May Force Compromise Nazis Widen Air Raids On England; On Compulsory Training Great Mass Attack Due 'Any Time'

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3 (AP)—An administration drive to line up the senate votes needed to pass the Burke-Wadsworth compulsory military service bill was begun today, but so much opposition was manifested that some supporters predicted a compromise would be necessary.

position votes would be cast, Senator Lee (D-Okla.), an advocate of compulsory service, said an informal survey indicated that it would be necessary to seek some middle ground in order to get the measure through the house, as well as the senate.

OFF TO WASHINGTON TO OPPOSE CONSCRIPTION—Dressed as Paul Revere, 18-year-old Elane Summers, daughter of a Seattle, Wash., attorney, is shown as she set out by horseback for Washington, D. C., to oppose compulsory military training. She is carrying a scroll which she intends to present to President Roosevelt.

REVIEWING THE
BIG SPRING WEEK
BY JOE RICKLE

This evening church services will be held under the heavens at the amphitheatre in the city park. This fine structure has been put to good use in community entertainment and can be used to a higher purpose in the Sunday evening services for the remainder of the summer. Devotionals in the great stone bowl not only should be decidedly more comfortable, but they should be more inspiring as well. Go to church this evening.

Temperatures At New High

Big Spring didn't share in seasonal heat records set Saturday in many a Texas city, but it still was hot enough for localities. The continued blistering heat climaxed a two-week barrage with a top of 101 degrees Saturday afternoon, as registered at the airport weather bureau. Folks downtown figured that was too low a figure.

WHO? IT?

This Mr. Whoist was fresh from "Gaw-Jub" about two score years ago, but since then he has become a confirmed Texas booster. He has too many irons in the fire for a hobby, but two grandchildren occupy his spare moments. Born at Post Oak, Ga., he was orphaned at two, went to Arkansas as a young man, came to Abilene as a stockman in 1908, and immediately went broke. At Colorado City he got a job with a furniture and undertaking establishment, later became the town's mortician. The population was so healthy he gave most of his time to civic work, 15 years as a volunteer worker and 12 years as a professional. Big Spring needed him, and since May, 1937 he has been getting on things after another for the city. He is a deacon in his church, head of the Olive Music association, an "Old Monarch" Lion, an Elk, and a director in the state and West Texas chamber of commerce managers association. He qualifies as Daddy of the amphitheatre.

San Angelo also had 103 but it was two below Friday's season's record. Plainview had 103 degrees but scattered rains late in the day brought some relief. The thermometer hit 104 at Midland.

Snyder Boosters To Be Here Monday

Chamber of commerce officials Saturday urged that Big Spring people turn out Monday at 3:35 p. m. when a delegation of Snyder food-will trippers will arrive here to boost the fourth annual Snyder rodeo.

BOWLING MISHAP IS FATAL TO PIN-BOY

ITASCA, Texas, Aug. 2 (AP)—Fifteen year old Travis R. Bralley, pin-boy in a bowling alley here, died today en route to a Fort Worth hospital from injuries received in a freak bowling accident. The boy was struck on the head by a ten-pin ball which unexpectedly swerved from the alley onto the return runway just before it got to the pins. He was seated in his accustomed place, out of range of any ordinary flying wood.

Two Shutdown Days Added As Curb On Oil

August Production Due To Be Slashed 75,000 Bbls. Daily

AUSTIN, Aug. 3 (AP)—The Texas railroad commission today added Aug. 15 and 22 to seven oil shutdown days this month, slashing estimated statewide daily production of 1,242,054 barrels by approximately 75,000.

Balkans Attempt To Settle Fuss To Please Axis

BUCHAREST, Aug. 3 (AP)—Fears of communist disturbances in Hungary and of Hungarian disorders in Rumanian-held Transylvania complicated the Balkan situation tonight as Bulgaria, Hungary and Rumania prepared for an attempt to settle their boundary differences in a manner acceptable to the axis powers.

OIL COMPACT CALLED TO MEET AUG. 23

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 3 (AP)—The interstate oil compact was summoned today to meet here August 23 for a discussion of problems of the industry which will include study of "petroleum and the national defense."

Frank Kelley To Show Four Horses Here

Assurance of gaited horses for exhibition during the Big Spring rodeo August 14 and 15 came Saturday after local committeemen in charge of the horse show classes were advised that Frank Kelley, fancier of Colorado City, would bring several of his finer horses here.

Kelley will have four horses here for the two-day show, including Melania Wilkes, an outstanding three-year-old mare which has won high recognition in many shows this year. A five-gaited exhibition will be given at each of the shows, and at each night performance, one of Kelley's horses will be shown in a combination-saddle and harness-exhibition.

A special event in the horse division will be the local park-pleasure class on the first afternoon, when all Big Spring riders will have their mounts on display. A special exhibition of Palominos is probable for the second afternoon, it was said by R. R. McEwen, in charge of the division.

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "One Infinite God, good, unifies men and nations; constitutes the brotherhood of man; ends wars; fulfills the Scripture, 'Love thy neighbor as thyself'; annihilates pagan and Christian idolatry—whatever is wrong in social, civil, criminal, political, and religious codes; equalizes the sexes; annuls the curse on man, and leaves nothing that can sin, suffer, be punished or destroyed" (page 340).

Dictatorships Ready To Battle U. S. For S. American Trade

ROME—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—Germany and Italy already are talking of a trade war with the United States for South America's markets in the event the two totalitarian powers complete their conquest of Europe by defeating Great Britain.

It would be a war of countries without gold against the United States which holds 80 per cent of the world's monetary gold reserve—a commercial conflict between fascist Europe and democratic America.

The Sole of Milan, Italy's leading financial newspaper, has openly challenged Washington's plan to forestall an economic penetration of the axis powers into Latin America.

The recent Pan-American conference in Havana agreed to the establishment of a broad economic plan originated by Secretary of State Cordell Hull for immediate relief of countries burdened with exports shut off from European markets and development of an independent American system strong enough to prevent foreign customers from forcing unfair trade terms or practices upon individual countries.

be composed of all European countries including France and Great Britain down to the Mediterranean nations. Rome would be the center for the countries on the Mediterranean nations. Rome would be the center for the countries on the Mediterranean shores, with both partners in the axis sharing control of the Balkans.

Virginia Gayda, authoritative editor, outlined this plan in his Giornale d'Italia.

Europe, he said, would be divided into two great interlocking economic blocs with their centers at Berlin and Rome. The countries within the same area would trade largely with one another, some supplying raw materials to manufacturing countries in exchange for manufactured goods.

August Vote Expected To Be Smaller

AUSTIN, Aug. 3 (AP)—If history is repeated, the vote in the runoff primary August 24 will be much smaller than the record-breaking vote cast July 27.

Yet there are reasons for a big outpouring of the electorate in the second primary. Candidates for a place on the railroad commission, the chief justiceship of the supreme court, two seats in congress and many in the legislature will be decided at that time.

Final tabulation probably will show about 1,150,000 votes in the first primary, approximately 35,000 more than the previous record in 1938.

If the second primary should see the same increase over the second of two years ago, the total vote would be about 900,000. Some think such an increase unlikely and that the second primary vote may be even less than in 1938 because of factors tending to lessen interest. Two years ago, for example, there was no war. In addition there were runoffs for lieutenant-governor, attorney general, associate justice of the supreme court, judge of the court of criminal appeals, railroad commissioner and land commissioner.

Moreover, Governor W. Lee O'Daniel, by his endorsement of several of the runoff candidates, had greatly stimulated interest in the outcome. This year the governor has said he will endorse none.

The highest vote in the 1938 runoff primary was 857,845 cast in the race for attorney general.

Railroad Commission

The runoff for railroad commissioner between Olin Culberson and Elmer Brooks is attracting more than usual interest because of the peculiar situation in the present commission, composed of Ernest O. Thompson, Jerry Sadler and Lon A. Smith, the former relations of Culberson with the commission and the fact that the commission regulates the tremendously important oil industry in Texas.

Culberson and Brooks are running for the place of the veteran Smith, who is retiring.

For years prior to January, 1939, commission policies, especially with regard to oil, were decided largely by Thompson and C. V. Terrell, with Smith often constituting a minority. But in 1938 Terrell was defeated by Sadler, and at the start of 1939 the policies began to be formulated chiefly by Sadler and Smith, and Thompson frequently was a minority.

Last October Sadler and Smith fired Culberson from the directorship of the gas utilities division of the commission to which he had been appointed by Thompson and Terrell in 1932 after, as a candidate for the commission that year, he had been defeated by Thompson.

This is Brooks' third try for a state office. In 1936 he was a candidate for governor, and in 1938 a candidate for lieutenant governor.

In choosing between James P. Alexander and Hal Lattimore for chief justice, the voters will be electing to that office for the first time since reconstruction days a man who has not had previous experience on the court, that is, has not been either an associate justice or an appointed chief justice before standing in an election. In this sense, they will be electing a man direct from the people.

There will be six runoffs for state senator and 74 for state representatives. This means that one-half of the house, which has 150 members, yet is to be chosen.

More Work Than Glamor For CAA Trainees Taking Advanced Course

Glamor gets lost in work in this business of learning to fly under the CAA secondary flight training program.

Ten collegiates sent here for the second stage of their aviation training are finding that out as Art Wintheiser, flight instructor, and Harvey Morris, ground school instructor, put them through their paces.

When the young men, picked from CAA preliminary classes at their colleges as being most promising students, are not up in the air with Art, they are huddled down in a hangar with Morris or poring over an impressive textbook.

The first three days of the initial secondary contract here was given over to ground school work, but Wintheiser wheeled out the army Waco Thursday and gave the lads a chance to demonstrate what they had learned and to teach them new tricks about the flying game.

Most of the class members readily admit that flying the Waco is considerably different from piloting the lighter ships they had for preliminary training. Consequently, they watch to see how each class member makes out on his initial hop. When an awkward move is made, they profess to get a great kick out of it. It amounts to a laugh in self-defense.

When one fellow leveled out too high from the runway in landing, the gang gathered around and roared. "Whatta matter?" asked one who missed it. "Oh he just landed a little bit high," volunteered another. Presently, however, it comes another's turn and the tables are often reversed. It's easier to talk a good flight.

In the school work on ground, the young men study such complex subjects as theory of flight, aero-dynamics, navigation, meteorology, etc. Some of that gets slightly into mathematics, and none of it is easy as falling off a log.

It's not all work, for rules prescribe that class periods shall not continue too long at a stretch. Already, a ping-pong table has been rigged up and other amusements will follow.

Across from the south hangar a 40x50 classroom building is nearing completion. It has an oval type roof and is built around the framework of an old Jenny plane.

As soon as this is finished, CAA class activity will center in it. The structure will be the nerve center of the CAA program in Big Spring, for preliminary and secondary students alike will make it their headquarters until Uncle Sam says their wings are all right.

Stocks End Week With Little Change

NEW YORK, Aug. 3 (AP)—The stock market today edged out of a fair-ailed recovery week with minor gains and losses about evenly split.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was unchanged at 42.9 but on the week held a net advance of 1.4 points. Transfers amounted to 121,960 shares against the 22-year low volume a week ago of 83,220. The day's price stalemate was exemplified by the fact that, of 366 individual issues traded, 122 were up, 116 down and 128 unchanged.

BOMB SCARE COSTS HIM A SUITCASE

PASSAIC, N. J., Aug. 3 (AP)—The latest bomb scare ruined Emanuel Loeb's new suitcase.

Loeb, a New York insurance salesman, asked a Passaic storekeeper today to keep his bag for an hour. When three hours passed and he hadn't returned, the lady in charge recalled recent bombings and called police.

They quickly soaked the suitcase in oil. Then Loeb rushed in to open the bag and bring forth his insect killing equipment.

New Trucking Service West

New truck service west is now available to Big Spring shippers. It was made known Saturday, with inauguration of additional schedules by the Texas & Pacific Motor Transport company, truck affiliate of the T&P Railway company. The Transport company recently was given a certificate of operation by the Texas railroad commission, result of a hearing held in Big Spring some months ago. The company sought, and was granted, authority to pick up freight in Big Spring for Texas points west. It now operates four schedules westward, for all points, including transfer at Monahans for towns north of there. Trucks leave at 10:45 a. m., 1:30 p. m., 3:30 p. m. and 12 midnight. Cuba is about 90 miles from Florida.

POLITICAL MEETINGS IN MEXICO BANNED
MEXICO CITY, Aug. 3 (AP)—The federal district department today banned political meetings or demonstrations in an apparent effort to curb any disturbances growing out of the turbulent July 7 presidential election. The press meanwhile disclosed that the administration party's claimants to congressional posts denounced independent followers of General Juan Andres Almazan at a secret meeting yesterday and arranged a 24-hour guard around the congressional hall to prevent possible seizure by Almazanists.

MUST PAY
DALLAS, Aug. 3 (AP)—An 18-year-old groom told police his 16-year-old bride ran away and asked them to recover the wedding and engagement rings which had not been paid for. The practical police not only told him the rings were the property of the bride, but advised him further he had better keep up the payments.

News Writers Given Glimpse Of Hamburg

HAMBURG, Germany, Aug. 3 (AP)—A small group of German, Italian and American journalists rode into Hamburg today on the hard benches of a military transport plane, but in a swift two and one-half hour trip through the city saw canoists paddling on shady canals and business in full swing.

The trip was arranged hurriedly by the propaganda ministry in response to British reports quoted by the German press as saying this important shipbuilding center had been "pulverized."

(An authoritative British source telling yesterday of 3,000 air raids on more than 100 German cities said the port of Hamburg is "now practically in ruins.")

(This source said that Hamburg, with oil refineries, munitions factories and docks which are in the center of the city, had been "pulverized again and again.")

(It is necessary to bear in mind the distinction between port and city.)

(All attacks, the British source said, had been "planned with studied care with the object of avoiding damage if possible to towns and cities which are non-military objectives.")

On the basis of a two and one-half hour trip about Hamburg, one can hardly claim to be an authority on what has been going on in all parts of this third largest city in Germany, but the correspondents saw no "pulverization."

KAYAK II WINS COAST FEATURE

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 3 (AP)—Kayak II won the $20,000 Sunset Handicap at Hollywood Park today, defeating Specity in a stretch duel, with Big Flash third.

Kayak II, redeeming himself for a poor showing a week ago, colared Specity as the field turned into the stretch and won by a head.

The time for the mile and one-half closing feature of Hollywood Park was 2 minutes 30 1-5 seconds.

Kayak II, owned by C. S. Howard, was the betting favorite with the crowd of 35,000. The Argentine paid $4.80, $4.00 and $3.40. Specity paid $3.80 and $3.40 and Big Flash $5.00.

BASE WORK FINISHED ON AYL福德 STREET

Installation of base material on Aylford street was completed Saturday and city workers were to be directed on the final phase of the original paving program for 1940.

Initial steps will be lowering water mains on S. Main street, a section of W. 17th, on Fourth street and in Edwards Heights.

Excavations for the Main street job are to be started soon. Meanwhile, work has been completed on the flood detention dam at Main and 13th and only masonry on the spillway remains to be finished.

MAN'S WATERFALL TOPS NIAGARA.—High water on the Columbia river churned up this mighty rapids as overflow poured across Washington State's big Grand Coulee dam and spilled 190 feet—higher than Niagara Falls. Water can be seen pouring through three of the 50-foot overflow gates across the dam, and it also is coming through overflow conduits near the top and about half way down on the big concrete barrier. Size of the dam is indicated by comparison with man in lower left. Cranes also the spillway are used to control the overflow gates and other machinery.

Water Safety Course Opens This Week

In an effort to play its part in reducing the enormous toll of drowning deaths and water accidents, the Howard county chapter of the American Red Cross will start its annual swimming, life saving and water safety course Thursday at 5 p. m. at the municipal swimming pool.

Walton Morrison, chairman of life saving for the local chapter, said that there would be instruction for elementary and advanced swimming as well as in life saving.

He will supervise the course and Champe Phillips, Stanley Mate, George Thomas and Seth Garrison will serve as instructors.

There is no charge for the service and the Red Cross is desirous that as many who can will avail themselves of the courses. There is no age limit in either direction on the swimming, but life saving courses are open only to those above 12 years of age.

For Sale: Mansions Of Long Island; You'll Not See Their Like Again

Clarence Mackay's 'Roslyn'

Times were different when there was a Prince of Wales

By ADELAIDE KERR
AP feature Service Writer

ROSLYN, N. Y.—Long Island's great estates are vanishing one by one.

Some of the most famous were doomed only this summer by changing times. At least one country castle is being torn down to save taxes. Others have been sold and their landscaped gardens and private golf courses cut up into neat suburban plots.

The financial kings who built these show places are gone and their wealth divided among children who have homes of their own. Taxes and upkeep would make terrible dents even in ample incomes.

But there's more than death and taxes behind it all. There's a new mode of life. The young bloods seem to have no taste for the pomp and circumstance which the last generation loved. They like both their houses and their parties simpler and gay.

Diamonds and Champagne

Latest of the great Long Island mansions marked for the wrecker is Colonel Henry H. Rogers' beach house at Southampton. Built with millions that gushed from oil wells, it will soon be torn down, at an estimated cost of $10,000, because of taxes and upkeep.

The 50-room stucco house, with its lavish furnishings and formal gardens, was the scene of glitter-

Old Settlers To Change Dates On Annual Reunion

Traditional dates for the Old Settlers Reunion of Howard county will be changed next year.

Officers of the association Saturday announced that the reunion would be moved back from the fourth Friday in July to the third Friday, presumably to avoid conflict with the political rallies attending the biennial democratic primary. Plans are for officials to make arrangements for the 17th annual convalescence at a parley set for the second Saturday in June — 1941.

A complete list of officials for the association includes I. B. "Doc" Cault as president, Jess Slaughter as vice-president, Ed Brown as assistant to the ranking officers, Mrs. Maggie Richardson as secretary-treasurer with Ed Simpson as assistant, and Nat Shick, W. G. Hayden and Bud Brown as directors. Active committee members include Jim Crenshaw, T. Joiner, Sam Childress, Charley Hayes, Lee Castle, Noble Read, J. W. Carpenter, Jim McKinney, Clay Mann, Hardy Morgan, John Bates and Raymond Nall.

FINISHED HIS NAP BEHIND THE BARS

Earl Kelley, negro, curled up in a car at 709 Johnson street Friday night.

He removed his shoes, for he was tired, and maybe a little bit drunk. Fearful residents called police, and well let the police blotter tell it: "he had pulled off his shoes and had decided to go to sleep. Negro finished nap in jail."

Never Again

But the project was abandoned this spring when the Department of Sanitation sought partial exemption from taxes on the place and the Huntington, L. I., town board opposed the plan. The es-

Farm And Ranch Talk ROUND THE COFFEE POT

By Newton Robinson

Bearing winds and a prolonged heat wave further dimmed crop prospects for this county and weather reports for this week held little hope for rains in the near future. Neighboring counties were in a like condition with ranges, feed and cotton crops suffering heavy damage from lack of moisture. Most farmers in this county were knitting, hoeing out weeds this week, but a look at most of their crops was not encouraging. Some farmers in parts of the county have already banded a portion of their cane crop to save what they could for drouth.

Quite a few farmers and small cattlemen in this area are selling off their cattle because of lack of feed and poor range conditions. Early feed that they have been counting on has been hard hit by drouth.

Three sponsors have answered invitations to be on hand for Big Spring's seventh annual rodeo August 14-15. Miss Carolyn Cox of Garden City; Miss Eilah Biss Elliott of Stamford and Miss Nancy LaForce of Midland will represent their cities at this event.

Farmers in this area were busy vaccinating their work stock for sleeping sickness this week. According to Dr. O. E. Wolfe, 23 cases of the disease in the county are being treated.

Sam Greer's 24-section ranch in Glascock county has been sold recently for $102,000 it is reported.

The buyer for this place was H. W. Hart of Sterling.

A. G. Murr of Junction paid a top price of $200 for a stud buck at the Texas Angora Goat Raisers annual show and sale Friday. The buck was consigned by W. S. Orr of Rock Springs.

In spite of the fact that one variety cotton groups have been organized in three communities of this county, there is some doubt as to whether farmers in those communities will continue with plans and plant the better grade exclusively. There was an unusual demand last year for the short staple cotton and consequently farmers who planted the better variety did not realize an adequate premium on their stuff. Many are considering going back to their original short staple brands. Communities organized for this purpose were Vealmoor, Lomax and Vincent.

A little item that you might add to your historical data of Howard county was told by Claude Ballard of Foran. As near as he can figure it, Mr. Ballard said that a trip was made through Big Spring by Bob Hamill of Temple over a hundred years ago. A party including Hamill was on the way westward to hunt gold and camped here enroute to the Pecos river. Although no Indians were encountered by the party, this vicinity was well covered by their signs. Mr. Hamill claimed that this area was almost bare of grass but a variety of weeds made a heavy cover for the range. Moss Springs was hidden under a rock ledge and the creek bed then carried running water. The party camped in this vicinity several days.

Two games of polo are to be played here Sunday at the polo field south of the airport. A game each are scheduled between Pecos and Big Spring; Lubbock and Lamesa. There will be no charge for admission. Sunday week the Big Spring club will move to El Paso for a game there.

'ISMS' AT TEXAS U. ARE INVESTIGATED

AUSTIN, Aug. 3 (AP)—Alleged communistic and socialistic activities among University of Texas students and faculty members were the objectives of Dies committee investigators who worked behind closed doors here today. Secretary Robert E. Stripling, who came here with three investigators declined to reveal the purpose of the Austin investigation but it was known that several university students were questioned by investigators. The investigators made tentative plans to leave tomorrow.

NO CAUSE FOR ALARM here, for Big Spring firemen are getting ready to make a run for Sunday school. Prevented from leaving their posts of duty, Sunday school has been brought to firemen and policemen by the Rev. Eugene Davis, Fundamentalist Baptist pastor. Around 40 are enrolled in the class. It got started after the Rev. Davis had conducted memorial services for a deceased member of the volunteer department and suggested a Bible study class. On a secret ballot, the vote was unanimously for the idea. Now all have a standing date for 9 a. m. Sunday. Pictured are, top row, left to right, Doc Foster, Howard Boone, Curtis Gaylor, Mayor G. C. Dunham, City Manager E. V. Spence, H. C. Barron, A. W. Crocker, J. B. Bruton, E. T. Case; front row, the Rev. Davis, J. R. Huckabee, Jr., Bob Fields, A. D. Meador, Tommy Morris, Fire Chief Ole Cordill, Earl Scott, Robert Mullens, Fred White and Beau Murphy.

Local GOP's Name Hayward

Howard county republicans, after eight lean political years, pulled their fighting clothes out of moth balls Saturday and resolved to invade democratic ranks for republican presidential votes. While the county GOP group was in session, the democrats, fresh from a record-breaking county first primary, passed the routine convention date. None of precincts held conventions a week ago to name delegates to the county convention. With no delegates, a county convention appeared impractical if not impossible, said L. S. Patterson, county democratic chairman. Republicans, meeting at the Crawford, renamed G. H. Hayward as county chairman and selected him as delegate to the state convention in Beaumont on Aug. 13. E. E. Fahrenkamp was chosen as alternate delegate.

The delegate business, however, was a sidelight to the more serious discussion of boosting the GOP nominees, Wilkie and McNary, among otherwise stolid democrats.

British, Dutch and French possessions in South America cover 208,812 square miles and have a population of 545,440.

Big Program On Tap At The Amphitheatre

Anxious to have a large crowd so that a scheduled picture taking will show the amphitheatre to good advantage, the Rotary club is planning an outstanding program for the continuation of the weekly community entertainment Thursday.

Arrangements have been made to snap pictures of the crowd attending the program Thursday, and civic leaders as well as Rotarians are anxious that there be a representative crowd on hand.

Among numbers already announced by Shine Phillips, master of ceremonies for the sponsoring club, are Arnold Marshall, Stanton basso who has appeared on other programs; 10 couples from the Rotary club doing a series of folk dances, including the schottische, put-your-little-foot, and "Beer Barrel Polka"; Mexican music by the Three Troubadours.

The program is to start at 8 p. m. and plans are being made to present numbers with precision.

DROWNED IN LAKE

BURNET, Aug. 3 (AP)—J. L. Dennison, 40, an electrician for the Lower Colorado River Authority, drowned in Inks lake today while on a fishing trip.

A companion said Dennison fell from the rear end of a fishing boat when it made a sharp turn.

Bennett Polo Field To Be Dedicated Today

PROGRAM GETS UNDERWAY AT 1:30 P. M.

The San Angelo and Plainview teams will not be represented as previously planned in the dedication ceremonies of the new Bennett polo field west of town this afternoon but plenty of action is in store for the enthusiasts who gather on the sidelines.

The program, which gets underway around 1:30 o'clock, will pit the Big Spring quartet against Pecos and the Lamesa Whites against the Lubbock All-Stars.

Some of the finest poloists of this section are to be seen in action. The Lamesa club is the acknowledged champion of West Texas polo. The other teams boast outstanding stars.

The Big Spring foursome will be seeking revenge for a 5-4 defeat administered last Saturday by Pecos on the Texas field.

One of the team's regulars, Morris "Pat" Patterson, may not be able to play because his horses have been ill throughout the week but the other regulars will start. Probable starting lineup for the locals is Lloyd Wasson, Lewis Rix, Dr. M. H. Bennett and Gus White, Jr., Lamesa.

Banks Stocks will lead the Pecos team into action.

The Lamesa's lineup will probably be composed of S. R. and E. E. Barron, Sol Cleveland and Gus White, Sr.

The new field, named in honor of Dr. Bennett, one of the sponsors of the game here, is located near the municipal airport and may be reached by car by turning south at the first road east of the post.

There will be no admission charge for today's games. A large crowd is anticipated.

"Doc" Bennett Quit Golf To Learn Polo

DR. M. H. BENNETT AND "PAT"

Quitting golf as a hobby because he "couldn't hit 'em in the fairway," Dr. M. H. Bennett only this year took to polo seriously but is fast becoming recognized throughout West Texas as a leading exponent of the game.

This afternoon teams representing four cities will gather at the new Bennett field west of Big Spring to play in dedication ceremonies for a field named in honor of him.

Doc has been riding for many years and maintains a string of a dozen horses, part of them stabled at the Hardy Riding Academy, the youngest.

Lubbock Delegation Is Junior Golf Threat

Harold Akey, Mundy golf professional, assured Saturday that Lubbock would be well represented at the third annual West Texas junior golf tournament, which convenes here Wednesday and continues through Thursday and Friday.

Carroll Clayburn, who campaigned for the title two years ago, wrote Akey that he would be here and would probably be accompanied by a half dozen or more Lubbock boys.

Many local youths dedicated Saturday morning toward practicing for the meeting. Among those on the course were Fred and Ed Wilkerson, Nolan Bagley, Johnny Burns and Robert Connel.

Prominent delegations are expected to attend from San Angelo, Midland, Colorado City and Abilene.

Out-of-town entries will be given free lodging at the community barracks at the city park if they furnish their bedding. The tournament will get underway with the qualifying round Wednesday with match play starting Thursday and continuing through Friday.

Tribe Scalped By Exporters

BEAUMONT, Aug. 3 (AP)—Playing under a 100-degree sun, the Beaumont Exporters defeated the Oklahoma City Indians 11 to 3 here this afternoon in the first of a three-game series.

The Shippers slammed out 12 hits off three Indian hurlers, including a home run by Catcher Dixie Parsons with one on in the sixth.

Orval Grove, the starting Oklahoma City pitcher, was kayoed by the heat in the sixth, and time out was taken by several other players because of the temperature. The heat also got Virgil Trucks, Exporter starting pitcher, and Bud Thomas finished.

Tomorrow is "Spike Briggs day" here, and the two teams will meet in a double bill, Monday's game having been moved up. Walter O. (Spike) Briggs, Jr., executive vice-president and secretary of the Detroit Tiger baseball club will be honor guest for the day.

Stasey Breaks Two Fingers . . .

Pat Stasey, former Big Spring, is out of the Molina (Three-I) league lineup . . . He broke two fingers recently . . . Was hitting .325 at the time . . . The well known Howard "Lefty" Parks, who gained a reputation here because he beat the 1939 Barons every time he faced them but once, has drawn his release from Berger . . . So has Drew Takewell, another hurler . . . Park's record read eight victories, nine defeats at the deces . . . Bobby Decker, who played here as a member of the Barons during the 1938-39 seasons, was hitting about .313 at the time of his withdrawal from the Berger lineup . . . That's better than he was ever able to do here . . . Buzz Ross, anchored at that position in the Gassers' lineup last year, replaces him . . . Released by Vancouver of the Western International league to Idaho Falls of the Pioneer league has been Ed Bahr, who started his pitching career here . . . Jodie Marek, with Bahr on Big Spring's WT-NM league pitching staff last year, has won seven, lost six games for seventh place Molina of the Three-I league . . . Lefty Janick, another member of last year's Big Spring pitching staff is shining for Vancouver of the Western International league . . . He's hitting .368, has won five games, lost three . . . Ernie Nelson, who notched 22 victories for Clovis two years ago, has won an even dozen decisions for Saint Jo (Western Association) . . . Curdley Loyd, well remembered as the first sacker for the 1939 Barons, has been released outright by Yakima . . . Tried to get going in the Pioneer circuit but couldn't make it . . .

Don Budge, probably the finest tennis player active in the world, played the negro amateur champion, Jimmie McDaniel, in a special exhibition in Harlem, New York, recently, ended all doubt as to just how good the colored ace is by drubbing him, 6-1, 6-2 . . .

Bethell May Pick Texas A&M . . .

Harold "Lefty" Bethell, Big Spring high school football ace, may change his mind about attending TCU, may enroll at Texas A&M instead . . . The wronglander will talk with Homer Norton, Aggie coach, at the all-star grid game this month about the help that can be offered . . . Lefty can be very independent about his choice . . . He won the R&R grid scholastic last fall . . . Local softball fans have but few remaining opportunities to see one of the greatest softball pitchers ever developed here . . . We're referring, of course, to Bobby Savage who next month goes off to school . . . Savage, who has been in demand as a pitcher in cities from Dallas to El Paso, will probably attend John Tadden Junior college, Stephenville, may drop softball entirely to take up baseball once he becomes a collegian . . . He intends to go into baseball as a profession. Bobby may be seen in action in the Standard-Phillips city championship series here the coming week . . . Asked what he thought of Alton Boettich's recent assertion that the University of Texas gridgers would be difficult to bridle in the Southwestern conference football chase next fall, Weldon Bigony, one of Baylor's hopefuls, said he was making no prediction as to how the Bears would come out but that they would have to be watched . . .

BOBBY SAVAGE

Carl Coleman, physical education teacher at the local high school, will probably attend a football coaching school at Plainview later in the month . . . His two brothers, Harry and Harold, are scheduled to play in the proposed Class A all-star game, climax of the conclave . . . Both completed their high school eligibility at Roscoe high last fall . . . Who's going to land Howard Schwarzenbach's position as freshman mentor? . . . Swatzy is not returning to the post . . . He's studying a veterinary course at Texas A&M . . . Marshall Brown, who as an outfielder for the Lamesa Lobos is one of the most improved hitters in WT-NM league play, has landed the job as assistant coach at Sterling City high school . . . He succeeds Floyd Burnett, former Garner mentor . . . Jodie Tate, Lamesa sloyder, has corrected many faults in Marshall's batting style . . . His work may be rewarded . . . Brown now appears capable of hitting better than .300 . . . He's a former cage great of Texas Tech, Lubbock . . .

Browns Need San Antonio Mound Aces But Will Not Draft Them

DALLAS, Aug. 3 (AP)—Irony is as much a part of baseball as a base hit, but almost too bitter is the strange case of the pitcher-less St. Louis Browns and a couple of their San Antonio farmhands—Robert Muncrief and Maurice Newlin.

The Browns are faithfully attempting to fulfill their long-time lease on their normal American league habitat—the cellar. Murderous hitting by Rip Radcliff, Walt Judnich, Johnny Berardino, George McQuinn, Harold Clift, et al, can't quite keep pace with the runs chargin' Brownie pitchers permit.

But down on the farm in San Antonio, Muncrief and Newlin are turning in hurling chores that would have every scout in big league baseball tailing them—if they didn't belong to the pitcherless Browns!

What's the gag? Muncrief, who has won 20 games, and Newlin, a 17-game winner at the three-quarter post of the Texas league race, are the life blood of a San Antonio team sweeping for the pennant. San Antonio is a baseball mad city, leading the loop in attendance. Muncrief and Newlin are idols. The club is a money maker.

St. Louis needs Muncrief and Newlin—but in San Antonio. The books will balance better come the fall.

Manager Marty McManus, the voice of experience after 14 years in the majors, bubbles over on Muncrief and Newlin.

Only last night before the largest throng in San Antonio baseball history—some 12,000—Muncrief humbled the once great Dizzy Dean, now with Tulsa, to win his 20th victory. San Antonio still has approximately 45 games to play.

"Chances are great that Muncrief and Newlin will jump right into the Brown hurling staff next year. As a matter of fact, they are considerably better than some pitchers the Browns have at the present time," mused McManus. "Both have pitching sense, courage, and stuff. They're winning because of willingness to learn and work. Muncrief should easily win 23 games and Newlin 20 at their present pace."

The 24-year-old pitchers are the hardest working pair in the league. Muncrief has worked 224 innings to lead the league; Newlin only one frame less. Muncrief has struck out 123; averaged a base on balls every 4 2-3 innings. Muncrief is on option to San Antonio; Newlin is outright club property.

Obie Wallops Neel, Shirley Stops Cook

COLORADO CITY, Aug. 3 Big Spring will be represented in the semifinals of the revived Colorado City invitational golf tournament here today by Obie Bristow, medalist, and Shirley Robbins.

Bristow waltzed into the next to last round by thumping Tommy Neel, 6 and 5, Saturday afternoon after disposing of Herman Stewart by the same score in his morning match. Both Neel and Stewart are from Big Spring.

Robbins, shooting par golf, outshot Theron Hicks, Big Spring, 3 and 2, and Jimmy Cook, Colorado City, one up.

Bristow will oppose E. C. Nix, Colorado City, for the right to the afternoon finals while Robbins must tick Dick Martin, Dallas, the pre-tournament favorite.

Martin routed Doug Jones, Big Spring, 3 and 2, in a match play in the rain. His morning victory came at the expense of L. N. Millon by a 6 and 5 count.

Jones won the right to face Martin by trampling Joe Pritchett, Colorado City, 6 and 5.

Nix survived by stopping Elmer Feagan, Jr., Colorado City, 5 and 4, and James Pritchett, Colorado City, 3 and 2.

Bristow Friday won medalist honors by firing a three-under-par 70, a stroke better than Jones was able to do.

BROOKLYN, Aug. 3 (AP)—Southpaw Ken Hoffmeyer set the Dodgers down with five hits today in leading the Chicago Cubs to a 2 to 1 victory over Brooklyn.

Peo-Wee Reese scored Brooklyn's only run in the ninth inning when he lofted one of Raffensberger's offerings into the stands.

Billy Herman drove in Chicago's first run in the fifth inning when he singled Rabbit Warstler home from second base.

SICKLE T IS 'CAP WINNER

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Aug. 3 (AP)—The first Saturday of the Saratoga meeting was a howling success today—for everyone except the favorites.

A crowd of 15,500—a thousand over the attendance for the first Saturday last season—turned out to send $74,989 through the mutual machines and to see the favorites beaten in both big races, the United States Hotel Stakes and the Saratoga Handicap.

Mrs. B. F. Whitaker's greatly improved Sickle T, running right back to the form he showed at Empire City, captured the handicap in easy fashion as George D. Widener's heavily backed Eighty Thirty came in third. The hotel stakes, a two-year-old dash, went to Mrs. Parker Corning's Attention with the favored Overdraw, also owned by Widener, in sixth place.

Eight Thirty, considered unbeatable over the Saratoga track, wasn't up to the task of carrying 129 pounds over the mile and a quarter route and giving away 19 pounds to Sickle T. The Texas-owned colt took an early lead and held his field safe all the way, winning by two lengths from Mrs. Payne Whitney's Hash.

The victory was worth $7,500 to Sickle T, who started a winning streak in class C company and made it four straight today. He paid $8.30 for $2 in the mutuels and was timed in 2:03.

Attention, bumped and beaten in the Arlington Futurity, which was run over a muddy track, picked up two weight of 122 pounds in today's 38th running of the United States Hotel Stakes and lasted to beat Warren Wright's Whirlaway by a half length.

SOUTHAMPTON, N. Y., Aug. 3 (AP)—Don McNeill of Oklahoma and Frank Kovacs slugged it out on the grass courts of the Meadow club here today, and Don, the more experienced, won the 50th annual tourney with graceful ease by 6-4, 6-3, 6-3.

MIDLAND, Aug. 3—Mrs. C. E. Shows of Odessa and Mrs. Alice Phillips of Big Spring will meet in the finals of the women's invitational golf tournament in a scheduled 36-hole duel today.

The two visiting women, after trying for medalist honors, marched into the finals by scoring easy victories in the two matches they had to play Friday and Saturday.

Mrs. Shows scored a 5 and 4 win over Mrs. Bob Hamilton, Midland, and a 4 and 3 triumph over Mrs. Frank Stacey, also of Midland, while Mrs. Phillips ousted Mrs. Elton Dozier, Midland, one up, and Mrs. J. Dillon, Odessa, three up.

Mrs. Harry Stalcup, Big Spring, will face Mrs. Sonny Hartrider, Midland, in the first flight final.

Johnny Bulla Is Leader At Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Aug. 3 (AP) Coming in with a brilliant second round card of 65 which gave him the year's lowest 36-hole total in a P. G. A. sanctioned tournament, job Johnny Bulla of Chicago captured the half-way point lead in the $5,000 72-hole Milwaukee open golf championship today with a total of 121 strokes, 11 under par for the Noakh Hills course.

Working on an opening round 66, Bulla went out today in 21 shots, four under par, and came home in 54, two under regulation figures. His 36-hole aggregate missed by one another stroke of tying the all-time professional golfers association mark of 130, made last year by Byron Nelson in the Phoenix open.

Bulla's remarkable performance, however, gave him only a one stroke edge over Ed Oliver of Hornell, N. Y., as the field of 60 low scorers and has headed into tomorrow's 36-hole final. Oliver had a second straight 66 today on lines of 33-33 for a 132 aggregate.

Harry Todd In Meet's Finals

COLORADO SPRINGS, Aug. 3 (AP)—Harry Todd of Dallas and Earle Berryhill of Sapulpa, Okla., will battle tomorrow for the championship of the 20th annual Broadmoor invitation golf tournament.

Todd, who has furnished most of the fireworks of the tournament, eliminated Dick Price of Wichita, Kas., co-medalist, 5 and 4, today while Berryhill disposed of Emerson Carey, Jr., Denver, with a similar score.

Bombers Play Danielmen

The Anderson Devils, a team composed mostly of the youngsters that represented Big Spring at the state American Legion Junior baseball tournament at Austin last week, will tangle with the Brown Bombers, local colored nine, at 3:30 p. m. in Baron park today.

Bobby Savage or Gus Fierko will toss the abab for the Devils while Snooky Ringo is expected to toil for Robert Moore's crew.

The Bombers have been inactive for the past month.

KENDALL JONES LOSES

ABILENE, Aug. 3 (AP)—Tom Nixon of San Antonio added the Abilene open to his string of Texas tournament triumphs today by trimming Kendall Jones of Abilene, former Texas conference titlist, in the men's singles. The scores were 6-3, 6-1.

WILLARD HERSHBERGER, RED CATCHER, TAKES OWN LIFE

BOSTON, Aug. 3 (AP)—Willard Hershberger, 26, catcher for the Cincinnati Reds, committed suicide in his hotel room today by cutting his throat with a razor blade, Medical Examiner Timothy Leary announced tonight.

Dr. Leary said Hershberger, who had been in professional baseball for a decade and was in the midst of his third year with the Reds, was found lying over the bathtub in his room, his coat and shirt off. There were no notes.

Police said they found several uncashed paychecks in his pocket. Gabriel Paul, travelling secretary for the Cincinnati club, said in a statement that Manager Bill McKechnie had noticed Hershberger's "depressed mental condition following Friday's doubleheader," both games of which the Reds lost.

McKechnie, Paul said, talked to the catcher for some time and afterward Hershberger "was in such better spirits x x x and sat around the lobby with some of the players."

Hershberger was in "good spirits" this morning, the club secretary said, but when asked by his roommate, Bill Baker, if he was going to the park, replied he would go out a bit late.

When Hershberger failed to appear, Paul said they called him on like a baby' upon reaching the hotel. Paul said Hershberger had been "battering over 300" this year, compared with his 1938 and 1939 averages of .376 and .345 with Cincinnati.

The traveling secretary said he knew of no reason why yesterday's doubleheader might have affected Hershberger particularly—"except that he didn't get any hits." It was the first time this season that the Reds had lost both ends of a doubleheader.

POPULAR WITH FANS CINCINNATI, Aug. 3 (AP)—Willard Hershberger, second-string catcher for the Cincinnati Reds who was found dead today in Boston, was a favorite of doubleheader fans.

Tipping the scales at only 167 pounds, he usually caught the second game of twin bills to give Ernie Lombardi a rest. His quick, cat-like movements and peculiar crouch at the plate made him distinctive in any crowd of ball players.

Known variously as Herky-Jerky, the Jitterbug, and just Hershbie, he was as popular with the other players as with the fans.

He was born May 28, 1911 in Lemon Grove, Calif., and made his winter home in Three Rivers, Calif. He broke into organized baseball in 1932 with Erie of the Central league, and after serving with clubs in the Arizona-Texas, International, New York-Pennsylvania, and Pacific Coast leagues, came to the Reds in 1938 from Newark.

Playing in 63 games last year, he batted .345 and had a .309 average for this season so far.

Associates said Hershberger only recently had built his mother a new home at Three Rivers. He was unmarried.

Manager Bill McKechnie left the ball game abruptly when word reached the park of his catcher's death. He was said to have "cried

ALL-STARS TO WORK FOR BIG DEBATE SAT.

AUSTIN, Aug. 3 (AP)—Football scholars from every grid-conscious nook in Texas, and some from other states, advanced on Austin today to participate in a week-long clinic sponsored by the Texas High School Coaches' association.

Spectacular Gregory gymnasium on the University of Texas campus was their destination, and more football knowledge was their aim.

Monday morning Coaches Homer Norton and Dutch Meyer will start explaining the fundamentals of systems which put their Texas Aggies and TCU Horned Frogs in the Sugar Bowl this year and last year, respectively.

Some 300 high school coaches, a dozen or more college coaches and swarms of sporting goods salesmen are expected on deck for the opening salvo. But many eyes will turn from the blackboard to a small army of strapping youngsters, the north and south all-star squads, brilliant senior prospects of '39 and bright college prospects of '40.

The squads of two dozen men each will work rigorously twice a day in preparation for the grand finale of the meeting, the annual north-south game Saturday night.

Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday from 1:30 to 2:30 p. m. Chuck Cramer, noted trainer, will lecture. From 2:30 to 4 p. m. these same days Line Coach Dutchy Smith of Texas Tech will hold forth with Tech stars illustrating his points with demonstrations. Dell Morgan of Rice will demonstrate Thursday and Friday.

Dana X. Bible, University of Texas coach and southwestern representative of the National Football Rules Committee, will conduct a rules interpretation meeting Thursday.

Plans For Dist. Softball Meet Are Cancelled

Plans to stage a district softball tournament here later in the month were cancelled by Earl Scott, promoter.

Scott said that but two teams—Ackerly and Stanton—has registered with him by the deadline, August 1.

Original plans were to stage the tournament in Baron park the second week in August. Scott had issued invitations to teams in San Angelo, Midland, Lamesa, Comstock, Foran and all the Major-City league teams in Big Spring.

Big Spring will not have a representative at the state tournament in Abilene.

Lamesa Defeats Oilers, 8 To 6

Red Hood Hits Home Run In 5th Inning

LAMESA, Aug. 3 (AP)—The Lamesa Oilers won their second straight game from the WT-NM league leaders, the Pampa Oilers, here Saturday afternoon, 8-6, with Red Hood accounting for four runs.

Hood hit a home run in the fifth inning with Carl Foree and Happy Spangler aboard. He drove in Foree again in the sixth with a single.

Rex Dilbeck, on the rubber for the Pampans, gave up 11 hits but went the distance.

Foree received credit for the Lamesa victory but was derailed in the seventh in favor of Lloyd "Pat" Patterson.

M-C Softball Title To Be Decided

Phillips' Tremen and the Standard Oilers square off at the Muncy park diamond Monday night in the first game of a series that will decide the Major-City softball championship.

The Oilers clipped the Tremen in two successive games last week and will be heavy favorites to do it again.

Teddy Phillips' crew will be without the services of Lefty Morris, star hurler.

The two teams will meet again Tuesday night. The third game, if necessary, will take place Thursday night.

I wish to thank my friends for their help in the first primary. I appreciate every vote. I also want to thank my opponents for the clean and honorable race they made.

I take this opportunity to solicit your vote and influence in the second primary and promise you that, if elected, I will do my best to make you a good commissioner.

Sincerely, Ed J. Carpenter, For Commissioner, Pct. 4 (Pol. Adv. Paid for by Ed J. Carpenter)

Cards Trip New York, 8-3

NEW YORK, Aug. 3 (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals climbed all over the fading Giants today for an 8 to 3 victory to give long Lon Warneke his fourth straight win.

Warneke had a big day, driving out four singles in five tries in addition to his excellent mound work.

Pepper Martin, Ernie Koy and Johnny Mize drove out home runs for the Cardinals. Koy also had a double and single.

Every player in the Red Bird lineup hit safely at least once. The defeat was charged to Carl Hubbell.

New York, .312 002 000—8 17 2. Warneke and Owen; Hubbell, P. Dean and Danning, O'Dea.

Townsendites of the fifteenth congressional district offered between 4,000 and 5,000 votes to Willkie at the Cameron county republican convention.

Clyde A. Thorpe, Brownsville, head of the Townsend group of the district, voluntarily "pledged" the many Townsendites to the republican nominee.

Elliott Roosevelt, son of the president, was elected chairman of the Tarrant county democratic convention but was unable to be present, so Sam Callaway, baker of Gov. O'Daniel, was selected in his stead.

At Beaumont the democrats passed a resolution commending the administration of President Roosevelt and also commended Congressman Dies for his work in investigating un-American activities.

Tom Green county democrats passed a resolution calling upon the state convention to "memorialize the national congress to pass laws putting an end to the admission of immigrants from foreign countries to the United States."

While approval of a third term was not expressed or inferred, the delegates passed a resolution pledging whole-hearted support to democratic nominees for president and vice-president.

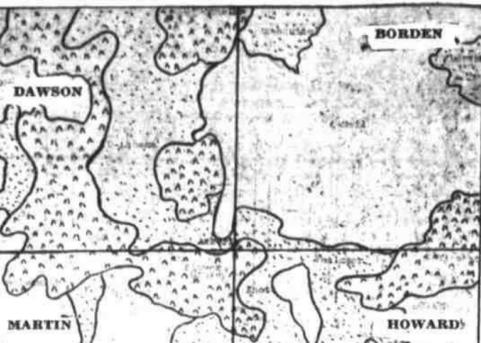

O'Daniel forces were in control of the Taylor county democratic convention. O'Daniel supporters said if a deadlock occurs in the next legislature on a tax to pay social security obligations "you probably will have O'Daniel as governor for a third term."

A resolution by W. R. Ely, former highway commissioner, introduced from the floor and bitterly opposed by O'Daniel followers, put the convention on record as opposed to "a sales tax for any purpose, in any form and by whatsoever name called."

Regarding the origin of the name Alaska, the "Geographic Dictionary of Alaska" says: "This word is the corruption of some native word or phrase, the meaning of which is uncertain."

The first U. S. President who was born an American rather than a British subject was Martin Van Buren.

Rain Badly Needed In The Next Ten Days

Late crops, burning or maturing early. Early crops, holding, need rain. Ranges, fair, needing rain.

Agricultural prospects in this area hang in the balance this week and a rain can largely make or break matters.

Late crops, covering the preponderance of tillable acreage, are nearing the desperate stage, and earlier crops, although holding comparatively well, are feeling the urgent need of moisture.

Rain—within the next 10 days—is the only answer to a range problem. Already grass and weeds are burning. Forage is "curing" before it makes.

Dawson county is perhaps in the best shape of a four county area which includes Howard, Dawson, Martin and Borden. Approximately half of the county's cropland received earlier showers for planting and these crops are in fair condition considering the recent heat wave and mid-summer drought.

However, most of the east half of the county has an abundance of young stuff that needs rain almost immediately. A strip in the far western part is even more crucially affected.

Like other counties in this section, Martin has spotted conditions. Along the northern county line early crops are holding but need moisture. This holds true for a section around Courtney, in the southwest corner, and for a section which angles southeast from Lenora into the edge of Lomax in Howard county. A wide strip through the western part of the county faces a crisis for lack of moisture.

Bulk of the tillable acreage in Howard county has late crops. Young feed, too immature for good roots, is hurting badly and late cotton is at a standstill and must have rain soon. Observers believe a rain within the next week or 10 days will mean a good crop. No rain means the shortest season since 1934.

In a better position is a strip ranging northward from Midway and the section northeast of Luther and enveloping Vincent. This favored section also extends up into Borden county.

The farming sections of Borden, which is almost exclusively given over to ranching, feel the need of early downpours north of Vealmoor and westward toward Ackerville, in the northwest corner around Mesquite and in the northeast sector toward Fluvana. Borden county ranges need rain and need it soon.

As it now appears, the next week or two will be important ones for the four county area. There's not much anyone can do but to wait—and see. If hoping can turn the trick, the rain is practically here.

The Week

How the "one-in-every-crowd" sighted the Rock of Ages and blurted: "I'm disappointed in it." A Jewish gentleman, silent except for this one remark, observed: "You? Nature spends 60 millions years making it and you're disappointed."

There always must be a few who are bred to destruction. Last week one such person deliberately picked off 14 turkeys with a target on the Moss Creek road. Similarly, Thurston Orenbaum, county engineer, reports that the reflector buttons on signs at danger points in county roads are being stolen. It's a high calling for someone to steal things put up to save lives.

Convincing evidence in the debate over whether the lake water is softer comes from out at the Big Spring State Hospital. It looks like the lake supply is going to mean a saving of $20 or more per month in soap for the hospital's laundry.

If you are interested in a new sport, or if you are already a polo fan, you can witness some first class entertainment at the southeast edge of the airport this afternoon when teams from four cities square off in a dedication series for Bennett field.

Removal of division personnel to Fort Worth in a consolidation by the T.A.P. last week was hardly welcome news in Big Spring. Still there's no use crying over spilled milk. The thing to do is roll up our sleeves and go out after something to replace the loss, and to work toward holding what's left.

One local dealer says that it would not be surprising if new automobile models hold for two years this time. It may be a commentary on the defense program, or it may mean that manufacturers are going to cut out a lot of lost time and expense in changing models. Anyhow, it might keep our buggy stay in style a little longer.

The F.H.A. held two meetings here last week to stimulate interest in home building in Big Spring. If F.H.A. could produce a rain and maybe a new, handy oil pool, it would have something slightly more potent than its so-called attractive 10 per cent down.

As congress gets ready to tick the log on the issue, some in these parts are beginning to fret about conscription for army training. That falls into the first category of two things about which we should not worry—the things we can do nothing about.

Ice is so rare in parts of Alaska that when Swan Lake near Sitka froze over last winter the city schools were closed so pupils could have a day of skating.

Services Tonight At Amphitheatre

Religious services in a new surrounding will be started at 8 p. m. today when several churches of the city join in the first of a series of Sunday evening meetings at the city park amphitheatre.

The rites have the sanction of the Big Spring Pastor's association, and although all churches represented in the association will not be participating this evening, ministers and memberships generally are in accord with the idea.

Speaker for the initial service is the Rev. E. F. Jackson, Jr., assistant pastor of the First Methodist church in Fort Worth. There will be special music.

Since the services are to be in the open and will be in a bit more informal atmosphere pastors are hopeful that they will be well attended. Association spokesmen said that they were anxious that the amphitheatre be utilized for religious purposes as well as for various forms of entertainment.

SCOUT TOUR DELAYED

Postponement of the Boy Scout tour of northern New Mexico and southern Colorado until Aug. 21 was announced Saturday.

S. P. Gaakin, area executive, said that the action was taken in order to permit more boys to take advantage of the order. Too, there had been difficulty in arranging for transportation.

The new date was selected because most of the boys planning to make the trip will attend the council water meet in Midland on Aug. 20. The bus will leave from that city early the next morning. Cost is $15 for the 10-day trip and is open to any first class scout or Boy Scout over 15 years of age.

Demo Or GOP Victory, The Nation's Next Vice-Pres. Will Be A Farmer

Charles Linza McNary On His Oregon Ranch

Henry Agard Wallace On His Iowa Farm

McNARY (left) lives on a farm near Salem, Ore. "Firecracker," as he calls his home, is a community showplace, has filbert, walnut, cherry and pear orchards. McNary developed the largest prune on the market, sells its juice as a breakfast drink. The 66-year-old Senator from Oregon in 1926 sponsored the McNary-Haugen bill (vetoed by Coolidge) to subsidize U. S. grain growers to sell abroad. He has always supported public electric power—one reason being to get cheaper electricity for farmers.

WALLACE (right) has achieved marked success as a corn husbandman and cattle breeder. Incidentally, he founded those corn-husking contests. He raises corn and wheat in Iowa, developed a new "D-Bred" corn that yields 100 to 120 bushels more an acre than ordinary varieties. He is the third of his family to edit the weekly "Wallace's Farmer and Iowa Homestead." He thinks re-iprocal trade treaties help agriculture. And he was one of the founders of the AAA.

DOWNTOWN STROLLER

Saw gracious Mrs. Charles Eberley laughing and talking to the two biggest of our city's bigshots, Mayor Grover Dunham, and City Manager E. V. Spence....

Did you ever notice how Albert M. Fisher, Jr., converses with you? He makes you feel so-o-o important by hanging on to every word you utter and actually seems to be vitally interested in whatever you say, no matter how trivial....

Shucks! We missed a big scoop by a narrow escape this morning. The headlines glared at us—"Working Girl Killed by Capitalistic Auto!" It really was a huge car and didn't pay the slightest attention to where it was going....

The apples of Mrs. Robert Middleton's eyes are her two children—Harry, who has a mad passion for horses or anything that is hemish, and delicate little Vivien, who is the calmest and most collected of all little persons....

Seems that Shine Phillips should have the title of "Daddy of Big Spring!" He takes care of so many activities and always has a finger in every pie, and always does everything so efficiently and expertly....

If you like cats you certainly should see "Fuzzy." He is the sleekest, blackest, sweetest, and has the greenest eyes that this corner has seen in years. Mrs. W. J. McAdams owns him—now, but we are contemplating turning thief....

Saw Bill Howard. Said he had just come in from plowing and brought the delightful news that rain wasn't needed as much as everyone seemed to think....

Got a quick glimpse of Mrs. Preston R. Sanders, who looks especially attractive in bright white....

Most fascinating sight on our downtown stroll was a trio of Mexican children. The two little girls had on brilliant reddish-orange dresses that hovered around the ankles, and the small boy was dressed in sparkling clean overalls. All three had fingers in their respective mouths and appeared to have an utter lack of concern over the throng of passers-by....

Sophisticated Martial Comedy Is Offered In Feature At The Ritz, 'My Favorite Wife'

Cary Grant And Irene Dunne In Principal Roles

A sparkling treatment of the Enoch Arden story is the delightful basis of "My Favorite Wife," playing today and Monday at the Ritz theatre with Irene Dunne and Cary Grant in the stellar roles.

Described as a sophisticated entertainment bristling with refreshing comedy from the opening scene to the final fade-out, "My Favorite Wife" has Miss Dunne, portraying Grant's wife, returning from a scientific expedition which met a sea disaster in which all members were declared lost. Her return is welcomed by Grant with astonishment, joy and apprehension—because he weds and leaves on his second honeymoon that very day.

By clever connivance, Grant manages to keep the news of Irene's return from wife No. 2. He immediately packs up the kissless bride, leaves the honeymoon hotel, and goes home—where he again meets Irene, now posing as an old friend of the family.

The plot introduces a handsome explorer with whom Irene spent her seven-year absence on a South Sea island who now wants to marry her, all of which leads to a double skirmish along the romantic front—wife vs. bride for Grant, and explorer vs. Grant for Irene—which builds up to the whirlwind climax after a sparkling stream of exhilarating comedy and exciting romance.

"My Favorite Wife" offers rare opportunity for comedy expression to Miss Dunne and Grant. In the featured brackets, Randolph Scott and Gail Patrick, as the explorer and bride, top an excellent support which includes Ann Shoemaker, Donald MacBride, Granville Bates and two youngsters, Scotty Beckett and Mary Lou Harrington. A production by Leo ("The Awful Truth," "Love Affair") McCarey, "My Favorite Wife" was directed by Garson Kanin, famed for his "A Man to Remember," "The Great Man Votes" and "Bachelor Mother." Helia and Samuel Spewack of "Boy Meets Girl" fame authored the screenplay for this RKO Radio picture.

MERRY MARITAL MIXUP—An Enoch Arden story set to the modern tempo is "My Favorite Wife," a gay comedy which is the Ritz theatre's summer-fare entertainment for today and Monday. Here are scenes from the picture, which features Cary Grant, Irene Dunne, Randolph Scott and Gail Patrick.

Ann Sheridan, Jas. Cagney At The Lyric

Pat O'Brien Also To Be Seen In Tropical Drama, 'Torrid Zone'

Today's opening at the Lyric theatre brings together James Cagney and Pat O'Brien, stars of "The Fighting 69th" and Ann Sheridan, sensation of "It All Came True," in "Torrid Zone," Warner Bros. new comedy romance, crammed with action, thrills and excitement.

As the title indicates, "Torrid Zone" has a tropical setting, down in the banana country, where the big fruit companies own and manage vast plantations. O'Brien and Cagney are cast as rough and ready plantation bosses, while Miss Sheridan portrays a torch singer from the U. S. A., who comes to the tropics because she figures red-heads will be more of a novelty there. Her adeptness at dealing cards is also an asset. When O'Brien attempts to have her shipped back to the states, Cagney, who is constantly feuding with him, helps her to stay, and from then on finds himself saddled with her. Although he pretends not to like it, he is not proof against the Sheridan charm. Another contender for Cagney's favor is blonde Helen Vinson, who plays the discontented wife of another of the plantation bosses, a role portrayed by Jerome Cowan.

Plentifully peppered with action, the plot of "Torrid Zone" revolves about O'Brien's efforts to keep Cagney in the tropics, Cagney's efforts to get rid of Miss Sheridan, and her efforts to land Cagney.

Besides those already mentioned, the cast includes Andy Devine, George Tobias, George Reeves, Victor Kilian, John Ridgely, Grady Sutton and many more capable supporting players. William Keighley directed.

Predicted War Methods Of '38 20 Years Ago

SEATTLE, Aug. 3. (AP)—"Terrific explosions," wrote Arthur B. Reeve, "will rend huge, jagged holes in the earth; tons of metal will crash suddenly from the clear blue sky."

The year was 1908, and Reeve was writing an article for a magazine which carried on its cover photographs of William Howard Taft, William Jennings Bryan and Theodore Roosevelt.

But Reeve was not thinking of those calm gentlemen. His article was entitled, "newest man-killing devices and the warless age."

Among the devices, he wrote, would be aerial torpedoes, anti-aircraft guns, mine-laying motorcars, electric artillery.

"This," he declared in climax, "is war—war in 1938."

The peculiarly prophetic article, which appeared in the November, 1908, issue of Hampton's Broadway magazine, was brought to attention here today by J. N. Farrar, a salesman who discovered the issue in a collection of old periodicals.

Some of Reeve's other predictions for the 1938 war:

Dirigibles advancing under the protection of manufactured clouds; Seismographs used to locate "noiseless, smokeless, flashless" artillery;

Spectroscopes used to detect presence of aerial gases;

Armored cars which would dig trenches by blasting while moving at high speed;

Tiny submarines which would be launched from battleships;

Flights "From London to Paris, New York to Boston, by projectile."

HOT WEATHER—The action gets hot, as does the romantic interest, in "Torrid Zone," a story of love and intrigue on the banana plantations, as unfolded at the Lyric today and Monday with James Cagney and Ann Sheridan as leaders in the cast. Pat O'Brien also has a prominent role.

ADVENTURERS—The movies bring a new version of the immortal story, "Swiss Family Robinson," and the picture is chief feature on the Queen program for today and Monday. It's the story of a family's adventures on a South Sea island, with Tim Holt, Thomas Mitchell, Edna Best, Freddie Bartholomew and Terry Kilburn as the principals.

Swiss Family's Adventures Now In Film

Picturization Of Famed Novel Opens Today At Queen

Sparkling with action and drama, Gene Towne's and Graham Baker's production for RKO Radio of Johann David Wyss' immortal Robinson story, "Swiss Family Robinson," will have its premiere here at the Queen theatre today and Monday with a cast headed by such convincing players as Thomas Mitchell, Edna Best, Freddie Bartholomew, Terry Kilburn, Tim Holt and Baby Bobby Quillan. Few stories have captured the world's imagination as has this 130-year-old tale of adventure and peril on a South Sea island, a tale that has been a best-seller for more than a century, and the film faithfully visualizes its spirit and action.

The adventure takes place during the Napoleonic era when all Europe was harassed by war and uncertainty. Robinson, a wealthy Swiss watchmaker in London, sees his four children growing up to become useless faddists and in desperation he sells everything he owns and sets out with his rebellious family to begin a new life in distant Australia.

In the South Seas a storm wrecks their vessel. Only the Robinsons survive. When the waves subside they build a raft, ferry themselves and some livestock, tools and clothing to a near-by island, a tropical paradise alive with gay colored birds and strange animals.

Their subsequent difficulties, a terrific tropical storm that devastates the island and smashes their carefully-built tree house, and the daily excitement and thrills of their picturesque lives, all contrast vividly with the emotional drama of the story—of Robinson's determination to make men of his sons despite his wife's ennobish attitude. How he finally imbues them all with his ideals and wins their love and respect and cooperation, makes for the gripping appeal of the film.

Thomas Mitchell, one of the screen's foremost character actors, and Edna Best, noted British actress, play the elder Robinsons, with the four boys being portrayed by the other four featured players. Tim Holt is seen as the oldest of the children, Freddie Bartholomew as the second, Terry Kilburn as the third and little Bobby Quillan as the baby of the family.

MISS L'ANEOUS NOTES

By Mary Whaley

About the time you read this, my dear readers, we shall be vacationing far from the maddening crowd or something. With tender thoughts you shall think of your bending your backs over figures and books trying to add, subtract or multiply while the thermometer does a jitterbug toward 100 degrees.

Each morning when we awaken about ten or eleven, we shall yawn luxuriously and think of your having been at work for at least two or three hours.

Then about press time when things get tough and in a jam, we shall look at the clock and with a villain's laugh, shall down another coke and purchase a paper from the nearest newsboy.

Too, when five o'clock comes and you poor slaves of commerce struggle home with stringing hair and wilted collars, we shall (we hope) put on another costume with jacket and slit in a butterfly manner to dinner and dance.

Come going to bed time, we shall pry open both eyes and continue whatever we are doing at the time until the skies begin to lighten. No more of this hurrying home early in order to be fresh at work the next day. We are vacationing and will have a good time if it kills us. We shall send millions of post-cards, we have decided, of spots showing snow on the mountain peaks and write of the dozen blankets we cuddle under every night. (This shall be done regardless of

It'll Be Fall Buying Season Before You Know It; Market Visitors Report On Trends

By RUTH MINTER

Announcements that local merchants are going to fall and winter markets bring us to a sudden realization that summer is nearly over. Our hair is stringy and dried out from the hot sun, and our tanned skin will never do with the dark rich colors of fall and winter clothes. When we see these new clothes we realize that now is the time to start getting in condition to wear them.

The most exciting and newest thing for fall is "brass," so market observers report. It is a color that is neither a brown nor a gold, and, amazingly, can be used with black, brown, or green accessories. Costume suits and dresses are made from wool and crepe material in this new color.

Though this is the newest thing, black will be still THE color as usual. Mrs. Harry Williamson, ready-to-wear buyer for Albert M. Fisher department store, says that eighty-five per cent of the fall and winter dresses are in black. These dresses have more trimmings than usual with jet and metal head trim as the most popular.

Mrs. Williamson brought back a costume suit with the dress of black wool and the coat of "stop red" trimmed in caracul that would be invaluable to a college girl or young matron. Coats, by the way, are entirely fitted with absolutely no hint of swag.

In the evening dresses, long capes are popular and some of them have hoods lined with the same color as the dress. A striking example of these formal is a shell pink with a full length cape in American Beauty red.

In sport clothes, corduroy is storming the country. Mrs. Williamson said. Bright red, jelly green, wine and royal blue are the best colors and are made into slacks suits, skirts and jackets.

Skirts in everything are to be very slightly shorter and not nearly as full, though they are to be fitted around the hips and be flared out from there.

Hats are very much lovelier and not as extreme. Miss Byllye Traversa, a buyer for Suzanne's Hat shop, reported. Black is still the outstanding color, but khaki green and Indian earth are being shown as newcomers.

Feathers, feathers and more feathers are being used as trim to these new creations, along with plumes and veiling running as second choice. Shapes of hats, are more sensible than we have had in years, Miss Traversa said. Tanshapes, cabots, pill boxes and pompadours are outstanding.

Wool and fur felt and velvet—especially black velvet, are the best materials for the new hats. More high crowns with veils caps are being shown due to the influence of the war, and for happy-lucky people swartering snap brims are most popular.

Denver Men Can't Wait For Army Training; Brigade Builds Guns, Drills During Lunch Hours

By VIRGIL LEWIS AP Feature Service

DENVER—Two hundred Denver men were so anxious to obtain military training that they couldn't wait for the regular army to provide it.

They "conscripted" themselves into the 41th infantry, bought their own makeshift uniforms, and carved their guns out of wood.

At their hear are regular army reserve officers, some of them veterans of the first World war. As the word gets around, more citizens are joining up—many from the factories and offices, business houses, the professions and schools. But they are not recognized by the army and get no official training credit.

Companies Streamlined
Col. Philip S. Van Cise, a Denver attorney and an officer overseas during the first World war, is commander. He says the training school gives reserve officers experience in handling men, aside from providing a basic military course or citizens interested in national defense.

The 41th's officers have organized the citizen-soldiers into a rifle company and a heavy weapons company, both streamlined. The citizens pay for cotton khaki trousers, shirt and overseas caps.

Some of the men drill during lunch hour in vacant lots near offices or factories. Others report two nights a week. Every other Sunday the entire regiment goes into the foothills for field exercises. The Continental Divide in the mountains west of Denver has been designated a boundary line between two imaginary nations, the Reds and the Blues. Recently, without declaring war, the Reds started marching on Denver, capital of the Blues.

The Blues army of the 41th was given a sector to defend in the foothills near Morrison, 20 miles west of Denver. The amateur soldiers got a lot of sunshine, dust and military experience as they lugged their wooden machine guns and mortars about the hills. They worried about getting ammunition, food and water to the crews manning the front line guns.

From 16 To 50 The military students include World war veterans as old as 50 and high school lads of 16.

"They're getting the same kind of training they would be given if they quit their jobs and went to camp," says Colonel Van Cise. "We've started at the bottom and are giving them a systematic education in fundamentals of the military game. If this country ever needs them they'll be a lot better material than men without training."

D. E. Burns, Big Spring, submitted a minor surgery Saturday morning at the Malone and Hogan Clinic hospital.

Half Slave And Half Free

Harry F. Sinclair was a "guest witness" before the state railroad commission Thursday to present his views on what's wrong with the oil industry.

One belief advanced by Mr. Sinclair is that rapidly gaining support is that unless strong steps are taken to correct present inequities, federal control will be, after all, the best solution to the oil industry's ills.

But these same West Texans are saying that unified government control would be better than a system "half slave and half free" or under a compact which holds some states rigidly in check and permits others to do as they please.

Texas has long led the way in efforts to keep the oil industry on a stable basis, both on a physical conservation program and on an orderly marketing program. This is logical enough, since

Texas is the nation's No. 1 producer of crude. But it has developed all too frequently that Texas has stepped out with drastic measures toward stabilizing uncertain conditions, and then has been left "holding the sack" by other states.

This is not to say that Texas laws are in themselves unjust. The operations of the railroad commission over a period of years have, on the whole, been beneficial. It is that this state cannot continue to bear the brunt of every upset that occurs in a delicate system of economics that delicate system being the temperamental oil industry.

We cannot attempt to say what price is fair for oil, or what price is fair for finished petroleum products. We do note, with misgivings, that the industry as a whole had better work more in harmony for all its interests, or the trend toward federal control will continue to grow.

Chapter 25 STUBBORNLY SOLITARY

There was something on Sandra's mind. "Did I keep you awake last night?" she asked, approaching it obliquely.

"No. I was just thinking a story through," I lied. "I often do at night."

"I didn't think you were asleep. I'm glad you weren't on my account. If it didn't disturb you I'd like to occupy that bed every night until this thing is cleared up."

My heart sank. This was more than I had bargained for. Adam had asked me to cultivate her, but I gave her a straight look. "Have you and Jeff quarreled?" She returned my gaze steadily and did not change color.

"I'd rather not discuss that," she said coldly. "I know she was thinking of the scene at Fieldstone Inn, where I was present as Julia's friend."

Wasn't it rather odd, I reflected, that she should choose me for her half-confidences, knowing as she must that I was on Julia's side?

Perhaps she hoped to win me over to hers, but why? I was of no importance in this tangled web of intrigues.

"Then why did you marry him?" "I'd rather not discuss that," she said coldly. "I know she was thinking of the scene at Fieldstone Inn, where I was present as Julia's friend."

"Then why did you marry him?" "I'd rather not discuss that," she said coldly. "I know she was thinking of the scene at Fieldstone Inn, where I was present as Julia's friend."

Wasn't it rather odd, I reflected, that she should choose me for her half-confidences, knowing as she must that I was on Julia's side?

Perhaps she hoped to win me over to hers, but why? I was of no importance in this tangled web of intrigues.

Invitation

"Miss Pennant would like to speak to one of you ladies on the phone," he said. "She asked for either Mrs. Tack or Miss Cornish."

"You talk to her, Kay."

"All right. But you'd better come along too. It's probably an invitation."

It was. Would we come to lunch to discuss a reception for the bride and groom? I smiled to myself as I relayed the information.

Getting busy to put a good face on things. The old army solidarity.

"Tell them I have a headache," Sandra said rapidly. "They're to make any plans they like and I'll agree to them, but I can't come to lunch today."

I repeated that into the phone and Julia said, "Thank Heaven I hoped she'd refuse but you come anyway, Kay. You can help."

I demurred weakly that I had work to do, but she scoffed at that, and finally I consented. Sandra followed me back to my room and watched me dress. She was like a forlorn child and not only forlorn; a child afraid of the dark, too, afraid of being alone. But I didn't distrust and utterly, stubbornly solitary.

"Do you mind if I stay here and write some letters on your typewriter?" she asked as I put on my hat. "Don't worry, I won't hurt it. I'm a good typist."

I did mind, but weakly could not say so. I felt as if I were being inundated by Sandra. Cultivate her? She required no cultivation. She was a weed.

Lunch proved to be a peculiarly social gathering peculiar, if one considered the circumstances. There were only the four of us: Miss Pennant, genial as usual; Colonel Pennant, businesslike, the preoccupation of a hostess in her eyes; Julia, not exactly remote, but seeming to have a strange new dignity and to have found some source of inner content.

We did not speak of Ivan. A stranger, listening, would have thought the only tragedy that had touched this place was that of Miss Pennant's disrupted.

"We even chose her wedding gown when we met her in Chicago," Miss said with an air of triumph. "I can't imagine any girl being so stupid. Ivan and I were giving them the wedding, and it was going to be so pretty, have you ever seen a military wedding? Kay, with the arch of sabers and all the trappings." Oh, well, we just have to make other plans.

"I'm glad you weren't on my account. If it didn't disturb you I'd like to occupy that bed every night until this thing is cleared up."

"No. I was just thinking a story through," I lied. "I often do at night."

"I didn't think you were asleep. I'm glad you weren't on my account. If it didn't disturb you I'd like to occupy that bed every night until this thing is cleared up."

The Thrill That Comes Once In A Lifetime

It says 'She looked up at him soulfully.' "Make it 'She gazed deep into his eyes, and here, halfway down the page, instead of 'said' write 'murmured.'"

"She nodded and words began to pour from her hands like beads into a pan. I watched her expert fingers for a moment of silent envy, then I got busy correcting the next sheet."

I proofread the typed sheets as she finished them, but there was no need to. That girl could type. While she was finishing the last page I addressed a manila envelope by hand, then I took the completed manuscript and leafed rapidly through it to make sure the pages were in the right order. She watched me with the strangest intensity as I did it and I thought, she's read the story while I was gone and she wonders if I know it. I didn't care if she had. I told her she could. But I felt a little contemptuous at the thought that she would snark.

She took her two thin envelopes and followed me out to the garage. Gerald had brought me the keys when Adam's car before I left for the

Washington Daybook

By Jack Stinnett

WASHINGTON - but of almost every major event that occurs in or affects Washington comes a plethora of stories. Some are fantastic, some are trial balloons released by the powers-that-be to test public reactions, and some are merely ridiculous. Still others are a clear-minded analysis of a situation.

Wading through these stories daily, I try to pass along only those that have some basis in reason, interest or logic. Occasionally I run across one I can not tab, but which seems worth passing along. Of such is the following. It is interesting and reasonable, but whether it is somebody's pipe dream or has its roots in truth I haven't the slightest idea.

It is that President Roosevelt, if he is re-elected, has no intention of serving out a third term.

SOME PEOPLE SAY—

This story, which has been kicked around for some time, is causing many an argument over coffee and crumpets.

Those who contend for it argue this way: The president was absolutely sincere in his statement that he did not wish to run again. Months ago, he told not only intimates but republicans Col. Frank Knox, who now is in his cabinet, that he doubted if he could stand the strain of another four years in the White House.

Starting with the court fight, the attempted party purges of 1938, the neutrality act, and the thousands of problems arising out of the war in Europe and the new defense measures, these persons say, the president has been through a lot at the tail end of his second term, not to mention the battles of the first. Look at what is ahead in the next few months. Is it any wonder he is tired and feels the need of rest and retirement?

And one thing more, they argue. Why did Roosevelt select Henry A. Wallace as his 1940 running mate? Admitted that Wallace, as secretary of agriculture and head of the agricultural adjustment administration, controls personnel and funds that affect millions of voters, wouldn't F. D. R., as the prime force behind it, have received all of those votes anyway? It doesn't detract from Wallace's ability as an economist, farm specialist and administrator to admit that he is no great shinker as a political campaigner, when one seemed desperately needed on the ticket this year. Then, why Wallace? Because, more than any other vice-presidential possibility, he could be depended upon to carry on, without disruption, the new deal reforms and new deal ideologies.

Therefore, the upholders of this theory conclude, when the world crisis is over, when the ship is again on even keel, Roosevelt, if he is elected, will relinquish the helm and take the long rest he so much needs.

But it wouldn't do any good to ask him. Just an announcement of his third term plans possibly would have weakened his position both in the capital and abroad, so would any such hint from him weaken the power and strength of the presidency when the country needs it most.

Well, that's the story anyway.

NO USE ASKING

Man About Manhattan

By George Tucker

NEW YORK - Here in the witty east, where jokes are almost never new, but where they sometimes do have timely twists, Frankie Masters takes time out from directing his hand to tell of the little shop he passed up in Harlem. Undoubtedly the proprietor of this shop was a movie fan, as you shall see.

When Frankie passed the shop he observed a window card which listed the most appetizing of the shop's wares. The first item, for instance, said "Swiss Cheese, 24¢." The second said "Skimless and Boneless Sardines, 19¢." The third said "Georgia Melons, 50¢." The fourth said "Turkey Sandwich, 39¢."

Down at the bottom of the card was lettered: "All This, and Herring, Too."

Then there's the one about the three cross-eyed judge which makes Eddy Duchin laugh more than any other. The three prisoners were lined up before the judge.

"What's your name?" demanded the judge of the 1st prisoner.

The 2nd prisoner said, "Smith."

"I wasn't talking to you," boomed the judge.

The 3rd prisoner replied, "I never said a word."

After sitting in on the "Lumbeem of the Waldorf" program the other day we shared a late snack with Ika Chase and sure enough she had one too. A funny story, I mean. The one Ika likes to tell is about the WPA worker who opened his weekly salary envelope and found that his check was one cent short. He had received $14.99 instead of the customary $15. This burned him up, and after delivering a tirade against the government in particular and the world in general, he sat down and batted out a sizzling letter to FDR. Presently one of the president's secretaries, received the letter, and he was so-stunned by its contents that he showed it to the president.

"Have Mr. Morgenthau send this man a check," Mr. Roosevelt suggested.

Several days later the WPA worker was delighted to find in his mailbox a check for $15 from the United States government. Why, this was such a bad world after all, he thought, but I'm back to the bank.

When he arrived he found the check to the teller. "How about visiting Gans?" he blurted.

The teller looked at the check, glanced back at the WPA worker, and without batting an eye said, "How do you want it hands or tails?"

Present also at this confab was Joan Blaine, the radio actress, who said she didn't know any jokes but that she had a funny experience with a "deaf and dumb" man that afternoon.

"What was that?" we wanted to know.

Well, she said, she always had been interested in the sign language used by people who had lost their senses of hearing and speech. She had even gone to the trouble of learning the sign language. That was when she was a teacher in a Colorado mining camp.

During the afternoon she was approached on 6th avenue by a man who presented her with a card which said he could neither speak nor hear, and could she help him. On impulse Joan began talking with him in the language of the deaf and dumb.

But the man didn't get it. Suddenly she said, "Is that your dollar on the sidewalk?"

The "deaf and dumb" man quickly looked around and cried, "Where?"

Modern Ranch Home Built By Gordon Stones

STANTON, Aug. 3 (Sp)—The recently completed ranch home of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Stone is an excellent example of modern improvements now possible on farm and ranch homes in this section of West Texas. The home is located on the Stone ranch, nine miles southeast of Stanton, in Glasscock county.

Built of stucco, which is daubed a blinding white, the house faces north, and has three rooms across the front, giving it a broad and spacious exterior. A large colonial "veranda" with white pillars, and colonial railing around the edge of the roof, lend the air of southern hospitality. The spacious living room is directly in the center of the house, having exposures both on the north and south. A large fireplace, flanked by built-in book cases, greets the eye, upon entering the colonial front door.

An east "wing" off the living room comprises a hall, bath room and two bedrooms. On the west is a dining room and den, opening into the living room, through double doors. Behind the dining room is a large kitchen, as modernly equipped as any in a city, with built-in cabinet work across one wall, a closet with enclosed hot water heater, a large automatic refrigerator and gas stove. Inlaid linoleum covers the floors of both kitchen and bath.

On the south, and back of the living room is a large spacious back porch, screened in, and to be used as an "outdoor living room." This connects with the hall and back bedroom, and also with the kitchen. The house is papered throughout, with wainscoting of Masonite in the kitchen and bath. Floors throughout the house are of white oak. Gas heat will be used with the exception of the fireplace, and plans are being made to wire the house for Rural Electrification. In the meantime, a windcharger will be used for electricity.

IN VACATION LAND—

New Orleans Colorful And Entertaining The Whole Year 'Round

By MARY ALICE WOODARD

It is not February, and Mardi Gras is not being celebrated, but perhaps you cannot get away next February. So turn your eyes to the deep South and Old New Orleans this summer. With the exception of the revelry and pageantry that goes on during Mardi Gras, you will find this lovely city just as entertaining in the summer as any other time of the year. After all, about the only fun an "outsider" gets out of Mardi Gras is standing wistfully by, watching the colorful parades. The real merry-making is done at the famous balls, and private parties, to which only a select number is invited. If you go to New Orleans for Mardi Gras, and do not have friends there by which you may miraculously procure these precious invitations, then you will most certainly spend your return trip racking your brain for something to "tell the folks back" about your marvelous adventures. New Orleans and Mardi Gras have become so closely associated in our minds, that it never occurs to some of us to spend a summer vacation there. But it can be done.

New Orleans is the South's largest city, with a population of over 500,000. Covering a land area of 200 square miles, it is the fourth largest city in the United States. In land area, it is a southern industrial center of the first magnitude, a leading wholesale and retail market of the South as well as one of its greatest financial centers. Visitors have given it the title, "America's Most Interesting City."

The Old Quarter, in a hundred historic squares, the living romances of two colorful centuries have been preserved in settings unchanged and unique. Beneath balconies embroidered with the iron handwork of African slaves, under the waving leaves of banana trees in cool patios, visitors may relive the days of Lafayette, Bienville, Lafitte, Jackson, and Pore Antoine.

You may visit the famous Haunted House, where you will be told the story of the fiendish cruelty of Madame Lalaurie, who tortured her slaves for pastime. In the downtown sections, you will see the Napoleon House, built in vain, as retreat for Napoleon, who was to have been rescued and brought to New Orleans.

For many years, the French Market has been one feature of Old New Orleans, in which visitors have been keenly interested. The Market is greatly changed from the old days, partly by the fact that other markets have been established all over the city, drawing away a great part of the ancient custom, and partly by the strides of progress. In change, however, is the immense variety of products which are always on sale, in the market, and another is the picturesque manner in which the fruit and vegetable stalls are arranged. The French and Italians have an eye for artistic designs, and the stalls are a picture to delight an artist.

Culinary Marvels
You will revel in the culinary marvels created here for you by proud Creole chefs. Incidentally, though the word "Creole," whenever applied to Louisianians designates the pure white descendants of French and Spanish parentage, who founded the colony of Louisiana. It has become to mean "everything that is good." So that you hear "Creole Chef" on down to "Creole Chicken." To go to New Orleans and fail to dine at least once at Atoneas, is unheard of. Here, you will have Crepe Suzettes served from a chafing dish at your own table, and fish cooked in a sack.

You will spend hours on the banks of Old Man River, watching every known type of craft ply his waters, take a ferry up the river some thirty miles—it will be a thrilling experience. Then drive across the Huey Long Bridge, the finest spanning the Mississippi. The bridge itself, is an experience, but it makes us speculate on just why it is that engineers persist in putting those wide steel hangers just high enough that you can see neither over nor under them.

You will want to drive out from New Orleans to the lovely old plantations, whose manor houses each have their own stories of pre-civil war grandeur, watch with wide old-fashioned gardens lining the great river banks, landmarks of crinoline days. By paved highways, many of them can be visited in one day.

You will enjoy picnicking in famous Audubon Park, the nation's sixth largest city park, seeing the green man-made hills, that hold the Mississippi in check; the dueling oaks; the zoo and the Popp Gardens.

An hour or two of smooth, invigorating driving brings the visitor to the resort cities on the Gulf. Biloxi, Pass Christian, Gulfport and Bay St. Louis.

No much one can see in the vicinity of New Orleans, that it is well worth the drive. Paved roads connect West Texas by various routes, the shortest through Houston.

SENATOR HOLBROOK TO ADDRESS GRADS

WACO, July 3 (Sp)—President Pat M. Neff announced today that former State Senator T. J. Holbrook of Austin will make the address at Baylor university summer commencement exercises Aug. 15. Holbrook represented Galveston in the Texas senate for 15 or 20 years.

There are 110 candidates for degrees.

System Reinstated

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 3 (Sp)—After an absence of several years, the jury system was reinstated today in a case involving a federal employe.

Juan Moreno Lopez, veteran letter carrier, was called to trial for theft before a jury of seven men, who will be chosen by lot.

A law passed early this year re-instituted the jury trial for federal workers.

Brazil has an area some 250,000 square miles larger than that of the United States.

County Trims Revenue Estimates, Makes No Provision For Reserve, In Budget Drafted For New Year

A new technique in budget making in these parts is proposed in the tentative document of the 1941 Howard county budget filed with the county clerk.

Under the proposed fiscal guide revenues and expenditures balance perfectly, eliminating the customary reserve—the margin is included because revenue estimates appear as conservative as those of a country banker.

Total of all resources anticipated for 1941 was pegged at $207,656, and the aggregate disbursements figure the same.

The county hopes to collect $65,000 in current taxes next year (off the 1939 roll). The rate remains at 50 cents, one maintained here for several seasons.

By comparison, the anticipated current ad valorem collections are $9,908 under the estimated total for this year, and more than that under actual 1939 collections. Similarly conservative are the delinquent estimates for next year of only $450. This year it has been figured at least $1,221 more than this would come in, and in 1939 delinquent collections stood at $4,236. Other taxes and revenues, set up at $101,315 are down from estimates for the current year by $12,519. However, this year there was an amended item of $10,000 from the gas tax reserve furnished by the county by the Board of District and County Road Indebtedness.

Lower Balance Figured
Still conservative, the county looked for the cash balance to dwindle (rather it was figured that way for budget purposes) by $20,726 to $40,934.

The tax rate was set up as follows, with these estimated yields: Jury two cents, $3,950; road and bridge 10 cents, $13,100; general 25 cents, $32,600; permanent improvements two cents, $2,700; and interest and sinking fund 10 cents, $13,100.

A breakdown on the latter shows two cents or $2,625 for road refunding bonds, six cents of $7,850 for good road bonds, and one cent each for courthouse and jail warrants and viaduct warrants, yielding $1,325 and $1,350, respectively.

Other Revenues
More important than the ad valorem taxes is the class known as "other revenues." Here the county lists an estimated $70,000 from automobile licenses (county's share), $797 from beer licenses; $500 fines, etc. (this brought in $2,862 in 1939); officers fees $26,800 (it was $31,640 in 1939); interest and sinking fund investments $450; terracing payments $500 (the amount was $2,251 last year) and $1,700 state apportionment. The latter item is the negligible contribution the state manages to return the county since it abandoned the fee system.

All in all, the revenues as estimated in the 1941 budget are ample. None doubts that they will exceed by far the amounts figured. It's simply a little different way to pile up that reserve in event something did go wrong.

Citizens of the county will have an opportunity to study the budget by calling at the clerk's office and to express opinions on it at a hearing to be set sometime after Aug. 15. A study of disbursements will be carried in Monday's Herald.

The next presidential term begins Jan. 20, 1941.
