Vengeance Murder Seen in Note Charging Infidelity

FORMER ABILENE MAN; AND WOMAN FOUND IN HOTEL

San Antonio House Detective Hears Cries in Phone

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 18. (UP).—Police today saw the possibilities of vengeance murder or suicide in the slaying of Sam J. Cleeton, former Kansas City lawyer, and Lillia Wells, 26, bank employe, at a hotel room here yesterday.

Cleeton left a note accusing the girl of infidelity. It was believed he shot the girl to death and then killed himself.

The friendship lasting more than a year between Miss Lilliam Wells, 31, bank employe here, and Sam J. Cleeton, 36, formerly of Abilene, ended in death for both in a shooting in a hotel room here.

The young woman's cries for help over the house telephone sent R. F. Roberts, hotel detective, to the scene, but when he entered the room, both Cleeton and Miss Wells were dead. Miss Wells had been shot through the chest, shoulder and both hands—her hands were clasped over her breast as though she had held them up to ward off the bullets.

Cleeton lay face down on the floor. Near him was a pearl-handled pistol, inscribed: "From Chief Sibley to S. J. Cleeton." Officers learned from Abilene that Ruck Sibley, Abilene police chief, had presented Cleeton with a similar weapon after Cleeton assisted him in his campaign for election.

Miss Frances Wells, sister of the slain woman, working in a store a block from the hotel, heard neighbors crying papers detailing the tragedy and became hysterical when she learned it was her sister who had been killed.

Cleeton was in the hotel room officers found a note addressed to Mrs. E. R. Wells of San Antonio, the slain girl's mother.

Police said Miss Wells told friends before going to the hotel to meet Cleeton that she was going to end their friendship, which had lasted about a year. He failed to meet her in the lobby and she was told by the desk clerk that he was in his room. Some time later her cries for help were heard over the telephone. An untouched sandwich lay on a table in the room.

Justice of the Peace John B. Shook withheld an inquest pending completion of an investigation. Funeral arrangements were delayed until Mrs. Wells could return from Roswell, N. M., where she went Sunday. Besides her mother and sister, Miss Wells is survived by a brother, Earl.

Cleeton practiced law in Kansas City for a short time after the world war, but left the city in 1923. He was a native of Cherokee county, Missouri, and formerly lived in Moberly, Mo. He had lived in San Antonio about a year and was connected with a land company with holdings in Texas, particularly in the Laredo and East Texas oil fields. He returned to San Antonio from Laredo. He lived in Abilene two and a half years, beginning in 1927, going there from Florida. He moved to Hobbs, N. M., in 1930, where he practiced law, then several months later moved to Tyler and subsequently to San Antonio. Officers were attempting to locate relatives.

LIONS TO STAGE BENEFIT DANCE

A benefit dance will be given by the Lions club on Halloween night, the board of directors of the service club decided today. Proceeds will be placed into a fund kept for fitting impoverished children with eye glasses.

"The Lions club took the lead in caring for children with weak eyes two years ago," a spokesman for the committee said, "and we have several applicants this year. Believing the public could get a dual pleasure out of the entertainment—dancing and contributing to a meritorious cause—the Lions were unanimous in voting for the dance."

A good orchestra will be engaged for the dance, which will be held in the Crystal ballroom of Hotel Scharbauer.

The Rev. and Mrs. W. C. Coe, who are conducting a series of revival meetings at the First Christian church, will be the regular weekly luncheon program today. The minister spoke on "Character Building," and Mrs. Coe sang.

BULLETS RAKE CRAWLEY CELL

JONESBORO, Ark., Oct. 18.—Guns blazed again in the factional dispute of the Jonesboro Baptist tabernacle congregation when a hail of bullets was fired into the cell of the Rev. Dale Crowley, held in the county jail here for the slaying of W. MacMurdo, the church janitor. The minister, asleep on a cot in the cell was not wounded. Officers said the fire apparently came from automatic pistols.

Lights in the cell blocks were extinguished and Sheriff Johnson immediately started an investigation. Nearby residents told officers they heard an automobile leave the vicinity of the jail as the shots were fired.

Examination of Crowley's cell showed that most of the slugs had struck a steel partition but several went through the wall.

One of the men who refused to allow any one to enter the building. Those who heard the shots said they came from within a short distance of the building, and sounded as though they came from two guns of different calibre.

Ainslee Estes Is Popular Student

Ainslee Estes, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Estes, 211 W. Kansas, is having a busy year. A student at the University of Texas College of Mines and Metallurgy, El Paso, he is an officer in four organizations. He is president of the Scientific club, vice-president of the Rifle club, executive secretary for the senior class and secretary-treasurer of Alpha Phi Omega fraternity.

He is a graduate of the Midland high school.

MORE PLAYGROUNDS

NEW ORLEANS (UP).—Ninety-five additional public playgrounds will be made available to school children through financial aid from the National Emergency Relief Administration. Unemployed athletes and physical directors will be in charge of the recreation centers.

PENAL CODE IS INVOKED TODAY BY PRESIDENT

Delegates Authority For Enforcing Compliance

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18. (UP).—President Roosevelt today invoked the penal sections of the national recovery act, delegating full power to General Johnson to prevent violations and force compliance with codes and agreements.

General Johnson supplemented the president's order with one placing those who display the blue eagles under the reemployment agreement on equal footing with those for whom codes have been promulgated.

TYLER, Oct. 18. (UP).—O. A. Bigelow and A. E. Foy of Gladewater and W. J. Gorton of Tyler were arraigned in federal court today on a charge of violation of the federal oil control act. They pleaded not guilty, waived examining trial and made bonds of $1,000.

E. J. Extrum of Kilgore also was arraigned. He pleaded not guilty but did not immediately make bond. The charges made a total of eight.

WELL-KNOWN MEN ARE WITH FARLEY

FT. WORTH, Oct. 18. (UP).—The city prepared to greet Postmaster General James A. Farley, Vice President John Garner and their party which is due to arrive late today.

A program of luncheons, dinners and dedications was in store for tonight and tomorrow, the biggest event being the opening tomorrow of the Arlington Downs race meet.

DALLAS, Texas, Oct. 18.—Joseph C. O'Mahoney, first assistant postmaster general, will be a member of the party of federal visitors accompanying Postmaster General James A. Farley, on a four-day good-will tour of Texas, beginning October 18.

Joe O'Mahoney is a familiar figure in Washington, where his services to the democratic party in his state and in the nation have been of immense value. He went to Washington for his first active public service as secretary to a man who had formerly been in Texas, and many Texans will remember Senator Kendrick of Wyoming.

Mr. O'Mahoney is a New Englander who followed Horace Greeley's famous injunction. Born in Chelsea, Mass., in 1884, he went to Cambridge, then to New York, then to Washington for his education where he studied at Columbia university. He went West to practice his profession of law.

Politics early attracted him as a field for his many talents and from 1922 until the present day no democratic campaign in Wyoming has been complete without his services. He is today Wyoming's member of the national committee and vice chairman of the state committee.

Clinton B. Eilenberger, third assistant postmaster general, will be a member of the Farley party making an air tour of Texas this week. He is one of those men whom the public rarely knows but one without whom public affairs cannot be successfully carried on. He is the sound counsel, the safe and careful advice that act as a check and balance. It is natural that this be so for ever since he was 25 years of age he has been engaged in the banking business.

Born in Pennsylvania fifty-seven years ago, Eilenberger was educated in State Teachers' college and at Drexel Institute, Philadelphia. It was early in his banking career that he began to take an interest in matters political, to keep his finger on the public pulse. This led him naturally into active participation in democratic party affairs in his state and he is now treasurer of the Pennsylvania state committee.

Accompanying Postmaster General James A. Farley, and fifteen federal visitors on a tour of Texas, also will be W. W. Howes, second assistant postmaster general, a man little known to Texas but famed in Washington as one of the best orators of the administration.

Born in Wisconsin in 1887, Howes was educated in the universities of Minnesota and South Dakota, and then entered the profession of law. Before he was thirty he had been recognized as a leader in public affairs and was elected a member of the state senate. Four years later he became the democratic candidate for governor. Since then he has been his party's leader in South Dakota, serving first as state chairman, and since 1924 as national committee man. In 1926 and 1928 he was elected state's attorney.

Mrs. Joiner of Stanton Interred

STANTON, Oct. 18.—Mrs. J. W. Joiner, 76, died at her home here Monday night. She had been in poor health for several years.

She had been a resident of Martin county for the past 30 years.

Services were under the auspices of the Methodist church. The Rev. Vaughan officiating. Interment was made in the Stanton cemetery Tuesday afternoon.

She is survived by her husband, one son, J. R. Jr., and three daughters, Mrs. Weaver of Oklahoma, Mrs. Clarence Cook of Colorado, Texas, and Miss Ida Joiner of Stanton.

Hearst to Feed 9,000 Yearlings

SAN ANGELO, Oct. 18.—The ranch of William R. Hearst in the state of Chihuahua, Mexico, has made a contract to feed 9,000 steer yearlings at Brownsville, where the ranch last year fed 6,000 head. It was reported here. The cattle will be crossed about Nov. 15.

FARMERS GIN SHUTS DOWN BECAUSE OF LIGHT CROP; HILL HANDLES CROP

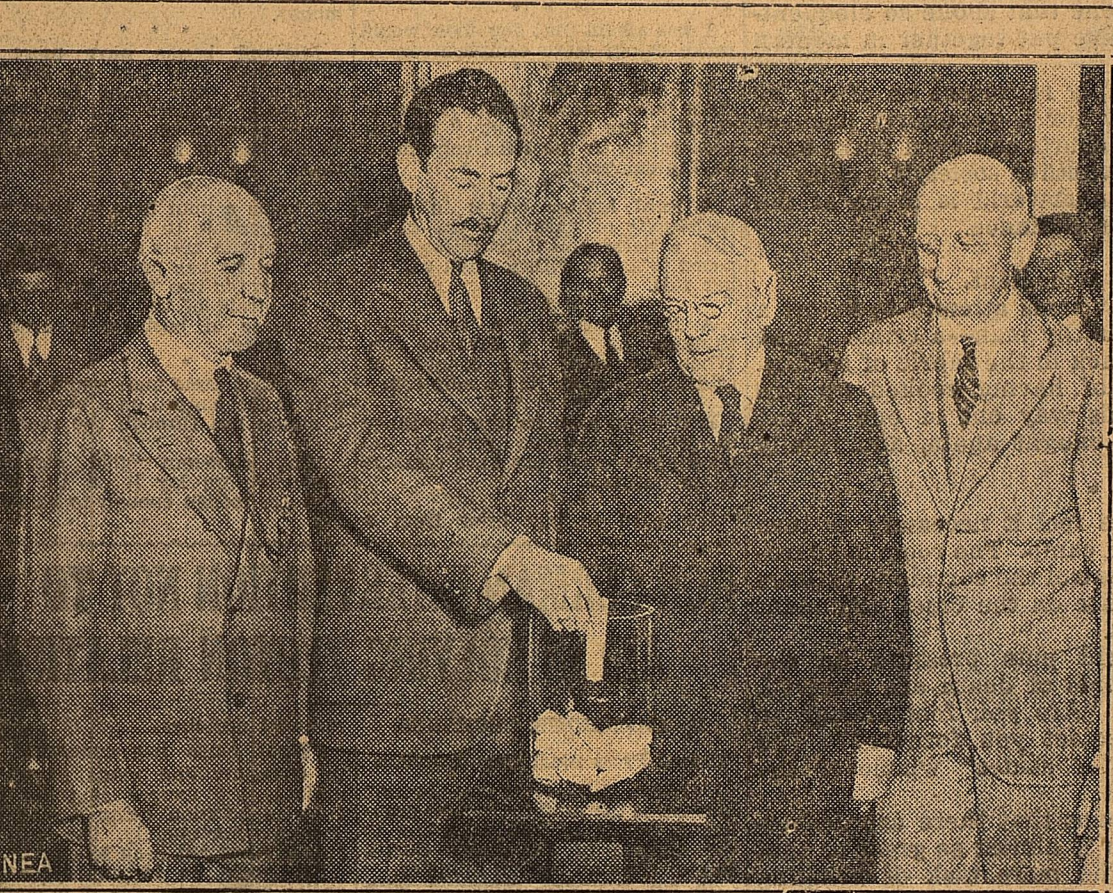

Through agreement with the Hill Ginning company, the Farmers Cooperative gin through its board of directors has voted to shut down and leave all ginning of this year's light crop to the other gin. The Williams & Miller gin did not open for business this season Saturday, and the estimate for Midland county crop running no higher than from 200 to 300 bales, as opposed to nearly 10,000 last year.

The Farmers gin will continue to grind stock feed on Wednesday of each week, and corn meal on Saturday, it was announced.

The Farmers gin began operation three years ago under a cooperative plan. The plant, valued at $45,000, has only two more notes to meet before the property will be clear. There is a note for $3,500 coming due this fall, and one for an equal amount falling next fall.

Besides discharging its indebtedness on notes, the gin company has returned to stockholding farmers through dividends about $5,000, and has allowed credit of thousands of dollars additional. The procedure of returning money to farmers is some-

Launching Greatest Financial Operation Since War

A ceremony remittance of the war-time draft was conducted at Washington when high Treasury and Reserve Board officials, as shown here, drew from a glass jar the numbers of the three series of the Fourth Liberty Loan to be retired in the government's move to cut its huge interest load.

STANTON DRIVES TO RESTORE UNITS

Hope for restoring affiliation to the high school there was expressed by W. A. Limmer, superintendent of the Stanton system on a visit to Midland.

The school lost its accredited units last school term when economic stress caused an early closing. Four hundred and sixty are enrolled in the Stanton schools, 90 in high school. This year's senior class is only 14, as compared with 30 last school year. There are 14 teachers, and two others are likely to be added.

The school centers an independent district of 109 sections, 115 to 123 school children being transferred from the outer margins by two school buses.

The valuation of the district is $1,272,781. The tax rate is $1.52 cents of which goes for maintenance, 48 to retiring bonds.

A Strong Parent-Teachers association faces the work of enrolling the superintendent said.

Supt. Limmer was in charge of the Andrews public school before going to Stanton.

Kills Mate, Holds Service Over Him

MEMPHIS, Oct. 18. (UP).—Mrs. Daisy Storie, 39, hanged her unemployed husband to death with an axe, then held family prayer service over the battered body here today.

She said her husband, Robert, 45, beat and threatened her, ordering her to leave home. Her daughter, Manella, 17, confirmed the mother's statement.

GERMAN INERTIA EXPRESSED TODAY

BERLIN, Oct. 18. (UP).—Hitler, in a published speech today, declared that "Germany will attend no conference, join no alliance, adhere to no convention and sign nothing" until she is granted equality with other nations.

Compliance Bd. To Meet Thursday

Chairman John O. Nobles of the Midland NRA compliance board has called a meeting of the board for 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon. Members are: Judge J. M. Caldwell, Sam Warren, Joe D. Chambers, Mrs. E. Russell Lloyd, Rawlins Clark and Fred Wemple.

Complaints of any alleged violations of NRA will be heard. People knowing of violators of codes, chiselers, or any not doing their duty under NRA are invited to appear before the board to present oral as well as written complaints. The government requires that all complaints be written out and signed. Complaints may be made in writing to Chairman Nobles or any member of the board, without the complainant having to appear at the Thursday meeting.

Gowl Appointed Hides Inspector

J. V. Gowl, who is connected with the Midland Transfer company, has been appointed deputy hide inspector and is ready to discharge his new duties. He was sworn last week. Record books will be here within a few days.

Provision for a hide inspector was made in the past, but with the abolishing of the office the duties have been assumed by the justice of the peace, who appointed Gowl because of the offensiveness attached to inspecting them in his office, second floor of the court house. The new arrangement is better for another reason—Gowl's place is near the railroad and shipping office.

KANSAS TOWN SEEKS BEAUS

ALMA, Kan. (UP).—This town perhaps will go into the importing business—importing of eligible marrying men. City officials are considering offering inducements to outside boys, since the local boys went out of circulation with the marriage, a few weeks ago, of Harold Schmitz and LeRoy Noller. A number of pretty maids are waiting for a beau.

PROCESSING TO PAY BIG COSTS NECESSITATED

350 Millions to Be Required to Make Adjustments

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18. (UP).—The agricultural adjustment administration today embarked on a long term plan to balance corn and hog production with demand, to cost $350,000,000 raised by processing taxes.

Under the plan, 20 per cent of the corn acreage would be taken out of production for three years and the hog crop would be reduced 25 per cent in two years.

Corn growers would be paid 30 cents per bushel net on average yield of the acreage removed from production. Hog raisers would get $5 per head in installments over a two year period on 75 per cent of their average production.

FARM PRICES STILL TOO LOW, REALIZED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18. (UP).—The White House feels that farm prices still are too low, despite the gradually rising index figure, a statement today said.

Prices of things the farmer buys were increased 32 per cent from March to September over the same period last year while prices of his products rose only eleven per cent it was stated.

The administration will seek an advance in farm commodity prices in line with the recovery program.

TEXAS CONFORMS TO ALLOWABLES

AUSTIN, Oct. 18. (UP).—Texas brought its 47,000 oil wells under the federal allowable today, the railroad commission ordering its production cut to 957,555 barrels daily.

Allowable for East Texas was set at 461,368 barrels, East Central, West Texas, 123,005, West North 25,000, Panhandle 44,500, North Texas 42,500, Southwest Texas 41,349, Gulf Coast 165,943.

Rev. Grady Timmons Goes to Nashville

SAN ANGELO.—The appointment of the Rev. J. Grady Timmons as pastor of the First Methodist church in San Angelo to the pastorate of the McKendree Methodist church at Nashville, Tenn., was read at the close of the Tennessee conference at Clarksville Sunday. Its suddenness shocked members of the church here, but the promotion to one of the most important charges in Southern Methodism was not surprising.

Mr. Timmons Sunday will preach his farewell sermon here and will deliver his final lecture to the Business Men's Bible class which he and six others organized in Dec. 1928, and has grown to be an active membership of 992. The following week the minister will go to San Antonio for the annual West Texas Methodist conference on Oct. 26-29, inclusive.

Born at Mart, Texas, June 21, 1894, Mr. Timmons attended grade and high school there and did preparatory work at Polytechnic college at Fort Worth before entering Southwestern university at Georgetown, from which he received his A. B. degree in June 1919. On Oct. 2, that year, the newly ordained minister and Miss Annie Mae Cook were married at Newman, Ga. They have two sons, James Timmons, 13, and David Timmons, 9.

Mr. Timmons' first charge was at Pleasanton, 25 miles south of San Antonio, beginning in Nov. 1919. He spent two years there, went to Kerrville for a year, was at Lampasas three years and at McAllen three years before coming to San Angelo to succeed the Rev. Gaston Harkins, field, now at Walco. Several weeks ago he was asked by the McKendree Methodist church at Nashville if he would consider an appointment to it, but had no intimation of the change until letters of welcome began arriving from Nashville. He motored at once to San Antonio, where Bishop Sam R. Hay notified him the change had been authorized. E. E. Elam, superintendent of McKendree's Sunday school, is a brother-in-law of Mrs. H. K. Kindree of San Angelo.

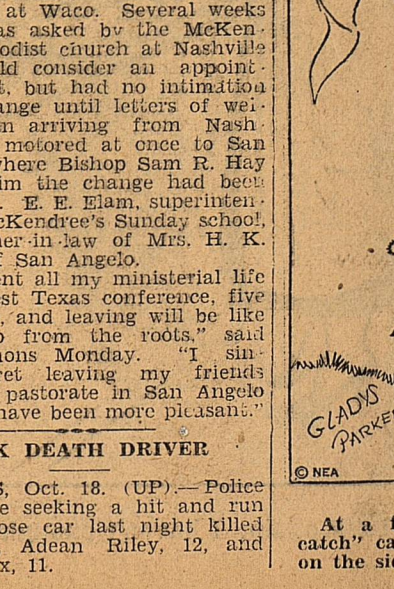

"I've spent all my ministerial life in the West Texas conference, five years here, and leaving will be like pulling up from the roots," said Mr. Timmons Monday.

"I sincerely regret leaving my friends here. My pastorate in San Angelo could not have been more pleasant."

TO DEBATE CAMBRIDGE

COLUMBIA, Mo. (UP).—Teams of Cambridge University and the University of Missouri will meet here Nov. 14 in an international debate. The Missouri debaters who will meet the Englishmen have not been selected, but Von Allan Carlisle, Kansas City, Mo., and Julius Levy, New York City, have been elected captain and secretary of the team.

Ritz Benefit Show Attracts Patrons

Increase of theatre goers at the Ritz Tuesday evening attested to the interest of the city in the benefit given the bulk fund of the North and South Ward Parent Teachers associations, presidents of the organizations said today.

"We are making one more appeal to the public to support this cause," said Mrs. Herbert King.

"Tonight is the last showing of the benefit picture," said Mrs. L. C. Link, "and we urge all who can do so to contribute to our fund by attendance."

The show is given by Manager J. Howard Hodge in the interest of providing a percentage of the box office receipts to the associations, which, in turn, are buying food for school children, in several instances, having no breakfast before arriving at their buildings. All who are being served are under-nourished, teachers say.

SAMPLE OF SOCIETY IN A. D. 1933

Guessing about what the historians of the future are going to put into their text-books is a futile and profitless pastime, ordinarily. But it seems a pretty safe bet that they will find at least a couple of paragraphs for that kidnaping trial held in Oklahoma City.

More than any other criminal trial in years, perhaps, this case is symbolic of the present era. Not since Al Capone was sent to prison for failing to pay his income tax has there been a courtroom scene that spoke so eloquently of the kind of society we have put together in modern America.

For the trial does not simply represent an effort by the courts to fix responsibility for a peculiarly insolent crime. It is a test whether the courts can even make such an effort in the first place; whether society's ability to inquire into the acts of the underworld is to be at the mercy of the underworld's own defiance.

Consider the situation for a moment. To begin with, we have a vicious attempt to extort a large sum of money from a wealthy man—a crime whose more occurrence indicates a crack in the fabric of society.

Then the man suspected of having cooked up this crime is caught. He forces his way out of one of the strongest jails in the land, is caught again, and finally comes to trial.

At his trial the authorities feel it necessary to turn the court into a veritable armed camp. The room is guarded by machine guns, rifleman patrol the corridors, officers in court are ordered to open fire on the chief defendant if anything suspicious happens.

Meanwhile the underworld puts pressure on the state's witnesses. Written threats of death are received. One witness is bluntly asked, "Are you fool enough to think the government can protect you forever?" The chief prosecutor rises to speak.

Now all of this simply means that there are desperadoes in this land whose power is almost as great as that of organized society itself. The mere task of bringing them to trial taxes society's resources to the utmost. The whole story of the trial will tell future students volumes about American life in the year 1933.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Theory that the continents are not geologically anchored in their respective places is presently to be tested by 100 savants observing with delicate instruments at as many widely separated stations. The opinion of the German observer, Dr. Alfred Wegener, some 15 years ago that Greenland drifts westward about 113 feet a year started the notion that all the continents may be afloat and drifting somewhere at a like leisurely pace.

The time is not remote when the object of examinations after courses of study was chiefly to find out the student's ability to remember facts, names and theories. A significant change appears in a form of examination reported from the University of Chicago. There a topic which involves different opinions is given the student and his immediate business is to think about it aloud, his thoughts being taken down in short-hand as they come, and his "mark" determined by the way he thinks. If a student reminds the examiner of poet Dibdin's jolly waterman who "rowed along thinking of nothing at all" he will get a low mark.

After his walk along streets of opened windows, almost any of these warmish Saturday afternoons, the stroller returns home convinced that football, this season, is more of an aerial game than ever.

NON-GERMAN INTERVENTION NOT TO AID IN SOLVING TEUTON RELATIONS

By FREDERICK OECHSNER, United Press Staff Correspondent

BERLIN (UP)—Any non-German solution of the Austro-German problem is bound to fail, according to the opinion of Dr. Julius Curtius, former German foreign minister.

In an exclusive interview with the United States, Dr. Curtius declared "Without Germany, Austria must sink into the chaos of south-eastern Europe and the Balkans. Austria cannot be made to object of the buffer state policies of certain great powers. Any solution excluding Germany—whether the Tardieu plan, the Hapsburg restoration, or other Danubian combinations—must be considered as directed against Germany."

Curtius is a close student of Austro-German affairs and it will be recalled that during his term as foreign minister he instituted the Austro-German customs union on the championship of which finally caused his resignation.

One who, between 1930 and 1931, sought to rescue German Austria for itself and the entire German people," continued Curtius, "has the right to attack the Vienna politicians who, since the end of 1931, have turned their backs upon Germany and believed themselves able to inaugurate a so-called Austrian policy with the help of the League of Nations, or by lining on some sort of international crutches."

"What since has concerned us in Germany and made us indignant is the danger of some un-German solution being reached in Vienna. Fortunately, the outlook recently has not been so gloomy. "It would be fortunate for the entire German people if a change in the system actually were underway in Vienna, making possible the rejection of all un-German solutions."

"Gambling Ship" a Fast-Moving Drama Of Thrills at Sea

High-tension excitement is packed into Paramount's pictorial expose of those palatial shops of high-stakes on the high-seas entitled "Gambling Ship" showing tomorrow and Friday at the Ritz theatre with a cast featuring Cary Grant, Benita Hume, Jack La Rue, Genevieve and Roscoe Karns.

Land-forbidden thrills are the stock in trade of these modern pirates who anchor their luxurious vessels out beyond the law, and the film is a true picture of real gambling boats that exist out on the West Coast where the fast crowd wows thrills in the exciting atmosphere of the forbidden gambling table.

Cary Grant enacts the role of "Ace" Corbin, big-time racketeer who leaves New York for a long vacation after his acquittal from a trumped-up murder charge, instigated by a "business" rival, Manning, played by Jack LaRue, Paramount's especially menacing menace.

"Gambling Ship" is a floating outpost of illicit thrills, a picture of action in a luxurious setting, where stakes are too high and the law too blind.

Paris Feels Secure In Impregnable Air Defense and Lights

PARIS (UP)—The network of anti-aircraft defenses encircling Paris, and the rapidity with which they can hurl a stream of deadly explosives into the skies on a moment's notice, are revealed in a dramatic account by A. Jules-Noreck, writing in "Le Journal."

The account is remarkable in its disclosure of the extreme mobility of these defenses, about which the general public knows next to nothing. He writes: "At 11 p. m. the automatic detectors of the Eiffel Tower and others as far away as 50 miles from the capital, ring a signal bell at the Invalides. The approximate location of approaching planes, their estimated speed and type are described on ticker tape."

"Minutes before the detectors have filled in all details, a captain at the Invalides, attached to the Air Defense Corps, is talking on a multiple telephone circuit to the commanding officers of the anti-aircraft batteries of Romainville, Noisy and Nogent.

"These are the nerve centers for the northeast sector of the Aerial Defense organization for Paris. About seven minutes after the Invalides alarm, these officers are at the fire control. Every man is in place, guns uncovered and ready. "Meanwhile, a button lighting a long string of searchlight batteries over the indicated approaches has been pushed."

"The detectors continue their story, tracing the path of approaching enemy planes, other anti-aircraft batteries are made ready, other searchlight avenues blaze upward."

Without this account does not reveal even the approximate extent of the Paris aerial defenses. But it nevertheless is comforting to Parisians, who remember the early days of the World War when German planes flew nearly at will over the city.

CLEAN FOOTBALL

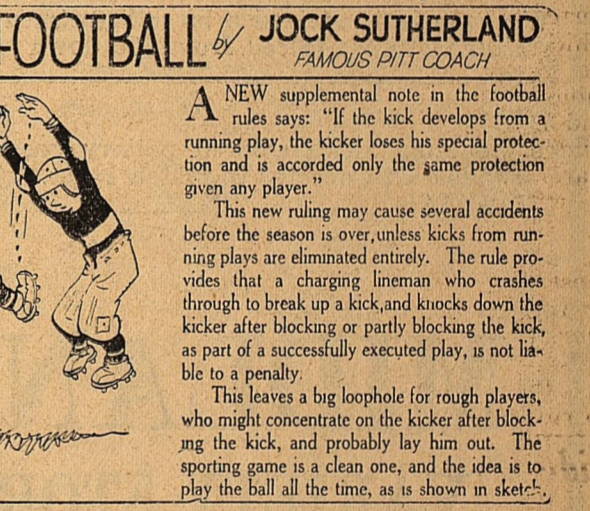

CLEAN FOOTBALL

JOCK SUTHERLAND FAMOUS PITT COACH

A NEW supplemental note in the football rules says: "If the kicker develops from a running play, the kicker loses his special protection and it accorded only the game protection given any player."

This new ruling may cause several accidents before the season is over, unless kicks from running plays are eliminated entirely. The rule provides that a charging lineman who crashes through to break up a kick, and knocks down the kicker after blocking or partly blocking the kick, as part of a successfully executed play, is not liable to a penalty.

This leaves a big loophole for rough players, who might concentrate on the kicker after blocking the kick, and probably lay him out. The sporting game is a clean one, and the idea is to play the ball all the time, as is shown in sketch.

Pet Crow Insists On Attending School

SALEM, O. (UP)—Otis O'Brien, Salem high school student, and his pet crow are bosom friends. The bird proudly follows the youth at work and at play, about his home. Otis had made such a pet of the crow, which he took into his home shortly after it was hatched, that it actually insists on accompanying him to school, and sulks when its company is rejected. On the day Otis returned to school, his "pal" went with him, but as the youth joined his school mates in the building, the bird wandered about the grounds. Seeing an open window, it flew into the classroom where Miss Hart was teaching English. Young O'Brien was sent for and took the bird home. On another occasion, the bird entered the school through a hall window, and went directly to Miss Hart's class. Again it was escorted home.

Pecos Wins Over Barstow Team, 7-0

BARSTOW, Oct. 18.—By smothering a passing attack from "Putt" Hammit, former Rice star, to "Goody" Earle, former University of Texas ace, the Pecos team today defeated the Barstow gridlers here.

Tuesday week, 7-0. Ray McNeil, former Sul Ross backfield star, scored the lone tally of the game when he got loose for 65 yards around right end in the first few minutes of play. The two teams were composed entirely of former high school and college stars of the two towns. On the Pecos team were: Milan Taylor and J. Cox ends; Sewell Johnson and John Brown, tackles; Jessie Bush, and Grady Durdin, guards; Arthur O'Neil, center; Pinky Bowie, quarter; Ben Pruitt and Hap Harrison, halves; and Ray McNeil, full. For Barstow, the lineup was: Earle and Malcolm Hill, ends; Bud Hayes and R. Hensley, tackles; Fats Winkler and Boots Davis, guards; Chick Le-Croy, center; Hammit, quarter; Carl Rexford and Ray Lewis, halves; and "Son" Estes, full.

FISHING BOON TO JOBLESS

JANESVILLE, Wis. (UP)—Hundreds of unemployed men of Rock county found clam fishing for shell a lucrative trade this summer. After a closed season of 12 years, the waters of a number of streams were opened for clam fishermen. Unemployed men transported their families to the scene of operation and spent the summer there. The clams were taken to shore, where they were boiled in vats. The meat was sold to farmers for hog feed, while the shells sold to button manufacturers for prices ranging from $35 to $65 a ton, depending on the quality.

The song, "Tipperary," was written in one day on Jan. 31, 1912; the author, Jack Judge, sang it the same evening at the Grand Theater, Stalybridge, Lancashire, England.

FROG-AGGIE GAME HOLDS SPOTLIGHT FOR WEEK IN SOUTHWEST CONFERENCE

FORT WORTH, Oct. 18.—Saturday will be Home-coming day for Texas Christian university exes and alumni. On the same day the entire cadet corps from Texas A. & M. college will visit the T. C. U. campus. The day has been declared an official holiday at T. C. U. The big event of the day, of course, is the football game between the Frogs and the Aggies, scheduled for 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon. But there are many other events of interest.

The homecoming program will get under way with a mammoth pep rally and bonfire Friday night. A shirt tail parade by the students through the downtown district of Fort Worth will prolong the night's activities.

Saturday morning the T. C. U. exes will meet by classes. At noon Mrs. Charles A. Stephens, state president of the alumni group, will preside at the homecoming luncheon. Sidney Latham, state representative from Longview and former Frog cheer leader, will be the principal speaker. Greetings will be brought from President E. M. Watts and Dean Colby D. Hall of the university, from Van Zandt Jarvis for the board of trustees, and from representatives of the various classes. Music for the activities of the two days will be furnished by the Horned Frog band, directed by Prof. Claude Sammis. The band will meet the Aggie special at the train and will parade with them downtown Saturday morning.

The Horned Frogs are out to maintain one tradition and to break another in Saturday's tilt. They want to break the old conference tradition that "Champions never repeat." They want to maintain their record of no defeats by the Aggies since 1924.

Taylor and Essinger, injured guards who were unable to play last week, hope to be in shape for the A. & M. game. If they are not, Coach Schmidt will be severely handicapped at this position, for there will be but three men available.

Practice sessions this week are all directed toward the objective of developing an offensive drive. The old saying that "The best defense is a strong offense" is being every move that the coaches make in preparation for the game.

A record breaking homecoming crowd is expected to view the contest. The entire Aggie cadet corps will make the trip to Fort Worth to support their team. A holiday has been declared by T. C. U. for the day.

THE STORY OF MR. DOG Katherine Francis, 3rd grade, Jr. H. My dog's name is Trixie. He is very mean and smart. He loves my brother. I love him, too. He is brown and white. He is on the watch. I wish Daddy would bring him in.

MY DOG G. W. Wolcott, 3rd grade Jr. H. My little dog's name is Bugga. He is always getting into mischief. He chases chickens and chases the cow. He eats bread and milk. He sleeps in the barn by the window so he can get fresh air. He likes best to lie on the rug by the fire.

MY NEIGHBOR'S DOG Billie Joyce Aekers, 3rd grade, Jr. H. My neighbor has a dog. His name is Bob. He has a black spot on his back. He has a black spot on his leg. He does all kinds of funny things. He follows shows, and rolls balls, too. He is a very smart dog. He is a very old dog.

TEDDY JR., OUR PAL Reynour Schneider, 4th grade South Elem. We were all wondering one day if we were ever to have a dog. That afternoon Mrs. Ellis, one of our neighbors, brought a little dog to us. It was their big dog's son. Their big dog's name was Teddy. We drew names and drew Teddy. Then there were two dogs named Teddy, so we called ours Teddy, Jr.

WHAT MY DOG CAN DO Dorothy Montgomery, 4th grade South Elem. My dog's name is Frisky. He can say, "Bow! Wow!" My dog can smoke a pipe. He can stand on his hind feet. He takes care of the baby. He likes to chase us children around the house and pull at our overalls and tear them.

WHAT MY DOG CAN DO Christine Johnson, 4th grade South Elem. When I was six years old, I had a large dog. His name was Fuzzy. He was a very good dog. One day my little brother was in the street. The dog saw him in the street. He went and took him by the pants and brought him back in the yard.

MY DOG FRIEND Crystal Belle West, 4th grade South Elem. My dog's name is Trixie. She is a very smart dog. The other day there was an unwelcome visitor came and tried to get our chickens. The people that live next door have some rabbits. The dog tried to get them, too. When our dog saw this unwelcome visitor trying to get them, he chased it away.

MY DOG Rose Kincaid, 5th grade One day we were going swimming. My little brother could not swim.

No. 13 Doesn't Mean a Thing

The number thirteen holds no terrors for Richard Boleslavsky, motion picture director, who filmed "Beauty for Sale," now playing at the Yucca theatre, Thursday and Friday, as a new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer offering. Boleslavsky was the thirteenth man in his division of the Polish Lancers during the war. He was the only one of the thirteen to survive. And there are thirteen letters in his name, including initials. Therefore, when it was discovered there are just thirteen people in the cast of his new picture, Boleslavsky refused to consider it superstitiously.

"If I find twelve people at the dinner table I always try to find another to make it thirteen," he said. "I prefer to walk under ladders and pay no attention to broken mirrors, spilled salt or other superstitious tomfoolery."

The thirteen people listed in the cast of the picture, adapted from the sensational Faith Baldwin novel, are: Madge Evans, Alice Brady, Otto Kruger, Una Merkel, May Robson, Phillips Holmes, Eddie Nugent, Hedda Hopper, Florine McKinney, Isabel Jewell, Louise Carter, John Roche and Charles Grapewin.

Most of the glamorous story is placed in the past, in a fashionable beauty salon where intimate boudoir secrets are revealed.

Investors Hunt Serial Numbers On Called Bonds

Call for partial redemption of the $6,000,000 fourth Liberty Loan 4 1-2 per cent bonds of 1933

1938 maturity has sent West Texas investors to their safety deposit boxes and bankers to their treasure chests to check serial numbers. The big issue had wide distribution throughout the country but there is no way of knowing how many are held here.

Chief interest from the point of view of the holder is the option of turning in the called or uncalled bonds, exchanging all or part at par for the new issue of ten and twelve-year Treasury bonds dated October 15, 1933, and bearing interest at the rate of 4 1-4 per cent until October 15, 1934, and thereafter at the rate of 3 1-4 per cent.

The bonds mature October 15, 1945. Treasury circulars received by the banks here list the called permanent coupon bonds as those bearing serial numbers, the final digit of which is 9, 0 or 1, such serial numbers being prefixed by a corresponding distinguishing letter, J, K or A, respectively, and the temporary coupon bonds bearing serial numbers, 9, 0 or 1. Interest ceases on the bonds called April 15, 1934.

The treasury circular shows 3,500,000 coupon bonds outstanding in $50 and $100 denomination and 1,500,000 registered bonds, more than half of which are in the $50 and $100 denominations.

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (UP)—Henry Totty, custodian of the court house here, is using a new weapon against public enemies. The weapon is a roman candle, the public enemy sparrows that invade trees around the court house.

His dog was smart. The dog jumped in and got him. It was only three months old. I was very scared.

It is a very smart dog. It can dance and swim. When you want him, you can whistle to him and he will come. I was playing one day and I saw a little girl at my gate. She was crying. He licked that little girl. He licked her hands. I fed the little girl and she went on. The dog followed her and I had to call him back. His name was Spots.

COLORADO FORMATIONS BEING RUN AGAINST MIDLAND HIGH'S BULLDOGS

Monotonous drill of offensive and hours of defensive grill have succeeded to the daily afternoon practices of the Midland high school Bulldogs, as coaches drive their charges through the grind in preparation for the Friday afternoon game with the Colorado high school Wolves.

The second team has been running regulars most of the week, and the first stringers are bruised and stiff from personal encounter.

Showing indecision and lack of punch in Saturday's game against the Owls of Big Lake, and taking a 14-13 beating, the club is being drilled in every factor of play with the hope it will emerge from its imperfect conglomerate its lack of team play has marked it to a smooth-working machine that has marked at least two other Barry-coached elevens.

The Wolves, coached by Big Jim Cantrell, former TCU fullback have not shown much class to date. They were barely able to defeat McCamey last week by one point, and made only one first down during the first two periods of that encounter. Strong men like Siagner, end who is called to the backfield at any moment, and Hall are likely to break forth in scoring spurges at any time. The Wolves' defense is not checked, however, make the Wolves dangerous when a heads-up defensive is not played.

Colorado is a Class A club, one of the regular foes of Midland during the two years the Bulldogs played in that circuit. Colorado won by a top-heavy score here last season—another reason why Midland coaches are working early and late. Colorado can be beaten there is possibility of the club shaking off its lethargy and becoming reestablished as a threat to win the Class B district.

installed—a five-stand, 80-saw unit. The poor crop, however, together with the likelihood of less cotton being planted next year on account of the government's offer to pay increased rental prices on non-planted acreage has caused a grave problem to exist for stockholders. However, the gin company sells oils, gasoline and other supplies to county farmers, and realizes a steady profit with which to balance against losses incurred through this year's light crop.

Cotton has been selling from 9 to 10 cents, and seed is more or less stable at $12 a ton.

Out of the SCRUGGS DAIRY MILK BOTTLE COMES FOOD VALUE The United States Labor Department suggests that if the food budget is limited twenty-five to thirty cents out of every dollar expended should go for milk or its equivalent. That is because milk contains practically every element necessary for health. And the milk should, for greatest return, be of the fine, unvarying quality in Scruggs Dairy milk. 7 Good Reasons why OLDSMOBILE is 100% ahead in sales in its price range

More than one out of every four buyers in the Oldsmobile price range of eleven cars choose Oldsmobile. For Oldsmobile, so far this year, has sold 27.3% of all cars in its field—which is 100% greater than Oldsmobile's share of sales in its field in 1932. There are seven good reasons for this great Oldsmobile preference: 1. Quiet and smoothness. 90 h.p., 80 to 85 miles an hour in the Eight; 80 h.p., 75 to 80 miles an hour in the Six. 2. Owner Satisfaction. Oldsmobile owners are enthusiastic. They recommend Oldsmobile to their closest friends. 3. Price. Oldsmobile looks, performs, and lasts far beyond price indication. The Six—$745 and up. The Eight—$845 and up, f. o. b. Lansing. 4. Choose Oldsmobile—the Style Leader. Drive the Six or the Eight today—and you will marvel that such a car is priced so low. G.M.A.C. terms, convenient and easy. 5. Outstanding Dependability. In engine, chassis and body, Oldsmobile's exceptional dependability makes it a most economical car. 6. Value. This year's sales point to Oldsmobile as the real value in its field. 7. Performance Leadership. Remarkable flexibility, acceleration, quiet and smoothness. 90 h.p., 80 to 85 miles an hour in the Eight; 80 h.p., 75 to 80 miles an hour in the Six.
