Town Full of Trash

"I have never seen Spearman looking worse."
Has our pride in our town dropped so low that we no longer care that it looks worse than a lifelong resident has ever seen before.

We can blow our horn about how great our town is and how great it is going to be until we turn purple and our lungs burst, but to other people it will still just be another dirty little town that is going nowhere.

This creeping trash and unkept situation is something that has been allowed to grow worse with each passing month.

An old abandoned car here, a wrecked automobile body there, a patch of weeds, here an untrimmed corner there, a little trash allowed to blow around in this spot and some more allowed to blow somewhere else until we look like anything but a town where people will want to shop and live.

Don't start griping about the city not sweeping the streets or picking up the trash. They are doing both, but they cannot keep the streets clean when we let trash blow all over town. They cannot pick up trash that is not in containers and barrels. It is not the city's responsibility to go onto private property and clean it up.

The city may have to clean up some absentee owner property, but if all the property owned by people living here is cleaned then the city will have the time and manpower to take care of the few absentee owner problems.

One does not have to go looking for the bad areas of town, just take off your blinders and make yourself an outsider for about 30 minutes and ride over our town. You will decide right quick that there are an awful lot of people living here that care nothing about their town or what people think of it.

It is doubtful that a majority of the residents of Spearman are really this calloused about the looks of our town. However, the Chamber of Commerce is kicking off a clean-up drive this week and the success of this project will be a rather good barometer of the feelings of the town.

Are We Crumbs or a Town of People With Pride?

THE TALL TEXAN

There must be more than just a coincidence that the city-wide clean-up week and the revival meetings of four different churches in town are in the same week.
People and towns both need a good cleaning up every once-in-awhile.

We were just a little bit shocked when we started out Friday morning to take some pictures to illustrate our editorial on the need for a clean-up week.

We did not have to search for pictures to shoot illustrating the need for cleaning up. It took us only 20 minutes by our watch to find enough picture material to pictorially prove our point. We were selective, too.

The pictures do not represent any special problems, but are representative of many such problems all over town.

It was a little disturbing to find the best illustration of a dirty alley right behind our own building, but we found we were not the only poor house-keepers up and down Main and over town.

This week is going to be a tough week. There is much work to be done and we are sure that if everyone has as much work to be done, as we do, then the Johnny Carson show is not going to have many watchers this week.

From all we can read and what we see, the future of agriculture and food production is nothing but bright.

One expert we heard this past week concluded that agriculture is the only industry that has a continually increasing market and less and less competition each year.

It seems that the demand for food is becoming a more serious problem every year and by 1980, 14 years from now, famine will be common in much of the world.

The Texas Extension service reported this week that again this year the domestic use and export of wheat will exceed the production.

These rich high plains with water for irrigation are going to be some of the most important acres in the world. The farmers may be the salvation of this country and the world instead of a "problem" as so many city congressmen see them right now.

Masons To Meet

A Masonic Workshop meeting has been scheduled for members and officers of six Lodges at 8 p. m., April 2 in the Masonic Temple in Spearman.

A. Guy Hazlett of Borger, chairman of the six-county workshop Area E-5, will conduct the meeting. He said that Stinnett, Gruver, Fritch, Spearman and both Borger Lodges are invited.

City To Have Trucks, Men Helping Clean, Haul Trash

Additional truck, weed burning crews and other help will be available this week for the Chamber of Commerce sponsored Clean-Up Week, according to chairman Bus Simms.

Simms said his firm, United Mud, would have trucks available to assist city trucks in hauling trash, if people needing trash hauled will just call the city hall.

All City Employees not working on emergency service will be working on trucks and city equipment helping with the clean-up operation.

Also, anyone with vacant lots and other areas covered with weeds that would like to burn them, should call the city hall and give their name and address and the city will send a fire truck to stand-by while the weeds are burned.

A schedule of cleaning up has been made.

Monday will be the day for downtown streets, alleys and playgrounds.

Tuesday is safety, health and fire prevention day. Everyone is urged to clean-up homes, schools, business buildings of rubbish, check for fire hazards and do away with potential breeding places for rodents, and insects, and check all garbage cans and rubbish areas.

Wednesday is Paint-up, Repair Day.

Thursday will be yard and vacant lot day. This is the day for cleaning yards, gardens and alleys and preparing gardens for planting.

Friday is pick-up and industrial day. Have all rubbish, litter and debris ready for the trucks.

Saturday is the final pick-up day.

Chamber officials said the campaign is set-up for one week, but the job is so big that it will take many weeks.

ComPublic Lowers City's Electric Rate

Community Public Service Company offered the Spearman City Council on March 24, 1966 a voluntary reduction in electric rates averaging 7.4 percent for residential customers and 9.5 percent for commercial users of electricity in the Panhandle area served by the company.

The proposal was approved by the Council.

Charles Gilliam, manager for Community Public Service, presented the proposal and stated that a reduction in purchased power costs from the company's supplier has allowed Community to make the reduction to Spearman customers.

Residents of Spearman will realize the savings on their electric bills under the new rate on statements prepared on and after April 1.

The rate reduction not only will benefit individual citizens of Spearman, but also the City of Spearman. The electric utility company will make adjustments in street lighting and water pumping services in the city to effect a net reduction of approximately $1,860 annually to the city government.

Ronnie West Uses Chutes for Fun

Airman Ronnie West, USN, was sent to Parachute Riggers' school at the Naval Air Station in Lakehurst, N.J., but instead of rigging chutes, he is using them.

West recently wrote his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A.F. West, that he had joined the Navy

Youths Get Trophies For Showing, Records

Besides the ribbons and sale money for their show animals, FFA and 4-H members showing stock in the Hansford Junior Livestock Show Monday were competing for showmanship and record book awards.

There were showmanship awards for the three kinds of animals shown. The placing of the animal had no effect on the award. It was the work done by the boy or girl in preparing the entry for the show and in how well they showed it.

Glenn Blodgett won the swine award. James Schnell was second and Donald Rhea was third.

John Cooksey was the best lamb showman, Billy Boone was second and Bob Smith was third.

Dee Green won the cattle showman award. Rickey Barkley was second and Phillip Renner was third.

In the record book contest for 4-H entries, first place went to Marie Gruver, second to John Wheeler and third to Kelly Rosenbaum.

Dan Ralston won the FFA record book contest, Alford Ralston was second and Donald Smith was third.

Winners in the Livestock Achievement contest were Gruver FFA, Lonnie Sutton; Spearman FFA, Glenn Blodgett; and Hansford County 4-H, Rex McCloy.

Showmanship trophies were donated by First State Bank of Spearman, Byrd Texaco of Gruver and Rod Washburn Welding of Gruver.

The trophies for grand champion animals were presented by John R. Collard, Jr., of Spearman. The reserve champion trophies were presented by Hansford County Parts and Supply of Gruver, Jones Pipeline Construction of Gruver, and Troy Sloan of Spearman.

Parents Free Of Meningitis

Diagnostic results show that Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Hollis of Spearman are not carrying the spinal meningitis disease, a report from the attending physician said Saturday.

The couple's child, Ronald Dale, died Monday afternoon in Hansford Hospital after he was taken to the doctor with what the parents thought was a cold.

The physician said the clinical evidence is almost conclusive that the child died of spinal meningitis. Because the child had taken antibiotics for cold symptoms, cultures sent to the Dallas Diagnostic Laboratory revealed no positive results.

Fresh Texas Beef Makes Big Hit In Germany

WACO — A test containerized shipment of 32,000 pounds of fresh, chilled Texas beef arrived mid-March in Germany in good condition, according to Walter Meyer of Waco, trade development director for the Texas Farm Bureau.

Meyer said this proves the feasibility of transporting perishable commodities in refrigerated containers such as the one used in this test.

"It could open up a whole new market for American farmers and ranchers," the trade development director said. Meyer co-ordinated the test shipment.

The beef was slaughtered, dressed and sold by the Estes Packing Co., of Fort Worth to the U. S. Armed Forces Commissary in Frankfurt, Germany. U. S. Department of Agriculture food technicians who accompanied this test shipment to its destination, said it was the most successful shipment yet of chilled, fresh beef to Europe.

The beef was transported in a radically-new refrigerated container called a Cooltainer. The refrigeration unit built into the Cooltainer keeps the beef at a high humidity and a constant chilled temperature. The unit is plugged into the electrical system of the truck or ship while in transit, and also has its own emergency diesel power supply.

The container was trucked to New York, a haul which took three days, and then placed aboard the United States Lines' 21-knot freighter "American Charger" for the seven-day sea voyage to Antwerp, Belgium. Upon arrival there, it was loaded onto a truck for the overland trip to Frankfurt.

The shipment included 60 carcasses which graded US Choice and US Good at the packing house in Fort Worth. Although this first test shipment was sold to U. S. Armed Forces, it is hoped that future shipments of fresh Texas beef can be sold on the German market, Meyer said.

"The German consumer is used to eating less tender dairy stock and imported frozen beef," the trade development director said. "We believe that there is a market, especially in Germany, for good fresh beef from Texas."

He added that a test airshipment of Texas beef to Cologne last October was well received there.

Jay Taylor, Amarillo livestockman and President Johnston's advisor on beef exports, commended the Farm Bureau for its leadership in developing export markets. He also praised the team-work of the firms, agencies and organizations involved in this initial shipment.

In commenting on this first successful movement of fresh Texas beef to Europe, Meyer said the Texas Farm Bureau has demonstrated that farmers and ranchers have a definite stake in the marketplace, and can have a helpful influence in building better markets.
