Grant Removal of Shannons to Oklahoma City for Trial

HEARING TODAY CONSIDERS MOVE OF ALBERT BATES

Bailey Willing for Transfer, Jailed At Dallas

FORT WORTH, Aug. 25. (UP).—Federal Judge James Wilson today ordered R. G. Shannon and wife and their son, Armon, removed to Oklahoma City to face indictments in connection with the kidnaping of Charles F. Urschel. The order climaxed a hearing at which Shannon asked a reduction in bonds and contested removal.

COURT AT DENVER ON BATES CASE DENVER, Aug. 25. (UP).—A federal hearing was planned today by officers seeking removal of Albert Bates, Bailey confederate, to Oklahoma City to face an indictment in connection with the Urschel kidnaping.

BEER TAX STAMP ORDER PLACED BY LOCKHART TODAY

AUSTIN, Aug. 25. (UP).—State Treasurer Charles Lockhart today let a contract to the Stock Printing company plant for 3,000,000 state beer tax stamps, on condition of adoption of the beer amendment in tomorrow's election.

STATE CONTRACTS TO NRA FIRMS AUSTIN, Aug. 25. (UP).—John Wallace, member of the state board of control, announced today that state contracts will go only to those firms under the NRA.

"I Told You So," Jeff Davis Well Might Say Now

DALLAS, Aug. 25. (UP).—If Jefferson Davis could appear on the political stage today, he could well point a lean finger at the Texas electorate and blithely say, "I told you so."

When prohibition arrayed neighbors against one another in bitter battle in 1887, Davis wrote his friend Francis R. Lubbock, that "the world is moved too much."

"Drunkness has become less frequent within the last 20 years," Davis noted in 1887. "The refining influence of education and Christianity may be credited with this result. Why not allow these blessed handmaidens of virtue and morality to continue unembarrassed in their civilizing work?"

Texas voters answered, "well, why not?" and defeated the first constitutional amendment for statewide prohibition by vote of 220,627 to 129,270. Thirty-one years later, Texas revised their answer. Their legislature ratified the 18th amendment. A year later the voters adopted a state constitutional prohibition amendment.

Today the electorate is called to the polls again to decide the merits of prohibition, an issue which has rocked the state from the Panhandle to the rolling Rio Grande since 1884. On the day Jefferson Davis penned his letter in 1887, earnest business men in Texas have closed their shops to speak against prohibition. Preachers have left their pulpits to accompany banner-waving women on their first political crusade. The air above Texas was crisp with combat. To the roll of drums and oratory, a political drama was being enacted in a state of liberal traditions.

MASKED GUNMEN HIJACK STATION ATTENDANT HERE

Two masked gunmen held up Ulys Barber, attendant at C. C. Day's Magnolia service station, at one o'clock this morning, taking $10.35 in cash and making a break for freedom before officers could be summoned to the scene.

The bandits, it was revealed by footprints, had been in hiding for some time behind a fence on the east side of the station. They waited until Barber, who had been employed there only a week, made his rounds of inspection and was coming out of the ladies' rest room. He was commanded to hold up his hands and turn his face to the wall.

Arrests were expected momentarily by city and county officers who took over the investigation today. A search party led by the Magnolia Petroleum company, it was reported, overtook the bandits.

Election Judges Instructed Today

Homer W. Rowe, presiding judge of the Saturday election, called a meeting this morning of judges of the four county precincts. The group met at 10 o'clock at the commissioners court room for final instruction on holding the election and on making of returns.

BIG SPRING TROOP REALIZES FOUR-YEAR-OLD GOAL AND WINS CARNIVAL

By ALMA LEE HANKINS Troop 1 of Big Spring, which for three consecutive years had staged strong races at the Buffalo Trail Scout carnival held at Pagoda pool, Midland, only to lose first place by a few points, came to the fore Thursday with the greatest number of points ever taken at the annual scout meeting, 156, and nudged out the second place Barstow troop by five points.

What Leaders Say Of the Election

By UNITED PRESS Senator Morris Sheppard: "Texas will drive the first nail in the coffin of Old Man John Barleycorn of the 13 that are required to keep him forever down. We must not return one of the most corrupting influences that ever afflicted the nation."

Former Governor Dan Moody: "Many who advocate repeal of the 18th amendment say they also oppose the saloon and that the regime they propose will not include repeal of their ballots with Stubbeman's name only thereon and later added the name of his opponent."

Apply to county judge on or after Sept. 1 for a license. If the city license is authorized he must present the authorization to the county tax collector and tender the fee required. The tax collector will issue the license on or after Sept. 15.

Application to the U. S. revenue collector can be made at once. Application to the county judge may be made Sept. 1 or after. Upon his filing the judge will set a hearing not less than five or more than ten days distant.

Application to the county judge may be made Sept. 1 or after. Upon his filing the judge will set a hearing not less than five or more than ten days distant.

Upon the receipt of such a wire from the attorney general's department, Stubbeman wrote the officials back that while the ballots should be ready for absentee voting 20 days before the election, nevertheless it would advise the placing on the ballot of the names of all candidates who wished it.

Several days ago while at Mentone, the county seat of Loving county, Stubbeman was told by the county officials that he was the only candidate who had made application for name to go on the ballot in that county and consequently that his name would be the only one thereon.

Ten Die as Gale Hits Atlantic Seaboard

The gale that swept up the Atlantic seaboard from Cape Hatteras to Boston, taking at least 10 lives, struck with greatest fury the coasts of New Jersey and Maryland, capsizing and scattering hundreds of craft. One of the craft, the tugboat Point Breze, is shown off Seven-Foot Knoll Lighthouse near Baltimore, just before it was swept over on its side and sank. The engineer perished.

ROSS STERLING, former governor: "I've been so busy trying to earn some money and pay my debts that I haven't taken much interest in the election. I have my convictions, of course, but I'm out of politics now and do not care to make a public statement on the question."

JOHN HENRY KIRBY, chairman Texas Federation of Anti-Prohibition Clubs: "From the information coming to me from all parts of the state—and I consider it reliable information—I think there is no question of the triumph of repeal and also the constitutional amendment concerning beer. I predict a majority of at least two and a half to one in favor of both repeal and beer."

SOME EXPECT BEER BY PROCLAMATION Some district attorneys in West Texas are known to believe that a Governor Ferguson declaring 3.2 beer legal on August 27, if the state goes wet on August 28.

However, railroads have been instructed by the attorney general's department not to receive beer shipment into Texas until the date the beer will be legal, September 15. However a proclamation by the governor would make the law effective immediately, it is believed.

It is expected several score cars of beer will be on the tracks in Oklahoma ready to move into Texas at a moment's notice.

MIDLAND WILL VOTE ON FIVE NOTED ISSUES

Representative Race Also Included In Balloting DALLAS, Aug. 25. (UP).—Local option elections will be held in 188 counties of Texas Saturday when the electorate votes on legalization of beer, repeal of the 18th amendment and four state amendments, according to compilations of the United Press.

Eleven counties, according to records from Austin, were without local laws forbidding sale of intoxicating liquors when the state adopted national prohibition. In these counties no election will have to be held to legalize the sale of 3.2 per cent beer if that issue is passed at Saturday's election.

They are Austin, Harris, Bexar, Comal, Fort Bend, Guadalupe, Jim Hogg, Kendall, Kinney, LaVaca and Zapata. In 39 other Texas counties partial prohibition was in force. The restricted areas in many included majority of the eight precincts in each county, in other a minority area of the county represented by school districts or less than a major of the number of precincts in the county.

The provisions of the bill passed by the 43rd session of the legislature said a local option election could be held, either simultaneously with the state-wide poll or later, if a certified petition was presented to the commissioners' court. In many of the counties not holding elections on the local option issue Saturday, the commissioners received petitions calling for the election, but declined to act, either because the petitions did not bear sufficient signatures or because the county had already held a local option election. Test votes of wet strength will be had in many populous counties, among them Dallas and Tarrant. An especially noted case is in Tarrant, where the argument in favor of voting for beer at local option elections was that residents would go to Oklahoma for beer if the issue failed at home.

WOMAN PERFECTS TABULATING MACHINE

AUSTIN, Aug. 25. (UP).—A new machine for tabulating election returns, designed by Miss Margaret E. Neal of Carthage, has tried to revise the state's cumbersome method of making known the results of an election. Only a few would listen to her at first. Her second effort was approved by the Texas senate but failed in the house by one vote.

Both house and senate of the last legislature passed her bill, effective immediately. Her purpose was three-fold: 1. To make election returns more quickly available to the public. 2. To protect the interests of candidates for office. 3. To protect voters from being disfranchised through failure of election officers to perform their proper duties.

After the presidential election of 1932, at least six Texas counties failed to make any returns whatever. Senator Neal's law requires that immediately after the polls close one of the election judges shall make a correct but unofficial memorandum of the total number of votes counted for each candidate at that time, and publicly announce the status of the count.

Similar announcements are required at intervals of two hours thereafter. The memoranda shall be "accessible to the public and especially to the candidates." (See ELECTION, page 4)

RACE PROGRAM FOR SUNDAY STEPPED UP TO INCLUDE THREE FAST EVENTS

Three races are carded for Sunday afternoon at Cowboy park, according to Dr. Wm. Bloss who is training a string of ponies there, and a gate fee of 25 cents will be charged to cover cost of the event. The races start at 5 o'clock.

The feature race will be a match race between Bloss' steady training on the Cow-boy park track since that time Huff, it is understood, carefully guards the condition of his fleet bay.

Another interesting race for Sunday is a three eighths heat between George Keith, Dec Bloss up, and L. E. Cook's Clara Bow, Fulcher up. Clara Bow, a strong bay mare whose speed was discovered when she won the quarter mile free for all July 4, is believed by many to be faster than Cook's Billy B for any distance up to three-eighths. She is quiet, easily handled and, with the skillful Fulcher up, should be a hard contender against the big gelding who needs distance to "do his stuff." However, George Keith has repeatedly opened up in the home stretch of even a short three-eighths race to gallop past some good horses with his enormous strides.

PREPARE SUBMIT RETAILERS CODE TO PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25. (UP).—The code for retail stores was ready for submission to President Roosevelt today, designed to regulate advertising, competition, wages and hours of 1,500,000 stores employing 5,000,000 persons.

The code applies to all but drug and food stores. Hours were fixed at forty to 48 per week, depending on the number of hours the stores stay open.

The minimum wage was $14 for a 40-hour week. The code provides for no merchandise price increases more than will be made necessary by application of the recovery act.

BUYERS PRICE PROTEST FORECAST

A MISSION WITH NO PROBLEMS

It is rather refreshing in these troublous times to find Ras Desta Demtu, prince of the royal house of Abyssinia, son-in-law of Emperor Haile Selassie—the Conquering Lion of the tribe of Judah, the Elect of God and the Light of the World—confessing to an ambition to establish an amusement park in his far-off homeland.

The prince came to America as the official envoy of his much-titled sovereign, and he did not take lightly his official duties. He called on President Roosevelt and dined in state at the White House. He met all sorts of notables, and saw everything big and grand that America has to offer, including cathedrals, skyscrapers and factories. But he was mostly interested in the Palisades amusement park in New York.

There the prince had a good time, despite his dignity and his gorgeous raiment and his retinue. He enjoyed the fun devices, particularly the shooting gallery, the freaks in the side show, and the roller coaster.

It is true that Abyssinia isn't any great shakes as a nation, but what it lacks in world importance it makes up in dignity and pomp and ceremony. Incidentally it is the only sizeable part of Africa that has been able to keep out of the clutches of the western world, so apparently the arts of statecraft are not unknown.

But the prince didn't make any high-flown speeches about modernizing his somewhat primitive country, for apparently he and his ruler-kinsman have no desire to ape the way of the western world. And he didn't have a lot of problems to get off his chest to add to the bewildering array that have been dumped on these shores by envoys of other nations.

No, the prince saw all the grandeur of New York—and reached the conclusion that a good amusement park to provide diversion for his fellow-countrymen would be a most desirable thing. Many will believe that the mission of this descendant of King Solomon was veritably a success, as few missions are.

RELIEF PROBLEM REMAINS

Better business, more jobs, and higher wages have heartened a depression-weary country. Times are better and the march along the road to recovery is gaining momentum.

While we rejoice at these developments, we must not lose sight of the fact that the very real problem of providing relief for millions of destitute unemployed remains acute.

States and cities, with treasuries drained, are finding it difficult to provide food and shelter for those who have not yet felt the benefits of improved conditions. The federal government continues to give huge sums to the states. Even with the most favorable outcome in the efforts of the Recovery Administration, and with stimulated employment through expenditure of billions for construction, it will be many months before relief will cease to be a consideration of first magnitude.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Repeal of prohibition has been urged as a means of improving respect for law, but apparently something further remains to be done before even regulation or a tariff law will have the complete respect of the liquor trade. A writer in a French trade paper, Le Capital, advises French cognac distillers to continue dealing with American bootleggers and gangsters unless a reduction of duties on intoxicants accompanies repeal. No one has yet suggested that American farmers and automobile manufacturers should subsidize smugglers to express their dislike of French tariffs. But, of course, bread making and metal working are not the liquor trade.

comptroller's report to the board of education. This estimate is based on the low revenue returns of the last twelve months and does not include the possibility of a business upturn, nor the possibility of a bear tax to bring about $1 per scholastic, nor the collections to be made from the $20,000,000 of delinquent taxes now due this fund. In short it is probable that the school fund will have an income of $19 or $20 during the year with which to pay off the deficit and operate.

A part of the deficit could be carried over to the following year, which would make its payment still easier.

"As to the general fund the prospective deficit August 31 will be $9,944,752.21, by the same report. This represents accumulated deficits of several years, plus nearly $3,000,000 in claims which the legislature voted, which has also accumulated over several years. To assume that this entire indebtedness must be paid in one year is absurd. If $10,000,000 of new revenues were levied to liquidate it in one year, it would mean that the same revenues would create a treasury surplus of $10,000,000 the second year. What an inducement this would be for squandering."

One state office in Texas can be held only by a married man. It is that of collector for the state institute for the blind.

Adrian Pool, board of control member, said he understood the provision had been put in the act that would automatically bar him. He was married and his leading opponent for the place was single.

The cleverly designed plan did not work. The unmarried applicant married, qualified and got the position.

While this is the only office requiring a married person by statute, there are a number of places that are given to married couples. The board of control has placed a man and wife at the Waco school for dependent children.

Efforts were made several times to disqualify the late S. M. N. Marrs, state school superintendent. Time and again it was proposed to place qualifications about the office that would automatically bar him. Legislators defeated the plans. One proposal was to require a master's degree for the state superintendent. Marrs, despite his long years in educational work, never had this college degree.

Places on the state industrial accident board are restricted so that one must be an attorney, one by an employer and one by a person who was an employee when appointed. Former Governor Pat M. Neff held his secretary, Miss Espa Stanford, was an employee within the meaning of the law and made her the employee-member. Industrial workers have no member on the board, strictly speaking.

Speaking of legal qualifications, few know that all judges need not be lawyers. A county judge in Texas need never have practiced law.

Under the Dome Of the Capital

AUSTIN, (UP)—The Texas state government is not without its own "brain trust" to match Prof. Raymond Moley and others of the national administration.

The Texas government expert is Prof. George C. Hester of Georgetown, member of the legislature and instructor in government in Southwestern University.

While others connected with the state government were crying out the need of new revenues, Prof. Hester put the figures to the test and discovered Texas is pretty well off.

"The figures that have been quoted by state officials are OK," Professor Hester says, "but the conclusions reached from them are not right."

When it was announced the maximum state tax rate, which was fixed by the automatic tax board, would only be half enough to meet the real needs, Prof. Hester took issue.

Taking up the state school fund he said: "Its income during the next year will be $18.04, according to the French Going For 'Hot Dogs'

PARIS, (UP)—The proprietors of Paris cafes are uniting to make France "hot dog" conscious. They have used the American nomenclature, and thousands of signs, posted in every cafe, urge the hungry man to eat "hot dogs," at ten cents a pair. They never are sold singly. The signs are written in English, French and German. Known as "saucisses de Frankfurt," "hot dogs" are not a novelty in France, but they have never been so popular as they are in America. In 1932 "hot dogs" were placed on the menu of the quick-lunch counters and bars operated on the trains of the State Railways, and since then they seem to have caught popular favor.

LIONS HUMBLE ROTARIANS BUT SUFFER LOSS TO WINK CLUB

Simple Romances Still Excel Says Mary Pickford, on Screen of the Ritz Theatre

Cycles may come and cycles may go, but the age-old love story of the man and woman who fight their way to happiness together, overcoming all obstacles, remains basically the greatest and most satisfactory screen theme.

It all depends upon the way and by whom the story's told.

So declared Mary Pickford, who considered more than thirty vehicles including stage plays, best-selling novels and screen originals, before she chose "Secrets," which comes to the Ritz theatre for preview Saturday night, and Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday, as the story best calculated to prove of universal appeal.

"Secrets" is a simple love story, according to Miss Pickford, a down-to-earth romance of plain people, without so-called sophistication, wise-cracks and "daring situations."

There's an element to foil a rich American father who wants his daughter to wed a titled Englishman instead of a poor clerk; a young couple battling the hardships of western ranch life; battles with cattle rustlers; the rearing of a family in financial prosperity, clouded by the husband's affair with another woman; a loyal, devoted wife who refuses to let threatened scandal wreck their happiness.

The ingredients which Miss Pickford and her supporting cast, including Leslie Howard opposite the star, Director Frank Borzage, Scenarist Frances Marion and a technical staff have made "Secrets."

Both director and scenarist are two-time winners of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences awards, highest honor in filmdom.

With "Secrets" are "The Champ," "The Big House" and "The Champ," Mary, likewise, is an Academy winner, having been given the award for her work in "Coquette."

A stickler for careful preparation, Miss Pickford made sure that her story was "right" before she permitted a camera to click, and she personally selected every principal in the cast.

The role of John Carlton, cattle rancher, is a departure for Leslie Howard, who has risen to screen heights in pictures such as "Outward Bound," "A Free Soul," and "Smilin' Through," and it was because he was so eager to play an American westerner opposite Miss Pickford that he cancelled a long-planned voyage to his native land after completing his part in "The Animal Kingdom."

Among the members of the cast are the dead-end comedian, Ned Sparks, who deserves his usual suave city-type portrayal for the role of a sharp-shooting ranch hand. C. Aubrey Smith, Blanche Frederick, Doris Lloyd, Mona Maris, as the woman who tries to lure Howard away, and Allan Sears, who played leads opposite Miss Pickford in the old silent picture days, and now returns in a villainous characterization.

Painless Death For Homeless Curs

DETROIT. (UP)—The vicious death that hides in the colorless, odorless gas, carbon monoxide—found in automobile exhausts—has been converted into a merciful death for Detroit's homeless dogs.

Lieut. Herbert E. Erke, in charge of the police department's dog pound has devised a new method of painless killing of unclaimed dogs, utilizing the carbon monoxide from the exhaust of a small truck, which itself contains the lethal chamber.

MACHADO REGIME COMPLETELY OUT BY CUBA ACTION

HAVANA, Aug. 25. (UP)—Cuba's revolutionary government agreed today to wipe out the last vestiges of the Machado regime and called an election for February 20, 1934.

Congress was dissolved. The Machado constitution was nullified and the basis of the constitution of 1901 was restored.

All provincial and municipal executive and legislative offices were declared vacant. The nation will return to the pre-Machado status and begin afresh, it was announced.

Second Citrus Fiesta to Open

MISSION. (UP)—The second annual Texas Citrus Fiesta will open here December 8 and continue three days, the executive committee of the Fiesta organization has announced.

Two special features were announced for the celebration, the purpose of which is the "glorification" of citrus, the Lower Rio Grande valley's chief agricultural crop.

The first annual Golden Grapefruit golf tournament will be held at the new Shary Municipal course, nearing completion here. A nature gold grapefruit will be awarded the winner, and other trophies will be given flight winners.

Dedication and formal opening of the new Mission Municipal airport will be an added feature. The port is being placed in first-class condition and has been enlarged.

Girl Has Hard Time Being Bad

That it is difficult for a modern girl to be bad is an unique highlight in RKO Radio Pictures' "Professional Sweetheart," at the Yucca theatre, which thrusts satire at commercial broadcasting with Ginger Rogers, Norman Foster, Gregory Ratoff, Allen Jenkins, Zasu Pitts, and Frank McHugh cast.

The story concerns a radio idol exploited as a puritanical girl whose contract forbids her to smoke, drink, pet, dance, eat rich foods or have anything to do with men. When her contract expires, she refuses to resign unless a romance is provided for her.

Her press agents and sponsor agree but trick her by causing her to marry a backwards radio fan who is a naive in fact as she is by exploitation.

Her ludicrous attempts to shock him into some semblance of naughtiness, and his counter campaign comprised of cave man's wall-paints, build up a hilarious comedy.

William Seiter directed "Professional Sweetheart" from the screen play by Maurine Watkins.

Helen Hayes and Bob Come to Yucca

Helen Hayes and Robert Montgomery are co-starring in "Another Language," filmed by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, from the Rose Franken stage success which ran for more than a year on Broadway. The picture will be shown starting with a preview Saturday night, and continuing Sunday and Monday at the Yucca theatre.

Miss Hayes, as Stella, the young bride who is more interested in sculpture than in family dinners, has a role strikingly different from her recent portrayals in "The White Sister" and "A Farewell to Arms." Montgomery, who comes to this picture direct from his success in "When Ladies Meet," plays the young husband who is unable to shake off the influence of his selfishly adoring mother.

The difficult mother role is played by Louise Clouser Hale. This characterization provides motivation for the plot and shows the domination of a well-intending mother-in-law who actually is the young wife's rival in her hold upon her son.

Jim Beall, who scored in the juvenile role of Jerry in the original stage production, repeats this brilliant performance in the picture. He is cast as the immature nephew who rebels against family tyranny and complicates matters by falling madly in love with his young Aunt Stella.

DOUBLE HEADER IS MIXED WITH BAD AND GOOD PLAY

Lions emerged as season victors over the Rotarians last night, winning the third game of the summer 12 to 4. Only five innings were played, giving the Lions more time for the game with the Wink club.

Play pitched by the Lion and Pyron for the Rotarians' inability to recruit a full team made it necessary to borrow two players, Andy Northington and Arch Estes. Northington slugged out a home run with two outs on base, accounting for three of the team's four runs. The Lions kept their hits and runs coming with regularity throughout the game.

The Lions did not fare so well against the Wink service club, however, their rivals outlasting the locals in the latter part of the game to slug out a 17-3 decision.

Both games were well garnished with amusing situations, contributing to which were good-natured badinage, off-brand play and numerous errors.

Sportsmanship

his application before the ballots were printed, but admits that the Midland county officials would hardly be justified in throwing out the votes of some 50 persons who have voted by absentee ballot in order to place his opponent's name on the ballot.

Stubbsman today issued a final appeal to his friends and supporters to lend their assistance in every way possible in pushing over his candidacy Saturday. He recently visited in each of the 13 counties composing this district and is greatly encouraged by the support being accorded him during the canvassing.

He pointed out that there are few issues that a candidate can with honesty advance in the special election for the reason that there will be no more regular sessions of the legislature during the present term of office and that during special sessions only those matters can be voted on which are expressly submitted to the legislature by the governor.

He hopes that the governor will present the pink boll worm bill before the legislature in its next special session, which is almost surely to be the first part of September, for he believes that the state of Texas owes the cotton farmers of West Texas a debt which could not be paid at a better time than the present period of drought and depression. He realizes that the next special session of the legislature will deal largely with the Texas line with the Roosevelt recovery program, and he feels that the present economic crisis demands cooperation of all our governmental agencies.

EB HOMERS BUT ODESSA BEATEN BY TEXON CLUB

A Midland boy, Eb Estes, was outstanding in Odessa's 6-3 loss Thursday to the Texon baseball club.

Eb, who did not start the game because he had been in a hitting slump, was sent into the game in the seventh inning for Jackson. The game rocked along into the ninth inning without Odessa's having scored. Eb came to bat on his only appearance, two men on the bases, and hit a long home run to drive in all of Odessa's three runs.

A Texon's two hurler, Flop Harris and Haven, had a comparatively easy time of it because of Lefty Briggs of Odessa being as wild as a March hare. Five of the six scores made by Texon were due to walks issued by Briggs, former Midland pitcher in the West Texas league. He gave up only five hits, one less than the Texon hurlers. Texon hit three triples, a double and a single, Odessa collecting a home run and five every time he got in distress as a result of poor control.

Watson of Odessa made the only error of the day, and this did not figure in the run making.

Steve Connally, former manager of the Midland Colts in the West Texas league, managed the Texon club, playing first base and hitting a triple to show he still has the gin-gar.

CRANE GOES TO HEAD OF PERMIAN BASIN LOOP

McCAMEY.—By defeating the Odessa club, 5 to 3, Crane Sunday afternoon, the Crane Oilers advanced to the top position of the Permian Basin league percentage column, and broke the Odessa club's perfect record, which until last Sunday, was unmarred by league defeats.

With only two more Sundays in which to play, the championship of the second half apparently lies between Crane and Odessa, although the third-place Iran team has a chance at the title. The winner will play the Wink team, winner of the first half, for the league championship.

McCamey defeated Big Lake, 9 to 0, here Sunday in the other league game. The Iran-Wink tilt was postponed and the Midland club was idle.

Next Sunday will find the Wink club playing in McCamey, Odessa in Iran and Midland at Crane.

The league standing:

Team	P. W. L. Avg.
Crane	5 5 1 .833
Iran	5 3 2 .600
McCamey	6 3 3 .500
Wink	4 2 2 .500
Midland	5 1 4 .260
Big Lake	5 0 5 .000

PERMIAN BASIN LOOP PROTESTS ALLOWABLE

McCAMEY.—Directors and team managers of the Permian Basin baseball league, meeting in Odessa this week, voted to throw out the McCamey team's protest against Iran and also Iran's protest against Odessa, and afterward admitted other business matters pertaining to the league.

Executives of the Permian Basin league are: G. O. Ragland, Wink, president; Dr. David M. Ellis, Midland, vice president; and Bill Collins, Crane, secretary.

The teams composing the league and their managers are: Big Lake, L. E. Boyd; Crane, W. W. (Bill) Orchard Sr.; Iran, Dr. J. W. Ball; McCamey, McCamey; Midland, Dr. David M. Ellis; Odessa, George W. Elliott Jr.; and Wink, Roy Richter.

EAST TEAM WINS

The flashy team from the East, guided the hopes of the West in a 13-7 grid encounter Thursday night at the Century of Progress exposition in Chicago.

The easterners took to the air with advantage to score their points and the westerners tallied on a blocked punt.

Flight King Is Visitor to Babe

NEW YORK. (UP)—Small boys of Pittsburgh recently were treated to the rare sight of their two heroes in action together, Al Williams, the world champion stunt flyer, and Babe Ruth, the Sultan of Swat. The occasion was when the Yankees stopped off at Pittsburgh for an exhibition game.

Capt. Al Williams, now aviation manager for an oil company, called at the ball park to visit his old team mate, Art Fletcher. Fletcher had been the star of the Giants when Williams was a recruit pitcher. It was their first meeting in many years. Naturally, baseball, not aviation, was the topic of conversation. All baseball had remained the passing of an excellent pitcher when Williams went into Naval Aviation. Therefore, Fletcher was curious suggested Williams "warm-up" for old times sake.

When the visiting Yankees team saw Williams, a native New Yorker, in a Pittsburgh uniform, a howl of wild cheer went up. Williams pitched to them for batting practice. When Babe Ruth came to bat, Williams shouted to his famous opponent, "Hi, one, will you? I've got about six."

The Babe swung at two, "took" two, and to the delight of his adoring boys, knocked the next one out of the lot.

Turtle's Age Is About 166 Years

STOUGHTON, Mass. (UP)—"The Methuselah of Turtles," a box turtle apparently at least 166 years old was seen by Mrs. William E. Holmes at Fry Pond here recently.

Time-worn carvings on the turtle's shell showed four dates, 1767, 1821, 1828 and 1840. Since the latter year the old fellow apparently had been in hiding.

Mrs. Holmes said she was convinced the markings were genuine.

CATHOLIC PRIEST STOUTLY DEFENDS PROTESTANT PRESIDENT ON STAND

DETROIT. (UP)—His voice ringing through a courtroom jammed to the doors, the Rev. Fr. Charles E. Coughlin Wednesday denounced the "philosophy" of Herbert Hoover during his administration, condemning local banking methods and charged two closed national banks here "were wrecked by the philosophy that money in the hands of the masses was a menace."

His dramatic delivery came during his first day on the witness stand before the one-man grand jury investigating the closing of the two banks, the First National Bank of Detroit, and the Michigan National Bank of Commerce.

Spared No Words

The nationally known priest spared no words in his charges, his testimony ranged from a lengthy and colorful explanation of his theory of the business depression to breath-taking attacks on local bankers.

Hoover, he declared, "was a concrete example of the exploitation of the few by the insiders," and he submitted for the record an article from a London mining magazine of 1912 which he declared the former president wrote. It was titled "The Economics of a Boom." Coughlin said it dealt with exploitation and high finance in mining. He said the philosophy expressed in the article was characteristic of Hoover, former president's administration.

"Hoover tried to cure this damnable depression by pouring gold in at the top while people starved at the bottom," cried Coughlin, rising from his chair and pounding the witness table with both fists.

Pigs vs. People

"He fed grain to pigs in Arkansas, but he wouldn't give a loaf of bread to the people of Michigan. I'm not criticizing him but I condemn his philosophy and I cite him as a definite and concrete example of the philosophy that money in the hands of the masses was a menace. I'll show that the Detroit bankers were brought up in the same school."

The former president, requested to come here to testify before the jury, has replied that information concerning Michigan's banking affairs in his possession is insufficient to justify a trip to Detroit.

"Armed with what he said were 'photostatic copies' to back up everything, I say about the Detroit bankers," Fr. Coughlin throughout his day of testimony, tossed sporadic charges at Detroit bankers, including the name of Wilson, Mill, former chairman of the board of the First National Bank of Detroit.

Defends Roosevelt

"These banks had been wrecked before President Roosevelt took office," he shouted, in defending the present administration's policy. "The white-carnation bankers and stock market gamblers were not to blame. They had been brought up in the school of John Stuart Mill and, more lately, Mr. Herbert Hoover."

Then, he charged, the bankers who "occasioned the depression because they were devotees of the school of exploitation" turned on President Roosevelt and "in this very courtroom got away with murder by blaming Mr. Roosevelt for causing the widespread banks."

"I am a Catholic and a Protestant president," cried Coughlin, "who has more courage than 90 per cent of the Catholic priests in the country. A president who thinks right, who lives for the common man, who knows patience and suffering, who knows that men come before bonds and that human rights are more sacred than financial rights."

"Oh, I know millions were pooled to defeat Roosevelt! I know the Catholic Smith (Al Smith) said 'stop Roosevelt!' And I know the Protestant Hoover, the radical Roosevelt, but nevertheless he is a president who wants to give Christian doctrines a chance to make good, who is willing to make the Christian experiment!"

Moran Smith Test Is to Run Casing

Moran Drilling co.'s No. 1 R. W. Smith in northern Ector county is preparing to run casing to a depth of slightly below 4,100 feet to stop caving. The hole is open below 1,710 feet, where 10-inch casing was cemented.

NEW CRIME WAR Method Explained

NEW YORK. (UP)—The relentless war on crime has produced two new weapons which will make the lawbreaker's lot even more hazardous.

Both are in experimental stages, but experts in the crime laboratories of the police department consider their perfection only a matter of time.

The first is a device for broadcasting the portraits of criminals to radio cars. Recently, a radio car sped through Central Park while officials gazed at a metal plate on the dashboard and soon the slightly blurred but unmistakable features of a man were imprinted on the plate.

"It was fairly successful," said Thomas W. Rochester, chief engineer of the radio department, "and although its installation is not feasible at present, it is coming."

The other invention will permit the broadcast of televised fingerprints. The principle of operation is simpler than with the photographs involving the use of wired lines available to any point of transmission.

"I should say this might be installed in the near future," Rochester said.

Prefers Burro to Modern Gas Wagon

SAN FRANCISCO. (UP)—Give Frank Shum, Jamestown, a burro in preference to a gasoline donkey any time. With a poke of dust under his belt and a gleam in his eye, Shum came down from the hills for a little spree.

Shum struck town in an auto and soon commenced hitting other things, including another car. He emptied his gold dust before a judge. "These was't enough there now," Frank pines for his mountain mule.

BURLINGAME. (UP)—California's new bicycling craze and the age-old nemesis of a black cat combined to put Miss Beryl Winblad, 26, in a hospital.

Pedaling to work, Miss Winblad saw an ebony cat streak in front of her. They crashed. The girl hit the pavement.

cially to newspaper reporters." Precinct election officers are required to telephone unofficial returns to the county clerk. He is directed to tabulate unofficial returns up to midnight on election day, and to announce the status of the count at intervals. When all unofficial returns have been tabulated, the totals must be telegraphed or telephoned to the secretary of state.

The secretary of state is directed to announce the status of the state wide count once each day.

Heretofore there has been no provision for tabulating unofficial returns.

Precinct election officers are required to make official returns under seal within 24 hours.

On the 15th day after the election, the secretary of state in the presence of the governor and attorney general shall open and count the official returns of the election.

WEATHERMAN CAGY

LEWISTON, Idaho. (UP)—The weatherman here is a cagy fellow. The other day the temperature rose to a blistering 112. Shortly afterward it hailed at Camas Prairie, near here, leveling half the wheat in that area.

It's great to feel fit!

Everybody has days when every waking hour is packed with rest of living. Why not make every day like this?

A frequent drawback to fitness is constipation. It may dull your energy, steal your appetite, lower your vitality. Yet it is so easy to overcome.

Try eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Science shows this delicious cereal supplies "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and vitamin B to promote appetite, and tone the intestinal tract.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that of lettuce. How much safer than taking patent medicines—so often harmful.

Two tablespoons daily will correct most types of constipation. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.
