wild monkeys danced on the theater's tin roof and then stoned her. Heather did not accept this as a criticism of her work.

Heather was caught in a maelstrom of rising Indians in Ceylon. They tossed bombs and threatened her and other whites. In Calcutta, Ceylon and Karachi, she was stranded and broke with other players.

She regards as her greatest adventure facing the cameras for "Berkeley Square." That's because it it means the most to her.

Heather probably never again will be stoned by wild monkeys. Hollywood producers will see to that.

Poor Soil Is Best for Seed

LUBBOCK. (UP)—Thirty-five years ago the late Dr. Seaman A. Knapp, father of Dr. Bradford Knapp, president of the Texas Technological college here, and then a high official in the United States department of agriculture, received from Japan a small packet of Lespedeza sericea, commonly known as Japanese clover.

The package was forgotten until recently when part of its contents were sent to various parts of the country. The persons who received the seed have reported that it grew lustily, the heaviest yields on the poorest soil.

Wire Trouble Is Caused by Bird

BUFFALO, N. Y. (UP)—Pennsylvania Railroad linemen suffered three days of mental anguish as a result of bird's carelessness. Somewhere between East Aurora and Elma a "sort" was disrupting communications in several telegraph and telephone circuits. It took three days to narrow the location of the trouble down to a 500-foot area. Then the found the source of trouble—a piece of thin wire which a bird was carrying, when it got tired, alighted for a rest, and forgot to take along when it resumed its flight.

Innocent Looking Plan Is Dangerous

WASHINGTON. (UP)—Beware of "snow-on-the-mountain," an innocent looking garden plant with a deceiving name.

The juice of "snow-on-the-mountain" is so hot that it's used in Texas to brand cattle, according to Dr. James F. Couch, agriculture department botanist.

When humans come in contact with the plant, Dr. Couch said, it causes a skin eruption similar to that resulting from poison ivy.

To taste right food must be seasoned right

—every good cook knows that

To Satisfy—a cigarette has to be seasoned just right

You buy food—steak, flour, corn meal, or fruit—it is cooked and brought to the table and tastes just fine. While the same food, cooked by somebody else, may not taste right at all. That's the difference between cooks—knowing how to season food. It's somewhat like this with cigarettes. Many kinds of cigarettes have good tobaccos, but they are not mixed right; and then again they are not seasoned with the right amount of the right kind of Turkish Tobacco. Chesterfields are seasoned just right...they are milder and taste better... and that's why They Satisfy.

Big Baseball Fan Got Special Seat

ST. LOUIS, (UP)—Phil Ball, owner of the St. Louis Browns, sat in his box seat on a sweltering hot day late in June. His team was being defeated 14 to 1 and sent to last place in the league.

Ball's attention, however, was not on the game. He was more concerned with a 325-pound regular customer trying to make himself comfortable in one of the regulation-size seats.

Ball had noticed the man was a regular customer. He called Bill Friel, business manager of the club. The next day the heavy customer found a special seat had been constructed in the fans favorite location.

Flat Feet Cause Marital Strife

NEW ORLEANS, (UP)—The big menace to happiness is flat feet and not mother-in-law.

This is the opinion of Dr. Dudley Stewart, New Orleans physician, who claims 90 per cent of present day divorces are caused by flat feet.

They make women irritable, sour their dispositions, bring on words, then more words, and then lawyers, suits and alimony.

It's improperly designed shoes worn by women that cause the flat feet, the doctor said.

CEREMONY AT SPRAYING

VANCOUVER, Wash. (UP)—An annual ceremony attends the bathing of Washington's oldest apple tree. Soldiers of the barracks sprayed the tree, now 107 years old. Cranberries were originally called crane-berries; the fruit is borne on a curved stalk which suggests the neck of a crane.

TRIBE AND STAMFORD RED SHIRTS BEGIN SERIES TONIGHT

RED SHIRTS LOOK LIKE WINNING BALL CLUB

The air of a little world series blankets plans for the Stamford-Midland soccer ball series which begins tonight at 8 o'clock.

9-INNING GAME

Tonight's affair will go nine innings, a compromise decision today said. The Indians wanted to play seven innings, the visitors nine.

The grounds are being dragged and marked, rope from the city supply will be strung in order to control the crowds, a new bat stop netting is being stretched, new bases procured, chairs being placed for the orchestra which plays both tonight and Tuesday night.

Officials to call the game are: Fritz Kinikin behind the bat; Lindy Hiett, first and second bases; J. M. White, third.

Dr. Ellis, skipper of the locals, issued a statement this morning asking the crowds to come as early as possible so that parking may be easily handled.

The game begins at 8 o'clock, promptly. The Paposes begin hitting practice at 6:30, the Red Shirts at 7. The Indians take the field for practice at 7:30, the Red Shirts at 7:45.

Mrs. Otis Herbert and Ellis announced lineups, in the order of batting, as follows:

Stamford P. Cook, rf. York, cf. H. Whitmore, ss. Bentley, 3b. W. Cook, c. Smith, 1b. G. Gilpin, 2b. Barber, 1b. Branch, 2b. P. Owens, 2b. W. Whitmore, 3b. B. Owens, ss. Crawford, lf. Allen, rf. Ellis, cf. Swenson, lf. L. Cook, c. B. Samuels, p. Straughan, p.

Stamford has two extra men, D. Samuels and Raines. The Stamford men with the exception of the manager and his assistant, are guests of Midland players, the officials having a room at the downtown hotel, for the sake of convenience.

Stamford has beaten practically every club it has engaged in three years. The players are young, are reputed to be fast at fielding and hard at hitting.

Admission charge is 15 cents for one game, or 25 cents for both tonight's and Tuesday's games.

Members of the team are friends of Sanford Hodge, brother of Jack Hodge, manager of the theatre, Sanford Hodge, former manager of the Grand theatre here, now operates a playhouse at Stamford.

The Redshirt menace of Stamford arrived in Midland this morning and were the guests of the Ritz theatre this afternoon.

Bette Wears New Gowns in Picture

The stock market may be gradually creeping upwards, but Milady's evening gowns are reaching for a new low, according to the styles displayed in recent motion picture productions.

Studio designers try to anticipate the trend of fashion as the gowns they design are fashioned many months before they reach the screen. One of the new types of low cut evening dress was made for Bette Davis in "Ex-Lady," showing at the Ritz theatre for the last time today.

NUDISM SPREADS WITH LESSENING INTERFERENCE, LEADERS FINDING

For the six-month period since January 1 Texas' mills showed a 35.2 per cent increase in active spindles hours per spindle in place over the same period a year ago," Blanton said.

Virtually all of the 20-odd mills have increased employment numbers and wages.

Miscellaneous reports showed increased employment and activity in lumber mills, mounting rail traffic resulting in larger and heavier payrolls and a throng of new industrial and business enterprises, as gauged by charters granted by the state.

Unfilled orders at southern pine mills during June virtually doubled those of a year ago. The average per unit reported by the Southern Pine Mills association rose to 827,867 feet, as against 427,176 at the end of June, last year.

Reflecting the increase of rail traffic was the report of freight loadings on Texas lines of the Missouri Pacific, which rose during the month of June to 25,747 cars from 14,674 cars in June, 1932.

Increasingly conspicuous in the daily news were reports of municipal bond issues, individually small in comparison to other sums in the headlines, but significant of increased public confidence.

Items of industrial enterprise included plans of the Shamrock Oil and Gas company to establish a $250,000 casinghead plant at Amarillo, the projecting of a $150,000 paint factory at El Paso, and the opening of a $95,000 egg-drying plant at Abilene.

They were selected arbitrarily from a host of similar reports from communities all over the state. Also typical of a general situation was the report of "new deal" construction planned at Amarillo, where four building projects now under way will represent when completed a money outlay of more than $125,000.

Of all the nudist camps there is the least secrecy, whispering and hocus-pocus connected with the Outdoor Club. Its director is a young woman author, Miss Jan Gay, who wrote the book called "On Going Naked." The farm is about seven miles northwest of Highland, N. Y., and Miss Gay personally interviews prospective guests before they are admitted here.

There is no secret of the identities of other members of the camp's personnel, Karl W. Peters, for instance, physical instructor for the men, is on the faculties of several of New York's largest dance studios, has appeared on the stage and in movies for the past seven years, and is a consultant for most of the nudist organizations in and around New York.

Elizabeth Rittmeyer, women's physical instructor, is a graduate of two orthopedic gymnastic schools of Stuttgart, Germany, has been a dancer, a dance teacher, and leader of a nudist organization in St. Gall, Switzerland. Ethel W. Jacobs, swimming instructor, is an examiner of the American Red Cross Life Saving Corps, and the director of public education at Welcome Settlement House, New York.

The nudist movement in the United States is contained in the following article, the last of three written for this newspaper.

By PAUL HARRISON NEA Service Writer NEW YORK.—In ever-increasing numbers, sun-worshippers are converging on secluded sylvan spots this summer, and on the shores of protected lakes, to doff their clothes and luxuriate in nakedness. Thousands of them in the vicinity of New York alone are becoming converts to nudism. And all kinds of people are flocking to the nudist camps.

Children, bachelors, spinsters, college students, clergymen, clerks, professors, stenographers. Some are fanatics, some faddists; but collectively they are part of a new and sensational social phenomenon.

The organized nudist movement in America is about three years old. But health and caution cloaked its earliest life. Secrecy surrounded the identities of its followers and the locations of their meeting places. Nudists were the targets of written and cartooned ridicule—and of enthusiastic raids by police.

This year, though, interference has lessened. Reformers are vigilant but inactive. Many reputable people no longer hesitate to express sympathy with nudist ideas. A nudist movie is being released in some states. A nudist magazine is being sold in nearly a hundred cities. And in it are openly listed the largest nudist organizations now existing in nine states.

For all that, considerable reticence and timidity remain. The American League for Physical Culture, largest and oldest of the groups, has only a post office box for New York address and has asked this reporter not to divulge the location of the summer camp. So, in fact, have the American Gymnosophical Association (which does have an office in Manhattan), the Olympic League, and the Spartan Society. These organizations maintain outdoor resorts with the knowledge and, indeed, the protection of police. But they fear publicity might result in formal complaints which would force authorities to act against them.

Joining a nudist league is a relatively simple matter for the average sun-seeker, but takes weeks to consummate. Take the Gymnosophical Association, for example. A letter to the secretary, Miss Ruth Winkler, brings information regarding the group's activities and its rates. After that comes an appointment for a personal interview and a membership application form. The latter calls for "reasonable" personal and family data, must be accompanied by the applicant's photograph and by written consent of the applicant's wife, husband, fiancé or fiancée provided he or she does not wish to join.

Miss Winkler does most of the interviewing for the association, and

Dr. Henry Strong Huntington, a former Presbyterian minister, and Dr. Isley Boone, a former Baptist minister. They also are editor-in-chief and managing editor, respectively, of the magazine called "The Nudist," and are associated in the operation of Burgoyne Trial Associates, Inc., a nudist organization near Otis, Massachusetts.
