Irrigation Well Numbers Up

There is no big rush as in past years, but the number of irri-gation wells in the county continues to increase

According to the Water Dis-trict Office here, there are 664 irrigation wells in the county, and 68 permits for wells are now pending.

Crusade Gets New Speaker For Revival

A new evangelist has been named for the "Christ for All" Crusade to be held here Nov. 12-21.

Roy Gustafson, a longtime member of the Billy Graham organization, will be the ev-angelist; John Dillon, co-ordinator for the Graham or-ganization, announced this week.

A conflict in the schedule of evangelist Grady Wilson, made the change necessary.

Gustafson has been associated with Billy Graham for many years and is one of the foremost authorities on the New Testament in the organization.

Dillon said Gustafson conducts three tours each year to to Holy Lands and is in the Holy Lands with a tour, now, Because of his great know-ledge of the New Testament and the Holy Lands he is in great demand for Bible and Church conference.

"He is a very strong preacher," Dillon said.

The song leader for the Crusade will be Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Boyd, natives of Ire-land. Boyd has been in this country eight years and his wife, three. He came here on a concert tour.

The Rev. Wesley Daniel, of the First Methodist Church, said Boyd has been in meeting in his Seagraves church twice and has been very successful, Planning of the Crusade is beginning this week as committee chairmen begin picking their workers, and the legal work of setting up the corporation for the Crusade will begin.

Dillon was in town Friday meeting in conference with each committee leader. He met with the executive committee Saturday morning for a breakfast.

At this meeting three new members were appointed to the executive committee. They are the Rev. Wesley Daniel, the Rev. Bill Butts of the Gruver First Baptist Church and the Rev. Lawrance Lehman, pastor of the Church of the Brethern

Although the actual budget has not been drawn, nor the finance drive started, anyone who would like to help with this community-wide revival crusade, may make their gifts to E. J. Copeland, finance chairman. HANSFORD COUNTY'S LEADING NEWSPAPER

Red Cross Seeks Funds In Mail Drive

Hansford County is having a belated Red Cross Fund raising drive this year. Your cooperation is needed.

Because of the illness of County Chairman Dr. D. E. Hackley, during March, the regular drive month, the campaign in the county was delayed.

This past week letters were mailed to people of the county asking that donations be mailed in.

Dr. Hackley said the drive is being conducted now be-cause of the great need for funds by the Red Cross. Because of the many natural disasters all over this country, the increased costs in the war zone of Southeast Asia, the Red Cross funds are being de-

TRUE'S TORNADO TIPS

Some interesting information about tornados. In most cases, they move generally from a westerly and south-westerly direction. Here is a "Tornado Rose" showing the percentage of directions of travel of all United States tornados between 1916 to 1950.

The average width of a tornado is about 400 yards but they have cut a swath over a mile wide. The average tornado funnel moves forward 25 to 40 miles per hour. The wind speed circulating within the tornado has been estimated as high as 500 miles per hour. Here are a few tips to increase your safety in case of a tornado.

First, let us consider daytime tornados. (Most occur from 3:00 to 7:00 P.M.). The best place during a tornado is simply not to be there. Look at the funnel, quickly decide which way it is moving and then make your manuever to get out of its way. You probably won't have to manuever more than a couple of blocks to avoid the funnel. This method of moving out of the way has been used by numerous people with great success.

Now let us consider nighttime tornados. I don't advise trying to dodge a night tornado. Darkness may fool you as to which way the tornado is heading and you might "zig" when you should have "zagged". This could prove to be a non-habit forming. Your best bet is to fortify yourself before hand. The type of fortifications are:

LEGEND 20 50 PERCENTAGES OF OCCURRENCE FROM INDICATED DIRECTIONS

MOBILE HOMES:

Mobile homes are generally very poor protection. One fairly easy method of making the mobile home better as a shelter is to anchor it to the earth with anchors buried in the ground and chained to the frame of the mobile home.

AT SCHOOL:

If your school is steel reinforced (which most are), stay there. You're safer in a steel reinforced building than you are at home unless your house is steel reinforced. Stay out of auditoriums and gyms and away from window greas.

AT WORK:

If you are in a building that is steel reinforced, get on the lower floor or basement. If you get on the lower floor, stay near the center or hallway or closets and away from window areas. Stay out of auditoriums or other large rooms as the roof of large area rooms often come crashing down in one piece.

OPEN COUNTRY:

If you are unable to get out of the way, get into a ditch, ravine, etc. If you have sufficient fear of a tornado that you would desire shelter, here is a list of types:

1. The under ground tornado shelter.

2. Above ground shelter: a section of 6 feet diameter concrete steel reinforced pipe with closed ends.

Your car, chained from the bumpers to the earth or driveway embedded anchors. I call this "True's Tornado Tie-down". IMPORTANT. Keep your head below the car's window line as flying objects will crash through the glass. Opening the car's windows is not important.

AT HOME:

The basement of a frame home offers pretty good protection. Get on the side closest to the tornado. Stay out of basements in stone houses unless. the basement roof is steel reinforced concrete. Under a wooden floor house, snuggling close to concrete foundations is fair protection. Curling up in a dry bathtub is limited protection. The floor of a closet or other small room near the center of the house is also limited protection. If there is time, open a few windows or doors. Which side of the house these are open on makes absolutely no difference. The important thing is to get them open.

Pink - Eye May be Cured

Doctors at The University of Texas M. D. Anderson Hos-pital and Tumor Institute in Houston believe they have is-olated a virus which causes "pink-eye" in cattle. They plan to use the virus in a vaccine which they hope will prevent the disease. If they are successful, it will mean a saving of millions of dollars annually to the beef and cattle industries all over the world. The scientists think the action of the "pink-eye" virus may be related to the development of "cancer-eye" in cattle. If this proves to be true, one vaccine could serve to wipe

City Ordiance Being Enforced

Spearman residents are learning that City Ordinance 303 has teeth in it. This ordinance prohibits dogs running loose within the city limits of the city.

Officers are issuing citations to owners breaking the ordin-under this ordinance a dog owner must keep the dog tied or within an enclosure on his property. No dog may be al-lowed to run loose, even if he is on the owners property. City animal control officers do not have to catch the ani-mal running loose, the ordinance empowers them to file a complaint against the Enforcement of this ordinance has drawn complaints from dog owners. However, city coun-cilmen feel it should be enforced since over the past two or three years several children and adults have been bitten by dogs and two children have had to have plastic surgery to correct the damage done by the dogs.

Cotton Value On The Drop

Value of the 1964-65 Texas Value of the 1964-65 Texas cotton crop was about $650 million, representing a $150 million drop from the preceding year, University of Texas Cotton Economic Research reports. Texas ginned 4,053,030 bales for the 1964-65 season by Jan. 16,1965. The total was about 323,000 bales below the figure at the same date in the 1963-64 season. The decrease was attribution. son. The decrease was attributed to three factors: a smaller crop, a price decrease for lint and cottonseed, and a lower state average for grade and staple lengths.
