HARE DRIVE PLANS WILL BRING MEET

Meeting Set for Sat. At Which Final Plans Made

Plans for a series of rabbit drives in Midland county may reach the focal point Saturday afternoon, if a proposed meeting at 3 o'clock is carried out.

The meeting place has not been named, but it is understood that the court house would be requested of county officials.

The plan, as now outlined, has been developed to include several communities. Such communities would donate animals to be barbecued. A drive would be held in one community one week and others in succeeding weeks.

Several farmers and ranchmen have agreed to furnish goats and muttons for the barbecue, another farmer has offered to donate $25 in shot gun shells, several merchants have said they would allow a representative of their store to accompany the shooting party, and other assistance has been offered.

Definite announcements are expected to be made this afternoon or Friday morning.

Business Ethics

On Rotary Program

Every-day questions of ethics affecting the retail merchant in the conduct of his business were discussed as a part of the Rotary club program today.

Aubrey S. Legg and W. E. Simpson had the discussion of questions involving advertising ethics and methods of competition in meeting prices.

B. Frank Haag and Percy Mims were assigned questions concerning the ethics of selling out a business and re-entering the same industry.

Taylor Long was assigned a subject relative to taking of discounts when shipments were delayed, involving ethics of retailer to wholesaler.

Humorous talks were made by Percy Mims, Fred Wemple, Addison Wadley, and Harry Tolbert. W. I. Pratt was in charge of the program.

Funeral Services

For Mrs. J. Irwin

Funeral services were held this afternoon at 3:30 at the Methodist church for Mrs. John W. Irwin, 72, who died late Wednesday afternoon at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Fisher Pollard. She has been in poor health for several months.

The Rev. Edwin C. Calhoun, pastor of the Methodist church, of which Mrs. Irwin was a member, conducted the services. Burial was to follow at the Fairview cemetery under the direction of the Barrow mortuary.

Mrs. Irwin's husband preceded her in death more than 10 years ago. Since then she has resided with children in Midland, Seminole and Cleburne.

Seven children are survivors, six of whom were in Midland for the funeral. They are Hunter and Horace Irwin of Andrews, Mrs. E. Price of Cleburne, Mrs. R. L. Jones of Seminole, Mrs. Pollard of Midland, John E. Irwin and Mrs. A. E. Poole, of San Diego, who was unable to attend.

Red Giles to Be

Sentenced at Breck

L. R. "Red" Giles, given a five-year suspended sentence at Breckenridge several years ago on a pipe theft charge has been returned and will be sentenced to the penitentiary this week.

Giles was convicted on another charge at Midland and the verdict of the trial court recently was affirmed by the court of criminal appeals. He was carried from Midland to Breckenridge by Deputy Sheriff Ray Hickey and placed in jail.

Judge C. O. Hamlin is to pass sentence.

Impetus for Ball

Season in Weather

With the continuation of warm weather, playground ball likely will be started soon, officials of last year's league say.

Playground ball has been the most popular sport ever to be introduced in Midland over the summer months and has drawn record crowds. Approximately 125 men made up the league, and there were more than 50 women playing in another league.

Due to the rainy season, it is expected that fewer sand storms than usual will be experienced, which would encourage an earlier start of the league than last years.

Offers Reward

Al Capone, imprisoned gangster, who has offered from his cell $10,000 for information leading to arrest of the person who kidnaped the Lindbergh baby. Al intimated he could do some good in the search if he weren't in prison.

Gang Chieftain May Pay Reward to Aid Search for Infant

Turning "soft" at last, Al Capone, gangster who is biding his time behind bars on an 11-year sentence, announced early this morning he would give $10,000 to the person responsible for information leading to arrest of those who captured the 20-month-old infant son of Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh.

Capone intimated he would like to be out of jail long enough to assist in the search, as he has "friends who would be likely to be of much assistance" in a search of that sort.

Henchmen Still

Going to Trial

CHICAGO.—From behind his prison bars Al Capone today looks upon the wreckage of his vast business of wide-open gambling, bootleg liquor, protected vice and commercialized murder which, in a few short years, raised him from a cheap hoodlum to riches.

Today Capone sees a determined man who is preparing to smash the last vestige of his gang.

That man is United States District Attorney George E. Q. Johnson of Chicago—famous as "the man who convicted Al Capone"—and he told of his plans in an exclusive interview today:

Within the next 60 days District Attorney Johnson is going to bring to trial 62 of Capone's henchmen now indicted for conspiracy to violate the prohibition law, in which each faces the possibility of a two-year penitentiary sentence and a $10,000 fine. The voluminous indictments charge 3000 separate violations of federal prohibition.

Of these 62 defendants, the government is principally interested in about a dozen. These are "big shots"—like Joe Fusco and Jimmy Delaney—in the Capone liquor racket. Most of the rest are merely ruff-raff beer truck drivers, strong arm men and brewery workers who were arrested and indicted largely to establish connections in the evidence against the "big shots."

And how does the Capone gang stand in Chicago today? Like this, say federal investigators who know:

AL CAPONE, now held in Cook county jail under a special 24-hour guard of deputy United States marshals assigned to break up Capone's reported managing of his bootleg industry from behind the bars. Capone is serving a term of 11 years in federal penitentiary, plus a $50,000 fine. His appeal from this sentence has been denied by the United States court of appeals and unless Capone's attorneys appeal to the supreme court, District Attorney Johnson is ready to move for a quick trip to Leavenworth.

RALPH CAPONE, brother of Al—now serving three years in federal prison.

FRANK NITTI, business manager of the Capone gang—now serving sentence of 18 months in penitentiary.

SAM GUZIK, Capone's gambling chief—now serving one year in penitentiary.

JACK GUZIK, the real brains of the Capone gang—under sentence of five years, fine pending appeal.

"MACHINE GUN" JACK MCGURN, hired killer for Capone—under sentence for two years, appeal pending.

"WEST SIDE FRANKIE" POPE, Capone beer baron—under sentence of two years, appeal pending.

"MONEY VOLPE, Capone's body-guard—ordered deported to Italy, appeal pending.

TERRY DRUGAN, Capone beer baron—in prison for 2 1/2 years.

FRANK LAKE, Capone beer baron—in prison for 18 months.

"One by one, they have been put away," Johnson said. "Soon, more may join them behind the bars." (See AL CAPONE page 4)

JAPANESE HALT THE ADVANCES

Future Issues Are Left Up to Chinese, Intimated

SHANGHAI, March 3. (UP)—Japanese military operations in Shanghai ended today with the Chinese driven back 12 and a half miles from the city.

Japanese were holding the territory contested with bitter fighting since January 28.

Japanese announced, "We have decided to order our forces to halt for the time being at points actually held provided the Chinese do not resort to hostile actions."

Japanese occupied the Woosung forts shortly before cessation following heavy bombardment.

The native city was a scene of destruction and desolation. Neutral observers visited where recently was No Man's land.

Japanese Terms "Inacceptable"

GENEVA, March 3. (UP)—Japanese terms of an armistice are absolutely inacceptable, a Chinese delegate to the league announced at an extraordinary league session assembly.

The terms are tantamount to surrender, the delegate said.

"We feel the only alternative is further resistance of the Japanese attack and regard continuation of hostilities unavoidable," he said.

Fighting Goes on Around Two Cities

SHANGHAI, March 3. (UP)—Despite the Japanese announcement that fighting would cease, the Chinese official communique reported fighting in progress tonight at Nanziang and Liuho, ending hopes of immediate peace.

Nanziang is 20 miles west of Shanghai, toward Nanking. Liuho is north of the city.

Midlanders Return From 'Magic Valley'

Lure of the Magic or Lower Rio Grande valley, as it is variously called, has attracted several Midlanders recently. T. Elmer Bizzell, one of Midland county's best farmers, has moved to a citrus farm near Pharr for at least six months.

Bizzell bought land near a citrus farm bought by Dr. John B. Thomas, and the Midland farmer is operating Dr. Thomas' bearing grove for which he traded the Rainwater apartments. Bizzell says, however, that he will return to Midland.

Berney G. Graff last week conducted a party of West Texans to the valley as representative of the American Land & Development Co., owners of 6,500 acres of what is declared by experts to be the best citrus land in the world, so far as man yet knows. Ed Stuart and a happy Scotchman named Jimmie Cowan own the land.

Visitors to the valley say God was evidently thinking well of mankind when He made the valley, as it has everything for human happiness. The climate is declared ideal. Within two hours of any point in the valley is the ocean; within two hours of any point is wild game hunting; across the river is the romantic land of Mexico. The region has four seasons, as fast as one crop is harvested, another is planted. One field of 40 acres of carrots sold in the field recently for $12,000 cash. Grape fruit orchards this year made as high as $950 an acre with grapefruit at the lowest prices ever known. This, of course, was not an average price.

The fact that the Valley has some thing to sell to the outside world every day in the year apparently keeps the numerous towns more prosperous than the average city of the country in general. The great majority of the valley people appear contented, reasonably prosperous, healthful and certainly unflaggingly optimistic. Many of them take life easy. The "land of manana" spirit has crossed the Rio Grande, but Yankee energy and southern hospitality seem to leaven the lump.

MUCH LEASING

Records of the county clerk's office at Andrews show about 20,000 acres of land leased in Andrews county during the past few weeks. The records also show several hundred acres of royalty sold. Humble and Superior have done the bulk of the leasing.

Formal and Informal Shots of Lindberghs

Satterwhite Gets Laugh from Note

Representative Lee Satterwhite found no sympathy recently from his friends while recuperating from the bite of a mad calf.

"I always knew legislators were a green bunch," wrote a friend, Dennis Zimmerman, of Tulsa, "but I didn't know they were so green that cattle grazed on them."

The representative was in Midland transacting business today.

He says John Garner's presidential stock is booming more each day and that, as a compromise candidate, he would easily have the inside track of democratic possibilities.

WETS SHOW LOSS IN PROHIBITION POLL OF DIGEST

The dries again gain an increase over the wets from 19.28 per cent to 22.61 per cent of the total vote, in the third week's return of The Literary Digest's action-bidder prohibition poll, with 1,323,284 ballots tabulated, as announced in tomorrow's issue of the magazine.

The dries polled 15.85 per cent in the first returns of the "straw" referendum.

The addition of 500,000 more votes from 24 states in the current tally shows 299,207 ballots, 22.61 per cent, for continuance of the eighteenth amendment and 1,024,077, or 77.39 per cent, for repeal.

The seven additional states reporting initial returns this week include: Arkansas, Iowa, Kansas, Massachusetts, Mississippi, South Carolina and Texas.

Kansas is the first state to report a dry majority, but Tennessee wavers between continuance and repeal with 48.68 per cent of its first tabulated ballots for prohibition.

The initial figures from Massachusetts show a vote of approximately three and one-half to one wet. New York still is the wettest state so far reported showing 86.88 per cent of the ballot received for repeal but registering the second consecutive decrease in its wet sentiment over previous returns.

Third and fourth in the dry rating are Arkansas and North Carolina which show respective dry percentages of 47.30 and 43.85 for prohibition.

No returns have been reported yet from the Rocky mountain district, the Southwest or the Pacific coast. Of the seven states whose initial returns are reported this week, the only ones which figured also in the third report of the 1930 Literary Digest prohibition poll are Kansas and Iowa.

At that time the Kansas vote was split 60.50 per cent for enforcement, 22.98 per cent for modification and 16.52 per cent for repeal, while the current tally shows a vote of 51.26 per cent dry and 48.74 per cent wet.

When Public Got Its First View of Baby

HOPE FOR SAFETY STILL HELD; MANY CLUES FOUND BUT NONE ARE VALUABLE

Premises of Lindbergh Estate Being Evacuated by Crowds in Order to Attract Abductors

HOPEWELL, N. J., March 3. (UP)—State police sought to obtain from present or past employees of the Lindberghs information that might help solve the mystery kidnaping of their child.

Hope continued strong that the child would be returned for a ransom, safe and unharmed.

Silence settled over the Sourland mountain estate and police cleared the vicinity as the Lindberghs kept private any information that may possess the solution of the mystery.

Every official and private agency of justice in the nation was in action seeking to solve the kidnaping.

Mrs. Lindbergh was bearing up bravely. The colonel, with calm eyes bloodshot for loss of sleep, continues to aid and direct the searchers. John Toomey, secretary to Governor Moore, acting spokesman, said Miss Betty Gow, nursemaid, was questioned again today in hope of gaining some information. There was no indication that she could amplify her original story. She found the baby's crib empty Tuesday night.

Baby's Diet Is Broadcast

HOPEWELL, N. J.—To the kidnaper of the Lindbergh baby: Here is a heart-broken appeal direct from the mother of the child you stole.

The baby has been sick and its recovery may depend on the treatment it gets from you. You must be especially careful about the diet.

Mrs. Lindbergh issued to the press today the strict diet she has been following since the baby fell ill. She did this in the hope you might read this story and that there was some spark of humanity even in the heart of a baby thief.

Here is the diet, accompanied by the fervent prayer of a grieving mother:

One quart of milk during the day.
Three tablespoons of cooked cereal morning and night.
Two tablespoons of cooked vegetables once a day.
One yolk of egg daily.
One baked potato or rice once a day.
Two tablespoons of stewed fruit daily.
Half a cup of orange juice on waking.
Half a cup of prune juice after the afternoon nap.
And 14 drops of a medicine called vosterola during the day.
That's all, kidnaper of the Lindbergh baby. That's what the baby's mother wants you to give the boy.

Drug Fiends Are Mentioned

HOLLY, N. J.—Drug fiends "hopped up to give themselves nerve for their bold crime," probably kidnaped the Lindbergh baby, Ellis Parker, chief of Burlington county detectives and famous for his exploits against criminals, said.

"On the face of it," Parker told the United Press, "you can see that such a crime requires tremendous nerve."

Lindbergh Millionaire And Able to Pay

NEW YORK. (UP)—The fortune on which the kidnapers of the Lindbergh baby apparently seek to lay hands constitutes one of the largest in New Jersey.

Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh are believed to be worth between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000.

The fortune, which the late Sen. Dwight W. Morrow, a former Morgan partner, left to Mrs. Lindbergh's mother has been estimated at nearly $19,000,000.

Fortune Smiled
Col. Lindbergh was a poor boy when he hopped out in a borrowed plane for Paris in a flight that made him the world's foremost birdman.

Fortune then smiled.
He got the $25,000 Oregon prize for the flight.
He received an undisclosed sum from Daniel Guggenheim for making a tour of the United States after his return, later becoming technical adviser Pan-American Airways and T. A. T., as well as serving in an advisory capacity for the airways division of the department of commerce.

Wife Given Million
His salaries from the two aviation concerns are reported to total $50,000 yearly.

Large sums came to him from newspaper syndication, and from a book he wrote.
The first check he received for the book was $100,000, aviation circles said. (See LINDBERGH BABY page 4)

NUMEROUS CLUES BEING RUN DOWN TO LOCATE BABY

HOPEWELL, N. J., March 3. (UP)—Among the clues being run down to solve the Lindbergh kidnaping included: woman alighted from an automobile in Boston, posted a letter addressed to Lindbergh and departed before being questioned; whereabouts of a gypsy band reported recently in this vicinity was checked; motorboat found abandoned by troops in Wildwood, N. J., but officers refused to say if it was linked with the kidnaping; many reports in distant and nearby cities of speeding automobiles carrying women, men and babies were checked whenever possible; meanwhile the vicinity of the Lindbergh estate was cleared of newspapermen and watchers.

Woman Gives Tip On Lindy's Baby

BOSTON, March 3. (UP)—Description of the home where it was said that the Lindbergh baby would be found was contained in an airmail letter addressed to the colonel and posted by a woman, police announced.
"It looks like a very good clue," Police Supt. Crowley said.

It is generally expected that this meant Col. Lindbergh expected kidnapers to an air mail letter addressed to the colonel and posted by a woman, police announced.

GANDHI'S SECRET

Mahatma Gandhi's recent plea to his followers to get rid of mankind's two greatest fears—the fear of death and the fear of the loss of material possessions—helps to explain how it is that this wizened little man can possess such a tremendous amount of power. "No power on earth," says Gandhi, "can subdue a man who has shed these two fears."

When you stop to think about it, it is easy to see that he is right. If you have not the slightest qualms about losing everything that you possess, nothing that anyone can do to you can frighten you; and when a man who is in that fortunate position puts himself at the head of a great movement, it will prove an uncommonly hard task to stop him.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Beautiful Ellen Rossiter, employed at Barclay's department store, works nights as a dance hall hostess. She lives with her mother, Molly Rossiter, her older sister, Myra, and her brother, Mike.

Steven Barclay, 57 and owner of Barclay's, is in love with Ellen. Twice she refuses to marry him, because she loves handsome Larry Harrowgate, an artist she has met at the dance hall. She loves him so much that she has engaged to marry him.

CHAPTER XXVI

The morning at the store had been a happy one for Ellen. The pleasantness of the evening before lingered through the opening hours of the day. Noon came. Ellen and Lorene yawned, looked at each other interrogatively and began tidying up for lunch. Lorene tentatively suggested a newly discovered tea room with a bang-up 75-cent luncheon. They set off and talked shop through the last, unburied hour. Ellen found it pleasant to lunch in such a comfortable fashion. Afterwards when they were strolling back to the store, Lorene said suddenly: "I've decided to let you try Blumstein's yourself this afternoon. I hear they have some cute sports dresses at $9.10—a new line. Carney & Co. has a whole window display from there."

even a few hoarded dollars is in home and yard improvement. I don't know what the lumber yards and material dealers say about it, but I've had several union carpenters and painters to say that little jobs of floor finishing, painting, paper hanging, repairing and remodeling could be done now at a very low figure. This gives the home owner a break and also gives the craftsman a chance to earn grub for his family for a few days.

The work of the city on vacant lots, cutting down mesquite bushes and clearing away rubbish, has done a lot for the appearance of Midland. Welfare work has been directed toward city beautification, with good results. Those who have a little work to do around the place can save by having it done now, while there are many men looking for employment at even a small sum, and at the same time can help the re-employment movement here.

Odessa Is Strong For John Garner

ODESSA, March 3.—A group of enthusiastic supporters of John Garner, met in Odessa Wednesday, led by E. G. Langley, boyhood friend of Garner and organized a "Garner for President club," the first to be organized in the 16th Congressional district, which includes quite a number of large cities.

Langley, who heads the organization, grew up with John Garner in the Red River country and has been very closely associated through all these years. E. G. Langley, Lee Satterwhite, former speaker of the house at Austin and present representative of this district, B. C. Hendricks, R. S. Shuffler, and other leaders in the Odessa area have joined the forces of the "Garner for President" club.

Italy makes perfumes from 1800 tons of orange blossoms and 1000 tons of roses every year.

World Traveler Is Here on Bicycle

One hundred thousand miles on a bicycle, and he has not used the bike's pedals except to rest his feet. Jim Whitten has a motor attachment to the back wheel of his bike, a single cylinder affair that pushes him along with more noise than speed.

It took him two hours to ride from Stanton to Midland, but he says he has his "whole life in front of me and nothing else to do except see the country."

He is an Australian and has toured England, Austria, France, Germany, and parts of South America—always on his Polar Star bike with the Citrohsh attachment.

CLUB PARTY
The semi-monthly country club bridge party will be held this evening at the club house at 8 o'clock. All members of the club will be guests.

Presidio Wants Road Changed

Efforts of a number of Presidio residents to have the routing of highway No. 17 from Marfa to Presidio, now under construction as a hard-surfaced road, changed to enter the town of Presidio at a different point as that selected by the highway commission, was partly blocked with a refusal of a ranchman to allow the private civil engineer engaged by interested parties to operate on his land.

Residents of Presidio claim that several thousand dollars will be saved by routing of the highway through the new town of Presidio, changing the route several miles north of the Shafter silver mines, one of the largest silver mines in the country. Officials of the mine stated that the mine would probably be open soon and that a hard surfaced road would considerably enhance the value of the property, from which ore is hauled by truck, there being no railroad in the town of Shafter.

Lindbergh Baby--

said, and royalties are still coming in. Miscellaneous awards in recognition of his flight swelled the total. In 1929 newspapers said the then Ambassador Morrow had established a $1,000,000 trust fund for his daughter, Anne, Lindbergh's wife.

Much Publicity Was Given Baby

ENGLWOOD, N. J.—Arrival of the blue-eyed 7 4-5 pound Lindbergh baby on the birthday anniversary of his mother here June 22, 1930, caused more world-wide newspaper comment than any other birth on the North American continent.

No royal child, for whose arrival a nation waited with anxious interest, ever attracted more public speculation before his birth or was watched more closely afterward.

The baby's first picture—his orange juice diet—any change of nurses—all were duly recorded in the press in greater detail than if the youngster had been heir to a throne.

The greatest interest seemed to be centered on the baby's first flight.

The baby has never been in an airplane.

"There would be no point to it, except to say that he had flown," Lindbergh told a visitor. "It would be safe enough, but he wouldn't be able to appreciate it."

The visitor suggested Lindbergh probably would want to be the one to teach his son to fly, just as he had taught his wife.

"Maybe he'll want someone more up to date by that time," the flyer said, and chuckled.

Only a few friends, visitors at the Lindbergh home, were permitted to see the baby because of the parents' desire to keep him from public clamor.

A friend who saw Charles Jr.,

Al Capone--

watch the antics of a Scotch terrier puppy, described him as a "happy, attractive child."

GAMBLING RACKET--

Capone has lost this; most of Chicago's gambling now has returned to the hands of the old-time gamblers who had it before he came on the scene.

LIQUOR RACKET--

Still being carried on, but on a much smaller scale; depression and unemployment have had a lot to do with this.

VICE AND PROSTITUTION--

This business is rampant, probably because a lot of women are out of work in these hard times.

The most significant factor in the whole situation," says District Attorney Johnson, "is that the gangs have lost their old-time arrogance, which was appalling. They used to defy anybody and everybody. They felt they had nothing to fear from the law—that the only protection they needed was from the bullets of rivals. They believed that any case could be fixed—and they continued to believe this right up to the time United States marshals led them off to the penitentiary. Then a great light began to dawn upon them."

In five years before District Attorney Johnson started his war there had been 300 unpunished gang murders in Chicago—that is, unpunished by law.

Then came the federal prosecutions of gangsters for failure to pay their income taxes. Investigation took many months, required the keenest detective work imaginable. Even after agents of Chief Eimer L. Luey's income tax secret service had wormed the evidence out of men connected with the gang, it was quite another thing to get them to testify in court against Capone and his men.

In the face of such obstacles as this, District Attorney Johnson turned to getting pleas of guilty—as any other prosecutor would. Out of this came the agreement for Al Capone, himself, to plead guilty and get a two-year sentence and out of this came Federal Judge Wilkerson's refusal on the ground that "Al Capone can't bargain with a federal court."

Prosecutor Johnson then went to trial with Capone—and won. But in the meantime there was whispering about the story that Johnson had accepted $75,000 in graft to permit Capone to plead guilty and get a lighter sentence was adroitly circulated in Chicago. Some people may have believed it; others said it was the cold-blooded attempt by gangsters to ruin a public official's reputation to save their own hides.

The best answer is that Johnson tried Capone—and got him a sentence of not two years, but 11 years in a federal penitentiary.

And so today Al Capone's gang nears the end of its rope. It is still carrying on in a limited way, but its power is but the shadow of what it was yesterday. Al himself, says Johnson, is as good as broke.

Though the backbone of the gangs thus appears to be broken, Alexander Jamie, chief investigator for the Secret Six, is authority for the statement that crime in Chicago is actually on the increase.

Manslaughter cases now average 20 a month, burglaries 2000 a month and robberies 1500 a month. Actual murder shows a slight decrease, but kidnappings have numbered 11 since Capone went to jail last October.

Economic conditions have brought on the new crime wave—not gangsters or the prohibition law—says Jamie, and until the depression lifts, there is little hope for improvement.

ODESSA, March 3.—The city beautification program being sponsored in Odessa is gaining momentum each day, announced J. T. Long, president of the chamber of commerce of Odessa. Some 50 or more citizens have entered the yard contest and hundreds of trees and shrubs have been planted. Long donated 60 trees to the Odessa high school.

Citizens of Odessa have been encouraged in every way to beautify their homes and lawns. "Every home in Odessa should have an outside living room," stated Long as he talked to a group of Odessa people. Individuals are assisting in the work by offering flowers of different kinds that they have in excess to what they really need. N. H. Smelser, has some 5,000 or more Shasta daisy plants that he has offered to give to those interested parties who will replant them.

BLAKENEY'S RETURN
Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Blakeney returned to Midland Wednesday evening after an absence of more than two weeks, during which time he was at the bedside of his twin brother, Brooks, in Deland, Fla. The brother's condition remains critical, Blakeney said.

Mrs. Blakeney visited her sister, Mrs. Whit Stafford in Dallas while gone.

NEGRO PLAY
Women of the Macedonian Negro Baptist church will stage a play "Slatown Convention" at the Methodist church in negro town Friday evening at 8 o'clock.

Seats will be reserved for whites. Tickets may be bought for 20 cents each or a couple for 35 cents. Children will be admitted for 10 cents.

MAN DRIVEN AWAY
Just before negroes and Mexicans ran him away, a tattered, unkempt man told a story here of his lust to kill a man he alleged he has been hunting for 10 years.

He appeared in the Mexican quarter shortly after sundown last night and asked for food. When he was told none was there, he began talking loudly, saying he was starving and that he must have food so that he could make his way to Scranton, Pa., where he said he had located the man he charged with making away with one of his daughters a decade ago.

He was driven away. Negroes and Mexicans believe the man is crazy.

NEW TOPPING
New topping on 23 miles of the oil field road north from Monahans into Winkler county is planned to begin at an early date. The new topping will be of asphalt and ground stone, according to present plans. This segment of the road is one of the most frequently traveled oil field roads of the Permian basin.

TO JOIN PARTY
On his way to join a Lower California nitrate party, John Pierre Flagon, mining engineer from Columbia, Mo., stopped in Midland today. New commercial methods of refining the salts will make products much cheaper, he believes.

HOUSTON, March 3. (UP)—Ten Mexican strawberry pickers were injured today when a tornado struck Deer Park, near here. Several buildings were wrecked. The injured were taken to hospitals here.

EARNINGS RECORD
CHICAGO, March 3. (UP)—Production earnings of the Texas Gulf Production company established a high record in January.

Net earnings for the month amounted to more than $87,000. Sales totaled more than 239,000 barrels.

AGRICULTURAL DIRECTOR
H. C. Atkinson, former county farm agent for Jim Wells county, has been made agricultural director of the Webb farms, six miles west of Fort Stockton. Several hundred acres are irrigated from Lake Beeman which is fed by large springs in the Stockton area.

The farms will feed out cattle and sheep next year was the announcement. Most of the feed used this year in the feeding of 5,000 head of sheep and 100 head of cattle was purchased and shipped in. There are about 700 acres of the Webb farms that have been converted into land for the growing of the famous Pecos valley canteloupes. These can-ay to aid the wet cause.

"Others mournfully suppose that a vote for repeal of the eighteenth amendment would signify a wild desire to see the whole nation plunge into an alcoholic spree, which is a favorite bugaboo to frighten timid souls."

"Food for study may be found in our 1930 figures by those of our readers who, two years ago, took our side or the other in that burning controversy over the modification vote."

"Were the men and women who marked their crosses for 'light wines and beers' to be counted as wets? Or were they carefully disguised drys defending the eighteenth amendment?"

"That was the issue discussed all over the country. The Digest took no part in it but will be interested to see whether the ultimate figures of the present poll may peradventure bring peace to that historic Donnybrook fair."

The third report of the 1930 Literary Digest prohibition poll, asking three questions instead of two, showed a total tabulation of 1,244,483 votes of which 333,978 were for enforcement, 383,117 for modification and 527,388 for repeal.

New Mexico High In Gas Reserves

New Mexico ranks sixth among states of the union in natural gas reserves, according to figures on record with the New Mexico state corporation commission. The reserves are estimated at 1,521,000,000,000 cubic feet. The state has an estimated daily flow of 367,000,000 cubic feet.

FOUGHT WITH BOERS

A Spanish war correspondent with the Boers during that race's controversy with the English, Don Louis Barcecos, will take a boat at San Francisco for Japan, hoping to get for a short time back into the thrills of his youth, that of covering for the journals the progress of the war, he said while having lunch in Midland today. With him was his companion, Philippe Nunez. Barcecos is 54, he said.

Prohibition Poll--

Digest state editorially.

"Nor is Kansas the only encouragement for the drys in this third report. The total figures show a small but steady increase of relative dry strength in the voting.

"The dry percentage has climbed from 15.85 in the first report to 19.28 in the second and to 22.61 in the third.

"Seven new states have preliminary round-ups in this third report with its total tally of 1,323,284 post card ballots. Besides Kansas, the newcomers are Arkansas, Iowa, Massachusetts, Mississippi, South Carolina and Tennessee.

"Whatever the governor of South Carolina may have replied to the governor of North Carolina, poll fans may have their curiosity excited by the discovery that South Carolina in this report is almost eight per cent wetter than North Carolina.

"But the drys will be relieved to find that New York again is a shade dryer than she was last week. Just a trifle of less than one-half of one per cent. Not rivaling Kansas yet, but not getting any wetter.

"There are still dry critics here and there who attack The Literary Digest's poll as a gigantic conspir-
