AUSTIN. Oct. 3.—Eleven additional subjects were opened to the special session of the legislature by Governor Miriam A. Ferguson Monday.

She suggested passage of a law that would regulate the occupation of hair dressers and cosmetologists by creating a state board for the licensing of persons, firms, co-partnerships, associations or corporations in that business. Another bill would reduce the state poll-tax, roward appropriation to reimburse grower and producers of cotton for expenses incurred by them through the years extending from 1929 to 1932 by reason of the state having established regulations requiring the growers to fumigate their cotton and sterilize cotton seed as a precaution against the spread of the pink boil worm.

Other matters submitted included:

To provide for insurance of deposits in state banks after next January.

To provide for the government of water power control districts and water improvement districts organized in accordance with the provi-sized of the government of water power control districts and water improvement districts organized in accordance with the provi-sized of the government of water power control districts and water improvement districts organized in accordance with the provi-sized of the province of the feets of the high school ing. ## MAJOR STRIKES ARE ENDED TODAY

Behind the five-hit pitching of Carl Hubbell and the blasting hitting of Mel Ott, the New York Giants defeated the Washington Senators in the opening game of the world series this afternoon. Beginning in the second inning, when Ott hit a home run into the right field bleachers with Moore on base ahead, the Giants took a lead they never relinquished, took a lead they never relinquished, and never were in danger until the eighth, when Hubbell walked two men and faced retiring the side witin only one out against the Nats.

Weakening in the ninth inning, the ace screwball pitcher for the National league faced a theatrical finale, when the bases were filled and no-one was out. He was not removed by Manager Bill Terry, however, and succeeded in retiring Joe Cronin's hard hitting aggregation with only one run trickling across the plate.

with only one run trickling across the plate.

In the meantime, the Giants knocked Stewart, Washington starting pitcher, from the mound in the third, blasting out three hits, and Russell, a castoff from the Boston Red Sox, relieved. Two were on base and none out at the moment. He gave up one run in that iming, and pitching three hit ball, two of the safeties being registered by Ott, until taken out for pinch hitter in the eighth. Al Thomas, ex White Sox star, finished the game, not allowing a hit.

Out, beside his home run blow, hit three singles, for a perfect day at bat. He accounted for three of the four New York scores.
Hubbell struck out 10, six of them in the first three innings. The first three to face him, Myer, Goslin and Manush, were whiffed:
Cronin and Schulte led the

COMIC RELIEF

Persons with democratic tendencies sometimes wonder just why England continues to support the luxury of a peerage. Now and then some individualistic member of the peerage will unwittingly furnish the answer—or, at any rate an answer at any rate, an answer.

There is, for instance, the Duke of Devonshire, who a hot dog. made a little speech at a horse show in Derbyshire the other day, in the course of which he unleashed a die-hard old Tory's dislike of the age of modern inventions. The Mr. Kay Nine's column for the dope auto was the chief object of his attack; he called autos on the department. 'foul, stinking things' and "horrible brutes making life hideous," and he added:

"When I first knew this horse show we came here as gentlemen, and not as crashing cads."

And here you have it. It must be almost worth while for a nation to support a system which produces old gentlemen who can make speeches like that.

SPECTACLE AND WARNING

The Navy Department is now preparing to send six of 12 seaplanes on a mass flight from San Diego to Honolulu, according to recent reports. Such a flight would be the longest single over-water hop ever attempted by a mass formation.

It is also reported that if this flight is successful, a group of at least 25 planes may be sent to Europe next summer, as a gesture to balance General Balbo's flight However much the layman may quibble about the

However much the layman may quibble about the utility, or otherwise, of such flights, they at least make gorgeous and exciting spectacles. Furthermore, they are excellent demonstrations of military strength. A nation that puts on such flights tacitly warns its potential foes.

ular notice is taken of school lighting facilities. It's so simple—so easy to have good light in proper proportions. All you have to do is add a globe here, change one there and keep all sockets filled. Inadequate lighting is nothing but false economy—there is no reason for it. Here are a few general rules to follow: Have light in adequate quantity and correctly diffused. All lights should be shaded so you are unable to see the light bulb. All lights used for reading or study should be so arranged that there is adequate illumination on the work without any semblance of glare in the eyes of the child.

to whip down the ears of a Southwestern foe—and generally does it. TCU, playing the only conference foe, is unfortunately (for Frog supporters) having to run square against the giants of Arkansas, a club that not only has beef, speed and all-round technique, but is motivated by a winning spirit. In the latter game, it is conceded by many that the club which jumps the hurtle will start a reign of terror for those occupying other berths; howell be no voice raised from the farflung expanse of the Southwest conference. elubs unscored on and united. There will be no voice raised from the farflung expanse of the Southwest conference. Six points have been scored on four conference members, seven on two and 13 on the other. Only two games have been played by any club except TCU, which has played three.

There is always a glamorous halo that hangs at a rakish angle from the brow of an unscored on club. The fact that the strongest eleven in the country may not play before a mirror that allows for his being measured for such an adornment has nothing to do with the mob's psychology. There is no measuring stick with which to gauge the public's fancy.

This week may see some start—ever, most authorities consider the other factors—Texas, SMU, Baylor and, possibly worse, A. & M.

A little information of the TCU-Arkansas conference history: The clubs have met nine times, TCU winning seven of the games. Rivalry started in 1920, TCU winning 17-2. Arkansas won in 1924 and 1927, 20-0 and 10-3. The only time the Frogs have been to Arkansas since Coach Schmidt's assumption of the overlordship at TCU was two years ago, when the Frogs barely managed to win at a homecoming day for Arkansas alumnae, 7-0. Total points of the nine games: TCU 133, Arkansas 65. The greatest scoring was in 1930, when the Frogs dedicated their stadium by a 40-0 win.

Reports have been circulating anent Midland's going to Marfa for a game this week-end. At the moment, it appears these are mere rumors. The oracles do not point to the advisability of the game this early, inasmuch as the result would figure in the district percentages. There is no secret about Midland's club being green and virtually untried. We have confidence in its being strong enough potentially to play any club in this end of the district, but have sufficient evidence to believe a long ride to Marfa this early in the season might allow for a toss-up. The more time a green team has the more confidence it gathers. The Dogs are still in the days of training on a leash, and should not be allowed to run afield until the latest minute possible.

Latest reports said Young Stribling has a "fighting chance" to live. One wonders if the scrappy battler wants to live, now that his rugged usefulness has waned. To feel the thrill of personal encounter in the ring, the wind on his cheek in pulling planes into a steep zoom in a climbing turn, to strain the fastening of his buttons with speed of surface motors—all that would be affected by loss of a foot. On the other hand, some of the greatest athletes have found, after being incapacitated, they could fit in other leashes, flea powder and dog soap, as Midland dog owners groom their entrants for Saturday's show. The show will be given on the minature golf course, just west of the newspaper office from 4 to 7 p. m. Social Notes

FROGS' CHANCES AGAINST HOGS

FORT WORTH, Oct. 3.— The Texas Christian university Horned Frogs found themselves face to face with the old injury jinx when they started this week to work out a way to beat the Arkansas Razorbacks in Fayetteville Saturday.

Paul Hill, 240-pound sophomore guard, depended upon to do much toward strengthening a line almost demolished by graduations last year, is out with a broken leg. Charlie Casper, ace man of the backfield in the three games played so far this season, has a hand injury that this season, has a hand injury tha will prove a terrific handicap. Res Clark, promising sophomore ball-lugger, has been out for a week lugger, has been out for a week with a bad foot and may not be in shape to go against the Porkers. Cy Perkins, tackle, also injured his hand in last week's game.

Coaches Schmidt and Wolf have never quite determined just what combination will click. Apparently, there is yet no such thing on the Frog squad as first-string men. The starting combination has been changed on the second play, and it's never quite the same twice in succession. The injuries will add to the uncertainty.

There will be a lot of work on defense on the Frog practice field this week. While the Christians have thad only six points scored against them in three games, their defense has looked entirely too ragged to stand the tough going of a confer-

I thought Joe was spoofing me when he told me of the 'Hidden Quart' of Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil-that is, until last Wednesday night. He said it stayed up in your motor and never drained away, or something like that." Ruth: "What has that to do with your experience, Louise?" Louise: "Oh, a lot—it saved me at least from an embarrassing situation—one which might have been even dangerous, for it was a lonely road-miles from any place.

"Oh, of course, I could have stopped at another gas station, but the motor was behaving so splendidly and was not getting hot and I was so anxious to get home, I drove direct to my familiar Conoco station." Ruth: "Well, that is an experience and I'm very much impressed. I am going to have our car greased and change to winter grade oil tomorrow and I am going to try out your 'Hidden Quart' oil-especially since you say it is more economical in the long run. I'll probably never have your experience, but it's a comfort to know I'll have that protection."
