KIDNAP RANSOM MONEY LOCATED

BAILEY, BATES WON'T TAKE THE STAND IN CASE

Defense Rests Insofar as They Are Concerned

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 27. (UP)—Harvey Bailey and Albert Bates declined to testify in their own behalf today and rested the Urschel kidnaping case without a word of defense.

Previously, Armon Shannon, 21, son of R. G. Shannon, said Kelly had threatened him with death and had made him quit Urschel.

Defense testimony for five Twin Cities defendants was all that remained as the trial neared a close.

Geraldine Arnold, 12, whom the Kellys masqueraded as their child and who tipped officers to the whereabouts of George and Katherine Kelly, was guarded secretly. She may receive the reward of $15,000 for Kelly's capture, it was indicated.

MEMPHIS, Sept. 27. (UP)—The hearing for George and Katherine Kelly before the federal commissioner was delayed indefinitely today by John M. Keith, special agent for the department of justice. His reason was not given but it was believed he feared an attempt by underworld operatives to free Kelly.

LIONS CLUB HAS VARIED PROGRAM

Brief addresses by Father Edward Harrison, priest of St. Ann's Catholic chapel, and Martin C. Glmer, cashier of the First National bank, piano-clarinete numbers by Thomas Inman and Mrs. De To. Douglas, Mrs. Douglas singing refrains, and a solo by Mrs. W. L. Jones, today rounded out an interesting Lions club program that otherwise was supplemented by contributions from Dr. John B. Thomas, Harry L. Halght and William Jones.

Father Harrison, serving his first appointment, spoke of the genuine friendliness of Midland and its response from the new resident, explaining that "first impressions are generally lasting" and that his was a good impression from the first. He said he had met many people at his chapel, on the "Lions courts" (where, incidentally, he plays with good form) and on the streets. "The city is unique for its goodwill and sincere friendliness," he said, "and I am about to forget I am a native elsewhere."

Glmer, speaking impromptu on the subject of inflation, pointed with arresting logic that the economic law of supply and demand will eventually restore the nation to prosperity without the nostrums of the new administration, but that the New Deal is on and the country may look forward to a more complete and expedient recovery through the revolutionary tactics of the Democratic experiment. The country is facing an untried experiment, he showed, inflation. He predicted that France will be forced out of the gold standard within a few weeks and that the effect of this would be to make for international unity—something striven for at the recent World Economic conference.

The speaker indicated the motive of NRA as placing a horizon within sight, a horizon which would encourage a drive toward a common objective, thereby restoring confidence of the people of the nation and supplying a motivating spirit that nulls the country upward by its own boot-straps from the stagnation of the present.

The banker was optimistic for an almost immediate change for the betterment of the country and went into a semi-technical analysis of the inflation theory, giving numerous illustrations to more easily explain it.

Mrs. Douglas and Inman chose for one of their selections the haunting "The Prelude," a type of negro folk song that is emblematic of the new thought in music, and which is being played every night by numerous orchestras of the country.

Baker sang a famous number, "The Sunshine of Your Eyes," popularized a few years ago to the American public through the concert tour of John McCormick.

Two visitors attracted Dr. Herman Klapproth and Earl Van Huss, Women of the Catholic chapel served the lunch. Harry L. Halght was program chairman and Vice-president Earl Forst presided.

EXPANSION TREND SEEN IN BUSINESS

DALLAS, Sept. 27. (UP)—Expansion in both retail and wholesale lines continued during August, the eleventh federal reserve district's monthly business review revealed today.

Retail distribution, as evidenced by sales of department stores in principal cities, the report said, "reflected an increase of 32 per cent over the previous month, and was 27 per cent in excess of that in August, 1932."

The unusually large increase over the previous month, according to the review, was of special significance because seasonal decline in July was much smaller than usual.

"The volume of wholesale trade," the report continued, "showed less than the usual expansion, yet this was not surprising in view of the heavy distribution during the summer months. While exports indicate that consumer buying in rural sections is improving, retailers who bought heavily earlier in the summer are attempting to gather more accurately the prospective consumer demand before adding substantially to inventories."

Bank debits to individual accounts, the report showed, fell off eight per cent during the month of July, a purely seasonal decline. They were, however, four per cent higher than for August a year ago.

Weather during August generally was favorable to growing crops and ranges. The drought area, in large part, received much-needed moisture, while in other sections the weather was such as to foster maturing of crops and hold in check insect activity and plant diseases.

The federal department of agriculture in its September report said crop conditions in the 11th federal reserve district were equal to or above those for the preceding month. Cotton prospects were improved, as were those of some feed crops.

"Federal reserve bank loans to member banks," the review said, "continued at a low level during the past month. The total of these loans amounted to $4,237,000 on September 15, as compared with $3,993,000 on August 15, and $12,891,000 on the same date in 1932."

"The loans and investments of member banks in selected cities reflected a substantial expansion between August 9 and September 1. The daily average of combined net demand and time deposits of member banks was $390,108,000 in August, representing a decline of $7,730,000 from the previous month, and $17,054,000 from August last year.

"The recession from a year ago, which has been gradually narrowing in recent months, was smaller in August than in any month since 1920."

Construction activity fell off sharply during August to a level under that of May. The August valuation of building permits, the report showed, was 52 per cent less than in July, and four per cent below August last year.

August's meager wholesale expansion was blamed on a 17 1/2 per cent slump in dry goods. Other reports, notably farm implements, reported improvement, although the expansion in several cases was unreasonably low.

Commercial failures, another accepted index, reflected a material reduction from the same period a year ago, although they were above the level of the previous month.

"In & Bradstreet's figures showed 53 firms defaulting, with liabilities totaling $788,981. In August, 1932, however, there were 92 insolvent firms with an aggregate indebtedness of $2,327,615."

Volcanic Vapor Is Issuing from High Peak of Tex. Range

AUSTIN—One of the several botanical surveys which Dr. B. C. Tharp, associate professor of botany at the University of Texas, has planned for the future is that of the Chisos Mountains, situated far down in the Big Bend region of the upper Rio Grande border of Texas. While he has a considerable general knowledge of the flora of the mountain region, some of which he gained during a brief visit there, it is Dr. Tharp's ambition to make a complete study of the various forms of vegetation found there, many species of which are peculiar to that particular locality. Notwithstanding the timberless desert region which spreads out from the foot of the mountains the higher slopes of the imposing range are forested with long leaf pine, pinon, fir, varieties of oaks, Arizona cypress and other trees, some species of which are strangers to these latitudes.

The Chisos mountains have been comparatively little explored, except by the members of the United States Geodetic survey which several years ago measured Mt. Emory and pronounced it to be the highest mountain in Texas. Attesting this fact is the survey monument placed near the top of the peak which gives the altitude at 9,996 feet.

Only a few days ago the report came out of the Big Bend country that smoke was issuing from an extinct volcano on the upper slope of Mt. Emory, and that the people of San Vicente were much aroused over the possibility that the long-slumbering volcano was awakening and that it even might give forth an eruption of lava and ashes.

Besides the forest of a great variety of trees, many kinds of rare shrubs and plants grow in the well-protected canyon of the mountains. Pure water springs create running streams which disappear into the earth before the surface level of the mountains is reached. All in all, it is a mysterious and little known region which offers wonderful opportunities for research along botanical and possibly other lines, according to Dr. Tharp.

Rea Transferred To South Texas

L. C. Rea, district material man for the Atlantic Pipe Line company for the past four years, has been transferred to the Greta field in south Texas to the material department of the Atlantic Oil & Producing company, it was announced today. Mrs. Rea will remain in Midland indefinitely, it was announced.

Rea has been connected with the Atlantic in similar capacity for eleven years.

BIGGEST CIVIL LAW SUIT TO BEGIN MONDAY; 15 COMPANIES CONCERNED

AUSTIN (UP)—The state's biggest civil law suit is scheduled to start Monday, October 2, in 98th District court here. In it attorney General James V. Allred for the state asks penalties for alleged anti-trust violations totaling $17,850,000.

Right of 15 major oil companies, the American Petroleum Institute and the Texas Petroleum Marketers' Association to continue operating in Texas is attacked. Cancellation of permits and charter forfeitures are asked.

Political destinies, too, are at stake. If Allred wins, his opponent to governor or to the United States senate seems assured. Already it has brought a clash with former governor James E. Ferguson, chief adviser of Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson.

"The suit should be stopped. It is a blow to national recovery. It will throw thousands out of employment. It will nullify the charters of 15 companies," said Ferguson.

"We are not suing because of disagreements to raise wages and spread employment," said Allred. "We are suing because we believe

MRS. O. B. HOLT BURIED TUESDAY

Last rites for Mrs. O. B. Holt, prominent Midland woman who died Sunday afternoon were held Tuesday, the funeral services being at the family residence, 101 North B street. Burial followed at Fairview cemetery.

The Rev. Kenneth C. Minter was in charge of the service. A choir of select voices, including Mmes. De Lo Douglas, Roy Proctor and Roy Parks, soprano; Mrs. J. M. Hawkins, Misses Lotta Williams and Elma Graves, alto; Messrs. Percy J. Mims and De Lo Douglas, tenors, and W. W. Lackey and D. D. Shillett, basses, sang several numbers.

The Rev. Winston F. Borum pronounced a prayer after which the Rev. Minter gave the scripture reading and a brief life history of Mrs. Holt.

Dr. W. Angie Smith, president of Centenary college at Shreveport and pastor of the First Methodist Church, there, presided at the service, giving a touching eulogy on the Holt family as result of his former pastorate here, praised Mrs. Holt's useful life in an eloquent talk in connection with the funeral sermon.

MONETARY POLICY IS DESIGNED TO SPUR BUSINESS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27. (UP)—It was understood today that the administration is nearing completion of a new monetary policy designed to spur business by removing the uncertain future of the dollar. Details were lacking.

It was believed that the policy did not contain an immediate inflation provision.

The president was known to have been interested in a "commodity" dollar which would maintain a relatively steady purchasing power instead of being bound to a fixed weight in gold. Such a dollar would buy a similar amount of goods and services from year to year.

Local Horses in Amarillo Monies

Four Midland horses were entered but only one got in the money on the opening day of Amarillo's race meet, in connection with the Tri-State fair, Monday.

Paul Harvey's two year old, Dutch Veda, ran second in the half mile for colts. He was entered by Doc Bloss of Midland, Foreign Relations, entered in the three-quarters, was scratched and George Keith, in the mile event, failed to get in the money.

A field of 65 horses competed Monday, the first of a six day race meet here. Seven races were on the card.

Memorial Day, Spence Jewell's bay stallion, "also ran" in the five-eighths race. He was entered by Cecil Locklear. Tom Atwell's Reg Don was first, H. Maddox's Virgin Son second and Guy Bayly third.

The colt race was won by Tom Patterson's Argus Lady, the Odessa colt running second.

All members are asked to attend.

Car Stolen Here; Thievery Rampant

Thieves Tuesday night made away with a 1933 Chevrolet coupe belonging to Billy Bryant, evidently pushing it away from the front of the house before starting the motor.

The theft marks a continuance of thievery in Midland over the past few weeks, most of which, however, has been petty.

The motor number of Bryant's car is 4635507, the license number 800-888.

Intruders have entered several houses during the last few days, and have not confined their activities to unprotected families. For instance, a man tried to steal Deputy Sheriff Fisher Pollard's car Saturday night, and a few moments earlier threw a flashlight beam into the bedroom where Peace Justice E. C. Girdley slept. Intruders in each instance fled when the officers tried to apprehend them.

$73,250 UNEARTHED ON FARM AT COLEMAN

COLEMAN, Sept. 27. (UP)—Department of justice agents today recovered $73,250 of Urschel ransom money on the farm of Cass Coleman, brother of Mrs. R. G. Shannon, near here today.

The money was uncovered at 3 o'clock this morning in a box buried beneath a mesquite bush in a cotton patch a half mile from the farm house.

It was known that the George Kellys visited the farm about the middle of August. Coleman is an uncle of Katherine Kelly. It was indicated that he will be charged with harboring the Kellys.

The finding of the money made $19,650 of the $200,000 ransom money now recovered.

SCHOOL CHORUS TO SING TONIGHT

Increasing success of the meeting was reported after the Tuesday night service.

Local Dog Show Entries Ready

Plans for holding The Reporter-Telegram's dog show, announced in the state papers last week, are proceeding, with Mrs. Vera Lewis assisting.

The show will be held one day during National Dog week, which is Oct. 1 to 7, inclusive.

Complete announcements will follow. Those who are interested in making entries are asked to telephone The Reporter-Telegram with giving names, telephone numbers, breed of dog. State whether dog is registered. Judging will be made for both registered and unregistered dogs.

Children especially have deluged The Reporter-Telegram with questions as to whether they may enter their "mutts." It is the intention of the newspaper to have an unprecedented number of dogs entered.

A kid pony show may be held this fall. Plans are being made for it already.

Ferguson Silent On Senate Probe

AUSTIN, Sept. 27. (UP)—Jim Ferguson had not indicated today whether he would testify before the senate regarding statements of Frank W. Childs that he deposited $22,100 for Ferguson between January 4 and August 17.

It was expected that date would be set today for appearances before the senate by former Governor Sterling and regional chamber of commerce managers in connection with the probe of relief fund disbursements.

BALLOT COST 34 CENTS

BELTON, Tex. (UP)—It cost 34 cents a vote for Bell county citizens to express an official opinion on repeal of the 18th Amendment, election costs revealed. The vote was 2,538 to 2,253 for the retention of national prohibition, but the repeal test, was lost in a statewide vote for repeal.

SCHOOL PRAISED BY NRA BOARD

Predictions that Midland high school would receive national fame through organization of its NRA board were seen as justified Wednesday when the following excerpt was read from a letter from the district recovery board of the national recovery administration to the Midland high school board of commerce:

"We are very much interested in your organization of a high school NRA board, which is the first organized in connection with a community recovery campaign, to our knowledge, and we plan to give it some publicity through the press, and feel sure you won't mind."

Superintendent W. W. Lackey plans to complete the board within a few days. A president, secretary and five board members will likely be elected from the various student classifications.

Injured Grid Man Returns to Crane

A sturdy young fellow, Eugene Wason of Crane, will go "out" for football just as soon as his broken leg knits, he told a reporter from his hospital bed today.

The right guard, in scrimmage Monday week, sustained breaks in both bones below the knee. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Wason, will remove him to his home today.

Young Wason has received continuing visits from faculty members of the Midland schools and several students.

A Caesarian operation was performed last night upon Mrs. G. B. Ingram of Crane. Mother and child were doing well today.

Mrs. Homer Ingham, who was confined in a maternity ward, went to her home today. The baby was named Frank.

To Start Potash Core Drilling Soon

ARTESIA, N. M.—The acreage of the Texas Potash company in the Grayburg oil area, twenty-five miles east of here, has been surveyed preparatory to the starting of core drilling tests, it was learned here recently from unofficial sources. The survey work was completed two or three weeks ago and the first test with a core drill to determine the thickness of the potash strata is expected to start within the next few days.

It is understood here that the Sullivan Machinery company has been given a contract to drill a series of tests.

The Texas Potash company, with headquarters in Denver, Colorado, has under lease approximately 25,000 acres of prospective potash land on which several tests are to be made.

PROMISING FIGURES

There is a good deal of encouragement in the most recent figures on employment and payrolls, as released by Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins. Although Miss Perkins properly warns us that "this is not the time to throw hats too high in the air," it remains true that an employment gain of 750,000 in the month of August, accompanied by an increase of $12,000,000 in factory payrolls, can properly be classed as extremely good news.

Perhaps the best part of it is that payrolls are beginning to increase faster than employment. That, quite obviously, means increased purchasing power for the individual man, and forecasts a continued business revival.

For if business is to revive the ordinary consumer has got to spend more money; and he can't spend more if he doesn't get more. Every extra dollar in the wage earner's envelope is an additional stepping stone back toward prosperity.

Under the Dome Of the Capital

AUSTIN (UP).—A fight between state highways and lateral roads for relief funds is rapidly approaching.

State highway commissioners say funds from the $24,000,000 road allotment to Texas should go largely for state highways.

County judges and county commissioners' courts, however, are desiring money for use on lateral roads. Such road work, they say, will hasten employment.

Indications are the county officials will make a concerted effort to get a major part of the state relief bonds used for lateral road work.

Only a few sessions ago the legislature refused to submit state road bonds to popular vote.

Now, many of the leaders in the movement against road bonds, are advocating that part of the relief bonds be used on roads.

Two legislators, each a member of the house, appeared at this session with one aim in a sling. They are Otis T. Dunagan of Big Sandy and Tom B. Hyder of Lewisville. Both were hurt in an automobile accident. Dunagan's accident was near Fort Worth more than a month ago. Hyder had a car door slammed on his hand since coming to the special session.

The house of representatives has a newlywed committee. It was named to receive the votes in election of a house officer. Every member has been married since becoming a member of the 43rd legislature. They are: Thomas J. Renfro of Fort Worth, married May 5; Vernon Lemons of Rainbow, married May 14; Robert Calvert of Hillsboro, married June 7; Emory B. Camp of Rockdale, married July 5; George Moffett, of Chillothe, married August 1, and R. H. Good of Cooper, married September 10.

The Texas legislature believes in flowers for the living. Rep. Harold Kayton of San Antonio, ill at a Temple hospital, was sent a bouquet by his fellow members. A resolution

Connie Bennett in A Different Role At Yucca Theatre

Short cuts to the primrose path and some of the detours of that glittering trail are traversed by Constance Bennett, with a notable cast, including Joel McCrea and John Halliday, in "Bed of Roses" RKO-Radio Pictures' romantic drama starring the glamorous beauty at the Yucca Theatre today, Tues-Wed.

With picturesque New Orleans as its locale, "Bed of Roses" presents Miss Bennett as a reform school graduate who sets out to barter beauty for luxury. She had landed in the reformatory by following her impulses instead of her brain, and emerges determined to snare millionaires under a more coldblooded scheme of action.

Her plan works well enough until her millionaire patron's luxury proves insufficient exchange for the love she seeks. Her friendship with a towboat captain, to whom she is attracted, reaches a state of love; Miss Bennett was directed in "Bed

LIGHT BACKFIELDS AND HEAVY CENTERS IN THE SOUTHWEST

ARKANSAS GIANTS HEAVIEST IN THE BACKFIELD, AGGIES ARE LIGHTEST; ALL CLUBS HAVE MUCH POTENTIAL POWER

By TED H. MALOY
United Press Staff Correspondent

DALLAS, (UP).—Light backfields and heavy centers will form the ball-handling machinery for all Southwest conference football teams this season, with the exception of Rice institute, the average weights of candidates indicates.

Texas A. & M. has the lightest set of candidates for both the center and the backfield. University of Arkansas has the heaviest candidates for the line pivot, and Rice has the bulkiest backfield aspirants.

The much-talked-of light backfield at Southern Methodist university really is among the heaviest, exceeded only by Rice and University of Texas, a compilation of average weights showed.

Texas Christian university, 1932 champion, hits the medium for both centers and backs. Its three center candidates average 180 pounds, Derrill Lester, 200-pounder from Jackboro, is the heaviest. Heard Floore, Fort Worth, and James Simpson,

Winnie Lightner Is Back in Films After Stage Run

After a year's absence during which she toured the vaudeville stages, Winnie Lightner returns to the screen in the First National picture, "She Had To Say Yes," showing today and tomorrow at the Ritz theatre. But is a far different Winnie from the Winnie who last appeared in "Play Girl."

Red headed, vivacious as to figure, smart cracking, and possessed of the most beautiful pair of legs imaginable—that was the Winnie Lightner her fans formerly knew. Smart cracking she is still, and her legs have changed not one iota, but her hair is now its own natural brown, and her figure a little more plump. Winnie has decided to let nature take its course.

"After all, I'm a comedienne," she says in explanation, "and I think I'll just be as funny—and I may be even funnier—when I'm my own natural self."

Winn was a fast girl in pictures, in "Gold Diggers of Broadway." In her new picture, as in her last, "Play Girl," Winnie is featured with Loretta Young, while others in the cast include Lyle Talbot, Regis Toomey, Hugh Herbert, Suzanne Kilborn and Joseph Cawthorne. A new directorial team, Busy Berkeley and George Amy, are responsible for the production. The picture, which deals with a new type of gold digger in the form of "outsiders' girls" used by dress houses to induce out-of-town buyers to place large orders, is based on an original story by John Francis Lanin and adapted by Rian James and Don Mullaly.

Defense attorneys had summoned B. F. Flynn and Bernard Martin of Wichita Falls.

The suit was filed Nov. 12, 1931.

Preliminary court skirmishes began Jan. 5, 1932. Trial was first set for May 23, 1932. A session of the legislature prevented it. Rep. T. H. McGregor of Austin, as an attorney for a defendant company exercised his constitutional right to postpone pending the session.

When District Judge J. D. Moore agreed to postpone the trial from midsummer to this October, Attorney McGregor agreed not to exercise that right this time.

In the preliminary testimony, Alfred sought to establish that an agreement was made at Dallas Sept. 27, 1929, violating the state anti-trust law. Penalties are asked for 732 days of alleged violation beginning Nov. 20, 1929. Minimum daily penalty is $50 a day and the maximum is $1,500 daily.

Besides the American Petroleum Institute and the Texas Petroleum Marketers' Association the suit named as defendants Standard Oil company of New Jersey, Standard Oil company of California, Security Vacuum corporation, Shell Union Oil corporation, Humble Oil & Refining company, The Texas company, Sinclair Refining company, Magnolia Petroleum company, Simms Oil company, Shell Petroleum corporation, Cities Service Oil company, Texas Pacific Coal & Oil company, Gulf Refining company, Pasotex Petroleum company and Continental Oil company.

DENTON EAGLES MAY BEAT FROGS

FORT WORTH.—Defense, particularly pass defense, is being heavily stressed by Coach Francis Schmidt in the Horned Frog workouts here this week.

Austin college made but four first downs against the Frogs, but all of these were by the air route—completion of long passes. Daniel Baker last Friday night, converted a pass into a touchdown almost across the goal line with another, and completed several for good gains.

The Christians, accustomed during the last few years to a forward wall that was the talk of the Southwest, this year are letting opposing players through for disastrous gains.

Inexperience and lack of team work has been all too evident in the two games the Frogs have played to date. Men with plenty of power have been ineffective because they simply didn't know what to do. And instead of the smooth working machine that marched to the championship in 1932, the Schmidtmans have worked as eleven different units, every man for himself.

However, the early season games have also had their bright spots. Hanson places promise of developing into one of the best triple-threats the Frogs have had in a long time.

Casper, a back known chiefly for his speed heretofore, has developed a drive that is going to make him a most dependable ground-gainer. Jimmy Lawrence, sophomore backfield man, promises to bring the fans to their feet on many an occasion before the season closes.

And Coach Schmidt has pointed out to his squad that Friday night's tilt with Jack Sisco's Eagles at Denton is distinctly not in the category of a practice tilt. Since the Eagles took the measure of the S. M. U. Mustangs last week, the championship as a major one for the Frogs Friday.

At the same time the T. C. U. coaches are trying to get ready for their first conference battle, which takes place Monday at Denton in Fayetteville Oct. 7. The Razorbacks are reported to be stronger this season than for several years and on their home grounds are sure to give the Frogs a really tough go.

NEWSPAPER 64 YEARS OLD

"This perfect revelation was reserved for one who came in an angelic chorus and was acclaimed by the wise men of the ages. After having withered every storm of life from the mountain of transfiguration and destined to sink into Gethsemane's vale, after having given all he has to suffering man only to atone a cross for his reward, he gathered his nearest and dearest friends, in reality his family, in the upper room and gave to them in a few words the most perfect and complete picture of that which is to come and their attitude toward life and death to be found in all literature or life.

"Let not your heart be troubled. Ye believe in God, believe also in me. In my Father's house are many mansions; if it were not so I would have told you. I go to prepare a place for you, that where I am there ye may also be. And if I go and prepare a place for you I will come again and receive you unto myself, that where I am ye may be also."

Old Beer Custom Causes Wonder in Ranks of Youth

HOUSTON, (UP).—Grimacing, H. O. Radenz, a carpenter, clambered over the shingles of a duplex which he was helping remodel and carefully nailed a pine branch to the roof.

With this act, he re-established an old custom that had been dead in this city and many others for at least 15 years.

The only immediate effect of his gesture was to cause wonder among a number of young persons who noticed the green sprig.

"Is it Christmas or something?" they asked.

"Not yet," replied Radenz, "but it soon will be."

Several hours later Perry Goodwin, contractor on the job, arrived, and the meaning of the symbol was plain to him.

"I'd nearly forgotten that trick," said Goodwin. "Okay, boys, the beer's on me."

He hastened away and a few minutes later was back with two cases of cold beer. Carpenters, electricians, tinners and painters stopped their labors and waded into the brew.

Although the custom of displaying a green branch as an invitation to the contractor to "tem up" flourished for many years prior to prohibition, nobody knows how the idea originated.

T. S. Lambert, carpenter, said all building craftsmen were strongly in favor of the idea, but he remembered one time they got fooled.

"We put up a temporary addition to a church," he said, "and nailed a green branch on the Mustangs last week, the championship as a major one for the Frogs Friday.

At the same time the T. C. U. coaches are trying to get ready for their first conference battle, which takes place Monday at Denton in Fayetteville Oct. 7. The Razorbacks are reported to be stronger this season than for several years and on their home grounds are sure to give the Frogs a really tough go.

Eight-Semester Rule Inaugurated

AUSTIN.—This year will see the inauguration of the new 8-semester rule of the Interscholastic league, adopted a year ago last spring but effective September, 1933. This rule is based on attendance in school rather than on participation in league activities, according to Roy E. Henderson of the University of Texas League bureau, and makes ineligible any participant in any league event, either literary or athletic, after he or she has been in attendance in high school eight semesters.

This rule is predicated on the belief that the Interscholastic league is designed for the average high school boy or girl, and that such a student would be handicapped in competing with older, more experienced boys or girls.

The first application of this rule will be with the opening of league football.

HAT CAUSED HIS DEATH
GATESVILLE, Tex. (UP).—Because his hat blew from his head, Ellis Kelso, farmer, died of a broken neck. He sustained the injury when he fell as he leaped from a moving milk truck to recover the hat. Kelso lived only a few hours.

GREAT CANNING VOLUME

Five Montgomery county R. F. C. canning plants closed in August, after canning a season's total of 55,172 cans of vegetables, 28,252 of which the county agent says were returned to producers and the balance stored in R. F. C. warehouses for the needy next winter. Twenty-one varieties were canned for 400 producers. It is planned to open 13 plants again in October for the meat canning season.

English consumption of sugar annually amounts to about 100 pounds per head of population.

Can't Sell Hogs; Weigh Too Much

NEW BRAUNFELS.—Erwin Schulze wanted to sell part of his herd of 100 pigs to the government this fall. The premiums paid for light pigs looked good. He had more pigs than he really needed. But when he checked their weights he found that they averaged 35 per cent too much to come within the government definition of less than 100 pounds for light pigs.

Schulze's trouble was in getting entangled in a hog demonstration with George Ellinger, county agent for Comal county, on his farm in Froehel community. The pigs have been hogging down corn and eating freely from a self-feeder containing equal parts of tankage and cottonseed meal. "It's amazing," he says, "how fast pigs become hogs on this system. It is the third year I've used it." He consoles himself in his loss of government premiums by the knowledge that his pigs are paying him top prices for corn.

NEW STAR THREAT TO BARNEY ROSS

LOS ANGELES (UP).—A new star of Louisiana is rising out of the West to threaten the dominance of Barney Ross and Tony Conzoneri in the ranks of the lightweights.

Young Peter Jackson, spindly legged negro, capitalized on his chance to win national recognition a week or so ago by pouncing on a decisive victory over Lew Massey, the Philadelphia Italian. So decisive was his margin of victory that his backers immediately began dreaming dreams of a title fight.

Deserves Consideration

Distant as such an encounter may be, Jackson deserves consideration as a ranking contender for the crown the great Benny Leonard held so long. For two years he fought noteworthy opponents as state champion. He suffered not a single setback. Ross, offered a match last Jan., sidestepped the issue. Before that Al Singer declined. It was not until Massey signed for a Los Angeles match that Jackson drew an opponent to whom a victory would pin some semblance of national recognition.

Massey, who holds the title of state champion in Pennsylvania, was considered an even money bet to wallop the up and coming Californian. He boasted a string of victories which established him as one of the East's leading lightweights and the outstanding contender for a match with Ross or Conzoneri. Yet against Jackson his star dimmed in total eclipse.

Easy Target

He was an easy target for the negro's lethal left and roving right, both of which Jackson uses with equal dexterity. The Californian ended the match in possession of eight of the 10 rounds. Had he packed more dynamite in either hand he would have won probably by a knockout.

Jackson fights best at long range. With underpinnings like a bird, he possesses the arms of a middleweight. When he connects with a full, unimpeded swing, few opponents can survive. Many of them don't as evidenced by his knockout record. Defensively, he maintains a knitted front that opponents find hard to penetrate.

FISHING IMPROVED
YELLOWSTONE PARK, Wyo. (UP).—Fishing seems to be improving in Yellowstone Park, officials report. To Aug. 15, visitors entering the park by automobile reported catching 74,526 fish, a record number. Thousands of fish caught by travelers entering the park by train were not reported.

Youthful Santa Is Suing School

VISALIA, Cal. (UP).—It was an unwelcome Santa Claus who brought the Walnut Grove school district and Edna Reed, principal, a $15,000 damage suit.

The suit was filed by Albert Davis, father of Theodore Davis, 10 year old school boy, who, the complaint charge, was seriously burned about the face and hands when cotton whiskers and cuffs of a Santa Claus costume caught fire in a candle flame.

The boy was enacting the role of Santa Claus in a school entertainment.

MANY HENS CANNED

FLATONIA.—An idle hen has no value loose in the poultry yard, but fattened and safe in a can on the pantry shelf her food value is high, thinks Mrs. Gus Eidelman, home demonstration club member of Flatonia, who works under the coaching of Miss I. V. Norman, Fayette county home demonstration agent. Acting on this policy Mrs. Eidelman canned 18 such hens in August, making 37 cans of chicken for future good meals. For variety some of the hens were roasted and some were stewed.
