Revised Data

Show U. S. Loss Of 59,000 Men

Washington, D. C., July 7.—Revised statistics showing the total major casualties suffered by thirty American divisions in the battles of St. Mihiel, the Meuse-Argonne, Flanders and other operations on the western front, have been made public by the War Department. The figures also give the last official tabulations on the number of light and heavy artillery guns and machine guns captured by each division, the number of replacement troops sent to reinforce them, and the number of prisoners captured by these divisions during the war.

The totals show deaths of more than 59,000. The German prisoners captured by the Americans totaled more than 60,000. More than 12,000 artillery pieces and machine guns were captured. Replacements totaled approximately 357,000 men, two divisions, the First and Second regulars, calling for replacements of several thousand more than the full strength with which they entered the battle line.

The same official tables show the American units advanced a total of 767 kilometers, the greatest advance by any single division being seventy-one and one-half kilometers, made by the Seventy-seventh or Camp Upton division. A kilometer is approximately five-eighths of a mile.

Four Persons Perish In Quicksand Near Amarillo

Quicksand in a shallow creek was responsible for the death of four persons late Sunday afternoon when Mrs. Marvin Strickland and her two children and Mrs. Bob Strickland, all of Amarillo, who were drowned when the children were wading in the Amarillo creek about fourteen miles north of the city. One of the children was the first to wade into the treacherous sand and when the other child attempted to rescue the first they both sank fast into the bog. Mrs. Marvin Strickland, the mother of the two children, then made a desperate effort to rescue her children but the attempt was made in vain. Mrs. Bob Strickland drowned when she went to the aid of the other woman, and in a very few minutes four members of two Amarillo homes had gone to their deaths in a treacherous quicksand of a small creek.—Amarillo News.

Route One News

Plenty of News but no time in which to pen the happenings, but for the nice rain Tuesday morning, most every one would be found in their fields and to each one 'tis as "a field of clover."

Quite a few from out this way celebrated the 4th at Lubbock. Among the number were the McCord, Briley, Emanuel and Armstrong families. All report the picnic complete in every respect.

This community was well represented at Post the 4th.

Mr. and Mrs. Brooks gave an ice cream supper recently, honoring their son, Timian, who has just returned from overseas. It seemed everyone was there and all had a good time with plenty of cream.

James Wood took himself a bride in Post City some weeks back, and the young couple are now at home on Mrs. Sumpter Reed's place in our midst.

If "Mary Jane" will come over during our meeting we will try and pick you from the crowd and invite you and your friends to a spread of eats that beats beans and potatoes. Now for snap peas, corn and watermelons. We should like to treat the editor and family but never hear any complaint of hunger. (EDITOR'S NOTE)—Just because we don't holler is no sign that the News family does not crave the good things you mention to eat. All we ask is an invitation, and some way to get there.—Nix on this town grub.

Patrons on Route One regret the absence of our genial letter carrier, Mr. Parkhurst, on account of sickness.

One, Fifteen-hundredths Inch Rainfall This Week

Lynn County was visited this week with a much needed rain, amounting to one and fifteen hundredths of an inch in Tahoka and immediate vicinity, according to the Government rain gauge. At O'Donnell, we understand, a regular cloudburst fell Monday night. The rain began falling about midnight Monday and continued until Tuesday morning, amounting to 1.05 inches. Again Tuesday afternoon a light rain came from the south amounting to .10 of an inch.

The moisture coming at this time will be of untold benefit to growing crops, as it had begun to get somewhat dry in certain parts of the county. A bumper feed crop is now assured over this section according to those in position to know. Cotton chopping is the order of the day, and the prediction is that the price will go higher by fall, probably 50c per pound. Lynn county will soon be in the swim, when the farmers begin to market their crops, and good times will return as of yore.

Resolutions of Respect

To the Worshipful Master, Wardens and Brethren of Tahoka Lodge No. 1041, A. F. & A. M.

We your committee appointed to draft resolutions in respect of our Brother, Elzie F. Allen, beg to report as follows:

Whereas, the mallet of death has fallen upon our beloved brother in a foreign land and this lodge has lost from its number one of its most loyal members, yet not lost, but admitted from this imperfect Lodge to affiliate in that all-perfect and celestial Lodge above where the Supreme Grand-Master of the universe presides; though by nature, we miss his place in our midst and can but mourn his departure until we shall be translated to answer roll-call beyond that bourne from whence no traveler returns; and

Whereas, Brother Allen was a citizen of sterling qualities, a kind and loving son and brother in the family, and a loyal and faithful member of this Lodge, always true to his trusts, Private Elzie F. Allen was born February 25th., 1893, became a Mason soon after becoming 21 years of age, answered the call of his country and enlisted in Co. C, 141st Infantry, 71st Brigade of the 36th Division of the American Expeditionary Forces on the 25th day of July, A. D. 1918, served his country gallantly and fell upon the battlefield of France, from the effect of machine gun fire, on the 8th day of October, A. D. 1918. He was the son of F. O. and Lodusky Ailen.

And whereas, as the ties and influence of our beloved order extend beyond the seas so do our sympathies extend beyond the sea to drop a tear at the grave of our departed brother who came to his untimely fall in loyalty to his country and for us.

Therefore, be it resolved by Tahoka Lodge, No. 1041, A. F. & A. M., that in the untimely fall of our brother, Elzie F. Allen, the country has lost a loyal and patriotic citizen, the family a true and loving brother, and the Lodge a noble and loyal member faithful to every trust.

Be it further resolved that this Lodge does extend to the bereaved family of our deceased brother its sympathy and condolence.

Be it further resolved that these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of this Lodge and that a copy thereof be mailed to the parents of our deceased brother and a copy delivered to the local press for publication. Respectfully submitted,

G. E. LOCKHART,
A. J. EDWARDS,
C. H. CAIN,
Committee.

Unanimously adopted this 7th day of July, 1919.

Tahoka Property Owners Must Cut the Weeds

Property owners, both resident and non-resident, within the city limits of Tahoka, will be forced to cut the weeds from their property, according to an Ordinance passed by the City Council, July 7th., a copy of which appears in this issue of the News. This ordinance goes into effect immediately after its publication as required by law.

If the weeds are not cut, the City authorities will have it done and charge it up as additional tax against the property.

Let every property owner in and out of the city see that the weeds are cut and thereby save further trouble and expense. Begin now to cut yours. Help make Tahoka a clean little city.

A meeting of the Tahoka Cemetery Association was called for last Saturday afternoon at the Court house, but only two of the members were present. This was the second meeting that has been called within the past two weeks. So far not enough members were present to transact important business matters that should be attended to.

The City of Tahoka at a meeting voted to take over the cemetery as an addition to the city, and a meeting of the association is necessary to wind up the details of the transfer.

FULL DEMOBILIZATION BY SEPTEMBER 30TH

PREDICTION WILL BRING FORCE TO PEACE STRENGTH TOTAL OF 233,308.

MANY CAMPS ABANDONED

All Officers Holding Commissions for Emergency Will Be Discharged Under New Order.

Washington.—Orders for the demobilization of the army by Sept. 30 to the peace-time strength of 233,308 officers and men authorized by the national defense act have been issued by the war department.

The national defense act authorized a total of 169,493 officers and men for the staff corps and departments. A reduction of the military establishment to these figures would be 100,000 men below the strength authorized in the 1920 army bill.

Announcement that the army would be reduced to less than 240,000 officers and men by Sept. 30 was accepted here to mean that definite plans had been made to withdraw practically the entire American expeditionary force before many weeks.

The number of men necessary to garrison domestic ports and the defense of the insular possessions would be almost the total of the authorized peace-time total.

With the great bulk of the expeditionary forces returned and demobilized, the war department announced that after July 10 it would no longer be necessary to use Camp Meade, Maryland; Custer, Michigan; Bowie, Texas; Funston, Kansas; and Jackson, South Carolina, and Fort Ordgorthorp, Ga., as demobilization camps. After July 10 overseas troops en route for points in northern Texas will be sent to Camp Pike, Arkansas, for discharge; those for points in northern and southern Michigan to Camp Grant, Illinois; and Sherman, Ohio; those for Kansas to Camp Dodge, Iowa and those for Tennessee, South Carolina and Florida to Camp Gordon, Georgia.

140 Doughboys Want to Wed Germans

Coblentz.—The judge advocate's department at army headquarters here is kept busy with inquiries from various parts of the occupied area as to whether marriages between American soldiers and German girls would be allowed, now that the peace treaty has been signed. More than 140 inquiries were made by various individuals, including several officers. These came from the division headquarters of five of the divisions of the third army units.

"BONE-DRY" MEASURE TO BE THE NEXT MOVE

DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE AND CONGRESS AT WORK TO BAR 2 1/2 PER CENT BEER.

Washington.—Congress and the department of justice have moved to stop the sale of 2 1/2 per cent beer under the war-time prohibition act.

Prohibition leaders of the house obtained a call for a meeting Monday of the judiciary committee which is expected to agree promptly on an independent bill for enforcement of the war-time law, defining intoxicating liquors as containing more than one-half of 1 per cent alcohol, and to recommend passage of such a bill by the house at the earliest possible moment.

The department of justice made it plain its agents would enforce the act according to the interpretation that anything containing more than one-half of 1 per cent alcohol can not be legally manufactured or sold.

Decisions of Federal Judge Rose at Baltimore in favor of the brewers and 2 1/2 per cent beer, and of Federal Judge Sawtelle at San Francisco against the brewers and such beer, threw the entire legal status of low alcoholic beer into uncertainty.

Attorney General Palmer has made it clear that while his department would proceed in an orderly manner without wholesale arrests or spectacular raids, offenders against the prohibition law could expect nothing else than "early and vigorous" prosecution.

University Fund is Adopted.

Austin, Texas.—By adopting the appropriations for the university of Texas, the senate finance committee made a most important change, one tending to permit lump appropriations. In the prelude to the itemization it is declared that the subjoined amounts are appropriated out of the general revenue "with such changes and substitutions within the totals of the following items for the university as the board of regents may find necessary." This revives the language used in the bill passed by the thirty-fourth legislature and the total serves as a maximum, the regents being empowered to change amounts and raise or reduce salaries at their discretion, but observing the totals as maximum.

Baltimore, Md.—The big navy dirigible C-8, commanded by Lieutenant L. J. Learned, with a crew of six men and two passengers, bound from Cape May, N. J., to Washington, exploded with terrific force just after landing at Camp Holabird, near this city, to adjust rudder trouble. The explosion shook the cantonment and the eastern section of the city like an earthquake. The great balloon instantly became a mass of flames. Seventy-five persons, mostly women and children, were burned or otherwise injured. None of the officers or crew of the C-8 was hurt, though several sustained severe shocks.

As finally approved, the legislation ends government control at midnight on the last day of the calendar month in which President Wilson approves the bill.

WORLD WAR ENDED; PEACE TREATY SIGNED

IMPRESSIVE CEREMONY AT ACCEPTANCE OF TREATY—ENDS GREATEST CONFLICT.

Versailles.—Germany and the allied and associated powers signed the peace terms here Saturday in the same imperial palace where the Germans humbled the French so ignominiously forty-eight years ago.

This formally ended the world war which lasted just thirty-seven days less than five years.

Saturday was the fifth anniversary of the murder of Archduke Francis Ferdinand at Sarajevo.

The ceremony of signing the peace terms was brief. Premier Clemenceau called the session to order in the hall of mirrors of the chateau of Versailles at 3:10 o'clock.

The signing began when Dr. Hermann Mueller and Johannes Bell, the German signatories, affixed their names. Herr Mueller signed at 3:12 o'clock and Herr Bell at 3:13 o'clock. President Wilson, first of the allied delegates signed a minute later. At 3:45 o'clock the momentous session was concluded.

All the diplomats and members of their parties wore conventional civilian clothes.

There were present grizzled French veterans of the Franco-Prussian war. They replaced the Prussian guardsmen of the ceremony of 1871 and the Frenchmen watched the ceremony with grim satisfaction. The conditions exacted then were exactly reversed. On this occasion the disciples of Bismarck sat in the seats of the lowly while the white marble statue of Minerva, goddess of war looked on.

Three incidents were emphasized by the smoothness with which the ceremony was conducted. The first of these was the failure of the Chinese delegation to sign.

The second was the protest submitted by General Jan Christian Smuts, who declared the peace unsatisfactory.

The third, unknown to the general public, came from the Germans. When the program for the ceremony was shown to the German delegation Herr von Haimhausen of the German delegation, went to Colonel Henry, liaison officer, and protested. He said:

"We cannot admit that the German delegates should enter the hall by a different door than the entente delegates; nor that military honors should be withheld. Had we known there would be such arrangements before the delegates would not have come."

After a conference with the French foreign ministry it was decided as a compromise to render military honors as the Germans left. Otherwise the program was not changed.

Versailles, France.—The German empire has ended where it was founded. The mightiest military power the world has ever known has been shattered and humbled almost to the point of impotency.

Within the magnificent palace which in itself was erected as a symbol of the divine rights of kings, and which in the present century was rededicated to that conception by the war lords of Prussia, the democracies of the earth have foregathered and pronounced the verdict.

During the two hundred and fifty-odd years which have intervened since the erection of the famous palace of Versailles civilization has traversed a long and uncertain route, but the scene itself, which has figured so conspicuously in history and cut such a deep impression to the heart of France, is little changed in outward appearance.

Germany Would Strike Poland.

Warsaw.—Germany is planning to give to Poland a blow at the earliest possible date. Germany means to hit Poland so hard that its new strength will be knocked out and all chances of its rivaling Prussia in importance will end. It means to entice Poland into attacking first so it can have a seeming clear record before the allied powers and to that end is trying its best to provoke the Polish troops in and around Posen to attack.

Ex-Crown Prince Still at Wieringen.

The Hague.—Frederick William Hohenzollern, the former crown prince, whose escape from Holland to Germany had been reported, is still at his residence in the island of Wieringen in the Zuyder Zee, it is officially announced here.

Czecho-Slovak Flag Flies From Capitol.

Austin, Texas.—The Czecho-Slovak flag flew from the mast of the Texas state capitol and also from the federal building. The display of the flag was in observance of Czecho-Slovak tag day.

Dallas.—The continuous rains have seriously hindered the threshing of wheat in Dallas county and there is great danger of the wheat sprouting in the shock if the rains continue.

Dirigible to Make Flight.

Washington.—The British dirigible, R-34 is expected to arrive in the United States on July 5 or 6 on a round-trip flight across the Atlantic to be undertaken by a lighter-than-air craft.

BLUE RIDGE REPORT FINALLY ADOPTED

GOVERNOR HOBBY THEN SUBMITS THREE SUBJECTS RECOMMENDED BY COMMITTEE.

Austin, Texas.—The senate adopted without discussion the report of the Blue Ridge farm investigation committee, with an amendment by Senator Suitner, chairman of the committee, substituting the word "associate" for "partner" in referring to the relation of Governor Hobby and Walter J. Crawford. The report was also adopted in the house without opposition.

Acting upon suggestions of the committee which investigated the Blue Ridge farm transaction, Governor Hobby submitted the following subjects to the legislature:

First. The subject of making any and all changes necessary in the present law to assist the state in enforcing its rights in compelling compliance with and specific performance of the original lease contract and option to buy the Blue Ridge farm.

Second. The subject of the parole laws of Texas.

Third. The subject of amending or changing the present laws so as to provide such method of management of the prison system as in "your judgment may be deemed best."

The house bill as finally passed gives superintendents of all state eleemosynary institutions, with certain exceptions, an annual salary of $2,500 per year, with an added allowance of $500 for provisions and their housing, laundry, fuel and light. The exceptions are the superintendents of the confederate home and the confederate women's home, who each receive $2,600 per year, and superintendents of the deaf, dumb and blind school for negroes and the girls' training school, who receive $1,800 each. All the latter also receive the $500 provision allowance and housing, laundry, fuel and light.

The bill authorizing the prison commission to erect a cement plant, the product to be used for road building, and appropriating $150,000, aroused considerable opposition.

The Hopkins pool hall resolution was adopted after a refusal to table by a vote of 19 to 11. The resolution asks county and district attorneys to investigate operations of pool halls after May 1, 1919, so as to be able to prosecute in case the federal injunction against the state law is dissolved.

Two bills embodying water conservation recommendations of the governor were favorably reported by the senate committee on mining and irrigation with amendments.

The committee of civil jurisprudence reported favorably a bill enabling a person who has held title to land 25 years or more to remove defects to title and another providing that suits to be filed against a corporation be not abated by the dissolving of the corporation with the consent of the stockholders and that pending suits be continued and new suits filed.

A resolution asking the governor to submit legislation amending the state highway law so as to give counties not less than 75 per cent of the automobile registration fees, instead of 50 per cent, was tabled.

A current resolution to name a joint committee of two senators and three representatives to confer with the prison commission, the board of pardon advisors and the governor on recommendations made by the Blue Ridge farm report for the betterment of prison conditions, and especially the amending of the parole law, was adopted.

Austin, Texas.—A message under which a bill proposing to legalize boxing exhibitions in Texas has been submitted to the legislature by the governor.

A second message submits laws governing the practice of veterinary surgery, medicine and dentistry, for amendments.

The senate took up, as special order of business, a house resolution urging the United States senate to ratify the treaty of peace.

Only four representatives refused to sign the resolution when it was introduced in the house.

District and county attorneys over the state are requested to procure evidence against all pool hall operators in Texas who have enjoined the attorney general from enforcing the act, so that prosecutions may be instituted in the event the federal court holds the state-wide pool hall law constitutional, in a resolution introduced in the senate.

With a preamble setting out that the national comptroller has ruled that the carrying of cotton acceptances for one name in excess of 10 per cent of their capital by national banks is a violation of section 5200 of the national banking laws, a resolution urging Texas congressmen to work for a modification of the law so that the financial handling of cotton will remain as it was in the past, was adopted by the house.

Wilson on Way Home.

Washington.—President Wilson and his party have left Paris for Brest, to sail for home, Secretary Tumulty was notified. The cable from President Wilson said, "All well."

Asks for Report on Mooney Case.

Washington.—Secretary Wilson is asked in a resolution adopted by the house to report the activities of officials and employes of the labor department in connection with the case of Thomas J. Mooney.

Mr. Terrell succeeded in having adopted an amendment which provides that each claim for payment must be accompanied by an affidavit from the person to whom the scrip was issued, showing the amount of money he received for the scrip, if it has been sold, and that the present holder shall not be paid more than the original holder received. It was declared that much of this scrip has been bought up, and this amendment was adopted to prevent such purchasers, who bought it at a heavy discount in most cases, receiving more for it than they paid the original payees. After the adoption of this amendment the bill was engrossed, 59 to 32, with four present and not voting.

The agricultural committee reported favorably the resolution urging county commissioners' courts to provide seed pecans and require county road hands to plant them along the public highways throughout the state.

The house adopted a resolution requesting the Texas delegation in congress to seek an amendment to the national banking act so as to permit banks to lend in excess of 10 per cent of their capital and surplus on cotton.

The senate bill making an appropriation of $1,483 for additional clerical help in the land office up to Aug. 31, on account of the rush of work occasioned by the oil boom, was passed finally.

A resolution was adopted in the house urging upon the Texas delegation in congress to use their efforts to bring about a reimbursement to the wool growers of Texas estimated at thirteen cents a pound on wool purchased by the government by "an unfair appraisal."

Inauguration of a civil service system for Texas is urged by the governor in a message transmitted to the legislature. The governor proposes that a law shall be passed placing all employes of the state "upon a basis of competency and individual merit."

The senate has begun the consideration of the judiciary appropriation bill carrying an appropriation of $2,832,756 for the support of the judiciary for the next two fiscal years.

A petition was sent up urging upon the legislature to pass a law requiring oil companies to file sworn statements of their assets.

Austin, Texas.—The national equal suffrage amendment was ratified by the senate when it finally passed the house joint resolution by a viva voce vote. The final vote was taken so quietly that the few spectators hardly realized what had occurred. Seven senators were absent when the vote was taken. They were Senators McNeal, Johnston, Woods, Parr, Carlock, Clark and Strickland.

While it is not necessary for the governor to sign the resolution, it will be to him for his approval.

Suffrage leaders who had been in Austin working for the resolution are rejoicing over the victory and the especially elated that Texas is the first southern state to ratify.

President Wilson was invited to visit Austin and address the legislature on his tour of the country in the interest of the league of nations by the adoption of a resolution by Senators Smith, Cousins and Caldwell.

Austin, Texas.—Governor Hobby has sent a number of additional subjects to the special session of state-wide interest. Among the matters tendered was that proposing a bill levying a state ad valorem school tax of 35c on each $100 of assessed valuation for 1919 and annually thereafter and authorizing the state board of education to use sufficient funds therefrom for the purchase and distribution of free textbooks as authorized under the free textbook amendment to the constitution. The present state school tax rate is 20c.

An amendment to the state depository law was submitted which would enlarge the method of remitting to state depositories so as to include cash, registered letter, postoffice money order, express order, or by check or draft on any bank, provided that the liability of the remitter shall not cease until the state actually gets the money. At this time drafts and checks can not be accepted under the law.

The governor submitted the subject of a bill vetoed at the regular session. The act offered provides for the sale, development and patenting of mineral deposits, places, veins, lodes or any rock or aqueous solutions carrying metallic or nonmetallic substances of value excepting oil, natural gas, coal and lignite that may be in any of the land of the public free school fund, university fund, the several asylum funds, that may have been heretofore sold or disposed of which may hereafter be sold with the reservation of minerals therein and all of said lands as were purchased with a relinquishment of the minerals therein, and all lands of which the mineral rights therein have or shall have reverted to the state of Texas, and the said mineral substances that may be in any fresh water lake, salt water lake, inlets, marshes, reefs, islands and river beds and channels which belong to the state.

Rome.—Serious disorders have marked anti-government demonstrations in Rome. The demonstrators attempted to reach the residence of Premier Nitti, but were driven back by large forces of military police.

Couldn't Move In Bed Twelve Weeks From Rheumatic Trouble. Now Praises Doan's.

"For twelve weeks I lay abed, unable to move a muscle," says Mrs. G. W. Johnson, 654 E. Seventh St., Red Wing, Minn. "The pains that shot through my entire body seemed more than any human being could stand. My hands and arms and lower limbs were put in splints to stop them from twisting into knots. Every garment seemed ready to snap. I can't understand how I endured such agony. Several physicians agreed that I had inflammatory rheumatism, but their medicine didn't give me any relief. My folks wanted to take me to a hospital, but I would not let them. The doctors said that nothing could be done for me. I had been an invalid now for two years, before I finally decided to resort to Doan's Kidney Pills. I used two boxes and they surely did prove their wonderful merit. It is a year since and I have enjoyed the best health of all my life. I weigh nearly 170 pounds and am like a different person in every respect. I shall always praise Doan's Kidney Pills."

HEADACHE Often Caused by Acid-Stomach

Yes, indeed, more often than you think. Because ACID-STOMACH, starting with indigestion, heartburn, belching, food-roping, bloating and gas, if not checked, will eventually affect every vital organ of the body. Severe, binding, splitting headaches are, therefore, of frequent occurrence as a result of this upset condition.

Take EATONIC. It quickly banishes acid-stomach with its sour blood, pain and gas. It aids digestion—helps the stomach get full strength from every mouthful of food you eat. Millions of people are miserable, weak, sick and ailing because of ACID-STOMACH. Poisons, created by partly digested food charged with acid, are absorbed into the blood and distributed through the entire system. This often causes the matism, biliousness, cirrhosis of the liver, heart trouble, ulcers and even cancer of the stomach. It robs the victims of the health, undermines the strength of the most vigorous.

If you want to get back your physical and mental strength—be full of vigor—enjoy life and be happy, you must get rid of your acid-stomach.

In EATONIC you will find the very best remedy and it's guaranteed. So get it in 50c box from your druggist today. If it fails to please you, return it and he will refund your money.

Peace or War? Dorothy Is Forced to Choose.

Synopsis—Geoffrey Carlyle, master of sailing ships at twenty-six, is sentenced to 20 years' servitude in the American colonies for participation in the Monmouth rebellion in England. Among the passengers on board the ship on which he is sent across are Roger Fairfax, wealthy Maryland planter; his niece, Dorothy Fairfax, and Lieutenant Sanchez, a Spaniard, who became acquainted with the Fairfaxes in London. Carlyle meets Dorothy, who informs him her uncle has bought his services. Sanchez shows himself an enemy of Carlyle. The Fairfax party, now on its own sloop in the Chesapeake bay, encounters a mysterious bark, the Namur of Rotterdam. Carlyle discovers that Sanchez is "Black Sanchez," planning to steal the Fairfax gold and abduct Dorothy. He fights Sanchez and leaves him for dead. In a battle with Sanchez's followers, however, he is overpowered and thrown into the bay. In a desperate effort to save Dorothy, Carlyle decides to swim to the Namur. By a ruse he gets aboard and mingles with the crew. The pirates return to the Namur with Dorothy, the captured gold and Sanchez, badly wounded but still alive. Carlyle finds a friend in Watkins, an English sailor. Estada, acting captain, makes Carlyle first mate of the Namur.

CHAPTER XV. —10— The Cabin of the Namur.

Both huge, black hands grasped the spokes, and it was evident that it required all his giant strength to control the bucking wheel. He was an ugly-looking brute, the lower portion of his face apelike and the wool growing so low as to leave him scarcely an inch of forehead. His eyes lifted an instant from the binnacle card to glance at me curiously. They exhibited no flash of recognition.

For half an hour Estada hung about aft, apparently paying no attention to me, and yet watching my movements closely. There was little to be done, but I thought it best to keep the watch reasonably busy, so they might thus learn that I knew my work. They proved prompt and capable enough, although I was eyed with some curiosity when I first went forward, and, no doubt, was very thoroughly discussed behind my back. The idlers amidships were a totally different class—a mongrel scum, profanely chatting in Spanish or swaggering about the deck, their very looks a challenge. However, they kept out of my way, and I found no occasion to interfere with their diversions. After Estada left the deck the majority amused themselves gambling, and as I had received no orders to interfere I permitted the games to proceed. Mendez interfered only once on occasion of a brief fight. My only instructions from the Portuguese on his going below was to call him at once if a sail was sighted. Apparently he was satisfied of my ability to command the deck.

No occasion to call him arose during my watch. It was still daylight, but with a purple gleam across the waters, when LeVere arrived on deck for my relief. We were talking together about the wheel when Estada appeared in the companionway.

"Every promise of a clear night," he said, glancing about at the horizon. "Better change the course two points, LeVere; we are lying in too close to the coast for our purpose. The table call will come very shortly, Señor Gates."

I washed up hastily in my stateroom and came out into the cabin perplexed as to what might occur within the next few moments. Yet whatever the result there was no avoiding it. My every move was one of extreme caution.

Estada and Estevan awaited me. The latter was all rigged out, and with smooth black hair oiled and plastered down upon his forehead. I never beheld a more disagreeable face, or one which so thoroughly revealed the nature of a man. As I touched his hand, at Estada's brief introduction, it was as if I fingered a snake.

"This is your chair, Gates, and you will find we are well aboard the Namur—wine, women and song—hey, Manuel! Why not, when all are at command? Steward, you told the lady what my orders were. Then bid her join us."

We stood in silence, as Gunaules crossed the deck and inserted a key in the after stateroom door. Manuel was grinning in full enjoyment, but the expression on the face of Estada was that of grim cruelty. I felt my hands grip like iron on my chair back and my teeth clench in restraint, God, but I would have liked to grip the fellow where he stood—all the bottled-up hatred in my soul struggling for action. Yet that would only mean the death of all hope, and I turned my eyes away from him and stared with the others at the opening door.

Out into the full light of the cabin the woman came and halted barely a step in advance of the steward, her head uplifted proudly, her eyes on us. Never before had I realized her beauty, her personality, as I did then. Her posture was not that of defiance nor of surrender; she stood as a woman defending her right to respect, sustained by a wonderful courage. I caught her glance, but there was no recognition in it; not by the flicker of an eyelid did she betray surprise, and yet in some mysterious manner a flash of intelligence passed between us. It was all instantaneous, for her gaze seemed to concentrate on Estada as though she knew him as leader.

"You sent for me? For what?" she asked, her Spanish clear and well chosen.

"To join us at meal," he answered unmoved. "It is better than to remain alone."

"Better! You must have a strange opinion of me to believe I would sit with murderers and thieves."

"Harsh words, senorita," and Estada grinned grimly. "Yet I expected them. There are many trades in the world by which men are robbed. We only work at the one we like best; nor will I discuss that with you. However, senorita, I can say that we have taken no lives in this last affair."

"No lives!" in sudden, incredulous surprise. "You mean my uncle lives?"

"If you refer to Fairfax—the one in whose room the chest was hidden, I can only reply truthfully that he lives."

"Peace or War?"

One of my men struck him down, but it was not a death blow. If that be the reason of your disdain there is no cause. This chair is held for you."

"But why was I brought away a prisoner? To be a plaything? A sport for your pleasure?"

"That was but the orders of our chief; we await his recovery to learn his purpose."

"Sanchez! Was he your chief? A pirate?"

"A buccaneer; we prey on the enemies of Spain. It was at Captain Sanchez' orders we waited the arrival of your vessel from England. He loved you; he would no doubt have dealt with you honorably; I have reason to believe that to be his purpose now. Nothing will change his purpose. He is that kind, and he has the power. He determined that if you would not come to him by choice you are here now made to by force. You are here now by his orders and will remain until you consent to his purpose—all that remains for you to decide is whether you choose to be prisoner or guest aboard."

"And if he should die?"

Estada shrugged his shoulders indifferently.

"Who knows?"

Her lips tightened as though to hold back a cry while one hand pressed to the open door steeled her. There was a look in the searching eyes I did not like to see. It was a moment before she could control her voice.

"Of what rank in this company are you?"

"I am Pedro Estada, formerly the first officer, now, by occasion of Captain Sanchez' wound, in full command."

These are two of my officers—Senor Gates, one of your own countrymen, and Manuel Estevan. And now that I have answered your questions, what is it to be between us—peace or war?"

Her eyes dropped, and I could distinctly note the trembling of her slender figure. When she slowly raised her glance once more it rested on my face as though seeking approval, guidance.

"If there be only the one choice," she said quietly, "I accept peace. I cannot live locked in that room alone haunted by my thoughts and memories. If I pledge you my word, señor, am I to enjoy the freedom of this cabin and the deck?"

Estada looked at us, a shade of doubt in his eyes. I made no sign, but Manuel nodded.

"Why not?" he asked in his harsh croak of a voice. "So long as we be at sea? What harm can the girl do?"

"Perhaps none; I will take a half chance, at least. You shall have the freedom of the cabin. So long as you keep your word, while as to the deck, we will consider that later. Prove you mean what you say by joining us here."

My recollection of that meal is not of words but of faces. Estada's eyes sought constantly the girl's face, and to my consternation exhibited an interest in her personality which promised trouble. I know not whether she noticed this awakening admiration, but she certainly played her part with quiet modesty. I believe that even the Portuguese reached the conclusion that she was not altogether regretful for this adventure and that it was safe for him to relax some degree of vigilance. His manner became more gracious, and long before the meal ended his language had a tendency to compliment and flatter. I contented myself with occasional sentences. The young woman sat directly across from me, our words overheard by all, and as I knew both men possessed some slight knowledge of English I dare not venture beyond commonplace conversation in that tongue. With quick wit she took her cue from me, so that nothing passed between us, either by word of mouth or glance of eye, to arouse suspicions.

Believing the feeling of confidence would be increased by such action, I was first to leave the table, and it being my watch below immediately retired to my room, noisily closing the door after me, yet refraining from letting the latch catch, thus enjoying a slight opening through which to both see and hear. Manuel did not linger long, making some excuse to go forward, but Estada remained for some time, endeavoring to entertain. His egotism made a fool of the man, yet even he finally became discouraged of making her comprehend his meaning, and lapsed into a silence which gave her an excuse to retire. This was accomplished so graciously as to leave no sting, the fellow actually accompanying her to the door of her stateroom, bowing his compliments as she disappeared within. The fool actually believed he had made a conquest and preened himself like a turkey cock.

"Gunaules, you need not lock the senorita in her room or guard her in any way hereafter. She is permitted to come and go as she pleases aboard."

Estada entered his own stateroom, leaving the door ajar. When he came out he had exchanged his coat for a rough jacket. Thus attired for a turn on deck, he disappeared through the companion.

CHAPTER XVI. —11— In Dorothy's Stateroom.

I stood crouched, with eye at the crack watchful of every movement in the lighted cabin, my own decision made. I must see and talk with Dorothy. Gunaules turned down the light and departed along the passage leading amidships. A moment later I heard the sound of dishes grinding together preparatory to being washed. No better opportunity for action was likely to occur, although the situation was not without peril. I crept along close to the side walls, lifted the latch noiselessly, and slipped quickly within. There was no light, except a glimmer of stars through a large after port, but against this faint radiance she stood vaguely revealed. Her first thought must have been Estada, for there was a startled note in her challenge.

"Who are you? Why do you come here?"

"Speak low," I cautioned. "You must know my voice."

"Geoffrey Carlyle!"

"Yes, but do not use that name—all hope depends on my remaining unknown. You welcome me?"

She came straight forward through the dim star shine, a spectral figure, with both hands outstretched.

"Welcome!" her tone that of intense sincerity. "Your presence gives me all the strength I have. But for you I should throw myself through that port into the sea. But I know not how you came here—tell me, you are not one of these wretches?"

"No; you must believe that first of all, and trust me."

"I do—but tell me all you can."

"Is there a divan here, or anywhere we can sit down together? I can see nothing in this darkness."

Carlyle saves Dorothy from death at the hands of a mysterious intruder but is unable to account for the sudden attack in the night. There is some dark plot behind it all. What will the morning disclose?

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By REV. F. E. FITZWATER, D. D.,
Teacher of English Bible in the Moody
Bible Institute of Chicago.
(Copyright, 1919, by Western Newspaper Union.)

LESSON FOR JULY 13

BAPTISM.

LESSON TEXTS—Matt. 28:18-20; Acts 8:34-40.

GOLDEN TEXT—For as many of you as have been baptized into Christ have put on Christ.—Gal. 3:27.

ADDITIONAL MATERIAL—Matt. 2:13-17; Acts 2:37, 38; 19:1-7; Col. 2:12; 1 Peter 3:18-21.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Jesus Christ Baptized by John.

JUNIOR TOPIC—The Baptism of Jesus Christ.

INTERMEDIATE TOPIC—The Pledge of Christian Discipleship.

SENIOR AND ADULT TOPIC—Significance and Importance of Christian Baptism.

1. The Apostles' Commission (Matt. 28:18-20).

1. The authority of Jesus, (v. 18). God gave him all authority in heaven and on earth. As mediator and coming king he possessed all authority. This authority extends over all the material world, angels, wicked men, devils, and his own people. God highly exalted him and gave him a name which is above every name (Phil. 2:9). There is no other way of salvation, for the entire matter of redemption is in his hands (Acts 4:12). Since God has so highly honored him it is extreme folly to expect to be saved while disregarding him.

2. The obligation of the apostles (vv. 19-20).

(1) It was to teach, that is, make disciples of all the nations (v. 19). They were to make known to the whole world that Christ had died to save sinners and that God had committed to Jesus the redemption of the world. Those who are Christ's disciples are bound to proclaim him to others.

(2) Baptize those who believe (v. 19). This is the divinely appointed way of making a public confession of faith in Christ. The disciples must publicly take a stand for Christ. The application of water symbolizes the purifying effect of the blood of Christ and solemnly dedicates to the service of God. This baptism must be in the name of the Father, Son and Holy Ghost, showing that the believer has been brought into definite relationship to each member of the Holy Trinity.

(3) Teach the disciples obedience (v. 20). Profession is not enough. It must issue in obedience. Faith must result in works. To call Jesus "Lord" and do not the things which he says profits nothing.

3. The all-sufficient promise (v. 20). The Lord had told the disciples what would happen to them after he had gone away. He made it plain that perils of all kinds awaited them. Though the difficulties were great nothing mattered so long as they had the presence and fellowship of the all-powerful Savior and Lord.

II. The Baptism of the Eunuch (Acts 8:34-40).

1. Philip preached Jesus Christ to him (v. 35). At the invitation of the eunuch Philip joined himself to the chariot and found the eunuch reading from the fifty-third chapter of Isaiah. Beginning with this Scripture he preached Christ. He did not preach Christ as a great teacher, but as a Savior who had suffered and died instead of the sinner. He preached him as one who had offered himself as a ransom for many. The fact that the eunuch, a great statesman, needed an interpreter of the Scriptures, even such a plain passage as the fifty-third chapter of Isaiah, shows the absolute need of a preacher. The printed page is valuable, but there will always be the need of a preacher. The gospel needs to be experienced before one can be a witness of its saving power.

2. The eunuch requesting baptism (v. 36).

When Christ is truly preached men naturally desire to confess him in baptism. In many quarters baptism has been unduly emphasized, but in others it has been disregarded. It is highly important that an intelligent understanding of its meaning be possessed; for that of which Jesus Christ gave an example and a command is highly important.

3. Philip baptizing the eunuch (v. 38). Having secured from the eunuch the proper confession Philip baptized him. It is faith in Christ that saves, but those who have genuine faith desire to seal it in baptism.

4. The eunuch rejoicing (v. 39). Confession of Christ brings joy. Those who obey the commandments of the Lord can go on their way rejoicing.

Jesus Saves.

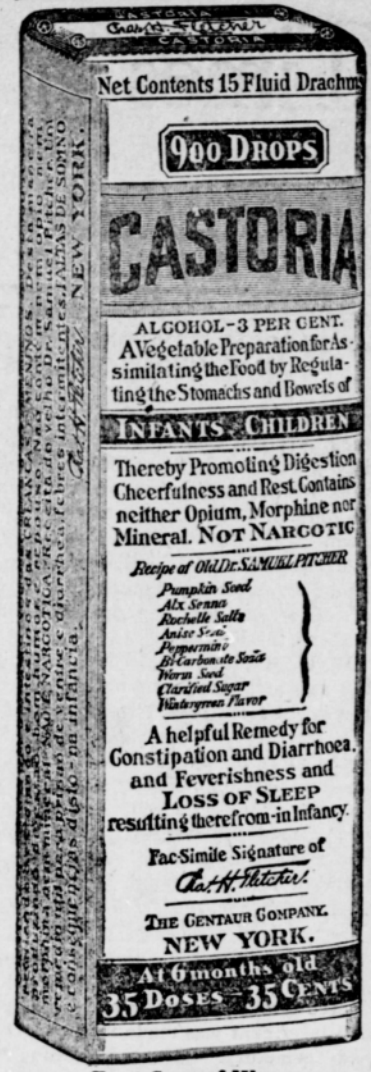

As a child walking over a slippery and dangerous path cries out, "Father, I am falling!" and has but a moment to catch his father's hand, so every believer sees hours when only the hand of Jesus comes between him and the abysses of destruction.—Cuppler.

Wise in Time.

"Nine-tenths of our wisdom lies in being wise in time," says a great statesman. As far as results are concerned, the wisdom that comes too late is often little better than folly. "If only I had thought of it when the chance offered, I might," is the prelude to many of our useless regrets.

Self Distrust Causes Failure.

In the assurance of strength there is strength; and they are the weakest, however, strong, who have no faith.—Bovee.

A FEW LOCAL MENTIONS IN SEMINOLE SENTINEL

C. E. Rollins and C. E. Slaton this week received 252 steer yearlings they purchased in New Mexico last week. They are being pastured on the old W. W. Harbour ranch west of town.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Williams, accompanied by their guest, Miss Mitchell, left Thursday morning for Midland to spend the Fourth.

W. W. Harbour this week received 112 two and three-year old steers he purchased from New Mexico parties.

A message was received here Saturday morning by A. C. Kimbrough, who was here on business, stating that his wife, who has been in a sanitarium at Carlsbad for several months past, was growing weaker and not expected to live. Mr. Kimbrough left immediately for her bedside and friends here received a message stating that death came about 9 o'clock Saturday evening. Funeral services were conducted Monday morning at 10 o'clock and interment was made in the Carlsbad cemetery. Mrs. Kimbrough's health had been bad for some time, and although it was expected, her death came as a sad surprise to friends here.

STORAGE WAREHOUSE TO BE FILLED SOON

From reports of the officers of the South Plains Sheep and Wool Growers Association, we find that this week will be the heaviest time of the season for the handling of wool. All those that are members are expected to have their shearings in the store house by the last day of the week. Carol Thompson, one of the men helping in the Association's work, says there will likely be more than two hundred thousand pounds in storage here before the tenth of this month—the date set for the buyers to be here, this is accounted for by many of the sheep men who were late in getting lined up with the association.

JONES WOULD PAY PUBLIC DEBT IN INSTALLMENTS

The Secretary of the Treasury is called upon in a measure introduced by Representative Jones of Texas to inform Congress as to the total and the unpaid war debt of the nation and what sum would be required each year for principal and interest to retire this debt in equal annual payments extending over a period of from forty to sixty years.

The measure was referred to the Ways and Means Committee, which has jurisdiction over financial legislation.

Jones' inquiry is along lines of a speech delivered in the House last week in which he suggested that the war debt be paid in small installments extended throughout a period of forty to sixty years. He urged that the sum is so great that the entire burden should not be assumed by the taxpayers during the next few years.

SEVERAL LUBBOCK BOYS JOIN ARMY THIS WEEK

With the numerous recruiting parties that have been in Lubbock for several days and some that are still here we find that a few of Lubbock boys are joining in the different branches of service. Among those that joined the first of this week were: Edward C. Griffith, and H. S. Thomas, Aviation. Pete Herzt with the 19th Infantry at El Paso and Weldon Dillard and John Bailey, in the medical corps at Tulaferro field.

Lubbock entertained the largest crowd that it has ever been her pleasure to do, and we believe that we state it properly when we say "entertain."

COMPLETE RETURNS ON CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS

Austin, Texas, July 4.—Complete official totals ascertained by the State Canvassing Board show that the home ownership amendment lost by less than 800 votes. The total cast for the amendment, exclusive of Stonewall County, was 152,422, with 153,243 against, or a difference of 821. Stonewall County gave the amendment 170 votes and 136 against but its returns were not properly certified and are not included in the totals.

Governor Hobby told friends today that he will continue his advocacy of the home ownership amendment that its defeat was due to the strong anti vote engendered by the anti-prohibition efforts, and that defeat by less than 800 votes amounts to a mere accident.

The Governor said that a great principle is involved and he informed friends that his efforts in the future would be to amend the Constitution so as to increase home-owning in Texas and enable the poor man to acquire a home and to improve his home.

Other totals found by the board follow:

Prohibition—For 159,723, against 140,099.

Equal Suffrage—For 141,773, against 166,893.

Governor's satary—For 108,526, against 193,359.

MRS. J. O. TURNER KILLED ON THURSDAY

Mrs. J. O. Turner died Thursday night from the result of bruises administered upon her head that afternoon during an assault upon her by her step-son, Onnie Turner.

Mrs. Turner was at her home southeast of Canyon together with her youngest son when Onnie came out of the house with a gun, and according to the lad, shot three times at them. The lad fled for safety, stating that the first shot struck the ground right at his feet. Onnie turned upon Mrs. Turner, who tried to get the gun from him, administering heavy blows upon her head. The boy gave the alarm and soon all of the members of the family were called, finding Mrs. Turner in a very bad condition, her head being cut and smashed by the hard blows. She never regained consciousness. Onnie escaped, but after an all night search was discovered in hiding early the next day.

The funeral services were held on

LUBBOCK ENTERTAINS ROYALLY ON THE FOURTH

The City of Lubbock entertained something like eight or ten thousand people from all over the plains country last Friday, the Fourth of July. The program was carried out in most satisfactory manner as advertised and everybody had a good time. There was plenty of barbecue, bread and pickles to feed the crowd, and the city of Lubbock has won a warm spot in the hearts of thousands of people from outside points in the way she so royally entertained on this date. A hundred or more Lynn county citizens were there to help celebrate the occasion of the home-coming of the soldier boys, and all had a good time, being well paid for the trip of thirty-five miles overland, and by train. Lubbock citizens deserve much credit for the way in which the enormous crowd was handled during the day and night.

ITEMS FROM THE TERRY COUNTY HERALD

Among the prominent Baptist from Tahoka, who visited here Monday night, were Mrs. G. E. Lockhart and daughter, Editor and Mrs. Haynes, of the Lynn County News, and Revs. L. F. Parker and the Association Missionary, L. W. Williamson, of Slaton, Rev. J. P. Horton, of Post City, preached a sermon at the Baptist church, after which a business meeting was held, at which it was decided to hold a revival here, beginning the third Sunday in this month, Rev. Horton doing the preaching for them.

Mr. Hogues' team ran away in his field one day last week with one of those long knived weed cutters that he worked four horses to, and one of them got his leg cut off which necessitated his destruction, and another horse was badly cut, and the harness badly torn up. Mr. Hogues said he was nearly done weeding that field that is close to his house, and went to get a drink of water, and he thinks a fly bit one of the young horses and started the runaway. The old family horse that did not want to run was the one that was killed.

The two weeks revival of the local Methodist church, came to a successful close Sunday night amid great rejoicing, and it was pronounced by all who attended these series of meetings to be a success from every point, not only for the moral betterment of the town, but from many other angles. We understand that near 100 reclaimations and conversions were the direct result, and about one dozen were received into the Methodist church and we understand that there will be additions to several of the other churches as a result. Rev. Hawkins left early Monday for Tahoka to take a train for Fort Worth, as he could not get a train out of here before Tuesday, as he wanted to be with his family as much as possible before they start a meeting at the Union Gospel Mission at Ft. Worth. The singer, Mr. Johnson, however, stayed over till Tuesday in order to attend a picnic, at noon Monday with an organization of youngsters called the Boosters, under the Welch shady park and then at evening, another with an organization of grown young men and women, called the Laugh-a-lots and Smile-a-whiles at the old Sawyer ranch, which lasted well into the night.

Why We Sell The General Tire

We sell automobile tires for a living, but we buy hats, and shoes, and many other things for ourselves. When we order a new suit and our tailor says he will patch it up if it doesn't wear well, we wish that we had gone to some other tailor who sells suits that do wear well.

When we had a chance to sell a tire that lasts longer than its guarantee, we were glad.

For it means that we satisfy our customers—that we don't have to patch up poor tires—that we don't have to waste our time and theirs in making endless tire adjustments.

GENERAL TIRES are guaranteed for 5,000 miles—and outlast their guarantee.

Handling GENERAL TIRES has greatly simplified our tire business and we earnestly recommend their use to any car-owner wishing to simplify his tire troubles. We ask owners of automobiles to come in and visit us and see the new tires that stand out among all others because they stand up. Come in and see the tires that please us so much.

PARIS.—Here in Paris Red Cross leaders of the world have taken the first steps in planning a peace-time program of Red Cross activities that will benefit humanity everywhere. It's an American idea, this co-ordination of the common campaign against human suffering in all lands, even though such leaders as Henry P. Davison, never give out a hint that the plan originated in the United States. The French and other allied experts who are helping give the Americans fullest credit for their foresight in launching the movement for a league of Red Cross societies.

For the plan is launched. The international organization was begun at a series of conferences held in the Hotel Regina—headquarters of the American Red Cross in France, with delegates of the French, English, Italian and Japanese Red Cross societies co-operating with the Americans on the grand strategy of the campaign, which in its conception and aims is the greatest force that has yet been suggested for the alleviation of miseries that are the burden of the human race.

The outstanding enemies of human happiness everywhere, the Red Cross experts have come to believe, are first of all the more malignant diseases: Tuberculosis, malaria, typhus or spotted fever, to say nothing of influenza and venereal diseases.

If these maladies are to be fought successfully, it means that contributory causes such as poor housing conditions, unsanitary cities, neglect of child welfare movements, and inefficient public health organizations must be corrected and eradicated.

Consequently, when the first big gathering of world famous experts was held at Cannes, France, recently to formulate a program for the league of Red Cross societies, these fundamental subjects were given a most thorough consideration and the opinions of the experts were co-ordinated on the main features of the forthcoming crusade.

Some of the best scientific talent in the world was brought together for the Cannes conference. Out of the series of meetings some concrete plans developed that will form the foundation for the future work of the Red Cross societies of the world.

One of the main thoughts expressed by Mr. Davison, and approved by other promoters of the plan, was the idea that no Red Cross society will in any measure lose its identity in supporting and co-ordinating its efforts with the league of Red Cross societies. Nor will the national Red Cross organizations seek to usurp the functions of the various agencies already in existence working for the prevention of disease and for the betterment of humanity. Rather will the organizations, like the American Red Cross for example, encourage and co-operate with institutions like the United States public health service, the Rockefeller foundation, and other similar organizations, in the general fight against disease.

One of the important decisions of the Cannes conference was an agreement on the campaign plans for curbing the ravages of tuberculosis, which has become more prevalent in Europe since the war on account of the low nutrition value of the diet of the people, and because of the general fuel shortage and the shoddy clothing that came into use as a result of the shortage in raw materials due to restricted importations of wool and cotton. While the European populations generally suffered from the cold of winter in fireless houses, their clothes were less warm, and their diet was less heating than in the pre-war days. These conditions, even in the countries like France and England, were serious. And in the neutral countries like Holland and Denmark, where the blockade was tightly maintained, conditions became very difficult. In the countries like Serbia, Poland and Roumania the general destitution became pitiable.

First of all, the campaign plans against tuberculosis contemplate the erection of dispensaries on an adequate scale furnished with laboratories and appropriate equipment and affording provision for early diagnosis by expert physicians. Especially trained nurses are to be attached to the dispensaries charged with the assignment of visiting the homes of tuberculosis sufferers, where the necessary care, treatment, instruction and advice can be given to men, women and children so far gone with the scourge that they are unable to visit the dispensary.

The second clause of the concise campaign plans against tuberculosis recommends a system of regular inspections in the schools, where children in the early stages of consumption can be found, thereby making possible the removal of the afflicted boys and girls who by their presence among the healthy youngsters endanger the health of whole communities.

For the advanced and hopeless cases of consumption the creation of an adequate hospital system is suggested.

For cases where a cure is possible, a system of sanatoriums is recommended.

That a campaign of popular education should in the meantime be carried on for the benefit of the general public, is deemed essential to the plan. In this campaign widespread publicity would be given to the causes and means of preventing tuberculosis—every suitable publicity agency being utilized for the purpose. The anti-tuberculosis crusade is linked closely with the improvement of the general living and working conditions of the people everywhere. It involves the problems of housing, nutrition, and alcoholism. So that the section of the league of Red Cross societies combating tuberculosis must of necessity depend on and work in harmony with other departments directly interested in better housing conditions and the other movements calculated to improve living conditions.

Impure milk may be the means of transmitting tuberculosis germs. Therefore the Red Cross crusade against consumption includes a recommendation for the institution of appropriate measures for preventing the buying and selling of dirty milk.

Naturally the open-air school for tubercular children is commended and emphasis is put on the need of extending the open-air plan wherever possible for barracks, asylums, orphanages, workhouses, and prisons. Thousands of men, women and children, only slightly affected with consumption, are better citizens if they can work at jobs that do not act as a barrier to recovery. These jobs, however, do not exist in sufficient numbers to fill the needs of a world that is filled with an increasing number of tubercular people. Therefore it will become a special task of the Red Cross people to encourage individuals and organizations to greater efforts in solving this important problem—the creation of industries particularly adapted to the employment of consumptives.

Farm colonies connected with the sanatoriums are suggested as a partial solution of the problem. Under such a plan the workers would have the advantage of being under the supervision of expert doctors, who could be relied on to see that the right balance of work and recreation and treatment was maintained. At the present time farm colonies are in particular favor as a means of affording employment to people with very light cases.

That quackery in the treatment of consumption must be stamped out is a determined stand taken by the Red Cross. The world today is cursed with a comparatively small number of so-called doctors and with comparatively few nostrum factories that sell alleged consumption cures. One of the essential features of the campaign against consumption is that the health experts should have at hand an accurate summary of the distribution of consumption in every community. Knowledge of this kind is of the greatest possible assistance in carrying on a campaign. For the local staffs, such information enables the community dispensary staff to locate the breeding grounds of tuberculosis and center its fight on the dangerous sectors.

Mrs. M. J. Porter of Leon, Kan., noticed an old wolf around a tree stump, and when she investigated she found eight young wolves. She killed them.

There is a probable opportunity, according to Vice-Consul Griffith of Santiago de Cuba, for the sale of portable lenses to sugar mill owners and other large employers of labor on that island. Such houses, however, could not be sold to householders for private buildings, purposes because of the universal use of the Spanish style of structure, featuring the patio or central court.

MAKING STUDY OF VOLCANOES

Department of Agriculture Has Taken Up New Line, Which is Bound to Be of Interest.

The department of agriculture has begun the extensive observation of the volcanoes within its borders and insular possessions, and has recently taken formal charge of the observatory on Kilauea, Hawaiian islands. Prof. T. A. Jaggar, Jr., formerly of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, who has been director of the observatory since its foundation, will remain in charge. The investigations at Kilauea were begun in 1912, under the auspices of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and since 1913 have been maintained at the expense of the Hawaiian Volcano Research association, consisting chiefly of residents of Honolulu. It is expected that the weather bureau's work in volcanology will be developed in many details and eventually be extended to Alaska and other regions under the control of the United States in which active volcanoes exist.

NEVER KNEW HE WAS BEATEN

That Quality, Among Many Others, Accounts for Andrew Jackson's Rise to Greatness.

The boyhood friends of Andrew Jackson, so the story goes, could never quite understand how Jackson became so great a general—not to say president—while the rest of them remained simple pioneer citizens at home.
"Why, Jim Brown, right down the pike here," they said, "could those Andy three times out of four; and how where he is now?"

"How did there happen to be the fourth time?" asked some one. "De-al-ly it's three times and out, isn't it?"
"Sure it is. But Andy, you never had the sense to know when he was beat. He would never get tired out throwing him and so would throw himself. And then Andy would think he'd beat him."

There is a whole sermon in a shell in that simple little anecdote. The thing that counts is not how many times you are "threwed," but when you are willing to "stay throwed."

Your adversary, whether he be person or a misfortune or a difficulty or just a hard job, can be tired out the end by throwing you just as you throw him. It is merely a question which of you gives in—in his mind first, and "stays throwed." Remember that!—Youth's Companion.

Resuscitation Record.

What is said to be the record for resuscitation from drowning was accomplished by United States lifesavers after the victim had been submerged for six minutes. Among a great many persons the erroneous belief exists that persons can be resuscitated after lying in the water a great length of time. Cases have been known where resuscitation methods were used hours after the drowned persons had been under water for a half-hour or even longer. Thus it will be seen that drowning is a quick death and a hazard of the water corresponding great.

How to Care for Gloves.

There are right and wrong ways of putting on gloves. The right way does not injure them; the wrong way weakens and tears the skin or fabric in a very short time. Black kid gloves should be kept in paraffin or oiled paper. A black glove is a white skin painted. This paint will harden and dry if not properly cared for. All gloves should be kept away from salt or damp air as much as possible. They should be kept dry, but away from heat. Time and great care should be taken in putting them on the first time, so that the seams may not be stretched.

Mending the Gloves.
Use cotton thread for mending the gloves, as silk thread will cut the kid. Do not use the over and over stitch, as it always shows so plainly. Take a stitch on one side of the seam and then a stitch on the opposite side, and draw them together. This keeps the regular seam intact and conceals the fact that the glove is mended.

To Keep Evening Gloves Clean.
To keep evening gloves clean in a street car or train draw a pair of loose white silk or lisle gloves over the kid. The outer gloves may be easily drawn off and slipped into muff or pocket.

Cut off the hand part of long gloves.

The arm part is perfectly good. Take it to a glove factory, and have a short pair of gloves, that match in color, sewed on the arm part, or you can do it yourself, using a feather or embroidery stitch.

Many Designs for Fall.

The extreme novelties that are being featured in the fall clothing line should, in the opinion of manufacturers' representatives, prove somewhat puzzling to the retailer called upon to make a selection. It was pointed out that, after a dearth of variety during the war, the change to extreme styles may turn out very disconcerting. With the manufacturers already urging the retail trade to be quick about their selections and order plenty of merchandise the retailer faces a difficult situation. He must decide on what he wants from a multitude of new and novel designs.

Handkerchiefs.

Colored linen handkerchiefs in the conventional shades of lavender, pink, yellow and blue, show a drawnwork band set in a little from the hem-stitched hem. These handkerchiefs are especially dainty and any woman who likes colored handkerchiefs would be sure to find them attractive.

Gowns for Summer Afternoons

There is a fashion for wearing an overslip of silk or satin that admits of several overdresses to one underslip. It is most convenient and economical, because, with one or two underslips, one may achieve a variety of toilettes that will do duty for afternoon and evening wear. Satin slips in black, navy blue, dark brown, or gray prove their adaptability to overdresses of printed georgette, voile and similar fabrics and slips of plain or shot taffeta in light colors make the lovely foundations used in lace, net and all the other light colored sheer dress stuffs. Besides being useful for dress stuffs. Besides being useful for dress stuffs.

The last arrivals in afternoon frocks could not ask for better representation than the two that speak so well for the season's styles in the picture above. Nearly all of them have soft sashes or easy girdles at the waist line and there are many very dainty laces used over the light colored slips. Voiles and fine nets and crisp organdies are lovely over them and seem to add distinction to their dainty charm when worn over black slips. One of these lace dresses over a taffeta slip is shown at the left of the two models in the picture. The sash and the cluster of blossoms set in the front of it are both in the same color as the underslip. There is a fad color for placing blossoms at the front of the girdle. They indicate that their loveliness inspired the color of the frock.

A printed georgette in a dark color with light tan figures is shown in the model at the right. Georgette much like this has been shown since the beginning of the season and never mangled with greater success than in this gown. There is a vest of moire ribbon set together with needlework and full ruchings of ribbon used in bands about the sleeves at the end of panels and around the bottom of the overdress. It would be hard to pick out a combination of color for this frock more cool and elegant looking than blue and tan, but there is no doubt it will be elegant in any of the season's popular colors.

Julia Bottomley

Of Good Quality.

More clothing retailers than ever before, it was stated by the representative of a leading clothing house, have decided not to wait for salesmen to get to them but have put in their initial orders for fall merchandise, says the New York Times. The result of this desire to get their orders in early has so far made the volume of fall business done better than in any previous season. Prices have had no effect in curtailing orders, and the one idea of the retail trade seems to be to get quality. Many of them have mentioned that the wholesale trade has shown good judgment in making high standards of goods and workmanship of first consideration this season, and they say that this policy is in line with conditions that they have found.

Hats for Sport Wear.

A smart sport hat that is being introduced by millinery manufacturers is made of a combination of heavy batavia cloth and milan hemp. The cloth is treated with stiffening and is stretched firmly over the top of a large sailor or mushroom shape. Manila color is used in conjunction with facings of different hues. Titian, jay blue, henna and navy are effectively combined with the shade of the cloth. Novelty ribbons to match the facings are used as bands, and are finished with bows, cockades and short ends which lie flat on the upper brim.

Lesson of Experience

All over the world farsighted housewives have been taught new standards of living and working. Penny-wise and pound-foolish habits were so persistently pointed out by the iron fingers of War that they are never to be practiced again. High table costs had plowed into our resources but thrift has sown the seed of the greatest crop in history, a glorious crop of new standards—new ideas and quality ideals. The rich and poor alike have learned to eliminate waste, to avoid extremes and to look for quality first, quantity and price afterwards.

Take for example the one most important item in the pantry, the one that is depended on to leaven all the rest—Baking Powder. It has not been many years since there was a class of housewives who were guided only by price in the purchase of their baking powder, with the result that they paid exorbitant figures, fully double what it was necessary to spend.

Then there was the other extreme—the misguided woman whose idea of economy was to get the largest amount for her money. These two types have almost vanished. Today, neither silk nor calico is the popular fabric. The sensible housewife who reads and thinks for herself has taken charge of the home. In buying baking powder she recognizes that a single penny's worth may result in a partial, if not total loss of the other expensive companion ingredients, such as flour, butter, sugar, eggs, extracts, etc. Hence, she buys a high quality at a moderate price, such as Calumet which sells for 30-cents a pound, and goes twice as far as the old style Trust goods which cost double as much, thus making a four-time saving as well as insuring her reputation as a good cook.

This remarkable improvement, which has resulted in the housewife adopting the standards of the happy medium variety and avoiding dangerous extremes, is more pronounced in matters of table cost than in other lines, merely because of the intensive patriotic effort that was put behind the Save Food campaign. Smart buyers for the homes look beyond the size of the package or the attractive label which it carries, and demand to know the inside facts. Grocery specialties are no longer bought on their mere titles. What they are is no more important than what they will do.

If a small bottle of flavoring extract at 30-cents goes twice as far as a large bottle sold at 25 cents, the inducement of the big bottle appeals to very few. If a quarter of a pound of baking powder has more leavening value and goes farther than a 12 curce at the same price, the big can fails to appeal to the modern home-builder who thinks for herself and is no longer an easy victim of the something-for-nothing faker who in pre-war days so frequently used such products as tea, coffee, baking powder, spices and extracts as a vehicle for his pretended willingness to “furnish a home complete” through some lottery or other fake scheme.

SATISFY!

—what the deuce does that mean?

It means that NEW thing in a cigarette, that does for your smoke-hunger exactly what a drink of cold water does for your thirst!

To satisfy, a cigarette must do more than please the taste—it must "touch the smoke-spot."

That's what Chesterfields do. They let you know you are smoking—they SATISFY.

And here's why—Chesterfields have body. The finer, silkier leaves of TURKISH have been properly blended with several varieties of the best DOMESTIC tobaccos, famous for their full-bodied flavor.

SATISFY is something that no cigarette, except Chesterfields, can give you—regardless of price. Because no cigarette maker can copy the Chesterfield blend.

Say "Chesterfield" to your dealer.
