Italy to Refuse Extradition Plea

GOVERNOR SAYS VENIZELOS, NOW AT RHODES, FREE FORMER PREMIER WILL MAKE PARIS HOME, WITH SOUS

RHODES, Mar. 13. (AP)—Eleutherios Venizelos, former premier of Greece and leader of the recent unsuccessful revolution in that country, arrived here today.

The governor of the island, which is under Italian possession, told Venizelos that he was free as far as the Italian government was concerned.

The former premier was expected to remain here a few days and then go to the Italian mainland and ultimately to Paris to spend his remaining years with two sons that reside there.

Government spokesmen at Rome said today that Italy will refuse any request made by the Greek government for extradition of Venizelos.

Prairie Dog Poison Campaign to Start

J. M. Hill Jr., representative of the state predatory animal control, was here today from Lubbock, conferring with farmers and county officials.

It was decided to place on duty in Midland county a full time man to poison prairie dogs, beginning April 1 after the animals have ceased to dig up the grass. Poisoning is found to be easier after that date, Hill said.

He brought here a supply of prairie dog poison to be used after that date.

Raven Shoot Films Shown to Sportsmen

Moving pictures of the Big Spring raven shoot, held a week ago last Sunday, were shown to interested sports fans and to members of the local chapter of the Fish and Game Protective association of Texas last night at Hotel Scharbauer.

Dr. P. W. Malone of Big Spring who took the pictures, showed them here. J. Frank Elder, president of the state association, explained the construction and operation of the raven traps used there.

This Question Of Economics Easily Solved

Judge Ed M. Whitaker of El Paso has the question of economics solved, and you'll be surprised how simple it is. He merely applies an old adage in the right place, and there seems nothing left out.

Whitaker would consolidate several proposed plans, including Huey Long's idea of dividing everything among everybody; Townsend's plan of paying all persons over 62 years of age $200 a month provided they won't work; and another plan whereby taxes are wiped out entirely.

He then asks you the next question: "How would this be paid?"

"Why? Let the women pay," he says. "Haven't you heard all your life that the woman always pays?"

Fort Worth Men Liked Midland Entertainment

Fort Worth business men and members of the Round Up club, who visited Midland last week on a trip to advertise the Southwestern Exposition & Fat Stock show, expressed appreciation to the Midland chamber of commerce and to the local citizens for the welcome and entertainment extended them.

O. B. Sellers, president of the Round Up club, wrote the following:

"I cannot tell you how much our folks appreciated the cordial reception afforded our delegation which visited your good city March 5th, for the purpose of extending an invitation to all the citizens of Midland to the Southwestern Exposition & Fat Stock Show, March 14th to 24th. Fort Worth naturally feels very close to Midland and we sincerely trust the feeling is reciprocated."

"I do not know as to any development in your community with respect to a possible organized delegation to visit our Shows, but we sincerely hope that the interest engendered by our visit, plus the natural interest of your community in the development of live stock, good horse flesh, and the more exciting events of the world-famous Rodco will make it possible to organize a good delegation to visit the Exposition, in an organized way, in addition to the many who will visit the Exposition individually. Should such a sentiment develop, I am sure you will be glad to furnish leadership and direction. It goes without saying that a special day will be named for Midland if you desire."

"I shall certainly appreciate hearing from you and in the meantime, please again accept my thanks for the very fine time you spent here. We received our business men, all of whom expressed themselves as highly delighted with the reception."

Similar expressions were contained in the following letter from Charles C. Cottman, manager of the trade extension department of the Fort Worth chamber of commerce:

"On the eve of departure for our sixth and last trip of invitation to the Stock Show, I want to take this occasion to thank you for the very cordial reception which you were good enough to accord our party of Fort Worth business men last Tuesday evening and Wednesday morning while in your city to invite your citizens to the Stock Show."

"We appreciate immensely the opportunity of appearing before the group at the high school on Tuesday evening as well as Wednesday afternoon. The privilege of breakfast with some of your citizens was very much appreciated and of course the opportunity of being your guests was appreciated even more."

"I am very glad to have met you personally and hope that it will be possible for you to be present on Secretary's Day, March 18th. You will be the guest of the chamber of commerce for the Luncheon and of the management of the Stock Show or the rodeo in the afternoon."

Legislator Asks Alfred Apology

AUSTIN, Mar. 13. (AP)—The house today directed efforts to reduce the $3,000,000 appropriation to aid the Centennial celebration.

Previously it heard a bitter speech by Joe Caldwell, Jr., of Asherton, demanding an apology from Governor Alfred for his report of criticism of the house committee that reported unfavorably the bill to increase the sulphur tax.

Briton May Face Deportation Case

CHICAGO, Mar. 13. (AP)—John St. Leo Strachey, British attorney, arrested last night on charges of illegal entry, was freed today on $500 bond.

Greek Loser

A Greek rebellion believed aimed at putting Eleutherios Venizelos, above, four-time premier, in power at Athens was suppressed with every resource of the government. Plans attacked warships seized by the rebels as they raced for the island of Crete, where Venizelos lives, and bombarded others in the harbor at Athens.

NO LEGISLATION ON GOLD NEEDED

WASHINGTON, Mar. 13. (AP)—President Roosevelt said today studies by the government had revealed no necessity for new legislation as result of the Supreme Court gold decisions.

Some government aides had indicated that it might be best to plug up the possibility of further legal attack by a law barring manufacturers in courts of claims, but the president was reserving final decision.

At the press conference, the president refused to comment on the recent collapse of the cotton market but indicated that the administration was continuing a policy of gradual liquidation of surplus.

NEED MAGAZINES

The supply of magazines maintained in the chamber of commerce office by the Lions club for distribution to those who desire them is almost exhausted, Mrs. Sallye Covington, secretary of the chamber of commerce, said today.

All kinds of magazines are acceptable and contributions to the needed supply are welcome, donors are assured.

By MILTON BRONNER
NEA Service Staff Correspondent
LONDON.—"I have had no conversations with French and British statesmen about restoration of the monarchy in Austria."

It was Dr. Kurt von Schuschnigg, Chancellor of Austria, speaking, the youngest dictator in Europe, the man who succeeded the murdered Chancellor Dollfus. Meeting the man was an eye-opener.

One had read so much about the terrible happenings of 1933 and 1934 in Austria that one had a fixed conception of him who played so large a part in them. He is different from the Prussian type, so typical in Germany's iron regime. His German is softer—the softness of Austria. He puts on no statesman-like airs and has none of the overbearing front of the German Junker. Very earnest in his talk, at times his face lights up with a timid and rather charming smile. But there is steel in him, too. You can guess that he will both do and dare if put to it. When he says "aber" (but) or "ausgeschlossen" (excluded), it comes with the cold snap of a gun.

It was during his recent visit to London that this writer had the opportunity of a chat with him. When he denied he had broached the question of restoring the Hapsburgs to the throne, the words were not to be taken literally.

"But you yourself are reported to be an ardent monarchist."

"Correct," he replied with complete candor. "But let me make this important distinction. As a private individual, I say I am a monarchist. As Chancellor of Austria, I have to watch my step. I do not want to do anything that

"Last Round Up" Hasn't Been Held Yet. Scharbauer Tells Rotarians to Attend 41st District Conference Here

Rotarians of the forty-first district who think the "Last Round Up" has been held just because they have heard it "sung to death" are doomed for a surprise when they come here May 6 and 7 for the annual conference.

Clarence Scharbauer, carrying out a promise made at the Abilene meeting last Spring, will stage one of the largest and most picturesque old-time round ups seen in years. Selecting his "china mot" three miles south of the airport as the setting, he will have a herd thrown together by a string of picked cowhands.

The horses, held first in a rope corral, will be roped and saddled in full view of the crowd. At least two or three broncs will be in the remuda, to be ridden by bronc busters of unquestioned ability.

Efforts are being made by Rotary club committeemen to have news-reel men here to film and take sound effects of the round up.

"We'll ride 'em rough and scratch 'em out," said Scharbauer today in renewing his promise to the 2,400 Rotarians of the district, many of whom have never seen a round up and who believe that the days of the old west are not actually enacted on modern ranches.

A chuck wagon feed and barbecue will follow the round up which is to be staged on Monday afternoon, May 6. Entertainment at the high school auditorium is planned to follow that event, beginning at 8:30 and lasting until 10 p. m. A dance at Hotel Scharbauer is planned to last until a late hour.

COURT AFFIRMS DEATH SENTENCE

AUSTIN, Mar. 13. (AP)—The court of criminal appeals today affirmed the death penalty of Eugin Stuart of Houston, convicted of the murder of his twin daughters, four years old.

Former Midland Man Postmaster

POST, Tex., Mar. 13. (AP)—Phil S. Boucher, former city secretary here, became acting postmaster here Sunday. It was learned officially yesterday. He succeeded Charles Qualls, widely known in West Texas as a soldier, who was a republican nominee.

George H. Mahon, United States representative from this district, said he named Boucher after the post office department had requested him to name a successor to Qualls.

Boucher, 30, had been city secretary three years. W. F. Fresson, a former grocery employe, became city secretary.

The new postmaster at Post formerly lived at Midland, working as bookkeeper at the First National bank.

Work Under Way on Play To Be Sponsored by Legion

Work is going forward on the production of "The Flapper Grandmother" musical comedy to be presented at the High School auditorium March 22 and 23, under the auspices of the American Legion.

The play is directed by Mrs. Zeigler, Wayne Horns, representative of the company of Atlanta, Ga.

The cast will be composed of 15 principals and a chorus, all Midland people.

Iron Man of Austria Plans Legislative Regime

will disturb the peace of my country or of Europe. The time is not ripe for a restoration of monarchy. There are external and internal objections and difficulties that would have to be overcome before this could be contemplated.

"What Austria needs is a time of quiet, of peace and healing. We want an independent Austria. We want the support of all those who are for Austria first, last and all the time. We count as our adversaries all those who oppose this. It makes no difference whether they be those who in principle declare themselves opposed to an independent Austria (a shot at the Nazis) or those who only want a state, shaped in accordance with their own political and economic theories" (a shot at the Socialists).

Firing Verbal Shots at FDR Foes

Unleashing a picturesque vocabulary against Father Charles E. Coughlin and Senator Huey Long, former NRA administrator General Hugh S. Johnson, pictured as he spoke at a dinner in New York celebrating publication of his memoirs, warned that chaos and dictatorship impended if the 80 million "busted babies" followed the "pied piper" of the "lunatic fringe" of politics in their attacks on the Roosevelt recovery plan.

FLOODS SPREAD; LEVEE SMASHED

POPLAR BLUFFE, Mar. 13. (AP)—Floods continued to spread in Southern Missouri today as the St. Francis river in Stoddard county smashed a levee near Rombeater and flooded the 18,000 acre Mingo Basin. Numerous highways were flooded and railway transportation was disrupted.

Gold Decision Not To Cause New Laws

WASHINGTON, Mar. 13. (AP)—The senate today ordered a federal trade investigation of propaganda circulated on legislation to regulate public utility holding companies.

Planes Ply Routes To Trading Posts

EDMONTON, Alta. (AP)—The airplane has doomed the colorful old Arctic trading posts and dog-sled "freighters."

The great chains of stores and outposts to which trappers have been coming for centuries to barter their furs for supplies, are being replaced slowly by "Flying Trading Posts."

Instead of making long journeys to do their trading, the trapper, now wait for the trading posts to come to them. Periodically, huge airplanes, flying on scheduled routes, come soaring out of the sky and land in front of the trappers' cabins. The plane carries a complete layout of food, ammunition, trapping equipment and other trading goods. The trapper picks up what he wants and pays for them with furs. There is very little cash business.

Airplanes are also replacing the dog-sled as the popular method of transportation in the Arctic. Where once it took hardy mushers weeks to deliver mail and bring the furs back to civilization with dog-sleds, the airplane now performs the same task in a few hours or a day.

Even old trading companies such as Hudson's Bay and Revillon Freres, which have made history in the Arctic, have discovered that they cannot compete with the swiftness and efficiency of the airplane and slowly are abolishing their old outposts in favor of the "Flying Trading Post."

AERONCA SPORTSTER HERE

A P-26 pursuit plane, piloted by Capt. Codrington, enroute to California to Louisiana, is expected to arrive at the port this afternoon.

NRA CODES UNDER SMALL INDUSTRY

Could Concentrate on Big Industry With New Plan

WASHINGTON, March 13. (AP)—A plan for eliminating 537 smaller NRA codes by blanketing them into a single flexible "small industries" code was presented to the senate finance committee today by Donald R. Riechberg on behalf of the administration.

Although not personally recommending the plan, Riechberg submitted the bill as a sub-committee effort on the part of the administration to simplify the NRA administration and concentrating its gross desired.

JUDGE SAYS NRA ACT UNCONSTITUTIONAL

NEWARK, N. J., Mar. 13. (AP)—Federal Judge Guy L. Fike today rendered a decision declaring that the national industrial act is unconstitutional in respect to its authority to regulate interstate business.

Fike handed down his opinion in granting the Acme, Inc., of Jersey City, an injunction restraining the government from enforcing the fabricated metal code regulating hours of labor, wages and payment of code assessments.

PRESTON NAMED INSPECTOR FOR SANITARY BOARD

Sam R. Preston, Midland cattlemen and president of the Production Loan corporation, has been appointed livestock sanitary inspector of this area, it was revealed today. He succeeds R. B. McWilliams, who has been inspector under the former administration, and begins his duties March 16.

Preston's appointment was made by the Livestock Sanitary Commission of Texas on March 7. Dave Nelson of Orange is chairman. Commissioners are D. H. Martin of Del Rio and Roy Jackson of Laredo.

Dr. T. O. Booth of Fort Worth is chief veterinarian, J. H. Rasco of Fort Worth is chief inspector and J. H. Rasco of Fort Worth is chief clerk.

Preston's territory had not been definitely defined. He was advised to begin work out of Midland as far as possible. The commission has reported that inspectors had been named at Pecos and Marfa, territories formerly handled from Midland.

The commission has charge of eradication of scabies and other diseases of cattle, consequently all shipments must be inspected.

TRAP 1,000 CROWS

BIG SPRING (AP)—Over 1,000 crows have been trapped alive by a new device perfected by members of the Howard county chapter of the Game and Fish protective Association here. The trap was perfected at Big Spring and has proved so successful that duplicates of the unit are being constructed at different points throughout the state.

It is a simple net wire device which is placed in a firm, baited by crows and baited with refuse foodstuffs which attract the birds. Once inside they cannot escape and are held without physical injury. As many as 25 crows are reported to have been trapped in one day with the device.

IT IS EASIER TO FEEL THAN TO THINK

The chief trouble which the modern educator faces, suggests Eleanor Rowland Wembridge, Cleveland's famous juvenile court expert, is the fact that most people think with their hearts rather than with their minds.

Mrs. Wembridge, who used to be a school-ma'am herself, told assembled educators at Atlantic City that teachers make their appeal to the "cold intellect" and consequently are exerting less and less influence on the affairs of the country.

For most of us find it a great deal easier to feel than to think. On an abstract problem which does not touch us closely, we can use our brains as impartially as the next man; but when something comes up which cuts right across our emotions, the natural tendency is to let the emotions handle it from start to finish.

It is this human trait which makes the path of a political democracy so very difficult in these trying times. The demagogues and the dictators may be ignorant of many things, but they are fully aware of the ease with which people can be persuaded to use their hearts rather than their heads.

A Hitler, for instance, can seize the enormous amount of emotional resentment against postwar conditions in Germany and ride to power on it.

What if his program, intellectually considered, is empty and contradictory? He induces people to FEEL about it rather than to think about it.

Emotionally, they cannot help being for it. Consequently it goes over with a bang.

It is the same way here at home. When we rushed into the first hectic period of the NRA, for example, we gave way to our enthusiasms. We felt that this was the program that would lead us out of the wilderness.

We refused to listen to the men who analyzed the plan's imperfections; our emotions made us deaf. Hence the imperfections were not remedied, and a certain disillusionment is the result today.

Then there are old age pensions, for another example. We are shown a picture of a system which pays some $200 a month to all aged folk. Our hearts respond instantly—as whose hearts would not?

We refuse to analyze the plan intellectually, to see if it would actually work; and by giving ourselves emotionally to this plan, we make the task of evolving a practical security program just that much more difficult.

The greatest difficulty modern democracy faces is this universal human propensity for letting emotion take the place of honest thought.

EDUCATIONAL COMICS

To the average child the comic section of the newspaper is described as "the funnies," but in reality the various cartoon capers of the comic characters that appear in the paper each night have another value far more important than mere amusement.

They are really educational. Through the activities of "Freckles and His Friends," for example, children learn about dirigibles, radios, and practically all our modern scientific inventions.

Through "Alley Oop" they find out about prehistoric animals, and the average child of four or five years can rattle off words today that would have been tongue-twisters for the grade school pupils of a generation ago.

Then the swashbuckling adventures of "Wash Tubbs and Easy," and the general information that is found in other Sheboygan Press comics all have their place in helping to educate modern youth.

There is little doubt that the child of today is better informed about the march of progress than the child of a generation ago, and the comics are in a large way responsible.

The trouble with most comics 20 years ago was that their sole aim was to entertain or get a laugh. Today you will note that the comic artists are keeping abreast of the times by working the latest scientific devices, the most recent type of adventure, into their strips.

And the children love it. They don't know they are being educated, which is the beautiful part of it all. To them it's just fun.

Expects Nice Profit on Steers

WAUPACA, Wis. (U.P.—S. D.)—Shambeau, Waupaca County farmer, bought 100 steers at the St. Paul stockyards last November and expects to realize a profit of $6,000 on them when they all are sold. The steers averaged 700 pounds when purchased but after careful feeding and attention are averaging about 1,000 pounds when Shambeau sells them. In addition to the additional weight, the increased market price per pound accounts for Shambeau's profit.

Gas Station Replaces Mansion MOBILE, Ala. (U.P.)—The old Foote mansion, where once the belles and beaux of one of the old south's gayest cities danced and dined, is under the wreckers' hammer. Built in 1858 by Charles Foote, cotton manufacturer, the red-brick mansion housed the wounded Admiral Edward Buchanan when he was injured on the eve of Alabama's secession from the Union during the Civil War. A filling station will be erected on the site.

"Guard Your Eyes" Helen Keller Urges Youth of America

World-Famous Blind Woman Makes Eyesight Conservation Appeal Direct To Boys and Girls Of the Country. To the Boys and Girls of America: I want to say something to you that beats in my heart day and night. I have dwelt in darkness since I was a little girl, and know what it means to be blind. That is why I am so deeply interested in keeping the light in your eyes. Sight is very important in your lives. When a child loses his sight, he loses many beautiful things. He cannot run freely or go wherever he pleases. There will be no more bright colors in the world for him, no flash of bird wings, his movements, once so quick and eager, will become slow and timid, and his hands will often miss what they seek. He will be lonely because other children will not know how to play with him. It is possible with great patience and perseverance to overcome to a degree the handicap of blindness, but it is far better for you to keep your sight. My message to you, dear boys and girls, is this: Be careful of your eyes, guard them as you would your most loved possession. When you play, refrain from doing anything that endangers your eyes. And when you read or study make certain that you have plenty of glareless light, so that your eyes will not be subjected to strain. Remember, an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure. Look after your eyes for everybody's sake, train them so that you may be able to see all the beauty in the world, and be able to help those who do not live in the light you love. How Can It Be?

By Helen Welshimer

HOW can it be,
When the sun shines so,
And green aproned trees

DOWN the avenue,
Round the park,
All of a sudden
The world seems dark?

UNLESS it can be
This obscure shade
Comes from the shadow

March Breezes May Bring Sneezes for Unprotected Child

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

March is taking time by the forelock and stepping up in line before February has quite blown out. March is no sissy. He is tough and rough and deceitful, the outlaw month, the black-sheep and the villain. And wouldn't this step-son of the war god come along at the very time of the year when most of us are the least prepared?

We feel so safe with that tang of spring in the air. The generous patches of deep-blue sky fooling us into thinking that Pluto has released Proserpine and Ceres is herself again.

The kids leave their helmets under the radio and run out bare-headed into the wind—kites, get their annual exercise and marbles play grace-notes against the cornice. Base balls are spit upon and bats go smacking their prey into space. Stone steps and even the ground offer new allure. Just more traps of Enemy March to do his stuff.

Resistance Is Low

He blows all the dirty winter dust into the babies' eyes and mouth and ears. Each dust particle, be sure, is a miniature airplane for goodness-knows-what germ.

Physically, almost the whole pack of us are low in resistance. There may have been compensations for the absent sun in the way of cod-liver oil tonics, but as a rule only the little tads get it. Anyway winter has left many children with a resistance average below normal and that's a fact.

So don't let's get careless for a while. Above all watch the wind. Plain cold doesn't hurt anyone if he keeps dry and is warmly dressed, but windy, dusty weather, and windy damp weather, warm or cold, is dangerous.

For one thing mothers, ears and

Beauty Routines Must Be Regular To Be Effective

BY ALICE HART
NEA Service Staff Writer

Failure to practice them regularly is one of the reasons a good many women seem never to get the most good out of their beauty routines. After all, if you do your exercises once a week instead of every day, you can't expect to see a rapid improvement in your figure.

Drinking eight glasses of water only one day out of the month isn't going to keep your complexion clear and smooth and dieting three days a week and then stuffing yourself with sweets and starches the other four won't make you lose weight. If you really are serious about keeping your skin, hair and figure lovely through the years, you simply must stick by whatever rules you have made.

The same general idea applies to use of cosmetics preparations, too. One mask won't clear up a muddy complexion, but if you use a mask on a certain day each week for six months, you will see an improvement.

If you are trying to get rid of fine lines around your eyes, apply eye cream, muscle oil, tissue builder or whatever, each and every night before you go to bed. One application of anything just won't correct defects that have accumulated over a period of years.

You have to learn to pick the right aids, use them properly and, above all, consistently.

You should allow at least fifteen minutes each morning for throats are vulnerable just now, especially if children have kept their ears muffled all winter out-doors. Don't allow them to go out unprotected now. Those with tendency to ear, throat or sinus trouble need to be extra-carefully watched. Any tendency to pain or soreness behind an ear needs a doctor's eye and verdict at once, even though you may know how to cope with other simpler symptoms from past experience.

Colds Start Worse Ills

Common colds are a peg on which March loves to hang his head-gear while he gets in dirtier work. So make the children take care of themselves, wise mother, and don't stand for nonsense.

Clean handkerchiefs or the soft sanitary tissues now in use, should be part of every child's equipment each day, cold or no cold.

The right way to give simple gargles in case of infection can quickly be explained by your doctor. The right way to gargle with salt-water or whatever you use for either sore throat or its prevention can easily be learned by any child of four or over. There is a time and a place for the doctor, but always give the benefit of the least little doubt to the doctor.

Watch little babies in their prams. Keep them sheltered from dust. They are closer to the street with its unseen enemies than you. Show General March that you have outsmarted him once again.

Supt. W. W. Lackey Speaks on Child Psychology Tuesday

"Play and Curiosity" was the title of the second in a series of lectures on child psychology delivered by Supt. W. W. Lackey at Junior High school Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. Lackey discussed his subject under the four headings "Instinct", "Curiosity", "Play", and "A Sentence Sermon".

Additional lectures in the series will be given on the first Tuesday afternoon in April and in May. The series is sponsored by the PTA.

Large Increase Shown in BTU Study Attendance

A large increase in attendance marked the second night of the BTU study course being held this week at the Baptist church. Eighty-seven people were present and a total enrollment for the course of 82 was reported.

Classes were taught by the Rev. L. G. Mosley, Mrs. Mosley, Mrs. Tessie Shirley, and Mrs. Morris Day.

Mrs. Mosley's class was organized into groups and will conduct a membership drive.

The Evangels circle of the WMU served refreshments and Mr. Mosley was in charge of the recreation hour.

Thursday night has been designated as "stunt" night and each class will give a stunt during the play period.

Mrs. Paul Jackson Teaches Bible Class

The Biblical character of Rebecca was the subject of study at the meeting of the women's Bible class of the Church of Christ Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Paul Jackson taught the lesson.

Attending were: Meses. Jackson, W. F. Hejl, Reese, Ollie Jones, Bill Harris, E. W. Watlington Jr., and Earl Thorp.

application of makeup; about half an hour at night before you go to bed for brushing, cleansing and creaming; two hours one day a week for a visit to a beauty shop or for thorough skin and hair conditioning treatments right at home. The total is only seven and one-quarter hours per week and I certainly don't think this is too much time to devote to your personal appearance.

FEMINE FANCIES

BY KATHLEEN EHLAND

We can see only one fault with moonlight nights and that is that they make one so sleepy next day.

Our idea of a runner-up for the task of hunting a needle in a haystack is trying to find a hat to fit a very small head. Especially when one has very definite ideas of the kind of hat one must have.

Navy blue is very fashionable and can be very lovely. But when we think of spring frocks we think in terms of greens and soft blues, grays, pinks, and yellows—all the bright, gentle, alluring colors that go with pale-blue skies and silver-gold moons and that indefinable feeling of youth and gladness in the air.

The cellophane straws are our personal nomination for the most definitely and obviously new spring hats.

The off-the-face halo hats are so feminine that they are bound to make masculine hearts go flip-flop. But the sad part is that not all girls can wear them. More's the pity. But then life is notorious for playing favorites.

If one can't wear a halo, compromise on a demure poke. After all the same results are often gained by diametrically opposite means.

And while we are discussing hats, we notice that there are any number of perky little white fabric hats, very inexpensive and just the thing for jaunty wear.

Ruth Class Honors Miss Jerra Edwards At Party, Shower

Honoring Miss Jerra Edwards who will leave soon to make her home at Kerrville, the Ruth class of the Baptist church entertained with a handkerchief shower at the home of Mrs. Walter Cowden Tuesday evening.

Forty-two was the amusement for the evening with score cards in the shape of green hats and tallies of green-and-white clover leaves suggesting St. Patrick's Day.

Favors of small green pipes were on the party plates served by Mrs. Cowden, Mrs. J. M. White, and Miss Janis Wilkins.

About 25 persons were present.

"as advertised"

How many times you see those two words in the course of a day's shopping: "This article for sale—as advertised."

And those two words are as welcome as they are familiar, for they form a bond of confidence between the merchant and yourself. They are his guarantee to you of worth and value.

Here is an article that has been described in your newspaper. Its merits have been told; possibly, too, its price. You know exactly what you will get when you buy it. You know its quality, its utility; you know how it fits into your needs. And when you buy it, you know you are getting not some unproved substitute but the specific article—as represented.

It is easy to understand why that phrase, "as advertised," creates a feeling of confidence. You have learned to depend upon consistently advertised products. You know that the maker has confidence in them, else he would not spend money calling your attention to them day after day, and month after month. You know that they have been approved by the most critical of investigators—the buying public. And above all you know from experience that buying goods "as advertised" is the best investment you can make.

It pays to read the advertisements.

"I LOOKED AT ALL THREE lowest-priced trucks and listened to all the sales arguments. When your salesman showed me the amazing number of high-priced truck features built into the Dodge I could hardly believe that they are now priced right down with the lowest. I don't mind saying I am absolutely sold on Dodge. It is the only one of the three lowest-priced trucks that has hydraulic brakes and I figure this feature alone is worth $100 in economy, safety and all-around satisfaction."
(sig.) C. H. BOOKEDIS, Chicago, Ill.

THE big swing among leading automotive manufacturers in 1935 is toward hydraulic brakes. But of the three lowest-priced trucks, only Dodge gives them to you!

Save Money 3 Ways

Everyone knows that hydraulic brakes work quicker and smoother. . . tend to check skidding and swerving. But they do another important thing . . . they make your truck a lot more economical to run. . . and here's why—hydraulic brakes stay equalized! Braking pressure on all four wheels with Dodge perfected hydraulic brakes is always the same. This tends to distribute the wear evenly over all four tires and all four sets of brake linings, so they last much longer. Thus hydraulic brakes save you money on tires . . . save on brake relining . . . save on brake adjusting expense.

Hydraulic brakes are just one of the 18 outstanding, high-priced features Dodge gives you in trucks now priced with America's lowest. Only Dodge gives you an oil filter to save oil. Only Dodge gives you 4 piston rings to conserve power—the others give you 3 piston rings. Dodge gives you 4 main bearings to prolong engine life—the others give you 3 bearings. Dodge gives you a six-cylinder L-head engine for low-cost operation. Dodge pioneered such outstanding features as valve seat inserts to save gas and valve grinding . . . full-floating rear axle to save repair costs . . . and many more.

Ask for a "Show-Down"

Lots of truck buyers who check up on Dodge features when they go to buy a low-priced truck say, "It just doesn't belong in the lowest-priced field, but it is!" The extra value built into Dodge is surprising . . . literally amazing! See your Dodge dealer and ask for a "show-down" of this extra value . . . today!

MACK SAYS THAT WITH FOX'S CATCHING A'S HAVE PENNANT CHANCE

BEST ALL-AROUND PLAYER IN MAJORS SAYS VET. MGR.

By HARRY GRAYSON
Sports Editor, NEA Service
PORT MYERS, Fla., March 13.—Why has Connie Mack made a catcher out of James Emory Fox, greatest long-distance right-hand hitter of all time and one of the three foremost first basemen in baseball?

Why did Fox consent to the switch?

There is little question that it will shorten Fox's brilliant major league career. The wear and tear is vastly greater behind the plate than at first base. There is much more danger of the Maryland farmer being injured.

Mack 72 and launching his 52d season, realizes all this.

"The tall tactician's explanation stresses the importance of catching and the scarcity of receivers.

"With Fox catching, the Athletics have a chance to win the American League pennant," says Mack, shading his pale blue eyes from the Florida sun. "We could do no better than run fifth in 1934 largely because we did not have a catcher of real worth and one who could hit much more than his weight.

"I couldn't buy, borrow, or beg a catcher who figured to hit more than 200, but in Alex Hooks, purchased from Tulsa, I have a first baseman who should hit at least 275. Hooks, with an average of .340, lost the batting championship of the Texas league last season by only two points.

Fox favors switch

"The boss made the decision for me," smiles Fox, the 360 hitter. "After all, my being put out of the game for any length of time means more to him than it does to me.

"I simply had a chance to do some business. Mr. Mack made it worth while for me to catch, so here I am."

Fox reveals that he is to be given a bonus each season if the Philadelphia club winds up in the first division.

The Sidersville slugger is so positive that he and his teammates will attain this end that he already is counting the extra cash.

"I should collect between $65,000 and $75,000 on the new three-year contract I signed at the conclusion of last season," he beams.

From that you easily can reckon the approximate amount of Fox's flat salary annually.

Bobo Ruth, whose major league home run record of 60 Fox hopes to break, was paid $80,000 for the season of 1930 by the New York Yankees.

Ruth had vastly more color and bucks office appeal than Fox, who swatted 58 home runs in 1932, but the difference in their pay well illustrates how fortunate

George M. Cohan
Picture at Ritz

The George M. Cohan that millions of playgoers know and love, the charm of the Cohan personality, his genius both as playwright and actor, are brought to the screen in Harold B. Franklin's production of Cohan's melodrama success, "Gambling," which is showing at the Ritz today and tomorrow. Mr. Franklin's only instruction to his star was: "Be Yourself." Rowland V. Lee directed, with Wynne Gibson, Dorothy Burgess, Theodore Newton, Walter Gilbert and many other sin the cast.

"White Cockatoo" At Yucca Today

The picture is based on the thrilling novel of Mignon Gr. Eberhart and is said to be filled with hair raising situations that hold the suspense to an unusual climax. There are three murders, the kidnaping of an American heiress, and several other attempted crimes, all committed in a spooky hotel in the wild swept coast of France.

The plot centers about the attempt of two bands of criminals, working independently, to steal the fortune of the heiress. The crimes are committed in an effort to get hold of secret papers.

Mysterious persons creeping about the creaky old hotel at night and suddenly vanishing as into thin air, a hidden chamber within doors, a girl appearing in two places at the same time and other strange phenomena add to the eerie atmosphere.

There is an all star cast with Jean Muir and Ricardo Cortez in the romantic roles, and around whom the plot centers. Others include Ruth Donnelly, Walter Kingsford, John Eldredge, Gordon Westcott, Addison Richards and Pauline Garon.

Dr. William W. Christmas, pioneer aircraft engineer, foresees subterranean airports for the future. Incoming planes will travel down ramps to discharge passengers, while the structure will also serve as a terminal for pneumatic tubes.

Americans Have Horse Breeding Farms in France

PARIS (AP)—A Kingsley Macomber, who took over the stud of the late William K. Vanderbilt several years ago, and Joseph E. Widner still are the leaders among American breeders in France.

Their broodmares last year foaled 25 colts, and if stock means anything, it is likely that next year will see the first showing of several first class juveniles.

Macomber's Farm

Macomber owns his own stud farm at Beaumont-en-Auge, Normandy. It previously was owned by Vanderbilt. Macomber has two stallions, Rose Prince by Prince Palatine and Eglantine, born in 1919 and sire of a number of famous horses including Prince Rose, winner of the Prix du President de la Republique at the St. Cloud track, and Brumeux by Teddy—one of the world's most celebrated stars—and La Brume.

Out of Halping, dam of Bengali, he has Hannibal by McKinley, and out of Comerta, from the Frank Jay Gould stud, dam of Commander, he has Cararina, also by McKinley.

Rose Prince Products

Two Rose Prince products are Prince Charming out of Fairy Tale, and Rose This out of Particles. By Part, he has Orida out of Lucine and Highlander out of Whoopee.

The broodmares belonging to Widner are in stud at Haras du Mesnil et de la Chaussée, Normandy. Confidence, winner of the Deauville Grand Prix in 1932 and one of the best fillies of her generation, has given birth to Neal Deal, by Pharos.

The famous Ksar is the sire of Anticipation out of Listening In, Tangiers out of Tagus, Barbary-bush out of Pervanches, and Platinum Blonde out of Sweep-ezza.

Puzzle Picture—Find the Stocking

France Lesentop created a sensation at Tahiti Beach, Miami, Fla., when she appeared in a stocking innovation as above. In spite of its conventional appearance, her bathing suit is made of the same material as silk stockings, only er—not quite so sheer.

Pigeons Pass Time

PRINEVILLE, Ore. (AP)—Citizens of Prineville attributed disparity between hands on four faces of the town clock to faulty mechanism. But Lester Moncrief, new resident, became curious and investigated. He found that pigeons alighting on the hands were responsible.

Bill Bauer left Tuesday for Ballinger, where he has accepted a position with the Independent Oil company.
