PORTERFIELD STREET WILL BE PAVED TO SANTA FE STATION

Tahoka will extend her paving program. It has been announced through Mayor, J. R. Singleton that every city owner with the exception of two, located on east Porterfield street from the public square to Santa Fe railroad have signed away paving on this street from public square to the Santa Fe square.

We understand it the paving will be thirty feet wide in the middle of the street and will be graded and given the proper slope as seen done with the paving on the square.

Mr. and Mrs. Patterson Arrive

Mr and Mrs. B. L. Patterson arrived Thursday from Harlington and will make their home in Tahoka. Mr. Patterson has accepted a position with the Limit, Drug and Jewelry store as jewelryman. He has had seventeen years experience in the jewelry business and comes highly recommended in his profession.

MRS. R. J. ROBERTS BUYS BUSINESS LOT ON WEST SIDE

A deal was made this week whereby Mrs. R. J. Roberts, (better known as "Aunt Becky") became the owner of the lot where her cafe is now located, purchasing the property from Don Bradley of this city. This is an ideal location, being in the middle of the block on the west side of the public square. Mrs. Roberts is to be congratulated in making such a wise purchase.

LADY SPONSOR FROM TAHOKA

Miss Gladys Lee has been selected to represent this city as "Lady Tahoka" at the West Texas Chamber of Commerce pageant to be held in San Angelo, May 21, 22 and 23. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Lee, and was the unanimous choice of the local business men. She is a student in the local high school, and one of the most talented musicians in the city.

BAPTIST LAYMEN VISIT IN BROWNFIELD

About twenty-five or thirty of the Baptist Laymen went to Brownfield Sunday afternoon and assisted by two laymen from the Slaton church rendered a program at that place to a well filled house.

Inspiring talks were made by Attorney Ratliff of Slaton, G. W. Hickerson and Prof. Neal Foster, of Tahoka, with several selections given by the male quartet comprised of S. B. Hatchett, Eddie Hatchett, Preston Lee and Neal Foster, and a reading by Mrs. W. F. Hughes, made the program a success.

The laymen were given a hearty welcome and a royal reception by the good people of Brownfield, and it is hoped they will return the visit at an early date.

CHARLES SQUIER BITTEN BY MAD DOG AT POST CITY

Miss Viola McCormack and son, Charles, left Wednesday night for Austin, where Charles will receive treatment at the Pasteur Institute for a dog bite received some ten days ago at Post. No attention was paid at the time when he was bitten on the right hand, making a very slight wound, but since it was learned that the dog had been killed because of rabies, and also about one hundred and forty other dogs in Post, it was decided best to rush him at once to Austin for treatment. The head of the dog has been sent from Post to Austin for examination.

One fine cow in Post was also bitten by the dog and killed.

Two other persons residing in Post have gone to Austin to receive treatment. We sincerely trust no serious complications will set up and that all the victims will have been completely cured.

TAHOKA WILL INVITE METHODIST QUARTERLY DISTRICT CONFERENCE

Rev. J. T. Howell, pastor of the Methodist church leaves today to attend the Quarterly Conference, which convenes in Slaton Friday and Saturday. He will be accompanied by Messrs. J. A. Brashear, R. C. Wood, J. O. King, J. N. Thomas, who were elected as ex-officials, and H. W. Barkuloo, F. K. Popplewell, A. L. Lockwood and J. H. Wyatt as delegates.

It is not known if all the above named persons will be able to attend. An effort will be made to secure the next meeting of the Quarterly Conference in Tahoka. A petition from the local Chamber of Commerce

OPENING OF NEW SCHOOL AUDITORIUM

We were pleased to attend the opening of our new high school auditorium Tuesday morning. A splendid program was rendered, which was greatly appreciated and enjoyed by all those who ventured through the May day sand storm. The drill of the students as they came into the building was very pretty and pictured to our minds how busy they are weaving their way through our educational institutions and preparing themselves for the great problems of life.

Judge L. C. Heath spoke on the "Value of an Education," and, we are sure, impressed this fact upon the minds of the hundreds of boys and girls as they had never realized it before.

Superintendent M. M. Dupre, of the Lubbock schools, made a splendid address on the importance of an education, which was both instructive and entertaining.

A piano solo by Elizabeth Wyatt, a vocal solo by Juanita Haynes, and a reading by Mrs. O. E. Stevenson, Jr., added greatly to the program.

The new school auditorium is just receiving the finishing touches and is a building that all Tahoka is indeed proud of. The structure is two-story and the main auditorium has a seating capacity of from 600 to 800 people. It is electrically equipped and the stage arrangements are unequalled in the state. The auditorium gives Tahoka a place of meeting for the large gatherings that come to Tahoka, having by far the largest seating capacity of any building in the city.

KILLED BY LIGHTENING

One of the saddest events we have ever been called upon to chronicle was the tragic death Wednesday about the noon hour of Dewey Gaultney, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Gaultney.

Dewey was helping his father putting in fence posts on Mr. Gaultney's Martin county farm, about 24 miles from Lamesa. The two men were at work about 400 yards apart. A heavy cloud had gathered overhead. From where he was at work Mr. Gaultney could see Dewey as he stooped over tamping the dirt around a post. A vivid flash of lightning, a sharp report, and a cloud of smoke hid from sight the spot where a moment before he had seen Dewey. He rushed to the place and found the dead body of his son pron upon the ground.

The body was brought to Lamesa and prepared for burial. Services were announced for 2 o'clock this (Friday) afternoon, at the First Baptist church.

Dewey Gaultney was 23 years of age and was a young man of irreproachable character, highly esteemed by all who knew him.

The bereaved parents, sisters and brothers, and the young lady who was soon to become his wife, have our heartfelt sympathy in this hour of sorrow.

GLACIER TO GULF HIGHWAY ROUTED THROUGH LYNN COUNTY

RECITAL

HIGH SCHOOL AUDITORIUM TUESDAY EVENING, MAY 8th 8:00 O'Clock.

The pupils of Miss Clinton and Miss Donaldson will give their finale recital in expression and music next Tuesday night. Every one is cordially invited to come.

Tahoka should attend the West Texas Chamber of Commerce Convention at San Angelo, May 21, 22, and 23rd of this month. A large representation should go in a body and let the thousands in attendance know about our little city on the South Plains. Tahoka was well represented at the convention in Plainview last year and we should go just as strong and make as much noise at San Angelo this month.

Lamesa, our neighbor to the south is planning on sending a delegation of five hundred persons and have already made arrangements for a camping grounds on the banks of the river near the city. Will Tahoka, the city of paved streets, be outdone by our sister Lamesa? Let's get busy, folks, and make arrangements to attend the convention and shout the wonderful advantages of immediate vicinity. It is the chance of a life time to place our town and county before the eyes of the world. Tahoka and the other towns in Lynn county can assemble a large crowd that would make them set up and take notice if we will start now and urge the people to go.

All off for San Angelo! May 21, 22nd and 23.

Tahoka is on the new Glacier to Gulf Highway. Mr. E. Reddrick, manager of the Directory Department of the Glacier to Gulf Highway, was in the city Tuesday in the interest of his department collecting data and publicity matter on this highway to be used in the Glacier to Gulf Highway Directory for free distribution.

This highway runs through the states of Montana, Wyoming, Colorado, Texas and Mexico. The general offices are located in San Antonio, Texas. Mr. Reddrick has charge of the route from Texline to Galveston and was accompanied by a marking crew, which signs are already placed through Lynn county.

Mr. Reddrick stated to the News that Tahoka with her paved streets and concrete sidewalks was an ideal little city and that Lynn county had the best highways it had been his pleasure to travel over.

The highway runs from Tahoka north via Lubbock.

The officers of the Glacier to Gulf Highway are, Austin North, president Harry L. Miller, Sec.-Treas., and D. E. Colp, manager.

ELDER S. A. RIBBLE, TO PREACH HERE SAT. & SUN.

Members of the north side Church of Christ have requested the News to announce that services will be held at the church Saturday evening and Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. Elder S. A. Ribble, of Lubbock, will preach at both hours. Everybody is cordially invited to attend these services.

IF YOU'VE GOT THE FEED!

You can make a two year old out of a yearling.
You can make a hog out of a pig.
You can make hens lay eggs.
You can keep our money in our county.
The necessary feed may be had if the seed is properly selected, planted and cultivated, but it can't be done if the land is planted in cotton.
Cotton is good, to be sure it is, but you can't eat it, you know; neither can the stock.

Diversification Is a Logical Proposition

Don't plant all your money for food and clothing, but plant a part each month's salary in our CHARTERED SAVINGS DEPARTMENT, where it will grow for you at the rate of four per cent annually, compounded quarterly, and where there are no fires, hail storms or disasters of any kind to destroy your crops.

PERFECT

A small boy was asked by a man visiting at his home the following questions: Son, who discovered America? Columbus, was the answer.
Who was the first president of the United States? George Washington, the boy replied. Well son, how many states are there in the union? 48, was the quick retort. I declare, the visitor remarked, that's pretty good. "Pretty good, hell, the youngster shot back at him, that's
perfect."

It is not our custom to knock anybody or anything, but, it behooves us to remark that the garage men in Brownfield should sell an unlimited number of steering wheel connections and automobile springs, for we absolutely know these parts surely would not last long trying to steer those serpent trails through Terry to the Lynn county line. We wonder if Jack Stricklin, the high cockalorem of the Herald has attempted to run his tin Henry over the road recently.
We must say, Jack, it takes all the joy out of life until you hit the Lynn county line then all is supreme and makes a fellow know he is living in God's country. When Satan in the form of a serpent tempted Adam and Eve in the Garden off Eden, (Tahoka), he went westward, judging from the trail he made through Terry county.

BAPTIST DAY TO BE OB-

sermon. In the afternoon, beginning at 3:30 o'clock, Mr. J. A. Lloyd, one of the most prominent citizens of the community will be ordained as deacon of the church, which was but recently organized. A quartet from Tahoka will assist in furnishing the music.

COMMITTEE.

TAHOKA DEFEATS LAMESA
11 TO 10; TEN INNINGS

One of the most interesting base ball games ever played in Tahoka was staged at the park last Friday afternoon between the local club and Lamesa. The game was scheduled to be played promptly at 3:30 P. M., put owing to wet roads caused from the recent rains, the Lamesaites were delayed an hour or so in reaching this city. It was anybody's game all the way though the contest. Pitcher Taylor was on the mound for Tahoka throughout the ten innings it took to decide the winner, and pitched winning ball. He was received by the old reliable Hall Robinson. Ketner held down the initial sack, Walton second base, Larkin 3rd base and Jack Wells at short, while LeMond, Karr and Givens held down the outer garden to a queen's taste.

One of the noticeable features of the game was the heavy hitting on both sides. Randall, of O'Donnell, playing with Lamesa, placed the apple over the left field fence two times during the game. It was necessary to play an extra inning to decide the contest, Tahoka winning out 11 to 10.

Outside of a few decisions protested from the umpires, the game was thoroughly enjoyed by the several hundred fans present.

Lamesa used two pitchers during the game.

Mrs. S. A. Dickson left Tuesday for Groom, Carson County, Texas, in response to a message stating her daughter, Mrs. John Ray, was seriously ill with pneumonia. It is hoped she will find her greatly improved.

SLATON 5; TAHOKA 4

Slaton came to Tahoka Sunday afternoon for a game of baseball and succeeded in taking the big end of the score 5 to 4.

It is said Tahoka had the game won until the ninth with the score standing 3 to 1, when an overthrow on first base was made and let in enough scores to tie the game. Ten innings were played before the contest was finished.

Ebor Mills, a young mound artist,
of Rotan delivered the ball for Tahoka with Robinson receiving.

O. I. Luellen, of Wichita Falls, has accepted a position with the City Pressing Pressing Parlor.

Riley Duff, business man of Lubbock was in town Wednesday.

J. B. Nance returned Wednesday from Plainview, where he went to receive treatment for his eyes.

Ebor Mills, of Rotan, came in Sunday to pitch the base ball game in the afternoon against Slaton. He returned to his home Sunday night.

Miss Marile Lowe, of the New Home community, came in yesterday and took the train for Pampa, where she will spend two weeks visiting her sister.

Mr. and Mrs. Lockwood Return Home

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Lockwood returned Wednesday from Hot Springs, Ark., where they spent several weeks
at the hot wells taking treatments.
Mr. Lockwood stated that Hot Springs was quite a city and highly recommended it as a health resort.
He reported having lost six pounds while away. Their many friends are glad to have them back home again.

—IMAGINARY SAVINGS—

IT IS THE IMAGINARY SAVINGS THAT PEOPLE MAKE ON PURCHASES THAT CAUSE THEM TO BE POOR OF PURSE.

It is also the same glittering inducement that causes some of our otherwise loyal Tahoka citizens go trailing off to outside places to spend their money for purchases THAT COULD BE MADE JUST AS ADVANTAGEOUSLY HERE AT HOME.

We think we understand the fascination offered by supposedly greener fields of other merchandising centers. In fact it is the same magnet that invites a person to explore the pages of a mail order catalogue and charms them into sending their money away to a BUSINESS FIRM HUNDREDS OF MILES DISTANT.

IT IS THE MAGNET OF IMAGINATION. An imagination that there is a selection and a quality and a price that cannot be obtained at home. And this idea is a mistaken one.

PROSPERITY IS NOT COMING TO THE COMMUNITY
THAT HAS LOST FAITH IN ITS BUSINESS INTERESTS.
SENDING OR SPENDING MONEY AWAY FROM TAHOKA
ISN'T DOING TAHOKA ANY GOOD and profits accordingly
the community in which it is spent.

And while we are speaking of PROSPERITY let us all put our shoulders to the wheel and make Good Times always possible by indulging in normal business transactions; buying what you need when you need it; discrediting commercial peddlers and, as far as possible, SPENDING OUR DOLLARS WITHIN OURSELVES.

This is real civic boosting; real co-operative community effort and real profit for all our citizens—RESULTS THAT DO NOT REQUIRE THE IMAGINATION TO SEE AND APPRECIATE.

It is up to we Tahoka people to bring success to our city.
The path is plainly marked and the guiding sign reads:

"TRADE AT HOME."

MERELY ROTATING

Among the restless men and women of this nervous age are those who take up their pursuits much in the manner of spinsters who are given to dreaming and dreaming.

They start to crochet a muff and end by playing whist. They are good-hearted souls, but mostly by impulse.

The spirit stirs them they are flush, but in a little while they fade their work, stare vacantly at their noses with powder, cigarette or take a nap.

They are not in tune with the higher of the serious-minded. Their happiness, if they have any, reposes on a precarious base.

BRAIN FAG

Worry about brain fag. It is a disease. And the chances are that you will never get it. There are a few overworked brains in the world. But for every overworked brain there are at least two underworked brains.

The man whose brain is overworked usually affords to rest it by a vacation. The man with an underworked brain isn't likely to have money to spend on a vacation.

Brain can stand a great deal more than you think it can. If you do anything like the average human being you are working it at about its capacity.

The man who uses his brain continually engaged on a difficult task is unusual. Most of us find excuses for resting—with the excuse that the momentum is dead when we attack the job and get up steam all over again.

Men who are really brain workers, there is very little danger of brain fag.

THE UNDER-DOG

By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

THE under-dog is popular. And everybody's for him; They root for him both near and far. The orators adore him. They hope he wins his gallant fight. He hears a lot of rooting— But everyone gets out of sight. The minute there is shooting. The under-dog has caught the crowd; Folks full of admiration

Will shout his praises long and loud. In earnest adulation. They raise an awful lot of din; Their lungs are good and limber— But when the upper starts to win They beat it for the timber.

The under-dog is in the right. Of that they're always certain; They hate to see him lose the fight And get the final curtain. Put, when the dog that is a-top Begins to really get him. To see the rest they never stop— They run away and let him.

It seems to me the under-dog, If he could have the choosing. When things are getting thick as fog And plainly he is losing; Would gladder be, without a doubt, If cheers you wouldn't yell him. When he is nearly down and out— But just jump in and help him!

add the other ingredients and cook, mixing well, for ten minutes, then serve. The rice may be heated and served in a mound with the meat poured around it if preferred.

Beat one egg, separating the white and yolk; add one quart of buttermilk, two cups of strained honey, one-fourth of a cup of raspberry syrup and freeze. When partly frozen add the juice of a lemon. Any other fruit syrups may be used.

AMERICA'S MARVELS

NATURAL AND OTHERWISE

By T. T. MAXEY

CRATER LAKE

Ages ago a great, tall, volcanic peak, which has been called Mount Mazama, occupied "a place in the sun" in the southwestern part of Oregon, about half way between Portland and San Francisco.

Naturally, utter desolation trailed such a tremendous convulsion. Nature, in her mysterious workings, added by time, changed this condition of affairs and produced a striking geological spectacle which is one of the scenic masterpieces of this earth.

This lake, almost circular in shape and about five miles across, is perhaps the deepest body of fresh water on earth. The surface of this lake is more than 6,000 feet above sea level. No inlet or outlet has been discovered.

The lake is invisible until one has climbed to the rim. The look down into it is indescribable. One is simply nonplussed. 'Tis said that this world holds no another sight like it. The heart of this mountain is filled with a sea of sapphire-colored water.

Within the lake an island or cinder cone rises several hundred feet above the surface of the water. Geologists conclude this to be the result of exploding volcanic forces. This island contains a crater. This crater contains a pool. So here we have the unduplicated spectacle of a crater within a crater and a pool within a lake.

Another small island pops up out of this lake. As its formation crudely resembles a ship, it is called Phantom Ship. The fitness of the name is appreciated when it is understood that, viewed in certain lights it disappears, to reappear again as the rays of light or your position changes.

Crater Lake has been created a national park by Uncle Sam, in order that his people might come and enjoy the grandeur of this unequalled sight.

BOSTON COMMON

Boston was founded in 1630 and Boston Common, distinctive and unique among municipal parks or open-air gathering places has been in existence from the very beginning of the community—having been set aside in 1634 as a "place for a traying field as well as for the feeding of cattle."

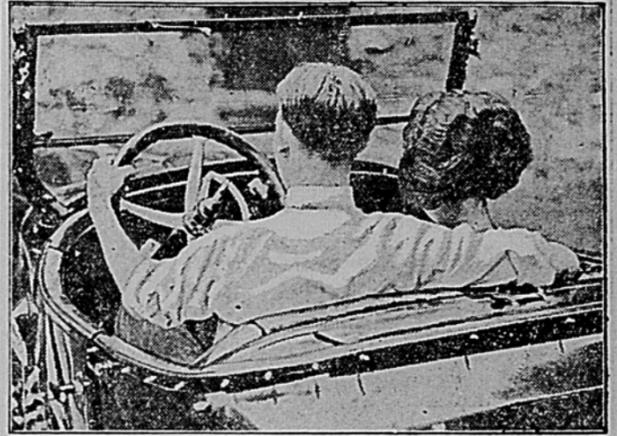

The Common occupies approximately fifty acres. In the early days the Charles river bordered on one side. Atop its highest point stands the Army and Navy monument "to the men of Boston who died for their country on land and sea in the war which kept the Union whole, destroyed slavery and maintained the Constitution," occupying the site upon which the British erected a redoubt during the siege of the city in Revolutionary war times.

To remain a fixed institution in progressive America for practically three centuries is an accomplishment extraordinary, yet here is a park—the Common, which has been a common in reality as well as in name since 1634. Its walks and lawns have been enjoyed by rich and poor, old and young; not only by Bostonians, but by citizens of every state in this Union as well as by citizens of practically every country on the face of the earth.

Despite the growth of the town and the pressure to commercialize large open spaces adjacent to the business part of the town, no street car lines have been permitted to encroach on the Common, neither has its size been reduced—the law of 1640 which declares that "There shall be no land granted either for house, plot or garden out of ye ground of common field," having been strictly complied with.

Pleasingly rolling—hill and slope—probably no other open space in America is in more general use, due unquestionably to the large population which resides within reasonable walking distance plus the fact that it is "right here in the center of things and does not need going to."

DANGEROUS WAY TO DRIVE CAR

The illustration is probably unnecessary, but for the benefit of the innocent it is explained that this position, while driving, is very dangerous for both car occupants and pedestrians and a great many accidents have occurred because the one-armed driver was late in reaching the emergency brake. Keep both hands on the wheel.

ESSENTIAL HINTS IN BATTERY CARE

Distilled Water Should Be Added to Cells Just Before It Is to Be Charged.

For best results, distilled water should be added to the cells of a storage battery only just before it is to be charged (as in driving the car). The hydrometer readings should not be taken until after the charging has proceeded for some time because charging is the only means by which the acid and water can be thoroughly mixed.

Making Voltage Test. To make a voltage test of the storage battery, first place it on discharge for 10 or 15 minutes by turning on the lights. Using the 30-volt scale of a voltmeter, connect the instrument across the main terminals of the battery and the scale should register 6 volts or more.

Overhaul and Clean. If a storage battery is to be given the proper care, it should be overhauled and cleaned once a year—this is not an expensive operation and guarantees large savings in the long run. The car owner can accomplish a great deal in this connection by keeping the top of the battery dry and clean at all times—the terminals should always be tight and well greased with vaseline to prevent excessive corrosion.

Useful Portable Lavatory. Question of Washing Hands After Making Necessary Repairs Solved by Cincinnati Man.

Often it happens that motorists are obliged to stop and repair their cars far from any available water supply, and then it is a question of washing their hands. Annoying, often.

But Edgar S. Curtiss of Cincinnati has devised a portable lavatory, which, having the outward appearance of a suitcase, may readily be put to use in such an emergency.

Half of it is a water tank; the other half is a basin. All that is necessary is to open it and turn a tap. A small box with a water-tight lid, to contain a cake of soap, is mounted on the tank, which is also provided with a spring clamp to hold a towel.

Thus the motorist can wash his hands at a moment's notice, dry them, empty the basin by unscrewing a cap which closes the outlet and so go on his way rejoicing.

PROPER LUBRICANTS FOR CAR. Too Heavy Oil Cuts Down Power Considerably—Gears and Bearings Will Run Dry.

The power of a car is cut down considerably by too heavy an oil in the engine and too heavy a grease in the gear case. Lubricants that are too thick will not flow at all in cold weather and the gears and bearings will run dry.

Our Motor Lexicon.

Isn't it about time to rename some of the important units of the car so that they will mean more to motorists? Take the "tail light," for example. Most drivers come to know this as the "trouble light," so why not change the motor lexicon accordingly? For a lot of drivers the "accelerator" isn't very far removed from a "third rail," and it might go better, revised accordingly. There's no particular kick coming about the "vacuum tank," for it often lives up to its name, but surely it is time to recognize "fenders" as "defenders."

USE SPARK PLUGS TO STOP CYLINDER HOLE

Auto Must Have Magneto and Wires to Hook Onto It.

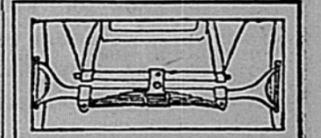

Spark plugs have been in use almost as long as the automobile itself. They were invented primarily to plug up the holes in the top of the cylinders.

That's how they came to be called plugs. When automobiles were first made, they had trouble with holes forming in the tops of the cylinders. Some cars had four holes, some had six, and some even had eight and twelve. It all depended on the car, and they never knew until after the car was finished how many plugs it was going to need.

Along about the time they were trying to find some way to effectively plug up these holes, they found that to run properly, a car had to have a magneto and wires to hook onto it. Then came the question of what to do with the other ends of the wires that were hooked onto the magneto. One day a young inventor decided to attach the loose ends of the magneto wires to the plugs in the top of the cylinders and rename the plugs spark plugs. This was done, and it became so popular with automobile makers that it has been the custom ever since.

Now automobile makers even go so far as to advertise their cars by the number of spark plugs it has. For instance, you hear of the "super six," the "highway twelve," the "twin six" and the "aero eight."—Arcade News.

Spring Levels Car.

The automobile is always level if it has this "compensating spring" attached to the front axle, say its manufacturers. The spring acts as a shock absorber, while the crossbar above, connected to the end of the chassis, keeps the car level no matter what the position of the wheels may be.

AUTOMOBILE PAINTS

Keep storage battery fully charged. A car with soft tires will not steer well.

Cars that flash blinding headlights at night are dangerous factors in motoring.

With proper attention, springs ought to outlive the car. Reset springs are never equal to those in their original state, so avoid resetting if possible.

Spring shackles, wheel bearings, steering connections and universal joints should be oiled frequently to save wear and insure smoother operation.

When going down very steep hills, shut off the switch and use the second gear as a brake. This not only adds to the safety of the passengers, but also tends to cool off the motor.

Save More Baby Chicks This Year

The very surest way you can save more baby chicks this year is to use the right starting feed. Ordinary grain feeds and home mixed rations kill countless chicks every year. How often you hear the expression "I had bad luck with my chicks. So many of them died." In most cases the trouble is in the starting feed. Make up your mind to save more baby chicks.

Purina Chicken Chowder and Purina Baby Chick Chow

fill every requirement of a perfect feed for baby chicks. With Purina Poultry Chows you can give your chicks a double start.

Double development or money back is the guarantee if, when fed as directed, these two Chows do not produce double growth over ordinary grain feeds the first six weeks.

Order these Chows now before your chicks become stunted for lack of proper nourishment.

FORMER TAHOKA PASTOR VISITS AT PLAINVIEW

From the Plainview Herald:
Rev. S. J. Upton, who formerly lived in Plainview and was pastor of the Otton, Meteor and half-way churches was called here this week on account of the operation upon his son-in-law, Harve L. Pace, which occurred a week ago at the Plainview sanitarium. Mr. Pace, whose home is 16 miles east of town, is improving satisfactorily, Rev. Upton said. Rev. Upton also visited his son, S. B. Upton, southeast of the city.
Rev. Upton was glad to report that Mrs. Upton's health is considerably improved, a thing which many of her friends in this section will be glad to hear. The family lived here eight years, and they still own their home northeast of town, near Seth Ward addition. Rev. Upton is now pastor of the Chadbourne Street Methodist Church of San Angelo, and the church is now building him a new six-room parsonage and he will move into it as soon as he returns to San Angelo. Rev. Upton left yesterday afternoon for Happy, where he will visit his daughter, Mrs. Odell Gillman.

We are almost too busy to write, but we will try once more. The health of our community is good. We have been blessed with good rains. Our land was never in better condition for planting. We farmers are making an effort to plant our crops while we have a good season in the ground. We try to get out early and work late. The majority of us have our feed planted. Some of our maize is large enough to be plowed. This week we are putting cotton seed into the ground. There will be a good acreage of cotton in this country.

Our gardens are looking fine. Our young chickens are growing fast. Our Sunday School is progressing nicely and a good attendance. All seem to be interested in the work.

LADY WAS IN A BAD FIX FROM NERVOUS INDIGESTION

Biloxi, Miss.—"I had, for a year or more, nervous indigestion, or some form of stomach trouble," says Mrs. Alonzo Ford, 1117 Clay Street, this city. "The water I drank at that time seemed to constipate me. I would suffer until I got so nervous I wanted to get down on the floor and roll. I felt like I could tear my clothes.

"Every night, and night after night, I had to take something for a laxative, and it had to be kept up nightly. My side would pain. I looked awful. My skin was sallow and seemed spotted. I would look at my hands and arms, and the flesh looked lifeless.

"I happened to get a Birthday Almanac, so I told my husband I would try the Black-Draught, which I did. I took a few big doses. I felt much better. My liver acted well. I made a good, warm meal and drank it that way. Soon I found that nervous, tight feeling was going, as was the pain in my side. I found I did not have to take it every night. Soon, after a few weeks, I could leave it off for a week or so, and I did not suffer with constipation. . . I gained flesh. I have a good color, and believe it was a stubborn liver, and that Black-Draught did the work.

"I went to my mother's (Mrs. Deeters) one day, and she wasn't well at all. . . I told her we'd try Black-Draught. We did, and now she keeps it to take after eating. It certainly helped her, and we neither will be without it in our homes. It is so simple, and the dose can be regulated as the case may be. We use small doses after meals for indigestion, and larger doses for headache or bad liver."

Theford's Black-Draught liver medicine is for sale everywhere. 10c

Short Coats on the Style List

Women are having a really good time with the little short coats, writes a fashion observer in the New York Times. There is so much novelty about them—so much that is new and bright and cheerful. And then they are economical. They help out other costumes. They add just enough of color to a dark gown, and they can be used with separate skirts. Really, their possibilities are unending. They have taken the popular fancy and are bound to ingratiate themselves so much that they will last a long time in the field of fashion.

It has been stated over and over again that embroidery rules the season, but it is only when we come to a consideration of the short coat that we realize the strength of that statement. Embroidery runs riot in this particular, and if the coat is not embroidered over every inch of its surface, then it has trimmings and edgings and facings of stitches that are fascinating to see.

The principal beauty of these shorter coats is that they are colorful and decorative. There are many ways of making them so. A plain short coat is as nothing at all. It loses all excuse for being.

One of the French designers did a very clever thing with a short coat by making its outside surface of dark blue heavy satin and its inner surface of bright red silk duvetyne. It was short and straight and boxed in line and so finished that it could be worn on the blue side or the red, whichever pleased its wearer. Of course, on either occasion, the contrasting color and material showed as a sort of edging and accessory. It was intended to be worn over a plain chemise dress of dark blue satin devoid of trimming. When desirable, the red coat made a lovely combination, but at other times the blue coat would suffice with just the glimpses of red to give the costume relief and trimming.

Line Becoming to Most Women.

The short coat line is becoming to most women if they arrange it cleverly. For the tall American woman there could be no better design. She can afford to have the line of her clothes broken, and the wearing of a colorful little jacket is something that helps her to appear at her best. For the woman whose proportions are on a larger scale the color of the coat must be more in keeping with the color of the skirt and the design so arranged that the line and cut of the jacket sweep into the line of the skirt without too much division about the hips. On this point the woman who is going to buy one of these short jackets should be most insistent. In that mescompromising. It is embroidered by hand over its entire surface. Its color is gray and the stitches that make up the all-over pattern are done in wool in the most brilliant of tones, giving more of a Russian effect than any other sort. The edges are bound with black and a vivid green ribbon, the latter color repeating one that is predominant in the embroidery. The lining is a somewhat lighter shade of gray crepe. The skirt is gray kasha and the blouse is the same color crepe that is used for the lining of the coat.

Numerous Styles Available. This is an excellent example of the straight coat done with attention to the required details and attuned to her salvation. But imagine her disappointment if she lets that consideration go unnoticed and comes home to see herself looking 100 per cent broader than she expected.

The plaited skirt is the natural accompaniment of the shorter coat. All sorts of other skirts are worn with them, but the plaits serve the purpose satisfactorily. They seem to blend with the whole idea—and a plaited skirt when it is kept pressed and flat is just as good for a stout woman as it is for her more slender sister. She keeps her straight line when she wears it and at the same time adopts the fuller mode that is creeping into the skirts.

The short coats are a new development and need to be studied before we can expect, individually, to adapt them to our own uses in the most effective way. There is one—an embroidered type—illustrative of the manner in which these coats are handled. Its lines are straight and un-

Ribbon Trimmings Popular; Handsome Informal Suits

ALTHO the mode is insistent in the matter of the slender figure and adores simplicity (when it goes hand in hand with cleverness) there is no lack of variety in afternoon frocks. Fashion approves many things that contribute to their diversity—as combinations of two or more materials and colors, a wide latitude in style of sleeves and unusual neck treatments and draperies. There is no end to the variety of trimmings and styles has brought about spirited and handsome suits that are entirely informal, these being entire-knit or of knitted fabric in silk or fiber silk.

In the matter of the knit frock or that of the knitted fabric it is entirely a matter of preference. They are proving very close rivals as the illustration will verify.

among them ribbons contribute an element of beauty and richness that it is worth while to think about.

It takes an artist to use ribbon lavishly without giving us too much of a good thing. When ribbon is not merely an accessory but plays a part in the construction of a dress, as in the handsome afternoon frock pictured, it may easily be overdone. But it has been managed with skill in his model of crepe de chine and moire ribbon. It provides founces, collar, cuffs and girdle. The crepe de chine foundation could not be simpler—it is merely a straight slip-over with elbow sleeves to which the moire rib-

We have grown into the habit lately of speaking of dressy sports types. This has come about through the inclination to elaborate suits and frocks so that they bear an informal air even though ornate in color and novelty. Such is the charming suit of knitted silk shown to the right. It has plain stripes alternating with Roman colored fancy knit stripes. The jacket is in the darker of the two colors, and is sleeveless. Two flat pockets at the sides and a small hip pocket at the bust line add to its bon lends a dignified element. One can imagine it in black, or in any of the season's popular colors, and find it a pleasing vision so long as the ribbon and crepe de chine match in color.

When afternoon frocks are under consideration no one should fail to consider this season's printed silks. They require next to nothing in the way of trimming but the narrower ribbons make the prettiest of girdles or other finishing touches for them.

smart style. The straight-line dress which completes this stunning three-piece suit of novelty knitted fabric appropriates the lighter color in a long-waisted bodice having sleeves decorated with woven-in bands in the darker color. The girdle is also woven of the lighter silk and the skirt combines the two colors with gay knitted stripes.

land people, and they are always so busy. But goodness, gracious, mercy me!

"It is all one can do to keep up with all the creatures who want their stories told and want to be introduced to the children they care so much about even if they don't see them very often.

"And there are so many who want to have the children hear about their ways and of what they do.

"The animals like to have their stories told, the birds like to have theirs told, too.

"Yes, it is hard to begin to keep up with all the stories that really should be told.

"And the animals and the birds, the fairies and the elves, the butterflies and the sea creatures—all are doing such interesting things all the time.

"But tonight I mustn't forget to tell you about the Fairy Queen's latest ball in Fairyland for it was a magnificent affair and every one was there decked in their very best.

"The Fairy Queen sent out her invitations a week in advance. You may have noticed that not long ago on a lovely sunny day, which happened also to be quite windy, that many of the leaves were blowing about.

"Well, this time the Fairy Queen sent out her invitations written upon the leaves in the Fairyland Leaf Writing which all the Fairyland creatures know.

"Of course, if you had tried to catch one of those leaves you couldn't have done so for the Breeze Brothers saw that the leaves bearing invitations all went along to their right addresses.

"Sometimes they blew them this way and that, but they all saw that they reached the right places at last.

"And every single Fairy and Elf and Gnome—every one received an invitation which read as follows:

"The Fairy Queen is to give a dance. Come and with us gayly prance! It will be one week from tonight. Just as the clocks are striking midnight! We want you and every one. To help us make it the best of fun. Come along—don't bother to write! Remember—next week as the clocks strike midnight!

"Well, every one was on hand, or perhaps one should say on foot. And the costumes were very lovely.

"The Fairy Queen wore a robe of silver and white which looked so lovely.

"Old Willy Witch wore a gorgeous scarlet costume and her best tall scarlet hat and a scarlet shawl trimmed with golden lace.

"Old Mr. Giant wore a suit of purple velvet trimmed with yellow flowers. It was very handsome.

"Fairy Ybab wore a dress of coral pink and through her hair she had wound a long, long string of coral beads.

"Fairy Princess Twilight-Bell wore a gown of sapphire blue with spangles decorating it.

"Fairy Princess Joy wore an exquisite robe of golden yellow and around her head she wore a crown of golden leaves. She carried a wand of gold too.

"Billie Brownie wore a brown velvet suit and a magnificent brown silk tie, and Bennie Brownie wore the same.

"Peter Gnome was in an orange suit from which dangled little silver bells, and Effie Elf wore pale green and silver.

"Truly, you never heard of such lovely costumes as were worn that night in Fairyland, and every little creature had made his or her own costume.

"For the Fairyland people know how to make the loveliest of things and then, too, they know how to wave their magic wands at just the right time.

"And as for fun!

"Well, they danced and they danced and Fairy Ybab, of course, led the Fairies' orchestra, though at times one of the other fairies would take her place so she could dance too.

"And before the party was over, just as daylight was beginning to creep along, saying:

"'Can't I get up now?'—the Fairyland people all gathered in an enormous ring around the Fairy Queen and sang this song:

"We love you, we love you, our dear Fairy Queen, You're the sweetest Fairy we've ever seen!"

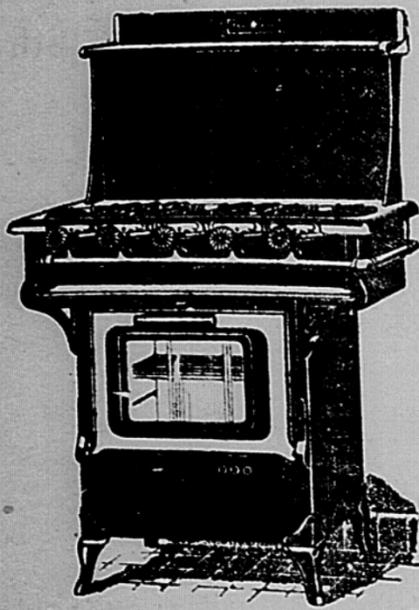

"Every Single Fairy."

A TRIP TO GAIL, BORDEN COUNTY

The editor of the News had the pleasure last Monday afternoon of making an overland trip to Gail, Texas, the county seat of Borden county, accompanying S. B. Hatchett, of the West Texas Real Estate Co., and W. D. Nevels, local banker and cattleman of Tahoka.

Gail is an inland town located under the caprock, some forty-five miles southeast of Tahoka, and has a population of only a few dozen souls, consisting mostly of county officers, one or more merchants and a filling station and garage. One of the most outstanding features about the little city of Gail is a magnificent brick school building, which stands as a monument on a hill side in the extreme northern part of town. Not a great many years ago Gail was a wide open town, where the cowboys and ranchmen often rode into town on their cow ponies and imbibed freely of old John Barley corn and danced and made merry. The greater portion of Borden county is still a cow country, there being several large ranches in the county. Only a few farms dot the hill sides and valleys, but the soil is very rich and very productive. Mostly feed is raised in the county and very little cotton owing to the extreme distance in hauling it to the gin. Borden county is a wonderful stock country. Mr. Nevels, of this city was once a citizen of Borden county, having been a cowboy in that section in the early days, riding from the line camp on the big ranch from sixty to seventy-five miles in each direction. Mr. Nevels also served as county clerk of Borden county for five years, being the second man to hold this office in Gail. This was some twenty-three years ago. Many changes have taken place since that time, stated

Mr. Nevels, while visiting his old stamping ground last Monday.

This editor greatly enjoyed the trip and we want to say that it was our pleasure to gaze upon some of the finest farming lands in west Texas as we passed through the southeast portion of Lynn county. At Redwine, we noticed a new church and school building. At Draw, we found a little town had sprung up, there being two general merchandise stores, a garage and a bran new five stand cotton gin. Both Redwine and Draw are progressive communities, and are becoming settled up at a rapid rate.

LUCKY THIRTEEN CLUB (Dezayed)

Last Thursday afternoon, from three until six o'clock, Mrs. Jack Alley entertained the "Lucky Thirteen Club," with 500 at the home of Mrs. B. H. Robinson. The house was beautifully decorated with pot plants. The score cards were passed and the games started on time, and when the time was up an ice course was served to the following: Mesdames Callaway, Slaton, Larkin, Wells, Thomas, Weathers, Stevenson, Hatchett, Howell, Riley and the two hostesses, Mesdames Robinson and Alley.

THE CALL OF THE CATALOGUE

By Phebe K. Warner

Spring is here. If you could not tell by the budding trees and the Spring flowers, you would know it by the catalogues you see in every home in the land. No matter who you are or where you live, there is one institution that never forgets you. It never overlooks anybody from the humblest to the highest in the human family. And that institution is the catalogue house.

Long before you have decided just what you are going to need in the line of a Spring costume, or a new Spring hat, shoes, furniture or even farm machinery, somebody somewhere in this nation is thinking of you. Somebody has premeditated your needs, drawn a picture of them and not only bare essentials but all the things that you might possibly imagine you needed and had those things beautifully illustrated in a bran new book and sent it out to you unequalled by any other institution in all our country.

Really we mean this: If more institutions took the same personal and individual interest in everybody that the catalogue house does what a world this would be! In this we might all learn a beautiful lesson. Suppose we all showed the same interest in every little home in the land that catalogue house does. The only objection to the catalogue house is the motive of its interest—which is to extract every dollar and cent from every home in the country rather than to invest in that home or community.

What is the result? The result is that a very large percent of the income of the country community everywhere goes to build up great lines of business in the cities of our nation. And then what does that catalogue house do in return to build up your home school or home community when you try do something for the good of all your people? This is the smoothest trick in the catalogue business. No wonder they can afford to send you a highly colored picture of everything you need. Because they never expect to see any of their patrons coming around and thrusting a subscription paper under their nose. Not even the taxes they pay on their business goes to build up the communities that make their business possible. And the queerest thing about the catalogue business is that we all order things and pay cash in advance for them, that we would never buy and pay for if we were to see the articles. But when they come our money is in some foreign city. It's no use to object. We did not expect much anyway, so we are not much disappointed, so we just put them on and wear them out. As a rule they do not last long anyway. The trouble comes when we want to build a new church or a new school or do something for the good of all the county. Then we want the assistance and cooperation of the home merchant but he is so tired of carrying our accounts and struggling along on a half hearted business and most of them on long delayed payments that he meets our proposition with a cold shoulder and then we all feel discouraged.

What is the matter? There is a double commercial tragedy in all this business and it is hard to place the blame. It is hard to say which is the cause and which is the effect. But both exist in almost every community in our State and Nation. And no matter which is the cause and which is the effect, it is an economic and commercial condition that needs to be met. The first proposition is, why do the home folks not patronize the home merchant more? Can anybody answer that? Is it the fault with the folks of the merchant? Is it the quality of his goods? The home merchant as a rule has better goods than the catalogue house. Is it the style and variety? We buy from the catalogue house sight unseen. We never even see the goods until they are paid for and arrive. And then we see them by themselves only, so we do not know whether we would rather have them or not, because we had no way to compare them. That is why we are satisfied with them. They are better than nothing.

Is the catalogue house cheaper? Well, everybody who patronizes them seems to think so. Wonder how the home merchant would feel if we would walk into his store and without a word of fault finding or criticism we would select a good bill of goods and pull out a check book and pay him spot cash for them before he ever tied them up? Wonder if every thing we owe the home merchant is paid today? All things taken into consideration, how many of us treat our home merchant as fair and square as we do the catalogue house?

On the other hand, what does the home merchant do by way of advertising? Does he go to the same trouble to let the home folks know what he has for sale as the catalogue house does? Does he ever send his advertising literature to every home in the county? Does he take an interest in what his patrons have for sale and help them find a market for their products, so they in time will have more cash to spend with him? Is he in any way interested in the economic interests of his customers? Or does he pay no attention to the things they have for sale? And by his manners prove that all he cares for is their dollars and cents? In other words, is their any relation between the home merchant and his customer? Why do the people of the county hear and heed the call of the catalogue house and patronize this unknown and unseen merchant instead of their home merchant? Whose fault is it?
