K.I.D.S. Needs Fire-Ettes Plan Valentine Project

Many people have expressed an interest in wanting to help. "How can I help," they ask. "If you need anything, let me know," or "I'd like to help in any way possible."

Well, according to Captain Littlejohn, they are going to modify the Community Building ceiling to make it adaptable for basketball, so, if you truly want to purchase stock in the future of Spearman, make out a donation now to K. I. D. S. and send it to Chuck Rigdon, President, c/o Spearman Cable TV or Jim Evans, Treasurer, c/o Gordon's Drug.

The following businesses and individuals have already donated to the K. I. D. S. Program: Baker & Taylor, Tim Woodington, J. G. Parrish, Gordon's Drug, Spearman Chamber of Commerce Youth Committee and Mr. and Mrs. Kent Gubrie.

Jaycees Plan Valentine Dance

Bill Mack & His Midnight Cowboys Is Feature

Saturday, February 14, the Spearman Jaycees will be sponsoring a Valentine Dance at the Spearman Community Building. Bill Mack and His Midnight Cowboys, of the Fort Worth-Dallas area, will be providing the music from 9 P.M. until 1 A.M. The Jaycees are looking forward to a large turnout.

This is the first time the Jaycees have sponsored a Valentine dance and they hope to enrich the treasury, so that they can continue to serve the City of Spearman and their fellow citizens. Jaycees is a non-profit organization and all the funds they raise are put back into our town. They assist their community in any way that they can. If the need is labor, they strive to do the job in the best way they know how. If the need is monetary, they go to their treasury which must be filled by money-making projects, such as the Valentine Dance.

In the near future the Jaycees have two large expenses coming up. The barbecue during the Celebration will cost between $3,000.00 and $4,000.00. Should anything happen, such as bad weather, that would prevent a good turnout it could be extremely bad for the Jaycees. Another large expense will be the Free Watermelon on the 4th of July. This event is something that the Jaycees really enjoy doing for the people of our area, but it does entail a great deal of expense. The Jaycees want to help Spearman and Hansford County have a good time. You can get advance tickets for $6.00 from any Jaycee, at the Chamber of Commerce Office, or at station KBMF. Tickets at the door will be $7.50. Even if you can't make it to the dance buy a ticket, you'll be helping your town.

ernment as it encroaches on all our lives. Her address is Mrs. Leo Moore, Route 3, Dalhart, Tex. 79022, if you would like to contact her.

High School Principal Sees Parents: Need For CB'S In Buses!

The Spearman High School Principal, Eddie Clemmons, talked with the editor Thursday of this week, and he had a worried look on his face. Eddie was worried about his many school children and bus drivers who had to be out in the weather on the icy pavement Thursday afternoon after school. In fact the Principal stated that if we had a CB radio in each of the buses, he knew that they could get help in an emergency, and prevent any of the children from having to brave the cold in case of engine trouble, flats, or a turn over on the icy pavement. Also, one of the most important parts of the CB radio system, would be when more than one bus is traveling from town to town and the drivers could keep in contact with each other in case of trouble or if they became lost in a town they could call for help and information. A radio system for the buses in Spearman would be very important to school officials, and parents who wonder about their children when they are out in any kind of weather.

Scabies Regulations Changed

A change in federal regulations will require cattle owners to waive all claims against the federal government when their cattle are treated for scabies, reports the U. S. Department of Agriculture (USDA).

Officials of USDA's Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service (APHIS) explained that cattle infested with or exposed to scabies mites are routinely treated with a USDA-permitted pesticide dip.

This must be done under APHIS supervision or control, before the animals can be certified for interstate shipment.

Occasionally, when losses result from such treatments cattle owners have filed damage claims against the government.

The new regulation conforms to a similar waiver provision covering cattle treated for fever ticks—a provision that has long been in effect, APHIS officials said.

The change announced covering scabies treatments was first proposed in the Oct. 22, 1975, Federal Register. The public was allowed 32 days to comment on the proposal, resulting in only one adverse comment. Thus, the new waiver rule will become effective on Jan. 28. A complete text of the change will be published in the Jan. 28 Federal Register.

There is before the Congress of the United States legislation known as: THE CHILD AND FAMILY SERVICE ACT OF 1976 House of Representatives HR2966

Senate S 626 CHILD ADVOCACY CLAUSE

In the Congressional Record the bill is described:

"If, in the judgment of those who are in charge of such a program, The State by way of the Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, parents are not doing a good job, the advocate (a specialist, appointed by the government) would enter the home and direct the education, even within the home. And if the parent would object, the authority of the home would, De Facto, be transferred to these advocates."

The Charter of Children's Rights of the National Council of Civil Liberties is becoming part of the Child Development act. Following are four of the several items prepared in this charter.

1). "All children have the right of Protection from and compensation for the consequences of any inadequacies in their home and backgrounds."

2). "Children have the right to protection from any excessive claims made on them by their parents of authority."

(The question was asked by way of example, "what do you mean by the fact "excessive claims"? The example was given: "If the mother or father asked the child to take the garbage out and the child doesn't want to, the parents have no right to insist upon it.")

3). "Children have the right to freed from religious or political indoctrination."

This means parents could not insist on children attending church or Sunday School or Synagogue. It also means the parent could be reported to authorities for expressing himself in his own home before his own children regarding politics and religion if the child reported this to the authorities.

4). "Children shall have the freedom to make complaints about teachers, parents and others without fear of reprisals."

This bill passed both houses in 1971 and was vetoed by President Richard Nixon with the following remark: "This bill would weaken the American Family by committing the vast moral authority of the national government to the side of communal approaches to child rearing over against the family oriented approach."

The Congressional Record states concerning this bill:

"The intent of this bill is for the government to be responsible...for the nutritional interests of your child, and for all psychological interests of your child."

"What is at issue is whether the parent shall continue to have the right to form the character of the children or whether the State, with all its power and magnitude, shall be given the decisive tools and technique for forming the young lives of the children of this country."

"As a matter of the child's right, the Government shall exert control over the family because we have recognized that the child is not the care of the parents but the care of the state. We recognize, further, that not parental, but communal forms of up-bringing have an unquestionable superiority over all other forms. Furthermore, there is serious question that maybe we cannot trust the family to prepare young children in this country for this new kind of world which is emerging."

Insurance Corner

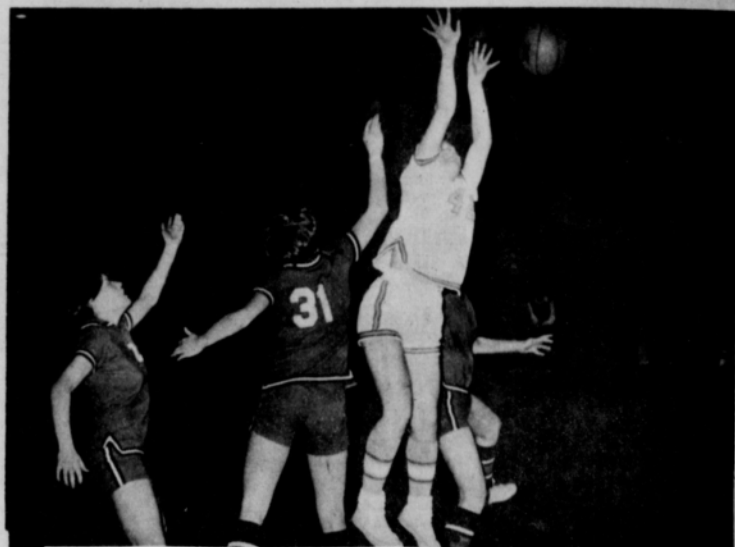

Process Of Pricing

The process of pricing auto insurance is called rating. Your insurance company measures the loss potential of the people who drive your car. The higher a driver's risk, the higher the insurance premium. Here are some of the categories used to determine your premium.

1. Each state is divided into rating territories. The lower the losses and repair costs within your area, the lower the rates will be.
2. Your car. The year, make and model influence your premium. The less it costs to repair or replace, the lower the premium.
3. The age, sex and marital status of the people who drive your car.

Young, unmarried males have more accidents so pay higher premiums. 4. How your car is used (pleasure or business). 5. Your driving record. 6. Coverages, limits and deductibles. Naturally, how much insurance protection you purchase affects the premium.

"LINCOLN SPLITTING LOGS"

Abraham Lincoln, the man destined to become one of America's greatest presidents, was born in a log cabin in Larue County, Kentucky on February 12, 1809. Able to attend school only when he wasn't helping his father with the farm chores, Lincoln taught himself the law and was a practicing lawyer when he decided to enter politics. He was elected President of the United States in 1860. Through dedication and leadership, Lincoln was able to reunite a country that had been torn in half by civil war. Outdoor Laboratories Established Here

Don't get alarmed if you see school children outdoors growing vegetables, tending bird feeders, or collecting water samples from a miniature pond. They might be studying nature in an outdoor classroom—a new concept in environmental education. Warren Proctor, district conservationist for USDA Soil Conservation Service at Spearman, said personnel from his agency have helped Texas schools plan and install 487 outdoor classrooms. And the number grows every week. Here in Hansford County we have an outdoor laboratory on the Sanders ranch that can be used by classes at any time. They can study plants, trees, grasses, soils, rocks, wildlife and other things of nature. Another outdoor laboratory has been established south of Gruver on the Holt ranch and classes from the Gruver Schools use it frequently. Mr. Lloyd Cooper, a high school teacher and one of his classes developed the laboratory and they take the leadership and conduct tours of the lab for other classes. They have also laid out an area and are in the process of building an outdoor classroom adjacent to the school in Gruver. That classroom can be used effectively by classes during a class period. Proctor said SCS assistance includes planning erosion control measures, helping layout nature trails, identifying plants, soil and plant adaptation guidelines, designing small water holding areas for aquatic studies, and other technical help.

A recent survey showed that more than 1,800 individual schools in Texas are using—or will—use the 487 outdoor classrooms. Some 1,48 other groups also use the areas. A total of 1,44 groups and organizations are helping schools install and maintain outdoor learning areas in Texas. These range from soil and water conservation districts to parent-teacher organizations. Proctor said SCS first became involved in outdoor learning areas by helping students help install some of the conservation measures as a learning experience. From that came the idea that trees, grass, and shrubbery could be added to beautify the conservation measures or to attract wildlife. Eventually, the idea of installing complete outdoor classrooms evolved. Students enjoy planning and installing the classrooms over a period of months or years, he said.

This also enhances the learning experience, helping students gain a deeper appreciation of the inter-relationship between man, plants, soil, water, animals, and sunshine. Uses of outdoor classrooms depend upon the ingenuity of teachers and students. Some biology classes study microscopic growth in tiny, bedroom-sized ponds built on the school campus; chemistry classes conduct soil and water related experiments; math classes compute slope and elevation or determine tree heights. Some schools also install outdoor weather stations so pupils can predict weather. For help in getting started on an outdoor learning area, SCS has a publication entitled "Outdoor Classrooms on School Sites." To get a free copy, call the SCS office at Spearman, telephone no. 659-2330. China's Great Wall was built in the third century. B. C.

License Stickers On Sale Now

Starting in February, it will be "something old, something new" for most Texas license plates. The something old will be the five-year license plate issued in 1975 already mounted on the vehicle. The plates were designed to last for at least five years, being made with more durable materials than the one-year plates issued in earlier years. The something new will be a red, white and blue validation sticker to be affixed in the embossed rectangle at the upper left-hand corner of the license plate issued a year ago. Affixing the sticker will make the plate good for another year's driving. The new system not only saves the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation $8.5 million over the five-year period, but it relieves the burden of learning a new license number for most of the state's vehicle owners, not to mention the chore of removing and replacing the entire license tag. Holders of personalized plates and other special license plates will receive a new plate, but the majority of Texas vehicle owners will receive stickers and keep the same registration numbers. Opening February 1, the vehicle registration season continues through March. The new stickers must be affixed by midnight April 1 or drivers will be subject to arrest and penalties. Vehicles must be registered with the county tax assessor-collector of the county of the owner's residence. Most counties operate substations where registration fees may be paid. Vehicle owners received computerized three-part registration forms for their vehicles by mail during January. All that is needed for registration is to bring the three-part form and the registration fee to the county tax assessor-collector's office or to one of the many substations that will be in operation during the registration season. Vehicles can be registered by mail through the month of February by sending the registration form, the fee, plus $1 (per vehicle) for handling to the county tax office. Owners should allow at least 30 days for delivery. Bring ideas in and entertain them royally, for one of them may be the king.

Easter Seal Chairman Named

Miss Shirley Cochran of Denton, Miss America of 1976, has been named State Chairman of the 1976 Easter Seal Campaign in Texas. Irving A. Baker of Dallas, President of the Easter Seal Society For Crippled Children and Adults of Texas, announced that Miss Cochran will lead volunteers in every county in Texas during the traditional annual appeal for funds. The Texas Easter Seal Society helps provide independence to physically handicapped Texas children and adults through a statewide program of direct and indirect services. As Texas State Easter Seal Chairman, Miss Cochran joins with 234 local volunteer Easter Seal Chairmen and Representatives and nearly 35,000 other volunteers throughout Texas who participate in the annual funds appeal. Last year many physically disabled children and adults in Texas received rehabilitation and other direct services and benefitted from the Information, Referral, and Follow-up program rendered by the Texas Easter Seal Society through a statewide network of affiliated Easter Seal Societies and Chapters which includes treatment or rehabilitation centers. Miss Cochran joins a national roster of prominent figures in the 1976 Easter Seal Campaign, including Wayne Rogers of television's "M*A*S*H", who has been named National Chairman for 1976. The Easter Seal Society provides year-round services and rehabilitation nationally to nearly 300,000 disabled persons through 2,000 state and local affiliates. The Easter Seal Campaign officially opens March 1, 1976, and continues through Easter Sunday, April 18, 1976, to fund the year-round program.

Texas Taxpayers Share Of Federal Spending

Texas taxpayers will be required to pay out approximately $20,468,980,000 in Federal taxes as their share of the cost of the Federal spending budget of $394.2 billion proposed by President Ford for the 1977 Federal fiscal year beginning October 1, 1976, according to an estimate today by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. This estimate was based on the WTCC's calculations that Texas taxpayers bear 5.19 per cent of all Federal taxes. The WTCC pointed out that any change which Congress may make in this budget will reduce or increase the amount that Texas taxpayers will have to bear depending on whether Congress cuts or spends more. J. Fike Godfrey, Executive Vice President, when asked to comment on the Federal tax burden for Texas said, "The nearly 20 billion dollar tax burden that Texans will have to pay to support the President's proposed Federal budget is nearly 1 1/2 times larger than the total dollar amount of all oil and gas production in Texas for the 1976 year and nearly 3 1/2 times larger than the total income from all the farms and ranches in Texas in 1976. To get this enormous amount of Federal taxes down to terms I can relate to, we calculated it out to amount to about $1,736 for every man, woman and child in Texas or about $7,000 for each average family, of four, in Texas. That's a lot of Federal Government cost."

Shell color of eggs is determined by the breed of hen, and it doesn't affect nutritive value, quality or cooking performance of the egg. Mrs. Gwendolyn Ciyatt, consumer marketing information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, explains.

LYNX EDGE DALHART

The Spearman Lynx opened up their second half of their District 1-AA schedule by defeating the Dalhart Wolves at Dalhart by the score of 69-57. This win by the Lynx puts them 1-0 in the conference and sets up one of their two show-down games with Phillips and Panhandle in the same week.

The Lynx jumped to an early lead in the first quarter on the shooting of Roger Jones and David Steele as they scored 6 and 4 points respectively. Also scoring in the first quarter was Leon Hagerman, Jeff Beedy and Randy Reid each with two points apiece. The quarter ended with the Lynx leading by 3 points, 16-13.

Leading the scoring for the Dalhart Wolves was Malcom Green, a 6'4" Senior as he scored 9 points of the 13 that Dalhart scored on easy lay-ups and rebounds of missed shots. Also scoring for the Wolves was Butch Stewart with 3 points and Bart Cadenhead with one point.

In the second quarter the Lynx outscored the Wolves 16-15 to maintain a 4 point lead at the end of the second quarter. Leading the scoring for the Lynx was Roger Jones with 6 points, followed by Leon Hagerman and Randy Reid with four points apiece. Also scoring was Zane Newton with two points.

Leading the scoring for the Dalhart Wolves was again Malcom Green with 6 points followed by Bart Cadenhead with 4 points. Also scoring for the Wolves was Jim Bob Mathew with 2 points, both on free throws, and Artie Ledbetter with three points, all on free throws. The quarter ended with the Lynx leading by 4 points, 32-28.

Leading by four points entering the third quarter, this was the quarter that was the disaster quarter. The Lynx were outscored by the Wolves, 18-11 to come from a 4 point deficit to a 3 point lead at the end of the third quarter, 46-43. Leading the scoring for the Wolves in the quarter was Bart Cadenhead, a 6'5" Senior with 6 points, followed by Greg Lloyd with 6 points with most of his shots coming on rebounds after his teammates had already shot. Also scoring for the Wolves was Mike Smith, Butch Stewart and Artie Ledbetter with two points apiece. Malcom Green who had been hurting the Lynx in the first two quarters was completely shut down by Roger Jones and David Steele, to no points in that quarter.

Leading the Lynx in scoring in the third quarter was Roger Jones, Zane Newton, Leon Hagerman, David Steele, Jeff Beedy each with two points apiece. Also scoring for the Lynx was Randy Reid with one point.

In the final quarter the Wolves still led but with about 4 minutes left in the ball game and Spearman behind by one point, Mike Smith fouled Jeff Beedy, was called for the foul and was thrown out of the game. This seemed to fire the Lynx up as in the last four minutes they simply overpowered the Wolves and outscored them 26-11 to win the game 69-57. Leading the scoring for the Lynx in the final period was Roger Jones as he shot from everywhere on the court and could not miss with 12 points; followed by Zane Newton with 6 points. Also scoring for the Lynx was Jim Jones with 4 points, Jeff Beedy with 2 points, and Mark Cunningham with 2 points on two free throws.

Scoring for the Wolves in the last quarter was Malcom Green with 6 points, followed by Mike Smith and Bart Cadenhead with two points apiece. Also scoring for the Wolves was Greg Lloyd with one point.

Spearman, Texas

Ocie Jenkins pictured standing, and Frosty Hickerson, inset, were featured speakers at the Chamber banquet held recently in Spearman. The complete text of their speech is printed below. It was part of "the way it was" in the old days, in the county. We think you will enjoy these stories.

A FABLE
by George Autry.

It was one of those days when God was creating the Earth. He was working on Texas, as darkness fell at the end of the day, and had to quit.

He gave the Great Plains of West Texas a smoothing stroke and said to Himself, "In the morning, I'll come back and make it pretty like the rest of the world, with lakes and streams and mountains and trees."

But next morning when He returned, it had hardened like concrete overnight. As He thought about having to tear it all out and make it over, He had a happy thought. "I know what I'll do," He said, "I'll just make some people who like it this way."

And that is how it came about that the people who live in the Panhandle, like it this way.

by Ocie Jenkins

The history of Hansford County is full of color and excitement. Perhaps one of the most exciting, or shall we say, frightening occurrences was the Texas duststorm. In the following passage from Steinbeck's "Grapes of Wrath", the authenticity of those black days becomes real. For some of you, the duststorms, as Steinbeck recalls, are vivid to your memory; for others, it seems a fictitious story.

A gentle wind followed the rain clouds, driving them on northward, a wind that softly clashed the drying corn. A day went by and the wind increased, steady, unbroken by gusts. The dust from the roads fluffed up and spread out and fell on the weeds beside the fields, and fell into the fields a little way. Now the wind grew strong and hard and it worked at the rain crust in the corn fields. Little by little the sky was darkened by the mixing dust, and the wind fell over the earth, loosened the dust, and carried it away. The wind grew stronger. The rain crust broke and the dust lifted up out of the fields and drove gray plumes into the air like sluggish smoke. The corn threshed the wind and made a dry rushing sound. The finest dust did not settle back to earth now, but disappeared into the darkening sky.

The wind grew stronger, carried up straws and old leaves, and even little clouds, marking its course as it sailed across the fields. The air and the sky darkened and through them the sun shone redly, and there was a raw sting in the air. During the night the wind raced faster over the land, dug cunningly among the rootlets of the corn, and the corn fought the wind with its weakened leaves until the roots were freed by the prying wind and then each stalk settled wearily sideways toward the earth and pointed the direction of the wind.

The dawn came, but no day. In the gray sky a red sun appeared, a dim red circle that gave a little light, like dusk; and as that day advanced, the dusk slipped back toward darkness, and the wind cried and whimpered over the fallen corn.

Men and women huddled in their houses, and they tied handkerchiefs over their noses when they went out, and wore goggles to protect their eyes.

When the night came again it was black night, for the stars could not pierce the dust to get down, and the window lights could not even spread beyond their own yards. Now the dust was evenly mixed with the air. Houses were shut tight, and cloth wedged around doors and windows, but the dust came in and settled like pollen on the chairs and tables, on the dishes.

In the middle of that night the wind passed on and left the land quiet.

by Frosty Hickerson

In 1776, our forefathers signed a document beginning the greatest race of people ever to be. Since then, the American language has come from early British to late Texan. Carl Sandburg writes a poem filled with slogans and sayings demonstrating this.

GOOD MORNING AMERICA
by Carl Sandburg

A code arrives; language; lingo; slang; behold the proverbs of a people, a nation; Give 'em the works. Fix it, there's always a way. Be hard boiled. The good die young.

Be a square shooter. Be good; if you can't be good be careful. When they put you in that six foot bungalow, that wooden kimono, you're through and that's that.

Sell 'em, sell 'em. Make 'em eat it. What if we gyp 'em? It'll be good for 'em. Get their names on the dotted line and give 'em the haha

The higher they go the farther they drop. The fewer the sooner. Tell 'em. Tell 'em. Make 'em listen. They got to listen when they know who you are. Don't let 'em know what you got on your hip. Hit 'em where they ain't. It's good for whatever ails you and if nothing ails you it's good for that. Where was you raised-in a barn? They're a lot of muckers, tin horns; show those sobs where they get off at. Tell 'em you're going to open a keg of nails. Eat 'em to a fare-thee-well. Hand 'em carfare home. Maybe all you'll get from 'em you can put in your ear, anyhow. They got a fat nerve to try to tie a can on you. Send 'em to the cleaners. Put the kibosh on 'em so they'll never come back.

Your head ain't screwed on wrong, I trust. Use your noodle, your nut, your think tank, your skypiece. God meant for you to use it. If they offer to let you in on the ground floor take the elevator.

Put up a sign: Don't worry; it won't last: nothing does. Put up a sign: In god we trust, all others pay cash. Put up a sign: Be brief, we have our living to make. Put up a sign: Keep off the grass.

Aye, behold the proverbs of a people: The big word is Service. Service--first, last and always Business is business. What you don't know won't hurt you. Courtesy pays. Fair enough. The voice with a smile. Say it with flowers. Let one hand wash the other. The customer is always right. Who's your boy friend? Who's your girl friend? O very well. God reigns and the government at Washington lives. Let it go at that. There are lies, dam lies and statistics. Figures don't lie but liars can figure. There's more truth than poetry in that. You don't know the half of it, dearie. It's the roving bee that gathers the honey. A big man is a big man whether he's a president or a prizefighter. Name your poison. Take a little interest. Look the part. It pays to look well. Be yourself. Speak softly and carry a big stick. War is hell. Honesty is the best policy. It's all in the way you look at it. Get the money-honestly if you can. It's hell to be poor. Well, money isn't everything. Well, life is what you make it. Speed and curves-what more do you want? I'd rather fly than eat. There must be pioneers and some of them get killed. The grass is longer in the backyard. Give me enough Swedes and snuff and I'll build a railroad to hell. How much did he leave? All of it. Can you unscramble eggs? Early to bed and early to rise and you never meet any prominent people. Let's go. Watch our smoke. Excuse our dust. Keep your shirt on.

First come the pioneers, lean, hungry, fierce, dirty. They wrangle and battle with the elements. They gamble on crops, chills, ague, rheumatism. They fight wars and put a nation on the map. They battle with blizzards, lice, wolves. They go on a fighting trail To break sod for unnumbered millions to come.

Then the fat years arrive when the fat drips. Then come the rich men baffled by their riches. Bewildered by the silence of their tall possessions.

A man has to live with himself and he should see to it that he always has good company.

Social Security News

"There are five important times a woman should get in touch with her social security office," Howard L. Weatherly, Branch Manager of the Social Security Office stated:

1. To obtain a social security number.
2. When she marries or changes her name.

3. If she becomes disabled.
4. The disability or death of her husband.
5. At age 62, or at retirement of her husband, whichever is earlier.

Every woman probably knows by now that she will need a social security number of her own for many reasons and where she can go to get it. "What many women don't know," Weatherly added, "is to contact social security when their name is changed for any reason." This allows the Social Security Administration to keep its records up to date on male and female workers. This is important because the amount you receive when you file an application for social security payments depends on what is reported for you over your working lifetime. In fact, whether you can get any payment at all is determined by work you have done under social security and reported to the SSA accounting office. It is usually possible to correct the records if an error is caught within a few years after it is made. It is difficult or impossible to do anything about it if the worker waits until an application for payments is made to look into errors that "got lost" somehow many years ago.

Of course a female worker should contact social security if she becomes disabled or her husband dies or is disabled. As is true of all types of social security benefits, a formal, written application must be filed before any payment can be made. Some women don't realize they can go on and start receiving a monthly retirement payment on their own work record at age 62 even if their husband hasn't reached retirement age or continues to work full time. She can be converted to wife's payments later if it turns out that she would receive more on her husband's account. "Keep in touch with us, ladies," Weatherly added.

ANOTHER DONATION TO THE LIBRARY BY THE TWENTIETH CENTURY CLUB-Mrs. Coy Palmer, president, is shown here with librarian Celestine Thompson with the second table that the club has presented to the library. Many of the useful items in the library are courtesy of this club, they have donated the carpet, book shelves in the children's section, etc. They began the Thrift Shop which has been a source of revenue for the library for many years.
