FAILING THE TEST

Whatever else the Greek revolt may do, it should at least give us some new light on the argument over the respective capabilities of airplanes and surface warships. So far, the fighting does not seem to have given much comfort to those naval strategists who assert that the bombing plane has made the surface ship all but obsolete.

According to one account, upward of three-score airplanes went out after one cruiser and half a dozen destroyers and failed to quell them. Another dispatch has 250 bombs raining on a rebellious flotilla without, apparently, sending any ship to the bottom.

It will take much detailed study on the whole fracas, of course, to justify any fixed conclusion. So far, however, the claims of the airplane school do not seem to be standing up very well.

LOOK TO YOUR CHILD'S EYES

Importance of continued efforts in home and school to determine whether children's sight is up to par is emphasized in a report just issued through the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness.

This report, prepared by a joint committee of the National Education Association and the American Medical Association, shows that fully 3,000,000 school children are handicapped by defective sight.

Most of these children will be able to surmount their defects if the trouble is promptly discovered and treated. But where the defect is not discovered, the effect on the child can be disastrous. He may be blamed for stupidity or inattention in school, when all that is wrong is that he can't see what is going on.

Regular examinations, treatment where treatment is needed, and establishment of special classes for children whose sight defects are more than ordinarily bad, will save many children from a very difficult situation.

FEMININE FANCIES BY KATHLEEN EILAND

Another thing we can't understand: why moving pictures have to show torture scenes under the impression that people like to see them. Nobody does. Nature knows the value of contrast in her weather plans. She knows her warm spring days will be doubly appreciated if they follow on the heels of disagreeable, cold, rainy weather. We distinctly like the new flower holder behind which is fastened a circle of metal as a reflector. A clever and distinctly decorative idea to have one's flowers do double duty, as it were, like the swans on still St. Mary's lake that "float double, swan and shadow." The holders and reflectors may be had either in chromium plate or copper. A new kitchen gadget is a cut-out wooden figure with a place for holding the ice pick and ice cream book. To those of us who have a mania for always finding the ice pick where it isn't supposed to be, this little convenience should save both time and temper. Poetry seems to have a seasonal fashion. For instance, fall is the ideal time for gypsy poems—the lure of far trails, adventure in strange places, and the expression of all those longings for something beyond the far horizons that trouble even the most domesticated of people at times. And spring—well, we should say that one certain poet knew what he was saying when he spoke of the young man's fancy lightly turning to thoughts of love in the spring. Announcements Wednesday The Fine Arts club will meet with Mrs. J. Howard Hoyle, 408 N. Marienfeld, Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Thursday The Bien Amicus club will meet with Mrs. J. W. The Lois class will meet at the Baptist church Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The Pastime club will meet with Mrs. Bob Lisle, 702 W. Kansas, Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Friday The Belmont Bible class will hold its monthly social at the home of Mrs. A. B. Cole, 702 N. Big Spring, Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock, instead of at 3:30 as first announced. The Presbyterian auxiliary will sponsor a book review tea at the Country club Friday afternoon. The public is invited. Tickets are 25 cents. Saturday The World Friendship club will have a party at the Methodist annex, Saturday at 7:30 o'clock. church Monday afternoon. Mrs. R. L. The Town Quack

Reserves the right to "quack" about everything without taking a stand on anything. life. There was only one tree on the island and I made for that tree. The nearest limb was a big one about 20 feet from the ground, and I jumped for it. Somebody listening to the story said, "Did you make it?" The Irishman replied: "I didn't make it going up, but I caught it coming down." Squad Leader: "I heard the battalion commander called you a blockhead. Is that correct?" Phibs: "No, sir, he didn't make it that strong. He just said, "Pull down your cap, here comes a woodpecker." Boss: "Didn't you get my letter?" Salesman: "Yes, sir. On the inside it said, "You are fired." But on the envelope it said, "Return in five days, so here I am." The barber had scraped him, nicked him, cut him and gashed him. "Get me a glass of water, please" gasped the victim. "Do you feel faint, sir?" asked the barber, solicitously. "No," replied the victim, "I just want to see if my mouth will hold water."

Taps Sound Over Grave of Beloved Justice

A few words of tribute were spoken, the flag-draped coffin of Oliver Wendell Holmes was lowered slowly into the grave, six shots of the army service cracked sharply, and the final honor of a sorrowing nation was paid as a bugler softly blew taps over the body when it was placed at rest in a sloping hillside in Arlington cemetery. This was the scene as last service was held for the former supreme court justice, who ranked as the nation's greatest jurist since John Marshall.

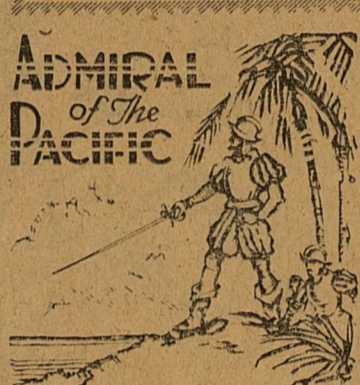

Thrilling Film Of India War Stars Cooper

The soldiers of the king, not as Kipling sang of them, but as Francis Yeats-Brown described in his remarkable book "The Lives of a Bengal Lancer"—are the heroes of the stirring, remarkable and colorful picture of warfare and heroism in India, now showing its last day at the Yucca Theatre. Produced by Paramount, "The Lives of a Bengal Lancer" features Gary Cooper, Francois Tone, Richard Cromwell and Mr. Guy Standing in the leading roles.

Texas Popular as Mecca of Tourists

The popularity of Texas as a mecca for automobile vacationists from all parts of the country is indicated by a report just released by the Conoco travel bureau, a branch of Continental Oil company and America's largest free travel service. According to the report, 239,470 travel bureau tourists spent more than $9,852,480 in this state last year. It was also revealed that motor travel throughout the entire United States was unusually heavy during 1934. Hotels, tourist camps, restaurants and many other types of business took in more money from tourists than during any other year since 1929. The bureau supplied detailed trip services to 969,495 vacationists, a figure 41 per cent greater than the organization's total for 1933. Statistics also show that travel bureau tourists spent in excess of 40 million dollars while they were away from home. The Conoco travel bureau is an organization maintained by Continental to provide motorists with up-to-date information on North American roads, routes, hotels, cottage camps, scenic and historic attractions plus any other data likely to make vacation trips pleasant and profitable. More than 100 carefully trained men and women are employed in the bureau's central offices at Denver. Conoco's 22,000 service stations act as field branches. It is predicted that one and one-half million vacationists will rely

Stories in STAMPS

STOWING away in a food cask on a vessel leaving Haiti for Porto Rico, a fugitive from household creditors, Vasco Nunez de Balboa began a career of exploration and conquest, more than 400 years ago, that ended with his discovery of the Pacific Ocean in 1513. For this enterprise, King Ferdinand of Spain made Balboa "Admiral of the Pacific." Today, this great explorer is honored even in stamps, one of which, shown here, is Panama's 400th anniversary issue of 1913.

DODGE ECONOMY BRINGS ORDER FROM SOUTH POLE

Byrd Expedition Operator Intercepts Broadcast . . . Sends World's Longest-Distance Order 9,000 Miles To Detroit

EVERYWHERE motorists are switching to the economy of the big, powerful, New-Value Dodge. But imagine the surprise when this radio message, from far-off Little America, reached the Dodge factory, from Radio Operator Clay Bailey, aboard Admiral Byrd's flagship. Mr. Bailey wireless: "Picked up radio description last night of new Dodge that does twenty and more miles per gallon of gas. You can place my order now. Please have Coupe awaiting me Boston on our return to States. You can take in and sell my old Dodge now. It was a darned good car. After months of roughing it in this sea and ice that new 'Anglide Ride' will certainly feel swell. Dodge has always been the finest riding and driving and most economical car I have ever driven— and I've handled 'em all." (Signed) Clay Bailey, Radioman U. S. N. Right back flashed the Dodge answer to the returning explorer: "Will have new Dodge awaiting you." Throughout big America, too, the sales response to this new Dodge is the most sensational in history. Never before has any car, so low-priced, given such clear-cut supremacy in dollar-for-dollar value. And remember, with all its 95 basic advancements, the big, New-Value Dodge delivers for just a few dollars more than lowest-priced cars.

I'm your best friend

I am your Lucky Strike

There's nothing friendly about the sharp, bitter sting of unripe top-tobacco leaves. There's nothing friendly about the grimy, flavorless bottom leaves. But there's a wealth of friendliness, of mildness in the rich, mellow-ripe center leaves. And I am made of these fragrant, expensive center leaves, only.

I'll not irritate your throat. I'll never let you down. I'm your best friend. I am your Lucky Strike.
