AAFBS Band To Play For Bond Rally

Appearance To Be One Of Features Of Pearl Harbor Day

Big Spring's observance of Pearl Harbor Day Monday—the anniversary of an attack that is to be answered with a rain of war bonds—will be enlivened by the appearance of the 515th AAF band, the musical unit at the Big Spring Bombardier school.

Arrangements for the band to play for the "Bonds Buy Bombs" program were approved by Col. Sam Ellis, post commandant, who also has authorized use of jeeps during the day to give a typical army ride to all purchasers of war bonds.

It will be the first downtown concert for the band, which, although a new organization, has been shaping up rapidly under direction of Sgt. Marcus A. Williams. Exact time of Monday's parade and concert will be announced later.

Meanwhile, other plans for the sale of $50,000 bonds on Pearl Harbor Day were going nicely. Bond Chairman Ira Thurman reported. There will be sales booths in at least 18 downtown stores, and possibly more. Plans for these booths has prompted a call for women volunteers to serve as salesmen, and those who will serve during the day are asked to notify the chamber of commerce.

On hand were label streamers to be pinned on all bond buyers during the day. These small streamers read: "I've bought my Pearl Harbor Bond. Have you?" "We want everybody in town wearing one of these," said Thurman.

Local theatres also had come into the program in a big way. Sales booths will be open in their lobbies, probably all during Pearl Harbor week, so that bonds and stamps can be purchased after other agencies are closed.

Jeeps will be stationed downtown from 10 a. m. on Monday, available for bond-buying riders. This detail will be handled by a group of service club men headed by Doug Orme.

Sheep-Goat Men To Discuss Problems

SAN ANTONIO, Dec. 3 (AP)—Solution of wartime problems of ranchers, particularly gas rationing and the labor shortage, will occupy principal attention of the 600 delegates to the three-day convention of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers association, which was scheduled to open this afternoon.

Early arrivals expressed concern over the new gasoline restrictions and the critical shortage of ranch hands.

Vestil Askew of Sonora, secretary-treasurer of the association, declared the group was "still unalterably opposed to gas rationing in the ranch country, and always would be."

Charges Abuses Of Grants Of Power

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3 (AP)—In bitter protest against what he termed general grants of power to the president, Rep. Gearhart (R-Calif.) contended today "it is time for congress to check up before it finds itself in the low and lonely position of the German reichstag."

His assertion came as the house ways and means committee opened public hearings on a modified measure granting the chief executive powers to suspend tariff laws and regulations covering transmission into and out of the country.

Gearhart, a committee member, declared that "millions in the United States feel that we are filing down the same pathway as Germany" in yielding legislative powers to the executive.

"Step by step," he said, "it can only lead to moral degradation."

In citing examples of what he called "abuses" of broad grants of power, Gearhart referred to construction of the huge Pentagon building, now housing the war department.

He said congress originally authorized construction of the building at a cost of $35,000,000, "and now we have the Pentagon monstrosity at a cost of $85,000,000 not even on the site which congress selected."

Jap Landing Attempt At New Guinea Broken Up

Yanks Bring Down 23 Of Foes' Planes

Tokyo Claims Victory In New Sea Battle Off Guadalcanal

By The Associated Press Allied warplanes were officially credited today with smashing a new Japanese sea-borne attempt to land reinforcements on the coast of New Guinea, knocking 23 enemy fighters out of the skies in a 12-hour running battle, while Imperial Tokyo headquarters claimed victory in a naval battle off Guadalcanal.

Without confirmation elsewhere, the Tokyo command asserted that a Japanese torpedo-attack flotilla sank an Allied battleship, a cruiser of the 9,050-ton Augusta type and two destroyers in a night assault, Nov. 30.

"Two other destroyers were set ablaze," a Japanese communique said.

"Our losses—one destroyer sunk," The communique said the battle took place off Lunga, Guadalcanal, when the Imperial Tokyo "carried out a fierce attack against a powerful enemy naval unit."

Similar Japanese claims in the past have proved exaggerated.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, Dec. 3 (AP)—General Douglas MacArthur's air forces supporting ground troops closing in on the Buna-Gona area on the New Guinea coast have smashed new Japanese attempts to land reinforcements in a 12-hour running battle with four Japanese destroyers and their screen of fighter planes.

Planes Collide, Two Men Killed

GREENVILLE, Dec. 3 (AP)—Second Lieut. William A. Reed, 25, of Grand Rapids, Mich., and Private Wilton F. Toombs, Jr., of Little Rock, Ark., were killed in the crash of their plane after a mid-air collision over the British flying training school at Terrell, Tex., last night.

Pilot Reed and Radioman Toombs were on a routine night flight from Majors army air field near Greenville.

Lt. Col. Ralph C. Rockwood, director of training at Majors field, said in announcing the accident that the Majors field plane collided with a British flying school plane.

Axis Bases Attacked—What appeared to be a major battle for Tunisia was developed as Allied blows were struck at Tunis and Bizerte. Ration Board To Function At Night

The War Price and Ration Board will open from 7 o'clock to 10 o'clock each evening at the courthouse to take care of the large amount of business, beginning tonight, B. F. Robbins, chairman of the board, said today.

The opening of the office at night will be made possible by regular clerks with the assistance of volunteer workers secured through the Chamber of Commerce, and by members of the gas rationing panel, until the rush for supplemental applications is over.

Marie Warren, Mrs. Sam Hefner and Mrs. J. W. O'Connell, a volunteer worker, have already been added to the day shift to assist over-worked clerks.

Some 3,000 applications for supplemental gasoline for passenger cars have been handled by the gasoline panel and of this number some ten per cent have been rejected as not valid for extra gas and some 50 per cent have been reduced in the number of miles additional gasoline requested, board members estimated.

Approximately 2,000 truck, fleets, pickups and non-highway vehicles, whose applications have been sent in, have been handled and approved, the gas panel estimated and all passenger car requests now in the hands of board members for supplemental gasoline will be completed by this evening.

Those who have requested supplemental gasoline are asked to call at the War Price and Ration office with their license receipts to receive their supplemental books.

Emergency gas and some few B and C books have already been issued, the ration clerks said, but Friday the largest number will be ready for distribution.

Robbins emphasized the need for applicants to bring the license receipts to the office as the additional books cannot be issued without the receipt.

No Confirmation Of Vessels Off California Coast

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 3 (AP)—The 12th navy district said today that "a large number of unidentified surface vessels" had been reported 450 miles off the California coast, but that a thorough search of the area "failed to confirm their presence."

(Presumably the order broadcast before dawn today for fleet personnel to return to their ships was based on this report.)

GOVT. INSURANCE BOSTON, Dec. 3 (AP)—The Coconut Grove night club fire in which nearly 500 patrons and employees met death may cost the United States government as much as half a million dollars in life insurance benefits—for more than 50 members of the armed service were among those who perished.

Reds Continue Advances On All Fronts

Trap Being Closed On One-Time Besiegers Of Stalingrad

By EDDY GILMORE MOSCOW, Dec. 3 (AP)—White-clad Russian ski troops pressed the Nazis back on blizzard-swept battlefields west of Moscow today while between the Don and Volga the Red army steadily closed the trap on Stalingrad's besiegers from recaptured heights northwest and southwest of the city.

Battlefront dispatches gave this account of the steadily mounting Russian winter drive:

South of Leningrad and west of Moscow the Germans were dying 1,000 a day as ski troopers armed with tommy guns clashed with Nazi alpine reinforcements in some of the fiercest fighting of the past two weeks amid snow-blanketed Nazi tanks and trucks, now often abandoned and frozen.

On the Stalingrad front the Germans were resisting savagely in a fight for life, and the Russian onslaught went into its third week slowed but unstoppered.

A communique said Soviet troops stormed and held another strategic height northwest of the city. This, with the height southwest of Stalingrad which was reported yesterday as recaptured, gave the Russians a field of fire over at least part of the German corridor of escape or reinforcement to Stalingrad.

The Germans rushed reinforcements into at least three key salients in a desperate effort to halt the Russian advance.

Strong forces of German alpinists went into action east of Velikie Luki. Other special units appeared south of Rzhev where the Germans were trying to regain control of vital sections of the Rzhev-Vyasma rail line.

Reinforcements also stiffened the German defense outside Stalingrad between the Don and Volga.

In the Rzhev and Velikie Luki sector of the central front blizzards, increasing in ferocity, slowed the movements but made no less savage the clashing of tank columns.

Izvestia, government newspaper, reported from the front that Germans were abandoning some of their mechanized equipment in the snowdrifts as they retreated.

Pravda, communist party organ, described captives taken in the Rzhev sector as being still clad in their summer uniforms with only earmuffs to protect them from the cold.

Lease Deal In Making For USO Center

J. F. Handy of Abilene administrator of the J. M. Radford estate, is expected here tomorrow to confer with Ross Clarke, USO director, and the newly-appointed building committee on the probable location of the USO center in the Radford building, First and Runnels streets, where the temporary soldiers' recreation center is now operating.

The proposed site seemed to offer the most advantages from several viewpoints, Boyd McDaniell, temporary chairman of the recreation council working with the USO, stated.

If Handy and the building committee can come to an agreement on a lease, work on the renovation and furnishing of the center probably will begin immediately.

Speaking to the Lions Club yesterday, Clarke envisioned a unit larger or comparable to that at Odessa, where a $5,000 project was completed. The amount included renovation and furnishings.

DALLAS, Dec. 3 (AP)—Three persons were injured today when twenty passengers and the operator leaped from a runaway streetcar as it left the tracks at the end of the line.

British Navy Hits A Heavy Blow In The Mediterranean

By The Associated Press LONDON, Dec. 3.—British naval guns have sunk four more enemy merchantmen and two destroyers bound for Tunisia with reinforcements for the Axis in the decisive battle for Bizerte and Tunis in which the opening shots apparently already have been fired, it was announced today.

The timely naval blow was struck on the night of Dec. 1, the admiralty said, and deprived the enemy of sorely needed fresh strength to face British and American troops converging on the bomb-battered Axis strongholds after smashing a German counter-attack which touched off the heaviest fighting of the Tunisian campaign.

(The convoy was attacked about midnight by a British force including three cruisers and, "in a spirited engagement," the communique said, "four enemy ships and two of the escorting destroyers were sunk or left burning wrecks.")

No British ship suffered damage or casualties in the battle with the convoy, but the relatively new destroyer Quentin was sunk later on the way to her base. Most of her crew was reported saved.

The Italians, in what appeared to be their version of the same action, said one Italian destroyer was sunk Tuesday night and a British cruiser blown up in "a brief but violent naval encounter."

German planes were said to have damaged a British destroyer and sunk a light unit of the same formation at dawn the next day.

The Berlin radio said a British cruiser of the 9,850-ton London class also was torpedoed by a U-boat in the western Mediterranean "and its sinking may be reckoned with. Bomb hits were said to have brought another British destroyer to a stop off the Algerian coast.

There was no confirmation for any of these enemy claims.

In fact, the assault on the convoy was another chapter in the allied sea successes in the north African zone.

In waters made hazardous by enemy submarines and closeness to Axis air bases, H. V. Alexander, first lord of the admiralty, informed the house of commons today, that naval losses were much smaller than had been expected and "far less than the enemy claimed."

Alexander gave no figures for merchant losses but he described them as light, too.

He named only 11 warships lost, the biggest of which was the British aircraft carrier Avenger. Her name had not appeared before in the roster of Britain's fleet and she may have been a converted merchantman.

Two others were the former United States coast guard cutters Walney and Hartland which smashed through the harbor boom at Oran and sank, Alexander said, in a "gallant attempt" to prevent the scuttling of ships which would have blocked the channel. He said they reached the inner harbor and landed troops before going down.

Other allied losses included three destroyers, one of which was Dutch; a sloop, a minesweeper, and a tug.

Registrars Are Wanted

Volunteer registrars are needed for the sixth registration—of young men who have reached their 18th birthday since June 30—which will start December 11 and continue through December 31. Margaret McDonald, chief clerk of the Howard county selective service board, said Thursday.

Although plans have not been completed, arrangements will be made to handle the registration of youths within the city at some central point, probably the courthouse, and of rural youths through the county schools.

The registration will be conducted in three 1-week periods: From Dec. 11 through Dec. 17 for those who reached their 18th birthday between July 1 and Aug. 31; Dec. 18-24 for those becoming 18 between Sept. 1 through Oct. 31; and Dec. 25-31 for those who were 18 between Nov. 1 and Dec. 31.

Youths born on or after Jan. 1, 1925, will register continuously at the selective service board on the day their birthdays occur, or on the day following should it fall on Sunday or a holiday.

The office staff, burdened with routine work at this time, will be unable to assume the extra duties of the registration procedure, Miss McDonald said, in asking that volunteer registrars get in touch with her and specify what day or days they will be able to work.

Irregularities In Federal Project

Sinwich And Mobley Set Pace In Season Yardage

Frankie Runs Up Total Of 2,187 Yards

CHICAGO, Dec. 3 (AP)—The 1942 college football season's most proficient individuals when it came to making a football produce yardage were Frankie Sinwich of Georgia, Rudolph (Little Doc) Mobley of Hardin-Simmons, and Ray Evans of Kansas.

Sinwich, in accounting for 2,187 yards, became the first player in modern history to pass the 2,000 mark in total offense (passing and rushing). Mobley's 1,381 yards by rushing alone was another modern record, while Evans became the second man ever to complete more than 100 forward passes. Evans finished with 101, which is 13 short of the record established last year by Bud Schwenk of Washington University, St. Louis.

The nation's No. 1 punter among those kicking 30 or more times was Bobby Cifers of Tennessee with a 42.89 yard average. Closely behind came North Carolina State's Art Faircloth with 42.2.

A pass receiving champion remained to be settled between Cullen Rogers of Texas A. and M. and Fred Sault of Texas Mines. Each had caught 36, Rogers gaining 417 yards and Sault 401. However, one of Texas Mines games had not been reported and Rogers still has one game to play, the American Football Statistical Bureau commented in releasing today's tabulations.

In addition to the new marks by Sinwich (who bettered the 1,928 total by Schwenk in 1941) and Mobley (who topped Colorado Whizzer White's 1,121 total in 1937), two other records were tied.

Bill Dutton of Pittsburgh equaled the 209 ball carrying attempts Sinwich set last year in winning rushing honors. However, Bob Kennedy of Washington State needs to carry the ball only seven times against the Texas Aggies this week to boost his total to 210 and a new record.

The other figure tied was that of 19 touchdowns passed by Columbia's Paul Governall. Davey O'Brien of Texas Christian completed the same number in 1937.

Among the statistical oddities was the fact that Tulsa, while carrying off team punting honors, failed to place a man among the individual leaders. The statistical bureau reported that this was because none of Tulsa's kickers punted the necessary 30 times. However, Glenn Dobbs, with 28 of his team's 56 punts, had the extremely high average of 48.8 yards.

Cosden Bowlers To Clash With Soldiers

Cosden's steady bowlers will bite off a mighty big chunk at 7:30 p. m. today when they meet an all-star soldiers team, and whether the Oilers can chew it remains to be seen.

Rolling for Cosden will be Stanley Wheeler, Jack Smith, Pete Howze, Mel Richards, and Luke LeBlou. The soldiers' line-up includes three Big Spring, Pvt. Rat Ramsey, Pvt. Jake Douglas, and Pvt. Ward R. Hall along with DeCarlo and Podany.

No Trades Yet At Annual Meet Of Baseball Moguls

CHICAGO, Dec. 3 (AP)—This is the third day of the stand-around party billed as the major league baseball meeting. But when some one posted a bulletin board notice to the effect "minor league baseball writers will meet tonight in room 708" the boys from the big cities agreed to attend too. "This major league meeting has been strictly minor so far," someone observed.

That's how it's been. For one thing there has been nary a sign of a trade. The usual rumors float up and down the corridors but their originators—when tracked down—usually laugh off the yarn with an airy "you won't be able to confirm it."

If this keeps up it'll be the first time in the memory of the oldest writer present that there hasn't been some kind of player deal during the major league seasons. For another thing, the Philadelphia story has been dumped back into President Gerry Nugent's lap, much to his dismay. The National League doctors, after wielding their stethoscopes over the faint Phils for the last few weeks, apparently have decided there's a spark of life left in the franchise but they haven't the energy to try to fan it into a red-hot ball club. That is, not during the war years.

Even the setting for today's joint meeting of the leagues with Commissioner K. M. Landis was different. Instead of holding forth in the usual Loop hotel suite, the head men were to assemble across town at another hotel, where Landis lives. The judge recently had a minor operation.

Youth Beauty Tops Fem Bowling Teams

Youth Beauty Shop set the pace in the Women's Bowling league Wednesday evening, making it three straight over Walker's Pharmacy.

In other games, Club Cafe and Rainbow Inn, among the chief contenders, had a bitter battle with Club winning out 2-1. J. & L. Drug turned back C. R. Anthony by the same count.

Wanda Griffith was high individual for the evening on games with 191, while individual series was established by Olive cauble with 482.

Club cafe was high with both game and series, rolling a neat 797 and then a 2,218 for the evening.

Report Made On Crude Storage

AUSTIN, Dec. 3 (AP)—Crude oil products in storage in Texas on November 22 totaled 139,526,942 barrels, Chairman Elliott O. Thompson of the railroad commission reported.

In tanks above ground and ready for use were 16,000,000 barrels of nearly 672,000,000 gallons of gasoline.

Crude in storage totaled 53,428,639 barrels. Fuel oil 8,918,516, natural gasoline 1,090,528 and other 12,912,168, Thompson said.

ONE-MINUTE SPORTS PAGE

The Chicago Blackhawks a bit annoyed because some of the early-bird hockey fans in the gallery bring playing cards along to pass the time before the games and then, when peevish at the officials, toss the decks out on the rink. They had four kids pinched for that offense last Sunday. Jacobs Beachcombers, who had been worried about so many goal-fighters going into the services, are feeling pretty good about the "gates" for three Tuesday boxing cards—$47,934.88 at Cleveland, $15,126 at Philadelphia and $7,990 at Pittsburgh. The bowlers' victory legion, which turned over its first $35,000 contribution to the USO yesterday, will start Red Cross week Dec. 7.

GET THE POINT?

Recent "it oughta be a record" notes reaching here report that Capt. Tom Billingale of Fredericksburg, Va., James Monroe high made 23 successful placement kicks for points after touchdowns during the past season and Wayne Waters of Manassas, Ia., scored 18 straight extra points by plunges... and the college scouts probably will go looking for the guys who made all those touchdowns.

Bowl Games Just For The Home Folks

NEW YORK, Dec. 3 (AP)—The Office of Defense Transportation in Washington asked the sponsors of the various New Year's Day football bowl games to restrict travel to the contests—and found the grid officials already practicing the suggestion.

"We have planned all along to dispose of all our tickets in Florida," declared Oscar E. Dooly, Jr., of the Orange Bowl group. "Approximately 85 per cent of the tickets already sold went to Miami."

In his telegrams to the participating schools and the sponsors of the Jan. 1 games, Joseph B. Eastman of the ODT said that "long distance travel of fans and team followers must be discouraged" because of the war and cited the recent Army-Navy games as an example.

The service school clash was shifted from Philadelphia, where it customarily drew 102,000 spectators, to the navy's field and played before 10,700 residents of Annapolis.

Earl B. Smyth of the Cotton Bowl association, James K. Ingham of the Tourney of Roses, Dr. E. B. Hanson, Jr., of the Sun Bowl, and Joseph David, president of the Sugar Bowl group, all responded in words similar to those of Dooly.

"The Sugar Bowl people have done no out-of-town ticket selling or advertising," declared David. "Reservations indicate our Cotton Bowl crowd will come from within a 100-mile radius of Dallas," replied Smyth.

Although Eastman did not dispute the term "long distance travel" neither did he indicate that the ODT wanted ticket sales restricted to the residents of the cities in which the games would be played, as was done in last Saturday's Army-Navy clash.

Labor Unity To Get A Test

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3 (AP)—The AFL-CIO plan of "practical cooperation," agreed to as a step toward total unity, will get its first test immediately in the Kaiser shipyards dispute.

The plan, decided on yesterday by leaders of America's two major labor movements, provides for arbitration of jurisdictional differences which cannot be solved by the unions themselves. The agreement is subject to approval of the AFL and CIO executive boards, but unity negotiations will go forward meanwhile.

President Roosevelt, it was learned, has intervened to prevent a prospective knock-down, dragout fight which finds the National Labor Relations Board in the middle.

Through James F. Byrnes, his economic stabilization director, Mr. Roosevelt has requested that leaders of both organizations withhold their fire in the Kaiser battle and try to reach a conference solution.

The NLRB ordered a hearing at Portland, Ore., on Dec. 14 at the instigation of the CIO Marine and Shipbuilders' Union, which charges that the closed shop contracts between AFL unions and three yards of Henry J. Kaiser were made illegally.

The AFL metal trades department, pledging all its resources in the fight, has assailed the NLRB for disturbing an amiable relationship. If the contracts are set aside and a collective bargaining election ordered, as the CIO wants, the AFL says bitter electioneering will cut down vital ship production.

The CIO union, meanwhile, is soliciting support among the West Coast workers.

Reduced Field Starts Play At Miami

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 3 (AP)—A lot of talent was missing when a hundred odd golfers teed off today for the first round of the $5,000 Miami open, but that was no sign the scoring would suffer.

Leaders of the reduced field sampled the par 70 Miami Springs course in practice, and handed in cards the like of which were not seen even when Ben Hogan, Sam Snead, Craig and other top-notchers, now sidelined because of the war, were taking their turns on the greens.

Harold McSpaden of Philadelphia cracked the course record with a round of 63—after going over par on the first two holes—and established himself as the favorite even though he eased off in later workouts to avoid getting an edge too soon.

Johnny Revolta of Miami, the 1933 winner, fired three 66's and a 67 in trial rounds, as did Johnny Bulla, the Atlanta airline pilot, who skipped a flight to compete.

Their 72-hole scores of 265, if carried with the chips down, would lower by two strokes the tournament mark set by Sam Snead when he won in 1937.

Oil Rationing Hearing Set At Okla. City

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 3 (AP)—Sen. Harry S. Truman said today a sub-committee of his senate investigating body would hold a session in Oklahoma City Friday morning to hear oil refiners and producers on gas and fuel oil rationing.

Truman said Senators Carl A. Hatch of New Mexico and M. C. Wailgren of Washington would conduct the hearing. Other members of the committee leave today for Washington.

The hearing will begin at 10:30 in the Biltmore hotel.

Three days of testimony were written into the record of Truman's committee in Kansas City, concluding late yesterday with Wirt Franklin, Oklahoma oil man now a member of Petroleum Coordinator Harold L. Ickes' staff in Washington.

E. B. Swanson, director of research for the petroleum coordinator, and Wirt Franklin, director of production for the Chicago region, were the final government witnesses in the hearing here.

Swanson testified crude oil in storage has declined more than 35,000,000 barrels in the past year, in the area east of the Rocky Mountains; he blamed transportation limitations and said the only way to make up the shortage is to reduce consumption.

Franklin said a slump in drilling and exploratory activities was also a major factor. Previous witnesses had told the committee that wildcatting (seeking new fields) was at a standstill because priorities for necessary materials could not be obtained.

Mayor John B. Gage and earlier protesters declared that fuel oil is plentiful here and should not be rationed since coal and gas—the alternative fuels—are plentiful.

Before T. R. SACRAMENTO, Calif. — The state department of motors and vehicles made a record-breaking total of $4,647,210 in fines against traffic violators in 1941. The report showed that more than 564,194 motorists were convicted of infractions of traffic laws during the year. During the last eight years, the state has collected $20,510,707 in traffic fines.

Steers Meet Forsan In First Cage Game Friday

Great Lakes Tops Among Service Units

NEW YORK, Dec. 3 (AP)—The Great Lakes Naval Training Station football team, strong enough to have blanked seven of its 11 foes this season, is the nation's leading service team in the opinion of 91 sports writers polled by the Associated Press.

The Sailors, whose eleven of World War I days was outstanding, don't complete their schedule until Saturday against Notre Dame. Chicago but 50 of the voters decided that no matter what the outcome the Sailors are the best.

Although the Army produced two teams late in August that were good enough to hold their own with various clubs from the National League the Navy snared the first six places among the top ten and also had the Panascoila Flyers in the eighth spot.

The Camp Grant squad, beaten by Great Lakes, 33 to 0, was the best soldier outfit, in the opinion of the voters, and took over seventh place with 151 points, compared to the 812 collected by Great Lakes.

Coached by Tony Hinkle, formerly at Butler University, and sparked by Minnesota's 1941 All-America Bruce Smith, the Sailors had a mediocre season through Oct. 24 when they were stopped by Michigan State, 14 to 0. Then they started winning and haven't been scored on since.

Soil Conservation Agreements OK'd

Supervisors of the Martin-Howard County Soil Conservation district approved a total of 16 agreements in their regular monthly meeting Tuesday afternoon at Stanton.

A priority area (group combining for one master plan) in Martin county, presented by County Agent Hubert Martin, accounted for bulk of the applications, although five covered farms in Howard county.

Approved agreements totaled 16 and represented 25,778 acres. Included in the total were two ranches, the George Glass ranch in Midland county and the Glenn Brunson ranch in northern Glasscock county, which accounted for much of the acreage.

The Christmas Seal Campaign is the sole means of support of the organized campaign against tuberculosis.

Dibrell Will Start Team Of Six-Footers

First basketball of the season has been matched for Friday evening in the high school gymnasium, Coach John Dibrell said Wednesday.

The tilt will pit the Big Spring Steers against the Forsan Buffaloes. Friday week a return engagement will be played at Forsan.

This year the Steers give considerable promise of blossoming into one of the best cage outfits in this section of the state. They have three lettermen back and a string of likely looking material that would enable Dibrell to put a team of six-footers on the floor if he desired.

He probably will start Peppy Blount, a star from last year's team, at center and Glen Cagle and John Ulrey, who tower six feet and plus, at guards. Cagle shown last season and Ulrey is an addition to the team. Dewey Stevenson, shortest man on the squad with only five and a half feet, will be at a guard post and perhaps Ernest Bostick at the other.

It is no cinch, however, that Woody Baker won't ease out one of the guards for a starting berth.

Not much is known of the Forsan team, coached by Walker Bailey has some fair material. Dunlap, a star for the six man grid team at Forsan, is expected to shine in basketball.

Nests Getting 'Old' Fast

LOS ANGELES—Dr. Jan O. M. Brock, lecturer on the campus of the University of California, says nest instructors hold that the four stages in the life cycle of nations are youth, adolescence, maturity and old age, characterized as follows: "If you grab, you are adolescent; when you stop, you are mature; when you can't grab any more, you are old."

FROM BUCKSKIN TO BUCKET HELMET—Evolution of American fighting men's clothing was shown at an arms plant plant at Elms, N. Y. Left to right: Frontiersman, Mexican War rifeman, Civil War infantryman, plainsman, Spanish War trooper, World War I soldier, and a World War II sharpshooter wearing the new bucket-style helmet.

This man is not dead. He is just sleeping. And sleeping a little more soundly, perhaps, because there are still many Americans who are not putting at least 10% of their pay into War Bonds on a regular Payroll Savings Plan. How about you joining a lot of other fellows in giving the little paper-hanger a rude awakening? How about you signing up with a Payroll Savings Plan today: : : to the tune of not 6%, or 7%, or 8%, but 10% and more if you can? LET'S TOP THAT 10% BY NEW YEAR'S.

WHAT YOU SHOULD DO:
If you are . . .
1. Already investing 10% of your pay in War Bonds through the Payroll Savings Plan—boost that 10% if you can.
2. Working in a plant where the Payroll Savings Plan has been installed, but haven't signed up yet—sign up tomorrow.
3. Working in a plant where the Payroll Savings Plan hasn't been installed, talk to your union head, foreman, or plant manager—and see if it can't be installed right away. The local bank will be glad to help.
4. Unable to get in on the Payroll Savings Plan for any reason, go to your local bank, or wherever Bonds are sold. They will be glad to help you start a Plan of your own.

Lieutenant Fowler was commissioned after completing the WAAC course at Fort Des Moines, Iowa. Lieutenant Lamme enlisted in the Army as a private and won his commission in the Infantry at Fort Benning, Georgia. He is nineteen years of age. All young men of eighteen and nineteen, he says, should take advantage of their opportunity to pick their branch of service now.

Philips Present For Book Review At Colorado City

COLORADO CITY, Dec. 3.—Shine Phillips, druggist-author of "Big Spring," delighted a Colorado City audience here Tuesday with the wistful declaration, "I'd like to do Colorado City, next." Phillips was a guest at the review of his popular book given by Mrs. Wylie Kinard of Vincent, and was called to the stage for impromptu remarks.

The book, now in its fourth printing, was presented by Mrs. Kinard in all its homespun humor which kept attentive listeners suspended between laughter and "remembering when." The reviewer pictured the West in the raw along with the author's own brand of philosophy, "native wit and plain horse sense."

Mrs. Kinard did not attempt to present the book in its entirety. The incidents she selected for highlighting included the chapter portraying the pioneer doctor and excerpts from several others.

War Demand Due To Keep Texas Oil Industry On Steady Basis

AUSTIN, Dec. 3 (AP)—Compelling war demands for crude products will keep the gigantic Texas oil industry humming indefinitely despite nationwide gasoline rationing.

Declaring "there is no cause for alarm" for the future of the industry, Commissioner Beauford Jester forecast that "the effects of nationwide rationing will be equalized with constantly increasing war demands for oil counterbalancing any decline in consumption by automobile users."

Thompson said that the industry for several months had adjusted its production to meet increasing war demands and decreasing domestic consumption.

Make Those Boys In The Barracks Happy With Super Special Goodies From Home!

Molasses Peanut Crunch and Raisin-Peanut Clusters: Christmas Treats.

By MRS. ALEXANDER GEORGE, AP Food Editor

You may be going light on Christmas festivities this year but don't pass up the fine tradition of making holiday confections. The boys in camp or home on Christmas furloughs will be looking for some of their favorite home-made goodies—and you just can't disappoint them this year.

Many confections can be made with little or no sugar. Or you can reserve some of your sugar allotment over a period to provide an ample supply for the making of Christmas sweets. Remember that you, too, can work magic with molasses and maple syrup just as grandmother did.

CRUNCHES call for ready-to-serve cereal flakes. Your grocer is well equipped with various kinds as they are still abundant for civilian supply. And they are excellent sources of Vitamin B complex. Puffed rice or wheat are fine and there are others very good. Boil together slowly, 1-3 cup corn syrup, 2 tablespoons vinegar, 1-4 teaspoon salt and 2 tablespoons butter or margarine. When a hard "click" ball forms when a portion is tested in cold water, add 1-8 teaspoon soda. Stir thoroughly and pour the hot syrup over 3 cups reheated (to freshen) of cereal flakes. Drop portions onto waxed paper or greased pans. When firm pack in a box.

MAPLE NUT SQUARES are creamy and will bring back happy childhood memories to those hailing from New England. Use 1 cup, 1-4 cups milk, 4 tablespoons maple sugar (about 2-1-2 spoons butter, 1-8 teaspoon salt, 1-2 cup butternuts (if you can get them) or walnuts and 1-3 teaspoon vanilla. Mix sugar with milk. Let stand 10 minutes to dissolve then add butter and salt. Cook over moderate fire until thick and a portion forms soft ball when tested in cold water. Stir frequently while cooking. Remove from heat and let stand 10 minutes. Beat until thick and creamy. Add rest of ingredients and pour onto greased pan. Flatten with hands or back of knife and cut into squares. When firm wrap in waxed paper and pack in metal box.

CHOCOLATE DROPS are creamy and easy to make. Mix together in double boiler 2-3 cup evaporated milk and 1 cup shaved semi-sweet chocolate. Cook 20 minutes, covered, over low heat. Stir several times. Add 1-8 teaspoon salt and 1-3 teaspoon vanilla. Beat until thick and creamy. Drop portions from tip of a buttered spoon (to prevent sticking) onto waxed paper.

Press nuts on top each as quickly as possible. Keep on the paper until stiff.

Molasses Peanut Crunch
1 cup New Orleans molasses.
1 cup sugar.
2 tablespoons butter.
1-8 teaspoon soda.
3 cups chopped peanuts.
Cook molasses, sugar and butter until a hard ball forms when a little is dropped in cold water. Remove from heat, add soda and stir until bubbling stops, then add peanuts. Pour into shallow pan. When slightly cooled, cut in small squares or bars.

Raisin-Peanut Clusters
1-2 cup New Orleans molasses.
1-2 cup corn syrup.
1 teaspoon vinegar.
3 tablespoons butter.
2 cups shelled peanuts.
1 cup raisins.
Cook molasses, corn syrup and vinegar until a hard ball forms when a small amount is dropped in cold water. Remove from heat and add butter. Stir until combined with the syrup, then add nuts and raisins. Drop by spoonfuls on greased pan. If candy hardens while working with it, put pan over low heat and stir vigorously until it softens.

For a popcorn treat try PEANUT TAPPY STICKS. 2-3 cup sugar, 2-3 cup molasses, 1 tablespoon vinegar, 1 tablespoon butter, 1-4 cup water and 1-4 teaspoon salt. Boil gently, without stirring, until a hard ball forms when a portion is tested in cold water. Add 1-8 teaspoon soda and stir until foamy. Stir in 1 cup shelled roasted peanuts and 4 cups popped corn. Pour the mixture into a shallow greased pan. Pat down lightly until smooth. Cut into bars and wrap in waxed paper.

Congressmen Are Told Of Their Emoluments

WASHINGTON (AP) — Members of the new congress who take their seats on Jan. 4 are being instructed by the chief clerk of the house in the right, privileges and emoluments of their office.

And according to a booklet called "Information for Representatives-elect to the Seventy-Eighth Congress," issued by Chief Clerk South Trimble, the official $10,000 annual salary is just part of said emoluments.

The moment they start their journey from their homes to the capital to take the oath of office, members get on Uncle Sam's expense account. They receive 20 cents a mile travel allowance going to and coming from each regular session of congress.

As soon as they hit Washington, Trimble reminds them, they are entitled to up-to-date office suites with all the accoutrements. Once set up in his office, a representative can start casting about for hired help to the tune of not more than $6,500 per year. The law limits the number of employees to three, and the top pay to $3,500. Any part of the salary allotment not used reverts to the treasury, but generally it is used up.

For each year in office, a congressman is allowed $50 for air mail and special delivery postage. This is in addition to the franking privilege, under which ordinary mail may be sent at government expense. To obtain stationery for his office, the congressman draws an additional $200 per session. And if he wants to use the telegraph instead of mail for official business, he may do so at the expense of congress.

For the asking, a congressman may obtain, mostly for mailing to his constituents, 75 copies of the daily Congressional Record, the established price of which is $1.50 per month.

Contrary to widespread belief, congressmen get no free haircuts or free meals, but there is a doctor's office in the capitol which gives them free treatment for minor ailments.

Nonetheless, what with living costs and taxes what they are and the cost of election campaigns every other year, many members declare they serve at a personal sacrifice.

Many Questions Unanswered In Salary-Limit Rulings

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3. (AP)—Salary stabilization experts of the treasury bureau of internal revenue scattered to the storm cellar today—just one jump ahead of an army of white collar workers shouting "Hey, what about me?"

Voluntarily but somewhat vague details of a program planned to prevent most raises and hold all salaries to $25,000 net a year, or a basic gross of $67,200, were issued after weeks of waiting.

But the question of whether a lot of citizens named Joe will get raises was still unanswered—remaining up to the bureau's regional offices to settle, case by case.

If it's any consolation, cutting Joe's salary appeared to be just as big a question and due for identical treatment.

Under terms of the anti-inflation program outlined by President Roosevelt and economic director James F. Byrnes, the bureau must regulate all salaries over $5,000 net a year, plus those under that figure when paid to non-farm unorganized administrative, executive and professional workers.

Last night, the bureau announced the details, outlining definitions and broad terms of the program in a 21-page, single spaced typewritten report.

But as Joe searched it vainly for the solution to his specific problem, a treasury spokesman admitted:

"There are thousands of questions which remain unanswered."

While the new regulations indicated that there are many ways by which salary increases may be given, the bureau stressed that most of them must be approved by the internal revenue commissioner—through one of the regional stabilization offices—or both employer and employee may risk a $1,000 fine or a year's imprisonment.

Raises may be given without the commissioner's approval only for individual promotion or reclassification, individual merit increases, length of service (in accordance with an established plan), operation of a trainee system, or such other reasons or circumstances as may be prescribed in rulings or regulations promulgated by the commissioner from time to time.

Ace Aviator Is Missing

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3. (AP)—Army fliers scanned the waters and coast line of the Gulf of Mexico today for their "one-man aerial blitz," Boyd D. (Buzz) Wagner, first American ace of World War II, missing four days on a routine flight.

Wagner, one of the army's youngest lieutenant-colonels, took off from an army air base in Florida for Maxwell Field, Ala., and has been unreported since, the war department announced last night. He was understood here to have been flying a single-engine pursuit plane.

As a lieutenant, Wagner was commanding a squadron of P-40's in the Philippines when the war started and within two weeks shot down five Japanese planes and led his squadron in destroying 24 more on the ground.

House Votes Wider Base For Parity

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3 (AP)—The house by unanimous consent today passed legislation redefining agricultural parity to include the costs of all farm labor, a step against which President Roosevelt expressed "unalterable opposition" when anti-inflation proposals were before congress two months ago.

At the time parity redefinition was debated in the anti-inflation fight, one government office contended this might result in an increase in living costs of as much as $2,500,000,000 a year.

Rep. Pace (D-Ga.), author of the measure, told the house he did not know what effects it might have on living costs.

The legislation now goes to the senate.

Pace told the house that under agricultural labor policies being established by the government "virtually no crops will be produced next year, unless farmers are allowed to embrace the increased labor costs into the parity formula."

(Parity is an arbitrary price calculated to give farmers buying power equal to that of some past favorable period for agriculture, usually 1909-14).

Says Management Must Meet Problem Of Manpower

NEW YORK, Dec. 3 (AP)—Failure by industrial management to do its part in mobilizing manpower would lead directly to the exercise of compulsion on an unnecessarily wide scale, Paul V. McNutt, chairman of the manpower commission, told the war-time meeting of the National Association of Manufacturers today.

"This is not a threat," McNutt said, "but a statement of fact x x x," based on the existence of an armed force totaling 6,000,000 at present and scheduled to rise to 8,700,000 by the end of 1942.

"Each of you," McNutt told the manufacturers, "will lose just about as many men during 1943 as you have hitherto lost altogether. Moreover, replacements are going to be harder to get. We will be fortunate if 500,000 more people can be squeezed out of the present pool of 1-1.3 million unemployed."

Names Coming In For Honor Roll

Responsibility for the names of all Howard county men now in the armed services, whose names will be inscribed on a roll of honor on the courthouse lawn, has been good so far, County Judge James T. Brooks said today.

Approximately 100 coupons have been clipped from The Herald and sent in. There have also been numerous phone calls to the judge's office.

As soon as a carpenter can be obtained to erect the roll of honor, the names will be placed on the board and erected on the lawn, Judge Brooks said.

Move Under Way To 'Get Henderson'

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3 (AP)—Government bureaus in general and the Office of Price Administration in particular found themselves the targets today of a congressional drive to retrieve some of the powers delegated in recent years to the executive arm of the government.

A definite "get Leon Henderson" movement was under way, with democratic house members, mostly from the south, joining in a chorus of criticism of the price administrator.

Republicans kept on the sidelines, but influential minority members said they were ready to join in a campaign, expected to reach a climax early in the next congress, to shear Henderson of much, if not all, of his authority and to apply a legislative squeeze on other emergency bureaus.

as they carried the attack to sea, forcing the destroyers to withdraw without materially aiding their hand-picked forces on the shallow beachhead ringed by Allied ground troops.

The planes also kept up low level attacks on Japanese ground positions between Buna and Gona.

Brief reports from Allied airmen described the night fight in the air and at sea as "a great fireworks display with enemy warships shooting rockets to illuminate the Allied aircraft."

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3 (AP)—Marine patrols attacking enemy forces on Guadalcanal have wiped out another 53 Japanese in the Solomon Islands and captured a quantity of arms and ammunition, the navy announced today.

Daylight attacks by army and navy aircraft continued to harass enemy positions on the island.

An attack by marines on a patrol of 60 Japanese near the upper Lunga river ended in killing 35 of the enemy and capture of some arms and ammunition. In another patrol encounter in the Matanikau river area 20 additional Japanese were killed.

Tuberculosis always increases during wartime. It is already on the upgrade in large industrial cities in this country.

Rent Signup Set Dec. 15

Tentative plans at the newly established Rent Control office are to set registration day for all owners of rental property for December 15th, Charlie Sullivan, attorney-examiner said today.

The registration will not include hotel and rooming house owners who will register at a later date.

James W. Stovall, of San Angelo, who has been here to assist in opening this office, will return to San Angelo today.

The office is still receiving several calls and visitors a day for information on rent ceilings.

Whiskey Hauling Due To Slow Down

One result of gasoline rationing may be the falling off of bootlegging of whiskey in dry areas, T. W. Franklin, Howard County Liquor Control Board supervisor said today.

With Howard county the only wet area within 40-miles, it would take a bootlegger a week of coupons, approximately, to transport the beverages to major markets in the dry area.

There has been no noticeable effect yet, Franklin explained, but with liquor control inspectors always vigilant, and gas hard to get, the number of traffickers in illegal sale of liquor in dry areas may show a decided decline in the next few months.

Woman Wounded By Policeman

SWEETWATER, Dec. 3 (AP)—Mrs. Rose Trislar is in a serious condition from a bullet wound suffered when a traffic policeman sought to halt her automobile, Police Chief J. A. Hland said.

Hland last night quoted a statement from Buddy Coppedge, Sweetwater traffic policeman, as saying:

Coppedge yesterday attempted to halt Mrs. Trislar, a Sweetwater resident, because of the way she was driving. He followed her car around several blocks, and when the machine headed south on the road to San Angelo, he fired at the tires and the car stopped.

Then Coppedge learned that Mrs. Trislar had been struck by a bullet. He took her to the Sweetwater hospital in his patrol car.

Governor Grants Stay Of Execution

AUSTIN, Dec. 3 (AP)—Execution of Leo Lera, convicted of slaying Harry Phillips in a Galveston beach front cafe in 1933, has been stayed by Governor Coke R. Stevenson for 30 days.

Originally sentenced to face the electric chair Jan. 11, Lera will be executed Feb. 10, barring further clemency.

The governor is empowered to grant one 30 day stay without recommendation of the board of pardons but cannot give further reprieves without approval of the board.

He has given one stay in each capital case, a precedent inaugurated by his predecessor, W. Lee O'Daniel.

sweeper, an anti-aircraft ship, a corvette and a depot ship.

At least 30 attacks were made on U-boats, Alexander said, but he did not disclose the numbers sunk and damaged. One was known to have been sunk by an air-launched torpedo, the first known instance of such an attack, he said.

While the allied westward drive from Libya still paused near El Aghella, with only patrol activity a ground and slightly increased air activity, fierce struggles apparently were being waged along the narrowing arc of defenses which the axis has flung out on all landward sides of Bizerte and Tunis.

A Berlin broadcast, attributed to authoritative Nazi sources, said German troops had recaptured the key communications point of Tebourba from American forces. This was the first enemy acknowledgment even that the axis had lost Tebourba, which is 20 miles west of Tunis and 35 miles south of Bizerte, and there was no confirmation from allied reports of the recapture claim.

The German broadcast said the Americans lost 22 tanks in the encounter.

Conversely, allied dispatches from the front said that the German counterattack had been smashed and that the Americans had played a major role in repelling it.

The Italian communique, also reporting relative quiet on the Libyan front, said 200 British prisoners had been taken, including an entire parachute regiment, in Tunisia.

"We also destroyed a total of 34 enemy tanks and six armored vehicles," the Italian communique added.

Axis air forces attacked enemy motorized columns and rear lines. Airdromes and port facilities in French North Africa also were bombed.

Allied headquarters declared the Nazis had lost heavily in their unsuccessful counterblow, launched with the apparent hope of cutting off the wedge which the allies have driven between the two ports.

Heavy fighting also was reported around Mateur, 13 miles south of Bizerte, where an allied column is driving toward the coast.

British and American planes hammered the enemy from the air with mounting fury, concentrating especially on axis airfields.

American medium bombers, escorted by P-38 fighters, raided the Tunis airdrome for the fifth time in 44 hours, destroying at least 12 grounded planes.

Reports from the front indicated that the twin-engined P-38's were playing an important part in the battle for control of the skies over Tunisia and were proving more than a match for the best German planes.

The P-38's also were credited with knocking out a number of German tanks in the Djedida sector near Tunis.

Emily P. Bissell of Wilmington, Del., started the first Christmas Seal Campaign in 1907.

Italians Know They Are On The Spot

BERN, Switzerland, Dec. 3 (AP)—The test of Italy's morale under terrible aerial bombardment at home and military reverses on the battlefield is near a climax and Italians, from Premier Mussolini down, make no effort to conceal that they know the effort is on to force them out of the war.

Whether this can be done—Germany's 1940 air onslaught against Britain failed to attain the same objective—remains to be seen, but many Italian sources acknowledge that Italy's position is serious.

Mussolini promised yesterday that Germany would send more anti-aircraft defenses to augment the already considerable German military strength in Italy, and said more would be done about air raid shelters, a subject discussed almost daily in the Italian press.

Genoa, Turin and Milan now are largely cleared of non-essential civilian population, but housing problems in other parts of Italy are becoming difficult. These difficulties will increase, for appeals now are being published for civilians to leave Rome, Livorno and other centers of population.

Transportation is similarly difficult. The Milan railroad station is crowded with the baggage of evacuees.

Air Raid Warning Test Abandoned

Plans for local participation in a state-wide air raid warning communications test were abandoned yesterday upon receipt of a telegram from Ernest J. Boyett, executive secretary to Governor Coke Stevenson, to the effect that the army signals would go only to the Houston and San Antonio military areas, Carl S. Blomfield, commander of civilian defense, said today.

The message stated that it is "quite satisfactory, however, for you to originate calls locally at any time on that date and thereby set your organization in motion."

Blomfield felt that the local set-up had not been perfected to such a degree that the units could perform efficiently in the test, but had intended making some effort in the event the test was designed to include the local organization.

What You Buy With WAR STAMPS

One warm Army blanket may spell the difference between a fighting man in the thick of battle and a fatal case of pneumonia. These blankets cost $3.85, and every man in our Army must have two. Not only are the blankets used in tents and barracks, but, when the men are in the field, a blanket is in each man's pack. Together with the "pup tent" they make an effective shelter for our soldiers when out in the field.

When you buy $5.85 worth of War Stamps you are lending your government the money to equip one of our men in uniform with a warm, comfortable blanket. Through the regular purchase of War Stamps you can actively participate in the struggle against the Axis threat to our way of living. Your Schools At War program will aid you in getting into the fight through the purchase of War Stamps.

Study Made On Restricting All Paper

LONDON, Dec. 3 (AP)—United States restrictions on the use of paper, patterned on British controls, was hinted today by an inquiry into paper regulation here just made by Morris Ernst, New York lawyer, for the American War Production Board.

Ernst left for Washington yesterday after a two-week survey.

Paper limitations here are due to shutting off of Scandinavian pulp sources and to reductions in shipping from Canada. They include control of the size and circulation of newspapers and a comprehensive civilian campaign, covering even the salvage of bus ticket stubs and the re-use of envelopes.

(News of Ernst's trip to England to study paper restrictions there for the WPB was viewed as significant in paper circles in New York, in view of recent warnings by American and Canadian government officials that paper consumption in North America would have to be curtailed as a wartime measure.)

(The only step thus far taken has been freezing paper production in the United States and North America at levels no higher than for the second and third quarters of this year, effective Nov. 1, last.

(American paper men, however, have insisted that there was no similarity between British and North American paper problems, since Britain must receive her paper from overseas.)

STOP AND THINK, LADY

... before you buy another new dress it's awful pretty, can't blame you for wanting it. But what about Johnny? He's out there, somewhere in the Pacific. Has he got all the fighting equipment he needs to lick those tricky so-and-so's?

How about another round of ammunition? Think what it might mean to Johnny. Suppose he doesn't get it just when he needs it? You wouldn't need the new dress then. You wouldn't be stepping out with him again.

War Bonds buy your fighter the tools he's got to have to do his job. It's our job to give 'em to him. So put every cent of your extra money into War Bonds. Buy 'em through the Pay-Roll Savings Plan. At least 10% of your salary every pay day. Not 5%, or 7%, or 8%—but at least 10%. And more, if possible.

Many Americans who ought to be buying War Bonds through the Pay-Roll Savings Plan every pay day, aren't. They just haven't yet STOPPED to THINK what it means to Johnny.

Don't be like that, lady. Invest your 10% with Uncle Sam—pay day after pay day. You'll get a big kick out of it. Knowing that you, personally, are sending Johnny the guns, planes, bombs, tanks—whatever it is, he needs!

WHAT YOU SHOULD DO:

1. Already investing 10% of your pay in War Bonds through the Pay-Roll Savings Plan—boost that 10% if you can.
2. Working in a plant where the Plan is installed, but haven't signed up yet—sign up tomorrow.
3. Working in a plant where the Pay-Roll Savings Plan hasn't been installed, talk to your union head, foreman, or plant manager—and see if it can't be installed right away. The local bank will be glad to help.
4. Unable to get in on the Pay-Roll Savings Plan, for any reason, go to your local bank, or wherever Bonds are sold. They will be glad to help you start a Plan of your own.

MARY WHALEY
THOUGHTS WHEN WE SHOULD BE WORKING...

Broken bones and serious ailments are painful but the common little cold takes all prizes for making you feel lousey! Wonder why the doo don't figure out a solution instead of spending their time on the rare sort of diseases that few people have.

On pretty days like yesterday when it's warm and the sun is shining, it's hard to remember there's a war on. There's nothing as peaceful looking as a grey-blue Texas sky at midday, or nothing as quiet as a gas-rationed city for that matter.

If there is really no paper shortage as the government explained some time ago, then there will be one soon unless the bureau call a halt on some of their Form No. 1059-01 which ask you everything what color tie you wore to work. If this keeps up, folks will have to buy little wagons to haul filling cases around with them, just to carry on an average day of living.

It's kind of fun these days to watch people slow up for stop signs and the like in town, just so they won't have to shift gears. When you've only got four gallons of the stuff, you sure get particular about how you are going to spend it.

Business Must Be Given A Chance

Speaking to a group of business men in Muskegon, Michigan, not long ago, Harold Smith, Director of the Federal Budget, said in the course of his address:

"The place of business in the post-war era will be exactly the place which business, through its thought, judgment and effort makes for itself. A passive or defensive attitude on the part of business, either now or in the post-war period, will not be enough. It must plan now and plan constructively. It should face the problems of production and determine whether it will be wise to produce only to meet demand, or wiser to produce to create employment which in turn will create demand."

Business can not will do all that it is allowed to do. Unfortunately Director Smith does not have control of legislation and bureau regulations that are more and more hampering business in many ways. Increased taxes are necessary, of course, not only from business but from individuals, and will be paid. There are other things that are not necessary and will have to be abandoned if business is to do what it is advised to do. There must be fewer reports made to the multitude of Government agencies and bureaus, there must be some leeway allowed which unusual conditions arise that cannot be met under stringent regulations provided for ordinary conditions. In short, business must be let alone until it shows an unwillingness or inability to do what it should do.

So long as the doctrine of propriety by limiting production prevails, as laid down by the Congress and elaborated by former Secretary Wallace and his successor, so long as business has its labor expense fixed by legislative enactment that puts all business in one category; so long as political considerations have precedence over economics, just so long will business be unable to meet the goal suggested by Mr. Smith.

Man About Manhattan— Tucker Quits Broadway For Work At The Front

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK — I'm not sure I know how to begin this. This is one of the last columns I'm going to write. For the duration anyway. When you see this I'll be on my way to Cairo. I'm going over to take a part in the war. Not as a soldier, but as a reporter, as a war correspondent.

I'm going because it's what I'd rather do than anything in this world—and because I'm lucky. You've got to be lucky to get in on the biggest news story that has come along since the Story of Creation. There isn't a newspaperman in the country who wouldn't chop off his toes for the chance. I know I would. And I'm very, very happy.

When I was a kid in Lake Charles, La., reading "The Dare Boys on the Brandywine" and "Surrey of Eagle's Nest" I used to wish I had been born a long time ago so that I could have ridden with Lighthorse Harry Lee or been with Pickett at Gettysburg.

But I was wrong. If I'd been born then I'd never have known about Krakow and Corfu and Bataan and Rangoon and the Solomon Islands. I'd never have had a chance to span an ocean on wings, and follow an army through the western desert, or go into India and Turkey and Iraq, or ride into Jerusalem on a jaekass. But I was lucky. By an accident of time some or all these things are mine now.

I've been writing about New York for ten years. That's a long time. During that time more than six thousand of you have written me letters. Those letters came from little cow towns and big steel towns and from cities and hamlets and hideaway villages between here and Shanghai and Honolulu and Juneau and wherever this column has appeared.

Answering those letters and writing about the things I have seen on Broadway and along the waterfront and at Harlem chicken heavens operated by Father Divine has been one whale of an experience.

I was on the Lindbergh kidnaping story, and to the best of my knowledge I was the first newspaperman in New York who got his hands on the name of Bruno Richard Hauptmann, that stoical ex-machine gunner of the Kaiser's army who was convicted of killing the Lindbergh baby and sent to the chair.

I saw Prohibition die, and with it that curious, bitter blossom of the prohibition years—the speak-easy. A few of those speak-easies successfully negotiated the transition to legality and today they are among our better known restaurants and night clubs. But the great majority of them died as they lived, behind closed doors and drawn shutters.

I knew Will Rogers and Lil Tashman and Osgood Perkins, and with them "Tex" Guinan, Helen Morgan, Daniel Frohman, Conde Nast, Heywood Brown, John Barrymore, and Alice Brady. When I first came to New York they were great names in the literary and theatrical worlds, but they are all dead now, and so is O. O. McIntyre and many, many others. But names change, and so does a man's sense of values.

(Tomorrow: That question "Why?")

Two Girls and a Man

Chapter Nine
Twisted Story

William Cunningham was eating in silence while Gloria sat at his side scanning the evening paper. A startled look passed quickly over her face as she read a small item. For an instant she seemed to be deeply considering the words that were to come. Then with a sympathetic note in her voice she said, "Oh! Dad, did you know this about that poor Mr. Ralston from the west? You know Rita's father?"

Mr. Cunningham looked up from his plate. "No, dear, what about him? I haven't had a word from either Ralston or his daughter. Mighty funny thing the way she dropped out of sight."

Gloria started to read:—"Thomas R. Ralston, prominent citrus rancher and president of the Blossom Ranch Orange Juice Concentrating Company died suddenly Thursday afternoon after suffering an attack of heart disease."

Cunningham stroked his chin slowly and gravely shook his head.

"Too bad," he said. "I suppose the girl received a message and left, too excited to think of notifying me."

"Undoubtedly," murmured Gloria. The paper hid her smile. She had felt a little uneasy about her trick of posing as her father's secretary to get Rita out of town, but it was amusing how Fate had played into her hand.

"I'll write her a note of condolence," Cunningham was planning to say, "and tell her the bank will carry the note until after the fruit is sold, as she proposed. It may relieve her mind. She's a smart girl and a courageous one."

"And you wish to God I were more like her," Irritation edged Gloria's laugh as she pushed back her chair. "Sorry, but I don't agree with you. I think she's exceedingly dull."

She strolled quickly out into the hall.

She paused, one muled foot on the first step of the winding stairs. Clark! Here was her excuse to see him again! She ran up the stairs and into her room, beginning to throw off her silk house pajamas as she rang for her maid. If she hurried, she could catch him at his apartment before the show.

New Plot

Twenty-five minutes later, she rang Clark's bell. Her heart was being with pleasurable excitement. This was the perfect strategy for breaking into his life. Once she'd played the scene she intended here in his apartment, he couldn't continue his distant formality with her. It was this remoteness of his that maddened and interested her. She would soon have brushed off his attentions had he joined her party that first night after the show, shown the usual appreciation at being adopted into their blue book set. But the fact that he had preferred a little Western nobody was unendurable to her. It plucked and challenged her. It called forth every fighting instinct of her selfish, predatory nature. She'd take him away from that Ralston girl if she had to concentrate on the game for two months!

The door opened. His man stood there.

"Mr. Pasquin!"

"Who's calling, please?"

"I'll announce myself." She brushed quickly past the man and made a dash for the living room. She stopped, disappointed at the entrance to the lavishly appointed, thoroughly masculine room. Duffy was perched on the arm of a chair talking to Clark.

It was Duffy who greeted her cordially. Clark showed a touch of annoyance. The fact that she had trouble to look him up meant nothing to him, she saw! All right—she'd play the scene regardless of Duffy. She swept Clark with an uncertain, pleading look, faltered.

"This is really ghastly of me—coming here like this. I was so wretched, because you know Rita too, and we had such a nice talk about her the other day..."

She had his attention at once—questioning, suspicious, but alert. He led her to a chair and ordered a drink.

"I don't believe any of that rot about Rita misapprehending factory money," he said tersely.

"I know you don't," Gloria said softly, gratefully. "That's why I came to you—to reassure me again. You don't know what it means to have such things said of your—dearest friends. Even if she did influence her father to borrow more money than he should have, I'm sure she didn't think it was going to lose the community its factory. And now this—" She handed him the newspaper clipping.

Duffy walked up to read the death notice over Clark's shoulder. He gave a short whistle.

"What some women won't do!" get what they want!"

Gloria glanced at him with a guilty start, then realized he was talking about Rita.

Clark whirled on him. "See here,

Country Is Overcoming Its Wartime Drug Shortage

WASHINGTON — A wartime shortage of important drugs, which a year ago loomed as an alarming handicap in the treatment of disease, has been eased considerably by increased production of medicinal plants in this country.

A quickly-expanded acreage of plants which provide such essential drugs as belladonna, digitalis and henbane has relieved a critical supply problem. Helpful also have been synthetic, among these being synthetic camphor and atabrine, a limited substitute for quinine.

Still pressing, however, is our need for quinine, which was imported largely from the Netherlands East Indies and is now required in large amounts for our armed forces in tropical and semitropical regions.

Prior to the outbreak of war in Europe in 1939, we obtained most of our botanical drugs from abroad, including even those plants that could be grown in this country. Mainly this was because these plants could be produced more cheaply with low-cost hand labor in foreign countries.

Considering the large amount of drugs consumed in this country, the acreage required to provide ample supplies of those medicinal plants which can be grown in the U. S. A. is astonishingly small. Dr. D. M. Crooks of the U. S. Bureau of Plant Industry says probably not more than a total of 3,500 acres is required.

Take digitalis, which is indispensable as a heart medicine. Only 75 acres in a favorable location is required to furnish the quantity of the drug usually imported annually. Normally, our major supplies of digitalis are obtained from Germany, Belgium, France and Italy. Fairly large supplies of the drug can be obtained from wild plants in the Pacific northwest. Small farms in New England have had success with the crop.

Meanwhile, Uncle Sam is conserving stocks of quinine, which is particularly valuable in the

Hollywood Sights And Sounds — New Film Tells Of Children In War

By ROBBIN COONS

"Journey for Margaret" is a story of children in war, and it pleads their cause eloquently. In so doing, it becomes a powerful appeal for the war effort and the defeat of enemies who have subjected the young to bombs and fire and the consequent wrecking of their emotional and nervous systems.

Margaret is one of the waifs rescued from a blitzed London home and taken to a children's home where sympathetic understanding as well as physical care is given. She is a terrified, pitiful little object, dry-eyed, clutching the one tie she has with "home"—her "imagesium" bomb. A young American correspondent, doing a story on the home, is "adopted" by Margaret and a little boy he previously had pulled from the rubble of another blitz.

With sidelights on the effective use of sound psychology in treating the children's war fears, the story deals with the newsmen's efforts to win passage for the pair back to New York and his wife, who herself had lost an expected child during a London bombing.

Robert Young, Laraine Day, Fay Bainter are excellent, but the children—5-year-old Margaret O'Brien and 4-year-old Billy Severn—steal the show. Little Miss O'Brien, with no kiddie coyness whatever, gives a sensational dramatic performance, with a crying scene that makes you want to go personally—and kick Hitler in the pants.

More remote from today's strife is Mervyn LeRoy's filming of James Hilton's "Random Harvest." Greer Garson and Ronald Colman are involved in this romance, best of the current "amnesia" cycle. Colman is the World War I memory-losing veteran, befriended and married by showgirl Garson. It is no surprise when an accident restores his former identity as a man of wealth, obliterating his memory of the romantic interlude. Nor is it surprising that the wife turns up as his quietly efficient secretary, hiding her identity and suffering in silence while he seeks the missing link with his past and incidentally becomes engaged to attractive Susan Peters. Overly long, "Random Harvest" is still a tender and moving love story, acted and directed sensitively, and just the thing for those who haven't enjoyed a good cry lately over fictional woes. Watch Susan Peters.

And Nothing Can Be Done About It

"The Black Swan" is magnificently Technicolor swashbuckling, adventure, romance, plus pirates in the days of Sir Henry Morgan, the reformed buccaner, Tyrone Power (training for the Marines?) leaps, jumps, duels for lovely Maureen O'Hara. Also present: Laird Cregar and George Sanders, who even without a fierce red beard can commit scenic grand larceny under the noses of Hollywood's best.

Innocent Bystander
KANSAS CITY, Dec. 3 (AP)—Drivers of two automobiles which collided in front of his cafe came out swinging, Manager Gus Triantos told police.

One hurled a wrench at the other. The second driver ducked. Then both climbed back into their cars and drove away.

Triantos was the only loser. The cheap wrench sailed through his expensive plate glass window.

$24,000 Volume In Livestock Auction

Gasoline rationing had no visible effect on the cattle market here Wednesday, for 700 head of stock moved through the ring of the Big Spring Livestock Commission Co. for a $24,000 volume.

The market was generally strong to steady. Bulls sold up 9.35, being a fraction of a cent off on the top side. Fat cows, however, were stronger with a top of 10.10. Butcher cows went at 6.00-8.00 and good butcher yearlings ran from 9.00 to 11.50. Common butchers commanded 7.00 to 9.00.

Stocker steers were stronger at 12.00-13.00, and stocker heifers were up to 12.50. Fat calves were bid up to 12.00.

Degrees In Milking
LOS ANGELES, Dec. 3 (AP)—It took a lot of pull to do it, but 18 men and women have their diplomas today.

They are graduates of Southern California's first class of milkers. The course was given because of a war shortage of this type of skilled labor. Red, white and blue diplomas, embossed with a huge "V," were awarded the graduates.

Leon Henderson Expert At Rubbing Fur The Wrong Way

Herald Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Best grade hen eggs now selling for 63 cents a dozen in Washington; lowest grade 47 cents. . . Herbert H. Lehman, only successor thus far for FDR as governor of Empire State, new director of foreign relief and rehabilitation operations, pronounces name "LEEman," not "LAY-man." . . . Col. Harry Carroll, prominent lawyer of McAllen now adjutant-general's office, guest of Congressman Ewing Thomson at Texas delegation luncheon. . . Congressman Eugene Worley has with him A. W. Walker, former professor of law University of Texas, now naval officer.

Leon Henderson expert at rubbing fur wrong way. . . Members of Wright Patman's Little Business committee, back from hearings in Texas, report people didn't like Leon's Dallas speech. . . In hallway ran into Henry L. Swinhart, Havas News Agency correspondent here, formerly with Associated Press, past president National Press Club, highly respected newspaperman, wife nee Thelma Hicks of San Angelo. . . Had lunch with another Texan by marriage, Col. William Patterson MacCracken, prominent Washington lawyer, expert on things aeronautical, good story teller, once assistant secretary of commerce for aeronautics, air corps first World War, wife was Sally Lucile Lewis, of Waco, whom he met while in Texas Army camp. . . Pod peas eight dollars a bushel here and hard to get at that.

Boys might have known couldn't put that anti-poll-tax bill through with Tom Connally again. Sen. Tom, of course, didn't stop it single-handed, but he is a host by himself in fight like that; his prestige, knowledge of procedure, his intense work, organizing ability, repier-like thrusts, resourcefulness, mastery of debate, turned the trick; didn't like the fight, didn't want to do it, but felt had to be done; Tom, more than any other man, stopped court-packing bill in 1937. . . Have observed population is densest in areas where most people live. . . Some grocerymen, just before rationing, gave regular customers break on coffee.

Marble bust of Jack Garner, work of famous sculptor James E. Fraser, will soon be set up in hall of Senate side of Capitol; busts of his 31 predecessors already there. . . Names can't mean much Cong. Kleberg recommends Assistant Postmaster Mrs. Edna E. Smith for appointment as acting postmaster at La Vernia, Wilson county, during military duty of Postmaster Walter L. Wiseman, in army since Nov. 3. . . .

Laurence Milton, of Dallas, past national commander Disabled American Veterans, commissioned lieutenant in air corps, calls on Cong. Wright Patman. . . Card on table in Capitol restaurant: "Reserved. Many Nutritive Benefits Found In Oatmeal

It seems as though nature has singled out whole-grain oatmeal—such as Mother's Oats—as a storehouse of healthful benefits, which everyone, rich and poor alike, can enjoy. For, in terms of nutritive advantages compared to cost, whole-grain oatmeal is almost unbelievably economical.

Whole-grain cereals such as oatmeal contain all the important parts of the grain kernel—as nature made them, and with all the thiamine (vitamin B1), niacin (the anti-pellagra vitamin) and iron (for blood building) retained in processing. In addition, whole-grain oatmeal contains natural quantities of muscle-building protein, phosphorus and calcium for teeth and bones, carbohydrates and fats for energy. Actually, oatmeal leads all other whole-grain cereals in the "growth factors"—protein and vitamin B1.

Many Ways To Use Oatmeal

While oatmeal porridge remains the favorite and almost universal way to eat oatmeal, more and more folks are discovering that there are many other delicious ways to enjoy this nutritious cereal. For example, here is an easy-to-make recipe for tasty oatmeal muffins, as given on the Mother's Oats package, along with other useful recipes.

Mother's Oats Muffins

2-3 cup Mother's Oats (uncooked)

1 1-2 cups flour

4 level teaspoons baking powder

2 tablespoons melted butter

1-2 teaspoons salt

1 cup scalded milk

1 egg

3 tablespoons sugar

Turn scalded milk on Mother's Oats, let stand 5 minutes; add sugar, salt and melted butter; sift flour and baking powder; mix thoroughly and add egg well beaten. Bake in buttered gem pans.

Housewives Urged To Buy Victory Food Specials

Food purchases at home will have an important bearing on the outcome of the war. Homemakers should go easy on foods which are scarce or needed by our armed forces, but should use more of the foods which are abundant, especially Victory Food Specials, was the suggestion given today by Frank J. Riordan.

"The current Agricultural Marketing Administration's Victory Food Special featured by local retailers until Dec. 12 is fresh grapefruit and tangerines. Homemakers are urged by our government to make full use of these healthful citrus fruits to prevent possible waste and relieve demands on other foods which are less abundant," he said.

"Wolves of the World" CAMP ORD, Calif.—Selectees of this camp have just endowed American life with one more nationwide benevolent and protective order. It is open to all service men in the Army, Navy and Marine Corps. It will be known as the B.P.O.—W.O.W. or The Benevolent and Protective Order of Wolves of the World. The protective and benevolent activities of the Wolves will be confined largely to prowling or "dates."

'Carry Your Own' Is Watchword As War Demands Halt Many Deliveries

Tommy's express wagon, Grandma's old-fashioned "Boston bag," the discarded, stretchable twine carry-all, the double-handled paper shopping bag—all these are about to become implements of modern warfare as Mrs. America responds to the call of, "Carry your own for the duration!"

That "Send it, please," which trips so easily off American shoppers' tongues will soon be but a before-the-war memory, while "I'll take it with me" becomes the shopper's buy word.

When their arms grow tired as the bundle load gets heavier and heavier, women can sojace themselves with the realization that they are part of a scientific program for maintenance and conservation of our existing fleet of delivery trucks, servicing department stores, florists, laundries, groceries, dairy companies—all those people to whom they used to toss the casual "Send it please."

No more delivery trucks can be obtained until the war is over; therefore existing equipment must be made to last. In peace times our American sending habit has been responsible for the wearing out of 400,000 delivery trucks each year; and each year these have been replaced with newer models. Now when a delivery truck wears out, there's one less of them . . . one less to deliver the new bed or rug, the crate of oranges, the big bag of flour and all those other sizeable objects a woman can't possibly carry home in her arms.

If these large, heavy objects are to be delivered, small things must be carried. Especially the small things which Mrs. America buys; for even in peacetime she was responsible for buying at least 85% of all the things purchased. Today with men away, the women of the country are doing close to 100 per cent of the buying.

But even worse is in store if little things aren't carried now. As delivery trucks wear out, deliveries of food and the other necessities of life from producer to store will be curtailed until even the baby's milk may not be on hand when mother goes to the store to buy it.

Already, as a part of the program for maintaining and conserving delivery trucks, the Office of Defense Transportation has ordered delivery mileage cut by at least 25 per cent. That means that already fewer deliveries are being made to the grocer by the meat packer, the dairy company, the cereal maker and those others who supply him with food for America to buy.

Department stores and other merchants who deliver direct to the customer have been ordered to limit their trips to a single call per day to one address. This cuts mileage, saves wear and tear on

So look for the women trundling a child's express wagon down the street or proudly exhibiting a swollen twine shopping bag. They've responded to their country's call . . . "To arms!"

Without Painful Backache

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and wastes out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.
