ROARING FIRE--Fire fighters from Spearman, Gruver and Stinnett fought the fire at Morse Oil Company for almost two hours Monday morning but they were unable to save the building. The fire apparently started from sparks from a trash barrel at the rear of the building.

Oil Firm Destroyed In Fire at Morse

Morse Oil Company's office and warehouse building was destroyed in a roaring fire Monday morning.

Fire equipment from Stinnett, Gruver and Spearman fought the blaze for almost two hours. Although they were unable to save the building, the fire was not allowed to spread to buildings to the west of the warehouse.

Smoke from the blaze could be seen from Spearman.

Don McCammond, operator of the oil company said the fire apparently started from sparks from a trash barrel near the rear of the building.

The building had been an oil warehouse for many years and the floors were oil soaked and made a boiling black smoke.

A south wind blew the flames toward some large overground gasoline storage tanks and firemen first feared the tanks might explode. Spectators were kept clear of the area until the fire burned down.

Several barrels of oil and several cases of oil were in the warehouse. They did not ignite.

Lynx Open District Against Tough S-F

Spearman's undefeated Lynx will open their district 1-AA race here Friday night when they entertain the big, high-flying Sanford-Fritch Eagles.

Coach Don Seymour pronounced his crew of Lynx in sound condition and ready after an open date last week.

Fritch opened its battle for the district title with a 24-8 conquest of the Shamrock Irish last Friday.

David Marcum, Fritch's big fast halfback, earned the back of the week title for his play in the game. He scored three times. Once on an intercepted pass, another on a 50-yard pass from Jim Kuykendall and a third time on a 30 yard dash.

He carried 15 times for 52 yards, caught two passes for 88 yards and returned the interception 50 yards for the score.

He has carried the ball 101 times this season for 589 yards, and caught eight passes for 177 yards. He has scored 84 points.

Coach Seymour says the Eagles run from a varied assortment of T-formations. They have speed, size and can throw the ball, the coach commented.

The Fritch line is big and has several good boys, led by tackles Charles Luerson and guard Lee Rawlins. Ends Jerry Watkins and Herschel Kime are good, fast ends.

Against Shamrock the Eagles ran wide and over Rawlins positions a majority of the night.

Spearman will counter the Eagles offensive efforts with a defense that has been extremely stingy this season, allowing four opponents 40 points for a 10 point per game average. The Lynx have scored 124 points.

The Lynx, who lack a break-away runner have powered the football up and down the field, except against Gruver, where both teams staged gigantic battles.

In other district games Boys Ranch will go to Dalhart, Phillips is idle, and Stinnett goes to Shamrock.

Phillips, Dalhart and Sanford-Fritch won their openers last week. Phillips overpowered Boys Ranch 60-0, Dalhart outlasted Stinnett 21-0 and Fritch beat Shamrock.

Farm Bureau
Convention
Tuesday

It sure is easy to be popular and just as easy to be unpopular. However, we thank everyone for the kind words concerning the editorial Sunday about the school grounds.

It is still our sincere belief that if everyone who has talked to us since Sunday about the school grounds had expressed their opinions to school officials and board members there would have been no need for the editorial.

As we have said many times before, we have not found a local official who will not talk to anyone about a situation. There are members of the school board with whom we disagree on most every issue, but there has never been a time when we cannot talk about our disagreements.

We are going to continue to press for a better school system and for taxes necessary to pay the cost of a complete school program in first class facilities.

If we want to retain our local school and local governments we might as well prepare to pay our own way. Everytime we conservatives refuse to take care of our local problems, we give the people-planners and socialists more ammunition in their struggle to prove that local government cannot and will not meet the needs of the people.

We believe the only way the conservatives can ever gain control of the national government.

Defendant Jack Day Testifies in Murder Trial

Jack Lee Day, 38, of Spearman, on trial for the murder of Harold Cook was testifying in his own defense here when the court recessed at noon Wednesday.

Day is on trial for the shotgun death of Harold Cook on Feb. 7, 1964. Cook was killed in a car on the Spearman-Gruver Highway near the Hansford Cemetery.

Day was arrested shortly after Cook was killed by a single blast from a 12 gauge shotgun. Day was charged with murder with malice in Cook's death. Bond was set and after being in jail for about 30 days, he made bond and was released.

Under questioning by his defense attorney Day said he returned to Spearman from a job hunting trip to Colorado on the day Cook was shot.

He told how he met Harold

Cook and his brother Ben Cook and the three drove to Gruver and then north of Gruver and killed some pheasants and rabbits.

Day testified he drank some beer and whiskey while on the hunting trip. He also said he had not had anything to eat that day.

Daysaid from the stand that he asked Harold Cook what he, Cook, was going to do about Sharon? Day said Cook asked what do you mean? Day then said he told Cook he knew what he meant. Day then said Cook told him he wasn't going to do a "damn thing."

Day then told the jury of eight men and four women that he grabbed the shotgun that was between his legs and shot Harold Cook. He then told the jury that he killed Cook because he kept promising to marry Sharon, then said he wouldn't.

In opening testimony Tuesday afternoon Ben Cook, brother of the dead man, testified for the prosecution that Day pulled the shotgun on Harold Cook before he asked anything about Day's daughter, Sharon.

Under cross examination by the defense Ben Cook said Day pulled the shotgun on Harold Cook and asked him the question at the same time.

Mrs. Day and her daughter Sharon, 19, both testified for the defense. Mrs. Day told the jury that Cook first denied he was the father, then said he would take her to a doctor and if the daughter was pregnant, he would marry her.

While testifying for the defense and under cross-examination Mrs. Day said she never did think Cook would marry ner daughter.

The daughter testified that Cook forced her to have relations with him once early in November after they had dated a few times.

The prosecution asked her why she did not report Cook for forcing her and she said she was afraid to report him or tell anyone.

Under cross examination she said that although Cook came to her house several times after forcing her, her mother or brothers and sisters were always there.

It was brought out in the testimony that Day and the two Cook men worked together on a drilling rig. The prosecution also brought out that Harold Cook and the Day family had several friendly meetings after it was learned that the daughter was pregnant.

Sheriff J.B. Cooke testified as to where the body was found and that Day was taken into custody at the scene. The sheriff identified the shot taken from the wound as number six shot.

Dr. R.L. Kleeberger testified that he removed shot and wadding from the wound. He said death was caused by massive destruction of the brain and skull.

Deputy Sheriff Billy Haden testified to being present when the shot was removed and that he was present when the body was brought to Spearman.

District Attorney Bob Gallo-way and County Attorney Jimmy Linn presented only Ben Cook, Sheriff J. B. Cooke, Deputy Haden and Dr. Kleeberger as witnesses before resting their case Tuesday night.

Jurors hearing the case are James B. Lair, Dale Sutton, Chester Mitts, Charles W. Jordan, Oscar Mullins, Mrs. Keith Gross, Mrs. Ray Etter, Leo Fields, Aubrey Rasor, Mrs. D. E. Spoonemore, Mrs. Hugh Bell and E. A. Williams. These were selected from about 80 panel members questioned.

Testimony continued Wednesday afternoon.

Judge Max Boyer said he had the night sessions in such cases because the jurors have to be locked up in the courthouse and since the jurors have to be there, he thinks it is right to have the night session.

That Extra Something

LOUISVILLE, Ky. —The big boss was coming to town so Harry L. Moldovan arranged for a cookout in his backyard.

The piece de resistance was a 3 - pound sirloin steak which Moldovan slapped on the grill ahead of time.

Along came a neighbor's dog and snatched the steak, with Moldovan in pursuit.

The stores were closed so the steak went back on the grill.

The boss, who had missed the commotion, told his hostess later: "Sally, I don't know what you did to this steak, but it's delicious."

Joe Louis held the heavy-weight boxing title 11 years, 8 months, 7 days, longer than any other fighter.

Better Safe Than Sorry

UMTATA, South Africa —Thieves tried to burgle a bank in this small town in South Africa's Transkei Territory.

They cut power and telephone lines, used matches to find their way to some keys and emptied nearly every drawer.

When they came to a cable running across the floor of the main hall, they cut it too, apparently believing it was some sort of alarm.

All they had done was cut the cable of the floor polisher. The cleaner was pretty upset next morning when he was unable to get on with his work.

Through His Word the Holy Spirit relays to us the wonderful news of our Savior Jesus and His gift of eternal life.

Even now the Spirit is prompting you to lift your eyes to Jesus for mercy and for help. This is something that never gets old or wears off, for the Bible states: "His mercies never come to an end; they are new every morning." (Lamentations 3:22,23).

As the eyes of servants look to their master, so may my eyes look to You, O Lord My God, until You have mercy on me in Christ Jesus. Amen.

TELSTAR SATELLITE

"To Thee I lift up my eyes, O Thou who art enthroned in the heavens!

Behold, as the eyes of servants look to the hand of their master.

As the eyes of a maid to the hand of her mistress, so our eyes look to the Lord our God, till He has mercy on us!" (Psalm 123)

A few years ago a small shiny globe was thrust into the heavens and began orbiting the earth every two hours. We called it "Echo I".

When it first went into orbit people stopped whatever they were doing to watch it move silently across the sky. It, and others, are still gliding around the earth, but few pause to watch for them.

Our relationship with God often becomes commonplace. We get so used to Him that we feel no need to look up to Him again and again. God is always hovering over us with His help and forgiveness. When is the last time you called on God? Did you go to your office or work this morning without acknowledging God or calling on Him? How far into the day did you travel before you called upon God?

The writer of Psalm 123 says: "To Thee I lift up my eyes, O Thou who are enthroned in the heavens?" Of course, "the heavens" aren't the only place God dwells. He is with us always—even in our offices, homes, on farms. He surrounds us now with His loving care. Even if you are blind, you can still lift your eyes and see God by faith.

The Telstar satellites make it possible for us to see television programs from Europe and Asia. God sends the Holy Spirit in a similar way to "echo" His message of love into our

Day by Day

As a Hallmark representative, we have received numerous brochures and advertisements of "The Fantasticks," the musical comedy that will open the fourteenth season of the Hallmark Hall of Fame.

The musical comedy is in the fifth year of its successful New York run and stars Ricardo Montalban and Bert Lahr, among others.

Described as a "sophisticated story about innocence" The Fantasticks tells the story of a boy and the girl next door separated by a wall their fathers built ostensibly to keep the children apart.

But in fact, the fathers built the wall to bring the children together. When the boy and girl discover the plot, their romance stales. They quarrel and go their separate ways, seeking sophistication in the world. Instead they find disappointment, become convinced of their love once more and return home to be reunited.

The Fantasticks is written by Edmond Rost who also wrote Cyrano de Bergerac. It was his first play and was first produced in 1894 in Paris.

The modern version, notable original in its English form, resulted from three students at the University of Texas, one of whom wrote the book and lyrics, one who is the composer and one who is the original director.

The musical's blend of satire and romanticism, bright comedy and serious verse, made it one of the most rewarding and unusual events of the season, qualities that continue to delight audiences, according to Hallmark's Playbill Review.

The Fantasticks will be shown in color Sunday, October 18 on NBC.

Usually, in my estimation, the Hallmark Hall of Fame is as excellent as the quality of the cards and other products Hallmark produces.

(Now wan't that a sly way to praise one of the items we sell.)

I've heard more than a few comments this week about the editorial in The Sunday Plainsman concerning the grounds around Spearman's schools. This is one time I'll have to agree with the editor.

He insulted me by being for Texas Western the other night when they played West Texas State but I'm going to overlook that since we won.

Seriously though, maybe the people who disagree have just kept quiet, but no less than 25 or more persons have called or commented when I've seen them about how much they appreciated the editorial and agreed with its content.

Usually when the editor takes a definite out-in-the-open stand on any issue, he receives a brick-bat or two but I don't think he has yet. This time he seems to have voiced a very popular criticism of a problem almost everyone has noticed and deplored.

After one of my favorite teams was squashed and humiliated Saturday afternoon in a televised game, I almost decided I was ready for football season to be over. But since the World Series isn't even over yet, it would be a little early to stop football season especially since the Lynx are still undefeated and going strong. Last week when we had an open date, Friday night seemed dull and the television programs were all strange. I really wouldn't rush football season but I was a little sick at the Razorbacks beating TCU like they did. I could hear the Arkansas fans screaming out those hog calls in the microphone, louder and louder everytime they intercepted another pass and scored another touchdown, which was often.

Speaking of Arkansas, I'll never forget one of the first big college football games I ever saw. It was at Baylor but our seats were on the Arkansas side. We had a hard time hearing the loud speaker for all those hog calls right in our ears all night long.

It wasn't long after that when we attended a Rice-LSU game in Houston. This time we were right in the middle of the Cajun crowd but it was more entertaining than the football game just to hear the shouts and yells in that funny Cajun "mish-mash".

Some of the names of Southwest Conference school's teams don't lend themselves very well to a mascot. TCU and Rice can do little more than put someone in a costume resembling a frog or an owl.

I think Baylor takes the prize for entertaining mascots in those bear cubs that drink Cokes from a bottle during the games. They really put on a show that captures the audience. Back when I last saw a Baylor game though, the Bears were doing a lot less than the mascots were to charm the crowd.

Former Margaret Mullins Honored With Shower

Mrs. Pat Lessert, nee Margaret Mullins, was honored with a post-nuptial bridal shower Saturday afternoon in the Hospitality Room of the First State Bank.

The serving table was laid with a white lace cloth over green. The centerpiece consisted of an arrangement of green and white roses and spider mums highlighted by a pair of miniature bride and groom dolls. Crystal and silver appointments completed the setting.

Cookies, punch, assorted nuts and mints were served to the guests.

Mrs. Burton Schubert presided at the punch bowl and Sandra Miller assisted the honoree with her gifts. The hostesses alternated at the guest register.

Out of town guests included Mrs. D.K. Matheson and Mrs. J.B. White of Ponca City, aunts of the honoree.

Hostesses for the courtesy were Mmes. Paul Farren, Fred Fewin, Ray Lackey, Ray Devers, F.B. Schubert, John Brinkley, Coke Cudd, Burton Schubert, Guy Remy, Stanley Garnett, John R. Miller and Bernard Barnes.

Joe Ed Sullivan of Plainview Will Speak at Annual FB Dinner

Joe Ed Sullivan of Plainview will be the principal speaker for the annual Hansford County Farm Bureau County Convention to be held in the Spearman Grade School Cafeteria at 6:45 p.m., Tuesday.

A new feature of the convention this year will be the presentation of awards to the outstanding FFA boy, FHA girl and 4-H boy and girl in the county.

The FFA award will go to Glen Keim of Spearman and a Spearman girl, Linda Lesly will receive the outstanding FHA award.

The outstanding 4-H awards will go to two Morse students, Alan Dixon and Patricia Henderson.

Eight resolutions have been proposed for presentation to the convention. Seven involve state matters, one is national.

Two state resolutions involve herbicides and insecticides. One requests closer restrictions on the use of the chemicals. The second resolution requests more research on use of chemicals.

Other state resolutions involve labeling of imported meat, warning light for school buses, qualification of voters in bond elections, formation of a women's committee and mandatory taxation for commodity, livestock and agricultural production promotion.

The national resolution requests Congress to change the import quota on sugar from a percentage of domestic consumption to a tonnage quota.

Members of the board of directors will be elected as well as state convention delegates. The board of directors will elect board officers.

President Robert Novak will act as master of ceremonies. Others on the program include Carl Cooper, Willard McCloy, Elmo Dahl, Moody Womble and R.C. Womble.

The women of the Union Church are preparing the meal for the meeting and tickets may be purchased at the Farm Bureau office here, or they may be purchased at the door.

America is the only country where it takes more brains to make out the income tax return than it does to make the income.

GRUVER 4-H TO MEET
The Gruver Community 4-H Club will meet at 7:30 p.m. on Monday, Oct. 12 at Legion Hall. This is a very important meeting and all 4-H boys and girls are urged to attend. Plans will be made for the coming year and officers will be elected.

SEED TREATMENT
Chemical seed protectants can prevent many disease problems on small grain caused by fungal and bacterial organisms on the seed coat.

With the fall planting season here, Wendell Horne, Extension plant pathologist, advises growers who save their own seed or buy untreated seed to apply such protectants before planting to insure a vigorous and healthy stand. Most commercial seed companies use a seed treatment.

Seed-borne fungi and bacteria destroy the seed in the soil or attack seedlings as they struggle through the soil. Such diseases are referred to as seedling blights, says Horne, and often result in a significant loss of stand.

Mercury-type seed treatments such as Cerasan and Panogen have been highly effective as protectants for small grain seed. These materials may be applied in a rotary seed treater made from a 50-gallon drum or they may be applied with machinery devised for that purpose.

Some fungi are also borne within the seed and are not affected by chemical treatment. Loose smut of wheat and barley is an example of this type of disease, the pathologist points out. A water-soak method must be used to control this condition.

WAIT FOR DRY COTTON
Are you in a rush to start picking cotton early in the morning? Wise farmers wait for cotton moisture to drop to a reasonable picking level, says Beverly G. Reeves, cotton ginning and mechanization specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service. This waiting can get them a full grade or more at the gin.

Regardless of how dry the weather, cotton should never be harvested at night nor in the early morning or late evening, explains the specialist. Even on the driest day, cotton will probably never be dry enough for machine harvest until 8 a.m. or later.

Moisture in seed cotton from humidity may not be seen or felt, says Reeves, but it is there. And, it limits the kind of job the ginner can do. Excess moisture in cotton usually results in the loss of grade and quality, and this can cost the grower $10 or more per bale, the specialist points out.

Heat must be increased in gin dryers to try to get desirable grade from higher moisture cotton. This increases the danger of fiber quality damage on dry portions of the bale being ginned and the dry bale that may follow, explains Reeves. Overdrying can result, making for the kind of cotton that mills don't want.

When should you start your mechanical pickers? Delay harvesting, advises Reeves, until the relative humidity in the field at boll height is 60 percent or less. Normally, 60 percent relative humidity is correlated with eight percent lint

Club Will See Film On Midge

A film on the sorghum midge will be the program at the Spearman Young Farmers and Ranchers meeting tonight at 7:30 p.m. in the High School Auditorium.

This new agriculture organization is made up of farmers and ranchers out of high school and under 37 years of age.

It has just recently been organized here and President Doug Moore invites all eligible men to join.

This meeting is open to everyone and all are invited to attend.

Quartet Will Sing Sunday

The "Inspirational" quartet will present programs at the Fellowship Baptist Church, 11th and Archer streets, Oct. 9-11.

The group will present programs at 7:30 p.m., Friday and Saturday. There will be three services Sunday. The quartet will sing at the morning and evening services Sunday and have a special service at 2:30 p.m., Sunday.

"I saw it in The Plainsman."

moisture. To check cotton moisture, Reeves says to pick a handful of cotton, squeeze it tightly in your hand and release it quickly. If the cotton fluffs out when released, it is dry enough for mechanical picking. Otherwise, wait and make another test later.

Might Miss Something-Like A Curve

WICHITA, Kan. — Phil Young of Wichita said he was driving on the Kansas Turnpike when he noticed another motorist driving along with a newspaper spread across the steering wheel.

Young said he followed the car for about 40 miles while the other driver leafed through the paper at the same time he was driving 70 miles per hour.

Minuteman Costs Less

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. — The Air Force estimates it costs $100,000 annually to maintain a solid-fuel Minuteman intercontinental range missile on station. This compares with an upkeep figure of $1 million a year for each of the earlier liquid-fuel, more complex Atlas and Titan ICBMs.

There's A Difference

LOCKPORT, N.Y. — The meaning of one of the back-to-school displays in a downtown store window was altered somewhat when one letter came unglued.

It was supposed to read "Big Wheel On Campus," but the "W" was missing.

Berra Is A DP Man

NEW YORK — In baseball DP means double play and not a displaced person.

However, Manager Yogi Berra of the Yankees must feel he is a little part of both. In two exhibition games this season Yogi went to bat twice and each time hit into a double play.

He played in the Yankee Old Timers game and in the Mayor's Trophy game in which the Yankees beat the Mets, 6-4.

Memorial Flower Brings Message of Courage

Every year on the Saturday before Memorial Day, millions of Americans wear little red poppies over their hearts in memory of our war dead and also the ones who came home crippled, mangled and some of whom will never be well or whole again.

Those who came back make poppies each year to sell to make a little extra money for their families. This also gives veterans in hospitals all over the country something to do with their hands.

When you wear the red poppy you will know some veteran who fought for your freedom, made it in remembrance of those who did not come back.

Almost everyone knows that poppies are worn in memory of the men who lost their lives in the World Wars, but they may not be aware of how the poppy came to be the nation's memorial flower.

In 1917 and 1918, American boys fought with determination to end the war but thousands were killed. As the soldiers struggled forward across the shell-torn towns and fields, they saw one touch of life and beauty in all that region where death and destruction reigned. This was the little wild poppy. The brave little poppy grew and bloomed on the hastily dug graves of our American boys. It seemed as if the gallant spirit of the dead had passed into the blood-red blossoms and through the little flowers, was sending a message of courage and hope to those who still lived.

The poppy has become the symbol of the dead, their memorial flower. It has become the sign that the high ideals for which these brave young men gave their lives, still live and are honored.

The poppy covers the soil in France beneath which many of our brave men lie, so in memory of the great sacrifice they made, everyone is urged to wear a poppy on Poppy Day, and by doing so, to assist the living disabled war veterans and his family.

Homemaking Notes

by Linda Webb
Home Demonstration Agent

Are you one of the many homemakers who use ground beef to advantage in menu planning? I hope so, because ground beef, or hamburger, is designed for huge appetites and pocketbook ease.

Ground beef accounts for about 25 percent of ALL BEEF sales. Not all ground beef is the same composition. Regular ground beef usually indicates ground beef with a high proportion of beef fat, and many people prefer it for the rich flavor imparted by the fat. Lean ground beef is made from the chuck of various cuts of beef which are leaner than those that go into hamburger. It costs a bit more per pound, but is probably the most efficient purchase.

Ground round steak is the leanest of all ground beef and usually sells for about the same price per pound as sliced round steak. It costs more but shrinks less in cooking than any other type of ground beef.

Handle ground beef as little as possible. Too much handling makes the finished product tough and packed.

Keep ground beef under refrigeration and use it within three days after purchase.

Try this idea for a different twist in using ground beef.

BEEF-BURGER SURPRISE
Flatten a hamburger patty to about 1/4 inch thickness. Place on the patty a slice of tomato, chopped onion to taste, shredded cheese (about 1 tablespoon) and salt. Cover with another flattened hamburger patty (like a sandwich) and pinch meat together around edges.

Broil burger until brown on both sides. Serve with a green vegetable or french fries, and here is a meal to satisfy the biggest appetite.

Here is a thought for the week: Using seat belts in your automobile is the safest way to keep from leaving the scene of the accident.

the new line of Accutron electronic timepieces and the diamond-ornamented "First Lady" watches as another of its presidential year specials.

If you do not think you are getting old, just try reminding a high school senior about Country Slaughter racing all the way from first to home on Harry Walker's single to win the 1946 World Series for the Cardinals.

These dumb kids do not even remember that it was Harry "The Cat" Brecheen who won three games for the Cardinals in that series.

To make things even worse, they do not know about Doak Walker or Kyle Rote's great effort against Notre Dame.

It is hard to realize that today's kids have such short memories. Then you realize they were more interested in bottles than sports, then.
