

Lynx, Greyhounds Tangle Friday

Gruver's Greyhounds will be the favorites when they host the Spearman Lynx in Gruver at 8 p.m. Friday for the unofficial county championship.

Both teams go into the game with identical 1-1 records, but the Hounds have been more impressive in their first two games than the Lynx.

Spearman was upset in the opener against Sunray 16-14, then walloped class B Booker 42-14 last Friday.

Gruver gave Clarendon a sound whipping in the opening game of the year, then lost a close game to powerful White Deer Friday.

Lynx coach Don Seymour said his squad came through the Booker game with no serious injuries. He has no major personnel changes planned for this week.

Gruver's rugged defense, led by tough, quick Sammy Arnold and O.E. Gammill will thoroughly test the Lynx running game which has looked good at times this season.

Arnold was a big thorn in the Lynx offense last year when Spearman took a 6-0 win on Lynx field.

Spearman's offensive efforts this year have been built around the running of senior halfback Kenneth Shufeldt who has a 9 plus yard per carry average in two games.

In the first two games the Lynx protection for quarterback Dave Clement has leaked so badly that the passing game has been ineffective.

Besides the strong defense, Gruver has the break-away threat of Frank Silva, a sophomore back who flashed into stardom as a freshman.

Quarterback Sam Tipton, who had been counted out this year after knee surgery five weeks ago, came back in the White Deer game to give the Hounds a passing threat and release Mack Hoel for duties at end. Against the passing of Max Greer of Sunray, the Lynx secondary put up good protection on passes, but they did not have the break-away threat like Silva to confuse the situation.

It is not known if Tipton will be used full time at the man under position or only in critical spots.

Neither team will put any giants on the field. According to the programs of both teams the weights for most of the starters run from 150 to 185.

FOUR GAMES SCHEDULED THURSDAY

Four football games are on tap Thursday night for the Spearman sub-varieties and junior high teams. The grade school will be on the road and the Freshmen and B team at home.

At home the Freshmen will play Shamrock at 6:30 p.m. and the B-team will meet Sunray at 8 p.m.

On the road the Seventh grade will play in Perryton at 5 p.m. and the Eighth grade will play in Sunray at 6:30 p.m.

'Crazy Day' To Feature Air Show

Frank Pierce, owner of the Air Show to be here on Crazy Day, Oct. 2, is one of America's greatest stunt fliers.

Carroll Thompson, local flyer, said Pierce is the only American to rate near the top in the World Stunt flying contests for the past three years.

Pierce placed 10th, the highest an American has placed in many years, last year in the world competition.

A great flying show which will include many different acts is planned at 2 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 2. The acts include a plane to car transfer by a man and then from car to plane. It also has a 200 foot parachute jump and other acts.

Shelby Kritzer, Amarillo flyer who does stunt flying, will also be here as part of the show with his Bearkat, a fast military type plane.

The air show will be just a part of the Crazy Day. The big excitement will be in town where there will be crazy dressed store owners and clerks, selling crazy day bargains.

A meeting of owners and employees will be held Thursday, Sept. 23. This is an instruction and planning meeting.

Board Handles Routine Matters

It was a very routine meeting completed about 10 p.m. for the Spearman School Board Tuesday night.

The board officially accepted the resignation of Mrs. Allen Alford and officially hired Mrs. Claudine Clark as part-time home economics teacher. The change was made before school started.

Mrs. Don Seymour was officially hired as an assistant music teacher. She assists Lewis Tilford with music in all 12 grades of the school.

Architect John Work reported that delays in shipping equipment from the factories is all that is holding up completion of the remodeling of the Junior High School.

Enrollment in the school is now 1105, according to Dr. Bill Reeves, Superintendent. More students are expected, but he said the school would be able to take them without overcrowding.

A question about the rule that students who get out of school early to work being ineligible to take part in class activities was raised. Dr. Reeves told the board it was not made by him nor Principal Jim Cherry. The rule is in the school's rules and policy book which was given to the administrators when they arrived.

After discussing the rule for a few minutes, the board decided to leave it unchanged for the present time.

Supt. Reeves and possibly two of the board members, President Lloyd Buzzard and Marvin Jones, will attend the State School Administrators' and Board Members Conference in Austin Sunday and Monday.

Knox Pipkins Celebrate 50th Wedding Anniversary

On September 5, 1915 Miss Ocie King and Knox Pipkin were married in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. King at the King ranch in Roberts County.

Exactly 50 years later on Sept. 5, 1965 the couple celebrated their golden wedding anniversary in the home of their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Fullbright of Spearman.

The anniversary open house was hosted by their eight children who are J.W. Pipkin, John Pipkin, Edith Smith and Malolah Fullbright all of Spearman, Sena Belle Burrow and Onida Mae Wilson of Perryton, Betty Jo Graves of Hardesty, Okla., and Elma Miller of Houston.

The Fullbright home was decorated throughout the entertaining rooms with summer garden flowers and the serving table was laid with an ecru lace cloth over ecru satin and centered with an arrangement of gold mums and daisies in an amber vase. Amber candle holders with gold candles were used and crystal and silver completed the setting. The nut dish was crystal with gold inlay, a gift from a school chum over 50 years ago.

The unique three tiered white wedding cake with gold trim was topped with a lighted church.

Mrs. Orlene Martin of Spearman and Mrs. Yvonda Stokes of Amarillo, granddaughters of the Pipkins presided at the serving table.

Day by Day

It's going to seem different around here now that the Lawrence Browns have moved to Liberty. Betty, Lawrence, Jimmy and Lawrence Ray will surely be missed because they were "right in the middle of things" if you know what I mean.

Betty was surprised with a farewell gift of mugs and glasses by the neighborhood women on Cotter Drive, not to mention numerous other gifts and best wishes. Lawrence received a trophy for his "above and beyond the call of duty" services as movie photographer for the Lynx and a surprise party was held for the boys, so I guess the four of them will not soon forget the happy years and good friends they made in Spearman.

Betty said they all shed a few tears at the thought of leaving Spearman and someone reminded her of the tears she shed when she moved up here from that warm area she loves down around Houston. It wasn't many years ago either, but the town welcomed them and they became a part of it in a hurry. That just goes to show, a town is as friendly as you want it to be.

I thought I'd help Betty out last Friday night and I offered to make her pie (and mine also) for the after-the-game-party Xi Zeta Upsilon hosted.

Well, you just can't imagine all the things that happened. First, I used a trusted, never-fail chocolate pie recipe I've used for years. I rushed home at noon and got right to work making crusts, stirring and beating chocolate and eggs and things. The meringue never did exactly whip up high and pretty but I thought "Oh well, it's the weather." I finished the pie too late to have lunch so I admired them and rushed back to work. Then, at five, lo and behold, I came in to find the pies in the saddest looking shape you can imagine. The meringue was a little pancake of bubbles out in the center and the pie filling resembled Mr. Hershey's syrup, only thinner.

But, did I panic . . . well not really. I just forgot all plans for supper (what a way to diet) and started making two apple pies. To finish quicker (?) this time I used pie crust mix and for some reason it would not roll out, just as if it knew I had only an hour or so before game time and it was determined to conquer me.

To make a long story short, several trips to the neighbors and the grocery store later, I did finish two halfway presentable pies. And, as you might guess, when the pie and coffee crowd had gone home and it was time to gather up my pie plates to go home . . . one whole pie and half of the other remained!

But, after a couple of days, I was my calm, composed self again.

I was delighted this week that Margarette Evans was kind enough to share some recipes with us. One, from the local Christian Church women's cookbook printed in 1945 is for cold chow chow, the recipe being originally from Deta Blodgett.

It's about time to make chow chow, Margarette says, and this recipe is excellent and keeps indefinitely. Be sure you use tomatoes that are green all the way through, she cautions, though.

COLD CHOW CHOW (makes 10-11 pints)

3 pints vinegar	2 tps. tumeric (I prefer less)
4 cups sugar	3 tps. prepared mustard
Juice of 4 lemons	1 tsp. each celery seed, all spice and mustard seed
8 onions	1 gal. green tomatoes
1 stalk celery	1 small head cabbage
3 hot peppers	1/2 cup suet
6 sweet peppers

Grind all vegetables and add salt. Let stand 1/2 hour. Then drain well. Prepare vinegar, sugar, spices and lemon juice. Heat and let cool. Add to vegetables and seal cold in sterilized jars. This chow chow will not turn dark.

And finally, in case you haven't noticed, C&B Studio has an absolutely beautiful window display I wouldn't want you to miss!

MICHAEL ANDREW BRANDT--the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Brandt is a contestant in the Farm Bureau baby contest. He is 14 months old.

How many poisons do you have at home which are in the reach of young children?

Accidental poisonings continue to mount each year. Not all are fatal, but in 1961 there were 42,000 cases of poisonings--90 percent which involve children under five years of age.

Let's take a quick survey of your home: Aspirin is the leader in 21 percent of the reported cases. Is your aspirin bottle easily accessible to children?

Other items are insecticides, bleaches, and detergents, any liquid, powder or tablet which youngsters can put in their mouth is dangerous. They have been known to swallow household ammonia, roach tablets and oven cleaners.

Parents, keep this in mind: a child that young cannot be held responsible. His parents must protect him, because he is full of curiosity. Part of his big task in growing up is to explore his world; so, he does it by poking, opening, tasting, and swallowing. Therefore, parents must be constantly aware of all forms of danger to children, and protect these children in every way.

Stage a poison hunt in your home. Remove or put under lock and key those things which might harm your child. Don't let a child in your home become a victim of accidental poisoning.

Cooler weather has gotten me into a general housecleaning mood. So, I have a few housecleaning hints to pass along to you, which may be new, or at least reminders.

Protect ashtrays before they become a cleaning chore. To beat laborous scrubbing, rub a few layers of hard paste wax into the clean ashtray. Then as you clean it, just dump out the ashes and wipe the ashtray with a damp cloth. The wax keeps ashes from being ground into the tray, making cleaning a breeze.

If you are tackling the job of washing walls, here's a bit of advice to heed--begin washing FROM THE BOTTOM TO THE TOP. Here's why. Washing from the top may let water streak down across a dirty wall, leaving a water mark in the dirt, which is often impossible to remove later.

When you begin with a clean wall on the bottom, water may drip and streak down as you get higher, but it can be wiped from the clean wall to leave no dirty streak marks.

On the other hand, when dusting walls and curtains, you should work from the top down, since dust and dirt will fall and can be picked up on a downward sweep. The dusting brush vacuum cleaner is the best utensil for this job, although a long-handled broom covered with a cloth rag will do a good job.

If you own a vacuum cleaner, do you get the full benefit from it? What type of care is best for your floors? Do you use wax, and if so, what is best for your own floors? These are questions I will answer for you in the next couple of weeks, in this column to help you keep up with what's new.

THE LAST NOTE: Folks used to go without luxuries to have money in the bank. Now they go without money to have luxuries.

Robert Cordes, Pastor

"YIELD IN LOVE"

Safe driving is becoming more of a necessity as more people have cars. Most people are good drivers, but there are many who do not use common sense. Are you guilty of the following poor driving habits? While driving many thousands of miles each year, the bad habit I note most is people pulling out in front of an oncoming car. Coming to a highway from a side road, many many times the car will merely slow up a little and pull out in front of the oncoming car, expecting them to brake and slow up. A minute more time and a dangerous situation could be avoided.

Or do you, like so many, come up to a stop sign and stop, then pulling out in front of oncoming traffic? This I observe happens all too frequently.

Are we a people that are in too big a hurry? We act as if another minute of waiting is too long. And I'm sure I too am often guilty.

But the fact is, God says we shall not kill. This means we should not carelessly handle a car as well as a gun. We are to so love the life of others that we in no way endanger them but help them preserve their life as well as our own. Love is the answer--yielding in love to the oncoming car.

Observe your driving habits in this matter. Instead of bearing down with all speed and abandonment, try a little love. Far too many lie for weeks injured and suffering because of carelessness. Far too many homes suffer deaths of loved ones because of fleeting moments that we think are too long to spend at a stop sign.

Laws aren't the answer. Even patrolmen observing these mistakes in our driving habits and arresting us is not the answer.

The only answer is that we love others life enough to drive carefully, sanely and not pull out in front of oncoming traffic. Another moment or two of yielding in love is the answer. Try it!

No Lover's Quarrel Here

They are a remarkable couple. They give of themselves and their substance to their neighbors, their friends and to the unfortunate. They seem to radiate joy. They have raised a fine family and their children have all left home. Yet, they keep on the positive side of life. At the piano they sing the old songs as well as the new. They always enjoy guests, but primarily the company of each other.

They attribute their outlook upon life to their Church and are very active in its work and fellowship. They credit their Church for much of the joy and peace that is theirs. To them living is loving.

Morse Opens
With 52-0 Win

Morse Mustang football team opened their season Saturday night with a win over the Stratford Elk "B" squad, 52-0. Bill Tension is the coach for the Mustangs.

From the opening kickoff the Mustangs took control of the ball and kept it most of the game. When the Mustangs were on the offense, 8 man football was played and when on defense, 11 man went into effect. The Mustangs seemed to handle both equally well.

Morse gained 19 first downs to Stratford's 3 and the Mustangs were penalized 6 for 60 yards to Stratford's 4 for 20 yards.

Eddie Papay tallied for 6 points, Gerald Scribner, 8 points; Alva Henderson, 14 points; Mike Johnson, 14 points; Bill McCloy 2 points and Doug McCloy 6 points when he recovered the opponent's fumble in the end zone.

Scoring by quarters Morse gained 16 in the first, 8 in the second, 8 in the third and 20 in the fourth.

This Friday night the Mustangs will go to Balco, Okla. Coach Tension expects the Balco Bisons to be one of the toughest foes the Mustangs will meet this year.

Mr. and Mrs. G.M. Nichols went to Goodwell Sunday to see their son, Garland who is attending college at Panhandle A&M.

Mr. and Mrs. John Pipkin were guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Stokes, John and Billie in Pampa. Mr. and Mrs. Larry Stokes of Amarillo were also guests.

County Agent's Report

FEDERAL GAS TAX REFUND

Farmers can get a four-cent per gallon refund on each gallon of gasoline used for farming purposes during the 12 month period ending June 30 by filing a claim with the Internal Revenue Service.

The tax refund claims are to be submitted on Form 2240 available at my office or through the Internal Revenue Service.

The claims must be post-marked no later than September 30. They should be mailed to District Director, Internal Revenue Service, Dallas, Texas, 75201.

Extension Farm Management Specialist James Murphrey says sufficient records should be kept by each claimant to enable the Internal Revenue Service to verify the accuracy of the claim. Murphrey said a farmer who uses 2,000 gallons of gasoline a year could probably compile the necessary records and fill out the form in about one hour and for the hours work he would get a refund of $80.

DON'T SAVE GRAIN SORGHUM FOR SEED

"Why can't I save grain sorghum to plant for seed next year? I paid plenty for the seed this year, the harvest should be good enough to plant again." This comment is often voiced by Texas farmers who'd like to cut costs by saving a part of their grain sorghum crop for next year's seed.

A quick look at a plot of grain sorghum at Texas A&M University's Livestock and Forage Research Center at McGregor will soon convince even the staunchest doubter that saving grain sorghum for seed is folly.

The plot at the Research Center was planted with seed held out from harvest the previous year. Some heads in the field were four or five feet high, while others were a scant two feet from the ground. This means more foliage has to be run through the combine to harvest the grain.

In addition, there were numerous white heads in the field. This is caused by the genetic makeup of seed saved from the product of first-cross grain sorghum harvest. Mixed grain always means a dock at the elevator, and many times it is difficult to find a buyer at any price.

Many of the heads were mature and ready to be harvested, but there were also heads that were immature and could not be harvested, or at best, would raise the moisture test. Again, this means a dock at the elevator.

Superintendent of the McGregor Research Center, Henry O. Hill, says planting grain sorghum saved from your own harvest will cause the following: (1) Some of the grain sorghum will have white or different color heads. (2) There will be a marked difference in height and maturity of the heads. (3) The yield will be below what it would have been if new hybrid seed had been planted.

Everyone knows experience is a sad teacher, don't learn the hard way.

FERTILIZER NOT NEW

Fertilizer is not new. For more than 4,000 years, farmers have used fertilizers to increase crop yields.

The Chinese, Greeks and Romans used animal manures, chalk and wood ashes for plant food. They had no knowledge of the chemistry of soils and fertilizers to guide them, but they knew that animal residues and manures increased plant growth.

When white men came to America, Indians were placing a fish under each hill of corn at planting time. They had learned that often that practice meant the difference between a crop and no crop.

First commercial fertilizers were used about 1830, when Chilean nitrate was imported.

Guano was also brought from Peru. These two materials stimulated farmers interest in fertilizer and prompted further study into its usefulness.

In 1868, the production of superphosphate from chemicals began in Baltimore. For many years the fertilizer industry remained largely a salvage outlet for waste products from meat-packing plants, fish canneries and oil-seed industries.

Two new processes made it possible for fertilizer to grow into a large chemical industry. These were the recovery of ammonia from byproduct coke ovens and the chemical separation of nitrogen from the air.

Don't be led to believe that fertilizer is a "new-fangled" device to drain the farmer's pocketbook. On the contrary, it is a necessity for producing good crops just as food is a necessity for growing strong bodies. There is no need to apply more than the plant can use. Take a soil test. This is the best guide a farmer can get.

Conservationists Study Salt Water Problems

Ground water contains varying amounts of dissolved minerals which determine its suitability for municipal, industrial, and irrigation uses. In the Northern High Plains the ground water in the Ogallala formation, the Cretaceous rocks, and part of the water in the Jurassic and Triassic rocks is suitable for most uses, whereas water from the underlying Permian rocks is more saline and is unsuitable for most uses. The Permian rocks are commonly known as the Red Bed.

In recent months water quality checks on a few irrigation wells in Hansford and Ochiltree Counties have indicated some salt water. These wells are generally deeper than other wells in the area.

A sincere effort is being made by the Water District to determine where the salt is coming from. It is a known fact that a salt formation underlies the Ogallala, which is our principal water bearing formation, at a relatively shallow depth. However limited information on this salt formation makes it impossible to isolate it area by area at this time.

There are some things which a land owner can do which could help discover salt water before too much money is spent on the well.

(1) It is always important to obtain a good test hole driller-one who can catch accurate samples. This is of utmost importance. You are paying for this service and should insist that samples be caught and logged on paper. This is especially true when drilling deep test.

(2) Immediately after the test hole is completed an electric log should be run. An electric log is just as important as any other phase of well drilling, however it will not supply all the answers. There are some things on an electric log which can indicate salt water.

The Water District will be glad to assist you in any way possible. For further information contact Darrel Renfroe at 659-3165.

After being billed for several operations, we have finally figured out why everybody there wears masks.

NOTICE IRRIGATION WELL OWNERS

The Dowell Division of The Dow Chemical Company has recently performed eight experimental well treatments from Stratford, Texas to Perryton, Texas in the North Plains Water District.

The purpose of these treatments was to remove plant growth (such as algae and brown mold,) bacteria, iron scale, and clay or silt from the gravel pack, slotted casing and pump column. All of these things are known to be causing a loss of water production.

Most old wells which have declined over the years have been helped tremendously by these treatments.

Dowell is seeking at least a dozen more wells on which to further develop the process. Reasonable charges will be made for the treatment if good production increases are obtained. No charge will be made if increase is not substantial.

Wells are wanted with the following conditions:

- 1) Over two years old
- 2) Gravel packed
- 3) 16-inch or larger casing
- 4) 8-inch or smaller pump column
- 5) Production off by 200 gpm or more

The development program will be started again on September 22nd. Wells which meet the requirements will be considered in the order that they are received until the program is closed.

For further details and scheduling of treatments please call R.E. Hurst, Manager of Technical Services, Dowell, Tulsa, Oklahoma, Office phone: Area Code 918-LUthr 2-0101. Home phone: Area Code 918-NATional 7-2319.

Collard Opens Irrigation Tubing Firm

Tubing Firm

Another new irrigation connected business is opening in Spearman this week.

George Collard, farmer and businessman is opening his G-C Irrigation Pipe Supply firm to handle Petro-Tex Bu-Tuf Irrigation tubing and supplies. Collard said this week the new flexible tubing has been tested for two years, much of it in this area, and it is now ready for the market.

He will handle different sizes of the tubing, couplers and other equipment for its use.

The tubing is used for transporting irrigation water from the well to open ditches for irrigation. It is designed to move water as far as a mile.

Now, Petro-Tex has flexible tubing that can be used to transport water from tail-water and lake pump installations.

Collard said the tubing can be handled easily by one man and it is quick and easy to put down or move.

Another feature of the tubing is quick repair. Should you cut the tube with equipment or puncture it, it can be repaired either with a patch or by cutting out the damaged section and putting in a coupler.

Collard said we have been testing the tubing for two years and Petro-Tex has continued to improve the initial product. It is now ready to be used as an irrigation tool.

He said the tubing is not a replacement for permanent underground pipe, but is excellent for use at wells that do not have permanent installations. It works well with a permanent pipe installation for moving water to areas out of reach of the permanent installation.

With proper use and care the tubing should last from two to five years, Collard said.

Card of Thanks

We wish to thank our many friends for their numerous kindnesses and expressions of sympathy showed in so many ways following the death of our beloved husband, father and brother.

The Burnie Sparks family.

Not only are the two new state highways going to benefit us with more through traffic, but the changing of some farm-to-market roads to state highways will release some of our farm-to-market roads and allow more to be paved.

Judge Johnnie Lee and the County Commissioners Court worked with the Chamber of Commerce and the Highway 15 committee to get these changes. They have also worked hard over the years to get farm-to-market roads and we understand we have as high or higher percentage than any county in the state.

Probably, not many people know who is responsible for the pavement, but we are sure they say thanks everytime it rains.

We have always heard the old saw about being a bootlegger because you deal with a better class of people. Our father-in-law found it was a quick way to make friends on his recent camping trip through the Rockies and into Canada.

At the first two or three camps, Mr. D said the campers gave him and Mrs. Davis a wide berth when they learned they were retired school teachers.

After three lonesome camps he decided to change occupations. At the next campsite when a neighboring camper asked his occupation, Mr. D told him he was a retired bootlegger. That man talked for 30
