ODESSA PLANS TO SHAKE UP ITS CC

ODESSA, June 19.—Grady Bell, secretary of the Odessa chamber of commerce for the past three years, has tendered his resignation to that position to the board of directors of that organization. After discussion the resignation was accepted by the board.

Bell has served as secretary of the chamber of commerce here during the most trying years in the history of the town and has held together the organization, operating on an unbelievably small budget.

John M. Gist, president of the chamber of commerce, in addressing the board of directors, suggested a complete reorganization of the body, to start at a public meeting to which every interested Ector county citizen would attend.

There is, he said, a large and powerful group of citizens who are dissatisfied with the present organization, and it was his belief that a new organization, formed by a representative mass meeting group, would unite all factions in the chamber of commerce, all working toward the betterment of the town.

After discussing the situation at length, the members of the present board unanimously agreed to resign their positions in order to accomplish a reorganization.

A mass meeting of all interested citizens of Ector county was called, to be held Wednesday evening, in the Ector county court house. The meeting will be called to order at 8:30 Wednesday evening.

Howard Employs Agent for Women

BIG SPRING.—Women of Howard county were granted a county demonstration agent by the commissioners' court, when a group of county women met in conference with Miss Blodgett, district agent for demonstration work and the court.

More than 30 county women representing 15 communities and 257 families met in session in the court house Monday afternoon. An all-day meeting was held, when the women took part in a basket luncheon in the city park.

Women of the county have been without the services of a demonstration agent for approximately three years.

Howard county will pay $100 per month toward the hire of a county home demonstration agent, the balance being paid by the state.

County Judge Debenport, speaking for commissioners' court, said that the court had felt that in hiring a woman agent, that it would be cooperating in the policy of the national administration toward adjusting and rehabilitating agriculture.

There was ever a time we needed a county demonstration agent," he said, "it is now," adding the man and woman agent were complementary.

Addition of the demonstration agent would mean only about 60 cents per annum taxes on the owner of a quarter section of average priced land, he said.

The Town Quack

(Reserves the right to "quack" about everything without taking a stand on anything.)

As England steamed through another humid day with no rain in sight to relieve the country-wide drought, 500 police armed with birch brooms guarded the scot head racecourse from the danger of fire.

At 1 p. m. the temperature in London was 81 degrees in the shade, 1 degree higher than yesterday.

A guard was kept everywhere against wastage of water.

Critics of the Trafalgar Square fountains were quieted by a public announcement that the water there is used over and over again, being pumped into the air from the reservoir to which it returns.

Sir William Prescott, one of London's five water "dictators," said the biggest "water sinners" are golf course greens keepers and cricket pitch attendants.

"If another ten days passes without rain, the water situation in London will be serious," said Prescott.

Helpful Health Suggestions

Methods for the control and prevention of typhoid fever.

1. Methods that affect the individual typhoid patient and his immediate surroundings.
2. Isolation of the patient in a fly-proof room, preferably under hospital conditions if such cases cannot command proper sanitary environment and nursing care in their homes.
3. Immunization, or vaccination of all those who are known to have been exposed, or are suspected of having been exposed to infection.
4. Disinfection of all bowel and urinary discharges and all articles which may have been soiled by them. All bedding, etc., should be disinfected by boiling. All remnants of food should be burned, or boiled before discarding. Attendants and nurses should be careful to avoid infecting themselves and others.
5. At the conclusion of the case a general disinfection and cleansing of the room and its contents should be carried out.
6. General measures for control of typhoid fever:
 1. Purification of public water supplies.
 2. Pasteurization of public milk.
 3. Supervision of other food supplies and food handlers.
 4. Prevention of fly-breeding.
 5. Sanitary disposal of human excreta.
 6. Extension of immunization by vaccination as far as practicable.
 7. Exclusion of typhoid carriers and their exclusion from the handling of foods.
 8. Systematic examination of fecal specimens from those who have been in contact with recognized cases to detect carriers.
 9. Exclusion of suspected milk supplies pending discovery of the person or other cause of contamination of milk.
 10. Exclusion of water supply, if contaminated, until adequately treated with some efficient disinfectant, or unless all water used for toilet and drinking purposes is boiled before using.

GRASS IS LIFE; U. S. SEES AGE-OLD HUNT

Movie audiences watched in absorption the picture "Grass," made a couple of years ago. This masterful picture showed the migration of Asiatic tribes, perpetually driving their herds before them in a search for grass. From season to season, from year to year, these restless nomads migrate, searching always the green pastures where their herds may feed and they may live in plenty.

If all seemed exotic and far-away. The quaint costumes, the unfamiliar faces of the tribesmen made it seem like a legend, despite the camera's eye. Such things seemed a mere survival of a pastoral age long gone.

It's dry in lots of places besides Midland. Elliott Cowden said he heard there was a drought on in England, France and Ector county. That's the first I knew about Midland county being so wet.

But on checking up I find that he was right about bally old England. The following Associated Press dispatch from London June 18 described the situation:

"It is by all means unusual—even irregular. Lord Merrivale, that famous judge actually discarded his wig in court today. The most dignified police in the world were represented at the Bobbies at Rochester, discarded their tunics and directed traffic in their shirtsleeves."

MOST FOR MONEY

FORT WORTH (AP)—With an eye for business, Assistant District Attorney Cecil C. Roisch wanted to get the most for his money when he went to register his dog.

The cost of registration with the American Kennel Club was $2, and the number of letters in the dog's name could not exceed 25. Roisch was told, so he thought for a week about what to name his pet.

Finally he thought of a name that contained exactly 25 letters—Lady Judith Patricia Cozette.

He calls her Judy for short.

PRAYERS ANSWERED
 BELLEFONTAINE, O. (AP)—Ministers who prayed for rain here were rewarded the next morning by fierce lightning and thunder, which brought a pelting rainstorm.

Yet today, in machine-age America, are felt the first stirrings of a movement that may be a modern pilgrimage for grass. On the western prairies of Wisconsin, near the Minnesota border, may be heard the pitiful bellowing of hungry, thirsty cattle as they plod down the dusty roads toward newer and greener pastures.

Localities which will not have, unless merciful rain comes, enough pasture for their own cattle, watch streams of emaciated animals pour in, and farmers share or rent cheaply what pasturages they have.

Now this is temporary, you think at first. When rains come and restore the home pastures, they will return.

But the government is looking farther ahead than that. It foresees that in some of these drought-stricken areas the long struggle is a hopeless one.

There are areas where for three long years you could count all the heavy rains on your fingers; areas where grain pulled through frost, heat, and drought only to be devoured by locusts.

'3 On a Honeymoon' To Open Thursday At Yucca Theatre

"3 on a Honeymoon," Fox Film's new romance, will make its appearance at the Yucca theatre on Thursday for an engagement of two days.

The screen play is an adaptation of the novel, "Promenade Deck," by Isabel Ross. As a highly successful seller, the book has enjoyed a popular vogue among fiction readers for some time. The film, featuring Sally Eilers and ZaSu Pitts, is reported as even more humorous and spier than the book.

The story centers around a reckless, willful and very pretty girl who decides to take a solo excursion to Europe. She becomes attracted to a handsome second officer who has been instructed by the captain to take care of all her wants. Although the young officer assumes an impersonal attitude, he finds to his annoyance that he is falling in love with the girl. On board the girl meets a former fiancée who is on his honeymoon with an old school-mate of hers. The bride who is threatened with blackmail in exchange for some letters, seeks the aid of the girl in recovering them from a man who has boarded the ship at one of its stop-overs. The girl makes a play for the man, goes to his cabin and steals the letters.

Charles Starrett, who will be remembered for his excellent work in "Mr. Skitch," plays the leading masculine role opposite Sally Eilers. ZaSu Pitts supplies the comedy in another one of her uproarious roles. The other members of the cast are Henrietta Crossman, John Mack Brown, Irene Heaver, Russel Simpson and Cornelius Keefe.

James Tilling directed from the screen play by Edwards T. Lowe and Raymond Van Sickle.

The emergency drought appropriations now pending will provide huge sums to buy up lands of those farmers who are willing to give up the fight, and allow the government to turn their wasted lands into forests, game preserves, meadows.

The government will then try to find jobs or new lands or both for these farmers—50,000 of whom are expected to be on their way this summer in a voluntary migration such as the country has not seen in two generations.

Certain professors of ancient history believe that the history of all the world is the history of men migrating toward newer and better pasturage for their animals.

Faced for the first time with the necessity of meeting something which may approach one of these migrations, Uncle Sam is proposing to meet it on a planned basis, to make his own history.

HONORING JEFFERSON

Washington is full of statues and monuments, some animate, some inanimate.

Now Representative John J. Boylan is pretty excited about something that every Washingtonian has known for years—that amongst all this welter of memorials, there isn't a single one to Thomas Jefferson.

Boylan wants the federal government to spend $100,000 for a pedestal on which some private association may later want to build a memorial to the sage of Monticello.

Now you might think $100,000 is small change these days, the way the government is tossing billions about. And yet you might also paraphrase Poor Richard, and say that if you watch the hundred thousands of dollars the billions will take care of themselves. There are lots of things we need more today than $100,000 pedestals.

The best memorial we could build for Jefferson today would be for a few millions of us to devote just one-tenth the thought, work, and zeal to democracy that Jefferson gave to it.

Young John Jacob Astor says life is difficult for him because of his riches. If pressed further, he might agree that life would be a bit more difficult, without his riches.

Oklahoma City has added the word "Please" to its "No Parking" signs, but drivers park there just the same.

Barthelmess Comes To the Ritz Today In 'A Modern Hero'

Richard Barthelmess comes to the Ritz theatre today and tomorrow in the stellar role of the Warner Bros. picture, "A Modern Hero," which is said to combine glamorous romance with a powerful drama and dynamic action.

The romance unfolds with a traveling circus in which Barthelmess has the role of a handsome and magnetic trick rider who has a way with women. His innumerable love affairs are brought down to four specific instances in the picture, the women being represented by Jean Muir, Verree Teasdale, Florence Eldridge and Dorothy Burgess. Careless in love, he tosses each aside to make way for a new passion.

From his father, the circus rider inherits a passion for power and fame which leads him into the battlefield of high finance where he becomes an industrial giant, being as ruthless in his business methods as he is in love.

Marjorie Rambaun plays the part of Barthelmess' mother.

STRAUGHAN PITCHES HIS SECOND CONSECUTIVE TWO-HIT GAME

Home Brewed

BY R. C. HANKINS

C. L. Jackson, Midland's No. 1 man on the Sand Belt, has played against Walter Hagen and some other top flight golfers in his day, but he had to journey over to La Mesa to get a taste of what it means to get a terrible cleaning. Frank Rose, to whom beating a par-shooting fairway artilleryman is not such a novelty, gave Jackson a 9 to 8 shellacking that Jack promises to remember.

"My game was not good, but would not have been good enough if it had been good," he said in a brief alliterative remark. "One seldom tours a foreign course in blistering sub-par round—and that is what one would have found necessary to beat Rose Sunday. He had me down from the first to the last—and I certainly congratulate him on his torrid game."

Jack, the one exception this department knows to the rule against "pressing," shot a 79, second to the worst score he ever turned in for a Sand Belt match. We are informed by his team mates he had shot little golf since returning from the Colorado match. But Jack was frank to say he would not have beat Rose Sunday with par golf. "When a good golfer gets hot and starts cracking par on his own course, it's a safe bet he'll win with plenty to spare," he said. Rose was three under par when he put Jack out. "No telling how much he would have been under if the match had gone on," the Midland shotmaker said.

Rose and Jack have met six times. Each has won three matches. Their next meeting is likely to attract the straggling gentry by droves. Incidentally, Jack recently put out an opponent with a sub-par round of 69. At least, he knows how it feels to be up by a wide margin.

One or two peculiar matters bobbed up in the Lamesa matches, which Midland won 24-16. In the fourth foursome, Frank Johnson lost his match 3-2, and Joe D. Chambers was put out, 1 up 18, but Midland won the low ball match, 1 up 18.

In the third foursome, Don Sivalis was two down and four to go in his match with Tatum. He loosed a bold assault on the remaining holes, driving, approaching stoney dead to the pin and ramming down his putts to take every hole, to finish 2 up 18. His mate, H. S. Forgeron, in the meantime, was administering L. V. Vaughan a 5-4 beating, and Midland won the low ball match, 3-2.

The rest of the match (this agency failed to contact the boys for complete results earlier in the week) follows: Gentry Kidd, playing No. 2 man, beat Norman, 4-3, but Lamesa won the low ball, 5-4, five under par. Elliott Miller won from Barker, 3-2, and Morgan Neil outshot T.

SCRUGGS, HDWE. CLUBS WINNERS LAST NIGHT

Scruggs and Hardware, highest clubs in the softball league race, advanced last night by winning from Midland Auto Supply and Goodyear, respectively.

The first game resulted in a shut-out decision for Al Straughan, Scruggs pitcher, and Hardware had little difficulty in stowing away the Goodyears in the nightcap. Goodyear has not won a game in five starts.

Straughan pitched his second two-hit game in successive nights. He never allowed more than one Auto Service man on the paths at one time after the first, when two got on base.

Decidedly unusual, Hardware made all its hits and runs in the third inning, while Goodyear was able to bunch its hits in only one inning. Pinnell's single behind Lynch's double scored that club's only run, in the fourth.

The box score:

CROWD GATHERS AT WILSON'S SALE

A sensational response was given the opening day of the Wilson Dry Goods removal sale, which started this morning and which will continue for nine days, according to T. R. Wilson, owner of the store.

The removal sale precedes the opening of the new home of Wilson Dry Goods company in the building that is being remodeled and lengthened and which is two doors north of the present location.

W. H. Mathews, sales promoter of St. Louis who is conducting the sale, said that the gratifying results of the first day definitely prove the pulling power of lavish but intelligent use of printer's ink and newspaper advertising.

Hundreds of shoppers thronged the store today and it is expected that the opening of the new Wilson Dry Goods company.

San Angelo Grid Hopes Are Dimmed

SAN ANGELO—Prospects for another championship football team at San Angelo high school received a severe setback the past week when four promising 1934 candidates failed to pass the required number of courses to be eligible for this year's Bobcat football team.

Harry Harrison, a promising backfield candidate from Junior high, Bob Wagner, 33 Kitten guard, Jesse Stout, reserve linesman of '33 Bobcat team, and Joe Askew, letter end, were the four that failed to make the required grades.

Junius Ray, a promising back from Junior high, will leave the school and join his father, the Rev. Paul Ray, Baptist minister who has been called to Llano.

Joe Eskew was the most promising of the four that did not come through for Coach Harry Taylor. Eskew had indications of developing into a sensational back.

Six members of the West Texas championship team received diplomas Thursday night at the commencement exercises. They were Lonnie L. Tucker, Co-Capt. and half, Finley Steele, reserve back; Bob News, reserve center; "Curly" Hays, fullback; Oscar Ungr, guard; and Glen Wagner, half.

Tom Gregg, tackle, graduated at mid-term and is now at Hardin-Simmons university in Abilene. Six members of the 1933 championship team will be ineligible because of the eight semester rule. Co-Capt. Herbert Reid, quarterback, Alonzo Turn, guard, reserve linesman, M. H. Raiborn, tackle, Jack Springer, tackle and Sullivan, reserve linesman.

Smith and Doran, ends, and Hill and Snodis, guards, are the only four letter men but of seventeen that will be back for the '34 season.

Several reserves and additions from Tonio Osborn's Crimson Tide at Junior high will be all that Coaches Taylor and Keyes will have to develop a winning team.

Many Doubt That Kinzy Can Stick

PT. WORTH (U.P.)—Should Hersel Kinzy be able to make the grade with the Chicago White Sox he will be the first contribution from Texas Christian university to major league baseball since Pete Donohue.

Like Kinzy, Donohue was a pitching ace for Texas Christian. Donohue got his chance with the Cincinnati Reds in the National League. For several years he was a leading pitcher.

His "line" over the St. Louis Cardinals was a tradition in big league circles. He beat the Cards so consistently that it became an almost foregone conclusion that he would do so.

A great many of Kinzy's admirers, however, fear that he lacks a lot that Donohue had. Many of them doubt that he is major league caliber.

Kinzy is a big right-hander. He stands six-feet-four and has speed and a good curve ball. He won seven games last year to give his team the Southwest conference title.

Despite that performance, he appears to most of his admirers to be a long way from big league material. Minor league schooling may improve him.

But you can't tell about baseball. Looks mean little. For instance, the great hitter, Al Simmons, steps "into the bucket" on every swing. The famous "Shoeless Joe" Jackson was just another farm boy when he started. "Rube" Walberg got his name because he was that way.

Last year when Ernie Koy, famous Texas university football and baseball player, was signed by the New York Yankees, few believed he could even stick in minor league baseball. He has not made the big league grade but seems to be doing well with a Yankee farm.

Kinzy certainly looks better as a pitcher than Koy did as an outfielder. So guesses may be in order again after the lanky Marshall boy has been under the supervision of big league coaches.

SISSIE BOOK

PITTSBURGH (U.P.)—A book used to frighten our great-grand-fathers into sissie behavior is on exhibit here.

The "Book of Caution to Children" reminds little boys that they must not quarrel, because it is a "disgrace to the human form." It is illustrated by gory examples of what happens to naughty infants.

"Wicked boys fight like dogs and other brutes, by which they often do each other great injury, whilst by such conduct they disgrace the human form." We hope all good boys will be so struck with this lesson that they will guard against ever getting into a passion, and also be careful to avoid the company of quarrelsome lads. Oh! Remember well that the Apostle tells us that those who wrangle, or fight, enter not into the Kingdom of Heaven.

"The bull is a noble animal, but sometimes a ferocious and terrible creature, and children never should mock one of these beasts. Sometimes little boys lose their lives by getting on their fathers' horses. Their light weight encourages the animal to frisk and gallop, and the terrified child falls off, perhaps to be dragged in the
