Legislature Adjourns, Leaves Relief Bill to Governor

GENERAL BELIEF OBTAINS FOR HER SIGNING MEASURE

Committee Charged
With Job Probe
To Reconvene

AUSTIN, Oct. 14, (UP).—It was generally believed today that the governor would sign the $5,500,000 relief bond bill which was passed before the special session of the legislature adjourned at one o'clock this morning.

She then would choose one of three present appointees on the old board for a new one, with Lieutenant Governor Wiley and Speaker of the House Stevenson each retaining two and appointing another each.

The house committee investigating job selling on state commissions will convene here in two weeks, Chairman Gov. Burns of Huntsville announced. Senator Wally K. Hopkins of Gonzales was named presiding pro tem.

Coke Stevenson indicated that he plans to seek again his legislative post, meaning that he probably will retain the speakership in the next legislature.

Prior to adjournment, Representative Bob Long of Wichita Falls and Fine C. Bedford of Galveston fought over a conference report on the claims appropriation bill adding $5,000,000 for East Texas levee claims and $122,000 for fox and mouth disease farm sufferers along the coast.

A bill was passed making N.R.A. code compliance a defense to anti-trust suits but keeping state anti-trust laws in force.

Ahead of Schedule, Macon Lazily Kills Hours Here

By UNITED PRESS
The Macon was nearing its Sunnyvale, Calif., base Saturday. It cleared El Paso at 8:45 a. m. (Mountain time). Weather was favorable in New Mexico and Arizona.

The ship cruised three hours above Midland before the flight over the Guadalupe mountains toward El Paso.

Surprising civilians and army men alike by its schedule, the U. S. navy airship Macon, blinking its red and amber lights in a fantastic setting of mist and thunderclouds, moved majestically into the vision of Midland this morning at 2:20, from 10 to 12 hours ahead of the time it had unofficially been expected.

The queer illusion made by its flashing port lights as they were reflected in passage through dark mist and cloud strata was of a serpentine monster suddenly come to roam and growl in skies vacant of anything except their own darkness and an occasional flare of sheet lightning.

POPULAR STANTON BOY IS SUICIDE

Durlison Montgomery, 27, who for about 18 months had assumed the duties of night watchman following the moving of his father, W. B. Montgomery, to California for his health, died from a pistol wound in the head Friday afternoon.

A coroner's verdict was suicide.

Montgomery, son of one of Stanton's best known men, the father having formerly been postmaster there and active in the cattle business, became despondent recently, his friends said, ascribing his condition to ambition to go to school, something he was unable to seriously consider due to financial bar.

He was one of the finest football players ever turned out by the Stanton high school, and was captain of the club the year he was graduated 1926. He had many friends in Midland, and was decidedly popular.

He is survived by his parents, two sisters and two brothers. All except the mother and a brother live in California.

Interment rites will be read Monday, it is likely.

PLANE BOMBING PROBE ORDERED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14, (UP).—The department of justice today ordered investigation of the alleged bombing of a transport airplane over Chester, Ind.

J. Edgar Hoover, department chief, doubted there was a plot to kill Joseph B. Keenan, assistant attorney general who was directing the anti-racketeering war and who files frequently.

The investigation was being conducted under the law prohibiting interstate shipments of high explosives in this manner.

Man Weds in Jail Returns to Cell to Await Prison Van

BBIG SPRING—Howard county's first wedding in jail occurred Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock when Miss Hazel Dieder, formerly of Big Spring, became the bride of Oliver Bruce, who had only a few hours before accepted a sentence of five years in the penitentiary on a conviction for robbery with firearms.

Immediately after the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. Wood W. Smith, pastor of the East Fourth Street Baptist church, Bruce was returned to his cell. The couple were married in the jail.

Friday morning Mrs. Bruce was admitted to the lower floor run-around, where the ceremony had taken place, for a last farewell before going to McCombs. Bruce will be transferred to the state prison soon.

Mrs. Bruce was winner here several months ago of a bathing beauty contest. She had been subpoenaed as a witness in Bruce's trial early this week, but was not called to the stand.

Deputy Sheriff Andrew Merrick acted as officiant for the couple. He got the license and the preacher.

Witnesses were Mr. and Mrs. La-moine Smith of Richmond, Ind., son and daughter-in-law of the minister, Deputy Merrick and R. L. Wolfe, Jess Jr., and Janice, children of Sheriff and Mrs. Jess Slaughter, Herman Sanders, co-defendant with Bruce, and whose trial has been continued to January, and Georgia Collins, the negro cook at the jail.

Odessa Fox Likes His Chewing Gum

ODESSA—If you're wandering around on the court house lawn any time you see a fox, you'll find him chewing gum. He is a half-grown fox, native to this section below the assembly of the plains and the present mascot of the court house family—and he is inordinately fond of chewing gum.

"Jojo" has been taught by his master, Sheriff Reed Webb, that shirt and vest pockets are veritable mines of chewing gum, and that a fox who has the gum to get a tasty chew most any time. Hence, when a visitor appears who happens to exude from his person the delightful aroma of the much-misused wax, Jojo turns into a sly, sly fox, mounting the said person's person with surprising alacrity, and nosing in open pockets until he has found his favorite sweet.

Quite foxy, is he not?

Colorado Wins Over McCombey

Colorado high school won a closely contested game Saturday at McCombey, the margin of victory being a converted point after touchdown.

The score was 7-6.

Captain Jim Cantrill, former TCU star, and his men held the field muddily and extremely slow, and that the game was one of the hardest fought during his years of coaching.

Reid, McCombey star, whose eligibility was disputed at Big Spring by several officials of Dist. 3, played Cantrill said.

The state contends the three slaying men—J. B. Rutherford, Dallas; his brother, Harry Rutherford, Abilene, and Jack Sturdivant, Euclid—were shot to death in a gangland dispute over division of the post-robbery loot.

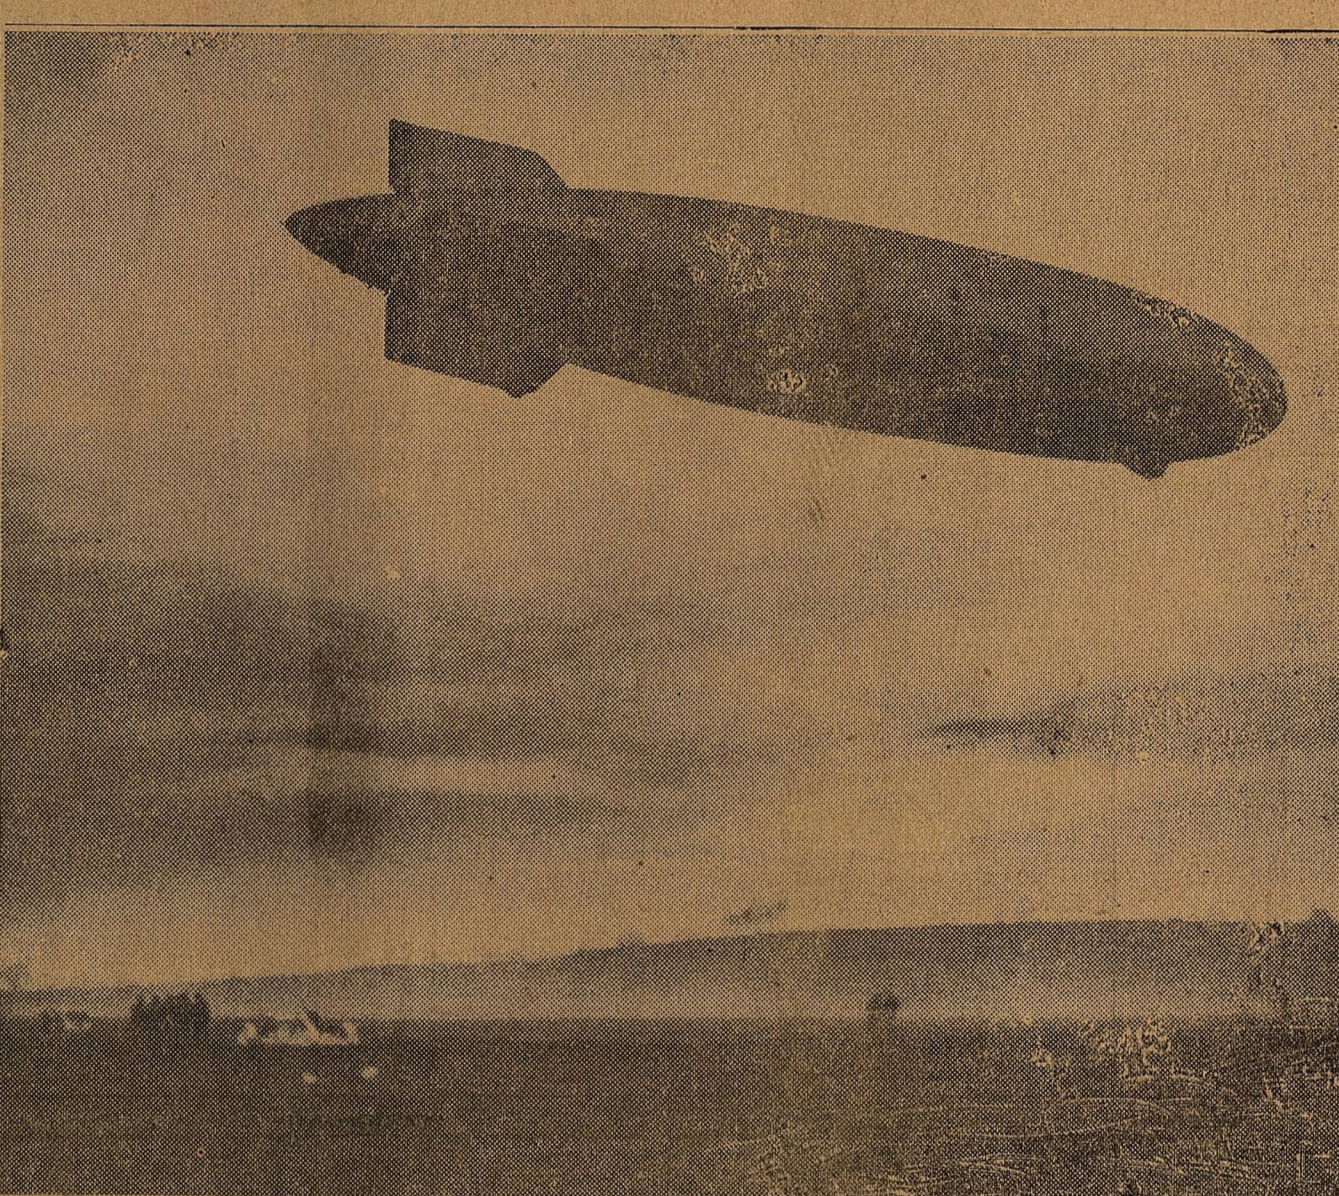

They were discovered missing July 9 when friends and relatives came here seeking them. Fear they had been slain arose at once.

The next day, this fear turned into dread certainty, when a faria youth, with his father, discovered the knife-slashed clothing of the three men in the Trinity river near Euclid. Drilling is to start within a sort time to complete the well.

TO RENEW DRILLING

Drilling is to be renewed on a hole abandoned two years ago in the Wheat pool in Loving county. The Joe Rush Wheat No. 1 was drilled to 2975 feet two years ago by Covey, but was shut down by law suits. Drilling is to start within a sort time to complete the well.

Queen of the Skies Spends Three Hours Over Midland Early Sat. Morning

Off into the dawn—the U. S. S. Macon above, heads into the gray mist of dawn as she begins her mission for robbery with firearms. Striking picture was taken a few moments after the Macon had cast away from her mooring mast and lifted away under power. The big ship was a majestic sight as she swam through early morning mists of Midland Saturday, spending three hours over the city.

Macon Ingenious Triumph of Engineering

Those who watched in wonderment while the U. S. navy airship Macon plied the early morning mist over Midland, had the same question on their lips—

"If it has to circle before every seven acres of cloud that properly doped and covered with aluminum paint, caused the sky giant to glisten like silver in the sunny skies.

Comparing the dimensions of the huge craft with well-known landmarks, the height of the dirigible, including the carriage, is 146 1/2 feet, which makes it, almost to the foot, the height of the Petroleum building, without the prominent and the flag pole.

If the ship could be stood on end beside the Singer building, one of New York's skyscrapers, it would be about 200 feet taller than the structure, the dirigible being 785 feet in length. The ship's length is about 200 feet less than the height of the Eiffel tower in Paris.

Even the cone-shaped "nose" of the ship, which was lifted into place with fitting ceremony, completing the rigid frame of the craft, is 75 feet in height. As the nose was maneuvered into place, workmen in the top of the hangar were obliged to communicate by telephone with the foreman, who stood on the floor of the vast air dock.

The fins of the ship are so large that a man may stand upright inside of them, and a ten passenger blimp may be stored beneath them. Six and one-half million cubic feet of helium gas are necessary to lift the giant, and eight engines provide 4,480 horsepower for speed.

The usual load of the Macon is 282,000 pounds, enabling the navy to carry a hundred men in the quarters of the gigantic sky-rider, besides fuel load of fuel.

The metal used is duralumin, an alloy of aluminum and copper, which is lighter than steel, and which is the misy color of a silver goblet, frost-like over.

The seven acres of "chill" were put on by men working in 85 foot ladders which required support against the bag. When the covering was in place, it was "doped" and water-proofed, a process to stretch the fabric and make it as tightly fitting as a lady's evening gloves. The first coat of "dope" was painted on by hand, left to dry, and then three more coats were sprayed on. The last two coats were mixed with aluminum pigment, which reflects the sun's rays, protects the ship from weathering and gives it the familiar silvery hue.

Like the Akron, the Macon uses helium. Inside the dirigible's framework the gas is carried in 12 cells, placed in bays between the girders. This gives protection similar to that offered by bulkheads of steamships.

If one or two cells should be wrecked and all their gas lost, the remaining cells would have sufficient buoyancy to keep the ship in the air.

The Macon, latest and most efficient type of airship ever constructed, is also the safest aircraft possible to devise. Wind, big snow, rain, heat, cold, lightning and fogs are classed merely as "inconveniences" for the dirigible.

Even landmines may be evaded with comparative ease, and with the aid of weather forecasts and competent meteorologists, storms and high winds may be utilized to provide extra speed.

SPECIAL VENIRE OF 600 FOR FORT WORTH'S MOST SENSATIONAL TRIAL

PORT WORTH, Oct. 14, (UP).—Trial of three men charged with murder in the most sensational crime in Fort Worth's history, the slaying of three men here in July, will begin in criminal district court Monday.

The defendants are: O. D. Stevens, alleged "master mind" of the $72,000 post-robbery here last February, reputed head of a narcotic ring and alleged leader in the slayings; W. D. May, Hanley farmer, alleged lieutenant of Stevens; M. T. Howard, Fort Worth, identified by the state as an accomplice in the robbery and slayings; and all have been in jail since their arrest, few days after the slayings.

A special venire of 600 was called for jury selection.

The state contends the three slaying men—J. B. Rutherford, Dallas; his brother, Harry Rutherford, Abilene, and Jack Sturdivant, Euclid—were shot to death in a gangland dispute over division of the post-robbery loot.

They were discovered missing July 9 when friends and relatives came here seeking them. Fear they had been slain arose at once.

The next day, this fear turned into dread certainty, when a faria youth, with his father, discovered the knife-slashed clothing of the three men in the Trinity river near Euclid. Drilling is to start within a sort time to complete the well.

Bell, of Winnebago county, is believed to have set a precedent in law enforcement activity recently when he went by airplane to Denver, Colo., to return a prisoner to Rockford. INTERNATIONAL ARMS PARLEY IS SEEN AS A FLOP

Astonishment Mixed With Fear Felt By World

BERLIN, Oct. 14, (UP).—Germany, bitterly angered, withdrew today from the League of Nations and the world disarmament conference, offering to disarm completely if other nations did.

President Von Hindenburg immediately decreed the dissolution of the Reichstag and proclaimed a general parliamentary election November 12 to test the nation's opinion of the double withdrawals which precipitated Europe into the gravest crisis in years.

Peaceful intentions by Germany were assured as the action was taken following Arthur Henderson's speech to the steering committee as president of the disarmament conference at Geneva.

Washington officials today interpreted the withdrawal of Germany from the League of Nations and the disarmament conference as a defeat for efforts toward international disarmament.

London authorities said the responsibility for whatever happens belongs to Germany.

Paris hinted that there might be published the famous "secret dossier" purporting to indicate the evidence that Germany has steadily refused to disarm.

Italy feared that the League of Nations is jeopardized and that military and naval peace guarantees treaty is endangered.

Central and southeastern European capitals were alarmed. Soviet Russia alone was reassured by Germany's withdrawal that the Munich treaty is not directed against the soviet.

World war allies announced a new eight year disarmament plan at Geneva as Germany announced her withdrawal.

NEW ANGLE TO ROBBERY KNOWN

CHICAGO, Oct. 14, (UP).—George and Kathryn Kelly were in Chicago until twelve hours after the robbery of the federal reserve bank messenger here September 26, Melvin Purvis of the department of investigation announced today.

Miles Cunningham, policeman, was killed in the robbery.

The revelation came, the announcement today said, with the filing of criminal information against Joseph Bergl and Charles Caplan, charging conspiracy with Kelly. Kelly was charged that Caplan furnished a car in which to go to Memphis. It was believed the Kellys were her five days before the robbery.

Murder Hearing Moves Swiftly

SWEETWATER—Within day shadow of the electric chair, because of his confession that he killed Deputy Sheriff John Lamkin at Blackwell early the morning of June 1, Luke Trammel, youthful Coleman county desperado, went on trial here Friday morning, charged with murder in connection with the crime.

If Trammel is superstitious, he went on trial for his life the morning of Friday the thirteenth.

Mrs. John Lamkin, widow of the slain Blackwell nightwatchman, was on the witness stand briefly Friday morning, as was Bob Jordan, county commissioner. Both of them had talked to Lamkin following his being wounded.

SIX MILLION IN GOLD OUTPUT
VICTORIA, B. C. (UP).—British Columbia's gold output this year will reach $6,000,000, double the output four years ago, according to the British Columbia mines department. This year 18,700 free miners' certificates have been issued, a record not equaled in the days of the Klondyke and Cariboo gold rushes.

Because fairies are supposed to run away with male children, superstitious parents along the Connemara coast of Ireland dress their boys in red flannel petticoats so the fairies will think they are girls and not molest them.

"Jennie Gerhardt" Dreiser Hit Is At The Ritz Theatre

Sensitive, appealing "Jennie Gerhardt," that absorbing character created by Theodore Dreiser, America's foremost novelist, comes to life on the screen of the Ritz theatre, today and tomorrow, where Paramount's picture of that title will be presented. Sylvia Sydney, the girl of the wistful eyes, earns her first star billing in the title role of this B. P. Schulberg production, which Marion Gering directed.

In this picture, she earns her right to be a star. Her characterization of the immortal Jennie Gerhardt conveys the essence of Dreiser's conception of this tremendous role. Tenderly, sympathetically, she trades the life of the most talked of woman in American fiction.

Jennie Gerhardt epitomizes all womanhood that was unconditionally. Theodore Dreiser's conception of the character, Miss Sydney's impression has a like interpretation as its motivation. A beautiful, sensitive girl, reared in the most abject poverty, is forced by the misery of her family to accept the advances of those who can help financially. Time after time, despite her own inclinations, the irresistible forces of life itself break down her morale, drive her on through desperation to an inescapable end.

Donald Cook, rapidly coming to the forefront as one of Hollywood's favorite leading men, takes

The Three Musketeers Hit Town!

Scene from "The Three Musketeers," a Mascot Serial with John Wayne, Ruth Hall, Jack Mulhall, Raymond Hatton, Francis X. Bushman Jr., Noah Berry Jr., and Creighton Chaney. The serial started at the Ritz Saturday.

Louise Carter is cast as the mother whom Jennie Gerhardt learns to love and, for his own good, is forced to leave. H. B. Warner is cast as Jennie Gerhardt's father, while

Ford Cars Win Gruelling Run

"Three Ford cars—two V-8s and a 1931 'four'—won the first three places in the famous Laredo-Monterrey road race sponsored by the Mexican Automobile association, an affiliate of the American Automobile association," according to official reports of the race just received.

The two V-8s established the fastest time on record for the course. The third Ford won the same position in the class B event of the original road races which formally opened the new Pan-American highway between Laredo and Monterrey three years ago.

The race was won by Eddy Ebers, a veteran figure in Texas and Oklahoma road race circles, in a Ford V-8, with an average speed for the 138.6-mile race of 78.25 miles per hour. Ebers staged a thrilling finish to win over Jimmie Davis, also driving a Ford V-8, who placed second, one minute and 14 seconds behind the winner. Jim Hall, of Houston, Texas, was third in a Ford Model A. Davis' average speed was 77.5 miles per hour, Hall's 73.1 miles per hour.

Speed Wagner, a product of the eastern dirt tracks and a veteran of several years professional racing was the only other driver to finish in the money, driving a Rockne roadster to take fourth place. Other entrants including three Chevrolets, a Ford Model A, an Essex, a Chrysler and a motorcycle were disqualified or failed to finish.

Davis took second place after suffering a blowout 20 miles from Laredo. Four minutes were required to make the tire change. Despite this, Davis and his V-8 bettered all previous speed records for the course.

The performance of the three Fords in winning the first three places in the Mexican classic recalls the Ford victory in the stock car event at the Elgin National Road Races a month ago, when seven Ford V-8s took the first seven places in the famous event, Fred Frame, Indianapolis racing driver, in the winning Ford V-8 averaging 80.22 miles per hour for the 203-mile grind.

The eyes of the owl are differently placed from those of other birds; instead of being on the side of the head, they are in front.

"Jennie Gerhardt" is a splendidly adapted picturization of the Dreiser novel. The most-talked-of woman in American fiction comes to life under the artful magic of Sylvia Sydney, who in this role reaches the top of her profession.

Irene Dunne as "Ann Vickers"

Her role in "Ann Vickers" hailed as an outstanding triumph, Irene Dunne comes in the RKO-Radio dramatization of the notable novel by Sinclair Lewis, in which she is co-starred with Walter Huston. The picture, one of the best of the year, is showing at the Yucca.

Mrs. Lloyd Long Gets Free Lamp

Mrs. Lloyd Long, who lives about seven miles south of Midland, won the Aladdin lamp that was given away by the Midland Hardware Co Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Long won the prize on a purchase that she made Saturday afternoon, and which was her only purchase.

Announcement that the lamp would be given away was made several weeks ago in the advertising columns of The Reporter-Telegram and much interest was shown in it according to Sam Weaver, manager of the hardware company.

"Ann Vickers" Evokes Praise Of Local Fans

Crowds were expected to be great at the Yucca theatre where the current season's hit, "Ann Vickers," is being unfolded to the delight of lovers of strong drama woven around a provocative theme.

Read by millions in fiction form, Sinclair Lewis' book of the century takes on added glamour with the screen presentation. Ann Vickers, the woman who sinned and was sinned against, becomes a living character under the able interpretation of the beautiful Irene Dunne. The love affairs of Ann, her bitterness in failure and her bewilderment in success are dramatically enhanced by the voice and camera.

The entire theme is admirable for screen drama and RKO Radio has taken full advantage of the daring situations, the sweep of a story from prison gutters to the high courts, and the modern question of whether or not femininity is held in bondage by conventions.

Those who have read the book will find new color and realism, while those who have not will see a production that sparks with red drama and is brilliantly enacted before backgrounds that are intriguing and authentic.

Walter Huston is co-starred with Miss Dunne.

The cast includes Conrad Nagel, Bruce Cabot, Edna May Oliver, Sam Hardy, Ferdinand Gottschalk, Rafaela Atiano, Mitchell Lewis, Helen Eby, Rock and Gertrude Michael.

MULE-DEER RAISED ON RANCH

CEDARVILLE, Cal. (UP).—J. V. Steiner, Cedarville farmer, claims credit for doing what old-time livestock men said was impossible. He has a herd of domesticated rangeland mule deer, apparently contented on his place. He started his herd, now numbering nine, several years ago when one of his cowboys found a deserted and starving fawn.

GOOD GAS WITH DEPENDABLE SERVICE

WHAT are the PURCHASING AGENTS DOING?

EVERY big company has one or more men whose entire time is devoted to buying the things which that company needs.

These men are specialists. It is their business to know prices materials . . . sources of supply . . . present and future trends. They are the shrewdest, canniest buyers in the world.

But all of us, in a small way, are purchasing agents. We have to buy a certain number of things, if only to keep alive. And most of us aren't very skillful at it. We waste a lot of money. We miss the good bargains. In fact, we could learn a great deal by watching a professional buyer at his work.

At this time, especially, it may be helpful to know what the big purchasing agents are doing. Are they cutting down? Are they opening up? Do they think this is a good time to buy or a bad time? What do they think about the future?

Well, the answer is that they are all buying as fast as they can buy. And they are buying because they know that prices are going up.

"Pig iron has advanced 13%", the purchasing agent of a $20,000,000 corporation recently said. "Brass is up 42 1/2%. I am paying 41% more for lumber than I did in March, and fiber packing cases have doubled in price. In fact, everything we use in this business is costing us more today, and will in my opinion cost us still more tomorrow. I believe . . . that many commodities will be back to or near 1929 levels by spring."

That's the way the professional purchasing agents feel about it. And they know. They have special sources of information. They are closely in touch with industry. They have studied the workings of the NRA codes.

Prices are going up. And it's a good thing for everyone. For things had come to the point where nothing had any true value. A man's time . . . his product . . . his property . . . all had sunk so low in value that he couldn't even get a decent living. That couldn't go on. So the Government set up the machinery of the NRA codes in order to make everything worth something again.

This process is now under way. Wages are being raised. Commodities are bringing better prices every day. But it is not yet over. Before fair values . . . living values . . . can be reached, prices will have to go higher than they are now.

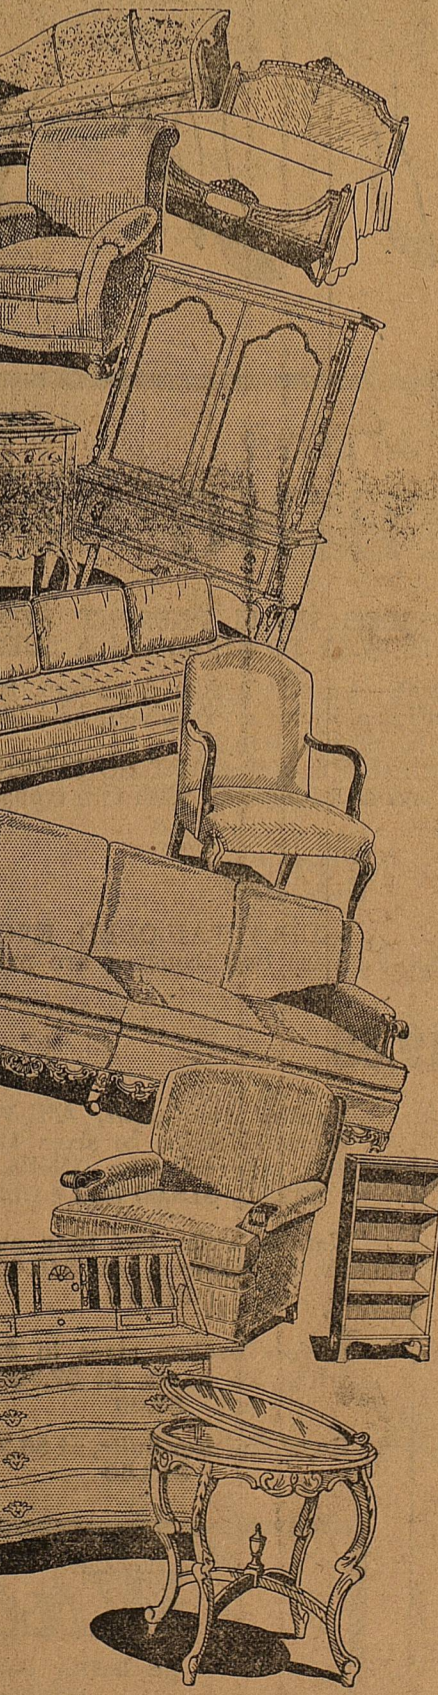

Before they do, take a leaf from the purchasing agent's book, and lay in a supply of the things you need. There are many good bargains still to be had. But these stocks are strictly limited. Now is the time to buy.

Magnolia Torture Test Cars to Be Likely on Monday

Enroute from New York to Los Angeles on the widely heralded Coast to Coast Torture tour two Socony-Vacuum test cars are expected to pass through Midland about 3 p. m., Monday, October 16 according to information received by local representatives of the Magnolia Petroleum company, manufacturers and marketers of Mobiloil, Mobilgas and Mobilgrease.

The Coast to Coast Torture tests are two standard water-cooled sedans which are being driven without radiators and without water in their cooling systems. They depend for protection against excessive heat and friction only upon the efficiency of the gasoline and motor oil used.
