Oslo church bell and painting on Titanic!

Hansford county residents were surprised this week with pictures of the Titanic. This un-sinkable ship hit an iceberg over 70 years ago and went to the bottom of the Atlantic ocearn with a loss of over 1500 lives. On this ship, coming to Hansford County, was a large oil painting and the original Church Bell for the Oslo Church. located North of Gruver, in Hansford County.

Of course the Bell and the painting are still on the Titanic. A new Bell and painting was re-ordered from Oslo, Norway, and are now in the Church in Hansford County.

As concerned parents, we wish to thank the Spearman Policeman for a fine job of patroling around the Elementary School area.

Their visibility is a reminder to parents to obey the speed limit and drive more carefully. It also reminds the children to be more aware of traffic safety.

The Spearman Rotary Club had it's second Crime Watch organizational meeting Thursday night September 5. There were numerous topics discussed and a total of seventy three people present. The people present enjoyed a program presented by John Bradshaw, the area Crime Prevention Specialist from Amarillo, Texas. Mr. Bradshaw's program covered several topics including three criminal scams which are operating in the Texas Panhandle at the present time. Those present also voted on the Crime Watch sign to be used by the City of Spearman. The sign picked was the one which has been pictured in the newspaper announcing the Crime Watch meetings. There were not representatives from every block in Spearman and the Rotary Club is asking for volunteers from the various neighborhoods to act as directors for their neighborhood. The Rotary Club will be paying for the Crime Watch signs which will be placed at the city limits of Spearman they will also pay for the bumper stickers to be placed in the neighborhood residents windows if the resident desires. This is a highly effective program and the Rotary Club encourages all residents to get involved and participate in this program making Spearman a safer place to live.

Among The Neighbors

Mrs. Mae Wofford attended her family re-union (the Pape family) at Buffalo Gap last Friday and Saturday. There were more than 62 family members present of which six were Mrs. Wofford's brothers and sisters.

She was joined by four year old granddaughter, Katy Wofford, of Portales. On Sunday Mrs. Wofford drove to Portales to greet a very new granddaughter, born that same morning. Erin Michele, weighing 7 lb. and 21 inches long, is the first child of Bert and Julia Wofford. They have visited here on several occasions. The Woffords now have three granddaughters. Unfortunately, Dale Wofford was unable to attend the re-union. The Woffords live in the Holt community where he is the manager of the Holt elevator.

John and Sammie Bishop are feeling almost as they have had open house all summer, having had many guests. They have had the pleasure for several days of entertaining two of his cousins. The Reverend and Mrs. Charles Milner of Montgomery City, Missouri and Mr. and Mrs Henry Smith of near Columbia, Missouri have had their first trip to the Panhandle.

Mr. and Mrs Owen Pendergraft were enjoying the cool mountains at Charo, Colorado with niece and nephew, the Art Axlsons, when they were called back by bad news. Their granddaughter and family, the Purcells of Stinnett lost everything in a fire that destroyed their store and living quarters. The Pendergrafts have been with them since, assisting in getting them resettled and the business re-opened.

The twelve members of the Helen and Pete Ralls family spent the week-end in the home of her sister, Mrs. Darlene Howell. They were here to attend the McLeod family re-union.

Mr. and Mrs. T.C. Kitchens returned early in the week from Tahoka, Texas where they had been in the home of their daughter and family, Barbara and Jill Jaquess. The Kitchens were assisting in the care of the children, Jill and Jason, who had just undergone tonsillectomies. Barbara had begun her 14th year of teaching in Tahoka. While the Kitchens were there, their son-in-law, Burton Williamson, visited. He had been in Lubbock to check on his parents, the C.V. Williamsons. Burton is a chemist in the research department of the Ford Motor Company, he lives in Canton, Michigan.

Friends and neighbors of the C.V. Williamsons, who lived here a number of years ago, will be interested in knowing that the Williamsons will note their 50th wedding anniversary on September 13th. Mr. Williamson's health is very poor as it has deterioated since the death of their daughter, Frankie. For that reason, he would be unable to attend a public observance. However, friends here are encouraged to send them a card on the occasion. Their address is; 5609-43rd B St., Lubbock, Texas, 79414.

Mr. and Mrs Mason Tindell, of Deming, New Mexico, recently spent a reek visiting in the home of his brother, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Tindell. Mr. Mason Tindell lived here and went to school as a boy. They were here to attend the Martin re-union.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Cannefix of Abilene have been visiting in the home of their daughter and family, Sheri and Steve Benton. The Cannefix have visited here before and had in mind a vacation, but soon found themselves involved in helping the Bentons ready their new home for occupancy. This lovely four-bedroom, 2200 square feet, home is on Circle Drive, and the Bentons and their four children are eagerly awaiting the move into it, perhaps in about a month.

Mrs Virginia Wallace of Hereford was here several days the past week as a guest of Darlene Howell. Mrs. Howell recently returned from Ruidosa, New Mexico, where she had been a guest of Mrs. Wallace.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Martin flew to Chicago the latter part of the week to attend the formal wedding of a classmate of their daughter, Rajan. Rajan was a member of the wedding party. Her husband, Steve Trafton, of Amarillo also attended.

Of much interest and curiosity is the Classic 1957 Thunderbird which the Ralph Biodgetts brought back from Vancouver, British Columbia,

Canada last week. They flew to Seattle, then to Vancouver. They returned by way of Grand Junction, Colorado, where they visited friends. The car performed flawlessly all the way. However, Joan says that tho she enjoyed the grand and beautiful scenery, the next time she makes about a 2000 mile trip in the heat of summer, she would prefer a car with one modern feature--air condition-

The O.H. McLeod Family RE-Union

The first re-union of the O.H. McLeod family re-union was held Labor Day in Spearman at the Cattleman's Club. There was an excellent attendance, considering the family is so scattered. Some members had not seen each other for many years. Of the six children of the McLeod, three are surviving and attended the re-union.

The families present were: Helen and Pete Ralls, Yuma, Arizona--Sandy Scholgal, Faye Gregory, Tisha Gregory of Warwick, Rhode Island; Ray Schlogal, Naperville, Illinois: Cathy, Rick and Jason Gurcus, Albuquerque, New Mexico: Dena Cunningham-Perryton--Debbie and Johnnie Baldrich and two children, White Deer, Texas: Ida Mae Allen family:- Murphey and Vickie Allen and son, Elk City, Oklahoma: Buddy McLeod family: Thelma McLeod and daughter, Dot Callway, Amarillo. Rock McLeod Family: Georgia Mc-Leod, Rita and Pat Underwood and Billy Pat, Jeannie Nollner and Tammy, Jimmy & Carol McLeod, Sandy and Cody, all of Spearman, Susie Halloway and Husband, Ft. Worth. Darlene Howell, Pat and Edward Dear, Cindy and Ken Schneider and two children of Spearman. Cathy and Mark Glade, two children from Lubbock; Jimmy and Kay crouch and Candy, Pampa.

Others attending were Elizabeth Bennett, Gruver, Virginia Wallas, Hereford, Will and Deanna Mae Douglas, Spearman.

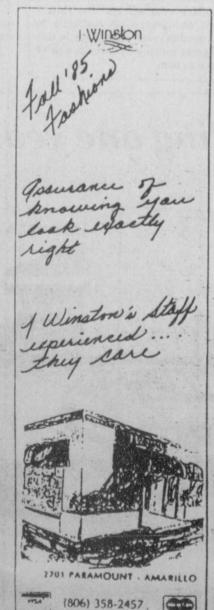

Friends and associates of Mrs. Lucille Hagerman were horrified on Tuesday to learn of the tragedy concerning her five month old grandson. Chris Hagerman, son of Steve. and Patsy Hagerman of Roscoe, Texas was severely burned over 28% of his body in a car fire. The baby had been left momentarily in the car and ignition fire is suspected. Lucile and daughter, Cathy Reid, are still with the family but are expected to return this week-end. The baby is in Parkland Burn

Center of Dallas

Robert Diffie, close friend of the family flew down Thursday and reports that the baby is holding his own but the doctors feel the prognosis is poor. He feels that all is being done that is possible and the family would appreciate prayers. The Steve Hagermans have one other child, Stephena.

Water important to livestock producer

In Hansford County, water is very important to a livestock producer. The location of the water in a pasture can also be very beneficial. Several watering facilities in a pasture have a number of benefits.

First, the distance the livestock have to travel for water can be directly related to the production and overall well-being of the livestock. The further the livestock have to travel for water the less time they have for grazing. This can have an effect on the weight gained by the livestock.

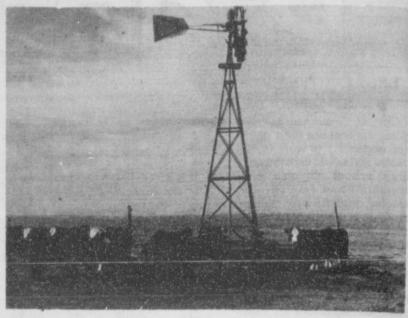

Second, the livestock will use the entire pasture if there are several facilities to obtain water. Knowing there is water at more than one place in the pasture the livestock will graze the pasture more uniformly. With just one watering facility the livestock tend to over-graze the area around the water. The livestock will begin grazing as they leave the windmill but having to return for water they may not graze very far into the pasture. Consequently, that area will be grazed the heaviest and other parts of the pasture may not be grazed at all. Therefore, with more watering facilities the livestock can graze from on trough to the next, not necessarily returning to the same one each time.

New Arrival

Mark and Tammy Fairbanks of Morse are the proud parents of a baby boy born August 28, at Golden Plains Community Hospital in Borger. He weighed 7 lbs. 1 oz. and has been named Alex Ray. He joins two sisters, Amber 6, and Ashley 4 in the home.

Maternal grandparents are Mrs. Bobbie Davis of Spearman and Mr. Charles Ried of Morse. Mrs. Mary Carter of Dumas is the maternal Great-grandmother.

Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Fairbanks of Gruver, and paternal great-grandmothers are Mrs. Sylvia McAdams of Dalhart and Mrs. Lillian Fairbanks, Cherokee, Okla.

Third, having more than one windmill in a pesture is beneficial when one breaks down. Repairing a windmill is never much fun, but knowing the livestock can still get water at other places can ease the mind. Therefore, developing several watering facilities in a pesture is beneficial to the livestock

A&M professor says controls on free-riders stifle group creativity

COLLEGE STATION — There may be no such thing as a free lunch, but there is a free ride and bosses who attempt to put a stop to it may be stifling group creativity.

A Texas A&M management professor and specialist in group behavior says anyone who has worked on a project for a civic organization or a church knows about free-riders — people who get equal recognition but do less of the work. Not everyone who works on a project does his or her fair share.

"Some managers try to control freeriding by having employees construct elaborate reports to account for their time. But when you have to account for every minute of your time, it inhibits the ability to be freewheeling and innovative," says Dr. David Van Fleet of Texas A&M's College of Business Administration. and the producer as well as the use of the forage produced in the pasture.

It was a hot summer afternoon. Barbara was lying in the backyard, sunning herself. She looked up when her brother Jeff and two friends came out of the garage. They were carrying a tin can and a big box of matches. They found a patch of dirt and began digging a hole. Then Jeff went and got the hose and dragged it over to the hole. Barbara, curious, got up and went over to see what they were doing. One of the boys had a small plastic soldier. He wrapped it in cloth, and soaked it in gasoline from the tin can. He tied the toy soldier to a stick and stuck it in the ground. Barbara was scared. She knew what the boys were doing was dangerous, but she was fascinated as well. She stood back a little from the group and watched as one of the boys lit a match and set the soldier on fire. There was a big flame, then the soldier began to melt. "That was neat," one of the boys said. "Let's do it again."

When the third plastic soldier was ignited, suddenly the can of gasoline, about two feet from the fire, burst into flames. "Watch out," Jeff said. Everyone moved away. Afraid the can would explode, he kicked it into the air. It flew off at an angle, right at Barbara. Suddenly she was covered with flames. She screamed and rolled on the ground. I eff turned on the hose and doused her with cold water. She ran to a neighbor, who took her to the hospital. Questions

PUBLIC NOTICE BRIEF EXPLANATORY STATEMENTS OF PROPOSED

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS GENERAL ELECTION NOVEMBER 5, 1985

PROPOSITION NO. 1

ON THE BALLOT Sections 1 and 2 of House Joint Resolution 6 propose a constitutional amendment that would authorize the Texas Water Development Board to issue an additional $980 million of Texas Water Develop-ment bonds.

The additional bonds to be issued will be dedicated for deposit in the Texas Water Development Fund, with $190 million of those bond proceeds to be used for water supply loans and facilities acquisition and with $400 million of those bond proceeds to be used for state participation in the acquisition and development of facilities for storage, transmission, transportation, and treatment of water and wastewater. Of the remaining bonds authorized, $190 million will be dedicated for use in water quality enhancement projects, and $200 million will be dedicated exclusively for flood control projects.

The amendment would also allow the legislature to provide for the creation, administration, and implementation of a bond insurance program to which the state pledges up to $250 million of its general credit to insure payment of the principal of and interest on bonds or other obligations issued by political sub-divisions of the state for water conservation, water development, water quality enhancement, flood control, drainage, recharge, chloride control or desalinization. Unless authorized to continue by a two-thirds vote of the members of each house of the Legislature, the bond insurance program will expire on the sixth anniversary of the date on which this section becomes a part of the constitution. Bond insurance issued before expiration of the program will not be affected by such expiration.

The amendment would authorize the legislature to create and appropriate money to special funds in the state treasury to make grants, loans, and other financial assistance available to governmental entities for certain enumerated water planning purposes. Also, the legislature would be permitted to extend the benefits of constitutionally approved water projects to nonprofit water supply corporations. The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment to authorize the issuance of an additional $980 million of Texas Water Development Bonds, to create special water funds for water conservation, water development, water quality enhancement, flood control, drainage, subsidence control, recharge, chloride control, agricultural soil and water conservation, and desalinization, to authorize a bond insurance program, and to clarify the purposes for which Texas Water Development Bonds may be issued."

PROPOSITION NO. 2 ON THE BALLOT

Section 3 of House Joint Resolution 6 proposes a constitutional amendment that would allow the Texas Water Development Board to issue and sell Texas agricultural water conservation bonds in an amount not to exceed $200 million, if authorized to do so by a two-thirds vote of the members of each house of the legislature. The Texas agricultural water conservation bonds would be general obligations of the State of Texas, and would be paid from the first money coming nto the state treasury in each fiscal year. Any legislative enactment permitting the expenditure of funds for such purposes would authorize the city or town to fix a lien on the property, with the owners' consent, for the cost of relocating or replacing the water laterals, and would provide that such cost shall be assessed against the property, with repayment by the property owner to be amortized over a period not to exceed five years at the rate of interest set by law. Such liens could not be enforced until after five years from the date the liens were affixed.

Strutting across the ice, penguins make a comically pompous picture. They are at once dignified and ridiculous, and if we look at them very long they remind us uncomfortably of ourselves!

We, too, are apt to mass together on occasion and to be, perhaps, a little ludicrous in our efforts to be "part of the scene." Sometimes following the leader may, indeed, be the best thing to do. But it can also be the easy way out.

Today, especially, we need the courage of our convictions. We need to stand up for what we truly believe in. We need to do the important things.

Like going to church.

ALT announces "Peter Pan" cast

Cast selections have been announced for "Peter Pan," the first production scheduled for the 1985-89 season of Amarillo Little Theatre

Sherman Bass will portray the play's flying namesake, one of several roles that will require tricky aerial maneuvers, in addition to acting skills. The decision to cast Bass in the title role is slightly out of the ordinary. Although Bass is not exactly vowing to "boldly go where no man has gone before," the Peter Pan part traditionally has been fulfilled by Wendy, the girl who grows up despite Peter Pan's peer pressure, as a child will be presented as Stephanie Mueller. Judy Hale is cast as the more mature Wendy.

Brent Biles will present dual roles as Mr. Darling, and the Never-Never Land alter ego, the sinister, conniving Captain Hook. Mrs. Darling will be played by Linda Palmer.

The role of John will be played by John Kelleher. Scott Simmons will appear onstage as Michael. Tiger Lily, leader of the Indians will be portrayed by Hillary Smith. Janet Casson will play Liza O'Brian Kightlinger is cast as Smee. Jeni Stennis will present the role of Jane Nana, the crocodile hot on the trail of Captain Hook, will be played by Judy Cohen.

Appearing in the production as little lost boys will be Spencer Hestwood, Jerry Long, Bobby Greh, Cy Carter, Cole Miller, Andy Meadors, David Wygant and David

The pirate chorus will consist of Ron Lewis, Rick Roark, John Taylor, David Holland, Phil Pendleton and Bobby Engler.

The chorus of Indians and animals will include: Belinda Reed, Gretchen Smith, Shanelle Cobb, Judy Cohen, Katherine Kuster, Stephanie Strudwick, Jamie O'Donald, Lisa Goldstein, Brandy Kesler, Marti Beth Byrd, Amber Palmer, Amanda Palmer. Bethany Logsdon and Jeni

Allen Shankles will direct "Peter Pan' in the first Panhandle production of the play.

The ALT staging of "Peter Pan" will be in collaboration with the Amarillo College (AC) Children's Theater School, the AC Preparatory Dancers, area musicians and the Amarillo Independent School District.

The ALT group also has contracted Peter Foy to provide the unique hoists, cables and pulleys to "fly" characters above the stage.

Foy was responsible for "flying" Jean Arthur, Mary Martin, and Sandy Duncan above Broadway stages.

"Peter Pan" will be staged Oct. 4-5 (matinee and evening performances); Oct. 6 (matinee only); Oct. 11-12 (matinee and evening performances); and Oct. 13 (matinee only).

doing better job

Farmers in the Texas Panhandle are doing a better job of farming today than they were two decades ago, says veteran agronomist Dr. Frank C. Petr (cq) of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

'They are more efficient, better manager. It's reflected in their average crop yields and production," said Petr, who retires Saturday (August 31) after 18 years as an Extension specialist working with county agents and producers across 20 Panhandle counties.

"Producers are more conscious of the needs for soil testing and adequate fertilizer than they were," Petr said. "In fact, fields with nutrient deficiencies are quite rare now."

Reflecting upon his years in the area, Petr noted that corn acreage on the High Plains increased from less than 100,000 acres to abuot a million acres before declining slightly the last few years. "Center pivot irrigation was on only a few acres of sandy soil when I got here," he recalled. "Now it's used extensively on heavier soils as

A native of Chouteau County, Montana, Petr holds B.S. and M.S. degrees in agronomy from Montana State University and a Ph.D. in crop breeding from Iowa State University. He joined the Texas Agricultural Extension Service in agronomist with the U.S. Department of Agriculture-Agricultural Research Service. Prior to that, he served four years as an instructor and assistant in agronomy for Montana State University and th the Montana State Experiment Station.

Petr. 61, also notes some changes in the educational work of the Extension Service in his almost two decades of service. "Today, more counties actively use the program building committee concept, and plan their educational programs and crops tours with committees," he said. this is a process in which committees of county citizens analyze local needs and determine topics for educational efforts. Then the county agents and Extension specialists coordinte and provide the training to answer the needs.

Paul E. Gross, Extension district director for agricultural programs, said Petr has made a valuable contribution to the field crop production "which is so important to this area." And he said Petr has earned the respect and admiration of farmers, producer organizations, agribusiness firms and his coworkers in Extension and the Experiment Station.

Petr's work with producers in the heartland of the state's wheat area was lauded by D. G. "Bill" Nelson, executive vice-president of the Texas Wheat Producers Association. He cited the many years in which KPetr has established and supervised wheat variety performance demonstrations across the Panhandle, helping farmers determine the most profitable varieties for their conditions, and an emergency educational program Petr conducted to help curb an outbreak of wheat streak mosiac, which threatened the crop.

State Rep. Foster Whaley of Pampa, recalling his own days as a county Extension agent in the district, said Petr was always "very responsive, accurate and practical in his recommendations." And Whaley says Petr "was just as responsive if you called him at 11 p.m. on Sunday night as if you called him at his office on Mon-

A decade before some were becoming concerned over the region's declining water supply, Petr was teaching Panhandle com and sugarbeet growers how to apply irrigation more effectively to conserve that valuable resource. And he was a leader in developing production procedures to establish and grow alfalfa and cool season grasses in the gegion. He worked closely with producers and county agents in the eastern Panhandle counties to demonstrate the value and management of weeping lovegrass on marginal land formerly infested with shinnery oak and sand sage.

Throughout his career, the agronomist has effectively used mass media in his educational efforts. He has appeared frequently on radio and television, has written numerous articles for the popular press and is author of more than a score of juried articles in professional publications. He also has written or co-quthored many scientific reports in conjunction with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, the Idaho Experiment Station and USDA.

Petr is active in several professional and honorary societies. These include Sigma Xi, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Alpha Zeta, 36 yars in the American Society of Agronomy, member of the Crops Science Society since its inception, and a charter member and past diretor of the Extension Service specialists association.

The Texas A&M University agronomy department named him its outstanding Extension educator in 1980. In 1981 the Texas Agricultural Extension Service presented him its Distinguished Service Award. He was presented a special award this month by the Experiment Station, honoring his 'outstanding dedicated service to High Plains agriculture.'

When he retires, Petr plans to continue to reside in Amarillo. He and his wife, the former Mary Rose Brady of Austin, plan to travel some, and Petr says he hopes "to do a little hunting and fishing, which I've neglected in recent years." But he says he'll still have an active interest in plants.

Cooley's to minister here

The Cooleys (Haskell, JoLee, and Cason) present a gospel music program called "A Time For Refreshing." They present gospel music vocally and instrumentally. This family's "style" of music is easy listening and is designed to be enjoyed by young and old. In 1981, at the age of 2, Cason began singing with his mom and dad. He always delights the audience with his renditions.

Several albums on which Haskell is pianist have been nominated for Grammy Awards by the National Academy of Recording Arts and Sciences. The Gospel Music Association and the Singing News Fan Awards have honored him by nominating him as Best Gospel Musician. JoLee's bass guitar playing complements Haskell's piano playing.

Most of the songs they sing and play are written by themselves and regularly make the radio stations' playlists throughout the nation. One of their compostitions, "I'll Sail Away Home," was on the top-forty gospel charts for almost two years.

The Cooleys' full-time music ministry takes them throughout the United States and portions of Canada.

Be at Apostolic Faith in Spearman on Friday night Sept. 13. Everyone welcomed

CANCER The GOOD News

The majority of cancers could be prevented if only each person cared enough to practice healthier habits.

Scientists say as many as 80 percent of all cancers are the result of lifestyle factors people can control but too often ignore.

Smoking, improper diets, excessive sunlight, some occupational hazards and assorted environmental agents all are implicated in many of the 100-plus malignant diseases called cancer. Combinations of these bad habits over long periods boost an individual's chances of cancer manyfold.

Studies show smoking now causes more than 30 percent of all cancer deaths and costs nearly $30 billion in medical care in the United States alone.

"What a waste, particularly since we know how to prevent these and could do so for a fraction of what's being spent on treating them," laments Dr. David T. Carr, chief of pulmonary diseases at The University of Texas M. D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor Institute at Houston.

Dr. Carr contends the epidemic of lung cancer "is the worst medical disaster we face today." Approximately 140,000 new cases are expected the year, making it the most rivalent type affecting men and women.

Only about 10 percent of lung cancer patients live for five years or longer after diagnosis, although several recent reports demonstrate improved survival for one particular type. Unfortunately, the bleak outlook for most lung cancer patients drags down the overall cure rate for all malignancies, Dr. carr says.

Cigarette smoking and use of other tobacco products also contribute to cancers of the mouth, pharynx, larynx, esophagus, pancreas and bladder. Smokers have higher rates of heart attacks, strokes and chronic lung ailments.

Getting smokers to stop is only part of the prevention story. The other half involves convincing young people not to ever start this deadly habit.

"Many people erroneously think it won't do any good for them to quit if they've been smoking for a long time. The fact is, regardless of how long someone has smoked, the risks for serious medical problems begin to decrease almost immediately after cessation," Dr. Carr says.

Adolescents and teens may not appreciate the dangers of developing cancer in later life but they can understand that smoking causes a type of drug addiction, bad breath and yellow stains on hands and teeth. Research shows most smokers are "hooked" after just three or four packs of cigarettes. In addition to the addictive factors, the nicotine is a powerful, poisonous stimulant which immediately affects the brain and central nervous system, then later slows digestion and reduces blood circulation.

The combination of smoking and heavy alcohol use or exposure to some occupational risks can increase greatly the chances of cancer.

The role of dietary factors has taken on increaseing importance in recent years to the point where many medical specialists say 35 percent or more of all cancers appear to be related to what we eat.

"High-fat diets are associated with much greater risks for colon and breast cancers, in particular, while consuming more fiber-containing foods along with those rich in vitamins A and C appear to protect against certain cancers," explains Dr. Guy Newell, chairman of the department of Cancer Prevention at M. D. Anderson.

The incidence of colon and rectal cancers is second only to lung cancers among all Americans. Breast cancer will affect almost one out of 10 women in the United States. Other risk factors associated with these common types include a family history of colorectal and breast cancers.

The National Academy of Sciences' National Reasearch Council acknowledged the increasing importance of diet and cancer when it made these recommendations: -Reduce consumption of total fats to 30 percent or less of daily dietary intake by eating fewer fatty meats, whole-milk dairy products and butter. -Increase high-fiber foods like whole-grain cereals, bran product, sunflower seeds and brown rice.

-Eat plenty of vegetables and fruits with high vitamin A and C contents, such as dark green and deep yellow vegetables along with those in the cabbage family and citrus fruits like oranges and grapefruits.

-Avoid virtually all salt-cured, smoked and salt-pickled foods like bacon, sausages, smoked fish and

-Practice moderation when drinking alcoholic beverages, especially if you

Studies are in progress in several medical centers to see if giving extra doses of some synthetic vitamins may boost protection against certain cancers. But Dr. Newell warns against anyone taking huge doses of vitamins because excessive vitamin A can cause liver damage and too much C may cause serious bone marrow changes.

The relationship between excessive sunlight and skin cancer has been well documented for years.

Texans and others living in warm climates need to take special precautions against too much sun, including wearing protective clothing and hats during the hottest part of the day and using sunscreen or sun-blocking products while swimming or participating in other outdoor activities. The skin also should be protected from high winds and prolonged exposure to frost and snow. Individuals with fair complexions are most vulnerable to skin cancers.

Common sense habits help make shin cancer the easiest cancer to prevent. The vast majority of skin cancers are highly curable. One exception is malignant melanoma, a type of skin cancer that usually starts from a mole-like growth and can spread quickly. That's why any obvious change in warts or moles ought to be checked promptly to improve the chances for successful treatments.

People also should take steps to minimize contact with pesticides, chemicals in the workplace and unnecessary X-rays.

"Along with preaching the need for prevention, we must do better at educating everyone to listen and watch his or her own body. Heightened awareness that any abnormalitylumps, bumps, bleeding, a change in some function, and certainly unexplained pains--should be ilnvestigated as soon as possible.

"Unfortunately, many people still fear finding out they have cancer, yet most of these abnormal symptoms do not mean a malignancy. Getting the truth of what those signs indicate as quickly as possible is the best way to offer curative therapies," Dr. Newell emphasizes.
