Gates To Cologne Opened By Yanks

Five Towns Fall To Allied Armies

LONDON, Nov. 29 (AP)—American tanks and infantry drove deeper into the corroding German front along the Roer river today after forcing the Germans from five towns in bitter battles to force open the gates to Cologne, 2 miles away.

Langerwehe, last major communications point west of the Roer and four miles from the river citadel of Duren, fell late yesterday, dispatches from the First army said. The town had been entered Monday morning and the beaten Germans did not attempt a counterattack after quitting its eastern limits. Also seized were Hürtgen, Kleinhau, Jungersdorf and Koslar.

The First army charged on through stiff opposition into the western outskirts of Merode, a mile southeast of Jungersdorf and 3 1/2 miles from Duren.

In the center of the western front, Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's divisions drove as much as ten miles forward, and at places reached the tough outer crust of the Siegfried line in the rich Saar basin. His men were within eight miles of Saarbrücken, blackened capital of the Saar, and inside the industrial basin on a 26-mile front. The important towns of Saarlautern, Hagenau, Merzig, Forbach, Sarreguemines, and Sarre Union all were imminently threatened.

The French First army in the south tramped many Germans between Mulhouse and Belfort.

U. S. First army veterans cleared the last house and cellar of the devastated forest town of Hürtgen after three days, and then drove a mile northeast and captured Kleinhau, Jungersdorf, four miles from the Roer river fortress city of Duren, fell.

The Ninth army shattered organized resistance at Koslar and moved within less than a mile of Julich, a pivot of the Roer river line. Two bridges were seized over the narrow Inde river, tributary of the Roer, at Inden and Aldorf.

(1) In the north, a deadly battle of attrition continued and its object was to destroy the bulk of German forces and reserves which were massed on this narrow front. (2) In the center, Allied progress was swift in the western fringe of the Saar basin and in the last siele corner of France. (3) In the south below Strasbourg, American and French units were consolidating and mopping up those Germans still in the difficult Vosge mountains and Alsatian plain.

On all sections of the front, communications were being strengthened, supplies and reserves were moving up, and Gen. Eisenhower's assault forces of 55 or more identified divisions were being strengthened for yet another and more powerful surge at the vitals of Germany—the arsenal industrial centers of the Ruhr, Rhineland and Saar.

RESIDENTS COOPERATE

Nat Shick, postmaster, said Wednesday that citizens of Big Spring were showing a "fine cooperative spirit" in the early mailing of Christmas packages. He added that by doing this, mail will be delivered more quickly and confusion cut down to a great extent.

Newly Appointed University Regent Dr. Judson L. Taylor Dies Suddenly

HOUSTON, Nov. 29 (P)—Dr. Judson L. Taylor, 63, Houston surgeon appointed to the board of regents of the University of Texas 16 days ago, died of a heart attack here last night. Dr. Taylor had attended his first session with the regents in El Paso and had returned to Houston Sunday. Relatives said he spent the day at his office as usual and apparently was feeling well when he left the table after dinner yesterday.

He was stricken shortly after dinner. Dr. Taylor was born in Waery, Texas, in 1881. He attended Texas public schools and went to Texas A. and M. He was graduated from the University of Texas Medical school at Galveston in 1903. He served in the navy from 1903 until 1912. He re-enlisted in World War I, and in the present was serving as a commander in the office of naval officer procurement. He was active in other fields. He was interested in Baylor University Medical school here and was a member of the medical school faculty. He was also head of the surgical work for crippled children's clinic of Arabia Temple. Dr. Taylor accepted a telephone appointment to the Texas board of regents by Gov. Coke Stevenson a little over two weeks ago. He succeeded Dan J. Harrison, Houston oil man who resigned when Dr. Homer P. Rainey was discharged Nov. 1. He is survived by his widow, two daughters, Mrs. Norman A. Binz of Houston and Mrs. D. A. Otto of Boerne; a brother, Dr. M. J. Taylor, Houston; a sister, Mrs. Jack Thomas of San Marcos; and six grandchildren.

Japs Reported In Retreat

Enemy Making Desperate Try In Philippines

By LEONARD MILLIMAN Associated Press War Editor

Japanese forces were reported in general retreat in Burma today and making desperate efforts to seize the offensive in the Philippines to gain time for further conquest of China.

A Chinese spokesman admitted the military situation was so grave "the government is sparing no effort" to reach agreement with Chinese communists, long estranged from Chiang Kai-shek. He insisted the invaders could never take Chungking but Tokyo reported 30,000 civilian Chinese were fleeing from Japanese columns driving into the heart of China.

Tokyo radio claimed Japanese assault forces reinvaded Morotal, American airbase island 300 miles south of the Philippines, without the loss of a man.

On the opposite side of Leyte island during American destroyers circled slowly through enemy minefields for three hours, meanwhile heavily bombarding Ormoc, key to Japan's Leyte defenses.

Thirteen miles to the south, Associated Press War Correspondent Spencer Davis reported, Japanese troops have been counter-attacking American 7th division outposts for a week in costly, but well-planned nighttime sorties. About 600 Japanese and 100 doughboys have been killed in this Philippine probing for a spot to make a general breakthrough.

Japan's reported counter-offensive thrusts in and around the Philippines were coupled with an apparent general withdrawal of Nipponese troops from central and north Burma. Some Allied sources interpreted this as the beginning of a general evacuation of all Burma.

Enemy troops were reported withdrawing from both the southwest China and northeast Burma sectors of the Burma road before Chinese columns making deep penetrations from Bhamo and in the Salween sector.

Canada Problem Of Concription Nears Solution

By HARRY T. MONTGOMERY

OTTAWA, Nov. 29 (AP)—Canada's explosive conscription problem moved toward solution in its purely parliamentary phases today as drafted troops in Pacific coast camps still were protesting against the government's new policy of sending some of them overseas.

In a rare secret session, parliament heard Defense Minister A. G. L. McNaughton until nearly midnight last night, then adjourned to resume open deliberations this afternoon.

In parliament, after a week of one of the gravest crises in Canada's modern history revolving around the traditional racial conflict over conscription of troops for overseas duty, Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King appeared to have won sufficient support to give him a comfortable majority on a vote of confidence to be taken in the next few days.

Protest demonstrations of a less violent nature were staged in British Columbia, all of these involving English-speaking units, and sporadic demonstrations by small groups and individuals occurred in other parts of Canada.

Reds Surge Forward

Soviets Cross Flooded Streams In New Assault

LONDON, Nov. 29 (AP)—Fording flooded rivers pouring down from the Carpathians, the Red army has surged westward along the full breadth of eastern Slovakia, capturing more than 60 communities, Moscow reported today.

In northern Hungary the Russians cleared the enemy from the right bank of the Tisza river, occupying an additional 14 populated places. The advances measured up to 14 miles on two closely linked fronts that total more than 110 miles.

The Soviet communique said 400 Germans were killed and 150 captured in the fighting for the Slovak town of Vysni Svidnik, while another 600 were captured at a highway junction on the Hungarian border.

The German high command declared a new Soviet offensive west of the Danube in Hungary had reached the coal mining city of Pecs, carrying 23 miles beyond captured Mohacs. Pecs is about 100 miles south of Budapest. Moscow has made no announcement of a new drive in this area.

Vysni Svidnik, captured after bitter fighting, is in the southern approach to Dukla pass and 10 miles southwest of the Polish border.

Crossing of the Tisza put the last 35-mile stretch of the river in Soviet hands northeast from Tokaj (Tokay).

Elsewhere along the 1,500 mile eastern front winding from the Baltics to the Balkans there was tenseness as the Germans awaited the first blows in Premier-Marshals Stalin's promised winter offensive.

Marshal Ivan Petrov's Fourth Ukrainian army fighting in Dukla pass is seeking a short route linking Russian armies in Poland with those operating in eastern Slovakia and Hungary.

His line is just inside eastern Slovakia, with a southwest extension from Casp 70 miles to the area of Moskolc, where it was close to a junction with Marshal Rodion Malinovsky's Second Ukrainian army.

Foreign Relations Committee Lauds Stettinius Choice

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29 (AP)—Confirmation of Edward R. Stettinius, Jr., as secretary of state was recommended unanimously by the senate foreign relations committee today.

The committee also approved the nomination of Maj. Gen. Patrick J. Hurley as ambassador to China.

Chairman Connally (D-Tex) said he would ask the senate to act on both nominations later today.

The committee, he added, engaged in no discussion before approving the president's elevation of the 44-year-old platinum haired under secretary to the post held so long by Ailing Cordell Hull. Hull himself warmly endorsed the appointment, and Senator George (D-Ga.), ranking democratic member of the committee, said he hoped Stettinius would continue in his new post to be just as frank with the senators as he has been as undersecretary and as lead lease administrator.

Sixth Bond Sale Third Completed

Reports through Tuesday of bond sales indicate that with a third of the Sixth War Loan drive elapsed, E bond sales are a third completed, bond headquarters announced today.

Sales of E bonds stand at $123,174 while the overall sales stand at $384,997. Bond chairman again stated that there would be no difficulty in reaching the overall quota if the individual citizen would purchase his full share of E bonds.

Bond chairman again urged all business houses to cooperate Thursday by closing from 2:15 to 4:30 p. m. for the G.I. Jamboree to be given at the city auditorium under direction of the Bombardier school. Sgt. Ed Todd, in charge of the program, stated that the program will be better than the smash hit "Khaki" which he produced last season.

Musical and comedy numbers will be presented by soldiers and WACs of the field. Harley Sadler, veteran West Texas showman will assist as master of ceremonies. The event is being held without charge and will feature a bond selling rally.

Three returned war heroes will speak and include S/Sgt. Herman P. Ehrhard, pictured here, 21 year old tall runner with a heroic record won in the Air Corps in the European theater of operations. He has been awarded the Air Medal and two bronze stars. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Ehrhard of St. Louis.

Super entertainment plus inspiring talks by the three soldiers will be features of the Jamboree and a community-wide attendance is predicted. Business houses will display flags before their stores all day Thursday in order to help advertise the Jamboree.

Bond chairman pointed out that spirited buying of E bonds at the rally could put the county over the top before the required time and put Howard county on the record as one of the first to make its quota.

Reports from the Douglass Hotel reported to headquarters showed that that establishment was already one hundred percent subscribed to the bond drive.

Himstead Declares Tech Professor Dismissed Without Good Cause

AUSTIN, Nov. 29 (AP)—Dr. Ralph Himstead, secretary of the American Association of University Professors, last night testified before the senate committee investigating University of Texas affairs that:

"The AAUP should have published a report about the case of a professor dismissed at Texas Tech four years ago but did not because it decided to 'let bygones be bygones.'"

The association had received complaints about failure to re-employ medical school faculty members at Galveston but that the question of academic freedom was not raised, and none of those complaining "was entitled to tenure."

"The association has recently 'become disturbed' about Texas A. and M. because of what seemed to be 'a spirit of administrative autocracy.'" He said he had been informed that circulation of a questionnaire regarding compulsory military training had not been allowed by the president. He did not specify which president.

Discussing the Texas Tech case, Himstead said that a professor had been dismissed not because of incompetency but because the chairman of his department felt he was mentally ill.

"When we took the matter up with President Jones (former President Clifford Jones), he said that if the professor would submit to examination by a psychiatrist and be declared mentally fit, he would be re-instated. The professor-obtained such a declaration after an examination by a competent psychiatrist, but the professor was not re-instated," Himstead testified.

Mrs. S. C. Cooper Reviews Book By Helen Smith In Tea Honoring Author

Mrs. Helen Reagan Smith, author of "If My People" was honored by members of the First Baptist Women's Missionary Union Tuesday afternoon in the church's prayer meeting room.

Singular tribute was paid her in the review of her book which climaxed the affair.

In the receiving line were Mrs. L. E. Hutchins president of the W.M.U.; the honoree; her mother, Mrs. B. Reagan; Mrs. W. J. Alexander; Mrs. John Priddy, Stanton, and Mrs. John Simons, Colorado City, former teachers of Mrs. Smith; and Mrs. J. M. White, Midland, district W.M.U. president.

Autumnal theme was developed in decorations and flowers, a bouquet of bronze chrysanthemums centering the table and red roses and autumn leaves on the piano top. Programs, done as vari-colored leaves by Mrs. John Coffey, and napkins bearing the inscription of the book were mementos of the occasion.

Mrs. K. S. Beckett and Mrs. W. R. Creighton poured from silver

God does not change and the way to real happiness is in a return to Him, Mrs. S. C. Cooper declared in a masterful review of Helen Reagan Smith's book, "If My People," at a tea in honor of the author at the First Baptist church Tuesday afternoon.

Her summary of the book amounted to a capable verbal digest as she held her listeners in complete interest during its course.

Closely following the pattern of the work, Mrs. Cooper based her comments on the basic scripture from II Chronicles 7:14 — "If my people, which are called by my name, shall humble themselves, and pray, and seek my face, and turn from their wicked ways; then will I hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin, and will heal their land."

And who are God's people? They are those who do the will of God, and God is constant, the same who was the God of Moses. It is the people who wander away from God and not a change in the Divine Being that works for unhappiness and misery, the reviewer reminded. If they do pretend to be called by God's name, then they face a staggering responsibility of endeavoring to be worthy children.

If they humble themselves — and groveling in the dirt is not being humble, rather making an earnest acknowledgment of God. Unless and until a sincere attitude is developed, false pride will stand as a stumbling block and as a barricade, she pointed out. But to those who come in humility, the key to happy Christian experiences is at hand.

"And pray . . ." God has conditioned the answer only on the asking. "Can it be possible that we have not asked?" Mrs. Cooper quoted. Can it be that people pray for that which they already have and only want God to pass approval? Can it be that they never give praise, but only seek in adversity? Can it be that Christians deny themselves the opportunity of talking with the Father?

"Those who honestly seek his face," she continued, fall naturally into the next step of turning from their wicked ways. It is inescapable. Failure to meet these conditions, however, has led to misery, and pain, and want. The riotous turn following World War I brought on depression. Even the land was blown up in dust and disappeared beyond the horizon. And war came, "and we pulled our cloak about us and said 'it can't happen here. But it has.'"

Throughout her review, there constantly was woven the dominant thread of "return." It was so with the Hebrews who flourished with God and withered and suffered without him. It is no less true today of those who are called by his name. — JP

A BIT ABOUT MAKEUP

By JONANNA TERRY

We modern girls are lucky, back in the old days mom had her makeup troubles, she had to fool dad by pinching her cheeks pink and using beet, strawberry or cherry juice to color her lips.

When she was all set to go to a dance she would dash down to the cellar and scoop up a bit of powder from the flour barrel. Not so with daughter of today though there is a trend back to the rose petal effect that was used to trap "the man" in 1918, but today the girls blend their makeup from five or six jars and boxes and get the best sort of advice from artists on the subject.

Along the makeup field of this day compared to the thick long black stockings when mom was young we moderns wear leg makeup. West Texas girls are lucky — we go bare legged all summer and most of the winter. I know I haven't had on a pair of hose since last Easter and what is more I don't even own a pair except some that look like — well anyway it looks like we are going to have to drag out some kind of hose because these chilly mornings might give us a cold.

By the way, if there happens to be a man reading this, why don't you give your best girl, sister or mother some cosmetics for Christmas, there is no better gift to suit a woman's heart than perfume, scented soap, bath salts, cologne, well just any kind of makeup. There is no use in buying her something to wear because they never fit and she probably had rather pick out her own clothes.

Marriage Is Announced

Mrs. A. G. Davis of Sterling City announce the marriage of her daughter, Mrs. Mada Carper, to Jack Langham. The couple were married Sunday November 26, at high noon at the first Baptist Church in Abilene.

Mrs. Langham wore a soldier blue suit with black patent accessories and carried a white prayer book topped with orchids. The bride is a graduate of Sterling City high school and has been employed at the Crawford Beauty Shop here for the past three years.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Langham of Abilene and was graduated from the Abilene high school. The couple will make their home in Abilene where the groom is associated with the Phillips 66.

SISTER - AND - BROTHER DOLLS . . . A twosome to delight the heart of any small girl. Besides the dolls, pattern includes a cap, blouse, suit, dress, etc.

MAKE A PAIR OF TEDDY BEARS . . . One is a pinafore, the other in overalls, all from one pattern, which also includes directions for running up a lovable Scotty.

HUGGABLE BUNNY . . . Make him in a fuzzy flannel for the baby. All toys shown designed by Simplicity.

By DOROTHY ROE Associated Press Woman's Editor Many harassed parents and fond uncles are tearing their hair nowadays about the shortage of Christmas toys. Finding even a wooden train for Junior or a doll for little Mary has become a matter of luck and grim endurance.

But the situation isn't as bad as it might be — you still have your ingenuity and your own two hands. And a rag doll made at home probably will become the most beloved member of Mary's doll family. Or a whimsical teddy bear, stitched and stuffed by Mom, may be far more precious to Junior than the conventional store-bought variety. If you're in earnest about making this a merry Christmas for everybody on your list, you'd better sit down right now — and START SEWING. There's practically nobody for whom you can't make something that will be welcome — from a handsome flannel robe or smoking jacket for Dad to stuffed toys of the small fry. For the girls on your list, of course, it's easy — make 'em all something of felt are gay and simple to make, dress-up aprons are welcomed by women of all ages, and decorative headbands and dog collar necklaces of velvet ribbon and sequins or bright embroidered felt will fill the "remembrance" items on the list.

Sub Deb-HHS Football Game Tonight At 8 p.m.

Members of the Sub-Deb club and the High Heel Slipper club will clash tonight in a rough-and-tumble football game at Steer stadium at 8 o'clock. This is the first football game to be played in Big Spring by females and it should be quite a game because the girls have been practicing for this game for about three weeks, in fact the game has been scheduled to be played twice before but something happened and it had to be postponed. But tonight will be the show up of which social club has the best "he-gals."

Clergyman Cites Need For Religion

Personal evangelism is the only hope for success in the revival sponsored by the Big Spring Pastors association, Dr. Clovis Chappell told a large crowd at the First Baptist church Tuesday evening.

There is no limit to the power of God through evangelism, and there is no secret to success in personal evangelism but simply "doing what God has told us to do." Evangelism, he said, is merely telling the good news about God.

"I have never seen a man who was not interested in hearing the story," declared Dr. Chappell. "Not all have responded, but you may be sure that human hearts are hungry."

He adjured Christian people to be personally concerned about their responsibility, asserting that those who deny themselves the experience of evangelical efforts are robbing themselves of "much of the sweetness of Christian life."

He told how a small group had gone out with fear and trembling to enlist others and had returned in a short time full of joy and with 120 people won to Christ and His program.

Coley Arender gave a vocal selection with Mrs. Ernest Hock at the organ.

Worry Not Work Kills Men—Chappell

Worry rather than work kills men.

This was the philosophy expressed by Dr. Clovis Chappell, Jackson, Miss. Clergyman, in an address before a combined meeting of the Rotary, Lions, Kiwanis and American Business clubs Wednesday noon at the Settles.

Avoidance of worry, he said, does not preclude looking ahead. Freedom from worry is a characteristic which can be acquired. Dr. Chappell contended, for "we are born free of worry and anything that can be learned can be unlearned."

He urged men to "keep peace with your conscience," which involves adherence to codes under which men have been taught to dwell. "Whatsoever a man soeth, that shall he also reap" is not a bid stick to wield on people, but a formula for eliminating worry by calculating ahead what may be in store for the man who sows wisely, he said.

"Look at your assets as well as your liabilities," advised Dr. Chappell. "Look at what you have rather than what you've missed." Finally, he said, the most intelligent step to overcoming the habit of worry is prayer.

Dan Conley, president of the Lions club, presided at the meeting, and the Rev. James E. Moore, president of the Big Spring Pastors association, which is sponsoring Dr. Chappell here in a series of revival meetings, introduced the speaker.

Private Loses Faith In Lightning Adage

WITH FIRST CAVALRY DIVISION ON LEYTE, Nov. 15 (Delayed) (AP)—Private First Class Baldemar Cano of San Juan, Tex., has lost faith in the adage that lightning never strikes twice in the same place.

Twice within two weeks in the western Leyte mountain campaign he saw Japanese guns kill a troop commander beside him. Cano, who in each case was carrying a portable radio for the commander, was uninjured.

In the second tragic incident yesterday, a machine-gun opened fire from less than 100 feet away on a patrol group. The enemy was well concealed in brush and grass during a rain.

Grenades failed to rout the Japanese from their pillbox so the group could get to the officer's body. Artillery fire was turned on the spot and the enemy withdrew. Cano said a blood trail indicated the Japanese had dragged one or more casualties back with them.

The young soldier has a wife and two children in San Juan.

Millions Switch To Mutton Suet Idea For Chest Colds

Quickly Relieves Children's Colds' Coughs, Loosens Phlegm

Many mothers all over America are switching to this idea of getting fast relief for these chest cold miseries. They are simply following Grandma. For years she counted on mutton suet to help carry her home medication to do its pain-easing work on nerve ends in the skin. No wonder so many more now welcome Grandma's idea as improved by science—Penetro, with its multi-medicated formula in a base containing mutton suet—that acts both as counter-irritant and pain-reliever when you spread it on, and as a soothing aromatic when breathed in. And so today Penetro hurries along never help in the old reliable way—help that eases painful misery, lessens coughing, loosens phlegm, soothes chest rawness—so that you can rest more comfortably and give nature a chance to restore vitality. That's why millions are switching to Penetro today—why druggists are recommending it. 25c, double supply 35c. For all your family's chest cold miseries, be sure you get white, easy-to-use Penetro.

Commissioners Hope To Refinance Pool

Methods for refinancing the city swimming pool bond were discussed at the regular meeting of the city commissioners Tuesday, City Manager B. J. McDaniel announced Wednesday. There is a $3,000 bond which will be in default in March, making a total of $16,000.

A plan was suggested that application be made to the Reconstruction Finance Corp. for refinancing the project.

The pool was not opened last summer due to drought and lack of water, hence there was no income, McDaniel said.

The original bond was $25,000 with pool costing $23,000 and the remainder in equipment. The pool and buildings were constructed in 1938. The arrangement at the time of construction was that the project was to be financed by revenue bond and no money was to be paid out of tax money.

Amarillo Taxi Drivers Strike Against ODT

AMARILLO, Nov. 29 (AP)—Amarillo taxi drivers planned a show-down with the Office of Defense Transportation today.

Approximately 173 taxi drivers went on strike early yesterday when the ODT posted notices in the offices of nine companies, including two operated by negroes.

The notices warned that infractions of ODT orders against pickups and deliveries to night clubs outside the city limits would result in the dismissal of drivers and refusal of employment by other companies.

Tokyo Radio Reports Superfort Attack

By The Associated Press

The first American Superfortress night attack against Tokyo was reported by the Japanese radio today.

The broadcast, recorded by federal communications commission, said a "minor" formation of B-29s roared in on Tokyo just before midnight Nov. 29 (Japanese time) and dropped incendiary and flare bombs that started fires at two places.

The Japanese claimed there was "practically no damage" as the fires were immediately controlled and that the raiders were quickly "repulsed by our effective interception."

In an earlier broadcast radio Tokyo said the night raiders had penetrated the Tokyo area and Japanese planes gave them a "hot reception."

The Japanese report was not confirmed by American official quarters.

Eighth Meets Heavy Resistance On Po

ROME, Nov. 29 (AP)—Eighth army troops pushing into the Po valley are meeting heavy resistance in the Albertero area about five miles northeast of Faenza. Allied headquarters announced today.

South of Faenza, British and Indian troops of the Fifth army have made further progress in high ground to the north and west of Modigliana.

Strong enemy raids on American Fifth army positions below Bologna have been driven off, the communique said.

Six Persons Indicted

Six people were indicted by the grand jury Tuesday. They are Eugene Hillburn, charged with car theft; Carson Westley Halford, burglar; J. D. Young, negro, assault with intent to murder; A. L. Kennard, driving while intoxicated, third offense, and two others who have not yet been arrested.

The jury recessed until December 23 and criminal cases were tentatively set for hearing December 7.

Housewives Asked To Save Excess Fats

Big Spring housewives were asked Wednesday to save their waste fats for collection by Girl Scouts on Dec. 9.

On that day, the Girl Scouts will make a house-to-house canvass of the entire residential district, repeating their "little red wagon" procedure which netted hundreds of pounds of waste fats in previous campaigns.

The need for salvage fats, according to national authorities, is being multiplied by intensified war efforts. Many women have been thoughtfully turning in their fats to their grocer, but a far larger number have not contributed to the supply, it was pointed out.

Returns Will Be Completed Today

AUSTIN, Nov. 29 (AP)—The official canvass of general election returns will be completed today.

Two counties, Hardin and San Augustine, had not submitted returns to the secretary of state's office but notification was received that Hardin's returns were in the mail.

Governor Coke R. Stevenson, a member of the state election board, said the canvass would be completed without San Augustine's returns.

AP Director Says World Needs Free Press, No Control

NEW YORK, Nov. 29 (AP)—Kent Cooper, general manager and executive director of the Associated Press, declared the world "needs the benefactions of a free press entirely rid of government control."

Addressing the annual dinner of the English-speaking Union last night Cooper expressed belief that peace could be maintained only "by short-circuiting self-seeking, predatory governments through letting the people of each nation really know the peoples of other nations."

"This can best be brought about," he said, "through the medium of a world wide free press and freedom of international news exchange that will establish an international community of interest."

Calling for immediate action to guarantee universal freedom of information, Cooper declared: "I would not wait until the war ends, then to have these vital elements tossed around upon the sea of indecision and intrigue that always prevails in peace negotiations."

Roosevelt To Wed Blonde Movie Star

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., Nov. 29 (AP)—Faye Emerson, blonde movie actress, said today that she and Col. Elliott Roosevelt will be married within a week. Earlier, a spokesman for the president's son quoted Roosevelt as saying that he and Miss Emerson planned to be married.

Miss Emerson is 27 and has been previously married. She has a son of four or five years.

It will be Col. Roosevelt's third marriage. Five days after Elizabeth Donner Roosevelt obtained a divorce in Minden, Nev., in 1933 on her cross-complaint charging cruelty, he married Ruth Goggins. She divorced him at Fort Worth last April 18 after testifying that he had ceased to care for her and asked her to bring suit. She obtained custody of their three children.

George Washington Statement Of Cherry Tree Deed Now Unethical

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON, Nov. 29 (AP)—If George Washington were to take a job today in any one of many federal agencies he would not for long write "I did it with my little hatchet."

His supervisor would change this direct statement to read "it was done with a little hatchet" and would call him aside to explain that "in this agency we use an impersonal style."

And if George wanted to stay around he would learn to write in this indirect, impersonal manner which is safer anyway — even though it is always verbose and frequently confusing.

The three paragraphs above are, word for word, from Milton Hall. He is in charge of training workers in the Social Security (SS) board. He was complaining about the mess that comes out of some government typewriters, the stuff criticized as "governmentese."

From here on this is the story of how Hall and Oscar M. Powell, SS executive director, are trying to get government workers to write clear, direct and simple English.

Powell told SS workers: "I understand that many employees and supervisors have the impression that they are supposed to write in the impersonal and stilted style typical of much writing in government."

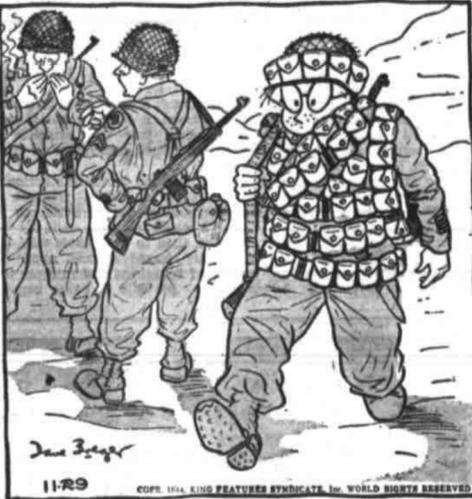

"That impression is wrong. I see no reason, for example, why anyone should write 'it is suggested that consideration be given to the document attached hereto' when he means 'we suggest that you consider the attached report.'"

Hall drew up six pages of printed instructions—showing common mistakes in government writing and how to avoid them. This was done at weekly intervals, one list of instructions following another. It started four months ago.

Bedichek Upholds Rainey Charges Against Lutch Stark As True

AUSTIN, Nov. 29 (AP)—Records of the interscholastic league sustain Dr. Homer P. Rainey's statement in his Oct. 12 bill of complaints against the regents of the University of Texas, in regard to his difference with Regent H. J. Lutch Stark of Orange, League Director Roy Bedichek told a state senate investigating committee last night.

Bedichek read this statement into the committee records: "There is a direct contradiction in the testimony before this committee between statements in paragraph 4 of Dr. Rainey's so-called 'sixteen points,' and the testimony of Regent Lutch Stark, which our records clear up. 'Dr. Rainey's statement is to the effect that Regent Stark's reason for urging the removal of Dean Shelby, Mr. Kidd and myself from the university was due to the part which they had played in changing the rules of the interscholastic league which had affected the eligibility of his two sons who were then seniors in Orange High school.' Mr. Stark, on the other hand, declared that his two sons at the time were under 18, and that they graduated before they were 18 and so could not have been affected by the proposed legislation. Furthermore, he said, no student in the Orange high school would have been affected. "The issue between these two statements is whether or not the proposed legislation in the league in 1940 would have affected the eligibility of any of the Orange high school players."

"Mr. Stark spoke only on an age-rule. He did not mention that there was an 8-semester rule submitted as a part of the age-rule, but it was the proposed semester rule which would have affected the eligibility of Mr. Stark's sons, and for that matter of seven other Orange high school players. If carried, it would have rendered nine members of the school's team ineligible. This is amply proved by the records which I am herewith submitting."

"So, Dr. Rainey's statement was correct, and Mr. Stark's incorrect, according to our records." Rainey's statement said that Stark had told him "I am going to fight you like hell" for refusing to recommend removal of Bedichek, athletic director, Rodney J. Kidd, and Dean T. H. Shelby of the division of extension.

Doctor Removes Baby From Woman

PALMDALE, Calif., Nov. 29 (AP)—Dr. H. H. Snook, owner of the Palmdale Hospital in this small desert community, said today that he operated on a 56-year-old woman and removed a calcified or mummified baby that she had been carrying, without knowing it, for 18 years.

Dr. Snook told the Associated Press that the operation was performed in his hospital last Oct. 23. He said X-ray pictures, taken before the operation, disclosed, in a well-defined manner, the bony structure of the fetus. The physician said the baby had never been in the uterus but had developed in the pelvic region of the abdominal cavity.

Dr. Snook said he performed "a laparotomy, similar to a caesarean section, to remove the fetus from the abdomen."

Richard Davis Declares He Is Able To Heal The Sick In Tuesday Talk

Richard J. Davis, San Jose, Calif., member of the board of lectureship for the Mother Church, First Church of Christ, Scientist, addressed a crowd at the municipal auditorium Tuesday in a presentation sponsored by the Christian Science Society.

Davis pointed in his lecture that Christ illustrated by his life the coincidence of the divine with the human, that "He was able to heal the sick, raise the dead and save the sinner, and in all of this he did not associate himself with the belief of matter. It was his absolute acknowledgement of the perfection of being that brought forth the evidence of healing and physical harmony . . . The real Christ was unconscious of matter, of sin, disease, and death, and was conscious only of God, of good, of eternal life, and harmony."

"Now, if Jesus evidenced the divine and human coincidence, may we not as well? Has your incorporeal, divine selfhood ever left heaven for earth? No, just as did the Master, you and I maintain and hold to our perfection of being, and at the same time apply that understanding to the multitudinous forms of erroneous belief that come before us to be denied and destroyed. On page 332 of Science and Health we read: 'Into the real and ideal man the fleshy element cannot enter. . . .'

Davis pointed out how Christ dealt scientifically with beliefs of sin and heredity, recalling the story of the blind man, whom Jesus said was so afflicted not because of sin of his own or his parents, but so that the works of God could be manifest through him.

The lecturer put aside as "false and untrue the cruel belief of heredity and sinful transmission. He denied the belief of heredity. He refused to accept the false theological beliefs of suffering and penalty . . . He said clearly that neither this man nor his parents, were, in their true being, sinners. He forgave the belief of sin by detaching it from man and recognizing it only as an evil imposition on the mortal mind. The so-called evidences of blindness of sin and heredity, were alike unreal to him. Perfection alone was the fact, to Jesus, and on that basis he healed the blind man."

Lambs Move Over In Favor Of Rival

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 29 (AP)—Move over little lambs and give this newcomer a start. Mairzy Doats has a first class rival.

Songwriter Johnny Mercer has written what may be tomorrow's most popular song. There is a catchiness and appeal about the off-meter tune and the words make little sense.

The number is "Ac-cent-u-ate the Pos-i-tive."

For an "attitude of doin' right," the chorus, reprinted by permission of Edwin H. Morris & Co., Inc., copyright owners, observes (with a steady rock):

"You've got to ac-cent-u-ate the pos-i-tive, eliminate the negative—atch on to the affirmative, don't mess with mister in-between."

Johnny was digging along memory lane, and working against a deadline, when he wrote the lyrics.

"Accentuate" has been played on the air but three times, but already it is catching on as a hit east and west. The film in which it is featured, "Here Come the Waves," is still in the cutting room and will not be released until Dec. 27.

Mercer and Harold Arlen, who wrote the music, were stuck for a novelty number to round out the movie score. Mercer explained: "I heard the expression—'accentuate the positive, eliminate the negative'—years ago," he said. "I don't remember exactly when or where. With a beginning like that, the rest of it practically wrote itself, and we finished the number in one afternoon for Bing Crosby and Sonny Tufts to sing."

Tobacco Experts Cite Statistics Revealing Reasons Of Shortage

By OVID A. MARTIN
WASHINGTON, Nov. 29 (AP)—Government tobacco experts cited statistics today to refute claims of some smokers that exports of tobacco and cigars under lend-lease and other programs are to blame for the smoking famine. Explaining that since the days of the early Virginia colony tobacco has been one of the country's principal farm products for export, war food administration officials said exports have been a smaller portion of annual production since the war than before.

Before the war, foreign sales of cigaret-type tobaccos ranged from about 35 to 45 per cent of the total domestic output. Since the war, exports have ranged from 20 to 30 per cent.

Cigaret tobacco normally is aged for 18 months to two years. Thus cigarets now being sold are produced from 1941 and 1942 crops.

Tobacco experts said the shortage is due to a combination of factors, including:

- (1) More civilians are smoking more cigarets than ever before.
- (2) More soldiers are smoking more cigarets than ever before.
- (3) Uneven distribution due to wartime population changes.
- (4) Black markets and hoarding.

The extent of such practices is not considered great, however.

(5) Inability of manufacturers to expand production sufficiently to meet wartime demands, due to lack of facilities, labor, and packaging material.

(6) Some accumulation of supplies in shipping centers — particularly for armed forces overseas — due to wartime shipping difficulties and priorities for ammunition, gasoline, oil, food and other essential materials.

Committee Replies To Smith Charges

AUSTIN, Nov. 29 (AP)—Following is the text of the senate educational investigating committee's reply to charges by Lieut. Gov. John Lee Smith that its hearings in the University of Texas inquiry had not been fair:

"The members of the investigating committee regret that the lieutenant-governor has seen fit to criticize their conduct of the hearings concerning the University of Texas.

"To our knowledge this action on the part of a presiding officer of a legislative body is without precedent in Texas.

"We were surprised that this criticism was conveyed by radio and through the press before the members of this committee received the lieutenant-governor's letter of criticism.

"It has been charged that certain members of the committee have indicated that they were prejudiced with reference to the University of Texas controversy. In view of this charge, it is significant that certain individuals attempted to prevent such an investigation ever being initiated. Members of this committee were even told that they would be in contempt of the senate if the committee investigated the University of Texas.

"No member of this committee requested appointment on the committee. The committee has no apology to offer for its conduct of this investigation. We do, however, accept full responsibility for the manner in which this investigation has been conducted and absolve the lieutenant-governor of any such responsibility."

Navy Without Services Of Jenkins For Crucial Battle With Cadets

By WILLIAM O. VARN
ANNAPOLIS, Md., Nov. 29 (AP)—There was doubt today whether Bobby Jenkins, the Alabama bomber, would overcome a foot infection in time to lead the assault on Army's gridiron forces Saturday, but the Navy was certain two little fellows from Arkansas stood a pretty good chance of leading the Middles to victory.

Jenkins, the Middles' ace power runner, is abed in the naval academy infirmary and how quickly an infection of his left foot will clear up remained uncertain. Based on the doctor's reports, Commander Oscar E. Hagberg, head coach, expressed doubt that his leading ground gainer would see action.

Colored Bombers Down All-Stars Of Angelo 20-7

Overcoming a 7-0 halftime lead, the Colored Bombers of Section F, AAFBS, came back with a roar in the final period in Bobcat stadium at San Angelo Monday night to beat a team of colored all-stars by a 20-7 score.

The San Angelo All Stars, made up of high-school and civilian players took the lead late in the second period when Fullback Richmond pounded 12 yards across the line for the score. San Angelo converted.

Coach Elmer Henderson's Bombers evened the count in the third period when Sgt. Paul Blanchard, halfback, dashed across from the 10-yard stripe for the score. Pfc. Owen Warford, playing his last game for the Bombers, bucked the line for the extra point.

In the final period the Bombers took a 13-7 lead when Pvt. Henry Ganges, halfback, ran off-tackle and raced 30 yards for the score. The Bombers failed to connect on the extra point.

Late in the final period Fred Smith, Bomber quarterback, intercepted Ted Smith's attempted pass and behind perfect interference dashed 40 yards for the final tally. Warford went off tackle for the extra point.

The unbeaten but once tied Bombers go to Austin Friday night to meet the crack colored eleven of Samuel Huston college there.

Not whether Jenkins is in there or not—the Middles were ready to throw Army's special nemesis, little Hal Hamberg, the 150-pound dynamite package from Lonoke, at the Cadets for the third straight year; and with the assurance that he would be amply supported by Clyde Scott, the line smacker from aply enough. Smackover, Ark.

So, Arkansas is a pretty good headline bet come Saturday, and if Jenkins could get in there to team with his fellow Alabamian, Don Whitmore, Navy's great tackle, this quartet of southerners may turn the tide for the Middles to ring up their sixth straight and longest victory string in this 45th renewal of the classic.

Add to this quartet Leon Bramlett, star end from Mississippi, and Gall Gilliam, tackle, from Texas, and Dixie will be pretty well represented against the high-geared Army machine.

Baseball Players Arrive In Paris

PARIS, Nov. 29 (AP)—Baseball's first group of ball players to tour the European war theater, arrived here yesterday. The group was composed of Mel Ott manager of the New York Giants; Frankie Frisch, manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates; Bucky Walters, Cincinnati pitcher; Dutch Leonard, Washington twirler; and Roy Stockton, sports writer of the St. Louis Post Dispatch.

Lamar Clashes With Milby In First Of Finals

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Lamar of Houston goes after a district championship tonight—the first of six to be determined this week as the Texas schoolboy football race rolls toward the first round of state title play.

Lamar has only twice-beaten, once-tied Milby of Houston standing in the way and can sew up the District 13 crown with no worse than a deadlock in tonight's game. Defeat would throw Lamar into a tie for the top with San Jacinto of Houston and leave the certification of a champion to the district committee.

Another title—that of District 5—will be in the balance tomorrow when Paris plays Greenville at Greenville.

Four more go on the line Friday. They are:

District 3—San Angelo at Sweetwater. San Angelo can take the title with a tie; a loss would throw San Angelo into a tie for the lead with Abilene and leave the question up to the district committee.

District 6—Highland Park (Dallas) at Sulphur Springs. Tie or victory would give the title to Highland Park; should Sulphur Springs win it probably would be certified as champion since it would finish in a tie for the lead with Highland Park and by virtue of having beaten Highland Park be awarded the championship.

District 10—Temple at Waco. The winner will be champion.

District 16—McAllen at Edinburg. McAllen needs no more than a tie; defeat would throw McAllen into a four-way tie for the lead with Brownsville, which defeated McAllen when these teams met, Edinburg and Kingsville. The champion would be named by a committee.

Champions already determined are:

District 1—Amarillo, 2—Wichita Falls, 4—Austin (El Paso), 7—Paschal (Fort Worth), 8—Sunset (Dallas), 9—Breckenridge, 11—Marshall, 12—Lufkin, 14—Port Arthur, 15—Austin.

There are only three undefeated teams left in the state. They are Paschal, Waco and Austin. Sunset is undefeated but has been tied.

Twenty-three games are on this week's schedule and when they are played the season will end for 89 teams in the class AA race. The other 16 enter bi-district playoffs next week.

Here is the week's schedule by districts:

1—Thursday: Plainview at Amarillo; Borger at Lubbock; Saturday: Brownfield at Amarillo.
2—Thursday: Graham at Olney; Childress at Vernon; Friday: Electra at Vernon.
3—Thursday: Odessa at Midland; Friday: San Angelo at Sweetwater.

Aggies Workout In Austin Today

AUSTIN, Nov. 29 (AP)—The Texas A. & M. Farmers roll into Austin today for a workout in Memorial stadium, their last before they clash tomorrow with the University of Texas Steers in a traditional Thanksgiving Day classic.

The gridiron, protected by a huge cover during showers yesterday, promised to be relatively dry. Low hanging clouds disappeared last night and a bright sun shone in a clear sky today.

The Longhorns engaged in a snappy workout yesterday with young Bobby Layne passing with accuracy to end Hubert Bechtel who wears a man-from-Mars head-gear to protect a fractured jaw.

A crowd of 40,000 is indicated for the game.

Prospective lineups as of today were:

A. & M.—Howell and Higgins, ends; Shira and Moncrief, tackles; Gray and Tasso, guards; Gary, center; Cashion, Goff, Butchofsky and Yates, backs.

Texas—Bechtel and Watson, ends; Wetz and Plyler, tackles; Fischer and Hook, guards; Sachse, center; Halpenny, Layne, Evans and Anderson, backs.

Received in the mail was a release today on the newly crowned Southwest conference champion, the Texas Christian University Horned Frogs, giving various statistics and data on the team, both as a whole and as individuals.

But what interested me most was their discussion of Coach Leo "Dutch" Meyer's lucky hat, which brought him victory in every game he wore it, and some say it cost him a victory when he left it in Fort Worth before entraining for Norman and a game with the Oklahoma Sooners.

Whatever might be the case I have a sneaking suspicion that the coach of those "fifteen fighting Frogs" (as dubbed by their followers) is being a bit too modest about his own ability as mentor.

When the Texas Aggies were riding the waves of victory aboard the rampaging cleats of such stars as "Jarrin" Jawn" Kimbrough, "Joltin' Jim" Thomson, Marshall Robnett, Jim Sterling and other greats of 1939 and 1940 it became an established fact that the Farmers' coach Homer Norton had a lucky suit. He forgot to wear it against Texas in 1940 and the Memorial stadium crowd witnessed a startling 7-0 upset of one of the greatest teams in history by the Texas Longhorns.

But lucky suit or no suit it is my opinion that Norton would not have needed even a pair of clean socks to keep his great team winning. He had power, speed and deception, and his eleven was by far the most superior aggregation in the circuit in its heyday.

But back to the wily Dutchman school at TCU. Meyer served that school as freshman coach until 1933 when he was moved into the varsity's mentor position. This year Meyer states, "I have been coaching freshmen again and have had fun." That is the story in a pigskin . . . except the part about Meyer.

It was no lucky hat that saw those Frogs go into every game of the season the underdog team, after their naval transfer losses, but these fifteen Frogs came rambling out of every game with a victory in league competition.

Behind that modest statement about a hat is the story that leaves the conference championship, and the Cotton Bowl bid against the Oklahoma Aggies, in Fort Worth. Underneath that hat lies one of the finest football brains of the country.

Meyer took that green and inexperienced group of frosh and with no reserve strength whatsoever, he shoved them through a tough conference circuit without a loss, and that takes brain work at its very best.

So, Texas Christian fans, you can take your lucky hat story and go jump. That would be like Jewel Wallace saying he had on a pair of green socks the night San Angelo "eked" out a close 83-0 win from Lamesa . . . just pure undiluted bunk!

To "The Dutchman" and those Horned Frogs should go all the credit in the football world.

They did a tremendous job against bigger and more experienced competition. What their success story after the January 1 game will be remains a question, but they have already ended a perfect season in regards to showing fans that where you lack brawn, use brain . . . and where you lack experience, use coordination and spirit.

Tennessee Minus End Coach For Rose Bowl

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 29 (AP)—Tennessee's Rose Bowl bound Volunteers may go to the west coast without their end coach for Johnny Mauer and his 13-man basketball squad have a Christmas Day date in Madison Square Garden with New York University.

"I don't know what I'm going to do," Mauer said. "This situation used to come up every now and then, but in those days there were always plenty of coaches here, and the football team didn't need me. But this year I've been working with the ends all season."

MOSCOW, Nov. 29 (AP)—The Moscow radio announced today 5,000,000 Soviet boys and girls will participate this winter in annual cross country ski races.

Hackett Of Ohio Week's Lineman

NEW YORK, Nov. 29 (AP)—Bill Hackett, 191-pound guard on Ohio State's unbeaten and untied Western conference champions, captured the outstanding lineman of the week award today in the ninth Associated Press poll.

Hackett, a 21-year-old junior from London, O., who has been elected captain of the 1945 Buckeyes, was on the field the full 60 minutes and smeared virtually every Wolverine play directed at his position.

Hampton Pool, formerly of Stanford and the Chicago Bears, was directly responsible for keeping the Fort Pierce (Fla.) Amphibs in the unbeaten and untied ranks. An end, he snared three forward passes, one that covered 78 yards, that set up all three scores as the Amphibs drubbed Jacksonville Naval Air Station, 21-0.

Jim Cooper, Texas Christian center, was termed "another Ki Aldrich" by Coach Dutch Meyer for his play as the Horned Frog beat Rice to win the Southwest conference title. Cooper intercepted a pass to set up the first TCU score; intercepted another to avert a possible goal line stand. "Just think," beamed Meyer, "he has three more years." (Ki Aldrich was Texas Christian all-America center in 1938.)

Johnny McFarland, Southern Methodist end who place-kicked each time SMU had to kick because the "wind was so hard we couldn't punt" and James Kekeris, Missouri tackle who averaged 5 yards on each play when shifted to fullback, likewise earned high praise.

Other standouts included: Tackles—Clyde Flowers, Texas Christian.

NEW YORK, Nov. 29 (AP)—At the football writers' luncheon Monday, Fred Walker wisecracked: "You went to Princeton, eh? You must have had a lot to apologize for." . . . A guy who played football for the University of Chicago and pitched for the Dodgers could get away with that because he has sent a lot of good players, including his two sons, to Yale . . . About that time Paul Riblett, Penn end coach, predicted better athletics for "ivy league" colleges after the war because returning service men will seek out the best colleges. He added that Penn's famous Wharton School of Finance has adopted a special two-year course which should attract a lot of ex-soldiers and incidentally provide some good material . . . Teachers In Spirit

The widespread appeal on behalf of teachers for more adequate pay has inclined some to the impression that teachers are more concerned with getting higher wages than in effective education. Similarly, others have wondered in the past if school leaders were not more concerned with securing adequate plants than in an adequate program.

Nothing is further than the truth. Unfortunately, our salary level has been shamefully low for the type of individuals we do and hope to attract into the teaching professions; and in most places where bond issues are repeatedly necessary to finance building programs there is an awareness that decent facilities are a requisite to decent educational returns.

What the average patron does not realize is that teachers as a whole go beyond and above their duty to teach children—and to teach them many things which seemingly we have not stressed sufficiently at home. Every teacher worth his or her salt has a personal interest in students which surpasses most of our understandings.

Such an interest is being manifested in one Texas city where teachers have undertaken a voluntary program to see what "makes their pupils tick." They are spending their own time, and not infrequently their own funds, to carry out a comprehensive child study program over a three-year period.

It is interesting to note that the venture already is said to have made them better teachers and to have added new incentive to their work. They are enjoying their labors more because they have a new understanding.

All of this is being done without one additional dollar of pay. We venture that the city will have genuine cause for pride in results of the effort.

While not engaged in so pretentious an effort at the moment, our local teachers are nevertheless carrying on extra efforts, supervising many extra-curricula activities and in following through on a commendable reading program. These programs from time to time—and without intention or hope of additional pay. Under trying circumstances, our teachers in the main are teachers in spirit. That is something which money cannot necessarily command, but a quality which should merit more money.

House Brother Act Is Old Story

By JACK STINNETT
WASHINGTON — When Rep. Elect George B. Schwabe, of Oklahoma, sits down with his brother, reelected Rep. Max Schwabe, of Missouri, at the opening of the 79th Congress in January, it will be the first time since before the Civil War that the House has seen a brother act.

The brothers' claim to "first," however, does rest in the fact that they are the only half-brothers to serve simultaneously in either chamber, and that they both wrestled their elections from traditionally Democratic districts while many of their Republican ticket companions were going down under pressure of a Democratic sweep.

Capitol historians have been doing a little digging and have found that this family business is nothing new at all. For example there was the case of the four Washburn brothers, all originally from Maine. Three of them served in the House at the same time for six years, from Illinois, Maine and Wisconsin. Two served together for ten years. Two held appointments by Lincoln. Two were governors, of Maine and Wisconsin. One was Grant's secretary of state and later minister to France.

The four Bayards of Delaware piled up quite a record, too, but in the Senate and it wasn't altogether a brother act. James A. Bayard was a senator, after he left the Senate, his two sons, James A. Jr. and Richard B., took over, and Thomas F., son of the former was sworn in for the term succeeding his father's retirement.

Delaware has a flair for brother acts that produced a unique one in 1870. Willard Saulsbury had served 12 years in the Senate, when he was beaten by his brother Eli, who served 18 years.

For the most unusual family act in Congress, though, it is necessary to go back to the Black Hawk war when Henry Dodge, father of Wisconsin, and August C. Dodge, son, Iowa, served under arms together. They also sat side by side in the House of Representatives for two terms and then the same year moved up to the Senate where they served side by side for two more terms.

The father-son successions in modern times have not been uncommon. The best known perhaps, is Robert M. LaFollette Sr. and Jr., the latter of course is still serving. Until Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr. went off to the war, he also held a senatorial post long held by his father. And Sen. Bennett Champ Clark, of Missouri, defeated in the last primary was the son of Champ Clark, a famous speaker of the House.

The War Today

by Dewitt Mackenzie
Associated Press War Analyst

Today's special: We shouldn't be surprised to learn most any time now that Nazidom is putting out peace feelers again. My guess is that these inquiries will concern mainly the question of the personal security of Hitler and his captains. There's little else they could hope to bargain over since unconditional surrender is customary for a country so utterly beaten as Germany will be.

Britain's colossal war effort is presented graphically and forcefully in the government white paper issued yesterday in London, providing an epic in the history of the Allied stand against Nazi enslavement.

England has suffered greatly. Her casualties already crowd three quarters of a million. One third of her homes have been destroyed or damaged. And as her colorful minister of information, Brendan Bracken, comments:

"We have sacrificed most of our Victorian inheritance. What was the treasure of our grandfathers has gone, and it has been well and gladly sacrificed."

There is, however, something which cold figures couldn't impart to a white paper. That's the magnificent spirit of Churchill's defy on June 4, 1940:

"We shall defend our island whatever the cost may be. We shall fight on the beaches. We shall fight on the landing grounds. We shall fight in the fields and streets and in the hills."

The white paper couldn't reproduce that —but the people of the British Isles did exemplify it in the way they stood up to the terrible rain of death from Hitler's blitz. And since then in the manner each man, woman and child has played a part in the grim tragedy the Nazi dictator thrust upon the world.

John Bull can be proud of his contribution to the preservation of our civilization. His Allies are proud of him, and the language of England's cricket fields are happy to say: "Well played John."

who are at fault, almost altogether. It is the adults who give the children their liquor, their language, their ideas, and their behavior patterns. . . . The cause of delinquency are three: Carelessness on the part of parents, lack of the use of common sense by parents, and moral weakness of parents."

Amen, Professor, Amen.

Gas Companies Hope To Change Ruling

CORPUS CHRISTI, Nov. 29 (AP) — Attorneys representing six gas companies are in Austin today seeking to change a railroad commission ruling which, they said, would cut off the Corpus Christi gas supply.

The commission yesterday ordered all pipeline connections to wells being operated by the Agua Dulce company, the Chicago Corporation, Gulf Plains Corporation, L. M. Lockhart, United Gas Pipeline company and Union Producing company be severed and all tenders on products obtained from gas produced in the Agua Dulce and Stratton fields in Nueces, Jim Wells and Kieberg counties be cancelled.

The order came, the commission said, because operators were not repressuring or returning gas to sands as directed by an Aug. 28 directive which, they said, was intended to conserve and prevent waste of gas.

Three of the six companies affected were disregarding the shutdown order, James Young, attorney for Lockhart said, "because the commission did not realize the extent to which Corpus Christi would be affected."

Hal Boyle: Night Fighters Nearest Thing To Damon And Pythias Relations

By HAL BOYLE
AN AMERICAN AIRBASE IN BELGIUM, Nov. 7 (Delayed) (AP) — The nearest thing to Damon and Pythias friendships in the Army is the relationship between the pilot and radar observer of the two-man, night-flying Black Widow fighters.

The radar observer helps direct the pilot to within striking distance of fugitive Nazi aircraft. The pilot then closes in directly for the kill with prolonged bursts from his 20 mm. cannon.

It is a dual responsibility. Each man's life hangs on the performance of his buddy—and when they knock down a German plane or a flying bomb each shares the credit equally. Once a pilot and an observer team up they are inseparable.

"There isn't any formula for the way they pick each other out, either," said one officer. "Some time during the training period they just get together and pair off—and once they get used to flying together they know and trust each other's judgment."

I stayed two nights with a couple of teams that live on the rim of this muddy airfield in a two-room shack they built for themselves in four days from wreckage salvaged from bombed

Hollywood— "Dark Waters" Is Admirable Show

By JACK O'BRIAN
AP Drama Editor
(One star means poor; four, excellent.)

"Dark Waters," with Merle Oberon, Franchot Tone, Thomas Mitchell, Fay Bainter.

There are so many intelligent and admirable things about "Dark Waters" that any quibbling must be minor. First, there is an exceptionally good cast. Merle Oberon and Franchot Tone are attractive and adept players. Thomas Mitchell is as good a character actor as any in Hollywood. The supporting cast has such fine actors as Rex Ingram and Odette Myrtil in small roles which helps keep the whole picture hanging together with simple done but imaginative little acting cameos that must do a director's heart good.

Another admirable point is that while the film is primarily about murder and utilizes a lot of the more obvious cinematic artifices, the reason for all the homicide is not part of the overdone modern trend toward psychological murderers who have only intangible psychopathic reasons for their crimes. These murders are planned and executed for a simple and obvious purpose. The fellow is after money. No Freudian subconscious drives him on. Just money. Lots of it.

Merle Oberon is a survivor of a torpedoing, recuperates in a hospital and has a rather rough time getting her mind back on an even keel. She is alone in the world, since her parents went down with the ship. The only relatives she has are an uncle and aunt. They are located at a sugar plantation not far away and want the young girl to join them and convalesce in the lazy quietude of the bayou country. When she arrives, however, trouble starts.

Ex-Students Lean Toward Another Method In Selecting Of Regents

(This is the second in a series on the current university situation.)

By PAUL BOLTON
Herald Austin Correspondent

AUSTIN, Nov. 29—An informal group of ex-students, seeking to plate a silver lining on the dark clouds of suspicion shadowing the University of Texas, is studying ways and means of making the university the kind of school they think it should be.

This group, which is semi-formally constituted, has about concluded after numerous pro and con discussions during the course of the senate committee's investigation of former President Homer P. Rainey's dismissal, that at least two changes should be made in the law governing the university. These changes they see as one way to take all possible precaution against a re-enactment, at some future day, of what's taking place today.

First, the board of regents should be reconstituted. Second, the board should be authorized, by law, to delegate its powers or such of them as seem wise and expedient, to the president.

The second aim is the simplest. The testimony before the Metcalfe committee has demonstrated that a fundamental point of difference between Rainey and his board of regents was over the exercise of power. The regents testified that they could not delegate their duties, even if they desired to do so.

The ex-students say they have no particular desire to take authority away from the board of regents; but they as firmly believe that the regents should have the legal right to delegate authority so that in the future, the president's right to act cannot be questioned. If the legislature approves, this change likely could be made by a simple amendment to existing law.

But the first proposition is not simple at all. Those interested in reconstituting the board of regents—in fixing, as it were, some basis for determining whether a man will, or will not, make a good regent—found it a most complex problem.

There was a natural starting point for the discussions. There's usually been a doctor on the board. That presumes the board ought to have a doctor's viewpoint. Then why not the viewpoint of a preacher, a lawyer, an educator, an oil man, a newspaper editor, an engineer, etc? Then the discussion went into some practical way in which these various classifications would be filled. Take the obviously hardest to find, an educator. Where would you find one? Not in the university, because of self-interest. Not from some other school; other state-supported schools are semi-competitive and denominational schools; are wholly competitive. Not the superintendent of schools from Metropolis or Pook, for they would have an elementary school, and sectionalized, viewpoint.

Not the same, but similar, arguments could be applied to selections in all the classifications. These obstacles seemed so insurmountable that this basis of fixing qualifications, at least for the present, has been laid aside.

This has left two other suggested possibilities: Election of regents, which might result in types wholly unacceptable; or giving the ex-students themselves a larger voice in selecting the regents. There may be other possibilities. The group is now studying the statutes of other states for a thorough exploration of the matter, of finding out what they could do and how they could do it.

If it be decided that the proper approach is to amplify the strength of the ex-students' voice, then two approaches have been discussed. It could be done through (1) allocating to the ex-students themselves all or a part of the appointments, which would be opposed on the perhaps sound legal ground that the association has no official status; and (2) providing for their appointments from nominations submitted by the association which, sources in Austin de-

But even that method would not wholly solve the real and fundamental problem which will be discussed in the next of this series: The fact that the only tenable basis of qualifying a regent is composed almost wholly of intangibles.

Not the same, but similar, arguments could be applied to selections in all the classifications. These obstacles seemed so insurmountable that this basis of fixing qualifications, at least for the present, has been laid aside.

This has left two other suggested possibilities: Election of regents, which might result in types wholly unacceptable; or giving the ex-students themselves a larger voice in selecting the regents. There may be other possibilities. The group is now studying the statutes of other states for a thorough exploration of the matter, of finding out what they could do and how they could do it.

If it be decided that the proper approach is to amplify the strength of the ex-students' voice, then two approaches have been discussed. It could be done through (1) allocating to the ex-students themselves all or a part of the appointments, which would be opposed on the perhaps sound legal ground that the association has no official status; and (2) providing for their appointments from nominations submitted by the association which, sources in Austin de-

Dorsey Trial Drags Thru Second Day

By FRANK FRAWLEY

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 29 (AP)—Tommy Dorsey could produce a much better floor show than the performance that has been put on so far in Superior Judge Arthur Crum's court room but there have been a few theatrical by-plays during the first two days.

Trombone Tommy has had experience with floor shows but he and his wife, Pat Dane, and his friend, Allen Smiley, are, temporarily at least, merely in the wings while their attorneys and the district attorney do the best they can to select a jury.

The jury, which probably will be seated some time today, will try Mr. and Mrs. Dorsey and Smiley on charges of feloniously assaulting movie actor Jon Hall at a party celebrating Pat's 26th birthday Aug. 5.

The lawyers unquestionably know their law but they are inclined occasionally, to get their movie actors mixed up.

Jerry Giesler, counsel for Smiley, was trying to discern from a prospective juror yesterday whether the testimony of Hall, whom he described as "a well known movie star," would be given more consideration than that of anyone else. Giesler referred to Hall as "Tarzan."

Later, the prosecutor, Edwin Myers, thought he should correct an obvious error. He said he believed Giesler had Hall confused with Johnny Weismuller, who actually does play the Tarzan roles. "Mebbe so," Giesler admitted. "I know Hall has sideburns that come down to here," as he put his finger on his jawbone. "He looks like Tarzan."

Nearly One-Fourth Of Texas Quota Made

DALLAS, Nov. 29 (AP)—Nearly a fourth of Texas' series E war bond quota of $105,000,000 for the Sixth War Loan has been raised, State Chairman Nathan Adams of the war finance committee of Texas said here today.

Adams said that 24.5 per cent—$25,719,139—of the E quota had been attained as of Nov. 27. Official treasury tabulations are not announced until they have been processed through the federal reserve banks.

Over-all sales totaled $65,829,769. This is 15.9 per cent of the over-all quota of $414,000,000.

"We've made a good start," Adams said, "but each of us will have to renew his efforts if we are to attain our goal by Dec. 16."

War Consciousness

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 29 (AP)—The "meanest thief," say Minneapolis police, is the pickpocket who stole $150 and a railroad ticket from Jack Peterson, 18-year-old blind ex-serviceman.

Peterson got to his home in Benson, Minn., however, two girl workers in the veterans information and referral office giving him train fare.

Cigarette Shortage

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 29 (AP)—The crowd in the street car was jammed into the front end, so the motorman yelled:

"All right folks, there's a cigarette machine in the rear, full of cigarettes. One pack to a customer!" It worked.

The common prewar beer can has been used by the Army as a "booby trap" anti-personnel mine.

That Ceiling Price

CHATANOOGA, Tenn., Nov. 29 (AP)—A jury awarded the plaintiff $12.50 damages for a hog shot by the defendant, and fined the latter $25 for malicious mischief.

An attorney for the defendant filed a petition for a new trial, alleging the $12.50 award was "in excess of the OPA ceiling price allowed for hogs."

Texans Favor End Of Feed Control

FORT WORTH, Nov. 29 (AP)—The government's price control over mixed feeds should end as soon as possible, Texas feed dealers and manufacturers believe.

Texas Feed Manufacturers association and Texas grain and feed dealers meeting here jointly to study new OPA regulations adopted a resolution which urged abolition of the price control program "as soon as the war emergency ends" but which pledged co-operation with the program as long as the emergency demands.

R. E. Wendland, Temple, president of the feed manufacturers group, said they proposed changes in the OPA's proposed draft to make the program conform more closely to trade practices in Texas.

Wendland and W. R. Archer of Houston, members of the mixed feeds industry advisory committee to the OPA, will go to Washington next week for further study and discussion of the program.

Stolen Coupons Lead To Arrest

DALLAS, Nov. 29 (AP)—Gasoline and diesel oil ration coupons stolen in Lubbock, Llano, Marble Falls, Sulphur Springs and Dodge City, Kas., brought arraignment of two men and a woman in federal court here yesterday.

They were charged with being in possession of the coupons which W. J. Holt, Office of Price Administration enforcement attorney, told United States Commissioner John Davis had been stolen in five burglaries.

Gordon McCody Reynolds, 37, Rufus Doyle Eady, 19, and Janie Herndon Dupree, 27, were charged specifically with unlawful possession of 2,800 coupon gallons of diesel oil rations, 395 E coupons and other R, T and A coupons. They entered pleas of innocent.

Holt testified also that coupons valued at 22,000 gallons of motor fuel were taken in five burglaries and the recovered coupons totalled 5,487 gallons.
