Most homemakers enjoy raising and caring for houseplants in their homes. House plants add a certain warmth and friendliness that cannot be denied wherever they are.

However, when vacation time comes or you must go on a trip for several days, the problems of watering and care for the plants while you are away looms before you.

There is an easy way for you to care for house plants while you are away from home. Water the plant thoroughly, then overwrap the pot in a large sheet of saran. Smooth the wrap to the sides of the pot and cinch excess wrap loosely around the base of the plant. Be sure not to close off the soil surface completely since plant roots need access to some air. Place the wrapped pot in a semi-shaded cool spot. Soil moisture will be retained at a desirable level for several weeks.

A number of small plants may be placed unwrapped, after watering, in an uncovered cardboard box. Stretch a sheet of saran across the open top. Be sure to choose a box deep enough so that the saran will not touch the foliage. Place the covered box in a well-lighted but not sunny area, and happy vacationing.

While I'm on the subject of vacationing, that time for many is already here or fast arriving. Everybody likes and needs a vacation, and it should be fun and relaxing. So, begin planning in plenty of time to avoid last minute rushes on details.

Don't wait too long to have your car checked. I don't believe there is anything that can spoil a trip as much as a car breakdown just when you have gotten off to a good start.

Other details to remember in plenty of time are: 1) arrange for boarding your pet, 2) see your doctor and dentist, 3) stop delivery of papers, etc., 4) notify the police that you'll be away, 5) lock all windows, 6) leave a house key and your vacation address with a neighbor, 7) unplug all electrical appliances, 8) make sure the jack and other tools are in the car.

These few reminders, I hope, will help you have a happy, carefree vacation. Take it easy. The good of your entire holiday is lost if you come home so tired and rushed you feel you "need another vacation" to get back in shape!

Next week-refreshing ideas for summer mealtime, and a new dessert recipe that's "Umm-m Good!" and easy to do.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Orr of Amarillo were guests of the W. B. Barnes Monday.

Candidate's Wife Presents Gift of Handwork

Win or lose, Republican George Bush campaign chairmen and wives around the state are going to remember George Bush for a long time.

The candidate's witty and adept wife is seeing to that with her fingers. Barbara Bush is doing needlepoint of burlap while campaigning around the state. The work is a small table doily that has a blue elephant and a campaign slogan for George.

Mrs. Bush said she had made 90 of the little reminders and presented them to campaign chairmen. She always carries two completed doilies in her suitcase so she can make or the spot presentations if she meets a campaign chairman who has not received one. She works on them while George campaigns.

The native of Rye, N. Y., says she calls Midland home, although she has been living in Houston for the past five years.

Although she is a person of definite ideas, husband George is the candidate and makes all campaign statements. However, outside the campaign issues, Barbara is a refreshing conversationalist with a quick wit and an easy laugh.

She was chatting with the guests about various subjects here Monday while George was making a radio appearance.

The conversation touched only lightly on many non-political subjects. As her husband re-entered the group, Barbara suddenly announced in a campaign voice:

"And that is my position on the Chinese question."

All the group laughed when she quipped: "George's nervous laugh shows he's not too sure about what I have been saying."

He need not worry, she is a campaign asset without touching on politics.

Mrs. Bob Vaughn Is New Eta Alpha President

Mrs. Bob Vaughn has been installed as the new president of the Eta Alpha chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma, a teachers' sorority.

Mrs. Vaughn and her cabinet of officers were installed at a luncheon May 9, in the Perryton High School Cafeteria. Members of Gamma Theta Chapter of Borger were guests at the luncheon.

The 45 area teachers were entertained with a "Founders Day Skit" directed by Pat Eastup and Maurine Flathers and presented by Perryton High School students.

Anna Belle Love installed the new Eta Alpha officers. Besides Mrs. Vaughn, other officers are Reba Shearer of Booker, First Vice President; Flora Champion of Perryton, Second Vice President; Lucy Mundy of Spearman, Recording Secretary; Nell Lemons of Booker; Violet of Igon of Perryton, Treasurer and Martha Thomas of Perryton, Parliamentarian.

Hostesses of the luncheon were Helen Yeary, Wilma Clark, Lucy Mundy and Nickie Cotter.

The luncheon tables were decorated with pink, white, and gold appointments.

Three Tie For Honors

In spite of all the adverse weather conditions, a beautiful array of rainbow colors was on display in the lovely flowers shown at the annual flower show sponsored by the Delphinium Flower Club held Friday May 15 in the Fellowship Hall of the First Methodist Church of Spearman. More than one hundred specimens and eighteen arrangements were entered.

The accredited judges were Mrs. John Cook of Phillips, Mrs. Berl Hughes of Borger and Mrs. Lowell Bowdle of Booker. Beautiful rosettes were presented by the American Iris Society to the sweepstakes winners, Mrs. T. D. Sansing carried away the honors in the horticultural division for the most blue ribbons, while Mrs. Hull's "Golden Majesty" was judged the most outstanding Iris of the show. Mrs. P. A. Lyon's arrangement of bronze Iris in an amber composite captured first prize in the artistic division. No sweepstakes award was given in this division since there was a three-way tie with Mmes. Lyon, Ellsworth and Bishop being awarded two blue ribbons each. Other award winners for arrangements were Mmes. Vester Hill, Sam Henderson, Jimmie Davis, Clay Gibner, Medlin Patterson, Cecil Batton, Maude Mathews, and Virgil Hull.

Beauty for the asking

Vera Mae Hays, Beauty Consultant

MERLE NORMAN COSMETICS STUDIO

Although people continue to ask me about all sorts of basic makeup problems, if there's one thing that really baffles most women it's eye makeup.

I can't say I blame them.

There's no big mystery to making yourself more attractive, if you really try. But when it comes to using makeup around your eyes, you almost always feel that you're working under a handicap. Actually, I guess you are, because you're really utilizing only one eye at a time. That's a handicap, and I admit it.

However, if you'll start out as though there were nothing to it, it's like everything else: once you know how, it's easy.

For instance, have you been noticing those nasty little laugh lines at the outer corners of your eyes? Get rid of them. Use an eye cream—a good one. And use it daily. I just happen to know a dandy! Next, once you've thoroughly cleaned your skin and applied your makeup base, you're ready to start around your eyes, first with a creamy brown eye shadow on your upper lids, smoothed up to (and maybe even into) your eyebrows, blending into your foundation cream at the temples.

For an extra glowing look don't be afraid to use a creamy blush rouge sparingly, high on your cheekbone, blending lightly up to where your eye shadow stops, until there's no indication of where the eye shadow ends and the rouge begins. Smooth rouge lightly downward, forming a sort of erratic triangle near your nose, extending it close to your hairline, but not into it.

The rouge is a professional trick to give brightness and glow, not only to your eyes, but to your whole look.

O.K.? Now for your eyebrows. You've probably been using eyebrow pencil for years. Apply with short hair-like strokes, shaping your brows, arching them slightly, if you feel it fits your face better to change their shape. You can always experiment.

And now you come to another little trick. If you're not completely shattered at what you see, I suggest you use a magnifying mirror. The first look may jolt you a little. After that, makeup is lots easier.

When you see your face reduced to its natural size again in a regular mirror, you'll find you haven't overdone your makeup. Your face looks wonderful, normal size again.

Here's where you go to real glamour. Use liquid eye shadow—whatever color you prefer to accentuate the color of your eyes or coordinate your eyelids with your costume. Be daring.

Squeeze a little liquid eye shadow on a fine brush and apply to your eyelids (one at a time, of course), close to your lashes, blending only over the eyelid itself with your finger, lightly, and fading it into the brown shadow.

Now the liquid eyeliner—with a very fine brush, following the lash line from the inner corner of your eye outward. Or, big trick: brush from the outer edge of the eye inward. As a matter of fact, if you'll come in for a free hour of beauty, I'll show you exactly how to do it. Part of my service!

Day By Day

The power of insinuation is used in political campaigns much more often than an open attack because what is implied but left unsaid looms greater and greater in the imagination of the open-minded observer.

This week a letter to the editor of the Tulia Herald wanted to know who the Sunday Plainsman's Tall Texan is, Editor Baggerly said "The Tall Texan is Burl McClellan, formerly of the Amarillo newspaper-radio-television monopoly."

Now Mr. Baggerly really touched on a sore spot with me when he implied that The Tall Texan soaked up all his political philosophy while he was farm editor of the Globe News some years ago.

In the first place, a lowly reporter on a city paper has terribly little to do with the editorial side of a newspaper. He is left alone to read it and make up his own mind just as any other citizen. In the second place, The Tall Texan disagrees with Wes Izzard just about as often as he does with H. M. Baggerly which must put him somewhere in the sane middle-of-the-road since these two men represent to Panhandle people the far extremes in political thinking.

Mr. Baggerly is an intelligent prize-winning writer, who has, in my humble opinion, some good ideas. If he spent less time making guttural remarks about those with whom he disagrees, he might lose some readers but a lot of us could respect him more.

***

All along the drive down Highway 287 last weekend we saw posters welcoming the Rolling Plains Mule Train to various towns.

Spearman is getting a lot of publicity through this month-long trip. While we were in East Texas last weekend we were surprised to see movies in a Dallas television station made Thursday morning in Spearman at the send-off breakfast.

***

A weather report downstate while we were there said West Texas had some rain. One man said "Burl, I guess you had a big rain in Spearman last night, the weather man said Brownfield got over an inch."

THE WAY I SEE IT

Robert Cordes, Pastor
Oslo Lutheran Church

It is not easy being a teacher and dealing with so many persons. Some parents want home work. Others none. Some want strict discipline while others feel discipline is hurting their little John's character.

True, we always have some teachers who aren't quite sold on their profession and may be teaching for the money. On the other hand, look at the scores of teachers who love children and are doing their best to offer top notch school training.

The good teachers continue their education. They are always looking for ways of improving their teaching qualities. And many are there on the school systems in our area.

I for one want to thank each of them for their efforts and to let them know they are not overlooked. We may fail to thank them personally, but we do appreciate all the efforts put forth in the training of our youth.

Teaching wages are not the highest considering the amount of schooling required. Crowded conditions hinder their programs. Furthermore, have you ever noticed how much we require a teacher in extra-curricular activities. I for one feel we are demanding too much of them in this area. Their nights should be freer to study, improve their teaching, etc. instead of dragging out their strength in other areas than teaching.

Regardless of our view, I offer to the public school teachers of our area a big "thank you" and trust we will all get behind our school systems that greater things can be accomplished. (Not more night activities or Saturday schedules). But our teachers must be challenged to teach to their maximum and that we recognize their great work. Thank you again teachers.

Jaycees Add Life-Saving Equipment to Hospital

Another piece of life-saving equipment has been added to the equipment at Hansford Hospital. This latest machine, a suction pump, was donated by the Spearman Jaycees.

This week Junior Chamber of Commerce officials presented hospital administrator Bob Vaughn a check for $184.25 to pay for the suction machine.

Vaughn said the hospital had one suction machine, but recently, while some Jaycee was visiting the hospital, it was having to be moved between two rooms to serve patients in need of suction.

The hospital has built-in suction in all of the operating, delivery, nursery, and recovery rooms, but not in the patient rooms.

Vaughn said suction was used for removing fluids from lungs and other parts of the body.

When the hospital was built the Junior Chamber of Commerce furnished a room at a cost of approximately $600.

Officers making the presentation were President J. D. Helms and his cabinet of Zack Fisher, Orvil Brummett, Robert Adamson, Wayne Chapman and Don Floyd.

Chapter Honored At Coffee in Amarillo

The Beta Epsilon Chapter of the Alpha Delta Kappa Sorority of Spearman was guest Saturday, May 16, at a coffee given by the Lambda Chapter of Amarillo. The coffee was in the home of Mrs. Branch T. Archer with Mrs. J.L. Unger as co-hostess.

Attending from Spearman were Mmes. Louise Archer, Matilda Entekin, Vera Anderson, Evalyn Fowler and Fern West.

While enroute to Amarillo, Mrs. Entekin and Mrs. Anderson made a surprising discovery.

In 1926-27 Miss Vera Harris (Mrs. Anderson) taught English in Spearman High School. In her Freshman class was a girl, Matilda Reimer (Mrs. Entekin). These two have been closely associated for the past year in Alpha Delta Kappa, neither realizing the identity of the other. Mrs. Anderson teaches English in Morse High School and Mrs. Entekin teaches in Spearman Elementary School.

Small Group Visits With Republican Candidate

A small group of Republicans visited for a short while with Republican Senatorial Candidate George Bush at the Steakhouse Monday afternoon. Bush also met with Republicans in Gruver.

Bush led the Republican ticket in the May primary. He will oppose Jack Cox in the June runoff. The winner will then oppose Ralph Yarborough.

Bush told the group the Republicans must meet the challenges presented today. He said the party must do more than just oppose proposals of the Democrats.

Looking ahead to November, Bush said not to underestimate the power of Sen. Ralph Yarborough. He has tremendous power in his liberal organization in the state.

Bush contended Yarborough's power was in the labor organizations and among the Negro groups and other minority groups.

Yarborough is not like in Washington, the Houston businessman said. Because of this he is not going to be able to do much for Texas.

The Republican candidate said the present Civil Rights bill is totally unenforceable. New York has such a bill and it just will not work.

Bush, who is 40 and a veteran of World War II, is no stranger to Washington. His father was U. S. Senator from Connecticut for 10 years.

Bush received his Naval Air Force wings and Ensign's commission when he was 18.

He has been in the Texas oil business since 1948 when he started as a clerk in Dresser Industries.

Americans spend only 19 percent of their take-home dollar on food. Compare this to 30 percent by the British, 50 percent by Russians, and up to 90 percent in some underdeveloped countries. Research on more efficient production and marketing, and better ways to control insects and diseases have helped keep food costs down.

Research shows that most Americans like potato chips light colored and crisp. Best potatoes for chips are the ones planted early and harvested within a few days after the potato vines are killed. U.S. Department of Agriculture marketing researchers have found.

The Myth Of Oyster "R" Months

This may come as a shock to many Americans. The 'myth' or belief that oysters shouldn't be eaten in any month that doesn't have an "R" in its name is fiction, says Wallace Klussmann, wildlife specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Oysters are fatter and taste better in the spring because they are storing glycogen -- an animal starch -- in preparation for the summer spawning season, says Klussmann. During the summer and early fall, oysters become thinner, their nectar watery and their flavor declines, he explains.

The oyster industry would benefit, according to the report, if the peak of the oyster harvest was changed from fall to late spring. It was pointed out that oyster mortality is usually heaviest in summer with losses ranging from 25 to 50 per cent. An earlier harvest could therefore result in the harvest of more bushels of oysters from a given area.

Texoma - Water Wonderland

This great lake lying in the romantic Red River Valley, is one of America's most popular resort centers, with favorite access routes through General Telephone towns such as Sherman, Whitesboro and Gordonville. Seventy million people visited it in recent years exceeding Yellowstone National Park attendance. More than 8000 boats from small craft to luxury yachts make highways of its sparkling waters. Its millions of visitors are attracted by facilities which range from convenient camp sites to luxurious resorts, with overnight lake-side accommodations for 1500 or more people. It is, in fact, a water wonderland for swimming, fishing, boating, skiing and all water sports -- a shining example of fabulous places to go and things to see in General Telephone Country.

Electric cooking is cool cooking because an electric range cooks without flame. Flameless electric surface units fit snugly against pan bottoms. They put their heat into the utensils and the food, not into the kitchen air. ## Board Discusses Industrial Training

Several different ideas on establishing an industrial arts or vocational industrial training program was discussed Tuesday night by the Spearman School Board and Administration.

Vocational industrial training specialist Ed Shive met with the board to discuss the different programs. There are three different programs: Industrial Arts, Vocational Shop and Distributive Trades.

In industrial arts the program is carried on by the school and students take shop and mechanical drawing as regular classes. Vocational shop is also at the school, but students spend one-half day learning a trade in a school training program. Distributive Trades puts the student in school one half-day for his classroom work and in a local business one-half day as an apprentice.

After discussing the programs, the board instructed Supt. James Bramlett to study the different programs, check with other schools and have the plans ready to start the program for the 1965 school year.

One of the present faculty resigned and two teachers hired last week notified Bramlett that they had accepted other jobs. Agriculture teacher David Laurie resigned to accept the job at Booker. The teacher has farming interests near there.

Mary Ozmer, an elementary teacher, and William Fulton, Jr., public school music, notified the board they have accepted other jobs.

After hearing that the school has 80 students with speech defects, as shown by state testing, the board voted to hire a corrective speech teacher. The state will pay all but $700 of the teacher's salary.

Principal Al Alford reported that he had 32 students in the elementary and junior high grades wanting to take remedial reading this summer.

The tuition will be $40 for six weeks and all the tuition must be paid when the student enrolls. Two teachers will teach the class two and one-half hours per day.

Kramer Lectures ; Shows Art

The Hix Wilbanks home was the recent scene of an art show and lecture given by a nationally known artist Stefan Kramer and his wife Mary, from Amarillo.

Kramer is a water color artist. He has a very unusual approach to the use of water color, and gets very rich effects and does visual to semi-abstract work. He calls his semi-abstract style "para-phrase" and it has a slight cubist influence.

Mmes. Ray Phelps and Joe Dan Bryan were the hostesses for the show and lovely refreshments were served.

Guests enjoying the paintings, slides and lecture were Mes. Edd Lehman and Wynn Lehman of Booker; Mes. Georgia Holt, Mildred Hindergart, Gertrude Archer, Vera Beth Hicks, Blanche Fuller, Verna Lee Schnell, Barbara McClellan, Luana Pearson, Nelda Sheets, Lometa Sparks, Ruby Barkley, Hazel Gibner, Ruth Skinner, and Mr. Clay Gibner and Mr. Ray Phelps and the hostesses.

We were taken to task in the May 15 issue of the Tulia Herald in a letter from Wayne Jobe of Borger for our comments about the McLendon-Yarborough name calling in the Democratic Primary.

Mr. Jobe's entire letter and the Tulia Herald's Editor's Note is published on this page. We are only sorry he did not direct his criticism and questions to us. There is nothing we like better than letters to the editor.

We hope the child who got the Tulia Herald for a birthday present will learn to read many newspapers, magazines and books as he grows up, then he can draw his own conclusions on all questions. No person should take any one view, "Tall Texan" or "Tulia Herald" and form an opinion. All opinions are biased.

As to Mr. Jobe's charge that if he could read the news in the Plainsman, we would know who is guilty and who is innocent in the McLendon-Yarborough mess. We only wish we were big enough to have a staff that could go and dig out the truth of those wild charges in campaign talk.

However, until someone goes to court, does some testifying under oath and the charges move out of the campaign speeches, then we will say without contention that the truth is not known.

The Tulia editor summed our political pedigree as formerly of the Amarillo newspaper-radio-television monopoly. We suppose this is supposed to brand us something. If the theory of employers forming one's political thinking is true, then we want to present the whole story. We started and worked for several years in the Commerce Journal in Hunt County where most thought Sam Rayburn and FDR were the only two men in government. Next, we went to the very democratic Memphis Democrat. J. Claude Wells and Herschel Combs of the Democrat are leaders in the Democratic party in the county. Next, we were at the Winnsboro News where the publisher was a strong civil rights

Letters To Other Editors

A 3-year-old child was recently asked what he wanted for his birthday. His answer was "The Tulia Herald". For this reason we are wishing a happy birthday and extending a hearty welcome to possibly the youngest on the roll of subscribers.

Young D. D. Dortch of Spearman has need of some out-of-town editorials as he grows up if the thoughts of the Tall Texan in the Sunday Plainsman, May 3, is representative of the city's editorial policy. This editorial read in part, "The last few days of the race between Ralph Yarborough and Gordon McLendon for the Senate has sunk to the lowest form of name calling and mud slinging. Some blame this on the democratic form of governing and electing officers. We do not think it is the form of government, but the people in the country.

"We have no idea who is guilty and who is innocent in the mess but would bet all the highly advertised laundry soaps could fail in washing their hands clean. It seems to be an indictment against the voters of a state when they let their interest sink so low that only office seekers and not statesmen will seek an office." On another page we find "You and white supremacy worker. After that we went to the Amarillo Daily News for 18 months where the city room in which we worked was then staffed by liberal democrats despite the fact the paper has a Republican policy.

Our only effect on the editorial policy of that paper; we probably irritated Mr. Izzard some because our chair was usually blocking the shortest way to his office.

We spent 20 months in the farm department of KGNC radio and TV going to beauty contests, interviewing stock show winners and broadcasting the livestock markets.

From this hodge-podge background we have developed a philosophy: First, an individual is more capable of deciding his future than any all seeing central government. Second, our political parties leave much to be desired, but representative government is the best to be found. Third, there are very few elected office holders who should be returned to office more than once or twice. Fourth, if the American people do not take a more active part in government, we are going to lose the right. And fifth, most are interested in themselves first and others second.

BURL MCCLELLAN

read the news FIRST--in the Plainsman".

If we could read the news in the Plainsman, he would have known 'who is guilty and who is innocent in the mess' because the truth was known long before his time to roll the press. McLendon was up to his old fabrication tricks and Yarborough was conservative for a change--conserving sound government for the people. My answer to the Tall Texan is found in Romans 2, Verse 11, "Thou art inexcusable, O man, whosoever thou judgest another, thou condemnest thyself; for thou that judgest dost the same thing."

The above mentioned editorial being the first mud slinging I have observed aimed at the November election. I have received quite a bit of anonymous mail recently but this is the first anonymous editorial I ever remember reading.

Ex-Convict Still Sought

Sheriff J. B. Cooke said Wednesday that Tommie Lee Knott, 40, ex-convict is still being sought in connection with the Gruver Bank burglary.

Three men have been arrested and face federal charges and prosecution in the burglary. They are James H. Brewer, 19 and Lexie P. Knott, 45, of Tishomingo, Okla., and Larry Taylor, 19, of Odessa.

The four men allegedly broke into the Gruver bank and tried to cut a hole in the vault door. They were scared away before they could open the door. The welding gas tanks were left in the bank and the men were traced through the tanks.

Sheriff Cooke issued a warning to farmers that thieves are again active in taking tools and other salable items from tractors and farm equipment in the county. He urged farmers to be careful about leaving equipment in the fields.

Two cows were killed Tuesday night in separate accidents. No one was hurt in the accidents. One animal was killed south of Spearman on highway 760 and the second was killed four miles north of Morse on highway 136.

Sherman County Farmers To Vote On SC District

Sherman County farmers will vote Monday, May 25, on establishing a Soil Conservation District in the County.

This election was set after a petition bearing 80 names was presented to the State Soil Conservation Board at Temple requesting a district be formed.

A public hearing was held April 15. Testimony presented them indicated a need for such a district and interest in forming one.

Billy McClellan is chairman of the Sherman Soil Conservation Committee. He said the 10 or 12 people carrying the petitions had little trouble in getting the 80 signers. Fifty signatures are all that were required.

McClellan said some farmers in the county think the SCS will tell them how to run their farms and be an added tax expense. SCS only offers assistance.

He pointed out that SCS provides engineers and other technicians to assist the district. They are paid by the federal government just as postal employees are paid.

McClellan pointed out that Sherman County farmers are helping pay for Soil Conservation Service without getting the full benefits.

He urged all landowners in Hansford County who have land in Sherman County to urge their Sherman County neighbors to vote for the formation of the district.

Mule Train Featured At Pioneer Days Celebration

Spearman's wandering mule-skinners will be the featured event this weekend at the Quanah Pioneer Day's Celebration.

The Rolling Plains Mule Train will roll into Quanah between 4 and 5 p. m. Friday and will be the featured event in the Quanah celebration.

The train, 24 mule drawn wagons left Spearman seven days ago, and has been making about 25 miles per day. They spent Sunday in Panhandle.

After leaving Spearman last Thursday amid a big send-off, the train had a few minor problems the first two days. Just six miles out of town one team bolted and damaged one wagon. It was soon back in the train.

In Borger the second day the train was caught in a wind storm and the wagon owned by Joe Evans of Gruver turned over. No one was hurt nor were there any damages.

At Panhandle a snake chased one woman on the train into the back of a wagon.

The train has gained state-wide publicity for Spearman. It has been featured on state-wide television and in the state newspapers. All the towns along the route have signs telling when the trail will be there.

SCS Work Unit Conservationist Wayne Chapman presented a preliminary study on how three waterways east and north will help divert the flood waters from south of Spearman into the Collard Lake east of town.

Chapman said turning the water east in two waterways, then straight north in a third waterway will help control the flooding of the east side of town and also stop the erosion on the LaMaster's section just east of town. Chapman said the natural drainage is across the section.
