Fifty Persons Said Dead as Storms Hit Victoria

BROWNSVILLE, July 8. (UP).—Telephones in northeast Mexico had been reestablished today. It was estimated that the hurricane damage was $200,000. El Porvenir, Monterrey newspaper, quoted its correspondent at Victoria, Tamaulipas state capital, as saying there were fifty dead around Victoria.

Lies on Snake and Then Steps on It— Yet Is Not Bitten

Mrs. A. A. Barnett had a thrilling experience with a rattlesnake at her home near Moss Spring recently. The rattlesnake, two feet long and with three rattles and a button, proved to be one of the best natured rattlesnakes that has ever been heard of, as it had every opportunity to bite Mrs. Barnett but refused to do so, as she explained. Mrs. Barnett went to her room and prepared for bed without lighting a lamp. When she felt something move underneath her back on the bed, she thought that it was a mouse and reached behind her to throw it off the bed. Instead of a mouse her hand touched a snake. She threw it off the bed to the floor. As she did not want to leave the snake crawling around the room, she started to go to an adjoining room to secure a match to light the lamp, and as she was feeling her way to the door, her bare feet stepped on the snake. Fortunately she stepped on it near the head and it could not strike. She called for help and the snake was killed. It was thought to have been brought into the house in some clothes that had been left outside to dry and had blown off the line.

New Orleans Man Sings Here Today

Special solo numbers will be sung at both services of the First Baptist church today, by Stanley S. Carothers, brother of Mrs. Winston F. Bonum, leader of the choir of the First Baptist church of New Orleans and a tenor of note. He is well known among musical leaders of his denomination and in constant demand for special services. The New Orleans man landed at Big Spring in an airplane Saturday afternoon after a takeoff at El Paso, where he went on business associated with his bond business. He was met at the airport by the Rev. Winston F. Bonum, pastor of the First Baptist church of Midland.

Inman Honored For 4th Year

Thomas Inman, Midland musician has for the fourth consecutive year been honored by Co. H. Texas National guard band unit of Amarillo, by being made a member of the band for the annual Palacios encampment at Camp Hulen. Inman will play a special musician's rating with its consequent better rate of pay plus all expenses. The outstanding ability of the Midland man has caused Amarillo year after year to send for him to play in the band.

Measles Reported In Mexican Town

Several cases of measles have been reported in the Mexican quarters, according to Miss M. Elizabeth Wilson, county health nurse. Miss Wilson has done much to eliminate such diseases, holding health classes in the various communities surrounding Midland. These will continue through the summer. Eight young girls in the McClellin area recently received certificates for the course given under the direction of Miss Wilson. The course at Pleasant Valley will be completed Monday. Ten are enrolled. The classes at Valley View and Stokes will continue. Enrollments are 23 and seven, respectively.

Champion Steer Owner Visiting

D. F. Marberry of McCauley, the youth who exhibited the grand champion steer at the Chicago National Livestock exposition this year in Midland Saturday, is visiting the John M. Gist show herd barns. The steer Marberry won the high honors and was at one time owned and partially prepared for the showing by Gist.

Holiday Spirit Infused Into 3-Day Sales Events

Pardon Us, Please, But You Eat Them!

Carrot preserves! Wouldn't that gag you? Most people don't like carrots as vegetables, much less as preserves or dessert. Carrots jumped in popularity when it was declared they would make the girls pretty but, still, few people really liked carrots until they learned fancy ways of creaming and frying them. Now comes along Miss Myrtle Miller, Midland county home demonstration agent, and makes carrot preserves, gives you a sample, and asks you like 'em. Take it back; you'll like 'em without having to be made. Believe it or not, carrot preserves are delicious. Miss Miller will teach anyone who wishes to make this lowly, much maligned vegetable just as good as many fruits.

ROAD TOPPING MAY NOT START FOR MONTH YET

Highway work may not start in Midland for a month, and no new information will be available for several weeks, a statement issued Saturday said. Highway topping is scheduled to start Monday in Martin county and may not start in Midland for another month. The work west of town may not start for several weeks. More than 250 people have registered in the county, and those registering now will get jobs, the statement said.

Highline Kills Man Instantly

WINK.—R. Huc Collins, 34, of Royalty, was instantly killed last week when a large tank that he was driving came in contact with a West Texas Utilities company highline. The highline was of regulation height, but the tank was unusually tall and did not clear the line. Collins, it is reported, was thrown from the seat of the truck and would probably have escaped death had his feet not touched the ground as he fell on a fender, which caused the entire voltage to course through his body. A Jersey heifer that was nearby was also instantly killed when she came up and touched a fender of the truck with her nose.

Prosperity Returns To the Race Course

Prosperity may be on its return to race courses of West Texas, if recent meetings at Brady, Ozona, and to a lesser degree, Midland may be taken considered indications. Fifty thousand people jammed the turnstiles at Brady, 8,000 saw the first three days of racing at Ozona, and Midland, while placing only an approximate crowd of 800 at Cowboy park, had the largest crowd here July 4th since Labor day races of 1931. At roping and other programs staged at Stanton, a crowd estimated at 20,000 was drawn through the gates on a single day. This increase in fans at race courses is causing those in charge of the Georgetown race meeting and one being planned for Amarillo to expect greater crowds than since the boom days, according to Dr. Wm. Bloss of Midland, who returned last week from racing horses at the Ozona meeting.

Farmer Here Sells Fresh Corn on Cob

E. M. Bulsterbaum evidently does not need rain on his farm six miles east of Midland. He sold 25 dozen cobs of corn last week, and the grains appeared to have been well filled out. He planted after a rain but there was no rainfall on his land thereafter, he said.

Easterners Like Western Honesty

PECOS.—There is at least one honest man in Pecos, as a middle-aged couple from the East was $2500 in cash. Last week when W. W. Rossman was cleaning his Tri-Angle camp cabins, he found a strong box. The box opened and in it was $2500 in cash. Rossman immediately started efforts to locate the couple who had occupied the room the night before. In an hour they appeared—pale and out of breath. Rossman presented them with the box—not a cent gone.

Bloss Establishes Mark of Some Sort During Race Meet

When a jockey rides another out of position on a turn it may be news, but when he purposely pulls up his nag to prevent hurting another rider, it is news. But Dr. Wm. Bloss could afford to make a concession. When Sun Medley's rider and his own mount, George Keith, were about to run together in a light race on a short turn of the Ozona track, Bloss pulled up his mount, lost three lengths, and got into a pocket. Finally extricating himself, he was not able to completely close the distance. Sun Medley winning two lengths. Bloss noted in the year-old Am General to show he had a faster horse, however, he rode George Keith against the Kansas City horse the next day, and won easily by about five lengths. Bloss pitched a "Doc" rode in 11 of the 15 races at Ozona, winning first place eight times, second place twice, and third once. He was never out of the money in any race. When the stands saw a horse ridden by Bloss bets were placed on that animal's nose. On the last day of the meet, Bloss rode Escot, a Kansas City horse, to an easy win in the five-eighths, noted in the year-old Am General ahead of the field, and ran second on That's It. "Losing the race on That's It was my fault as I dropped my bat in the stretch," Bloss said. "He was bumped by another mount and the force caused him to drop it. Infanta, a fast mare who won two races at New Orleans, won by a nose."

RAIN AIDS CROPS IN STANTON AREA

STANTON.—Farmers are optimistic in prospect for a good cotton crop, as a result of general rains which have fallen in this area recently. A section west of Stanton received around two and one-half inches when a portion of Martin county received a good rain Thursday. Farmers who had cotton planted, report the moisture sufficient to bring the plants up to a good stand. Others plan to plant at once. The last general rainfall in Martin county was August 24, 1932.

Inman Directs Church Orchestra

Selection of a regular director for the Baptist church orchestra was announced this week when Thomas Inman, one of the best known wind instrument players in West Texas, agreed to take the work. Inman has been in contact with a director, and is considered unusually generous and public-spirited in donating his time to direct the orchestra and also the Midland band. The Baptist orchestra Sunday night will have two guest players, Mrs. Martin of Odessa, a graduate of the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music, and Miss Ruth Aiken, Mrs. Martin will play a violin offering. Mrs. Martin was one of the artists when Odessa musicians gave a concert here recently.

Wallace Wimberly divides his interest between the ivories and assorted bones. Which means he teaches piano during the day and mounts odd bones during the evening. A boy scout scoutmaster in the past and still interested in boy's work, Wimberly has searched the scout handbook manual for suggestions in making odd totem poles and other things from bones and other odds and ends. He has made several lamps and candle stands from cow, sheep and coyote bones, stringing them on a hollow pipe through which electric light wires may be strung, plaster in disintegrated places with filling Paris and painting the assembled stands with varied oil paints. His favorite stand is skillfully assembled and is surmounted by a grinning death head in which is fixed a socket and electric lamp. "When Christmas rolls around I will give bones for presents," he says. Some of his lamps have been used to decorate stages for recitals. He will sell some of the lamps, several orders having been made.

SCHOOL CENSUS SHOWS GAIN HERE

Gain in number of scholastics for the 1933-34 term of school is 20, according to a report made by Superintendent W. W. Jackson of the Midland public schools system. The number on the scholastic roll for the approaching term is 1,432 as compared with 1,412 for the last term. The report shows that the annual cost under former methods was $250. The present budget for taking the census is only $100. The new method is superior to the old one, and is getting approximately 200 more names than former methods, at that rate getting $3,500 more from state and county funds.

TO CONSIDER A LABOR DAY RACE MEET FOR CITY

Declaring that if Midland has a Labor day rodeo and race meet it will be like those of former years and the "daddy of 'em all," a committee late Saturday called on Midland cattlemen and sportsmen to meet Monday evening at 8 o'clock at the Cattle exchange office to consider the advisability of such a meet. The list asked to come to the meeting, and the invitation was made open to everyone interested, were Clarence Scharbauer, Roy Parks, Roy Frazier, W. W. Bonham, Fred Dickenson, Elliott F. Cowden, Frank Cowden, Andrew Fasken, J. E. Hill, John Dublin, Donald Hult, H. G. Bedford, Bill Bryant, W. M. Pyle, Leon Goodman, John M. Gist, Edwards Bros., E. S. Aycock, F. F. Elkin, Tom Nance, M. Car Not Damaged As Jowell Garage Blown off by Wind

The wind was full of pranks a few nights ago when it swooped down on Holt Jowell's place at the Midway camp of the Atlantic pipe line, Ector county. Scattering a squall of rain, it blew Jowell's garage and tossed it several yards away, leaving the car, exposed to a thorough washing of the rain. The car was not scratched.

Idalou Man Is Board Member

ODESSA.—W. L. Bradley of Idalou, who recently purchased a portion of Judge T. G. Hendrick's block of stock in the First National bank of Odessa, was elected president and a member of the board of directors of the bank here in a meeting of stockholders July 29. At the meeting Thursday afternoon which had been called to discuss the proposed liquidation of the bank, a large number of new stockholders were announced. The stockholders voted not to liquidate the bank at this time. The resignation of Judge Hendrick, as president and a director of the bank was read and accepted, and Bradley was elected as a member of the board and as president in his stead. Wickliffe Skinner will remain as vice president and W. B. Rees as cashier.

Odessa Has New Cotton Agent

ODESSA.—Ted Johnson, agent of the federal department of agriculture and family established residence at Odessa last week. Johnson has charge of cotton acreage reduction in the counties of Ector, Andrews and Ward, and although no great amount of cotton is grown in these counties, will be busy covering the mileage and making inspections. Already the work of organizing these counties is under way. Both local and county committees are required to be appointed to assist in the work. Johnson is authority for these appointments. Some difficulty has arisen over the fact that drought stricken counties in the West Texas area have been excluded from participating in the reduction program thus denying compensation to farmers who would normally be entitled to it. A committee composed of T. W. Watson, Big Spring, Senator Arthur P. Dugan, Littlefield, and A. B. Davis of Lubbock, has been in Washington this week in an effort to secure participation of these counties or, failing that, to have them included in the drought relief program.

MENTONE.—One who is a fine class rider of horses is not always so hot in the saddle of motor vehicles. Alfred Leeman of Carlsbad has the reputation of being a first class horse rider but his rank as a motorcyclist is very poor. Leeman claims that the wild bronc is easier to tame than a motorcycle. He suffered a badly bruised arm and shoulder and was seriously injured that he could not attend a rodeo a few hours later.

West Texas Should Just See Australia For Rabbits, Says

People in West Texas may think rabbits are a problem but in Australia, save for a constant battle on the part of authorities, they would take the country. This is what Mrs. G. H. Lukes of Sydney, Australia, who was here last week, had to say. She stopped in Midland to have her car serviced. She said that all business factories, and wages are government controlled in the dominion. The government owns all railroads, street car lines and telephone companies. The basic wage scale for single men is $20 a week, with increases for married men and for children. Natives of Australia were described by Mrs. Lukes as among the lowest type of people. They live like animals, crawl into holes and under logs and eat wild dogs, rabbits, and the like.

WESTERN UNION HIKES WAGES

Effective July 1, Western Union employees were granted a restoration of the 10 per cent reduction in salary that went into effect Aug. 1, 1932, according to R. J. Walker, manager of the Midland office. The company also announces it will pay employees a part of the money which has been deducted from pay during the time the 10 per cent reduction was in effect. This will be paid as quickly as the company completes its reports for the first half of the year, and will be paid in the form of a bonus. This will put thousands of dollars into circulation throughout the system of nearly 25,000 offices. The restoration will mean $35 to $40 a month more to employees of Western Union here.

COOK MARE IS WINNER AGAIN

L. E. Cook's bay mare, Clara Bow, won her second race in as many starts Saturday afternoon, invading Big Spring in a matched heat of 355 yards against Howard county's crack quarter pony, W. R. Cole's Barney, a son of the famous Barney Lees. Curtis Cook, 13-year-old jockey who rode three winners in the July four days race, rode Clara Bow. Doris Fulcher, also in the saddle here Tuesday, rode Barney. Getting off two lengths behind, the Midland mare easily overtook Barney and "daylighted" him at the finish.

Sales Events News Mailed by Chamber

News of the three-day sales events are being mailed to subscribers of Midland next Thursday, Friday and Saturday was sent throughout this area of West Texas and Eastern New Mexico by the Midland chamber of commerce. Permian basin folks were particularly urged to come to Midland Saturday for the free street dance, the ascension of many gift tag bearing balloons, the band concert and the horse shoe pitching classic. Hundreds of out-of-town visitors are expected. These news articles supplement the large special program at Midland-Telegram covering the surrounding area.

Baptist Pastor Kills Coyote

WINK.—While the other fellows are counting along with their fish stories, the Rev. W. H. Hicks, pastor of the First Baptist church of Wink, comes to the front with a wolf story which he says is a true story. July 4th, while the pastor was lounging about home he noticed out in his yard, a full grown fat, sleek, furred coyote, leisurely taking in the surroundings near the water tank. The pastor, who is not only a good preacher but a good rifle shot, as well, proceeded to dispatch a shot from his target to the body of the coyote, and toppled his wolfship in a graceful manner.

BUMPER CROP MAY DESTROY PRICE PLANS

11.6 Per Cent More Land Planted Than in '33

WASHINGTON, July 8. (UP).—The department of agriculture today reported heavy increases in cotton acreage throughout the south, estimating that on July 1 there were 40,758,000 acres. The increase brought the land under cultivation to 11.6 per cent more than last July 1 and 4.3 more than the 1931 figure. The department emphasized the task remaining for the farm relief administration to prevent another bumper crop and the resultant carryover. Acreage in cultivation now was estimated to be 11.3 per cent less than the record average of 45,973,000 in 1925 and only 1.6 per cent less than the five year average from 1923 to 1932. Texas acreage was estimated to be 15,767,000, compared with 13,526,000 acres last year.

ANDREWS GETS A FURLOUGH SANS PAY

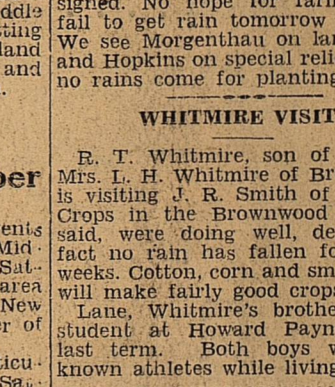

John S. Andrews will begin a 20-day furlough without pay Tuesday. He is being furloughed as part of the government's economy program. He has designated the secretary of the Midland chamber of commerce as field inspector in his stead. A rain would mean Andrews will move his family here at once. Why he will resign "his work here" August 1. During his furlough he will be with his family at Comanche.

WHITMIRE VISITS

E. T. Whitmire, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Whitmire of Brownwood, is visiting J. R. Smith of Midland Crops in the Brownwood area, he said, were doing well, despite the fact no rain has fallen for several weeks. Cotton, corn and small grains will make fairly good crops. Lane, Whitmire's brother, was a student at Howard Payne college last term. Both boys were well known athletes while in school.

HIGHER WAGES BRING HIGHER PROFITS

The encouraging part about the hearings on the industrial recovery act now under way at Washington is that practically everybody seems to recognize the importance of giving the laboring man a better break.

Those minimum wage scales may sound extremely low, and there is no sense in pretending that they are as high as we would like to see them; but the trend they represent is a healthy one, and the fact that their provisions are being written into law stands for protection of a kind that American workmen have not had before.

What we are doing, in a slow and round-about manner, is to adopt the viewpoint first popularized by Henry Ford—that industry can prosper only in a direct ratio to the amount of money it pays out in wages.

That proposition has always been exceedingly simple. The more money the workingman earns the more he can spend on the things the factories produce—that's self-evident. Yet its obvious truth has failed, so far, to prevent wage reductions in this country, because there is a little catch in it.

If it is to work, it has to be applied all along the line. No individual employer can afford to follow it unless all of his competitors do; and in an unregulated society there is not the slightest chance that all of them will do so.

The measures that are being taken now do not, as some suppose, restrict the freedom of the industrialist in any very genuine sense. They are intended to provide for him a fairly rigid basic code of the wages he must pay and the hours he must operate; but beyond that they actually set him free in a way that he has never been set free before.

He is made free, that is, to reap the advantage of this simple and important little equation of Mr. Ford's—that higher wages, in the long run, equal higher profits. He is freed from the competition of the sweatshop, the fly-by-night operator, the industrial pirate.

The economic enfranchisement of the worker is going to mean a brighter day for the workman's boss.

RUSSIAN TRADE AWAITS

Senator George W. Norris of Nebraska issued a little statement on trade with Russia the other days which is worth close attention.

"I have learned on reliable authority," says the senator, "that the Russian government desires to buy in the American market $10,000,000 of meat products, 1,000,000 bales of cotton and $400,000,000 worth of machinery. She can make payment partly in kind and partly in money, but must have several years in which to complete the transaction.

"She proposes to ship us products of which we import a large proportion of what we use. She proposes to ship these products and apply the proceeds upon her debt."

To a country which for years has been looking frantically for customers, this sounds like important news. If Senator Norris's information is correct, somebody down at Washington ought to see to it that this deal is consummated.

$1 WHEAT AND THE FARMER

Before we all get too jubilant over the advent of dollar wheat, it is worth remembering that a lot of wheat belt farmers won't be helped a great deal by this price level because of the simple fact that they have very little wheat to sell.

Last year's crop has been sold. A heavy drought has badly damaged a great deal of this year's crop. The farmer who still has some of last year's wheat in his bins, and the farmer who has been lucky enough to get a good yield this year in spite of the hot, dry weather—these chaps are due to cash in abundantly.

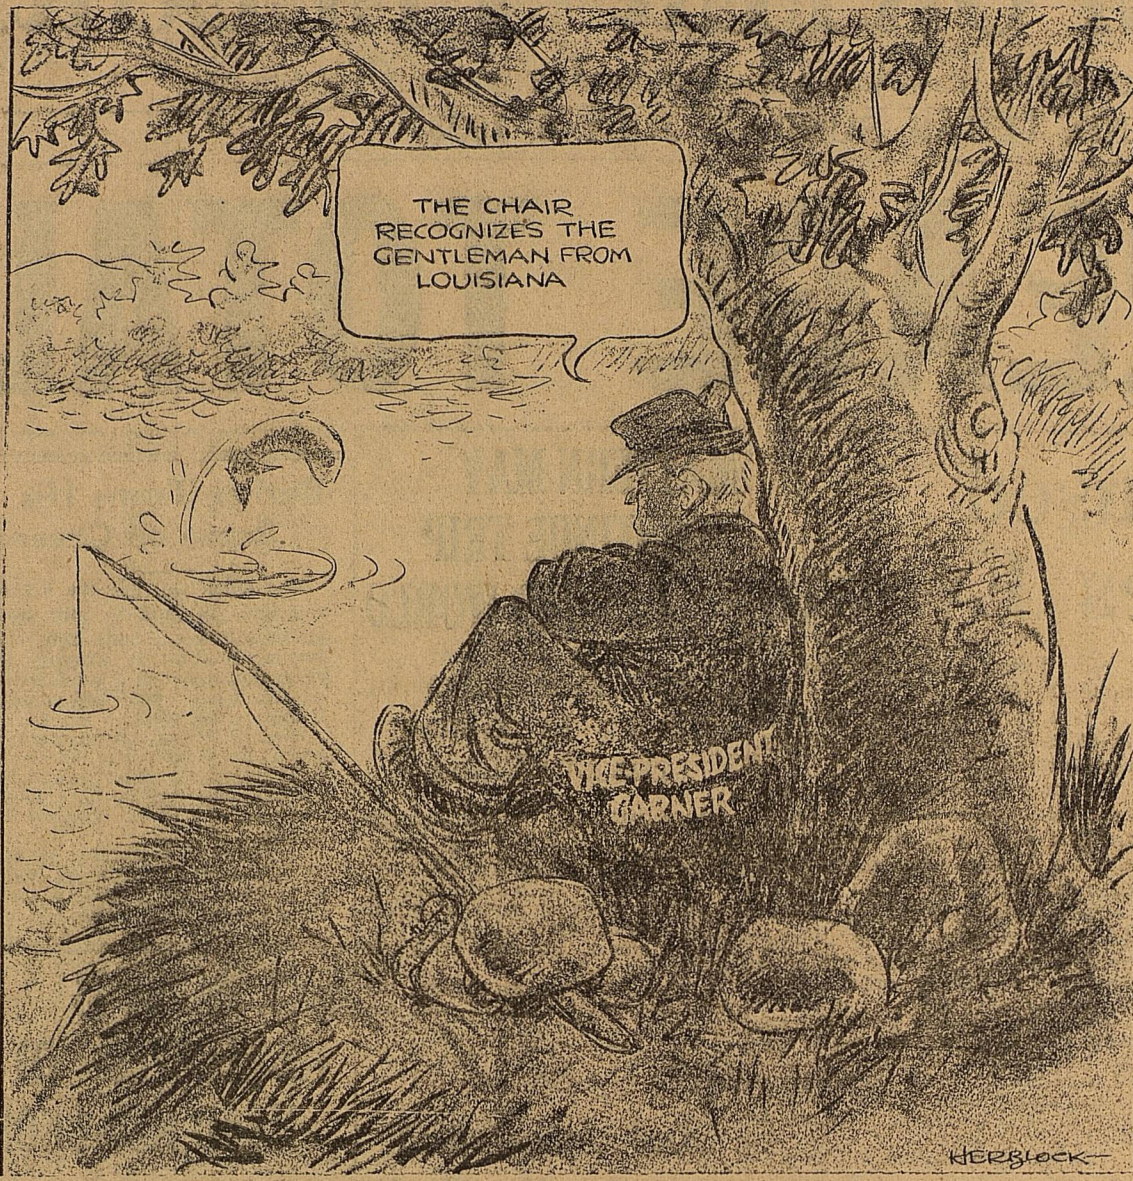

But a lot of farmers, unfortunately, are going to find that dollar wheat—for the time being, at least—leaves them just about where they were before.

Yarns of Col. True

Colonel True invites readers of his stories to write to him and tell about some of their own remarkable experiences. No holds barred. Each person writing will receive a free membership card of the Amalgamated Association of Yarn Spinners. Address Colonel True, in care of this newspaper.

A lady with an admirable reputation for veracity, writes as follows:

Dear Colonel True: I used to be a race horse owner, only a few years ago, and owned one of the fastest horses living. I remember one day he started so suddenly I fell off and he circled the half mile track three times before I hit the ground.

MRS. CLARENCE SCHARBAUER. Which reminds me of old Super-Mercury, a horse I used to own and with which I won many a race. He was an extraordinary horse in many ways but his speed was, of course, his main point. He ran so fast he always left his shadow from three to five lengths behind.

In fact, he was so fast I had to put two extra jockeys on him, to hold him on the ground.

But, even at that, when I tried a little experiment and installed a full pressure feed oiling system to his leg joints his speed increased 28 per cent.

This increased speed made it necessary for me to install a speedometer on him so the jockey would know how much to pull him down to keep him from skidding on the turns.

By the time I got Super-Mercury trained up for the big races, he didn't have a sign of a tail. A great many people inquired about this condition. It was, however, very simple. On a start one day he broke so fast he left his tail right where it was. When he came back around it hit him in the face and he swallowed it.

My brother Ossie used to have a horse that had to be started tomorrow in today's race to keep him from finishing yesterday.

Ossie was the man who introduced ostrich racing in Africa. These ostriches can run faster than horses, and it put some excitement into the African racing business. Ossie trained one particular bird and raced him until he was in line for a final race for the championship trotter ostrich of the world.

On the day of the race, however, it looked bad. Ossie's rival had sneaked into the stable and fed Ossie's bird two bushels of cannon balls. It slowed the ostrich up so much he had hardly a chance to win the race.

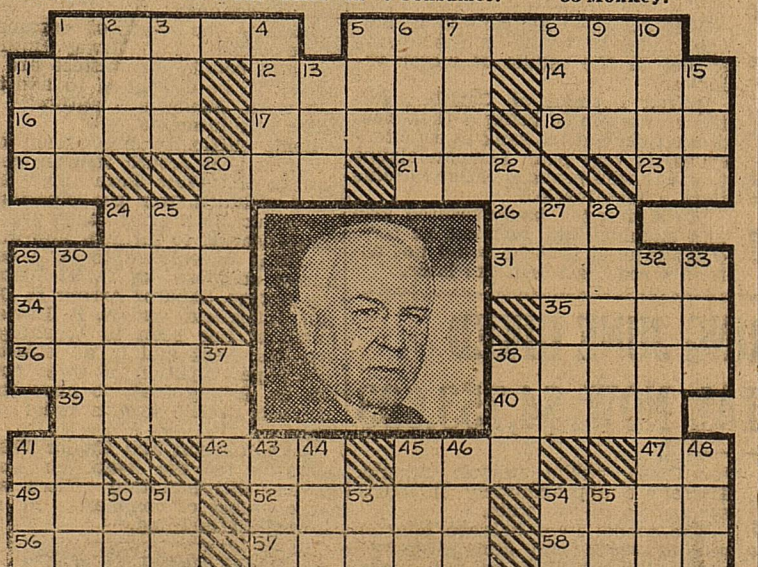

But Ossie, being resourceful like myself, was not to be outwitted.

He surreptitiously fed the rival bird some gunpowder soup and he blew up on the home stretch.

I have been accused of telling some windy stories, but here is a letter from the Rev. K. C. Minter, to prove that I'm not the only man who ever saw remarkable things

Gainesville Circus Distinct from Any Other; Home Owned

GAINESVILLE (UP).—The appeal of the Gainesville community circus, that none of its personnel of 150 persons is a professional, plus an unwritten law that the show must match four years other shows, has made new history in this little Texas town of 9,000 persons.

For four years, through the depression, the circus, a non-profit making organization, has been playing to capacity crowds and from its receipts has bought thousands of dollars worth of equipment. It has no offers to show, each with a guarantee attached, than it can possibly fulfill.

The community circus came into being when the sponsors of the Gainesville little theatre decided to abandon their organization because no auditorium was available to them. That was four years ago. Today it claims distinction on these grounds.

That it is a striking success as a circus without a wild animal show. That there isn't a "circus man" in the company from the master of ceremonies to equestrian director. None had circus experience excepting one or two persons who had been performers and had retired from the lamark trail before the venture was begun four years ago.

General manager of the circus is George Carroll, the town's mortician. J. L. Webb, secretary-treasurer, is manager of a printing establishment and City Editor of the Morton Smith of the Gainesville Daily Register is equestrian director. A horse fancier and landowner, Alex Murrell, is superintendent of the show.

Sixty-five year old B. F. Mitchell, Cooke county judge, is the oldest performer. He is "dean" of the circus, a female impersonator. Judge Mitchell was one of the little theatre's most ardent sponsors and has been a circus performer since the organization of the show.

Gainesville's sporting goods dealer, S. C. Stanforth, is director of the acrobats; Chief Deputy Sheriff Joe B. Pettit, is director of the clowns; Mayor Frank Morris, who is vice-president of a Gainesville bank, plays a snare drum in one of the circus bands and Dr. S. M. Yarbrough, a practicing physician, is a clown.

Family groups also are in the circus. Ruth Evelyn, and Gilda King, the two sisters whose performances as trapeze artists, tight rope walkers and contortionists is almost professional. Dorothy and Loveta Murphy, sisters, are tumblers. They are cousins to the Kings.

T. F. Finnie and his sister, Mrs. Jerry Marshall, are bareback riders and paired with them are three brothers, Ralph, Verne and Charles Brewer.

"This is not the greatest show on earth," said Secretary-Treasurer Webb, "but it can boast being the only one of its kind in the world. Every performer in the circus lives in Gainesville and not a single performer is paid for his services. The performing horses and other animals are owned and have been trained by local people."

The circus is operated similarly to the plans of management of the little theatre. The board of directors plans the year's work, consults with the personnel about acts, bookings and purchases. The season begins in the early spring, though training of animals and stunts goes on throughout the year. From spring until late fall circus performances are given. A few engagements at nearby towns are filled, but because all the performers are engaged in local businesses or are professional men and women or housewives who cannot leave Gainesville for long road trips. One exception was made this year. A Fourth of July showing at Austin.

In Patawentia, also, is found another remarkable thing, for which the wind is to blame. All roads there run west only. It would be no use to have them running in any other direction because this wind is so strong you couldn't travel over them.

You can always win an argument there by getting on the east side of an opponent, because the wind blows his words away from you and you can't hear a thing he says.

A peculiar thing happened there once, I remember. I was scheduled to address an open-air meeting with a speech against prohibition. The speakers' platform was on the east side of a building, and the wind threw my words against the side of the house so hard and distorted them so much that when I got through everybody made a rush for the polls and voted dry.

WILSON DRY GOODS CO.

Woman in Midland County Has Canned Forty-four Bees Since Jan. in 1931

Despite the depression and dry weather conditions, Mrs. I. C. Graham has canned 44 bees since 1931. Under the direction of home demonstration agents, she canned the meat in different ways, making it more useful and appetizing in the menus.

Besides the cans of meat, she put up 13,656 containers of food, of that 1,869 cans were used in the Graham 4-H pantry. "Nearly 90 per cent of the family's food can be provided direct from the farm," Mrs. Graham said, "by following the 4-H pantry demonstration plan."

According to Mrs. Graham no family needs to spend more than $100 for food a year. The 4-H plan offers the following advantages, she says: health may be improved by the careful planning that results in the proper amounts and balance of foods to protect the body from disease; time saved the housewife by having a good selection of canned foods which may be quickly prepared; the appetite is pleased with the wide variety of foods provided throughout the entire year, and certain satisfaction is enjoyed from the creation of an ample and healthful diet from products on the farm.

Supplementing the canned foods, Mrs. Graham last year had 65 gallons of lard, 50 pounds cured pork, 250 pounds sausage, 500 pounds dried peas and beans, 30 pounds cheese. She had a surplus of cream, eggs and fryers. By selling dressed hens, she made a profit of $214.24.

Stanton Girl Tours Atlantic Seaboard in Omnibus College

Miss Letta Mae Barrett of Stanton, is on a tour to the Atlantic seaboard with 600 other students of Omnibus college, which is a branch of the municipal university of Wichita, Kansas.

She will return late in July, after having visited the old South, New England, Washington, New York, Quebec, Niagara Falls, and the Chicago fair.

Omnibus college, with which she is enrolled is an educational aid not a commercial project, was founded ten years ago to give opportunity to study history at historic spots and other subjects at first-hand. Classes are conducted in large tents by professors of the university. Students ride in buses and eat at rolling cafeterias. None but regularly enrolled students, seeking university credits, are admitted.

Others from Texas are enrolling for the second term of the college, which opens in mid-July. It will travel in two sections—one to the Pacific, including Victoria, Canada, and Tia Juana, Mexico—the other to the East by way of the World's fair.

Students going on the eastern trip will drive their own cars and organize their own parties. The total enrollment for the two terms will exceed 1200, which is a record.

Chair Warming Is Stopped in Cafes

By LAMAR MIDDLETON
United Press Staff Correspondent
PARIS. (UP)—Hard-hearted cafe proprietors are mobilizing to destroy one of the ancient and leisurely institutions of life here.

The Syndicat Generale of Cafes, Bars and Restaurants, has resolved that the Parisians' fondness for warming a chair three hours or more over a 40-centime glass of coffee is an abuse, and that because of the dwindling profits the practice must be abolished.

The custom has been most injurious economically, Syndicat members complain, in the Latin Quarter where impecunious students remain moored to a table for five or six hours over one drink.

Next to students, the ancient but dwindling fraternity of boulevardiers constitutes the gravest menace. The boulevardier is somewhat more careful in his choice of cafe, but proprietors complain he is even more immovable than the student. Generally he drops anchor at a large cafe in the Opera or Champs-Elysee district about 11 a. m., orders the very cheapest aperitif, and by judicious use of ice succeeds in lasting out

Discovery of Badge Presented Mystery

DENVER, Col. (UP)—Discovery of a Colorado Pioneer's badge buried beneath a tree in California presented a mystery recently to the Society of Colorado Pioneers.

The badge was found and sent here by William H. Wilson, of Los Angeles, who formerly lived near Littleton, Col. It bore a seal of the society, which had been inactive for 20 years. The name W. H. Clark was inscribed on the silver emblem.

Clark was an early day banker. He died 25 years ago and his wife died two years ago. How the badge came to be buried in California is unexplainable.

It will be given to the State Historical Society or the City Museum.

To people who want something for nothing

Henry Ford
Dearborn, Mich.

There are some things we refuse to do to sell a car. We like sales, but fair-dealing and the confidence of our customers are desirable, too.

For one thing, we refuse to poison anyone's mind against another make of car. We know what our car is and what it will do, and we are ready to tell you about that. But to imply defects in another car is not our business.

We have done our utmost to encourage intelligent buying of motor cars by showing purchasers how to protect their own interests. All that a good producer asks is a customer who knows quality when he sees it. An intelligent purchaser will speedily conclude that only a bad product requires bad sales methods.

We refuse, also, to adopt the role of tricky trader—that is, pretending to offer you a larger trade-in allowance, and taking it away from you in some other way. Ford trade-in values are high, but we do not make fictitious allowances in order to get a sale which may be otherwise disadvantageous to the buyer. Our dealers take used cars upon a system of values, not by haggling or barter.

In this world no one gets something for nothing, although there are many ways of making people think that they do. The sure way to get value for value is, first, by being yourself willing to deal on that basis, and second, by dealing with a concern that has no other policy.

We refuse to keep dinning in your ears that the Ford V-8 is the best, most economical, lowest-priced car. That is claimed for several cars. Obviously it cannot be true of all. There comes a point where claims and adjectives and all advertising hysteria disappears in its own fog. Personally, I prefer facts.

We say the new Ford V-8 is the best car we have made.

We say that our 8-cylinder car is as economical to operate as any lower number of cylinders.

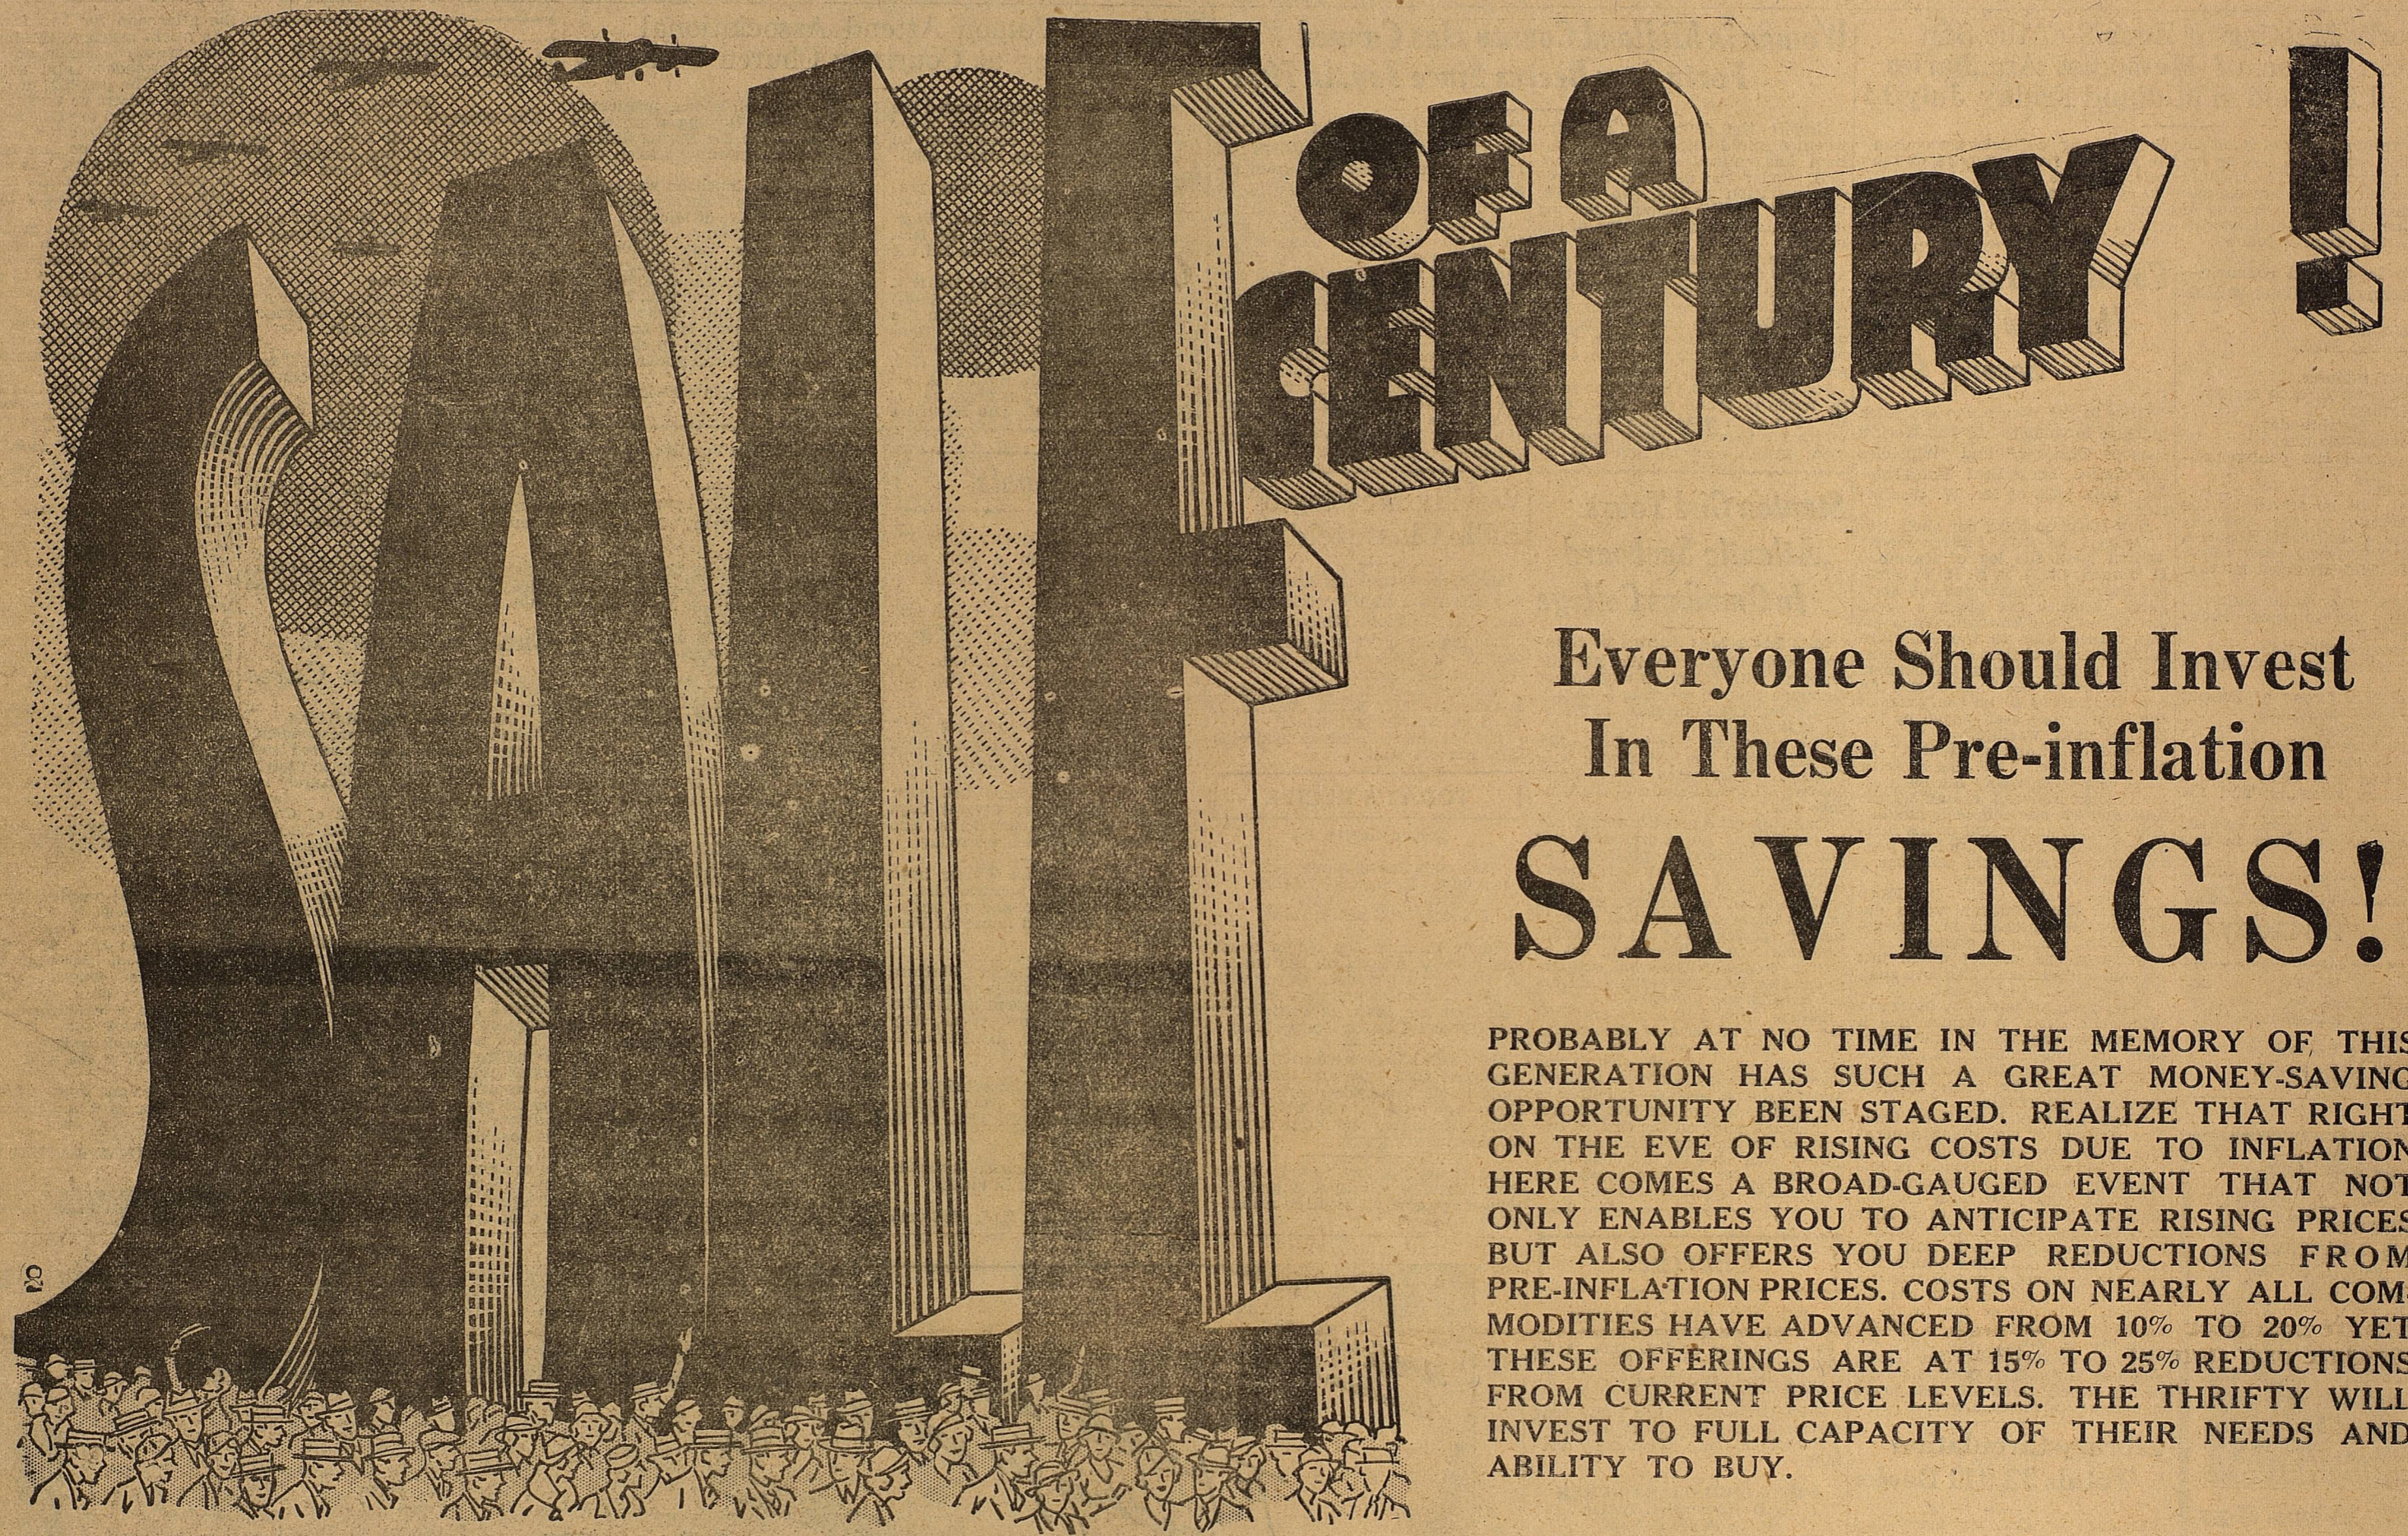

We say that we have always been known as the makers of good cars and that the many good, well-balanced qualities of our present car places it at the head of our line to date.

Anyone wishing to do business with us on these principles will find our word and the quality of our product to be A-1. What we say about economy, operation and durability will stand good anywhere.

FORT WORTH. (UP)—More than 250 representatives of 21 railway labor organizations in Texas will meet here July 11 to study application of the National Recovery act and the Railway Emergency act.

At the meeting efforts will be made to establish a common understanding for carrying out the provisions and purposes of the acts. Joe E. Steadham, secretary of the joint railway labor board, said in announcing the meeting.

United support will be offered to President Roosevelt in carrying out his program, Steadham said.

The meeting also will consider the spreading out of the benefits of the acts to aid as many laborers as possible, he said. It is hoped to add workers as fast as possible.

The railway organization will ask Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson to call a special session of the Texas legislature to set up machinery and erase any obstacles toward carrying out the recovery act provisions in this state.

The governor has already been requested to do so by the Fort Worth trades union.

The request was made because of uncertainty whether Texas anti-trust laws will allow full cooperation of the recovery act. The railway organizations will ask for the session if administrators of the recovery act in Texas believe it necessary.

In event a special session is held, Steadham said, the railroad organizations will urge passage of laws governing child labor and minimum wages for women.

ODESSA EXPECTS MIDLAND TO BE ITS FOURTEENTH VICTIM

GAME BEGINS HERE THIS AFTERNOON 3:30 O'CLOCK

Fresh from winning the last game of the first half by a 13-9 score, the Odessa entry of the Permian Basin Baseball club comes to Midland this afternoon to set forth its contention that, when it comes to matching ball players, it is second to no club in the loop.

The game begins on the Indian diamond at 3:30.

It was at Irwin that the Odessa club made off with the last game. Taking the lead at the start by scoring four runs in the first frame, the Ector county club was never headed, even though it played without the assistance of its star short stop, Roy Watson, out of the game with injuries. Allen pitched a nice heady game, easing up when it was safe to do so and saving his arm for times when he pitched out of the game. He whiffed eight men, as it was.

In this afternoon's game, George Elliott, out manager, will use either Andrews or Lefty Briggs on the mound. Briggs is well known here, as he was a member of the Midland club in the West Texas league. A curve ball pitcher of great ability, he recently pitched an El Paso club to victory in the first half of the season. Elliott said his ace short stop will be in the game today, as well. Moreover, a former Midland player, Ed Estes, hard hitting out fielder, will be in the Odessa lineup—which sounds bad on the face of things. He is respected by all pitchers of the loop.

Travis will be on second for Odessa. Andrews on first, Estes in center. Cook in right, Lawler in left, Saxton behind the bat and Dameron on third. A hard hitting and fast fielding aggregation.

As to Midland chances, Doc Ellis is depending on Brown or Sammy Timmons on the mound. White behind the bat, Joe Pyron on first, Dolph Branch, a newcomer, at second, Collum on third, Moreno at short, Johnny Woody in right, Ellis or L. E. Cook in left, and Girdley in the middle grade. The manager said this lineup is only tentative, however, as his team is so crippled that he cannot be certain how he will start his men.

Ellis asks for a large crowd to see the game. Odessa will bring a big representation, he has been told.

ODESSA—The victory of the Odessa Oilers at Irwin Sunday was their 13th. There were 13 runs scored by Odessa in the game. The Oilers carried 13 players on the bus to Irwin. The 13th is Seth Thompson's (the birthday) birthday. Worst of all the club went $13 in the hole on the day's expenses.

Tie that one, if you can.

Monday Games

- Southern Ice vs Magnolia
- Hokus-Pokus vs Paposes

Second Also-Ran Club of First Half Shows Teeth, and Downs Hokus Men

Hokus-Pokus team members grinned up their sleeves Thursday night when Bill Blackman and his Nocturne league club defied law and order and tendency toward heart failure of the sidelines and administered a royal spanking to the Papoose club, winners of the first half—and whistled among themselves, whispering they: "Now we take Magnolia Friday night like Baer took Schmeling, and we'll be back on top like we usta be."

True to form, Friday night came around by the calendar but, alas to relate, and alack to remember, the explosion went off backward—and right in the face of the Hokus-Pokus hopefuls. For Magnolia rose in its stirrups and smote the Hokusies like unto the way Sampson swatted an assortment of Philistines that time the Rev. Kenneth C. Minter might tell you about, and when that carnage was over and the home run balls gathered out of various alleys and back yards Magnolia had a dozen runs and Hokus a bad case of melancholy.

The score was 12-11. That in itself is not important. What does assume significance is this: for several weeks in the first half, Hokus held the jinx over all other clubs of the nocturne association. No club could win over its might, even though some of the weakest clubs were barely nosed out more than once. Right at the last of the half Hokus lost a game, which placed the club on even standing with the team of Doc David M. Ellis. With only one game to be played by the leaders, the Red Skins won, and it appeared that Hokus would do the same. But what did Southern Ice do, the scamps, but tame the Hokus club and toss it into the discard—to give the first half gonfalon to the Red Skins? Unreservedly! Once again, as you see, the explosion went out the wrong end of the barrel.

Which explains the bad case of melancholy the Hokus men must feel in losing to Magnolia right at a time when their hated rivals of the first half had trapped a painful game to Bill Blackman and his club, which, at best, had been in and out.

That's just some of the drama that draws 'em by droves to the lighted diamond out South side way each night.

Now we come back to another game of the evening and find that the Blackman's won another game—the two in a row marking as many as they could total in the first half altogether. Maybe the Bills club is now awake to the fact it can play pretty good brand of ball; maybe it has decided it has an ace on the hill every time Straughan mounts the pinnacle. Straughan has whiffed 25 men in the past two games, retiring 11 Friday night alone. At any rate, the Blackman's are throwing scares right and left—and are climbing the percentage scale at the same time.

Friday night's victim of the Black plague was Lindy's cleaning establishment. The score was 15-7.

On Monday night some more drama will be written. Hokus-Pokus and the Indians will play in the second game. Southern Ice and Magnolia play the first. The Hokus-Indian game will show whether the two clubs are traditional enemies—or whether they will show a list towards watching the Blackman club and devising methods for halting its wild scamper.

SAND BELT TO SNYDER; LAMESA IS NOT COMING

The Sand Belt team goes to Snyder for a match this afternoon.

The Sand Belt group will play Joe D. Chambers in eighth position, Don Sivals, sixth man, being out of the city. Team members, arranged in order of position, are: C. L. Jackson, Gentry Kidd, Frank Day, Elliott Miller, Henry Shaw, Billy Moran, De Lo Douglas and Chambers.

Midland, in third place, is only 18 points behind the leaders, Big Spring and Sweetwater, and has played one less match than those towns. By stepping up to the tee at Snyder this afternoon, the club will take eight of those points before a single drive is made. Colorado is the other club with a make-up game to be played.

To give an idea of how Midland stands, even though in third position, out of eight games the club has won 198 points, or an average of 24 3-4 points per match; Sweetwater and Big Spring have played nine matches, winning 216 points, or 24 points a match; Lamesa has won 21 5-9 points a match.

The Kat Klaw does not play, as the Lamesa squad, out of respect to one member, whose father died Saturday, has asked permission to defer the game a week.

"The Little Giant" Brings Edward G. Robinson in Comedy Role to the Ritz

New Mexico Justice Better Than Reno

Edward G. Robinson, who first sprang to cinema prominence as a gangster in "Little Caesar" and "Smart Money," comes to the screen of the Ritz theatre today and Monday as an ex-gang leader in the First National picture, "The Little Giant."

Robinson, who graduated from the racketeering type of story with his more recent pictures, such as "Silver Dollar" and "Tiger Shark," plays his first comedy part in the role of a Chicago beer baron who retires from his highly profitable business to break into high society, after beer has become legalized.

By cramming his vocabulary with French expressions and superficial phrases about futuristic art he believes himself ready to crash the exclusive circles. His sophomore attempts to play the gentleman leads to some of the most hilarious situations imaginable.

Constantly in hot water as the butt of the social elite, he does not wake up to the fact that he is being played for a sucker until the charming adventures he adores and her father have taken him for a ride to the tune of several hundred thousand dollars.

According to advance reports from Hollywood, "The Little Giant," is an extremely timely subject with a brand of comedy that is highly hilarious, especially when Robinson brings on his Chicago mob to help him get back his money.

An unusually strong, cast supporting Robinson, includes Mary Astor as his leading lady, Helen Vinson and Wilson Mizner and Robert Royce as the role of the adventuresome vamp, Kenneth Thomson, Shirley Grey, Russell Hopton, Donald Dillaway and Berton Churchill.

Roy Del Ruth directed the screen play by Wilson Mizner and Robert Royce, based on an original play by Mr. Lord.

WESTERN UNION NOW OFFERING HOTEL SERVICE

According to Manager R. J. Walker, here is bid news for the rubber check artists. The American Hotel association and the Western Union Telegraph company have perfected a plan which gives hotels a quick checkup on guests desiring to cash checks.

Through banks which cooperate, hotels may receive answers within a few minutes to requests for credit information. These messages will have preference over the other messages except "x" traffic. These messages will be dispatched immediately upon receipt at the office of origin and upon reaching the office of destination will be telephoned without delay to the bank for a reply while the wire is being held.

The response will then be wired back immediately to the office of origin and telephoned to the hotel. With this almost instantaneous service, it will often be possible for a credit manager to query the bank and have a reply while the guest who wishes to cash a check is being engaged in a short conversation.

President Thomas D. Green of the American Hotel association, is asking all hotels to get the plan in full swing without delay—not merely by cooperating with Western Union but by explaining to their banks the purpose of and the need for this rush service. Green points out that some banks may be reluctant to release credit information over the telephone unless they understand that they are cooperating in a system which may greatly reduce the traffic in fraudulent checks.

THREE TAKE EXAMS

ODESSA—Jim Tom Smith, local secretary for the civil service board, Thursday gave examinations to three applicants for the positions of postmaster at Penwell.

The position was vacated some time ago by the resignation of Walter Bates, and is now being held by an acting postmaster, pending examinations and selection of a postmaster.

ARMADA SET FOR HOP

If the improving weather conditions over the north Atlantic continue general Balbo will take off from Reykjavik for Cartwright at approximately midnight, E. S. T., according to Mackay radio to Postal Telegraph & Cable Co. here.

It has been estimated that more marriages take place during the third quarter of the year than in any other period.

Marion Davies gives the finest performance of her entire career in the delightful "Peg O' My Heart," today and Monday at the Yucca theatre. Never before has the vivacious star clothed a character with such sincerity and sympathy.

The talking picture version of the play that has been acclaimed in the theatre for more than twenty years, has a freshness and sparkle all its own.

Miss Davies' Peg is individual and not patterned from the Peg created by Laurette Taylor. Yet her interpretation of the role is none the less genuine and familiar in character. All the joyous charm of the little Irish lass is intact.

Others in the splendid cast of the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer feature are J. Farrell MacDonald, Julietta Compton, Irene Browne, Tyrrell Davis, Alan Mowbray, Doris Lloyd, Robert Grieg, Nora Cecil and Geoffrey Gill.

Michael, the dog in the film, captures honors all his own. He is well worth watching for.

A special added attraction to this program is the official motion pictures of the recent Max Schmeling-Max Baer fight in which Baer upset the dope-bucket by knocking out the German, who was considered by many as the "real" heavyweight champion of the world. The picture shows the fight round-by-round, not missing a minute of what has been called by experts "the best fight in years!"
