Resident Succumbs In Early Morning Fire

TRAIL DUST

Vagabond clouds that drift beneath a suspended plane appear disdainful of the intrusion into their province, like an affluent host attempting to identify the barefooted stranger who combs his hair with his fingers.

Travelers who prefer the air lanes expect and receive the pampering of a new aristocracy. No one complained among the load of passengers when departure was delayed because the World Series bases were full. Later, after the flight was in progress, the trim, blonde hostess made frequent trips to the crew's cabin for the latest patches regarding the current score. Hungry pro-pellers chewed through cloud lace when the end of the game was announced.

Splendor hangs from the high eaves of the Shamrock Hilton like the charm of a gracious bride. It is a dream castle that has become very real and exceedingly dear, yet embraces a cold formality that, perhaps, is the character of wealth. My experience was that of the average uncouth person who finds himself in environs foreign to his station in life. My room was so far from the sixth floor elevators that my feet became sore, even on deep plush. The temperature was kept so low that I feared illness from over-exposure and wondered why the management did not provide Saint Bernards bearing flasks of brandy in the hallways. My second fear was malnutrition after I read a menu. Houston's great hotel is definitely not a place to retire on old-age pension.

The most impressive thing in the atomic-age palace is a picture that hangs in the Pine Grill. It is a large picture that depicts pioneers, their teams of oxen, covered wagons and ragged clothing. Poverty is expressed in every stroke of the artist's brush; humble people that look back from a window in the past. To study the picture is to want to speak to the pioneers and give to them from the bounty bought by their sacrifices and to feel that the wealth and splendor is theirs.

Behold the night and its green and crimson neon fires, like the camps of souls outside the townsite of eternity.

Matadors Upset By Cowboys

by Gary Welling
The Motley Matadors were upset by the Happy Cowboys by the score of 21 to 18, Friday night at Happy.

This was the second loss of the year in district action for the Matadors which dropped their record for the year to 2-3.

The 1st quarter was marked by fumbles and turnovers by both teams, with the Cowboys capitalizing on Motley mistakes, and turning them into points. The score at the end of the 1st quarter was Happy 7, Motley 0.

The second quarter was again marked by turnovers by both with Happy again scoring which made the score 14-0. The lead was short lived as the Matadors came back and scored two touchdowns, one on a 45-yard pass from quarterback Harold Dempsey to end Micky Hurt for the play which narrowed the score 14-6; and the other on a blocked punt with Motley half-back Joe Campbell taking the ball in, to trim the score 14-12 at halftime.

The third quarter was mainly one of defense with neither team really getting any serious scoring drive started, but both continuing to turn over the ball. The Matadors took the lead with cornerback Kenneth Finch recovering a fumble which gave the Matadors the lead for the first time of the game.

The fourth quarter proved fatal for the Matadors as they continued to give up the ball, and continually gave the Cowboys the right to score. The Cowboys scored once more and moved ahead for a victory at 21-18.

The Matadors host the Cowboys on Friday night at 7:30 p.m.

First Class Mail To Be Re-Serviced

The U. S. Postal Service first-class mail service improvement program will go into effect at Matador Post Office on October 11, Postmaster Charlie Scaff said today.

Under the program, first-class mail will receive service that is equal to or better than airmail.

The major, new service step will extend to all first-class mail weighing 13 ounces or less. "In practical terms, what this service improvement means is that domestic first-class mail postage now will purchase the level of service that previously only airmail could buy," said Postmaster Scaff.

Under the new program, there no longer will be an advantage in purchasing airmail postage for domestic delivery," he said.

Priority mail (now starting at weight in excess of 13 ounces), which includes air parcel service, and international airmail are unaffected by the improvement program and continue in their present form, the postmaster said.

"Airmail stamps will be sold for use on priority and international airmail. They can also be used in various combinations with other stamps for first-class mail," he said.

Customers can exchange airmail stamps, and stamped envelopes and cards at full postage value for ordinary stamps, stamped envelopes and cards. Stationery bearing airmail indicia will be allowed to be mailed at the first-class rate, Postmaster Scaff said.

To aid postal customers, maps showing the cities and areas targeted for next and second day delivery for mail from Matador will be on display in the post office lobby, the postmaster said.

White top collection boxes, now used exclusively for airmail, will be removed or converted to use for other purposes, the postmaster said.

Brochure On Birds Available At SCS

People who enjoy having birds around their homes will find a new Soil Conservation brochure, "Invite Birds to Your Home," a big help in planning and landscaping for birds.

The brochure, written by Olan W. Dillon, Jr., SCS biologist, tells the birdlover how to satisfy habitat needs of nesting and wintering birds with trees, shrubs, and food. It tells how a conservation landscape plan used in the selection of trees and shrubs will beautify your yard and attract the kinds of birds you like.

"A conservation landscape plan will guide you in placing bird-attracting features near a window, patio, or terrace so you can observe the many varieties of birds that accept your invitation," Michael Isbell, SCS district conservationist at Matador states.

Even birdlovers in dense residential areas can attract birds by providing water for drinking and bathing and living fences and other shrubs for cover. "A single plant, the elderberry, is used by 51 species of birds and will dress your yard nine months out of the year with its white flower clusters and red-black berries," Isbell said.

"Invite Birds to Your Home" will tell you the kind of food preferred by different kinds of birds, and how you can provide for them during food-short winter months.

Single copies of "Invite Birds to Your Home," Program Aid 1093, are available free at Soil Conservation Service offices. The booklet can also be purchased for 75 cents from the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402.

STUDIES ABOUT THE BIBLE

KINDNESS

Love, joy, peace, patience, KINDNESS. The Holy Spirit will direct a Christian to develop these characteristics. However, the Christian must be submissive to His teachings.

Kindness is doing things for people which help them in times of mental or physical stress. Also, doing the little deeds which indicate a spirit of friendliness. Kindness is a fruit of the Spirit. Every Christian MUST practice kindness, and every Christian must LOVE to practice kindness.

Brotherly kindness is one of seven qualities which Peter gives that will keep a Christian from falling away from God. He also states that these Christian attitudes have to do with gaining "entrance into the eternal kingdom."

...for in this way the entrance into the eternal kingdom of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ will be abundantly supplied to you.

2 Pet. 1:11 Kindness must be added to faith, for according to James, faith without works is dead. Faith is the beginning of a life for Christ - the beginning. You never win a race if you only begin. You must finish. Now let us hear James.

Even so faith, if it has no works, is dead, being by itself.

James 2:17

James had just been teaching about help for those in need of the material necessities of life. Simply wishing them God's blessings was not the kind of faith required. "...but faith working through love." Gal. 5:6 - is the faith God asks of us. There are several cases of "dead faith" mentioned in the Bible.

Former 4-H'ers Join Alumni 'Hall Of Fame'

CHICAGO—What do these well-known Americans have in common: Alan B. Shepard Jr., the nation's first astronaut; Roy Rogers, movie-dom's popular cowboy; and U.S. Sen. Howard H. Baker Jr. of Tennessee?

All three are former 4-H'ers who have received top honors during past years in the national 4-H alumni recognition program. The program is sponsored by Olin Corporation, Agricultural Division, with awards arranged and announced by the National 4-H Service Committee.

Selection criteria
The alumni honors go annually to former 4-H'ers who have been successful in civic, professional, business and public service activities and whose backgrounds in 4-H have contributed to their success. Awards are presented at national, state and county levels.

In 1975, eight outstanding national winners will receive 10-carat gold keys and expense-paid trips to the 54th National 4-H Congress, Nov. 30-Dec. 4 in Chicago. Four state alumni winners will be honored with plaques and four county winners will get recognition pins.

Nominations are in order
Candidates for alumni recognition may be nominated by volunteer 4-H leaders, 4-H members and clubs, parents, extension personnel, business representatives and other interested individuals or groups. Winners are selected by the Cooperative Extension Service, which conducts the 4-H youth program.

33 million Americans are 4-H alumni. The national 4-H alumni recognition program encourages their continued interest and involvement in 4-H and commends them as living examples of dependable, purposeful citizenship.

Since the inception of the alumni recognition program 23 years ago, 176 former 4-H'ers have received national awards. 2,875 have earned state awards and 38,505 county awards.

Additional information on the program and nomination forms are available from county extension agents.

Get the most "freeze" for your freezer!

There's probably no more stalwart household servant than your electric freezer—think of the variety of healthy, flavorful meals it's helped serve up to your family! Make sure you're getting the most "freeze" for your freezer by following Reddy's consumer tips.

Don't overload: Efficient freezing calls for adding no more unfrozen food at one time than 2 or 3 pounds per cubic foot of your freezer's capacity. This ensures unfrozen food will freeze within a healthy 24 hours and that your freezer isn't overworked.

Take advantage of sales: Avoid overstocking with commercially frozen food that's always available, use your freezer as your own bargain counter and store foods you can buy on sale. But do allow space for short-time baked goods, leftovers and special party foods.

Lock in flavor: Use moisture and vapor proof materials especially designed for freezers to wrap your foods. Tightly sealed, these lock in flavor and moisture and prevent "freezer burn" (surface drying) on foods. Don't use wax paper, bread paper or regular cellophane for freezer food.

Label packages: Date and identify freezer packages so (1) you don't accumulate a lot of mysterious shapes and (2) you'll be able to pick out foods that have been in the freezer longest.

TEXAS TALK

American farmers have long been making things better for fellow countrymen. As the bicentennial fever starts to build, it is appropriate to take a look at the contributions of our farmers. For instance, thirty-two of the fifty-six men signing the Declaration of Independence were farmers. Some of those same men later worked to frame the Constitution. As for the American Revolution, some historians are now giving a major share of the credit for American victory to the farmer. Not only as a fighter, but also as a critical food supplier. American fighting strategy never needed to be changed because of short food supplies. Conversely, the British were constantly having to make major changes in planning because of food shortages. Strategically, the food supply advantage created by the patriotic American farmer, was probably as important as any other single factor in the British defeat.
