by Jamie Morley

The high school drama and choir classes proudly present "Hello Dolly!" The production will be Saturday October 7, at 8:00 p.m. The admission will be: $1.00 for children under 8 yrs. of age, $1.50 for students, and $2.50 for adults. Cast members are as follows: Miss Dolly Gallagher Levi-Debbie Greene, senior; Ernestine-Jo-Nell Comegys, senior; Ambrose-Zane Newton who is also a senior; Ermengarde will be played by Pam Largent, senior; Cornelius Hackl-Stinson Gibner senior; Bafnaby Tucker-James Pierce; junior, Irene Molloy-Angela Lesly, sophomore, Angela's understudy will be Kelly Rylant, junior; Minnie Fay-Sherrie Greene, sophomore; Sherris understudy will be Eadie Clemmons, sophomore; Mrs. Rose-Sabre McCoy, junior Rudolph-Todd Brock, senior; Judge-Jay Comegys, junior; Court Clerk-Mike Dixon, Freshman. There is more to a musical than just actors, there are the people who build sets and paint and all sorts of things that need to be recognized also. The logistics crew set up for the musical are as follows: Kelly Davis, Roger Chesser, Becky Lusby, Karen Kenney, Paul Welch, Tina Baker, Jimmy Snider, Tina Cochran, Debbie

Greene, Tommy Rodgers, Ginny Morris, Melissa Davis, Angela Lesly, April Pearcy, Steven Tindell, Pam Largent, Mike Dixon, Marietta Davis, Jackie Reed, Tamera Scroggs, Kelly Bynum, Curtis Davis, and Ray Ortega. Some of the crew members are from Mrs. Booth's speech classes. Most people think that the musical is just done by the choir members. Hate to disillusion you folks, but the cast came from all parts of the school system. Many members are from the speech and drama class. Good luck to all members in the cast and logistics crew. Of course some of the credit goes to Mr. Angel, Charlotte

Angel, and Mrs. Booth. Mr. Angel is the choir director and Mrs. Booth is the speech teacher. Mrs. Angel plays the piano for the musical. But to all the people who worked on the musical I hope that it goes as well as you expect. Speaking with experience I know that it will really go well. I have gone to all the musicals and even worked with them. I sure hope that there will be a good turnout for this musical, the members have really worked hard for six weeks. They gave up all their spare time to work on it so let's all show up and give them a really good hand.

Watch this paper each week for more interesting news about the show.

New Intern Minister At Lutheran Church

HERB HOFF

The new intern at Faith Lutheran Church is a young married man with two children. Herb Hoff is 28 years old and has been a student at Wartburg Theological Seminary in Dubuque, Iowa for the past two years. Herb was born and raised in Seattle, Washington. Herb met his wife at the Lutheran Bible Institute in Seattle when they were both students there. Five years after they met they were married while Herb was in the army. After his years in the army

Herb went back to school and was given a B.A. in Christian Education from the Lutheran Bible Institute. While Herb has been going to school Gail has been very busy raising Nathan (3 1/2 years) and Kirsten (17 months). The Hoff's will be in Spearman for the next year as a part of Herb's seminary training. He will be learning as much as possible about ministering to and with people. How does a boy from Seattle feel about living in Spearman? "These last few days make me feel right at home."

Firemen To Give Away "Novelty"

The Spearman Volunteer Fire Department will be taking donations of $3.00 for a unique and energy-saving gift that will conserve water and electricity, a "Little House Out Back". The little house is constructed of cured oak lumber with one piece slanted roof-the advantage of this style over the pointed two piece roof is that it gives wasps only four corner in which to build their nests instead of six. The house is 80" high, 39" wide and weighs approximately 700 lbs.

Some of the features include carpeting, clear Lucite seat embedded with barbed wire, reprint of 1908 Sears Roebuck catalog, lightning rod, fan, fly swatter, personalized name plate on door, security latch for privacy, Sony TV (battery operated), CB radio to keep in touch with good buddies and home base, spittoon, clock, kerosene stove, seat belt in case of hurricane, half-moon opening on door, wall mirror, gold plated coat hanger, ash tray, wasp & hornet spray, smoke detector, pocket knife and whittling stick, burglar alarm, calendar, thermometer, fire extinguisher and a Farmers Almanac. The drawing for this "Little House" will be held Dec. 18. You do not need to be present to win. Proceeds will go to the equipment fund of the fire department. See any volunteer fireman for a ticket.

Cancer Series Planned

The first in a two-part series of Countywide special interest meetings will be held Tuesday, October 3, at 7:30 p.m. in the Spearman Home Demonstration Clubroom. Medical professionals will provide information and teach Self-Examination for Breast Cancer. The second meeting of the series will be held Tuesday, October 17, at 7:30 p.m. in the Spearman Home Demonstration Clubroom. The American Cancer Society will supply films and qualified medical professionals to speak on the topics of Lung and Colon Cancer. These educational programs are sponsored by the Family Living Committee and are open to people of all ages, regardless of race, color, sex, religion, socio-economic level or national origin.

National 4-H Week

The two hundred and fifty 4-H members in Hansford County will be among 5.5 million across the United States celebrating National 4-H Week October 1-7, points out Peggy Winegarner, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. A number of special activities are planned in relation to this national observance, which has as its 1978 theme, "4-H-Freedom to Be." All 4-H members and their families will enjoy a countywide 4-H party Saturday, October 7, at 7 p.m. in the Gruver Show Barn.

In Texas, the 4-H program is conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service of the Texas A&M University System. 4-H continues to be a highly flexible program and continues to expand and adapt to the changing needs and interests of young people. Project areas continue to expand, providing youth with many "learning-by-doing" experiences that will help them grow into productive, contributing members of society. 4-H helps youth learn skills to cope with real-life situations today as well as to prepare for the years ahead, emphasizes Mrs. Winegarner. "Hats Off!" to all 4-H members, their parents, volunteer leaders and businesses for making the 4-H program what it is today--a dynamic, action-oriented program for action-oriented youth.

This year's National 4-H Week is designed to reflect on the fact that 4-H offers youth of all backgrounds an opportunity for personal growth and development and, at the same time, to broaden their interests and concern for others, points out Mrs. Winegarner.

Fire Dept. Plans Open House

The Spearman Volunteer Fire Department will be holding open house Oct. 8 from 2 to 4 p.m. at the Fire Station. There will be two door prizes given, free color books, suckers and balloons for the kiddies. Demonstrations will be given on fire equipment, ambulance, CPR. A special awards and training report will be given and also demonstrations on smoke detectors, and stop and roll. There will also be a presentation of officers. Free refreshments will be served by the Fire-Ettes. Everyone is invited to come out and see these demonstrations by the Fire Department.

LYNX Win 7-0

Scot Martin carrying the ball for the Lynx at Tulia Friday night.

The Spearman Lynx won a victory over the Tulia Hornets at Tulia Friday night when they scored a touchdown and extra point in the fourth quarter of the ballgame. The Lynx scored when Whitaker got the ball on an attempted punt on the Hornet 31 yard line and with the help of Newton Sellers and Bodey the Lynx scored with 7:45 left in the game. Martinez kicked the extra point for the only score in the game. The Lynx and Hornet defense dominated the game. The Lynx were unable to move the ball in the first half getting only 29 yards on the ground and one first down, while the Hornets offense gained 103 yards and 10 first downs but were unable to score against the mighty Lynx. The Hornets attempted 9 passes and completed 1 for a 12 yard gain, while the Lynx attempted 2 passes which were incomplete. Martinez intercepted one Hornet pass in the first half. Both teams punted four times in the opening half of the game. This was the third week in a row that the Lynx and their opponents went to the dressing room with a 0-0 score.

The third quarter was a repeat of the first two quarters with neither team able to get a successful drive going. After the touchdown Martinez booted the ball to the 10 yard line and the Hornets took over. Martin intercepted a pass on the Lynx 39 yard line and the Lynx offense dominated the rest of the game. The Lynx now have an open date Oct. 6 and meet Guyton Tigers there Oct. 13. The Lynx now have a 2 win, 2 loss record for the first four games of the season.

Breast Cancer Seminar, Tuesday

An important message to all area women will be offered at a very special seminar on Breast Cancer slated for 7:30 P.M. Tuesday, October 3rd at the home Demonstration building Spearman.

A very knowledgeable person, Rae Gonzales, R.N. will be in charge of the meeting and will include helpful facts, the self-breast examination methods, and other valuable facts about breast cancer.

The most common cancer afflicting U.S. women is breast cancer. Worldwide, incidence is highest among postmenopausal women from Western affluent industrialized societies and lowest in less-developed nations. Rates for these women in the U.S. are high in the North, low in the South, and higher in upper income counties throughout the country. Little national variation exists among premenopausal women.

While specific causes of breast cancer are unknown, we do know that reproductive and endocrine factors play a major role in the development of the disease. A woman having her first child before the age of 18 has one third the lifetime risk of breast cancer of woman giving first birth after age 35. Early menopause also seems to offer some protection.

Some researchers suggest that the Western diet, high in animal fat, encourages breast cancer, perhaps by influencing the production and metabolism of hormones. Dietary factors are difficult to identify since regional differences in American eating habits are not great.

Presently about 80 percent of women with localized breast cancer survive, the American Cancer Society points out.

Avail yourself of this very valuable meeting on breast cancer to be conducted at 7:30 P.M. Tuesday, at the Home Demonstration Club Room in Spearman. Everyone is welcome and urged to attend.

by Jamie Morley The Spearman High school band is going to start one of their money raising projects the beginning of next week. Their first item to sell will be Acrylic impressions. They are versatile, crystal-like vignettes... a "light" touch in decorating. As well as the vignettes we will have christmas decorations in the same acrylic material. The vignettes are excellent for gifts. The band will come around door to door selling these. They will be $3.75 each. The band would really appreciate if you would support us by buying from us. The vignettes and decoration will take around six weeks to arrive. We plan on having them in before Christmas so that you may make gifts of them. Help support the band!!!

Cut Food Costs "By The Week"

COLLEGE STATION--Cut food costs with a week's menu plan and other "shopping secrets," says a foods and nutrition specialist.

Plan the week's menus and make a shopping list from them, advises Marilyn Haggard. Miss Haggard is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

First, check supplies already on hand to avoid extra purchases.

Then remember the following shopping secrets:

- Eat before shopping to avoid impulse buying.

- Shop at a leisurely pace and make cost, quality and amount comparisons.

- Use "cents-off" coupons--on items the family will accept.

- Shop without children for efficiency--or take the children and teach them how to shop and cut costs.

- Keep a record of money spent for snack foods and beverages.

- These items are high in calories and price--but they are often low in nutritional value, and they can account for ten percent of every food dollar.

- Select more economical and nutritious snacks, such as popcorn, fresh fruits and fresh vegetables to make better use of the food dollar.

- Also, limit the purchase of soft drinks to a certain number per family member each week.

- Plan to use leftovers--so the garbage disposal doesn't take the biggest bite out of the family food budget.

- For example, leftover meats and vegetables or macaroni can become a quick-and-easy casserole. Just add a simple white sauce, cheese and bread crumbs.

- Also, to avoid leftovers, buy and prepare less in the future.

IT ISN'T YOUR TOWN, ITS YOU

If you want to live in the kind of a town, Like the kind of a town you like, You needn't slip your clothes in a grip, And start on a long, long hike. You'll only find, what you left behind For there's nothing that's really new: It's a knock at yourself, when you knock the town, It isn't the town, it's you. Real towns are not made by men afraid, Lest somebody else gets ahead, When every one works and nobody shirks, You can raise a town from the dead: And if, when you make your personal stake, Your neighbor can make one, too, Your town will be what you want to see: It isn't your town, it's you. Golden Age Center

As area residents have probably noted, the old Memorial Building is taking on a brand new look and with the face-lifting will soon become the Golden Age Center of Gruver.

Perry Arnold (former Gruver boy, now of Spearman) has been busy installing a central heating and air conditioning system which is almost completed. Dick Cearly has been hard at work putting on new composition shingles.

There is much to be done yet but the plans are all underway and with the grant which we received and the donations of labor and money, there will soon be a wonderful Center of which everyone will be proud.

Student Deadbeats

Federal officials have launched the largest crackdown ever undertaken against students who have defaulted on federally insured college or vocational training loans.

The government has tried various collection schemes in the past, but never one on as grand a scale.

The crackdown was brought about by the shocking number of defaults on student loans.

Some 400,000 students are being hunted by the government in this "get tough" program. In Texas the default rate on government student loans is about 8 per cent among Texas colleges and universities. The national average is 12 percent.

At Texas A&M, however, the default rate is only 1 per cent. At Prairie View A&M the default rate is 44 per cent.

At the University of Texas in Austin, former students have defaulted on approximately $1.7 million worth of loans out of $22.6 million handed out since the program began in 1966.

Of the 400,000 defaulters, some 70,000 are in HEW Region VI which includes Texas, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Louisiana and New Mexico. The average defaulted loan is from $1,000 to $1,200.

The guaranteed student loan program was originated, as most government programs are, with good motives and the program has been of untold benefit to thousands of young men and women who have used these loans for their education and have paid back their lending institution.

But a large number of students, some 12 per cent, apparently figure that Uncle Sam can afford to send them to college and they don't worry about paying back their loan. It has to be admitted that up until now the government has taken a very soft line against loan defaulters by not making much of an effort to make them pay up.

The banks which loan the money under a federal guarantee have not been too tough, either, because they were assured of their money from Uncle Sam whether or not the student paid it back.

This high rate of defaults on student loans ought to be a matter of concern to a great many people other than government officials, college administrators and parents.

The wheels of justice turn slowly, of course, but a government that can send IRS sleuths out to track down income tax evaders can surely bring in student loan defaulters.

There is no reason for the rest of us taxpayers to foot the bill for students who are making no effort to repay a loan made in good faith. This should be one of the fundamental lessons of citizenship and if not learned in college, learned the hard way from government enforcers.

"I am the living bread that came down from heaven. If anyone eats this bread he will live forever. The bread that I will give him is my flesh, which I give so that the world may live." John 6:51 (TEV)

World Communion Sunday--celebrate around the globe on the first Sunday in October--is a day of united witnessing on behalf of Christ, the living bread that came down from heaven, who gave his life "...so that the world may live."

On October 1 our congregation will join with Christian communities from all parts of the world in partaking of the body and blood of Jesus Christ, crucified and risen.

In the Lord's Supper we are receivers; we receive spiritual nourishment and refreshment. If we share at the Lord's Table, should we not also share in that which he has given us? The remembrance of him who came "...so that the world may live" inspires loving service for the world.

The World Communion Offering gives United Methodists an opportunity, as we share the bread and the cup, to share in Christ's ministry. Our gifts on this day provide support for three of our church's special ministries.

One half of the World Communion Offering is the major source of income for the Crusade Scholarship program, which provides graduate study opportunities for Christian young adults from the U.S. and abroad. The number of scholarships which can be awarded each year is dependent upon the offering receipts.

On him when they kneel to pray. And the unbelieving farmers Ridicule his soft white hands, Hands that welcome weary sinners. And then teach them God's commands.

Yes, I sympathize with the Preachers For they're human as can be, And I know they can't be perfect For they make mistakes like me."

--borrowed from Means UMC, Andrews, Texas via First UMC, Pampa, Texas

Plan now to be present on October 1 to share the bread and the cup on World Communion Sunday and to share in the lives of people through the World Communion Offering.

Tips For The Elderly

The old, like the young, have their special problems with criminals. For them, the American Association of Retired Persons has compiled some self-protection tips.

Beware of aid offers from strangers, either in crossing a street or carrying packages or getting in buses. They may be stealing from your purse or picking your pockets. Also be wary of strangers who start odd conversations.

Watch out for "con artists" who try to swindle you through "bunco" schemes or offers of quick, easy profits or medical "cures". Check out every such proposal carefully, and report to law-enforcement authorities anything that proves "phony."

Travel well-lit and busy streets, even if that means taking a little longer to get where you're going.

Encourage neighbors to keep a lookout for you and your home. Let them know your whereabouts and your plans. Alert them to any unusual circumstances. Your neighbors are often your single best security system.

This information has been brought to you as a public service by John R. Collard, Jr., your one stop answer to complete business and personal insurance protection. Life, home, auto, group insurance, and profit-sharing plans. See John R. Collard, Jr., 405 Davis St., Telephone 659-2501.

Local Homemakers To Attend Dallas Meet

Three Hansford County homemakers will attend the 52nd annual meeting of the Texas Home Demonstration Association (THDA), October 3-5, in Dallas.

They are Mmes. B.A. Byers, dan Ralston and Archie Smith all of Spearman.

As delegates to the state meet, the local homemakers will spend more than half of the three-day meet attending in-depth educational workshops, according to Mrs. Elma Preston of Llano, Texas, THDA president.

Workshops will focus on THDA major program areas--subjects that make up part of Home Demonstration Club work throughout the state.

Topics include family life, safety, health, citizenship, 4-H and youth, and cultural arts and recreation.

Throughout each year, Home Demonstration Club members study these subjects and build them into local programs and projects designed to serve the residents of their respective counties.

Other workshops will concern the state organization itself, Mrs. Preston said.

Keynote speakers for the conference will be Glenn Scott, staff specialist-public relations, Southwestern Bell Telephone, Dallas, and Dr. William Entzinger, also of Dallas, a marriage and family therapist and adjunct assistant professor in the Department of Child Development and Family Living, Texas Woman's University, Denton.

Faye's Daze

You know how it is, when the cat is away, the mice will play.

This is the situation at your local newspaper this weekend. The boss and his boss went down south to visit relatives and friends, and left a list of what was to be done in his absence. I don't think I have lost the list just misplaced it....that's easy to do around here. Surely I'll find it by Monday when he is scheduled to be home.

Isn't this weather beautiful, and wasn't that rain grand. I don't think I have ever seen Spearman as parched as it was before the rain, after those two days of hot dry winds, and to look at yards in the city this week, you would think it was spring again, everything looks so lush and green.

The cooler weather is nice too...I love fall, favorite season in the Panhandle. Fall brings to mind, or anyway to my mind, foliage tours, Indian Summer days, football games, baked apples, pumpkin pie and other various goodies and maybe some new fall clothes.

Speaking of clothes, last weekend, in a rare spurt of energy for me, I decided to clean out my closets. I think what really brought this on, was washing a load of white pants, blouses etc. and trying to get the stains out of them, and deciding I'd be better off wearing black and brown. Anyway I got started on this project, putting away some summer clothes that I am sick of, sorting out some that I never want to see again and I doubt if anyone else does either, and then got to the job of looking over my fall clothes. That was a mistake, they didn't look much more inviting than those I was putting away. Anyway I got them out for wear.

When I was cleaning out closets etc. I ran across this beautiful piece of material I bought several years ago to make a pantsuit. For the past several years I have moved it from the drawer in the fall to what is laughingly referred to in my home as the sewing room, and then in the spring I take it back and put it in the drawer. I may wear it our before I ever get up another spurt of energy and decide to cut it out and sew it up. I think what brought on the move this time was the sad condition of my last year's clothes. Surely I will get this fabric made up this fall.

I know one thing that when the Farm Bureau Wives Truckload Fabric sale comes to town Oct. 3 I am going to make it a point to bypass it, but you smart ladies that do sew would be wise to visit it, looks like they have some good bargains in fabrics.

I was skimming over the new issue of U.S. News & World Report last night and did you know that the mighty dollar is worth 28 cents now. They have a 16 page spread on inflation. I read their advice on investments, they don't advise buying stocks and bonds, the return is too low; savings accounts and certificates interest doesn't give you enough return to beat the inflation rate for the year. They did advise investing in real estate. I wonder if they have priced any recently. The best advice they could give is to invest in tangibles, such as antiques, silver, etc. After looking at the charts and what the dollar will buy this year and in projected years I decided I'd just keep on putting my pennies in the jar at home.

Speaking of real estate, and real estate taxes, energy costs of running a home, etc. I read somewhere about a house built underground that requires very little energy to heat and cool. Might save some taxes too, because the tax assessor couldn't measure the square footage in your house unless you let him in. Do you have to do that?

Think of energy we have saved the past couple of weeks. The air conditioners have not been humming, the sprinklers have not been running, and for the most part except for those 2 cool days last week, no heat is needed.

With the boss gone, and our No. 1 typesetter on vacation, this place is awfully quiet. Now if I could just find that list I might get something done. I can see a few things that need to be done but about the time I decide to do them, the phone rings, and I get sidetracked. Sorry boss, you know how it is. Anyway we did get the papers out and mailed???

We opened up almost on time, got the mail, locked the doors, turned out the lights, and maybe closed up a teensy-bit early. The rest of the gruesome story I'll tell you about later.

That's it for this time, this column may be like that piece of fabric of mine, and just turn up about twice a year, and it might be just as well.

NINE HUNDRED POUND FLASHLIGHT-It would take three of the 304-pound telephone battery cells shown above to operate an average six-volt flashlight, but the long life capacity of the cells would operate the flashlight 24 hours a day for about 4 1/2 months before the bulb would begin to dim. During a power outage, battery cells such as these keep telephone service in operation.

Telephone System Is Battery Dependent

Residents of today's electronic world are dependent on batteries to run cars, boats, pocket calculators, radios, toys, watches...and telephones.

That's right, telephones. Believe it or not, the United States telephone system is battery dependent, combining modern electronics with special long life battery cells similar in appearance to common everyday automobile batteries to bring customers telephone service even during commercial power outages.

Tom M. Cooper, network central office equipment engineering manager for General Telephone Company of the Southwest, said all electronic operations necessary for telephone service are operated on direct current as provided by batteries rather than commercial, or alternating, current.

"During normal telephone switching, commercial current is used in all offices to run battery chargers," Cooper explained. "In addition to keeping the batteries at peak power in case of a power outage, the chargers convert the commercial electricity to the direct current which operates the telephone system." During a commercial power outage, the battery system takes over full operations of the telephone equipment.

"In the smaller offices, the battery system carries the full load without charging since most outages are usually corrected within a few hours. The battery system is engineered to carry normal loads for approximately eight hours."

Cooper continued, "To assure telephone service during power outages, the company also has portable emergency generators or we can rush replacement batteries to the smaller offices in cases where commercial power outages are expected to extend beyond the life of the batteries."

"In the large offices where telephone usage is high, the company has installed standby emergency generator systems that switch on automatically when commercial power fails," he explained. "The generators provide the current required to operate the chargers which keep the telephone system in operation."

Cooper said some users of business systems may remember their phone working during a power outage but they also recall they did not have lights or buzzers to signal incoming calls.

National 4-H Week Oct. 1-7

Nearly 5.5 million young people across the nation—more than 100,000 of those in Texas—will observe National 4-H Week, October 1-7. Activities will center on the theme, "4-H—Freedom to Be."

President Jimmy Carter called the theme "most appropriate for a program which is reaching out to all young Americans—rural and urban—from every cultural, economic and social background.

"For many," he said, "4-H is opening doors to a lifetime of personal growth and fulfillment. In learning-by-doing, through educational projects and direction to young people and making them more responsible and sensitive adult citizens."

"National 4-H Week is set aside annually by the Cooperative Extension Service to focus attention on the values of 4-H as an informal educational program for boys and girls 9 to 19 years old," said Dr. John T. Pelham, State 4-H and Youth leader with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"The program's learning-by-doing philosophy encourages young people to acquire 'real life' skills and develop citizenship and leadership abilities," noted Pelham.

Most 4-H members are enrolled in locally organized clubs on a year-round basis. Other take part in 4-H through special interest groups, nutrition education programs, instructional television, international programs, short-term activities and camping.

Consumer Food News

COLLEGE STATION—Consumers can expect a slight drop in meat prices for the rest of the year, Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, a consumer marketing information specialist, predicts.

Small declines in meat prices are forecast due to seasonally larger pork and poultry supplies, she says.

Mrs. Clyatt is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

According to Mrs. Clyatt, this week's price-quality trends at Texas grocery markets include the following:

POULTRY—Eggs and fryer chickens are two excellent protein foods available at low prices, although egg prices are up slightly, and medium-size usually offers the best buy.

BEEF—More specials are the trend. Items with the most attractive price tags are chuck roasts and steaks, round steaks, boneless steaks and liver.

PORK—Supplies are increasing, but prices are rather irregular. Look for feature prices on smoked cuts such as picnics and bacon. Also, consider fresh cuts such as quarter loin cut into chops, Boston butt roasts and liver.

FRESH VEGETABLES—Several items are worthy of consideration price-wise and quality-wise. They include potatoes and onions, carrots, corn, cucumbers, squash and mustard greens. Also, head lettuce and bell peppers.

Sweet potato quality is good, but buy only enough for a week or 10 days.

Cauliflower is on the market, but it has relatively high first-of-the-season prices.

FRESH FRUITS—Prunes highlight some fruit counters, but their short season will be over soon. Shop carefully for other fruits since price levels vary.

GROCERY MARKET AISLES—Leading features include tuna fish, soups, peanut butter and macaroni. Watch dry bean prices, especially pinto—an item in heavy supply.

CONSUMER WATCHWORDS: Label information does little good if consumers ignore it.

Glacoma Test October 5th

Used properly, chlorine bleach whitens, brightens, cleans and disinfects laundry items.

While chlorine bleach cannot be used on all products, it is safe on many, says Beverly Rhoades, clothing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Read bottle instructions for correct usage and list of inappropriate fabrics, she recommends.

Methodist Women Attend District Meet

Several women from the Gruver-Spearman area attended the District UMW meeting at Booker last Thursday which was highlighted by the theme "Education-Information Strengthen."

Conducted by District president Mrs. Ila Pool from Pampa, the meeting included a registration and coffee time hosted by the Booker UMW which preceded the meeting begun by an organ piano prelude. District Superintendent Dr. Apley offered the opening prayer. The welcome was extended by Mrs. Ara Bell Morris, president of the Booker UMW with Judy Hughes offering special vocal music, "He Touched Me."

Following the business meeting which included the election of officers for the coming year, a delightful program was presented by "The Tator Family", the cast of which included members of the District Executive Board. Reports were made by Ruth McGee and Doris Ackers on highlights of the National Assembly.

Installation of officers was conducted by Dorothy Davis who likened each office to a key which opened a door. Included among those installed was Mrs. Ila Mae Buchanan from Spearman who was installed as Chairperson for Supportive Activities.

Following the benediction and invocation, the group were served a delectable salad lunch.
