THE SITUATION IS A GRAVE ONE

If every voter in Texas clearly understood the critical situation existing and ever growing graver in regard to the condition of the state's unemployed, the proposed amendment to authorize the Legislature to raise funds by bond issue would amass the most overwhelming favorable majority at the polls of any issue ever submitted to the electorate.

Several objections have been advanced against the bond issue proposal. First of all, there is a general reluctance to depart from the established custom of keeping the state free from bonded indebtedness, and fear that a precedent may be set which would be followed to disaster; and second, there is specific objection at this time to increasing already burdensome taxes. These two objections are so closely related that their answer is likewise so.

JOBS AND LIVING WAGE RECOVERY'S BASIS

One after another the industrial codes are brought to Washington and slipped into place; and as the framework of a new society is thus being erected, piece by piece, we who stand on the sidelines can only pray that the thing is going to work smoothly when it is finished.

Back of all the negotiations, arguments and maneuverings which are producing these codes there looms one great fact—

Our economic system can survive in recognizable form only if the whole population of the country is kept pretty steadily at work at a living wage.

It is recognition of this fact that has led an essentially conservative community to embark on an experiment which would have seemed, to most people, the height of radical folly as recently as a year ago.

And it is only by keeping this fact constantly before our eyes that we shall be able to make a go of the program now being attempted.

All of our fine talk about economics, co-operation, price levels and all the rest comes down to that, in the end. People have got to have jobs, and the jobs have got to pay them enough so that they can buy the things that they produce. Unless we find some way of accomplishing that, our eventual collapse seems certain.

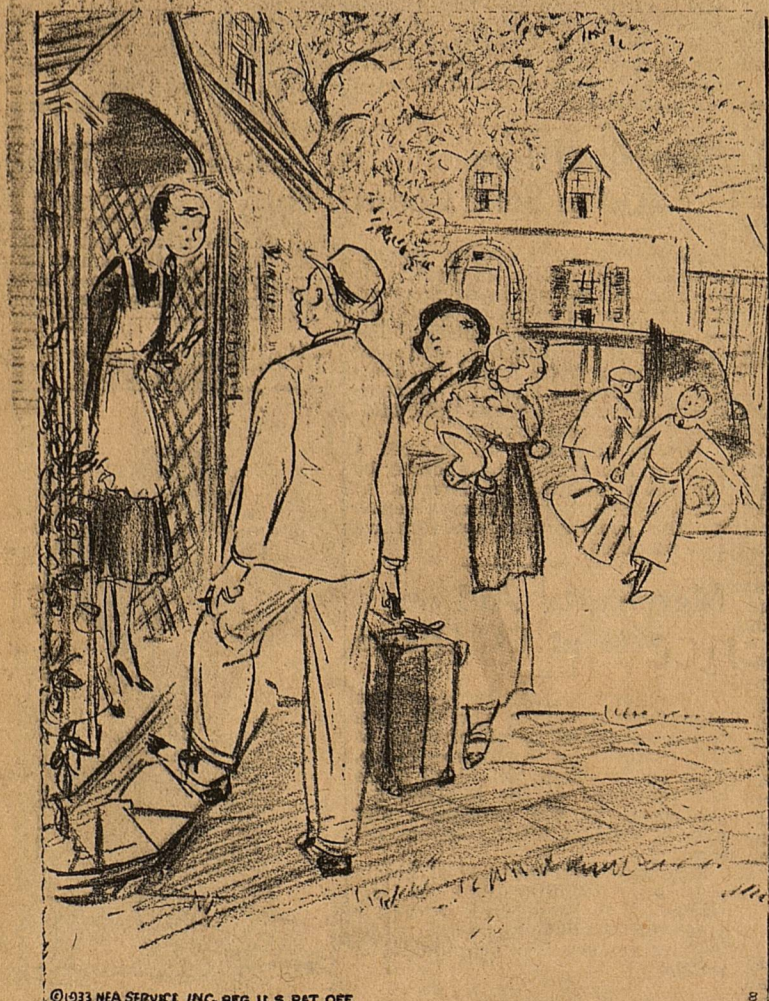

Viewed in this light, the administration's program is clearly the very essence of conservatism. Nothing less than what is now being tried could have been attempted. The old system must be modified at least as greatly as the "new deal" modifies it if it is to survive at all.

A good many years ago Abraham Lincoln warned that the nation could not continue to exist half slave and half free. Both the compromisers and the die-hards tried to find a way of getting around that unpleasant truth, and the disaster of the Civil War was the result.

Today we are facing the fact that the nation cannot continue to exist half prosperous and half destitute. There is one way out and only one; to provide jobs at decent wages, to keep purchasing power level with production.

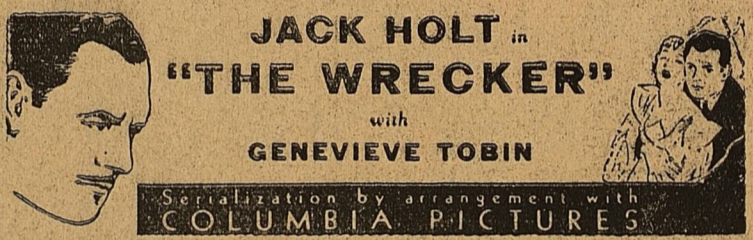

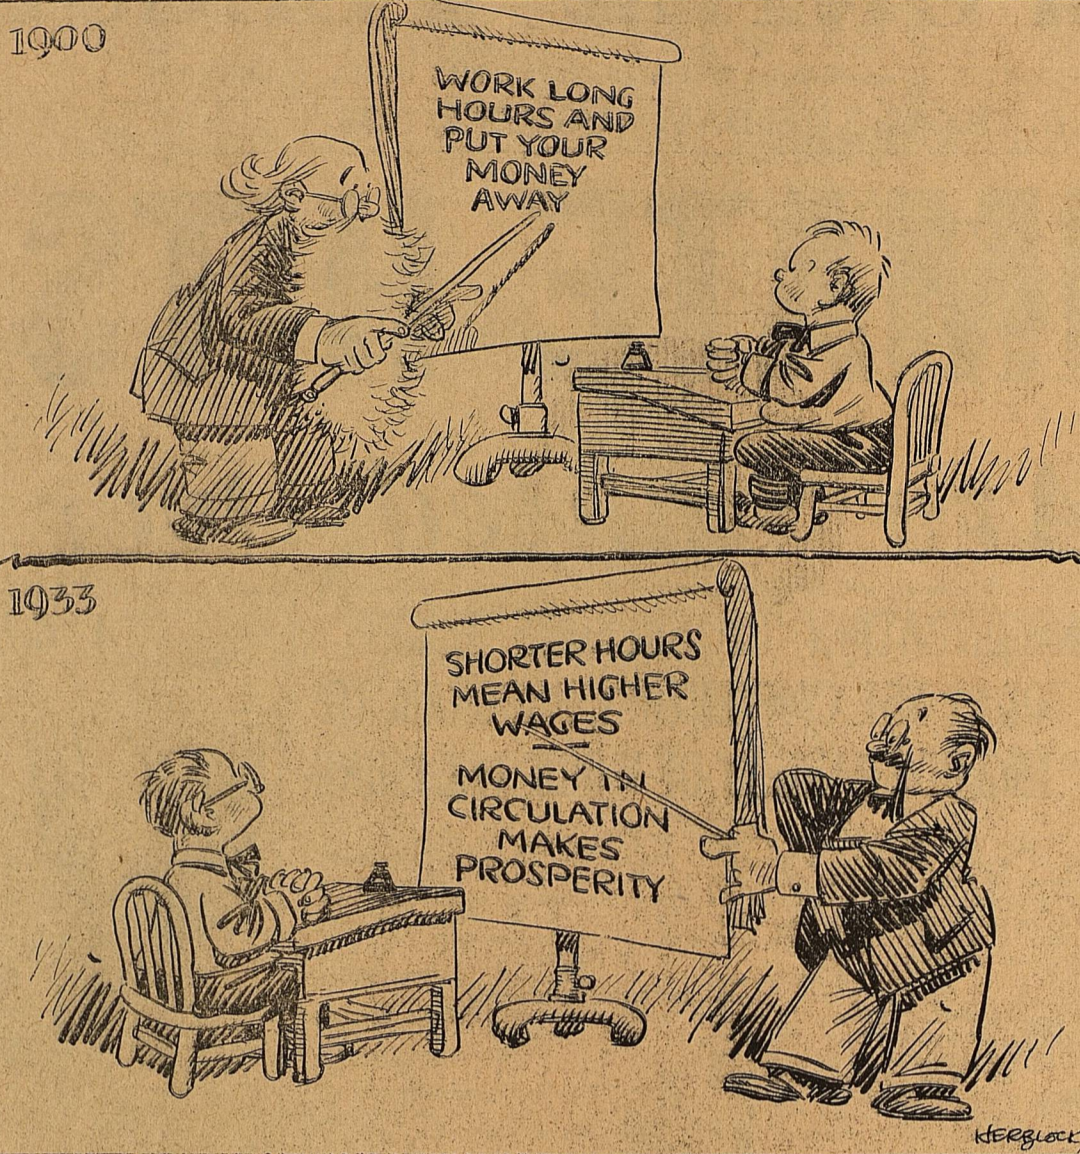

If we let ourselves get frightened by the experiment we are making, or if we let rising prices fool us into the belief that times are going to correct themselves without our help, we shall be riding for a fall just as cataclysmic as the one the nation took in 1861.

NRA Leisure Hours Mean Rest to Many Professional Women

Leisure hours are a boon to the working girls, so many of them declared Saturday. Relief from office work at 5 o'clock means more time for doing the "million and one little things" a girl has to do to keep herself well groomed, several said.

One business girl frankly declared that she is going to bed at 5 o'clock and staying there until 7 in the morning for several months in order to rest. She hasn't had a vacation in three years and she feels that she is going to drop from sheer mental and physical exhaustion if she doesn't have hours for rest.

Others in the field of business and professional women shouted with glee at having more time for swimming, horseback riding and bicycling. Several were pleased with the shorter hours because they will have time for reading good literature and newspapers in order to keep up with what's going on in the world. Another woman frowned, shrugging her shoulders slightly bent with leaning over her desk in her book-keeping duties, and said that she had rather not have leisure hours for it meant that she'll have almost double time in order to complete her duties before her work-day is over. She much prefers working from 8 until 6 o'clock at a moderate speed.

Several married women in the business world have expressed their pleasure at the additional hours of leisure since they will have more time at home with their children and husband. An added delight, they said, is that they can make real efforts now to make their home a home instead of a place to sleep and eat.

Bargain Hunting Season Open in West Texas Now

Interest in summer fashions is on the wane. It is what comes next that concerns even the bargain hunter who is replenishing her wardrobe at this late date, but which still a month or more in which to wear her trophies of the hunt. A bargain is really not a bargain unless it is useful, Midland merchants say.

If you should run across a frock on which there is a sailor collar, hold fast to it, and consider its other qualities, for it has at least one good one. The shoulder widening processes that have been going on quite naturally inspire neckwear designers and dress and coat designers to take advantage of this great open space. There is plenty of room for almost any sort of collar on the gowns of the moment, and the younger set especially seem to have decided to make the sailor collar feel thoroughly at home, and very welcome.

Skirts are getting straighter, or rather are going to greater length to remain straight, often giving it up just before they reach the ground and making up for the restraint in ruffled effects of various kinds, carnation silhouettes, and things of like character.

If you are one of those who can't bear the thought of relinquishing prints, there are very good looking printed satins with which you may start off on the new season. Printed crepes worn about generally endorse medium-sized florals on darker grounds, with black and white and white and dark blue and white registering, though a wide range of colors is in evidence. Jacket suits in printed crepes are sponsored by well dressed women.

More formal frocks, of chiffon, are endorsed at tea time. There continues to be much talk of sleeves and shoulders in designing circles, with opinions rather violently for or against. The first groups hold that women have only just become accustomed to the wide top silhouette and it will be continued in new forms; the second that the theme has been overdone and cheapened and there will be a reaction against it. For that matter, there is the pro and con on almost every detail under discussion, which brings up the point of cautioning those with a falling for rushing out and buying without considering the future. Buy the more conservative things first. You never can be really sure how the early styles will develop. Sometimes they die from over-popularity, and sometimes they just naturally pine away and die from neglect.

We have already had several warnings from Paris, the storm center of fashion at the moment, that the trend was away from simplicity. After all, simplicity is a relative term. We have not been wearing conspicuously simple clothes this summer, so if our point of view is to be adjusted to the angle of seeing the summer fashions as simple, it may give you an idea what to expect later on.

We have already heard a good deal about the fuzzy or hairy fabrics that are to be worn. It is to be presumed that they will contribute a good deal to less definite lines, and we do get an impression that lines will be less clearly defined.

Hats are to be fuzzy, too, some of those with high pointed crowns are made of shaggy materials, either wool or a mixture of silk and wool, or of feathers which seem to be winging their way back to the front ranks of fashions.

White, not only for brides, but for accessories and for interior decoration in the best appointed homes, was dear to the Victorians whose tastes we seem to be sponsoring. In spite of several other influences, notably Chinese, and, an millinery Francois Premier, it is the Victorian era that still casts its romantic spell over most designers. Whatever late fall has in store for us, the summer has found us freely helping ourselves to the bobs and tuckers, the frills and sashes and what nots that have been taken, and sometimes faithfully copied, from the plates of Godey's Ladies' Book.

The additional white collar has been such a success that one feels content in expecting it to remain over for the day when darker colors will naturally follow and when they will seem entirely too dark and heavy under the chin. And that's where they will be since all the latest advice is to the effect that bodices stop at nothing short of the base of the neck if they stop then. This makes it seem rather a sure thing about that flattering line of white, don't you think? Perhaps you have noticed that feathers have been softly injecting themselves into designs, especially

Book-of-the-Month Is At County Library

The Book-of-the-Month selection for August, "Twenty Years A-Growing," by Maurice O'Sullivan, is now in the county library.

The Book-of-the-Month Club has chosen books from many distant languages. Here is one translated and beautifully from the Irish. Maurice O'Sullivan, a young Irish fisherman, now in the Dublin police force, sat down one day to write a book to entertain his friends on the remote little island Basket, just off the coast of Kerry, where he had grown up. He had never written anything before, had not had any schooling to speak of, had no idea that what he wrote would be read more than a few miles from home. He wrote in Irish, the language of his people, and he wrote of the simple and familiar things that were part of his everyday life: dances and brawls, fairs and funerals, fishing and hunting, courting and old wives' tales. He wrote of them with a poetry, humor and vigor that transformed them into something magical and unique.

By a lucky accident, his book fell into the hands of a young Oxford student. It was translated into English with an introduction by E. M. Forster; its English readers took it to their hearts; it was chosen by the Book Society in London and finally by the Book-of-the-Month in America.

NOTED AUTHORS URGE AMERICANS EXPLORE MEXICO

By MERRILL E. COMPTON
United Press Staff Correspondent

DALLAS, Aug. 7 (UP)—Motor loving North Americans are advised by Michael and Virginia Scully, authors of Grand Rapids, Mich., to explore Mexico.

The Scullys record their experiences in motoring 3,000 miles in the sister republic to the South of Texas in a recent book, "Motorists' Guide to Mexico," published by the South-West Press, Dallas.

"The opening of Mexico's first system of motor highways means the opening of a new world to the American motorist," they write in their introductory chapter. With typical American salesmanship they endeavor to entice the motor tourist in Mexico by answering in this chapter such questions as: "But is it safe?" and "how are the roads?"

Of the former, they write, "we drove about 3,000 miles through the republic in three months. We encountered nothing but friendliness and courtesy, even from traffic police. We witnessed two arrests, both for drunkenness, and these occasions marked the nearest approach to violence and crime."

Answering the latter question, they draw a comparison with present day Mexico and the Mexico of 1925 which they said was then "as inaccessible as Australia to the American motorist." Armed with statistics, they support Mexico's claims to highway development.

Successful in answering these questions they advise with painstaking care the preparations for such a motor tour as their own, or for lesser distances. The problem of clothes, of motoring supplies and of getting about the country after leaving the Rio Grande is amply covered.

To Texans the book has more than customary interest. Texas is next-door neighbor to Mexico. No spot in the state is more than a good day's drive from the Scullys' suggested port of entry Mexico, Nuevo Laredo. For tourists from outside Texas they advise two routes to Nuevo Laredo, either through central Texas via San Antonio to Laredo, or, from Houston along the Gulf coast to Laredo.

They write a day-to-day guide how to travel Mexico. Routes, hotels, automobile service stations, recreational centers, fishing holes, old temples to visit, and marketing spots are located. Three chapters are devoted to Mexico City, covering in detail information about the hotels and tourists accommodations, the shopping that can be done and what attractions are to be seen.

Typical of their style in describing a section of the country is their

BIG SPRING PASSED OUT OF 32ND AND INTO 70TH JUDICIAL DISTRICT

BIG SPRING—Without pomp or ceremony, Howard county Tuesday passed from the old 32nd into the 70th judicial district of Texas.

Nearly half a century has lapsed since Judge William Kennedy convened the first session of the 32nd court here. Friday it will have been exactly 48 years and three months since Bailiffs S. H. Barlow and J. M. Pittman cried "Oyes" for the court.

The transition of Howard county from one judicial district to another also marked the death of another court. The unique 32nd district special court became history Tuesday, its two-year term having expired.

Howard county, under a bill enacted by the last state legislature, was transferred into the 70th judicial district, replacing Andrews, in order to give this county a larger amount of district court.

Taking Howard out of the 32nd district leaves much more time to Nolan county in that district. With Howard, Nolan demanded most of the year of court.

Mauzey Remains
Judge A. S. Mauzey of Sweetwater remains on his 32nd bench with less worries. Judge Charles Klapproth of Midland retains his office as judge of the 70th district, his duties materially increased. Judges T. Brooks, Big Spring, returns to private practice. His was the 32nd special court.

Originally Howard fell under the 12th judicial district with Judge T. B. Wheeler of Eastland presiding. Mitchell county officials served as bailiffs and clerks.

May 4, 1885 Howard county witnessed the first term of 32nd district court here. Judge Wheeler returned to his district, later running for the office of lieutenant governor of the state.

Judge William Kennedy, first jurist to preside over a 32nd district court in this county, was the father-in-law of a former citizen and now

W. W. Beall, who during last year succumbed to illness, followed Judge Smith. Resolutions on his death were read before the last meeting of the Big Spring bar.

W. P. Leslie, then from Colorado, succeeded Judge Beall. Leslie is now Justice Leslie of the 11th court of civil appeals at Eastland.

Fritz R. Smith of Snyder, father of City Judge Tracy T. Smith, was next man to occupy the 32nd bench. He died suddenly while still serving as judge, being succeeded by A. S. Mauzey of Sweetwater.

Judge Mauzey was returned for his first elective term during the last primaries.

There has been an equal number of men to serve in the office of district clerk, although there have been only two to serve in that capacity alone. Until three years ago the district and county clerk were one.

H. W. Morgan was first clerk, being followed by Andrew Walker, now head of the Big Spring Abstract Co. Mr. Walker's brother served as clerk when Howard was in the 12th district.

W. T. Dent followed Walker, being succeeded by J. I. Prichard, who still holds his office as county clerk.

First District Clerk
O. Dubberly was elected district clerk when the offices were separated here.

Robert Kelly, who served as clerk to fill his unexpired term when Dubberly, with his wife, was killed in an automobile accident near

Two Wells in Ward Deepen in More Pay

Two producers in Ward county deepened to more pay last week, one being recompleted, and a gasser, spraying a small amount of oil, was completed.

George T. Abell's No. 1 Pure-Smith deepening from 2,451 to 2,480 feet had an increase in oil from 2,460-75 feet, was shot with 100 quarts from 2,404-40 and from 2,460-75 feet and was recompleted with a flow of 72 barrels in 24 hours. The old initial production in Sept., 1932, was 150 barrels daily.

Location is 330 feet from the northeast and northwest lines of section 4, block 34, H. & T. C. Ry. Co. survey.

Atlantic Oil Producing Co.'s No. 2 Barrow had an increase in oil from 2,582-96 feet in deepening from 2-566 to 2,600 feet and was bailing and scrubbing oil. The first pay was topped at 2,498 feet and the well was completed last December for 18 barrels a day. It is 1,650 feet from the northeast line and 330 feet from the northwest line of section 23, block 5, H. & T. C. Ry. Co. survey.

Skunks and Bears Battle Intruders

YOSEMITE NATIONAL PARK, Cal. (UP)—Skunks who "chiseled in" on blankets provided Yosemite's bears nightly, today were allied firmly with their larger friends in a battle against intruders.

The bear colony of about 30 members were fed nightly in a secluded place to keep them away from the camps. Within a few days a group of skunks "muscled in".

Coyotes, gray foxes, and eagles soon were attracted. When there was plenty of food for all, M. E. Beatty, park naturalist, reported, the bears and skunks were inclined to allow the others to eat. But, he said, when the supply was low, the bears and skunks drove off the rest.

BURNET TEXAS (UP)—Three resourceful pigs on the Harden Hereford ranch south of here have their future assured so long as "Old Bossie," an elderly and placid milk cow continues the daily routine which the pigs have found so fruitful.

The porkers have developed a practice of meeting "Old Bossie" when she goes to a stock tank for water. Then they descend upon her and nurse while she drinks. Efforts of the trio to "break in" other cows on the ranch have not proved successful.

THE MASTERPIECE OF TIRE CONSTRUCTION

THE New Firestone SEALYTE Leakproof TUBE

Regular tubes are porous and gradually lose air. Firestone Seal-tye Tubes are manufactured by a process which makes them "Leakproof." The rubber is "sealed" against air loss—the rubber valve stem is vulcanized into the tube. Constant inflation of tires is no longer necessary—mileage is increased.

Firestone SPARK PLUGS

Old worn Spark Plugs waste gasoline and cause power loss—Firestone engineers have developed new processes of manufacture and construction advantages that assure greater power and more dependable service.

Gas Tax Auditors Recover $330,000

AUSTIN, Tex., Aug. 7.—Comptroller George Sheppard's gasoline tax enforcement "army" of detectives and auditors, created by the legislature last March, recovered the record sum of $330,000 in "missing gasoline taxes" during June, at an expense of but $15,000.

This is the gist of a summary of June activities released to the Texas Good Roads association today by M. J. McReynolds, division chief at the request of the comptroller.

Comptroller Sheppard, elated, saw in the figures "proof" that if the people will help, Texas can save the predicted $4,000,000 a year in gas taxes heretofore stolen.

"Consider what this means to the taxpayers," the comptroller said. "It means that in February, the month before this new law was passed we were headed for a $2,250,000 decrease in annual gas tax returns; but now we have wiped that out and are moving at the rate of $1,500,000 increase.

"Here's how: the state's gas tax income in February was $207,514 short of the same month a year ago, or nearly 10 per cent. March was almost as bad. Thousands of cars were not being used and bootleggers were running wild.

"Then this new law, making evasion a felony, went into effect on March 21. Our staff went to work in April the decrease over 1932 was very small, in May it had been turned into a small increase. These June figures show we collected $122,370 more gas taxes than in June, 1932.

"The motorist nearly always pays this tax at the filling station, whether it's passed on to the state or not; when it's not, the schools, the bond fund and the highways are being robbed. So is the taxpayer who must make up the difference. That's why we are asking the public to look for evaders."

BLACKMAN'S AND ICE TEAMS WINNERS IN MONDAY NIGHT GAMES

POLO TEAM HERE FOR LABOR DAY DECLARED LIKELY

Possibility that a Midland polo team may be in action around Labor day was increased by the return here last week end of Jay H. Floyd who has been playing with the fast Greenacres club of Shreveport. Floyd will be here for two months training ponies prior to the big tournament at Arlington Downs in October where from sixteen to twenty fast clubs will be in both low and high goal competition.

Floyd recently played his team against the San Angelo Rainbows and said that Pete Patterson, former Midland ace, expressed willingness to come here in the early fall for a series of games. Lamesa and other clubs have written local polo fans requesting matches here for Labor day.

Patterson's team recently closed a series of games over the southwest. Gilly Gilmore, one of the outstanding players having returned to Chicago to play with Cecil Smith's "West" team which is playing against Tommy Hitchcock's "East" team in probably the greatest tournament ever held in America. Hitchcock is the world's leading polo player, carrying a ten goal handicap, and Smith is next with nine goals. Rube Williams plays with Smith's aggregation.

The local team, if organized, would find Jay and Clay Floyd, Patterson, Myrl Jowell, Bum Cowden and possibly others in the lineup. All have played here and on other fast teams before.

CARLSBAD, N. M. (UP)—Fifty-six per cent of the 10,322 persons who went through Carlsbad Caverns National park during July were Texans, says the monthly report of Superintendent Col. Thomas L. Bole.

The number of visitors was 1,663, or 14 per cent, less than last year and the lowest since July, 1928.

New Mexico, outranked by California, with 1,036, had only 910 visitors. Oklahoma was fourth with 909 and Colorado fifth with 191.

The New Deal in Pictures --- No. 10

Text by John M. Gleissner

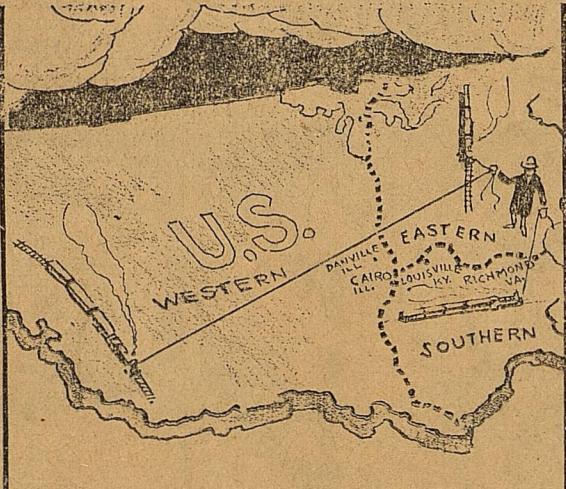

Sketches by Don Lavin

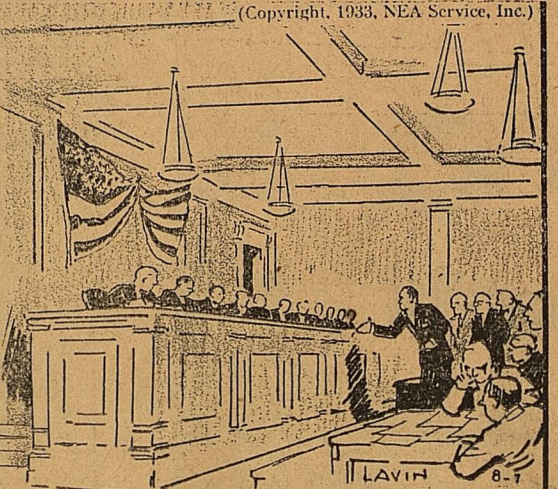

On request of President Roosevelt, Congress enacted emergency legislation to help the railroad's out of difficulties arising from decreased business because of the depression.

The act provided for a railroad co-ordinator to encourage, and compel if necessary, pooling of rolling stock, exchange of terminal facilities, elimination of duplicating services, division of traffic, and reduction of top-heavy capitalization. Joseph B. Eastman, interstate commerce commissioner, was named co-ordinator.

Railroads of the country were to be divided into three groups—eastern, southern and western. Committees of railroad executives from each section were provided for to work with the federal co-ordinator in making the act effective.

The Interstate Commerce Commission was given long-sought control over railroad holding companies and mergers, interlocking directorates, and power to compel railroads to divest themselves of holdings in other lines. Recovery of excess earnings by the government was abandoned.

NEXT: The National Industrial Recovery Act.

EXTRADITION OF "DOC" STACY FOR MASSACRE ASKED

CHICAGO, Aug. 8. (UP)—A removal warrant was issued today for extradition of Louis "Doc" Stacy for questioning in connection with the Kansas City massacre in which Frank Nash, prisoner, two Kansas City policemen, a federal agent and an Oklahoma sheriff were slain.

Bond of $50,000 was set pending his extradition hearing. It was understood that Stacy owned the Chicago inn where the plot to free Nash was made. A solution message was expected soon.

Mixed Leap Frog Party at Angelo

SAN ANGELO.—Friday night was the time of the tenure of W. M. Stevenson as night chief of police that the night sergeant had no telephone calls whatsoever on lawlessness.

The only thing subject to call on which information developed later was a game of leap frog in the moonlight played by four persons in bathing suits (or a resident awakened about 3:30 o'clock gave them the benefit of the doubt) on a sidewalk in East Angelo. Several times over and one woman fell badly and the quartet entered their car and drove on again.

Except for the language of the woman who fell the leap frog party was quiet.

Wild West Antics of 'Gentle' Mare Fail to Throw Boy from Her

COLORADO.—Mighty "Midnight," the ebony colored Canadian horse that during the past ten years was never ridden, might be given something to seriously think about when Weldon Miles, 6, son of Keith Miles of Looney community, elect to mount the well known rodeo horse.

At any rate this Looney boy is not to be ousted in contest of riding skill pitted against all the sporting, bucking defiance that a pitching steed may be able to muster. Weldon demonstrated his ability as a bronco buster recently—and he won against odds.

Returning home from the neighborhood store astride the back of a trusted family mare, Weldon was somewhat chagrined to find that his mount suddenly elected to run away. After establishing what is believed to have been a new speed record down the Robert Lee highway, the mare, evidently not satisfied with determination of the boy to stay with his leather, stopped and began to buck.

The animal stirred up a dense cloud of dust as she rose high into the air and maneuvered from one side to the other with all the grace of a trained rodeo bronc in vain effort to dislodge the boy. He was still in the saddle when citizens of the community arrived at the scene and took charge of the show.

Cheapest Route Is State Relief Issue

It is the cheapest thing we can do to save the situation—to vote the constitutional amendment permitting the legislature to issue not to exceed $24,000,000, a Midland business man stated Wednesday.

"Unless we vote these bonds, the United States will cut us off. I had rather vote for these bonds and get at least another $100,000 for Texas free of charge, than to have to vote city and county bonds at Midland to feed the people and get nothing extra."

"Everybody knows the unemployed have to be fed. Nobody will argue that. Since they have to be fed, the cheapest thing for Midland county people to do is to favor the state bonds, so they won't have to vote city and county bonds. I had rather the state and U. S. was paying out bills in Midland than for us to have to pay them, and unless we favor these bonds, we'll have to vote our own bonds," he added.

SPEAKERS FOR RELIEF BONDS TO GO OVER COUNTY

Speakers for the constitutional amendment permitting the legislature to issue not to exceed $20,000,000 will make addresses at the rural schools of Midland county and at the court house Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Speakers and the places they will give facts about the proposed amendments are: J. C. Miles, Cotton Flat; George Phillips, Prairie Lea; Harry L. Haight, Stokes; Dr. W. E. Ryan, Valley View; Marley F. Peters and Earl Horst, Pleasant Valley.

The speakers will tell farmers and others who attend that unless the federal government provides funds to feed the unemployed, Midland and Midland county will have to vote new city and county taxes. They will ask the voters which they had rather do, vote for state bonds or vote for city and county bonds which would be much larger than the state bonds, so far as what the people of Midland and Midland county would have to pay off.

For example, if the people vote for the amendment to allow the legislature to issue not to exceed $20,000,000, the U. S. government will continue putting up money. This means that instead of only $20,000,000 if that amount is fed any issue, Texas would get more than $30,000,000.

Whereas, if it becomes necessary to vote city and county bonds to feed the hungry, it will cost a lot more to do this with local bonds than with state bonds.

Chevrolet Output Is Almost Trebled

The largest July production since 1923, nearly trebling the output for the corresponding month last year, was achieved by Chevrolet when the company built 80,250 new cars and trucks during the month just ended, W. S. Knudsen, president and general manager announced today.

This compared with 32,281 built last July and with 31,502 in June of this year, which was the highest production month since early 1931. Mr. Knudsen stated. The current July was the fourth largest July in the 21-year history of the company.

Not since 1920 has July production come as close to June as this year. Mr. Knudsen said, attesting to much less-than-seasonal slack, now being experienced by the company.

While some seasonal let-up is bound to be felt in August, Mr. Knudsen said he hoped that the sustained high level of retail sales effected a reduction in the normal average decline from July into the coming month.

For the first seven months this year, the company produced more than 438,000 new cars and trucks as compared with 394,000 for the full twelve months of 1932, the Chevrolet executive stated.

He is noted about the campus for always wearing a red tie.

MAGNOLIA PLAYS BILL'S TEAM CLOSE GAME; PAPOOSES MAKE MANY COSTLY ERRORS TO LOSE TUSSLE WITH ICERS

Bill Blackman's sock ball team and the Southern Icemen came out ahead in Monday evening's games, winning respectively from the Magnolia and the Papooses.

Blackman's win was in the first game, resulting in a 9 to 7 score. They got to Long, pitching for Magnolia, early in the game, Bauer and Gemmill each hitting for four sacks with nobody on. Long walked three men during the game.

Gemmill yielded no walks but Ronald Morgan hit him for a homer in the fifth inning with two men on base. The game was tight throughout, Blackman's team making only two errors and the Magnolia three.

The Southern Ice beat the Papooses 8 to 5, the Redskins making a total of seven errors which were costly. The Icemen made only one error. Both pitchers worked steadily. Howard and Byron striding out five men each. The only frame in which the Icemen were endangered was the sixth when the Papooses made six runs.

Home Loan

and who are merely trying to get reduced interest likely will get little consideration from the branch of vice. Other things stressed by the local representatives are:

- No one may receive the loan whose home is valued at more than $20,000 or who needs more than $11,000 to take up the total indebtedness.
- The property must be occupied by the owner as a home or held as a homestead and not designed for more than four families.
- There must be an actual indebtedness against the property that constitutes a valid lien under the Texas homestead law. This includes, of course, vendor's lien, mechanic's lien, taxes or paving assessments.
- In order properly to fill out applications, it is essential for the applicant to know:
  - The exact location, address, lot and block number of the property.
  - The exact dimensions of both the lot and the house.
  - The height of the foundation and the walls of the house.
  - The date and cost of the purchase of the lot.
  - The date and cost of the purchase or construction of the house and improvements.
  - The exact amount of the incumbrance or lien with interest figured to date, to whom it is due and when due.
  - The exact amount of taxes, both city, county and state. (The tax collectors here will be glad to furnish statements which must be attached to the application.)
  - The exact amount of paving assessments, if any, on the property.
  - Where possible, the applicant should contact the holder of his lien and ascertain whether the said mortgage will accept the federal Home Owners' Loan Corporation bonds as payment of the lien.

10. It must be remembered that the information given in these applications must be as near correct as possible since the law specifically makes any willful material discrepancy a federal felony.
