State Teachers' Association

Canyon, Texas,
October 18, 1921.

Supt. H. P. Caveness,
Tahoka, Texas.

Dear Mr. Caveness:

I have just returned from a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Texas State Teachers' Association. I am writing to urge that Lynn county get immediately into the class of one hundred per cent enrollment of the teachers in your county in the State organization.

I realize that we people in the West have little opportunity to attend the State meetings and thereby do not get the most out of the organization. It is true, however, that we cannot go get more for the amount of money we spend on the association than do those who actually attend.

Whether we do or not, we receive the Texas Outlook through which we stay in touch with the school progress of the State.

Moreover, there is not a teacher in Texas today whose salary has not been increased through the activities of the State organization. This could not have been accomplished if the teachers had all refused to pay their dues. Do we not, therefore, owe it to ourselves and to our profession to join the organization and thus help accomplish these worthwhile things?

Again, there is not a school district in Texas which has not received more money for the support of its school this year, because of the activities of the State Teachers' Association. This results in longer terms of school, better teachers and more school improvement. We believe, therefore, that the teachers of Texas make a splendid investment when they join the State organization.

Moreover, for these same reasons, it is entirely worth while for every citizen who is interested in our educational progress to help the Texas State Teachers' Association in the same way. Boards of Trustees, members of Parent-Teachers' Organizations, and others should find pleasure in joining the association.

All remittances to be mailed to R. T. Ellis, Secretary, 2928 Lipscomb street, Ft. Worth, Texas.

Trusting that you will present this matter to the people of Lynn county, and assuring you of my confidence that your county will go "over the top" I am

Sincerely yours,

J. A. HILL,

Chairman 18th Congressional District.

The above letter explains itself, but let me say that every live teacher should join, and I am very anxious to have a 100 per cent enrollment. Send in your fees or hand to me, and I shall be glad to send them in.

Respectfully,

H. P. CAVENESS.

Rev. J. F. Curry and family formerly of Brownfield, have located in Lynn county just south of Tahoka. Rev. Curry is missionary for the Brownfield Baptist Association and we are glad to have him and his family move here.

NEIGHBORS GATHER CROP ON MRS. B. REDWINE'S FARM

The News overlooked the mention of an important item in last week's issue when we failed to state that thirty-three men in the New Home neighborhood met at the home of Mrs. Ben Redwine and gathered her crop. Sixteen teams were used in the work. This was a very commendable act on the part of those citizens who took part in this work. Mrs. Redwine recently lost her husband who died in a Lubbock sanitarium from injuries received while hitching up a young mare.

NIGHT PROWLERS

Night peepers have been reported at Higgins, and other Panhandle towns who prowl around nights, looking into residences, usually when the man of the house is away. Just what good this might mean to any sounder, even if left alone unhampered, is beyond our conception. Prowlers have no business around private residences, and the sooner they receive a good load of buckshot, properly directed at their differential the better off everyone will be. Very few people will give more consideration to a night prowler wearing pants than they will to a chicken stealing cat, and it is properly so. Man or woman should feel no remorse of conscience in shooting down the skunk who prowls around their homes at night.—Miami Chief.

Messrs. and Mesdames Joe Penny and Kid Powell, of Lubbock, visited with Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Stokes Sunday, returning home in the afternoon.

Mrs. C. H. Gain returned Saturday from a visit with relatives in the state of Michigan, extending over two months.

C. E. Brown returned the past week from the Dallas Fair.

J. W. Crouch came in this week from Dallas, where he had been in charge of the Lynn County agricultural exhibit. The News published a letter from Mr. Crouch in last week's issue.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Haynes were down from Lubbock Sunday visiting in the home of the News editor.

Messrs. O. M. Bramlett, H. H. Hancock, H. J. Howerton, and L. H. Burgen, of Hico, Texas, and Buck Hancock, of Stephenville, Texas, were prospectors in Lynn county the past week. They were callers at the News office and expressed themselves as being highly pleased with what they had seen of this section of the south plains, and stated that we would very likely see more of them a little later on in the season.

On last Saturday afternoon, a citizen of Snyder rushed in the News office and ordered some Heralds printed post-haste. The editor got busy and accommodated the gentleman in a few minutes time. He had had the misfortune to have his Ford roadster stolen a few days since and was having a description of the car printed in order to inform the officers over the surrounding country with the hopes that they might be able to catch the thief and return his Tin Lizzie.

When last heard of he was headed north.

Mr. James Lee Wilson and wife were visitors in Tahoka the past week from Portales, N. M., where Mr. Wilson is engaged in the real estate business. They were en route to east Texas on an extended vacation.

Ira Wheatley, county clerk of Garza county, was a business visitor in Tahoka this week.

TAHOKA JEWELRYMAN ACCOMMODATING

Over at Tahoka the other day, burglars entered a jewelry store and took several watches, rings, etc. The jeweler was nice enough to notify through the newspaper the thieves that all the watches they stole were fully guaranteed and any watch found not good would be made good with the cash. That is real nice of him we think, and undoubtedly the thief who stole the watches will give the jeweler his future patronage.—Miami Chief.

RAILROAD STRIKE CLOUDS GATHERING

LABOR BOARD'S EFFORTS TO AVERT A WALK-OUT ARE SO FAR FUTILE

CONFERENCES CALLED OFF

Chairman Announces That He Does Not Know What the Next Move Will Be.

Chicago, Ill.—Efforts by the Railroad Labor Board to avert the threatened railroad strike through conference with heads of five unions which have ordered a walkout, effective Oct. 20, failed when the meeting adjourned with the announcement by the board that "while the discussions were beneficial, no definite results were obtained."

"There has been a full and frank discussion of the situation," said a statement given out by Ben W. Hooper, vice chairman of the board.

"The Labor Board and the brotherhood chiefs exchanged views in a perfectly pleasant way. The interview was beneficial, but we can not say that any definite results were obtainable."

"The five union presidents departed for their organizations' headquarters with the announcement that plans for the proposed strike would go right ahead."

"The adjournment is final," Chairman R. N. Barton of the Labor Board announced. "We do not plan any further conferences with the labor leaders, nor do we plan at present to call in the railroad presidents. I can not say what our next step may be."

Union leaders said the board had not presented anything which they looked on as in any way a tangible proposition.

"It's somebody's move next," said the head of one of the larger of the five organizations. "Whether it's ours, the board's or the roads', I don't know."

"I only know that the board brought us here and talked for hours without presenting anything which we could even consider as a compromise. The meeting was absolutely without results."

"We are going back to our headquarters. There is nothing scheduled immediately, except to go right ahead with the plans for a strike."

Members of the board said while the conference had ended and no immediate plans had been made, it still was possible to hold further meetings with the labor leaders before the date of the scheduled walkout arrives.

"The board is determined to go as far as possible under the law," one member said, "and if it is unable to accomplish anything, it will be the fault of the law, rather than the board."

Board members said that the labor chiefs remained inflexible in maintaining that the present fight was a fight for the life of their organizations.

Continual alleged violations of the board's orders had convinced the employees, they were quoted as telling the board, that there would be no end to encroachment on what the railroad workers considered their rights.

E. G. Goforth, general manager of the L. & G. N., notified strike of Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen on his lines would be effective at noon Oct. 22.

Eastern roads have advertised for men to fill vacancies which would result from a strike. Central of New Jersey announced it received so many replies that no more can be considered.

American Railway Men's Association, with 10,000 members has appealed to railroad workers not to strike.

New strike vote has been ordered among Pennsylvania lines shop craft workers.

Southern Railway officials now announce it was not represented at recent Chicago rail executives' meeting, where plans to seek a new 10 per cent wage cut were announced.

PEACE TREATY IS RATIFIED IN SENATE

VOTES 66 TO 20 ON PACT AS RECOMMENDED BY THE COMMITTEE.

Washington.—Formal peace with Germany has at last been established. The Senate voted Tuesday 66 to 20 to ratify the treaty negotiated by the present administration and a substitute for the treaty of Versailles.

The treaty declares peace to exist between the United States and Germany, guaranteeing certain rights granted to the United States under the treaty of Versailles and attempts to safeguard the claims of American citizens against Germany.

The Senate also ratified peace treaties with Austria and Hungary which are virtually the same as the German pact.

The treaties as adopted were unamended except for the two reservations of the Foreign Relations Committee. These were adopted without a record vote. One provides that there may be no American representative on any international body except with the express consent of Congress. The other states that rights acquired by the United States Government shall apply to citizens of the United States as well.

Shortly before the ratification vote the Senate again rejected the treaty of Versailles.

The Senate rejected, 56 to 12, an amendment offered by Senator McKellar of Tennessee, a Democrat, which would have forced Germany to acknowledge her guilt for the war.

Debate during the day developed a large difference of opinion between Senators Borah of Idaho and Johnson of California.

Borah took issue with Johnson's statement that America's sole right to Yap was based on the Versailles treaty. Borah insisted that America's claim was based on victory and on Armistice terms.

The Idaho Senator reiterated his belief that the present treaty involved a recognition of the Versailles treaty.

"It is not alone because we tie into the Versailles treaty an illegal proposition," he said, "but it is because we recognize and sanction it, and give support to it as a moral proposition that I opposed it when it was before the Senate and that I oppose it now."

THE NATIONAL BANK OF CLEBURNE CLOSSES DOORS

Cleburne, Texas.—The National Bank of Cleburne failed to open its doors Thursday morning. There was a sign on the front door signed by the cashier which read as follows: "This bank is closed and payments are suspended and is now in the hands of the Federal Government and will not be open for several weeks."

The directors also signed a statement stating that owing to the heavy withdrawals of the county funds and poor collections, coupled with withdrawals of depositors, that the bank had been forced to close its doors. The Farmers and Traders Bank at Rio Vista was here Wednesday and reported heavy deposits in that bank. Many people gathered at the entrance of the National Bank of Cleburne Wednesday, hoping that the bank would open, and a number of women wrote out checks on the glass doors, expecting to get them cashed when the bank opened. But it did not.

The bank started in business here thirty-two years ago and was the oldest banking institution in the county. Many public funds were in this bank, including what was left of the $2,500,000 good roads fund. Work has been in progress on the roads for some time, hence it is not known what amount was left in that fund.

LIMITATION IN ARMS ALREADY STARTED

ESTIMATE OF $30,000,000 FOR AVIATION SUBMITTED FOR NEXT YEAR.

Washington.—The United States Government, through contemplated congressional appropriations, already has begun to limit its armament in the matter of aviation, one of the international defense arms which will receive vast attention during the forthcoming arms conference.

A total of $30,000,000 is the estimate which has been submitted to General Daves, director of budget for army and naval aviation for the next fiscal year, ending June 30, 1923.

The "limitation" in this defense branch may be realized when it is recalled that the army and navy asked approximately $70,000,000, and received about $34,000,000 from this Congress.

What this means to the American position in aviation may be realized when the fact is recalled that Congress in 1921 appropriated $53,900,000 for this branch of national defense, whereas, under the estimates for the forthcoming year, the army has been instructed to keep within $13,000,000. And the navy's estimate must be kept within $17,000,000.

At present the navy is and has been using war stocks to the extent of nearly 50 per cent of the total yearly expenditure.

These stocks, however, are rapidly diminishing and also are becoming obsolete, as new types of planes are constantly being developed, leaving much of the war stock out of date.

CONGRESS CALLS OFF KU KLUX KLAN INQUIRY

Washington.—The proposed investigation of the Ku Klux Klan by Congress blew up Monday.

After a ten-minute session behind closed doors the House Rules Committee, which at morning and afternoon sessions at Williams J. Simmons, the Klan's imperial wizard, through a rigid examination, voted unanimously not to call any more witnesses, certainly at this time. Announcement of the committee's action was made by Chairman Campbell, and while the chairman and members refused later to comment, beyond the bare statement as to witnesses, it is expected that an adverse report will be submitted to the House on a number of resolutions providing for such an investigation.

Final action, however, will not be taken until several absent members return to Washington, but House members accepted it as settled that they were done with the Ku Klux unless the Department of Justice, conducting an inquiry of its own, comes forward with unexpected evidence.

THREE LOSE LIVES IN BOARDING HOUSE FIRE

Six other persons were injured, some by being burned and others by leaping from the second story windows of the house. It was the most distressing fire loss Dallas has suffered in several years.

ARE MANY KINDS OF SALMON STOOD BY HIS OWN BUREAU OF FISHERIES, IN REPORT ON PACIFIC FISHERIES, LISTS LARGE NUMBER OF VARIETIES. Salmon is salmon to most persons, but there are many kinds of salmon to those who know a "hawk from a handsaw" and a salmon from a salmon. The bureau of fisheries, in a report on Pacific salmon fisheries, lists the following Pacific species of the renowned fish: Chinook, quinnat or king salmon; humpback or pink salmon; dog or chum salmon; sockeye blue-back or red salmon; silver or coho salmon, and steel-head trout. All these salmon, with the exception of the steel-head, are included in the genus "oncorhynchus," and that tough-looking word is made up of the Greek word "onkos," meaning a barb or a hook, and another Greek word "trychnus," meaning a snout, so that genus of fish is distinguished by a "hook snout." The steel-head trout, classed as a salmon, belongs to a closely related genus called "salmo," which is a word probably derived from the Celtic and the significance of which is disputed. CHAPTER VIII—(Continued.)

Cookie's unique proceeding on Cook's necessity to make the interest of the recovered Cutbert Vane, emerging after his prolonged absence, and of the trio who had at length returned from the woods, returned for an explanation, Cookie from his devotional posture and the portentous query:

"What was it, Cookie?" I urged.

"War on Cap'n now?"

"Down on the beach; he can't possibly hear you."

"You won't say nothing to git Cookie in a rumper?"

"Cross my heart to die, Cookie."

"Well, den"—Cookie spoke in a hoarse whisper—"Cap'n say he forgit to take his gun cartridges, Miss Jimmy, when he come back, I see him empty his gun cartridges out'n his belt and put back his pistol cartridges. So dere now!"

Jane Shrieked and Fell into the Arms of Mr. Tubbs.

Several days went by, and still the treasure was unfound. Of course, as the unexplored space in the cove contracted, so daily the probability grew stronger that Fortune would shed her golden smile upon us before night. Nevertheless, it seemed to me that the optimistic spirits of most were beginning to flag a little. Only Mr. Shaw, though barred as a confirmed doubter and pessimist, now by the exercise of will kept the others to their task. As for Captain Magnus, his restlessness was manifest. Several times he had suggested blowing the lid off the island with dynamite as the shortest method of getting at the gold. He was always vanishing on solitary excursions inland.

Mr. Tubbs remarked, scornfully, that a man with a nose for money ought to have smelled out the chest before this, but if his own nasal powers were of that character he did not offer to employ them in the service of the expedition. Miss Higlesby-Browne, however, had taken to retreating to the hut for private sessions with herself. My aunt reverentially explained their purpose. The hiding-place of the chest being of course known to the Universal Wisdom, all Violet had to do was to put herself in harmony and the knowledge would be hers. The difficulty was that you had first to overcome your Mundane Consciousness. To accomplish this Violet was struggling in the hut.

After my meeting with Captain Magnus in the forest, Lookout ridge was barred to me. Cruse and I must do our rambling in other directions. This being so, I thought me again of the wrecked sloop lying under the cliffs on the north shore of the cove. I remembered that there had seemed under the roof of the cabin, and I leaned idly down to watch him through a warped seam between the planks. Then I found that I was looking, not at Cruse, but into a little dim enclosure like a locker, in which some small object faintly caught the light. With a revived hope of finding relics, I got out my knife—a present from Cutbert Vane—and set briskly to work widening the seam.

I penetrated finally into a small locker or cubby-hole, set in the angle under the roof of the cabin, and, as subsequent investigation showed, so placed as to attract no notice from the casual eye. I ascertained this by lying down and wriggling my head and shoulders into the cabin. In other words, I had happened on a little private depository, in which the owner of the sloop might stow away certain small matters that concerned him intimately. Yet the contents of the locker at first seemed trifling. They were an old-fashioned chased silver shoe-buckle, and a brown-covered manuscript book.

The book had suffered much from dampness, whether of rains or of the wash of the sea. I seated myself on the cabin roof, extracted a hairpin, and began carefully separating the cloyed pages. The first three or four were quite illegible, the ink having run. Then the writing became clearer. I made out a word here and there:

"...directions vague...my grandfather—man a ruffian but...no motive...police of Havana...frightful den...grandfather made sure...registry...Bonny Lass..."

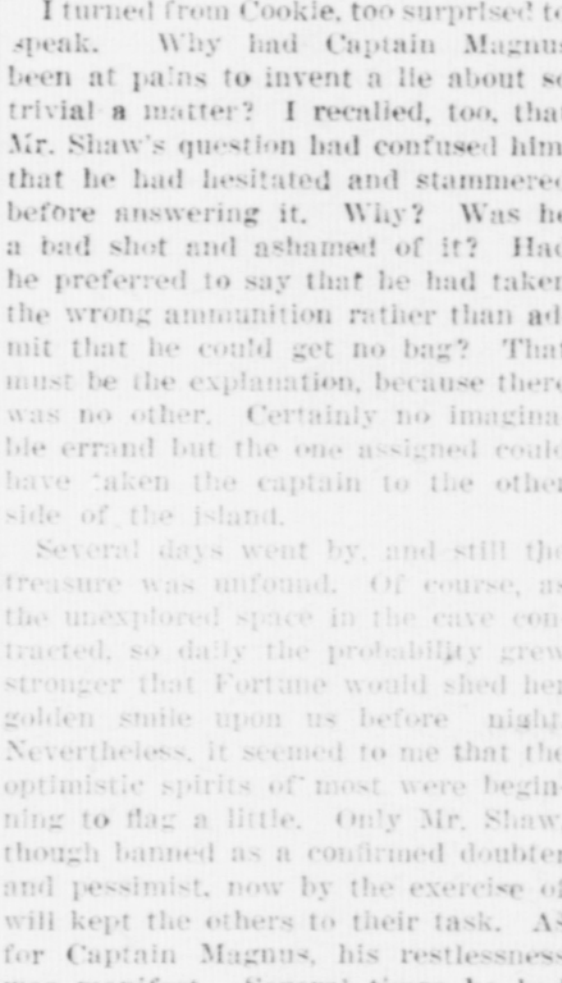

And at that I gave a small excited shriek which brought Cruse to me in a hurry. What had he to do, the writer of this journal, what had he to do with the Bonny Lass?

Breathlessly I read on:

"...thought captain still living but not sure...lost...Benito Bon..."

I closed the book. Now, while the coast was clear, I must get back to camp. It would take hours, perhaps days, to decipher the journal which had suddenly become of such supreme importance. I must smuggle it unobserved into my own quarters, where I could read at my leisure. As I set out I dropped the silver shoe-buckle into my pocket, smiling to think that it was I who had discovered the first bit of precious metal on the island. Yet the book in my hand, I felt instinctively, was of more value than many shoe-buckles.

Safely in my hammock, with a pillow under which I could slip the book in case of interruption, I resumed the reading. From this point on, although the writing was somewhat faded, it was all, with a little effort, legible.

I Made Out a Word Here and There.

THE DIARY.

"If Sampson did live to tell his secret, then any day there may be a sail in the offing. And still I cannot find it! Oh, if my grandfather had been too intent on the eternal welfare of the man he rescued from the Havana tavern brawl to question him about his story. A cave on Leeward island—nearly a stone marked with the letters B. H. and a cross-bones—'I told the captain,' said the poor dying wretch, 'we wouldn't have no luck after playing it that low down on Bill.' So I presume Bill lies under the stone."

"Well, all I have is in this venture. The old farm paid for the Island Queen—or will, if I don't get back in time to prevent foreclosure. All my staid New England relatives think me mad. A copra gatherer! A fine career for a minister's son! Well, when I get home with my Spanish doubloons there will be another story to tell. I won't be poor crazy Peter then. And Helen—oh, how often I wish I had told her everything! It was too much to ask her to trust me blindly as I did. But from that moment I came across the story in grandfather's old, half-forgotten diary—by the way, the diary habit seems to run in the family—a very passion of secrecy has possessed me. If I had told Helen, I should have had to dread that even in her sweet sleep she might whisper something to put that ferret, her stepmother, on the scent. Oh, Helen, trust me, trust me!"

"December 25. I have a calendar with me, so I am not reduced to notching a stick to keep track of the days. I mark off each carefully in the calendar. If I were to forget to do this, even for a day or two, I believe I should quite lose track. The days are so terribly alike!"

"My predecessor here in the copra-gathering business, old Heintz, really left me a very snug establishment. It was odd that I should have run across him at Panama that way."

"Christmas Day! I wonder what they are all doing at home?"

CHAPTER IX.

What Cruse and I Found.

When after those poignant moments the boat I met Dugald Shaw in commonplace fashion at the table, a then, queer, altogether unprecedented shyness seized me. I sat looking down at my plate with the cherie of a silly child.

During the meal Mr. Shaw asked Captain Magnus if he had had good luck on the other side of the island. Captain Magnus, as usual, had seemed to feel that time consecrated to eating was wasted in conversation. At a point-blank question he started comically, stuttered, and finally explained that though he had taken a rifle and carried along pistol cartridges, and come home with an empty bag, at this moment I happened to be sitting at Cookie, who was setting in a dish before Mr. Tubbs. The man started visibly, and rolled his eyes at Captain Magnus with astonishment depicted in every dusky feature. He said nothing, although went to take part in our conversation as it proceeded, but I saw him shake his head and grizzled head in a disturbed and glazed fashion as he turned away.

After this a chill settled on the atmosphere. You felt a disturbance in the air, though wireless currents were passing and recrossing in general confusion.

As I passed Cookie at his dishpan, a sudden thought struck me. "Cookie," I remarked, "you had a thoroughly queer look just now when Captain Magnus told about having seen the wrong cartridges. What is the matter?"

LESSON FOR OCTOBER 30

STRONG DRINK IN A NATION'S LIFE—WORLD'S TEMPERANCE SUNDAY.

LESSON TEXT—Isa. 28:1-2.
GOLDEN TEXT—"The wine unto him that giveth his neighbor drink, he shall drink."

REFERENCE MATERIAL—Isa. 28:1-2, E. 28, Amos 4:1, 2.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Story of the Rechabites.

JUNIOR TOPIC—The Faithful Rechabites.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Enforcing Prohibition.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—World Prohibition.

I. God's Judgment Upon Israel (vv. 1-2).

1. The sin for which Israel was judged (v. 1). It was drunkenness, which seems to have been a national sin. (See Isa. 5:11, 12; 7:5; Amos 2:3, 8, 12; 4:1; 6:6.) Samaria's position was an enviable one. The whole nation was proud of her. The crown of pride whose glorious beauty had been so marked was fading through the blighting effects of drunkenness.

2. The instrument by which the punishment was effected (v. 2). It was to be by the strong hand of the Assyrians. The imagery of this verse shows that this destruction was to be sudden, swift and irresistible.

Some of the evils wrought by drunkenness:

(a) Strength is wasted by it (v. 1). "Are overcome with wine." Man's manifold strength, physical, mental and spiritual, is soon mastered by strong drink. (b) Honor brought into the dust. "Shall be trodden under feet" (v. 1, 2). Just as this proud city was humbled through intemperance, so does drunkenness bring down into the dust those high in educational, social and business circles. (c) It despoils beauty (v. 1, 4). "Beauty is a fading flower." Beauty soon departs from the form and spirit of men and women who indulge in the intoxicating cup. (d) Wisdom is turned aside (v. 7). "They have erred through wine and strong drink." As a consequence they were groping in darkness instead of walking in the light of the Lord.

II. The Lord's Promise to the Remnant (vv. 5, 6).

Out of this awful darkness shines a ray of brightness, for following the destruction of the proud city the Lord of Hosts is promised for a crown of glory to the remnant of His people. This pointed forward to the coming of the Savior (Zech. 6:13). Their hopes were partially fulfilled at the first coming of the Savior, but the real fulfillment shall be when drunkenness, pride and all unrighteousness shall disappear before the glaring light of the Sun of Righteousness (Mal. 4:2; 1 Pet. 5:4).

III. The Sinfulness of Judah (vv. 7-10).

1. Drunkenness (v. 7). Judah had also erred through strong drink. Even their priests and prophets had fallen through the blighting effects of wine. It was a violation of God's law for a priest to take wine before entering the tabernacle. The drunkards of both Judah and Ephraim are denounced. The message is a fitting one for this day, for the Scriptures declare that no drunkard shall enter the kingdom (1 Cor. 5:11; 6:10).

2. Unnamable filth (v. 8). This description shows a condition which is deplorable indeed. Filth and drunkenness go hand in hand.

3. Mockery (v. 9, 10). In addition to their drunkenness and filth they scornfully mock God's prophets. These priests had become so hardened by their drunken debauchery that they set at naught Isaiah's instructions and scorned God's messengers. They questioned their authority and gave back the answer of ridicule as if to say, "We are teachers, what do you mean to teach us? Are we babes that have just been weaned? You come to us with your line upon line, line upon line." They were not only unwilling to receive the message, but tired of the way in which it was delivered. Not being willing to receive the message, they complain of the manner in which it is delivered. The doctrine of salvation by blood alone is not a very popular one; the preaching of the cross is foolishness to some (1 Cor. 1:18-21; 2:14).

IV. Judah's Punishment. (vv. 11-13).

The prophet replies to these drunken scoffers that their very drunken questions should be answered by the Lord in judgment. God had repeatedly offered them rest, but they had as repeatedly refused it. Their scorn and contempt are answered with the bitterest sarcasm. The bloody conqueror would come upon them and cause them to be snared and taken.

God Waits.

Patience, nobly, ungrudgingly, God waits; waits for the man who is a fool to find out his own folly; waits for the heart which has tried to find pleasure in everything else to find out that everything else disappoints, and to come back to Him, the fountain of all wholesome pleasure, the well-spring of all life fit for a man to live.—Charles Kingsley.

Banish Fear.

To fear the worst oft causes the worst.—Shakespeare.

BACK YARDS MADE BETTER

Contest Spurs Boys and Girls of Findlay to Beautify Their Home Surroundings.

More than 100 back yards of Findlay, O., now look better than most Findlay front yards as a result of an idea of Council President Frank J. Collingwood, whose hobby is attractive environments for the home.

Mr. Collingwood enlisted the support of the local Rotary club and the Chamber of Commerce in what he termed a "better back yard" contest as a means of heightening juvenile interest in improved yards and home surroundings, and at the same time bettering the community's outside appearance.

A list of eleven prizes was announced for the contest—one a grand prize for either a boy or girl, five for boys and five for girls. Mr. Collingwood himself furnished the money for the prizes, to the extent of several hundred dollars.

The Chamber of Commerce took charge of the routine of the contest and when the lists closed for entrants there were a score more than 100 in the race for the coveted awards.

The contest lasted a little over a month, in which miracle transformations were wrought in many back yards in the city, by the youthful contestants. Working entirely alone, boys and girls in many instances, the judges reported, had to start with nothing but dump heaps, rough, weed-covered plots and the like. But hoes, rakes and spades, coupled with a generous amount of energy and above all a desire to win one of the eleven prizes, brought results, which were remarkable, according to the judges.

In making the awards, it wasn't alone the neatness of the yards that counted, but the condition of the yard at the start was taken into consideration as well and the progress that was made had a great deal to do with the award. Gardens were a part of the required work.

"There must be some real value in yard beautification, or large concerns wouldn't spend thousands of dollars in it every year," said Mr. Collingwood in presenting the prizes. "In fact, I am told it does pay real interest on the investment in better satisfied employees who like attractive environments in which to work."

BUILT IT WITH POTATOES

How the Citizens of Patricia, Alberta, Obtained Their Much Needed Town Hall.

Patricia needed a town hall. Being only two years old, this was a problem to the infant village in the southern Alberta prairies. Ways and means were discussed. It was finally decided to build it with potatoes.

Twenty acres were plowed and planted to spuds. Breaking the land, seeding and cultivating were all done by volunteers. Everybody took a hand. The community potato patch now promises a heavy crop.

The entire town tends it. When the first potato plant peeped above ground it was a municipal event. The town fathers called a mass meeting to take action when a vagrant rooster scratched up a plant. Discovery of a weed that had escaped the community hoed caused as much excitement as a fire alarm. The potato patch is looked after as tenderly as if it were the town's baby.

Two years ago the entire country about Patricia was open prairie with not a human habitation in the round of the horizon. The first house was built in 1919. Today there are 20,000 acres under cultivation.

FOR SAN DIEGO LAWNS

The sidewalks of San Diego, Cal., are equipped, at intervals, with hose connections placed near the curbs, for the convenience of property owners in sprinkling the sidewalk or lawn.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Many Homes Too Crowded.

Many people have an unnecessary amount of hangings and draperies, ornaments, knick-knacks, and other dust harborers about their houses; rooms have too many ornamental moldings, books, crannies, and corners about them; and all these harbor dirt and dust, and time will not allow them to be cleaned except on quite rare occasions, which may be annually at the time called "spring cleaning." Carpets may be very well in their way, and make a room more cozy, but it is certain they are not so cleanly as linoleum or stained and polished floors, with a few rugs or mats placed where required, and easily taken up and freed from dust.

CALOMEL IS A DANGEROUS DRUG

Next Dose May Salivate You, Loosen Teeth or Start Rheumatism.

Calomel is mercury; quicksilver. It crashes into your bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system.

If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic for a few cents which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

Don't take calomel! It makes you sick the next day; it loses you a day's work. Dodson's Liver Tonic straightens you right up and you feel great. No salts necessary. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and can not salivate.—Advertisement.

Cobalt, one of the rarest minerals, is chiefly used in coloring glass and porcelain.

FOR COLDS, CROUP AND PAINS. Use Vacher-Balm; it relieves at once. AVOID IMITATIONS.

If we have no agent where you live, write to E. W. Vacher, Inc., New Orleans, La.—Advertisement.

"Have you a careful driver?"

"Very. None of the accidents he has been in have been his fault."

Advertising makes a town, therefore the men who do the advertising of any town are the makers of it and should have the credit for doing so. In Childress, as in all towns, there are some non-advertisers—men who do business, or try to, with never a cent spent for advertising. These fellows get part of the benefit from their progressive neighbors' advertising, therefore, in a sense, they are mooching on their neighbors' investment. When you come to town to spend your money you should always try to trade with the firm that spends its money freely for advertising, for that is the kind of people that makes your town and keeps it going. The Post believes this is done very largely. The people are rapidly learning that it pays to trade where they are invited and many will shun the store that does not think enough of its business to solicit same. "Business goes where it is invited and stays where it is well treated." Childress Post.

PLAIN TAILORED SUITS; COATS IN SEVERAL STYLES

THE plain tailored suit, which has been for so long the mainstay of our wardrobe, has a competitor that boldly proclaims its intention to become a rival. Its forerunners were the riding habit, with breeches instead of skirts, and undeniably smart and becoming, followed by golfing suits that daily grow more popular. Besides these, during the war, "service suits" proved themselves practical for many purposes, for camping, hiking, touring and outdoor work, and in them knickerbockers were substituted for skirts. Women have grown accustomed to them, and there is no doubt that they will keep the places they have won in the wardrobe; there is no reason why they should not. But now there is a concerted effort on the part of many women whose occupations take them out of the home almost every day, to adopt and promote the knickerbocker suit for general wear. Just how successful this effort will be, remains to be seen. It is not safe to prophesy, but the chances are that the knicker suit will not replace the skirt suit. Like the sports hat, it will, very likely, merely be another item added to wardrobes that become diversified as the occupations of women become diversified.

The plain street suit has charms of its own that are not within reach of the knicker suit. For one thing, a great variety of blouses may be worn with a skirt, dainty and even somewhat fanciful, but the knicker suit seems to demand strictly utility blouses, that are like it in character. Styles in coats may be more varied also when skirts are to be worn with them. The restless sex has never shown much enthusiasm over getting into one uniform and spending the greater part of its life so garbed.

However, if you are contemplating a new street outfit, you may take your choice between the suit shown at the left, with its plain short skirt and straight-line coat, made of poret twill, and the efficient knicker suit at the right. For the knicker suit sturdy materials are to be chosen, as homespun or chevot and the like, and with such materials wool hose and smart calf-skin shoes are to be worn. Hats, season, may be called close-fitting, and they flare at the hand. Rows of braid, coqued on them in a zigzag pattern, repeat the same decoration on the skirt where there are three groups of this coquing. The collar is plucked opossim in the natural gray tan and white of the fur which tones in well with every color used in coats.

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

MARY GRAHAM BONNER

IN THE BARNYARD.

"Quack, quack," said Mrs. Duck, "these warm days do make me feel like swimming." "Yes," said Miss Duck, "they make me feel the same way." "They don't make me feel like swimming, grunt, grunt," said Grandfather Porky Pig. "They make me feel like lying down in the mud and resting and dreaming sweet pig dreams."

"What in the world are sweet pig dreams?" asked Miss Duck. "Yes, quack, quack, what in the world are they? I've never heard of sweet pig dreams though I have heard of sweet dreams."

"Sweet pig dreams and sweet dreams are the same," said Grandfather Porky Pig, "except that sweet pig dreams are the sweet dreams which a pig has. Do you see?"

"Yes, yes, I see," said Miss Duck. "Quack, quack, I see and understand." "But how strange it is Porky, to think that you don't care to go in swimming. It cools one off so beautifully, it makes one feel so cool and fresh and clean and pleasant."

"I'm smarter than you are then, grunt, grunt," said Grandfather Porky. "What makes you say that?" asked Mrs. Duck.

"Yes, quack, quack, what makes you say that?" asked Miss Duck. "Because," said Grandfather Porky, "I can be pleasant and I can be cool without having to be clean. Oh yes, I can feel most extremely pleasant and cool after having had a nice rest on some cool mud."

"And sometimes too, when it is very warm, it is all right to lie under a tree or two or three and have the leaves of the tree shade one from the sun, or shade the sun from one."

"I don't need to bother to go swimming. Besides it would be such an effort." "I don't like to make such an effort. It is quite too much. I don't like to do that at all. I'd rather stay quiet. That will make me cooler than rushing about. Yes, keeping quiet is a great help towards keeping cool."

"Perhaps you're right," said Mrs. Duck, "but I don't agree with you. Even though swimming may be exercise. And besides one can rest in the water."

"Oh, I cannot agree with you. Water on a hot day is what I want and what

I should think all sensible creatures would want. "Swimming is the joy of my duck life, quack, quack." "It is the joy of my duck life too, quack, quack," said Miss Duck.

"And of mine," said all the little ducks. "Quack, quack, we all love to swim." "Grunt, grunt," said all the pigs. "We like the mud better and we like the old pig pen better than any pond."

"Grunt, grunt, squeal, squeal, that is the truth indeed." "Of course," said Mrs. Duck, "every creature to his or her own taste."

"Yes, and my taste is excellent," said Grandfather Porky Pig. "I have never spoiled my taste by eating too much or too little. I have never done that."

"I have never eaten too much because I have never had too much to eat." "And I have never eaten too little because I am always given good meals by the farmer."

"But I find it is always good for me to eat more if I can, for though I am not given so little as to make me starve I'm never given enough to satisfy my pig heart, and so I always pick up some more myself."

"I wouldn't speak of my pig heart, if I were you, quack, quack," said Mrs. Duck. "I'd speak of my pig tummy." "Oh, very well," said Grandfather Porky. "I do not object. But I must be off for my rest as I want to feel fit for my next meal."

"Don't you always feel fit for your meals?" asked Mrs. Duck. "Always," said Grandfather Porky. "but I like to talk that way. It amuses me," he ended with a laughing squeal and a twist to his tail.

First Lesson. A little Scotch lad, wee Willie Macgregor, returned home after his first day at school. When his father came back from work that evening he asked the young scholar what he had learned. "I learned to say 'Yes, na'am,' and 'No, sir,' to my mither and feyther," replied the boy. "Did you indeed?" said the father. "Ay!" responded Willie.

You're Headachy, Sick, Bilious! Stomach Is Sour!—Dime a Box

Sick headaches! Always trace them to lazy liver; delayed, fermenting food in the bowels or a sick stomach. Polysomous, constipated matter, gases and bile generated in the bowels, instead of being carried out of the system, are reabsorbed into the blood. When these poisons reach the delicate brain tissue they cause congestion and that dull, sickening headache. Cascarets will remove the cause by stimulating the liver, making the bile and constipation poison move on and out of the bowels. One taken to-night straightens you up by morning. Children love Cascarets, too.

Don't delay starting treatment. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a physician's prescription, obtained at any drug store, may be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions. Get a medium or large size bottle immediately from any drug store.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper.—Advertisement.

The Meeting Ground of Town and Country—
The Home Town Paper

THAT great part of non-city America which we call the country is in reality town and country. Sometimes the people of the farms have felt that the people of towns did not understand their problems any more than did those of the big cities. But there has been a common meeting ground for all in the home town paper. It has chronicled the activities of the village banker and his family and of the farmer and his family, of the new pavement in the village and the improved highway in the country. No publication ever was more entitled to be called "a slice of life" of the people than the home town paper. Week after week, year after year, it has ministered to the natural craving for the homely, intimate news of the countryside, the kind of news which no big city paper can furnish. Now the country newspaper is to have a "week" all its own. The thousands of country papers the nation over have got together to observe "Subscribe for your home town paper week" November 7-12. It is a week for all who love country and village life and "just folks." If you have let your subscription lapse, renew it. If you are a newcomer to the community, subscribe. If you are far from the old home town, make sure that at least once a week you can live again the joys of other days through the visits of the home town paper.

CHARLES AND WIFE ARE HELD PRISONERS

SECOND COUP ENDS IN TRAGIC COMEDY—EX-EMPEROR'S MEN ARE OVERPOWERED.

KARL IS TO BE BANISHED

Ambassadors Agree to Place Him on Distant Spot "Far From Civilization."

Budapest.—Ex-Emperor Charles and Ex-Empress Zita were captured Monday near Komorn and are now confined in the castle at Tatrovos, guarded by two companies of Government troops.

Colonel Oostenburg's troops, covering the retreat of the former rulers, were forced to surrender and are prisoners.

Budapest.—The monarchist troops, who were attempting to open the way for the entry of Ex-King Charles to the Hungarian capital, were defeated in hand-to-hand fighting in which hand grenades were used, near Tatrovos, about thirty-five miles from Budapest. They lost 20 killed and about 1,000 wounded.

The Budapest garrison as a unit supported Admiral Horthy, the regent. The student's organizations began arming and hurrying to the front.

Charles was considered to be in a bad position. He was menaced in the rear by the advancing West Hungarian insurgents, led by Baron Pronay, who is the deadly enemy of Colonel Oostenburg, commander of the monarchist forces, and who promised to shoot the Karlist plotters if he captured them.

The Karlist Premier, Rakovsky, issued a proclamation to the Nation to rally to the King's banner and fight against "the ungrateful rebel Horthy."

BLANTON'S CHARGES ARE EXPUNGED FROM RECORD

Extension Of Remarks On Printing Office Killed By 313 To 1 Vote.

Washington.—By a vote of 313 to one, Representative Blanton of Texas, casting the one negative vote, the House of Representatives Monday expunged from the Congressional Record the extension of remarks of Mr. Blanton dealing with the conduct of the Government printing office, and respecting the alleged utterances of some of the employees. The extension of remarks appeared in the Record of Saturday Oct. 22.

One of the objectional portions of the extension of remarks inserted by Mr. Blanton was an affidavit purporting to give the details of a colloquy between two employees, and contained indications of obscene remarks.

At the opening of the session, Majority Leader Mondell offered the motion to have the extension of remarks expunged. Mr. Blanton asked for ten minutes' time to discuss the motion, which was refused and under the previous question the votes were taken. Mr. Mondell said to the House that the remarks shouldn't have appeared in the Congressional Record and that Mr. Blanton ought to apologize to the House. The first vote for expunging was 146 to one, following which Mr. Blanton made a point of no quorum, and as the roll was called, the vote again recorded, and this time it resulted 313 to one, Mr. Blanton voting in the negative each time. Two members voted "present."

PRECIOUS RADIUM LOST FROM BODY OF PATIENT

Drug Valued At $10,000 Is Supposed To Have Been Stolen.

Hamilton, Ont.—Two tiny tubes filled with radium and valued at $10,000 have been lost or stolen in the City Hospital here and the patient from whose body they are missing is unable to give any helpful information.

Drs. Mowbray and McGregor personally owned the radium and always exercised great care to prevent its loss or theft. On Saturday they operated on a patient and inserted the two needles in the incision to combat a cancerous growth.

Returning Monday morning to interview their patient the surgeons inspected the wound and discovered that the radium was not there. The bed was thoroughly searched without any trace of the radium being found and finally the entire room was completely searched, also without result.

Bandits Get $1,000,000.
New York.—Three armed bandits in an automobile forced the driver of a mail truck to stop on lower Broadway Monday night while they rifled the truck of four pouches of registered mail valued at $1,000,000.

Veterans Gather In Chattanooga.
Chattanooga, Tenn.—Chattanooga has assumed a gala day appearance and the veterans of the Confederate Army coming here for their sixty-second annual reunion were arriving in large numbers. Every train arriving Monday brought in hundreds of veterans and visitors to join the throngs that arrived Saturday. The hotel lobbies are crowded with handsomely attired sponsors, maids and matrons of honor, mingling with the gray-uniformed veterans.

FREIGHT TRAINS BEING OPERATED ON I. & G. N.

SWITCHING IS DONE AT ALL TERMINALS MONDAY, GOFORTH DECLARES.

Houston, Texas.—The management of the I. & G. N. Railway issued a statement Monday night to the effect that eleven freight trains had been operated on the various divisions of the company and that switch engines had worked in all terminals. The statement was given out by E. G. Goforth, general manager of the road and leader of the reorganization work here.

Houston, Texas.—Three freight trains operated on the International & Great Northern system Sunday, General Manager E. G. Goforth declared. This follows a complete tie-up of freight service Saturday by the strike of approximately 9,000 union trainmen over the line.

Union officials declared that they had adopted a policy of "hands off" and would not in any way interfere with any move the company might make to resume service over the lines.

Mr. Goforth, in discussing the partial resumption of freight service, stated that the crews were made up of recruits from several applications on file and from officials having previous experience in operation of trains. No distinction is being made between union and non-union men, he stated, declaring that several applications had been received from union men.

Armed guards patrolled the properties of the company throughout the day, but not a single instance of violence marked the second day of the walkout.

So far as the operation of freight traffic in the yards of the company here is concerned, operations were at a standstill.

"The strike so far has been entirely successful to our cause," union officials declared. "We did not expect to tie up passenger service. We took into account at the outset that with so few men called out working on passenger trains that they would be able to recruit enough men from among officials to fill out a crew. But we have demonstrated what a few men out means, and we are entirely satisfied."

Mr. Goforth, in summing up the day's happenings stated that outside of the reports to him that few freight trains were operating, there had been no change in the general situation. "We are feeling our way cautiously," he said, "and expect soon to have service resumed."

HERRICK BEING GUARDED BY TEN THOUSAND MEN

Paris.—The French War Department used over 10,000 troops Sunday to prevent violence on the part of the communists, Socialists, anarchists and syndicalists in connection with the protest of European radical groups against the convictions of the radicals, Sacco and Vanzetti, in Massachusetts. In addition, 1700 men were held in reserve with a fleet of motor trucks capable of transporting 600 men at once to any point of trouble.

There was no violence. The radicals had planned to make a demonstration in front of the United States Embassy. Ordered to remain away from there, and finding the residence of Ambassador Herrick guarded by a detachment of the Garde Republicaine and two detachments of regular troops, about 200 men all told, in the immediate vicinity of the residence the radicals repaired to the Porte Maillot, outside the city, 5,000 strong and held a quiet meeting. The police mingled among them in considerable strength.

POLICE CHIEF AND SHERIFF ARE KILLED BY NEGRO

Orange, Va.—A negro, said to be Walter Ware, shot and killed Chief of Police J. F. Boyer and Sheriff W. C. Bond, wounded seven other whites and was then burned to death after being cornered in a barn near here early Sunday morning.

The negro was suspected of operating an illicit still and resisted arrest. For a time a race war was being waged and Governor Westmoreland Davis and his military staff had reached here from Richmond to avert trouble when word came that the negro had been killed. This seemed to satisfy an enraged populace. The threat of further trouble seemed definitely removed.

500 Pastors and Laymen Coming
Dallas.—More than 500 ministers and laymen are expected to attend the annual sessions of the North Texas Methodist Conference which opens at the Oak Lawn Methodist Church this week.

Cotton Palace Opens Doors

Waco, Texas.—The thirteenth annual Texas Cotton Palace International Exposition is off to a flying start. Confidence that more persons will enjoy this year's sixteen days of fun and frolic radiated from the smiling faces of President W. V. Crawford and his corps of men and women assistants Sunday. The streets and Cotton Palace grounds are thronged with visitors. It is the largest opening in the history of the exposition.

U. S. TROOPS TO STAY ON RHINE INDEFINITELY

ARMY TO BE REDUCED AND HELD UNTIL CONDITIONS ARE MORE STABLE.

Washington.—A "harmonizing influence" is at all urgently needed along the Rhine, and so American troops will be retained there indefinitely.

Until European conditions are more stabilized and some international understanding is substituted for the allied Rhine police force so that France may feel insured against German aggression or failure to meet the Versailles treaty terms, an American force will continue in the occupied territory. With the exchange of treaty ratifications between the United States and Germany, however, the present American troops will be reduced in number.

The decision of this Government in the matter is due to combination of circumstances and is interesting because it is contrary to the original intention of President Harding and sharply opposed to the demands of a number of Republican Senate leaders.

Retention of forces on the Rhine is certain to cause some trouble in Congress and bring a demand in the Senate for their return. Senators of the "irreconcilable" group, with the support of others, were prepared to introduce resolutions demanding the Rhine army's return months ago. They were dissuaded by the argument that the negotiation and ratification of a peace treaty would accomplish the purpose. Prominent among them were Senators Borah and Johnson, irreconcilable leaders.

The situation confronting the United States Government, however, is this:

At present France is maintaining an army on the Rhine of approximately 17,000 and England about 14,000. The American force of 15,000 is regarded as one of the best disciplined and most efficient forces in Europe—but what has made it extremely valuable in the trying situation existing there is that it commands the respect of all concerned—both the allies and Germany—because of the troops' good nature, comradeship and self-control. They have not been influenced by the same intense emotions that have stirred the peoples of those countries overrun by the Germans, and hence have commanded confidence of both sides, have prevented numerous clashes and have come to be known as the harmony army of the Rhine.

BILL AGAINST LYNCHINGS IS REPORTED FAVORABLE

Washington.—The Dyer anti-lynching bill imposing heavy penalties on persons involved in mob action resulting in the taking of life was favorably reported by the House Judiciary Committee.

The measure as reported provides that any member of a mob which puts someone to death shall be imprisoned for life or for not less than five years and that State and municipal officials who through neglect of duty fail to prevent lynching shall be imprisoned for not more than five years or fined not more than $5,000. Federal District Courts would have jurisdiction.

Any county in which a person is lynched under the measure would be required to forfeit $10,000, which would go to the family of the victim. The bill defines "a mob or riotous assemblage" as "an assembly composed of five or more persons acting in concert for the purpose of depriving any person of his life without authority of law."

BOMB THROWERS CAUSE INJURY OF SEVEN POLICE

Paris.—Seven policemen were injured Friday night by the explosion of a bomb thrown into a crowd in Wagram avenue during a meeting held by the French Communist party in protest against the conviction of the murder in Massachusetts of Italians Sacco and Vanzetti. Several of the manifestants were also hurt and six persons were arrested charged with disorderly conduct.

The meeting had been widely advertised as a protest against the American Government, capitalists and the "execution" of Sacco and Vanzetti. The speakers were bitter in their vituperation of the American Government and expressed execration of American capitalists.

Ten thousand persons crowded into Wagram Hall and when the capacity of the hall was reached there was a large overflow of bellicose demonstrators outside. It had been announced as the intention of the leaders to lead the throng on a march to the Embassy.

Russian Reds Invade Poland

Berlin.—It is reported from Warsaw that Bolshevik forces have crossed the frontier and invaded Polish territory.

1,000 Men To Work On Road.

Dallas.—Employment for approximately 1,000 men, classified from common laborers to skilled mechanics and electricians will be provided when the Texas Interurban Company begin active construction on Oct. 28 on its line from Dallas to Terrell, according to B. R. Brown, engineer in charge of construction. More than 250 men with slips and steam shovels will be the first to work. They will do the grading.

Recruiting work in National Guard organizations in Northeast Texas will be pressed to ward vigorously during the next few months, according to Adjutant General Thomas D. Barton, who has returned from Dallas, where he conferred with Colonel George P. Rains of Marshall and others interested in the development of the National Guard in that section.

The Attorney General's Department has approved the following bond issues: City of Center waterworks, $60,000 and $30,000 sewer, city of Edinburg, electric light, $30,000, waterworks $30,000, Graham, sewer $40,000 and water works $40,000, Tahoka waterworks $14,000 and $18,000 electric light, Sanger independent school district, Denton County, $9,000.

In a vigorous letter the Texas Railroad Commission has appealed to the Attorney General of the State to take immediate steps to force the Missouri, Kansas & Texas Railway Company of Texas to obey the Constitution and laws of this State, particularly the stock and bond law, which says the commission shall pass on the right of the railroads to issue securities.

Terry's Texas rangers concluded their fifth annual reunion last week and selected Austin as the place for next year's reunion. Officers were elected as follows: George T. McGhee, San Marcos, president; J. P. Blackburn, Lynnville, Tenn., second vice president; T. H. Davis, Austin, secretary; Shirley Gregg, Austin, treasurer, and the Rev. W. R. Minter, Austin, chaplain.

Official notice was received last week by the railroad commission from the Interstate Commerce Commission of the approval by that body of the rate of $39 per car for the transportation of gasoline from Grand Prairie to Dallas, over the Texas & Pacific; also approving the application of the San Antonio Southern Railway for a reduction of the rate on gasoline from 28 to 19 cents per 100 pounds from Somerset to San Antonio.

In keeping with instructions from Secretary of War Weeks, Governor Neff has appointed the following as representatives from Texas to attend the ceremonies pertaining to the burial of an unknown American who was a member of the American Expeditionary Forces and who lost his life during the world war. Wayne Davis of Goliad, commander of the American Legion, department of Texas; Ernest O. Thompson of Amarillo, and Fau Wakefield of Houston.

Governor Neff was advised last week that W. Dorsey Brown of Kaufman will not accept the position on the Penitentiary Advisory Board; that private business will not permit him to act.

The general laws passed by the first and second called sessions of the Thirty-Seventh Legislature have been received by the Secretary of State from the public printer and are ready for distribution. The book contains sixty-seven general laws.

Charles E. Baughman, Commissioner of Markets and Warehouse Department, has placed orders for all necessary testing apparatus preparatory to testing water, gas and light meters throughout the State.

Net revenue from operation of Texas railroads during the seven months ending July 31 increased over 1,000 per cent, according to figures compiled by the auditor's department of the Railroad Commission, and made public by the commission.

Old Gentleman Now Naturally Feels He Has Lost the Confidence of His Neighbors.

Susan was having her first beau, a youngster who drove a truck. And often when he came to Susan's home at night, since he lived in the other part of town, he came in the truck. The family continually twitted her about it, saying such things as "I suppose the neighbors will think we're having our coal hauled at night," or "our flour" or some other commodity.

But one evening even father was horrified when one of the ten-year-old boys in the neighborhood said innocently: "My pa said that your pa would get pinched some night if he didn't quit having so much booze hauled here after dark."

Investigation disclosed the fact that the truck that stood at their door one evening each week was an old brewery truck.—Indianapolis News.

Small Boy's Innocent Mother's Remark Promote Cord

Nine-year-old Joe had a watch of that sort all brass and a birthday present. What an actual watch, the whole of it, and the Joe did not value it as much as he thought he should.

But little Joe wasn't by, near the end of the result in asked, "Aren't you going to will steal your watch, Joe?"

"No, sir," he said, "I shone with pride. 'Yes, sir, out to the garage just under the seat of your said burglars wouldn't give them a prize for it's so rickety.'"

It's seldom selfishness that prompts a man to keep his troubles to himself.

The foolish man who builds his house on the sand—

He gave an example in folly which anybody can understand.

It isn't so easy, however, to sense the mistake of trying to build the body on foods which lack essential nourishment.

Here, again, is a foundation of sand which gives 'way when the test comes.

Many a food that tastes good lacks honor of nourishment to equal its taste. Thus it tempts the appetite into mistakes that often are costly.

Grape-Nuts is a food which helps build endurance for life's stress and storm. The nourishment of wheat and malted barley, together with the vital mineral salts so necessary to structure and red blood corpuscles, with phosphates for the brain, is retained in Grape-Nuts. The long baking process by which Grape-Nuts made gives the food a natural sweetness and unusual ease of digestibility and assimilation.

Served with cream or milk, Grape-Nuts fully nourishing, and whether eaten as a cereal breakfast or lunch, or made into a pudding dinner. Grape-Nuts has a particular delight to the appetite. Sold by grocers.

actually losing her health:

"Health is the greatest thing in the world, and when you feel that gradually up and take notice. That is what I did some time ago when I found myself in a very nervous, run-down condition of health. I was so tired and felt so listless

I could hardly go at all.

"I was just no account for work. I would get a bucket of water and would feel so weak I would have to set it down

In this condition, of course, to do even my housework was a task almost im-

MRS. HAYDOCK SAVED FROM AN OPERATION

Followed Advice of Her Druggist's Wife and Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Chicago, Ill.—"I was in bed with a female trouble and inflammation and had four doctors but none of them did me any good. They all said I would have to have an operation. A druggist's wife told me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I took 25 bottles, never missing a dose and at the end of that time I was perfectly well. I have never had occasion to take it again as I have been so well. I have a six room flat and do all my work. My two sisters are taking the Compound upon my recommendation and you may publish my letter. It is the gospel truth and I will write to any one who wants a personal letter."—Mrs. E. H. HAYDOCK, 6824 St. Lawrence Avenue, Chicago Illinois.

Because Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound saved Mrs. Haydock from an operation we cannot claim that all operations may be avoided by it,—but many women have escaped operations by the timely use of this old-fashioned root and herb medicine.

I AM THE COUNTRY NEWSPAPER

By BRISTOW ADAMS.

I am the Country Newspaper.

I am the friend of the family, the bringer of tidings from other friends; I speak to the home in the evening light of summer's vine-clad porch or the glow of winter's lamp.

I help to make this evening hour; I record the great and the small, the varied acts of the days and weeks that go to make up life.

I am far and of the home; I follow those who leave humble beginnings; whether they go to greatness or to the gutter, I take to them the thrill of old days, with wholesome messages.

I speak the language of the common man; my words are fitted to his understanding. My congregation is larger than that of any church in my town; my readers are more than those in the school. Young and old alike find in me stimulation, instruction, entertainment, inspiration, solace, comfort. I am the chronicler of birth, and love and death—the three great facts of man's existence.

I bring together buyer and seller, to the benefit of both; I am part of the market-place of the world. Into the home I carry word of the goods which feed and clothe and shelter, and which minister to comfort, ease, health, and happiness.

I am the word of the week, the history of the year, the record of my community in the archives of state and nation.

I am the exponent of the lives of my readers.

I am the Country Newspaper.

But the Home Paper Told It!

"Wasn't it fine about Priscilla getting honors in her school work last term?" said Mrs. Smith to Mrs. Brown.

"What?" asked Mrs. Brown.

"I didn't know about it."

"But it was in the Home Town Paper," replied Mrs. Smith. "Don't you take it?"

"No," said Mrs. Brown, "but I am going to."

"And she did, for this is a true story.

As much a part of the community life as is the school or church is the Home Town Paper.

Subscribe for Your Home Town Paper Week, Nov. 7-12

Strong for Home Paper

"No, I don't take the local paper any more," one farmer said to another as they were waiting at the creamery to unload their milk.

They had just been looking at a poster advertising "Subscribe for Your Home Town Paper Week, November 7-12." "I take a daily paper, and that's about all I need. It has a few items every week from our community, and I feel that I save two dollars a year by not subscribing to the home paper."

"Well, that's one way to look at it," said the other farmer, "but I've always felt that a local newspaper was a pretty valuable asset to any community, and if everybody took the attitude you do, there couldn't be any local newspaper. Of course we could not get along without our daily papers, because they keep us informed about what's going on throughout the nation and throughout the world, but when you say that they take care of our local news, I don't think you are sticking close to facts. They simply can't, and the publishers haven't any personal interest in our community the way our editor has.

"I have always felt that I got value received for every dollar I've paid out in subscriptions to the local paper, and I don't have an idea that running a country newspaper is any more of a wealth-producing proposition than running a farm. So long as I've got two dollars I intend that the rural mail carrier is going to tuck a copy of the home paper in my box every week."

That farmer knows that the community newspaper is a necessity in his home; that without it his home would be incomplete and his part in the community would be unsatisfactory to himself and his family. He knows the full value of the local newspaper as an institution.

A Community Servant.

The local newspaper is the servant of the community in which it is published, but to be a good and efficient servant it must be fed by the people it serves. It is an institution of the town quite as much as are the schools and the churches, and quite as much entitled to support.

A Necessary Luxury.

The town newspaper is both a luxury and one of the family necessities.

Community's Archives

"Can you tell me the date the Baptist church burned—I mean, of course, the famous fire that all the old inhabitants talk about?"

The librarian looked up from her work. "No, I can't tell you the exact date, but I think I can find it for you quickly, for we have the files of the local paper since it was started. My impression is that the fire—the big fire, as they call it—was about 1873, and it won't be a very long job to look it up."

She went to the stacks in the rear of the library, pulled out a dusty bound volume marked "Herald, 1873," and spread it open on the table. "Ah, here it is," she said, after a minute spent in turning over the yellow leaves.

The person who had inquired for the date, a member of the woman's club of the town, sat down and read the article. "This gives me exactly the information I wanted," she said.

"I thought it would," said the librarian. "I fear most people do not appreciate how valuable is the local newspaper from the viewpoint of local history. In fact, it seems to me that it is about our only source. Only when an event gets into print is it officially recorded and filed for reference. Flimsy as it is, the printed word of today is the counterpart of the ancient stone inscriptions that give us our records of a long-ago yesterday. I consider the bound volumes of our local papers perhaps the most valuable possession of this library."

There's at least one librarian who is giving "Subscribe for Your Home Town Paper Week," which will be observed November 7-12, the most hearty backing she can give.

OLD HOME TOWN PAPER TO HAVE A WEEK

Nation Wide Campaign Launched for November 7-12—Place in Community Life Emphasized.

November 7-12 has been set as "Subscribe for Your Home Town Paper Week," and this newspaper, together with the thousands of country newspapers the United States over—there are not far from 15,000 of them, weeklies and small dailies—is to participate.

The purpose of the campaign is not only to induce residents of the small communities and the home town folks who are far from their native hearth to subscribe for the home paper, but also to emphasize the important place the home newspaper plays in the life of its community.

This campaign has the hearty support and co-operation not only of the newspapers but thousands of ministers and school principals, and many state agricultural colleges and farm and home bureau organizations.

Some persons, it is pointed out, have been inclined to belittle the place and function of the country newspaper. They have not realized that in reality the home paper is a community institution and that it enables the other institutions, such as the church and the school and all the rest to function better and more effectively. That it is a necessity if the town is to advance.

During the time between now and "Home Town Paper Week," November 7-12, this newspaper in its columns will have much to say about the Home Town Paper—not the newspaper in particular, but the home town paper the nation over, the home town newspaper as a real and distinctive factor in American life.

A Messenger to Garcia.

The local newspaper is the messenger to Garcia for your town. It goes out to the world as an advertisement for the community. To be a good advertisement it must be a good newspaper. To be a good newspaper it must have the support of the people of the community in the way of subscriptions and advertising. Are you doing your part toward making your paper a good advertisement for this community, one that will carry the kind of a message the people of the community wish carried to the world?

A FINE OLD HOME PAPER

(Tune—A Fine Old English Gentleman.)

These magazines with gravures and all these works of art, Are very well for city folks who live by dint of mart; But give me first and foremost, I hold it is the prime— That fine old home town paper—one of the good old time.

The printin' isn't perfect, the ink's not uniform, The type is set by hand perhaps,—considerably overcorn. The dear old press—I know it well—It's covered o'er with grime— But it prints that old home paper—one of the good old time.

I look for it each week as regularly it comes, And when the postman brings it in, I drop all other chums. I drink it in, from start to fin, ridiculous and sublime, That fine old home town paper, one of the good old time.

—GEO. E. WRAY.

Back to Town Crier

How many residents of any small community have ever considered what might happen if there were no newspapers? Just previous to "Subscribe for Your Home Town Paper Week," which is to be observed the country over November 7-12, is a good time to recall the plight of Macon, Mo., not long ago, when fire put the Chronicle-Herald out of business for two weeks.

According to The Publishers' Auxiliary, the old town crier, relic of many years back, was yanked from his hiding place, dusted off, and put back on his job, with a jangling bell, a megaphone, and a fog-horn voice only a little worse for long disuse.

It may have been a novelty for two weeks. But think of a community without printers' ink, compelled to get its announcements of auctions, sales, court sessions, births, marriages, deaths, epidemics of sickness, dog ordinances, board meetings, commencement, tax notices, advertisements of help and situations wanted, accidents, and the rest, through a shouted word like that of the ordinary train announcer in a city depot. The town crier was a romantic figure in his day, but few towns would like to return to his ministrations now.

When one thinks of the temporary plight of Macon, and that it might become the permanent handicap of many towns, it is well to think of supporting the local paper.

He Knows His Folks.

Here are some random observations of a man who has visited and studied a good many small communities: If you read your local paper you will not miss much that is happening around home. There is no use saying that you wish your town had a paper like one in the other town, for the other fellow there is saying the same thing. The man who reads his local paper thoroughly is usually a pretty good citizen and has it all over the fellow who does not. Local papers, when all is said and done, do more to uphold the institutions of this state and country than any other known contributing force in the world's work.

Random Observations.

This isn't a country publisher talking, but the editor of a farm paper: The metropolitan daily will bring to one's doorstep the news of the world seen through the spectacles of the city editor, but it is the editor who lives in the heart of the community who is able to reflect the sentiment of the local group. He alone is the true interpreter of events as they affect the small town and the farming community that immediately surrounds the town.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It

Applicants for Insurance Often Rejected.

Judging from reports from druggists who are constantly in direct touch with the public, there is one preparation that has been very successful in overcoming these conditions. The mild and healing influence of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its remarkable record of success.

An examining physician for one of the prominent Life Insurance Companies, in an interview on the subject, made the astonishing statement that one reason why so many applicants for insurance are rejected is because kidney trouble is so common to the American people, and the large majority of those whose applications are declined do not even suspect that they have the disease.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root is on sale at all drug stores in bottles of two sizes, medium and large. However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper. Advertisement.

BLIND SIGHT

By Gloria Fay Ingram

Did you see that dainty flower,
As it grew beside the way?
Did you see that butterfly,
As it lightly flew away?
Did you see that nimble squirrel,
As he scurried up a tree?
Did you see that insect queer,
As it crawled upon your knee?
Did you see that pretty brook,
Where sunbeams dance and play?
Did you see that weeping willow,
Where the robins sing all day?
Did you see the leaves a-trembling,
As the wind went rustling by?
Did you see that master bird,
As he soared away—on high?
Did you see that shining pebble,
As it sparkled on the sand?
Did you see that tiny maiden,
As she waved her dimpled hand?
Do you see beauty in God's nature?
In the great things and the small,
Do you really see them, with your heart,
Do you love them one and all;
Do you see God in every drop of dew;
In every rose bud or vine;
Do you see God everywhere;
Or are you blind?
