Spearman Speech Students Win At Phillips University

Spearman High School Speech team members won a first, a third and some favorable recognition in the tough Phillips University Invitational Speech Tournament in Enid, Okla., Saturday.

Pat Massad, a sophomore speech student, won the poetry interpretation contest of the tournament. She won over 30 other entries.

The Boy's Debate team tied for third place. They were competing against 19 other schools. Members of the team are freshman Gary Bengel, Sophomores David McClellan and Doug Lackey and senior Eddie Jenkins.

Both teams which won the contest were defeated by the local teams, but because of a conflict in schedule in the early rounds, the local teams had to forfeit one round and could not advance to the finals.

The girls debate team of D'dee Collard, sophomore; and Judy Noel, junior. They had only one defeat in the preliminary rounds and would have reached the finals had they not had to forfeit the early round.

Other students competing in the tournament, but not reaching the finals were Tim Lackey, poetry interpretation, Mansel Bryan and Mike Shedeck, boys extemporaneous; Judy Womble and Paula Stout, girls extemporaneous; Donna Ownbey, standard oratory and dramatic interpretation; Lonnie Morris, standard oratory and Judy Noel, humorous interpretation.

Mrs. Frank Porter, speech director, said these students ranked high in their divisions in the preliminaries and received favorable criticism from the judges.

Two more tournaments are planned for the speech team. The Spearman tournament will be held here Feb. 19-20, February 26-27 the team will be in the Central State Invitational Tournament in Edmond, Okla.

One of the teams in the finals at Phillips was a team from Chandler, Okla. Mrs. Porter was speech director there for four years. Her debate teams were state champions and she also coached some individual champions. Three of her students were in national tournaments and one was judged one of the top four speakers in the nation.

Mrs. Porter said she was well pleased with her students in the Oklahoma competition. Oklahoma schools stress speech competition and have outstanding tournaments, she added.

MEDAL WINNER-Pat Massad and her speech teacher, Mrs. Frank Porter look at Pat's medal which she won for poetry interpretation at the meet in Enid, Okla. She is the daughter of the Frank Massads.

With Federal Government

Board Signs Agreement To Admit Pupils Regardless of Race, Creed

Spearman's School Board signed an agreement with the Federal Government Monday night agreeing to accept all students seeking admission to the school, regardless of race, color or nationality.

The title of the instrument is: "Assurance of Compliance with the Department of Health, Education and Welfare Regulations under Title Six of Civil Rights Act of 1964."

If the school had not signed the agreement it could not receive federal funds for the salaries of the Vocational Agriculture and Home Economics teachers, would not be eligible for surplus commodities, such as food for the lunchrooms, and surplus equipment, federal refund on gasoline taxes and other federal taxes.

The board members said this agreement, which is binding on all succeeding boards and administrations is the first step in federal control of the schools. Supt. James Bramlett said this is the first time there has been any controls attached to federal assistance given schools.

A report on the proposed Industrial Cooperative Training program for students was given by High School Principal Frank Cockrell.

He said a survey made by an ICT specialist showed that such a program could be carried out in the Spearman Schools.

This program allows students to attend school a half day during their junior and senior years, then work in on the job training in businesses a half day. The program is under the supervision of a specially trained instructor who supervises the on-the-job training.

Approved business firms agree to train students in a trade and pay them a small salary while in training. Students cannot work in retail sales or clerical positions.

Bi-District

Olney Still Appears To Be Lynxettes' Foe

The Bi-District basketball game for the Spearman Lynxettes will be played either March 1 or 2, Coach Dean

Weese said this week. This is an Interscholastic League ruling as to when the games must be played. The regional tournament will be that Saturday, March 6, in Lubbock.

Olney is still leading District 2-AA and will probably be the opponent in the bi-district game.

Coach Dean Weese told us we were in error in our report last week that Olney is a newcomer to basketball competition. They have been playing for years and have an impressive list of district championships.

Weese is arranging several games for the Lynxettes between now and the bi-district game. It is possible the Lynxettes will play the Flying Queen Bees from Wayland College here Monday night. This is to be confirmed later this week. All the games will be played against schools who have won their district contests.

The Texas Girls' Basketball Coaching Association rated the top teams in the state last week and Spearman was rated sixth in the state in Class AA.

Frona was first, then the other teams were rated in this order: Floydada, Cooper, Abernathy, Little Cyprus, Spearman, Decatur and Dimmitt.

Four of the top eight teams in the state in class AA are in the district with Frona.

Local Teams Win Trophies

Spearman junior high school basketball teams won a first and two consolation trophies in the junior high tournament held here Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

The Spearman Seventh Grade Girls won first place in that division of the tournament. The Stratford Boys won the seventh grade division, Skellytown girls won the eighth grade division and the Phillips boys won the eighth grade boys division.

Spearman's Eighth Grade boys and girls won the consolation division of that grade. The Gruver girls won the consolation for that division and the consolation for boys in the seventh grade went to Phillips.

Second place in the seventh grade went to the Stratford girls and the Perryton boys. Second in the eighth grade went to the boys and girls from Gruver.

Court Names Deposit Banks

The two banks in Hansford County were named the depository banks for Hansford County by the County Commissioners Court this week.

The First State Bank of Spearman was named depository bank for all county funds, except those of Precincts Three and Four. The Gruver State Bank will be the depository bank for those precincts.

The First State Bank pledged $200,000 in bonds as security for the county funds, plus the $10,000 FDIC insurance for County School Funds. The Gruver State Bank pledged $150,000 in bonds as security for the deposits.

Petitions for opening two dirt roads in Precinct three were presented to the court. These will be section line roads, one will be one mile and the other one two miles in length.

The court also accepted the quarterly Treasurer's report.

Other routine business included payment of bills and some charity bills.

Fire Damages Auto Interior

A fire of undetermined origin damaged the interior of a car owned by Mrs. Frances Sim, 317 Archer at noon Monday.

The fire was quickly extinguished by Fire Chief Lee Phillips with a fire extinguisher carried in the new Fire Department's emergency car.

Phillips said the fire apparently started in a box on the rear seat of the car. It damaged the headliner in the car, the windows and the interior had smoke damage.

Mrs. Sim said no one had been in the car since she and her mother went to church Sunday morning. It was parked beside her house and she saw no one around the car.

Phillips said the wiring in the top of the car was still well insulated after the fire was extinguished and the dome light of the car would still burn, ruling out a short in the wiring.

Day by Day

The local library building fund will get a big shot-in-the-arm in April when the Twentieth Century Club plans its benefit art auction. This civic-minded club can take credit for our having the library that we do and now will lead the way in the drive to obtain a proper building for it.

There's such a long way to go in securing adequate library facilities but this is an admirable beginning. Perhaps other groups and individuals will now want to make donations to the library building fund. There's really no reason why Spearman shouldn't be able to afford a first class library.

"The world of books," to quote Charles Day, "is the most remarkable creation of man. Nothing else that he builds ever lasts, monuments fall, nations perish, civilizations grow old and die out, and after an era of darkness, new races build others, but in the world of books are volumes that have seen this happen again and again and yet live on—still young—still fresh as the day they were written, still telling men's hearts of the hearts of men centuries dead."

Someone has said Valentines Day is probably our most sentimental time of the year except possibly for the Christmas season.

In our greeting card business I've enjoyed watching the lacy, frilly Valentines outsell the funny contemporary ones. I don't know why—maybe just because they are more nearly Valentines to me—even as effusive as some of them are.

One of the most popular Valentines in our stock has been a collection of love poems in a beautiful red covered booklet entitled "The Splendors of Love" with poems by Elizabeth Barrett Browning, Robert Browning, Lord Byron, etc.

If the ultra-sentimental Valentine isn't your cup of tea though, the contemporary ones are very, very entertaining. We had one I especially liked that said on the front "If You Don't Want To Be My Valentine, Send This Card Back" and on the inside "I'm Not Blowing Two Bits on a Casual Acquaintance!"

The L. S. McLains are back now after spending a whole month this winter in Florida, Nassau and various other beautiful vacation spots. Polly, who attends West Texas State, made the trip with her parents and since they went during December, only missed one day of school. Even if she'd missed a few days of class, I have no doubt the trip would have been worth it.

Between hearing of the McLains' wonderful winter trip to Florida and notes now and then from my Dad who has spent the winter in California, I'm about ready for summer myself. That doesn't make any sense either, because ordinarily the colder it is, the better I like it. Now isn't that a perfect example of the grass always being greener on the other side!

I do so hate to admit I'm wrong, but I guess I really was about the post office's zip code.

We printed a post office newspaper in our plant this week and I noticed a story showing a package from Germany was delivered to a couple in Levelland after the name and address had been torn away and only the zip code remained.

The number got it to Levelland where an alert postmaster remembered a doctor and his wife who had visited Germany last summer. Sure enough, it was their package.

So I guess zip codes are all right but how can you ever write a letter or card on the spur of the moment again after they require those little numbers after the address? Surely you can't be expected to memorize the zip codes of everyone you write and carrying a little address book around might serve the purpose for some—but not disorganized me.

It's funny though, I discovered the other day I still remember my brother's Marine Corps serial number from writing him letters some six or seven years ago. Maybe my memory is better than I thought.

THE TALL TEXAN

This is National Boy Scout Week. Spearman has two good Boy Scout organizations and a very active group of adult workers. The program here reaches from the Cub Scout up through the Explorer groups. The Scouts have worked on many civic projects and recently helped distribute material and coin collectors for the March of Dimes drive. The lessons a boy learns as a Boy Scout will stay with him all through life. We would like to add our thanks to the Boy Scouts on this their Birthday for their many good works.

We believe there will be a heavy turnout in the school bond election Feb. 20. There have been more than 1500 poll taxes paid and J.B. Cooke says a large part of them have been paid in the Spearman area. This number plus the persons over 60 who do not have to pay the tax makes a large number of voters locally.

All tax payers in the district will receive an information bulletin soon. We hope each will take this information and study it thoroughly, then go vote their convictions.

If we are going to move ahead with the times or stand still and be behind the needs of our school, lets do it with a big vote, so no one can say it was the will of just a few.

We have seen some sure handed athletes in many years of watching games, but none were better than Nelda Archer, the new Lynxette guard.

What she can touch, she can catch and when she latches on to a basketball, no one knocks it loose. Those brave enough to reach in trying to tie the ball may be sent flying over a hip as she slings them loose.

Coach Weese moved her up from the B-team about mid-season and she has really been improving.

The Mule Train may be a coast-to-coast organization very soon. Gerald Hoffman told us this week the organization has received an inquiry from someone in Boston, Mass., wanting to know how to get a membership.

Gerald did not know if they were planning to come for the Oklahoma City trip or not. A man and woman are coming from Northern California to make the trip.

The Wagon Master thought the Boston people might have learned about the organization from some of the horse showmen at the Fort Worth Show.

Talked to Bill Massie at Baker-Taylor this week and he assured us that the firm is not going to leave town.

Boy Blasts Away At Villain on TV

Lucas McCain, who always wins out in these television "Rifleman" scrapes, got some unexpected help from 10-year-old Mitchell Walker of Mount Pleasant.

Walker was engrossed in an episode of "Rifleman," and Lucas was getting the worst of it.

In the heat of the battle, young Walker reached over, picked up his air rifle and took a shot at the villain to save the Rifleman from certain death.

Everybody came out okay except Walker, and the shattered screen on the family's new color television set.

Springs for a month's work and another went to Enid, Okla., for a year's work. Fifteen families went with the rig to Oklahoma.

Bill said the pattern of drilling is widespread now, but Baker-Taylor will be with us for a long time.

.14 Inch Moisture Flu Epidemic Hits Morse

The snow and rain Sunday night and Monday produced .14 of an inch of moisture, according to Weather Observer, Mrs. Pat Cates.

Most of the moisture went into the ground as there was little or no wind with the moisture.

Farmers say this will help keep the inch of fluffy top soil from blowing. Much of the area is in good condition to blow.

An epidemic of a flu like illness has closed the Morse schools. Supt. John Brumley made the decision to close the school Wednesday.

The students still in school were sent home at noon Wednesday and school will be resumed Monday.

According to a news report more than half of the high school students were absent Wednesday morning and a third of the students in the lower grades.

Earlier in the week the absenteeism was running about 20 per cent. The district tournament basketball games scheduled Monday and Tuesday nights were cancelled.

Postal Savings On the Way Out

WASHINGTON — Postal Savings banks, established in 1911 after the panics of 1892 and 1907 shook public confidence in banks, are going the way of the horse and buggy.

Sen. Wallace Bennett (R., Utah) Wednesday introduced a bill to put them out of business shortly after Postmaster General John Gronouski announced his intention to ask Congress to do so.

Bennett told the Senate the postal savings system is no longer necessary because there are few communities without adequate banking facilities, credit unions, or building and loan associations, and banking by mail has become common.

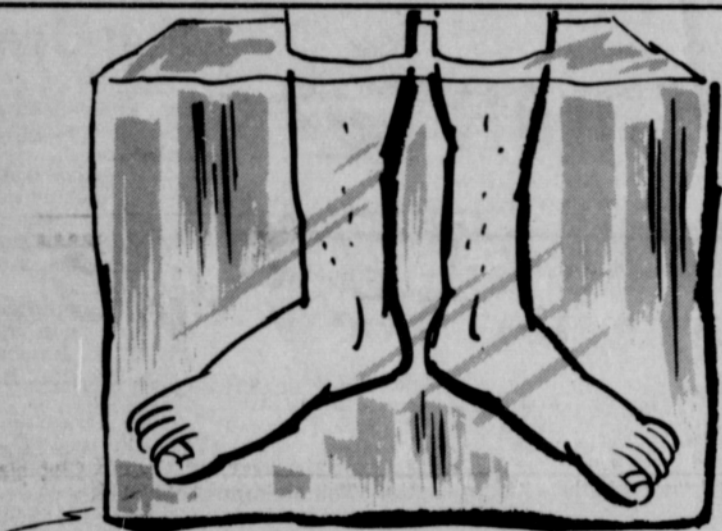

Moreover, Bennett said, Uncle Sam pays his postal depositors only two per cent interest, in comparison to interest rates of up to four per cent they can get at banks, and even higher interest is paid by other institutions.

While many used the postal savings system because the government insured their savings, bank deposits up to $10,000 now are guaranteed by federal deposit insurance.

Gopher Control Demonstration Set by Agent

Robert Adamson, Hansford County Agent, states that a demonstration on controlling prairie dogs and gophers will be held Wednesday, Feb. 17, beginning at 2 p.m. The prairie dog control demonstration will be held 2 miles west and about 4 miles north of Spearman on the Guthrie place. This will be about 2 miles north of the golf course. The gopher control demonstration will be held on the Spearman golf course following the prairie dog demonstration. Cars will park at the windmill.

Tom Sparks, Field Assistant with the Rodent Control Service at Lubbock, will be present to demonstrate the use of the poisons used for control.

NOTICE
Poison grain can no longer be sold through the County Agent's office so it will be sold at these demonstrations. Persons wanting poison grain will need to be present to buy it. If you do not get the grain on this day, you will not be able to buy it until another demonstration day is set up at some later date.

Information on how to poison coyotes will also be presented on this day so ranchers interested in this phase should also be present.

Attending were Messrs. and Mmes. Don Hendricks and family, Bob Reed and family and R.E. Hendrick and family of Amarillo.

4 Million To 1

The personnel of an insurance company sat up and took notice when an application for hospital insurance crossed a desk.

All three children of the Laven H. Haarberg family, Hamlet, Neb., were born on the same date in each of the last three years.

The children include Angela, born May 8, 1962; Sidney, born May 8, 1963, and Tracy, born May 8, 1964.

The insurance firm, the Benefit Trust Life Insurance Company said the 4 million to 1 chance of such a coincidence is the first in the 52-year-old company's history.

Lynxettes Whip Booker Squaws

In a battle of champions, the Spearman Lynxettes and the Booker Squaws, it was no contest. Spearman could do no glaring wrongs as they squashed the Squaws 68-33 Tuesday night. Flu had one of the Squaw starters out of the game and one or two others slowed, but it is doubtful they could have turned the tide at full strength. Phyllis Patterson and Vicki Wilde were having one of their good nights and everyone else on the squad was playing follow the leaders.

Four of the five forwards scored well in the double figures. The shooters also scored on 22 of 27 free throws.

Patterson and Wilde were unstoppable around the basket. They were breaking in, passing in and around their guards and scoring on almost every effort.

The leadership of the two old-timers had a good effect on the other team members. Sophomore Barbara Wilde matched her sister point for point as they had 15 points each. Patterson led the scoring with 23.

Scrambling little Johnie Vernon picked up 13 points on some driving lay-up shots and a couple of long ones from outside when Booker's guards stayed back to stop her from driving. Karen Gibson scored two points.

Although giving away several inches on the guard end of the court, Lynxette guards controlled the rebounds and got the ball back up court with little trouble.

Spearman was slow getting started and were leading only 10-4 at the first quarter mark, then the points started jumping. Spearman 30-9 at the half, then 50-29 at the end of three quarters.

Heart Disease Leads As Number One Killer

Editors Note: This is the first of a series of articles on heart disease written by Dr. R.L. Kleeberger, M.D., President of the Hansford County Heart Association.

WHERE WE STAND IN THE FIGHT AGAINST AMERICA'S NUMBER 1 KILLER

Fifteen years have come and gone since the people of this country decided to stop merely talking about heart disease and to start doing something about it. A truly massive research assault was launched against his--the foremost health problem of our time--in 1950. In these 15 years, how far have we progressed? What has been accomplished?

Today, we have statistical evidence that we may have turned the corner in our effort to protect the hearts of American men in their prime of life--the pre-retirement years of 45 through 64. Here, since 1950, there has been a relatively sustained decline in the death rate from cardiovascular disease, which adds up to about 7 1/2 per cent.

To appreciate the significance of this decline, it must be realized that prior to 1950 the cardiovascular death rate had been spiraling up. Surprisingly, the decline was achieved despite a 4.3 per cent increase in the death rate from heart attack among men in this age bracket. But the rate of death from high blood pressure and the heart disease it causes dropped 49.9 per cent, and that from stroke 25.6 per cent. These dramatic improvements were largely responsible for a net decline of 7 1/2 per cent. Among women of the same age, the decline was even more spectacular--a drop of 56 per cent in the death rate associated with high blood pressure, and a decrease of 35 per cent in that from stroke.

Probably the largest single factor in this important achievement was our recently discovered and newly-applied knowledge that most cases of high blood pressure can be controlled under medical supervision. Mainly, this involves drugs and diet changes. Improved treatment obviously has had a favorable effect on the stroke picture since come strokes occur as a complication of high blood pressure. Additionally, other aspects of the cardiovascular picture have improved thanks to procedures which prevent repeat attacks of rheumatic fever, the use of artery grafts and artificial heart valves, effective methods for combating such once-fatal disorders as bacterial endocarditis.

Happily, the decline in the cardiovascular death rate during this decade and a half was not confined to men and women in their prime-of-life. Over the same period the cardiovascular death rate for those aged 5-24 declined 35 per cent. For those aged 25-44, it decreased 10 per cent.

As a result of these advances, people everywhere acquired not only a new measure of hope but also a new feeling of determination to speed the conquest of heart and blood vessel disease, with their Heart Association serving as the central and spearheading force behind the effort. Moreover, in these 15 years, it has become apparent for the first time that the average man can do certain things to reduce his risk of heart attack. This will be the subject of our next installment.

Kenyon Among Fishermen Adrift in California Gulf

The son-in-law of Mrs. Fred Brandt of Spearman was one of the five Portales, N.M., fishermen who spent 52 hours adrift in a boat in the Gulf of California.

W.G. Kenyon, the son-in-law, along with R.O. Zahn, R.H. Zahn, Dick Watkins and Harold Stockard, were adrift in a 21-foot boat along with the Mexican guide for the two days.

The men said they were never out-of-sight of land, but were too far out to swim ashore. When the engine quit, they were 18 miles off shore.

They had food and water in the boat, but were all so seasick, there was little or no eating and drinking.

The men expected a search boat to start looking after they did not return the first night, but none showed up. After the second day, they were spotted by a shrimpboat 48 miles down the coast and eight miles off shore from where they started at Guyamas, Mexico.

When they were towed into port, they learned a search boat was preparing to begin searching at the request of the Mexican's guide wife.

Investigation showed that salt water in the fuel caused the engine malfunction.

Higher Speed Limit Slows Drivers Down

AUSTIN, TEXAS — Texas drivers "flirted" with excessive speeds after the speed limit was raised to 70 m. p. h. late in 1963.

But the affair went pfft, according to a speed survey made by the Texas Highway Department a year later, and Texans for the most part are now observing the speed limit.

Take passenger cars, for instance. The Highway Department radar-checked speeds of at least 25,000 of them in 30 locations scattered over the state.

In 1963, a fraction more than 11 per cent of the motorists were clocked at more than 70 m.p.h. A year later—under the same highway conditions, and in the same places—the figure had dropped to just 5.1 per cent.

And it was the same pattern across the board, with pickups, trucks, and busses logging dramatically reduced speeds.

Why were speeds up so high after the legislature hiked speed limits by 10 m.p.m?

"We're engineers, not psychiatrists," said one Highway Department official, "but it seems that it was just a flirtation. Motorists had a sudden new freedom to go ten miles an hour faster. In exercising that freedom, some of them said 'what the heck' and went for broke." "The novelty wore off. At least that's all we can figure. It's admittedly just a guess."

The Highway Department's annual speed survey is a research study project used by highway engineers to help determine future highway design characteristics and traffic needs. The Highway Department designs, builds and maintains Texas highways. It determines safe speeds, zones and signs highways, but does not have police or enforcing authority.

Last October and November the Highway Department surveyed vehicle driving practices of more than 25,000 motorists. Concealed radar units were set up at 30 locations on key highways during an eight hour period.

Average speed of all vehicles surveyed last autumn was 56.6 miles an hour. A year before, just after the new speed limits became effective, the average was 59.3 m.p.h. And just before the new speeds were posted, the average had been 56.5 m. p.h.

In all vehicle categories, speeds seem to be leveling off from highs recorded during the period of "flirtation."

Of all vehicles surveyed only 3.6 per cent were exceeding the 70 m.p.h. speed limit last fall. A year earlier, 8 per cent of vehicles of all kinds were vehicles of all kinds were breaking 70.

Directing Water Traffic Is A Tough Job

TULSA, Okla. — Forest L. Nixon is a professional raindrop watcher.

If a raindrop falls on Great Bend, Kan., or Black Mesa, Okla., or Wichita Falls, Tex., Nixon looks at it to decide what, if anything, he wants to do about it.

When raindrops get together, Nixon, chief hydraulic engineer for the Tulsa District of the U.S. Corps of Engineers, diverts the water to places where it won't cause trouble.

"Sometimes it gets a little complicated," says Nixon, whose district is about the size of France. It includes some of the country's most cantankerous rivers and streams, 19 reservoirs, 13 local flood projects in operation and a dozen more reservoirs under construction.

Nixon and William J. Bowman, chief of the district's reservoir regulation section, are charged with storing water needed for power or other uses and getting rid of the rest of the water as quickly as possible.

That means holding up runoff from this creek, storing water from that river, raising the level of this reservoir, releasing water from that reservoir and so on. It means keeping track of how much water is in each reservoir, how high the rivers and reservoirs are downstream and how much runoff to expect from each rain in each watershed.

And when floods come or threaten, the fate of millions of dollars worth of property depends on Nixon decisions on which faucet—dam—to open or shut.

Low Bridge For Fireman

WICHITA, Kan. —Fireman Roger Dolloff was riding as tillerman—rear driver—on a hook and ladder rig here when it approached an overpass.

He noticed a sign listing the overhead clearance of the pass at 10 feet 4 inches.

Just in time, Dolloff remembered that sitting erect in his tillerman's seat put his head almost 11 feet above ground.

Dolloff ducked and kept his head.

If you're going to enter something like the Pure Oil Performance Trials, you might as well do it to win.

So we did. Class IV—won by Buick Special.

Down at Daytona Beach, we gave everyone another look at Buick's "Win Policy". A V-8 Buick Special won over stiff competition (sorry, boys!) in Class IV—in the 1965 Pure Oil Performance Trials. The winning Special was equipped with our 300 cubic inch Wildcat 310 V-8 and Super Turbine Transmission.

Remember that the drivers in the Performance Trials are skilled professionals, and the cars finely tuned standard production models. (If it can be said that the Special is "Standard" anything.) Also remember that the trials are an exhausting, carefully graded test of a car's all-around ability. In economy, acceleration and braking. Small wonder the Special came out on top. Handsomely.

(The specific detail? Our hero averaged 20.689 mpg in economy, to score second among 10 cars. It accomplished the acceleration test—from 25 to 70 mph—in 9.315 seconds, for a fourth. And took another second in braking: from 65 to 0 mph in 172.0 feet. The cumulative result: we won all the marbles in Class IV.)

Now then. If you're going to enter something—like a car—you might as well do it to win, too. Your Buick dealer can introduce you to the driver's seat of a Buick Special.

Wouldn't you really rather go first class?

Three-in-one yeast recipes are made to order for the home baker who likes variety. They're also the practical answer to the problem of limited time--three different breads in the same time it takes to prepare a single loaf. The secret is in the dough--in this case, a sweet yeast dough flavored with a hint of orange, which lends itself to easy variations.

The simple addition of raisins, chopped nuts, candied fruit and a few spices turns our dough into savory Spiced Fruit Bread. This is the kind of bread that's invaluable when you're hosting a luncheon or tea.

A sugar and pecan crumb mixture is so good--it turns our sweet dough into Double-Crumb Coffeecake. The crumb mixture is so good it's used for both the bottom and top of this orange-flavored coffeecake.

Last, but not least, is the simplest variation of all--Frosted Orange Loaf. It's the basic dough baked in a loaf pan and topped with orange-flavored icing.

SWEET ORANGE BREADS

- 1/2 cup milk
- 3/4 cup sugar
- 1 1/2 teaspoons salt
- 3/4 cup warm water (105 degrees)
- 3 pkg. yeast, active or dry or compressed
- 4 3/4 cup unsifted flour
- 3/4 cup Margarine
- 3 eggs beaten
- 1 tsp. grated orange peel

Scald milk; stir in 1/4 cup sugar and salt. Cool to luke-warm. Measure warm water into large warm bowl. Sprinkle or crumble in yeast; stir until dissolved. Stir in milk mixture and 2 cups flour. Beat until smooth. Cover. Let rise in warm place, free from draft, until light, about 20 minutes.

Meanwhile, cream margarine until light and fluffy. When yeast mixture is light, stir and beat in margarine, remaining 1/2 cup sugar, eggs and orange peel with spoon. Stir in remaining flour; beat hard, until smooth and somewhat elastic, about 1 minute. Proceed with one or more variations below. One-third of batter makes 1 loaf.

SPICED FRUIT BREAD: Lightly toss together 1/2 cup seedless raisins, 1/2 cup chopped pecans, 1/2 cup chopped mixed candied fruit, 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/2 teaspoon ginger, and 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg. Add to one-third batter and mix well. Turn into well-greased 1 1/2 quart mold. Cover. Let rise in warm place, about 1 to 1 1/2 hours. Bake in over 375 degrees 25 to 30 minutes, or until done. Cool. If desired, sprinkle with powdered sugar.

DOUBLE-CRUMB COFFEECAKE:

Rub together with fingers until crumbly 1/2 cup unsifted flour, 1/2 cup chopped pecans, 1/3 cup brown sugar (packed), 1/4 cup (1/2 stick) margarine, and 1 1/2 teaspoons cinnamon. Sprinkle 1/2 mixture in the bottom of a greased 8 inch layer cake pan. Turn 1/3 batter over crumb mixture. Top with remaining crumb mixture. Cover. Let rise in warm place, free from draft, about 1 hour. Bake in over 350 degrees. When cool, drizzle with powdered sugar icing.

FROSTED ORANGE LOAF:

Turn 1/3 of batter into well-greased 9x5x3 inch loaf pan. Cover. Let rise in warm place, free from draft, about 1 hour. Bake in moderate oven 375 degrees 25 to 30 minutes, or until done. Cool and frost with 1 cup powdered sugar that has been combined with 2 tablespoons orange juice and 1 teaspoon grated orange peel.

THE WAY I SEE IT

Robert Cordes, Pastor

Most of the people in our area belong to this church denomination or that one. But attendance figures prove people don't show their membership in activity.

For many religion is a salve for the conscience. They dab into religions but never take the teachings serious---just getting an occasional shot in the arm. For many the membership is good to have in times of sickness, or when there is a funeral.

Where is the active Christian membership in Christ Jesus? On a Sunday morning note the moral inactivity and people are active with their business and pleasures. Truckers hauling cattle, farmers in the field, washing the car, hauling the boat---lots of traffic but little is directed to assembling to worship God who sent His Son Jesus to restore us again to heaven.

There are only two classes of people---either those who are the Lord's and thus forgiven or those who are not his and are lost. You fit into one of these two categories.

Let us remember though---joining a church denomination doesn't save a person. Rather joining Christ as the only way back to heaven does. Too many have joined organizations and then drift into inactivity. Your membership in Christ cannot be one of inactivity and still be living faith. Don't forget this.

Religion is the best armor in the world, but the worst cloak. Don't hide under the guise of church membership. An airplane in inexperienced hands or an airplane with a motor out are dangerous things. So is church membership but not membership through faith in Christ Jesus.

Do you only dab into religion---never taking it seriously, just getting an occasional shot in the arm? Then beware friend...beware!

Discusses Market Tour

Walter Meyer, Texas Farm Bureau Commodities Director, has been in Hansford County this week discussing a Farm Bureau market building tour to Europe and new crops for the area.

Farm Bureau is sponsoring a 15-day tour of Europe for farmers to study potential markets and also meet with Europeans to promote American farm products.

Meyer showed a group of local members picture slides of the countries to be visited on the tour: England, France, and Germany.

The director works between Texas and the Farm Bureau marketing trade center in Rotterdam, Holland. He helps individuals and firms seek and sell products which Texas farmers grow.

Meyer and Farm Bureau Field Representative Joe Holmes discussed Guar as an extra crop with the local farmers.

The oil crop produces about 800 pounds per acre on dry land and 2,000 pounds under irrigation. It is now selling for $4.00 per hundred weight.

The crop is a soil builder and there is a ready market for the crop.

Lynx Beat Ranchers for Fourth District Win Barker Gives Program On Textbook Selection

After a slow first half, the Spearman Lynx started moving and rolled to a 73-47 win over Boys Ranch here Tuesday night.

This was the fourth district win for the Lynx. They end the season Friday in Phillips.

Larry Butts got hot in the final half and rolled up 20 points to take scoring honors for the night. Butts scored most of his points on fast breaks and driving shots from close in.

Coach Dean Weese platooned his 10-man squad in two units until fouls cut into the squad and he had to slow down on the rotation.

In the first half his senior unit of Jim Kirkland, Bob Phillips, Ronald McDonald, Leroy Callaway and Bari Blevins kept pushing the score away from Boys Ranch, but the underclassmen of Butts, Ken Shufeldt, Carl Close, Dave Clements and Harold Adkison could not hold it.

The score was tied 13-13 at the end of the first quarter, then Spearman led 27-23 at the half.

Early in the third quarter the underclassmen unit, sparked by Butts, broke the scoring drought and from there on the margin continued to grow. The score at the end of third quarter was 47-32.

The County Council of the P-TA met Friday Feb. 5 at 9:30 a.m. in the Home Ec lounge at the high school.

Delegates were present from Morse, Gruver and Spearman. New officers were elected to serve for the next two years.

The program was in charge of Mr. Barker, science teacher, who discussed "How Our Text Books are Selected."

The council has for some time been working on a project for special educational classes. These classes would be for the handicapped and mentally retarded children in the county. Committees are still working on the project but no definite action has been taken as yet. At the close of the meeting Mrs. Hudson's Home Ec girls made and served cookies and coffee to the group.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Jones spent the weekend in Corsicana where they visited his brothers and attended the 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Jones Sunday. Two brothers of Roy's live in Corsicana and one in Houston. All four were together for the occasion. The Jones' went down Friday and came home Monday and report that they had a wonderful time.

O'Dell Cook and family, brother of Mrs. Dan Faries, spent several days last week in the Faries home. The Cooks were enroute from New Jersey to California and will leave soon for Hawaii where he will be stationed with the U.S. Navy.

Mrs. A. M. Putman of Perryton visited Mrs. Roy Jones Tuesday morning. Mr. Putman, who has been a patient in Hansford Hospital, was able to return home with her.
