Demolition derby continues in Spearman

AND AWAY IT GOES -- Old boards, tree branches and roots, used cartons, you name it and if it was unsightly or tended to tarnish the image of the neighborhood in the vicinity of 18 South Barkley it doesn't anymore. As can be seen, it was all pushed into a pile and loaded aboard this truck to disappear as Spearman cleans up for the future.

NO OBSTRUCTIONS NOW -- Looking east toward South Hanzy, after all the rubble, debris and other visual obstructions have been removed, part of the disappearing act in Spearman as the community cleans up unsightly areas, the observer can see habitations and in the distance the First State Bank and the tower at the First Christian Church.

City revitalization program progressing

By BOB BUNDY

A visitor to Spearman might think the community was the victim of a selective storm--but such is not the case, the City is currently directing its energies to a Clean-Up, Paint-Up, Fix-Up Spearman Campaign--designed to make the community more attractive to visitors and those who come here to live and work as well as to a firm or organization seeking a spot in which to locate.

The self-imposed renewal program began July 28 when a group of Spearman residents journeyed to Austin to attend a seminar sponsored by the Texas Industrial Commission as well as check with the Texas Aeronautics Commission regarding municipal airport facilities and funding procedures for such a project. Provided with adequate information provided by Homer Tucker, industrial development consultant to the TIC, who was assisted in conducting the seminar by James F. Heath, Ralph DeAnda, Danny Choate, Joseph D. Ferran, Don Weber, Maxie Davis, and Wayne T. Franke, the Spearman delegation returned to the city.

The results of that trip to Austin were presented Tuesday night, Aug. 9, at a Town Hall meeting in the County Barn with Mayor Ralph Blodgett as moderator for the evening which included a free hamburger buffet. With upwards of 150 residents attentive to the proceedings, the Mayor opened the schedule of activities by noting that he loved West Texas and Spearman and that was what the meeting was all about. He termed the Austin meetings (he was one of several who attended the TIC and TAC sessions) a "rewarding experience".

Basically, he explained, the trip was for the purpose of enticing new industry to Spearman and the Town Hall activity was the vehicle to provide the information to city residents.

He noted that it was impressed on the Spearman delegation that the development of community pride was emphasized in order to make Spearman a place for everyone to be happy, and to show the world the community and its people have something to offer.

In establishing a basis for attracting new industry, he noted that the area has ample raw materials such as oil and gas and a variety of agricultural products as well as excellent churches, school system and stores along with a championship Lynxettes basketball team and a Lynx football team which this season is ranked at the top in District AA competition in Texas, a ranking which will be tested as the season progresses.

Blodgett then introduced various ones of the 13 who made the Austin trip.

J. L. Brock, secretary of the Spearman Industrial Foundation, explained the foundation program and the way in which funding through and by the program is accomplished from the sale of shares to the public with the money utilized for investment in Spearman.

He noted the foundation is currently engaged in funding operations for the municipal airport as well as studying possibilities of a new motel and providing residences for medical doctors and others who are working at and with Hansford Hospital.

Frances Loftin, Spearman Council Member and one of those attending the seminar, is in charge of the cleaning up, fixing up and painting up projects and she issued a request for anyone with commercial or residential properties for sale or rent to contact the Chamber of Commerce since it is imperative that the C of C maintain up-to-date listings of such availabilities in order to supply that information to anyone making inquiries about the community.

Blodgett, who had praise for the staff member of the City Council, stepped out of his role as moderator to express himself about the proposed airport utilization/expansion program.

Noting that he is not a pessimist and not a spendthrift, he pointed out that utilizing foundation money plus financing from private sources and the funding available from various state and federal sources would enable the community to accomplish its do-it-yourself program without any bond issue or special taxes.

He added that funding for the airport work is available through state sources as it has been for more than a decade. He also mentioned in other remarks during the evening that water resources from acreage acquired for airport and related industrial sites would provide available water supplies to go along with existing supplies in providing water for all community uses for 30 additional years.

Billy Miller, publisher of the two Spearman newspapers, spoke briefly on the community adopting the proper attitude in order to accomplish the project. John K. Collard Jr. noted that organizational teams from Austin are to visit Spearman in the immediate future to establish some guidelines for the city to use in reaching its longrange goal.

L. E. Thomas spoke about the committees which will have to be formed if the overall operation is to be successful and the part each committee member will have to play. Junior Lusby spoke briefly about the trip and of necessity of the total program in enhancing the Spearman image. Police Chief Steve Winklevist was introduced and told the listeners of the efforts his department will be making in the current activity as well as the overall project in making Spearman a safe and desirable place in which to live and in getting junk cars with weeds growing through them out of sight.

Chamber President Jerry Gee spoke on the efforts that organization will be making and of the necessity of the community in adopting the proper attitude.

Chamber Manager Mary Lou Wyson, noting that funding is a necessity for any organization, opened a fund-raising drive by putting on sale at $1 each tickets for use in connection with a Dallas Cowboys football game this fall.

Jim McLain, ramrodding an effort to provide a YMCA for Spearman, used the lack of family recreation facilities locally, which can be provided by YMCA, as his springboard to mention that efforts are now in the making through the local Rotary Club to provide a YMCA facility locally costing in the neighborhood of $20,000.

Hard on the heels of the Aug. 9 meeting, physical evidence on the part of local residents became apparent with do-it-yourself destruction projects such as the clearing of structures and trees from property at East Second and South Edicott and the razing of a structure on the southeast corner of Carson and State Highway 15, following up an earlier onslaught which removed many an unsightly weed from along a curbing or a sidewalk.

There will be some resulting fires, during which members of the Spearman Volun-

The Spearman Lynx will entertain the Dumas Demons at Lynx stadium, Thursday evening, August 18th, with the younger boys starting at 6 p. m., and the varsity teams scrimmaging at 7:30 p. m.

The Lynx are currently rated as the top AAA team in the state, and the Demons class AAA will be formidable competition for the local lads.

The public is invited to the scrimmage. Be sure and plan to come out and watch the Lynx!

Spearman fires routine matter

Spearman Volunteer Fire Department personnel Thursday, Aug. 11, participated in a real barn burner with no injuries to personnel, equipment, livestock or the owner of the property.

As part of the continuing Clean-Up, Fix-Up, Paint-Up Spearman Campaign an old structure at Carson and State Highway 15 was razed on Wednesday while a nearby barn was left standing.

Starting about 7 p. m. last Thursday, SVD personnel set the torch to the rubble of the building and to the barn, while the illumination affair about 10 p. m.

And that wasn't all of the fire department was to participate in. Friday, the department was scheduled to light a fire at an old house on North Bemise near the laundrymat.

During the Thursday night assembly of the personnel before and after the conflagration along the state highway, members of the SVD took time out to express their thanks to the Hi-Plains Auto Supply Inc. firm in Spearman for donating 24, 2-cell flashlights and batteries to the department.

CIVIL CASES FILED

As of noon Friday, Aug. 12, 17 civil cases had been filed in 84th Judicial District Court in Spearman since July 1, District Court Clerk Marie Gould reported.

When an aviator encounters a storm, he directs his plane through the clouds and goes higher. In that clear, rare atmosphere he is free from fear and difficulty.

Similarly, when we find ourselves surrounded by clouds of doubt, we need to direct our lives into a higher level where we may free ourselves of weaknesses and seek the will of God.

How can we attain these heights? Through the Church! It offers continuous opportunities for new growth, new life, new understanding. We need not wait for a more convenient time. We can enter into the life of the Church NOW.

You Name It!

by Billy Miller

I thought my readers might be interested in the following report. It was written by one of our local college graduates and was part of his lesson assignment. That is, he had to attend a town hall type meeting and make a report to his college professor at West Texas University. The report is as follows: As I told you, Dr. Shelly, I attended a town meeting in Spearman Tuesday night, and I can certainly say it was worth it. I found the names of the city commissioners, like you asked us to do, as well as their occupations and their salaries (I got paid about what I'm worth," said the mayor, Ralph Blodgett, who served as moderator. He receives no pay.) But this was a C. of C. sponsor of event, and not a commissioner meeting, although all but one of them was present. The meeting was held in the Hansford County show barn with about 100 guests present, enticed partly by the free hamburger supper, but also because of the promise of an interesting meeting concerning bringing industry and civic improvement to Spearman. During the meal, the men around me conversed about their experiences in the military, and about world politics ("Since the Korean pullout plans, I hear that the Asian's favorite saying is "Wonder which one of their friends the U. S. is going to double-cross next?") But then Mayor Blodgett started off the meeting by telling us flat out that he loves Spearman and wouldn't live anywhere else. He told us things that we all know, that we have all the things necessary to attract industry except a plan, and now we're getting that. Several of the men, who had gone with the mayor to Austin for training on how to convince industry to come to our town, spoke about various aspects of those seminars which had impressed them. Now the purpose of this report is not so much to report facts as to tell you my impressions of the meeting and my dominant impression was that I was listening to a group of men who were very proud of their community, and were doing the best they knew how to make sure that it would remain a town that they could always brag on. Speakers pointed to three ways in which this could be accomplished.

to land at the Spearman airport.)

Next was a plea for support of new industry which the Spearman Industrial Foundation is trying to bring in. One of the speakers emphasized that the business community's attitude was key here. Another local businessman backed him up by telling how tough he was finding it to get established in another community because the locals wouldn't trust the newcomer (he spoke from personal experience).

Finally was a request for cooperation in the "city face lift" now taking place. The mayor told listeners, "I had one woman hug my neck, and ten minutes later, I'm not even gonna tell you what the next one called me." So the reaction to the much needed clean up program is mixed. But it's a fact that lots of areas in Spearman aren't too attractive. We only tolerate those areas because we are used to them, but they don't make much of an impression on visitors.

One last speaker interjected the need for some sort of community-family recreation, and told of plans to start a small YMCA.

And that, Dr. Shelly, was my experience with local government, Spearman style.

Hansford Hospital Auxiliary

Hansford Hospital Auxiliary met at 7:30 p.m. on Monday, August 8 at Martin's Steak Garden.

Mrs. Judy Nelson presided. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved; treasurer's report was given.

Mrs. Edith Smith showed framed pictures that will be hanging on the walls in the O B Room to the group, which were purchased by the Auxiliary.

Mrs. Virginia Trindle reported on the completion of the signs for the new TV.

Mrs. Edith Smith reported that the chairmen of the different committees were at work on the upcoming Roodmobile which is set for August 17.

Honored guests were Dr. In, Dr. Phillips, and Mrs. Joan Lee. Those present were members, Mesdames: Virginia Trindle, Maria Avila, Edith Smith, Rosalie Butt, Mary Cornelius, Alva Garner, Gayle Smith, Johanna Kleiberger, Doris Elison, Becca Lyon, Linda Beeson, Lisa Pipkin, Jeanette Allen, Dolly McWhorter, Barbara McClellan, Maylyn Schubert, Mary Brown, Betty Davis, and Clementine Renner.

The next meeting will be September 12 at Martin's Steak Garden.

WARNING To Non-Subscribers

A man who was too cheap to subscribe to his hometown newspaper sent his little boy to borrow his neighbor's copy. In his haste the boy ran over an $80 hive of bees and in 10 minutes he looked like warty squash. He ran to his assistance, and failing to notice the barbed wire fence, ran into that, cutting a hole in his anatomy as well as ruining a pair of $10 trousers. The old cow took advantage of the gap in the fence and killed herself eating green corn. Hearing a racket, the wife ran out, upset a four-gallon churn of cream into a basket of chicks drowning the entire batch. In her haste she dropped a $125 set of false teeth, which the family dog buried thinking it was a new type of bone. The baby, having been left alone crawled through the spilled cream and into the parlor ruining a $250 carpet. During the excitement the oldest daughter ran away with the hired man, a stray dog broke up 11 setting hens, the calves got out and chewed the tails off four fine shirts on the clothes line, and the cat had a batch of kittens. All this just to save 15 cents. And in this case, the poor guy never did get to read that day's edition.

Withdrawal of a Certificate of Deposit before maturity is prohibited unless the holder obtains substantial interest. In this case, you would earn interest on the withdrawn funds at the regular pass book rate from the day of deposit to 90 days prior to withdrawal.

It's simple. You give us at least $10,000 for at least ten years. Then you get a Certificate of Deposit that states that your investment will earn 7 1/2% interest each year. With interest compounded daily.

Then you sit back. And get rich. Or, at least richer. Because every year you hold a Investment CD it gains momentum for you. (Not to mention money.)

See for yourself. If your Investment CD is for the minimum amount ($10,000 for 10 years), if you let your interest earn for you, your CD will more than double its size.

Insurance Corner

Cost Cutting Tips

Like everything else, insurance premiums are rising due to the rising costs of the services and products that your insurance pays for when a claim is made. But there are ways you can keep the cost of your homeowner insurance premiums down and, perhaps, even save money on insurance.

A primary method of saving is to raise the deductible (the amount of loss you agree to pay before the insurance company is obliged to take over) to as high as you feel you can safely afford. For example, raising the deductible on homeowner insurance from $100 to $500 can save you up to 20 percent of the premium.

Another way to cut back is to talk to your insurance agent about discounts for which you may qualify. If you've recently installed a home alarm system that's hooked up to a police or fire station, for instance, you may be eligible for a discount on your insurance premium. Review your coverage once a year with your agent.

This information has been brought to you as a public service by John R. Colvard, Jr. your one stop answer to complete business and personal insurance protection. Life, home, auto, group insurance, and profit-sharing plans. See John R. Colvard, Jr., 405 Davis St., Telephone 659-2501.

W.I.F.E. to host panel

Leading agricultural experts to speak

The Spearman W.I.F.E. Chapter will host a "Poor Farmer's Supper" on September 1, 1977, at 7:30 p.m., at the Spearman County Barn. The tickets will be $1.25 each.

Besides the program, the program will feature Congressman Jack Hightower of the 13th district, Ray Prewett, Assistant to the Commissioner of Agriculture, Charlie Ball, Executive Vice President of Texas Feeders Association, Carl King, President of Texas Com Growers, Bill Nelson, Executive Vice President of Texas Wheat Producers, Dale Hendricks, President of the American Council of Agriculture.

Each of these men will speak, followed by a question and answer session. These men have helped work on the current farm legislation, and they are quite knowledgeable about the present farm situation. This is an opportunity for the High Plains area to meet with and discuss problems that are affecting us right now.

WHO IS DALE HENDRICKS? Not only is he the President of American Council of Agriculture he is also the man who is opening a link between the farmer and the consumer. It is communication important? We think it is. The American consumer has been told for so many years that the farmers set back and get rich. People like Mr. Hendricks are working to set the record straight. We as farmers are living in a different era than our parents and grandparents. In the past, we worked hard, sold our products and prepared the ground for next year's crop. Now besides all this, we must convince the consumer that we produce quality food, and for a fair price. That job is not made easy, because the American consumer is being told that food prices are spiraling everyday, and boycotts and etc. are a good way to drive the prices down. We as farmers know that this isn't true, and it is up to people like Mr. Hendricks and the American Council of Agriculture to convince them.

Come and meet Dale Hendricks, listen to him tell about his job and the success they are beginning to have. Let's see what we can do to help.

The next meeting will be August 17 in the home of Mrs. Sada Hoskins.
