Lions Magazine Feature Pays Tribute to Late Henry F. Pipkin

OUTSTANDING TRIBUTE to a charter member of the Matador Lions Club, the late Henry F. Pipkin, appeared in the January issue of "The Lion" magazine, official publication of the international civic organization.

Title of the feature is "Greatness Anonymous" by John L. Stickle, past Lions International President. Lion Pipkin died May 13, 1959. He had come here at the age of 17 and was a barber in Matador for 52 years. For 30 years of his life he served as Peace Justice of Precinct 1. He was past President of the Matador Lions Club. The tribute to the unselfish pioneer who gave away his possessions, is as follows:

TRAIL DUST

By DOUGLAS MEADOR

There is another world in the sky where space is extended and distance surrenders its ancient authority over man. Lights of a hundred cities are clustered on the lap of night and sparkle placidly back at the stars. Reality is given another dimension that transcends other splendors it may have known.

Night had come to the world two miles below but the sun was still shining on the great plane. The day had been extended to endorse beauty of a sunset hammered out of copper and gold on the horizon and adorned by a wandering convoy of purple clouds; the engines were singing softly at their work.

What this country needs is a brave husband who will organize a Shoppers Anonymous and make it fashionable for wives to become members.

Happiness is not an item to be found in the market place, but rather a precious stone, found on rough roads that bypass the citadels of splendor, envy and greed.

Tears wash away self-pity from the heart and false illusions from the eyes.

Some men apparently had sufficient vision to place sideboards on the wagons they hitched to stars.

Marriages are now assured by the tabulations of a computer. In a less enlightened day the service was provided by a mother-in-law.

A certain amount of ignorance is essential to a tranquil attitude.

Former Resident Of County Dies

Graveside rites and burial for Landy Charles Irvin, 76, were held Thursday in East Mound Cemetery.

Mr. Irvin, a former resident of Motley County, died Tuesday of last week at 7:30 p.m. at his home in the Plains community.

Funeral services were held at 9:30 a.m. Thursday at the Plains First Methodist Church. Officiating were the Rev. Walter Driver, pastor, assisted by the Rev. James L. Bostman, First Baptist Church pastor, and Johnnie Moore, minister of the First Christian Church.

Born in Seattle, Wash., Mr. Irvin moved to Plains from Cochran County. He had formerly lived at Roaring Springs, and was employed for a number of years by the late U. L. Willie. Survivors include his wife, Mary; one son, Richard of La Grange, Tex.; one daughter, Mrs. Stella Graves, Bay City; two grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

HENRY F. PIPKIN

"Something over ten years ago I sat in an auditorium in Amarillo, Texas, in company with the Lions of District 2-T1. We had been summoned there to honor a Lion—a great Lion, and a great man. Was it a Past President of Lions International? Was it the District Governor? Was it the President or Vice President of this great organization, some statesman, some outstanding scientist, some successful industrialist? He was a man I had never heard of—a barber from the town of Matador, Texas. Man after man rose to his feet and related some incident pertaining to this character... how he had held the club together when the local economy collapsed... how he cooked scores of meals himself... paid the delinquent dues of others... gave advice... helped the unfortunate... a couple of dollars here, five dollars there... serving all without thought of gain or reward... visiting the sick... helping the weak... fifty odd years of service to his community, humbly walking with his God and serving his fellow man. A man unknown outside his county, but the influence of the late Henry Pipkin goes on with irresistible force throughout eternity.

"There have been, and are, hundreds of thousands of Henry Pipkins in Lionism—Lions who quietly, effectively, unselfishly give their time and talents; to the projects that finance the club philanthropies; to assist those who appear to be forever frustrated in their attempts to improve themselves; to those men, women and children who seem to be eternally burdened by a relentless, pitiless fate; to those pathetic human beings handicapped physically or mentally or by lack of education or environment, doomed to misery and unhappiness. These are the (Continued on back page)

Richard Campbell In Area Program

Richard Campbell was a guest performer in a benefit program held recently in Lubbock to aid flood victims in Vietnam.

The benefit was held on Feb. 14 in the ballroom of the Student Union Building on the Texas Tech campus, by foreign exchange students, representing 15 countries.

Campbell's contribution to the program were two vocal numbers, "Dear Heart" and "Love is a Many Splendored Thing," with piano accompaniment by his sister, Mrs. Charles Cullin of Lubbock. Representing the United States, his performance was at the request of a student from Pakistan.

Mrs. R. E. Campbell Jr. accompanied her son and attended the program.

Wilson Gunn To Be Guest Speaker Here

The Channing Lions Club's Man of the Year will be guest speaker here Monday night, March 1, at regular monthly meeting of the American Legion Fleming Post and Auxiliary, it was announced this week by R. C. Giesecke, Post Commander.

He is W. W. (Wilson) Gunn, who is no stranger to Matador, since he grew to manhood here. The Legion is observing its 46th anniversary, and also a feature of the program will be a resume of the history of Fleming Post by J. Tom Hamilton, Post Historian. Special music will be by the Teen-Tones, Judy Gwinn, Janie Killingsworth and Patsy Hankins.

The program will follow the usual covered dish supper at 7 p.m.

Mr. Gunn is a veteran of World War I. He has been a member of the Lions Club for 25 years, and has served with the U. S. Department of Agriculture in various capacities for 30 years. He is presently the manager of the Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Service office in Channing, going there several years ago, from Spur.

MATADOR FFA WINS PLAQUE

Farm mechanics team of the Matador FFA, Saturday (Feb. 20) placed third in Plainview District competition and brought home a handsome plaque.

The team accompanied by sponsor and Vocational Agriculture teacher Bill Moss, enjoyed a chicken lunch provided by Lighthouse and Swisher County Electric cooperatives, who sponsored the contest.

The contest included actual electric wiring on a mock-up wall, plumbing, arc welding and identification of tools and supplies.

The winning team was composed of Tommie Green, John Barnhill, Luis Moore and Larry Elliott. Abernathy was first and Tullia second in the contest.

Commissioners Court will consider the matter at its next meeting, Monday, March 8th.

Matador Water Gets National Recognition

"Send your pregnant patient to Matador, Texas," is the advice given by the Upjohn Company of Kalamazoo, Michigan, one of the greatest pharmaceutical companies in the world. The advice has been sent to every physician in the country in a photographic-covered brochure.

"In Matador, Texas every expectant mother has drinking water available with an ideal fluoride content of 1.0 p.p.m." the brochure advises with the following comment:

"Wherever else your pregnant patient may live, give her the specific nutritional benefits of Adelfor Prenatal—assured fluoride intake plus iron, calcium, and essential vitamins. Prescribed from the fourth month in utero to birth, Adelfor Prenatal strengthens fetal tooth development and protects against subsequent decay.

Levels of fluoride vary, in both naturally and artificially fluoridated water supplies. The amount of water that patients drink may also vary and can thus often represent insufficient actual fluoride ion intake, even when the tap water is adequately fluoridated.

The colorful and interesting brochure was first brought to the attention of pharmacist Bob Stanley last fall. He wrote the Upjohn Company and received some extra copies.

Recently the Upjohn Company has published a map as large as a road map (in colors) with only one word on the entire sheet. The word is "Matador" with approximately the same advertising.

Records of the analysis of Matador water are of public record in Austin. It is assumed the Upjohn Company found the ideal analysis in the record and published the brochure from its findings.

Just recently the city of Fort Worth voted to have the city water fluoridated at great expense. Residents of Matador receive naturally fluoridated water at no extra expense. The content is ideal according to Upjohn.

FORMER RESIDENT VISITS

Mrs. Earl Darsey of Muleshoe has been visiting here the past week with her brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson McMahan, and the Robert Darseys.

Coffee Sale Given To Aid Heart Fund

FIVE firms in Matador have pledged their entire coffee sales Friday (February 26) to the Texas Heart Association, an affiliate of the American Heart Association. The announcement was made this week by Douglas E. Pitts, local chairman of fund collections.

The five places which will donate all money from coffee sales to the Heart Fund are: Leo's Truck Stop Cafe, Smith's Steak House, El Matador Cafe, Waybourn's Cafe and Bob Stanley Pharmacy.

A tradition in Matador has been that many customers will pay more than the usual price for a cup of coffee, with the "tip" also going into the fund drive.

This will be the only drive for funds for the Heart Association, and no house to house canvass will be made, Pitts declared.

President Lyndon B. Johnson has proclaimed February as Heart Fund Month, with the following message:

"My Fellow Americans: This month we join battle against the nation's number one killers, heart disease and stroke.

"We have far-reaching plans to combat these diseases, but to carry forward on these plans, now, more than we ever needed it before, we must have the help of the Heart Association.

"We need the experience of 35 thousand physicians, the crusader spirit of its 2 million volunteers and the expansion of vital research, education and community programs.

Your support of the Heart Fund this month will contribute to lengthening the lives of millions of your fellow Americans. So be generous, and if you do, you will be glad."

Plastic heart fund receivers are placed in convenient locations throughout the county, where Heart Fund contributions may be made.

Scouts To Rule City Saturday

City Government will be under the rule of Matador Boy Scouts Saturday, according to an announcement this week by Scoutmaster Douglas Pitts Jr.

Traffic and other law violators will be apprehended throughout the day, and fined for infractions. However, all-day tickets will be available for $1.

Proceeds of the day's fines will be used in purchasing a new engine for the Scout bus, Pitts stated. The bus has been out of commission since the old engine burned out.

Plans Are Set For Schools Week Here

Starting Monday, Matador public schools will observe Texas Public Schools Week. It was announced yesterday by Supt. Bert Ezzell. Matador Lions will meet in the school cafeteria Tuesday at 12:30, and members will visit the class rooms immediately after the luncheon, since it is the only opportunity for many to visit the schools.

Annual Amateur Hour will be held Tuesday evening, starting at 7:30, with students from all classes and departments of the school participating. A total of 25 acts has been selected to appear on the program.

Judge Reeves explained that the matter would receive the full consideration of the court, including the annual outlay of expense from local funds.

Scouts Quality For Advancement

Before a board of Review held on Wednesday night, Feb. 10, three members of Matador Boy Scout Troop 60 qualified for advancement.

They were Glen Moss and Mike Moore who qualified for 2nd Class Scouts, and Don Pitts, who qualified for Star Scout.

At a Troop Committee meeting held the same night at the Scout Hut, the Matador Troop was re-chartered for the coming year. Present were James Price, Institutional Representative, Lewis Bostick, Chairman of the Troop Committee and other members, Bill Jameson, Luther Green and Billy Wason, also Freddie Welling and Ott Hines Assistants and Douglas Pitts Jr. Scoutmaster.

TRACK BEGINS FOR MHS BOYS

A disappointing transgression because of the recent defeat is being made from basketball to track this week by the athletes of Matador High School. The basketball season is gone and now track is to be mastered. There are several good prospects out for track and a fine squad is expected to be assembled by Coach Kenneth Barr.

Several track meets will be attended by the team with the district meet looming as the important engagement to be conquered. Last year the Matadors failed to win district for the first time in a long stretch, but better things are expected out of this year's team, which will be young in experience but high in desire.

FISH A'FRYIN

The Freshman class had two absentee's all last week, Kathy Lawrence and Jessie Perkins. Kathy had tonsillitis and was home in bed. Jessie Perkins was in Lubbock because of illness in the family. Cille Beeson and Marcel Elliott were each absent a day while Sue Williams was absent half a day, all due to illnesses. The Freshman class has the lowest rate of attendance in High School.

NRA Film Seen by FFA'ers at Meet

Tuesday morning, February 16, the Matador Chapter of the FFA held their monthly meeting. President Ronnie Cox presided. During the business meeting it was learned that the recent magazine sale had netted order of business was plans for the annual FFA banquet. When the chapter was unable to agree on a particular plan it was decided to refer the matter to the Recreation Committee.

Following the transaction of the remaining business the boys were treated to a film on the National Shooting Match which is sanctioned by the National Rifle Association. The film featured the nation's top marksmen competing in a combination of rifle and pistol events at distances up to 600 yards.

Letter Jackets Arrive at MHS

"Jackets, jackets everywhere, and weather just like summer!" So ran the sentiments of 21 football boys and 19 basketball girls when they received their new letter jackets for the 1964-65 season February 18, a warm spring day.

Both boys and girls chose solid red this year, the boys' jackets having red leather sleeves and red, black, and white three-dimensional letters, and the girls' red knit sweater-jackets with the same type letter.

Football boys receiving letter jackets were managers James Jackson, and Sparky Meason; John Johnson, Ronnie Cox, Joey Meador, Luis Moore, Terry Keltz, Larry Bostick, Robin McNally, John Barnhill, Jesse Perkins, Mark Timmons, David Garrison, Dickie Garrison, Charles Meador, Max Barton, Larry Bynum, John Thomas, Dick Moss, Danny Davis, and Chip Smith. Douglas Pitts, Jr., who served as Athletic Committee Chairman of the Lions Club, received a jacket for his duties, as did Coach Barr. Coach Johnson ordered a blanket.

Basketball girls who are now wearing new jackets are Marva Duke, Glenda Sandefer, Sandra Sandefer, Ann Marshall, Billie Smith, Beverly Brandon, Jana Jones, Sharlene Berryman, Teresa Marshall, Janie Killingsworth, Karol King, Sharon Martin, Frances Martin, Linda Vinson, Joanie Barton, Shelley Stevens, Olivia Campbell, Kathy Lawrence, and Deborah Tilson. Coach Ezell received a jacket, whereas Mrs. Douglas Pitts Jr., who served the team as sponsor, chose a blanket rather than a jacket.

Although difficult, the senior members of the teams had to wait several days before receiving their red blankets. Basketball captain Ruthie Lynn and football captain Tim Green, Richard Campbell, Kenneth Pitts, and Tommie Green, along with team members Larry Keltz, Charles Ezell, and Gary Campbell found themselves patiently awaiting the arrival of their blankets.

FFA BOYS CONVERT COMBINE INTO PRACTICAL POWER UNIT

EDITORS NOTES: The following item was taken from the TEXAS FUTURE FARMER, January 1965 issue. It was submitted for publication by Mr. Bill Moss, MHS Vocational Agriculture teacher and FFA sponsor.

For several years the Matador FFA Chapter has been carrying livestock feed from the barn to the grinder to the mixer to the feeders and dreaming of a way to retire grain scoops and sacks in their chapter feeding projects. Mike Hoyle, a local implement dealer, gave them an old combine, and the dream became plans for a practical feed unit.

The Vocational Agriculture shop classes dismantled the combine, purchased a small grain roller, figured various possible power arrangements, pulley ratios, etc., and finally designed a portable feed unit that rolls a thousand pounds of grain in approximately ten minutes and unloads it directly into a feeder with the flip of a switch—at a total cost of less than $250. Grain is augered into the roller, from the roller into the

LOCAL MINISTERS ON FHA PROGRAM

Minister H. L. Dennis of the Church of Christ and Reverend James Hancock of the First Baptist Church spoke to the Future Homemakers on teenage problems at the High School auditorium, Tuesday, February 16. The speakers emphasized that the more a person yields to wrong, the harder it is to turn back; that growth is a necessary part of life that involves strains in relationships with parents and inferior feelings.

Basketball Brings Revival Of Spirit

The spirit of the Matador High School students usually lapses between football seasons. Pep rallies stop, and the halls no longer ring from yells.

This year the spirit was transferred from football to basketball. The students gathered before, between, and after classes to yell encouragement to the basketball boys and girls. The boards were decorated with peppy lines—and there was a pep rally!

BEGINNERS SPOTLIGHT by Karen Elliott

Ronda Gail Williams, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank "Pete" Williams, was born December 28, 1957 in Matador, Texas. Ronda has one brother, Rodney. Ronda's father is owner and manager of the Texaco Service Station.

Ronda, a quiet demure girl plans to be a teacher. "I am going to teach the first grade," Ronda says.

When asked what she likes best about school, Ronda said, "the teacher."

Three SECOND grade students, Dan Meador, Ricky Green, and Jackie Smith, have been absent with Chickenpox.

The second grade students presented an assembly praying for four incidents in the life of Lincoln. To conclude the program four students, Charles Giesecke, Steve Stevens, Frank Welling and Dan Meador played the piano. Steve Stevens read the "Gettysburg Address" and Lisa Smallwood also gave a reading.

Mrs. Hamilton is reading the life of George Washington to the THIRD grade to supplement their study of General Washington.

Charles Martin and John Nimmo are absent with Chickenpox.

The FOURTH grade class have seen films on India as they are studying India in Geography.

Rosemary Fullingim and Gina Killingsworth have decorated the bulletin boards in their classrooms with pictures of George Washington.

Dorothy and Jack Williams are out of school with the flu. Joe Don Smith went to Wichita Falls last week for a cattle judging contest.

Friday, February 12, the FIFTH grade had their valentine party. Hostesses for the party were Mrs. Bruce Marrs, Mrs. Leon Turner, and Mrs. Bill Smallwood.

The SEVENTH grade presented an assembly program February 17. Those in the play were Ronnie Welling, Robin Smauley, Brenda Wason, Gail Lynn, Patty Edwards, Stanley Martin and Jeff Berryman.

DADDY DATE NIGHT

Daddy Date Nite, the first of several FFA family-socials, will be held tonight, February 25, at 7:30.

Pat Day, second Vice President, will be in charge of the program.

TEACHERS HOLD MEETING

After school February 2, the high school and grade school teachers held a teachers' meeting. Discussed at this meeting were Public School Week and the annual Amateur Hour.

CAST TO PRESENT PLAY BY O'NEIL

February 15, voices exclaiming "Ice, ice, nothing but ice!" rang through the auditorium at MHS. Students were trying out for the one-act play, "Ice" by Eugene O'Neil. Contestants, judged by MHS teachers, were required to read lines spoken by the character they wished to portray, and were judged on voice, case, and expression. The casting is not yet completed but the selected cast has begun practice under direction of Mrs. Reece Timmons. The cast will present the play before the student body and then enter it in Interscholastic League competition.

Seniors Report on Literary Tragedies

by Stella Martin (delayed)

The seniors have been studying tragic elements in several plays from several different cultures. The class has worked as groups or individuals to explore the plays and present them as reports to the class.

A group composed of Tim Green, Scottie Robbins, Tommie Green, and Ruthie Lynn presented an interesting discussion on Greek tragedy. They read plays by Aesculus, Sophocles, and Euripides. In their reports they compared Greek and English tragedy.

A second group reported on English tragedy as seen in "The Tragic Life of Doctor Faustus." They compared the writings of Marlowe, the author, to those of Shakespeare, about whom the class has been studying. This group included Patsy Hankins, Butch Waybourn, and Stella Martin.

Several individuals also gave reports concerning tragedies on English mortality plays and used "Everyman" as her subject. Kenneth Pitts developed the American tragedy in "Death of the Salesman" by Miller. The French version of tragedy was presented by Tim Sturdivant as he discussed "Pere Goriot." Scandinavian tragedy was explored by Nancy Bond. She read "The Wild Duck" by Henrik Ibsen.

Lynda Elliott gave an interesting report on "The Origin of Language", a book which will be referred to as the class progresses in their study of vocabulary.

Rebounding Is Key To Good Defense

by Tim Green

An almost unsung necessity for any good basketball team is rebounding strength, and surely this has been a main reason for the Matador Matadors' record.

Rebounding is the key to good defense, simply because the less shots the opposition is allowed the less amount of points they will score. A man who is "rough on the boards" can be an invaluable asset for any team in basketball.

Richard Campbell and 5'-11" Charles Ezell are the leading rebounders for the Matadors this season. Ezell claims top honors with 169 rebounds in 18 games for a 9.4 average. Campbell is runner-up with 155 rebounds in 18 games for a 8.6 average. Tim Green has hauled down 94 rebounds for a 5.2 average, Gary Campbell has 71 for a 3.9 average, and Tom Green 60 for a 3.5 average.

Any fan should take notice of fine rebounding, since it usually runs proportionally to the score of the game. This will enable any critic to understand and enjoy basketball more.

Drought Conditions Point Need To Save Precious Soils From Erosion

From Motley County Soil Conservation Service

As drought conditions persist native rangelands become short, supplemental forage becomes expensive, cropland profits lag and strong winds carry away our valuable top soil. Under conditions such as these local farmers and ranchers should begin looking toward better range and cropland management.

The erosion of our soil should concern those living in city or urban areas as well as our local farmers and ranchers. Every day over one million tons of soil is carried out the mouth of the Mississippi River alone. Our recreational lakes and reservoirs are gradually filling up with precious soil from cropland and rangeland. Tremendous dust storms build up from unprotected soils and cause rural as well as urban dwellers additional cleaning chores and doctor bills. Each time soil is eroded from our fields or rangelands our entire economy is reduced for with smaller farm profits one can also expect a reduction in all other types of profit.

Some cropland soils found in Motley County should be converted to other uses due to their naturally low fertility holding capacity, low water holding capacity, erodeability and low yielding characteristic. Any cropland in class V or VI, which is usually a deep, coarse textured dryland soil, could be converted to pasture or hayland by establishing some kind of perennial grasses. This practice has proven successful in several instances here in Motley County.

A good seedbed of some dead litter cover crop is a must for all plantings from seed. This cover may be accomplished by sowing some annual forage sorghum or sudan at about 16 pounds per acre in the year preceding the grass planting. The cover crop should be managed so as to leave a stubble of 6 to 10 inches and so that the seed crop is not allowed to mature. The grasses to be planted should be drilled at about a 1.41 inch depth sometime between February 1 and March 15. A dead litter cover crop is not necessary when seeding old soil bank land or other land on which there is sufficient dead litter to allow protection for the young grass seedlings.

Followup management on the reseeded cropland is of utmost importance. During the first year grazing should be excluded until the plants become dormant, and should be regulated so as to leave sufficient stubble each year thereafter. This will insure a vigorous plant and yields limited only by rainfall.

Even with the limited amount of rainfall in Motley County last year some cropland which was seeded to native grasses produced as much as 4000 pounds of forage per acre. Under better moisture conditions it could have been expected to produce 6000 to 10,000 pounds of forage per acre.

The seeding of "worn-out cropland" to native grasses is only one way of combating our ever present drought cycles and adverse weather conditions. The local Soil Conservation Service is anxious to discuss any phase of cropland or range management with farmers and ranchers.

COUNTY AGENT PALLMEYER SAYS:

Now is the time to fight rats, as with cold weather, rats move from outdoors into houses and other buildings in search of food and shelter. If you see one rat, be sure there are others. In addition to destroying feed and grain, rats carry more than 35 known diseases to man and animals. They also gnaw on anything that comes between them and their food supply—grain bags, paper cartons, and wooden containers—and start fire by damaging insulation.

To get rid of them, remove their shelter, starve them out, and rat-proof buildings. Use concrete, galvanized sheet metal, brick, hardware cloth or aluminum. Build foundations and basement floors and walls with concrete. Store grain and other feed on pallets in rat-proof rooms.

Poisoning is the most effective way to kill rats. Use a good bait, put it in a proper place and service the bait station regularly. Always keep poisoned bait away from children and animals. Most practical chemicals are anticoagulants which include products such as fumarin, pival and warfarin. These chemicals are usually mixed with grains and can be purchased ready-mixed. It is important that plenty of bait be available at all times during a baiting period of 10-14 days. Remember, 50 rats eat as much grain as one cow annually; one rat can eat 2.3rds as much mash as a hen, but they waste and contaminate many times more food than they eat.

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring their annual Farm & Ranch Management Tour Mar. 1-6. This year's tour will include Southern California and Arizona, and include irrigation, cotton, grain sorghum, vegetable, sugarcane and small grain production. Those interested in this tour should write West Texas Chamber of Commerce, Box 1561, Abilene, Tex.

If head smut has been your problem with grain sorghums, RS 625; RS 626; and RS 671 may be the answer to your problem. These varieties are head smut resistant. 625 and 626 are similar to 608 and 610, while 671 is similar to Texas 660, which matures later, and should only be grown under irrigation.

Sorghum grown from clear seed planted on infested soil may be attacked by smut fungus since it is carried in the soil. Planting treated seed eliminates spread of the disease on seed, therefore it is the soil-borne spores which are able to remain viable in the soil for many years, and cause later infestations.

I know that there are complaints by the people that I am hard to catch in the office, so starting in Feb. I plan to stay in the office on Mondays, keeping farm and home visits to the bare minimum on these days. I know that you are disappointed, especially after making a long drive and find that I am not around, but many of the times, I am out with someone who came after me or had scheduled some work at this time. Let's give it a trial and see how it works. I know at times I will be called out of the county on Mondays, but if I know in time, I will make this notification in this column the week before.

If you irrigate your cotton, do you average over 1 1/2 bales/acre on the watered part? If not, there is something wrong with your methods, providing insects are controlled and you don't have a hail loss. Several years ago, Bob Thurmond, Extension Irrigation Specialist was at a meeting at Roaring Springs and said that the trouble with most farmers who were irrigating, was that they were not irrigating, but only keeping the ground cool.

Time of waterings, amount of water applied per watering, time between waterings, and quality of water are very important in producing good yields. Soil type plays a major part in determining time between waterings and the amount to apply at a time.

Past results by farmers on the plains have shown that more cotton can be produced on a farm if the amount that can be irrigated properly is so watered, and the rest of the cotton acreage only watered when you gain time through natural rainfall received, rather than try to water the entire acreage.

If you are not satisfied with your yields, and have noticed that the plant throws off heavily after waterings, why not stop by and see if we can't work out a schedule that may allow you to increase your total production. Contact Lynn McDaniel, SCS, or myself.

Lions who recognize their trusteeship to the mutual Father of all mankind, who enjoy a keen awareness not only of their manifold blessings, but of the obligations they have to share their advantages with the weak, the poor, and the handicapped. The principle of stewardship in life is common to all of the great religions, but peculiarly so to those who daily face the insistent, persistent question "And who is my brother?"

"Down through the years I have marvelled at, and thrilled to, the sacrificial generosity of the average Lion, physically, mentally, spiritually, financially and morally. In every country in Lionism, regardless of nationality or creed, the pattern is the same. As a matter of fact, so obsessed did I become with the work they were doing in every land, I determined to recognize their devotion and success in some way or other during my term as International President. Because there were thousands this could only be done in a manner involving spiritual significance. Consequently, I chose as a recipient of the Presidential Award, a Lion of my acquaintance who had never served as President of his club, nor as a District officer, but who, over a period of many years, had given unflinching and joyously of himself and his substance, faithfully and continuously without hope of gain or recognition, satisfied to do his duty—yes, more than his duty—content
