State Comptroller Delivers Monthly Sales Tax Rebates

(AUSTIN) — State Comptroller John Sharp today delivered a total of $212.5 million in February sales tax rebates to 1,071 Texas cities and 109 counties, a 17.3 percent increase over their payments of one year ago.

"The state of Texas has experienced year-over-year employment growth every month since January 1992. The Austin, San Antonio and El Paso metro areas showed encouraging improvements over the past year and promising business prospects for the future," sharp said.

Texas cities received $192.1 million, up 17.5 percent over the $163.4 million they received last February. Counties received a total of $20.3 million for their February rebates, a 15.3 percent increase over the February 1992 rebates of $17.6 million.

This month's payments include taxes collected on December's Christmas sales and reported in January by businesses filing monthly returns. February's rebates also reflect taxes reported by businesses filing quarterly returns for sales made in October, November, and December.

Totals for Motley County are as follows:

Matador: current rate, 1.00%; net payment this period, $3,582.31; comparable payment prior year, $3,592.87; % change, -0.29%; 1993 payments to date, $4,746.00; 1992 payments to date, $4,748.37; % change, -0.05%

Roaring Springs: current rate, 1.00%; net payment this period, $4,660.42; comparable payment prior year, $2,332.48; % change, 99.81%; 1993 payments to date, $5,436.99; 1992 payments to date, $2,332.48; % change, 133.10%

County Total: net payment this period, $8,242.73; comparable payment prior year, $5,925.35; % change, 39.11%; 1993 payments to date, $10,182.99; 1992 payments to date, $7,080.85; % change, 43.81%

From Little Boxes A Town Grows

FROM BOXES TO A TOWN — Joy Archer and Lorene Lancaster are pictured here hard at work on the little buildings they are creating which are replicas of the town of Matador many years ago.

by Marisue Potts

What began as a project to build a few tiny houses for a museum display has grown into a major preoccupation for Joy Archer and Lorene Lancaster.

Combining a talent for art and a resourcefulness born of necessity, the two members of the County Arts and Crafts Club have recreated the courthouse square of the frontier town of Matador.

Using scraps of wood, milk carton boxes, cardboard, glue, and paint, the ladies devised models of many of the businesses here during the turn of the century. Extensive research has provided details gleaned from interviews with old timers, historic photographs, and old newspaper clippings.

The crown jewel of the collection is the limestone courthouse adorned with shiny gold cupola. Steady hands have etched the stones, formed the arches, and created the shingles of the building which served the country from 1904 until its destruction by fire in 1940.

Each building tells its own story. The rock jail, complete with its own outhouse, presides over prisoners as well as the local water supply, a windmill and a drinking trough. On the west side of the square, bordered by a crisp white picket fence, is the handsome Southern Hotel where members of the "outlaw" sheriff's gang were rounded up while chowing down at the boarding house table.

A post office, saddle and harness shop, Spot Cash Grocery, and cement block bank anchor on the west of the square, while on the corner to the south one finds a general store and the wagon yard, where wagons, with sometimes as many as twenty trailed together, freighted and supplies for the burgeoning community.

The stable wall is festooned with drying rattlesnake skins, harking back to a time when county-paid bounties on "varmits" provided staples for nearly "starved-out" families.

Balancing the frivolity and evil of the Dew Drop Saloon is a model of a white frame church, the composite of several demoniations whose steeples proudly proclaimed their faith.

Among the 25 replicas one finds a coal and feed store; the old Kanzler Hotel which also served as school, masonic lodge, and temporary courthouse; a millinery shop; a blacksmith shop; a dry goods; a tiny boot shop; a train depot; and numerous outhouses.

In the coming months these two volunteers and others will be working on the layout of their frontier town, creating a diorama for the Motley County Museum that will go beyond oral and written history. This small dusty cowtown will come alive through the artistry of their fingertips.

HISTORY OF MATADOR

by Grace Wood (Shelton)

NOTE: Grace Wood, later Mrs. Cecil Shelton, wrote this theme tracing the history of the town from 1891 to the twenties, using written and oral sources including early day pioneers Mrs. A.M. Bourland, Mr. T.T. Jameson, and Mrs. D.P. Keith.

The first two settlements made in Motley County were in the southwestern and northeastern parts of the county. The one in the northeastern part was the more important in the early days.

There were only six families there, Mr. A.B. Cooper, Mr. T.J. Jeffres, Mr. J.E. Pritchard, and Mr. S.N. Armstrong.

The settlement in the southwestern part did not amount to much until the founding of Matador. There were only two families in this settlement, Mr. H.H. Campbell and Mr. R.L. Davis.

Mr. Harry Campbell, son of Mr. H.H. Campbell, was the first boy born in Motley County and Miss Nora Cooper, the first girl.

Motley County was organized in 1891. The first county clerk was Mr. Walton, the first judge (commissioner) was Mr. A.B. Cooper, and the first sheriff Mr. Joe Burkett (Beckham).

There were no railroads within forty miles of Matador and people freighted from Quanah and Childress. They would make two trips a year in the fall and in the spring and get enough supplies to last during this time.

They carried mail in the hack from Childress, having two changes of mules, one at Turtlehole Camp and one at Tell. Mr. T.N. Cammack carried the first mail.

Mr. Hearse raised the first cotton in the county in 1893 on the farm where Mr. Welby Carpenter now lives. After this the cotton industry began to grow. They had to take their cotton to Childress to be ginned.

In 1902 the Railroad came to Paducah. Mr. A.M. Bourland then carried mail from Matador to Paducah.

The first stores were wooden buildings. The present lumber yard occupies the site of the old courthouse. The dry goods store was where the State Bank now stands, the drug store where the Light Hotel is, and an old livery stable where the jail is located at present.

The sidewalks were of plank. There were only two dwelling houses here then. Mr. Pat Cornet lived in one and Mr. Carpenter in the other. They were just small two room houses.

There were only three hundred voters in the first election ever held in Matador. Mr. H.H. Campbell was elected judge and Mr. Black, sheriff. After they voted whiskey out of Matador, the town began to grow rapidly. Mr. I.F. Fish built the first large house in Matador, which is his present residence (note: now the home of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Green).

In 1906 the new courthouse was built, it was made of stone. In 1907 the jail was built, this also was a stone building. In 1912 Matador was still very small, there being only five hundred and twenty-three people here. The first brick building was the ward school, erected in 1912 which is still in use.

There were only a few business places at this time. They were built of lumber and sheet iron.

In 1913 a railroad was brought into Roaring Springs, a small town nine miles south of Matador. Then the most prominent business men moved to Roaring Springs. About this time Moore Brothers Grocery Store, Bates Dry Goods, Campbells Millinery, and the Racket Store burned. The fire and the drought retarded the growth of Matador at this time to a great extent.

In 1914 the railroad was brought to

Former Motley County Resident Is Shot At Houston Project

A 79-year-old Estelline woman, Hazel Leary, a former Motley County resident, underwent surgery Friday in Ben Taub Hospital, Houston, after being shot in the head by a man who jumped into her vehicle Monday, February 15, in broad daylight as she pulled away from a gas station in Huntsville. Her condition was described as "stable."

Mrs. Leary, en route to Houston to visit relatives, spent Sunday night in Huntsville, had filled her car with gas at 11:30 a.m. Monday and was driving away when she noticed a white man sitting on a nearby bench.

He ran for her car, opened the door, jumped in and began making death threats. He placed a gun at her ribs and kept on threatening. She drove at gunpoint into a housing project in Houston before being shot.

Her daughter-in-law, Wanda Leary of Childress, said Mrs. Leary begged for her life, telling the assailant that she had children and grandchildren she wanted to see.

Before leaving Huntsville, she called her sister in Houston to let her know she was enroute and would be there at a certain time.

After Mrs. Leary did not reach her destination, her son, Eddie Leary of Childress, and the sister, Mrs. Al Robertson, filed a missing persons report with police.

His mother was found some four hours after the man fired a shot and left her for dead. When he fired the shot, which entered behind her right ear, he grabbed her purse and ran. Her head fell against the horn. The horn continued to blow and someone finally noticed.

It is not known at this time if he took her jewelry.

News reached the Learys in Childress about 4:30 p.m. Monday.

Reports received on Monday that Mrs. Leary is doing fine and will recuperate with family in Houston. The bullet removed from Mrs. Leary was a .38.

Black History Month

Reminiscing

by Rita N. Groves

The Tribune articles of February 1992 celebrating Black History Month, a very precious part of our heritage, were heart-warming and brought back good memories. Friends came to mind who may not have been mentioned.

At my "advanced" age names sometimes escape me, but many of these special friends have contributed to the fullness of my life and my store of memories.

My first Black friends were Jim and Lola Smith. They lived in a little house on the farm at Roaring Springs, maybe as far back as 1925. The Smiths were going to help with the large cotton crops we never made. Clifton and Virginia were babies at that time. When their father Jim was away, Lola threatened the kids with a spanking if they bothered any of his things. The spanking was administered with an old silk stocking.

Jim's birthday was the same day as my father's, so for years I tried to make a cake for his birthday too. I believe Witt was their youngest child. He is still visible around Matador, always willing to help and always ready with a smile and those he loves, which is just about all of us.

A sad memory is of the time Lola walked to Roaring Springs to get help when Clifton, who was by then older, was accused of stealing a pig. Lola felt sure that my mother could do something to keep Clifton from having to go to "the pen". Mother was as helpless as Lola in a case like that, but she sat down and cired with her.

My job as a caseworker during the days of the Texas Relief Commission opened many doors for me. At one time 1300 case records were on file, and I knew almost everyone in the county.

Fletcher and Luella Pitts were very dear. They always had a warm welcome, and wanted to share anything that might be bubbling on the cook stove if it was near lunch time. Kitchens seemed to be the warming room in many homes.

The Jimmie Harris home was another where every visit was a pleasure, and any help a blessing.

Friends

by Mary Meason

Since February has been designated as Black History month, I feel that tribute must be paid to some of my black friends.

In the mid and late twenties, Lorene, Sam, Jessie and Beveland Price moved into our servant's house and started a period of several years working for my parents. Lorene took care of the house, Jessie helped take care of my grandfather, who was living with us at that time.

He cared more for Jessie than any of the family I always thought. His nickname for her was "Jess Hen Skin". Jessie was more or less assigned to the care of Grandpa. She made his bed, kept his room, read to him and would bring him back when he ran off. He told me one time that I could not make up a bed like Jess Hen Skin could.

One day mother started to the kitchen and she heard Beveland talking and

Barbara's Bylines

Seems as if when Track Season starts the sand storms start, I guess they just naturally go together.

I want to say I'm sorry if the story in my Bylines last week offended anyone. (I heard it did).

One of our readers brought an article in to our office this week that has been distributed as House Bill 20. It would really offend you - it did me. It said they are trying to pass a bill to teach K-12 explicit sex education. Turns out is not a proposed bill, now, but could be introduced as one. It is information put out by a group called SIECUS (Sex Information & Education Council of the United States), a private organization funded in part by the Playboy Foundation.

Even though this is a phantom bill, people still don't need to let their guard down, some states have passed sex education bills already.

Teel Bivins, Senator from Amarillo, stated in an article in the Amarillo Daily News, Thursday February 18, 1993:

"For the record, I oppose the state telling public schools they must teach sex education. That's a decision that should be left up to the local schools. Let the parents, teachers and administrators decide what's needed - not the Legislature. What's needed or proper in Dallas and Houston isn't necessarily fitting for West Texas."

Keep writing and calling your representatives and let them know how you feel.

El Progresso Celebrates Valentines Day

El Progresso Club met Thursday Feb. 11, 1993 for their annual guest day serving stuffed baked potatoes. The potatoes were large, beautifully baked and the many, many toppings were "fit for a king." Desserts were varied but all had cherries so everything was fitting for St. Valentine. The tables were festively decorated by Mrs. E.A. (Dorothy) Day and Mrs. Dale (JoEita) Bumgardner with hearts; hearts, hearts! Centering one main table was a large bouquet of red silk roses while on the food table was a "heart" tree, white branches and glass hearts. Door prizes were given five times during the afternoon and Bingo was played for many "white elephant" gifts. The Senior Citizens building was certainly the place to have such an afternoon's day of eating and enjoyment.

The business meeting preceded the meal as did the program brought by Mrs. Harold (Grace) Campbell. Mrs. Bumgardner, club president, welcomed the group. Mrs. Frank (Lola) Pohl played the Cassio while the members and guests sang the Clubwoman's song. Announcement was made of the District convention to be held in Burkburnett on March 28. Mrs. Campbell's program was about "Chickens" and proved most interesting. Some had fond memories while others had 'not-so-fond' memories while small children, some having to clean out the hen-house while others had to put fresh straw in the nests. She began her 'chicken story' relating that it is believed chickens come from a wild fowl that lives in the jungles of southeast Asia. Man began taming and raising these wild jungle chickens 3,005 years ago. Spanish explorers brought the first chickens to North and South America in the 1500's. The spread of the chicken population spread with the early settlers who came to this country from Europe. Scientific care and feeding have increased the number of eggs chick-enslay. In 1940, the average hen in the U.S. laid about 100 eggs per year. By the mid-1950's yearly egg production had risen to more than 150 eggs a hen. She also gave a report on the West Texas Division on Cal-Maine, the largest producer of eggs in the U.S.

Those attending were guests, Lavema Price, Una Simpson, Irene Welling, Kathryn Russell, Louise Barton, and Frances Hinkey. Members other than previously mentioned were Mrs. Joe (Loys) Campbell, Mrs. Douglas (Lila) Meador, Mrs. Frasier (Dorothy) Watson, Mrs. Harry (Pearl) Patten, Mrs. J.E. (Marge) Edwards, Mrs. W.N. (Opal) Pipkin, Mrs. Ted (Bailey) Elliott, Mrs. Robert (JoAnn) Dickson, Mrs. Furman (Beverly) Vinson, Mrs. Robert (Winifred) Darsey, Mrs. R.E. (Lucretia) Campbell and Mrs. R.C. (Callie) Giesecke.

Eternas Study Club Members Make Plans For Upcoming Events

by Terree Donaldson

On Tuesday, February 16, Beverly Thomas Logsdon presented an informative program to the club on "Anger". Club members learned more about anger and the different types. We also learned how to deal with and express the anger we feel in different situations. Thank you Beverly, for sharing your time to present such an interesting program.

After the program, Wilda called the meeting to order. The door prize was provided by Cassie Francis and won by Terree Donaldson.

The club discussed the Mother-Daughter Banquet, with members sharing ideas on the various phases of the Banquet. We are all working hard on the Banquet and hope to provide everyone with a fulfilled night of surprises. Make plans to attend on March 16 at 7:00 p.m. in the school gym.

Discussion was directed to a Spring fund raiser. Several ideas were brought up with one in particular that members favored. More on the fund-raiser at a later date. Spring convention is March 27 in Lubbock. Anyone wishing to attend please contact Wilda at the Library. With no further business at hand, the meeting was adjourned.

Girl Scouts Hosts Valentine's Dinner

The Girl Scouts of America Blue Bonnet Brownies troop 434 held a Valentines dinner for their families on Monday, February 15th. The evening was a great success and all enjoyed a spaghetti supper prepared and served by the girls in troop 434.

All the girls and the leaders would like to take an opportunity to thank parents and families for their support and attendance. In addition we would like to thank Pay and Save Market for the generous donation of supplies for our supper and to Matador Variety for a wonderful assortment of decorations and door prizes. Also, a special thanks to Billy Donaldson for the evening entertainment and as usual, the Senior Citizen's Committee for the use of the building.

We would also like to thank the many supporters of our annual Girl Scout Cookie sale which has been an overwhelming success. The cookies from the first order will be in and delivered this week.

The Girl Scouts organization provides our young ladies with an opportunity for fellowship with their peers under the guidelines of the Girl Scout Council of America. Our Brownie Promise says: On my honor I will try to serve God and my Country, to help people at all times and to live by the Girl Scout Law.

Troop 434 Blue Bonnet Brownies meet on Monday evenings at 6:00 p.m. in the Senior Citizen's Building in Matador. Any young lady between the ages of 7 and 9 who is interested in joining our troop should contact Ann Thacker at 348-7560 or Debbie Seigler at 347-2297. We are happy to assist with transportation whenever possible. We would also be happy to assist girls of any age who are interested in Girl Scouts with proper troop placement.

THE TRUTH BEHIND COMMON ENERGY MYTHS

Myth #1 - If you run your ceiling fans constantly during the summer, you can reduce the need for air conditioning and save money. THE TRUTH: Like lights, ceiling fans should only be used in rooms when occupied. Fans circulate the air and create a breeze, which makes the temperature feel cooler. Without occupants, there is no one to "sense" the lower temperature. Running the ceiling fan when a room is occupied allows the thermostat to be raised up to six degrees, significantly reducing costs. However, fans that are kept on constantly will actually increase energy consumption. Also, running an electric-motor powered device unattended is a fire hazard.

Myth #2 - Using an electric turbine ventilator in your attic is an effective way to reduce electricity costs during the summer. THE TRUTH: Although these systems do remove excess heat from the attic on hot days, they are not a cost-effective investment. Not only are power ventilators expensive to install, the cost of operating one generally exceeds the money saved from reduced air conditioning use. Convective heat - that which is transferred when cool molecules come in contact with a warm surface - is not the primary source of heat coming from the attic. Rather, the majority of ceiling heat gain is from radiant heat transferred directly from the roof of the attic to the insulation surface. Circulating air does not alleviate this problem. Preventing the sun from penetrating the attic is much more effective. You can block radiant heat from the insulation by installing a radiant barrier below the rafters.

Myth #3 - Leaving the refrigerator door open for more than just a few seconds wastes energy. THE TRUTH: Actually, cold air rushes out as soon as the refrigerator door is opened; so whether it is kept open for 15 seconds or 30 seconds makes little difference. Instead of worrying about keeping the door open for too long, try to limit the number of times you must open it. Of course, never leave the refrigerator open for long periods of time.

For more information about these or other energy-related topics, call the Texas Energy Hotline at 1-800-643-SAVE.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service are for people of all ages regardless of socio-economic level, race, color, sex, religion, handicap, or national origin.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY: Spite is never lonely - envy always tags along.

by Wilda Dixon

Adult Basic Education and GED preparation classes are being offered at the Motley County Library each Monday evening at 7:00 p.m. If you or anyone you know needs these classes, please contact the Library for more information. The classes are completely free of charge with the paper and pencils furnished.

Due to Spring Break, the next Library School will be held on March 16, 1993 at 10:00 a.m. at the Library. All pre-schoolers, ages 2-5 are encouraged to attend and parents are always welcome. There will also be a session of Library School held on March 30, 1993.

On Tuesday, February 23, the following children were present: Stacy Perryman, Brooke Sansom, Cagen Denison, Annie Hurt, Cade Luckett, Kelsi Stokes, Zane Graves, Katie Hinton, Chance Bingham and Shelby Stokes. The ladies that helped Donna Stokes were Winifred Lee, Kendra Luckett, Judy Crowley, Sarah Hurt, and Sharon Hinton.

The Library is in need of good, reliable volunteers to work on Monday afternoons, Saturday afternoons, and anytime during the week. We need people to check in books, shelve books, file cards in the card catalog, use the computer to catalog books and then to accession books and get them ready to be put into circulation. The only requirements that the volunteers know their alphabet, because everything else can be very easily learned with that basic knowledge. Even if all you can donate is one hour per week, come by and see what can be accomplished. If you have more time to donate, it will be greatly appreciated and will help the library to get new books on the shelf quicker. So please find time to help your library improve the services offered.

From Boxes To Town

Matador. This gave a new life to the town. Several of the old buildings were torn down and brick ones erected in their places. The First National Bank was built in the same year. Old sidewalks were torn down and cement walks were constructed.

In 1916 the City Bakery was built, and the Magnolia Petroleum Oil Company was established in Matador.

In 1917 the men and boys of age had to go to war. Many people were greatly discouraged, especially the business men, during these hard times.

In 1919 the town again began to grow rapidly. The A.G. McAdams Lumber Company and the West Texas Gin Company were established.

Mr. Morriss put in a garage and a filling station. The first theatre was also erected at this time. In 1921 the Ford Garage was built, which was a help to Matador.

In 1921 Mr. Homer Sheats erected a large brick building in which he put a hardware and the Western Dry Goods. About this time the old First State Bank was torn down and a beautiful brick building took its place. This also serves as a Post Office and offices for professional men. It was during this year that the light plant burned and left the town without lights. In 1925, however, an ice plant and lightplant combined were built. This light plant was built on a larger scale than the first one.

In 1925 the population had greatly increased and the town was developing rapidly. It was in this year that our High School building was erected. This building is a very beautiful one, modern in every respect. The value of this building to Matador for this one year has proved to be inestimable. A Buick Garage was also built at this time.

In 1926 the Masonic Hall burned and a new one of brick is now being erected. The Methodists at the present have under construction a brick church of which Matador can boast.

There are numerous beautiful dwelling houses going up and there are good prospects for many more in the near future.

The population of Matador today is eighteen hundred, an increase of five hundred over 1925. The steady growth of the population is accompanied by progressive building plans.

Dear Editor:

I am completely against homosexuals being allowed into the military service.

1. Put the military at risk to possible AIDS epidemic.
2. What will be the rights of the objecting soldier? Do normal soldiers have rights too? Will he or she be discharged for discriminating against a fellow soldier? Will he or she be accused of a "hate crime"? Will he or she be required to take "sensitivity" courses to "understand" the homosexual or the lesbian soldier.
3. Homosexuals are an abrasion to the masculinity of the "straight" soldier, and for the femality of the women.
4. The objecting soldier, to whom will he turn, if the Commanding Officer and other Officers over him are homosexual? The "straight" will be the one put on report.

Motley County Students Attend UIL Practice Meet

On February 13, 1993 several members of the MC UIL Academic team travelled to Lubbock-Cooper High School for a practice meet. Practice meets are designed to help students by better preparing them to compete at the District UIL meet in April.

Those attending this meet were Sheryl Davis, Dustin Davis, DaVona Atkinson, Jeremy Smith, Johnathan Ephraim, Daniel Alexander, Christy Potts, Danny Sailsbury, Joe Martin, Brandy Blanch, and Whitney Jameson. These students competed in contests such as Literary Criticism, Accounting, Calculator Applications, Computer Science, Spelling and Poetry Interpretation. ## Billy Lefevre To Appear In Clarendon Comedy Play

CLARENDON -- A night of adult comedy is on tap at Clarendon College as the drama department presents "Laundry and Bourbon" and "Lone Star". These two productions are the work of Texas playwright James McLure. They depict the experiences of living in rural Texas through hilarious humor.

Roaring Springs native Billy Lefevre will play Cletis in "Lone Star": which is an exhilarating portrayal of the "good ole Texas boy" image. This comedy is set on a hot summer night and finds the three male cast members reminiscing about the "good ole days". The companion piece, "Laundry and Bourbon" shows life through the eyes of three Texas women. The action of the comedy focuses on the discontent and funny gossip of small town Texas wives in the 1970's.

Performances were held at the Harned Sisters Fine Arts Center in Clarendon.

Single Family Housing Loans Available

Rural Housing Loans for very-low and low income applicants are available through County Offices of the Farmers Home Administration (FmHA), Spur, FmHA County Supervisor, said today.

Home ownership loans may be used to buy, build, improve, repair, rural homes and to provide adequate water and waste disposal systems. Homes may be built on individual tracts or in subdivisions. Funds may also be used to modernize homes - add improvements such as bathrooms, central heating, modern kitchens and other improvements. Borrowers may buy an existing house and lot or buy a site on which to build a home. Loans may be made for up to 100 percent of the appraised value of the site and the new home. Interest rates for this type of loan are presently 7.75 percent with 33 year terms. Monthly payments are subsidized with the amount of the payment dependent on the borrower's annual income. Homes will be modest in size, design, and cost but adequate to meet the family's needs. New homes average about 1,050 square feet of living area.

In addition, Farmers Home Administration guarantees home ownership loans made to applicants of low or moderate income. Guarantees offer opportunities to families who are unable to afford a commercial loan without a Guarantee. These loans may be made for up to 100 percent of the value of the property and are made for terms of 30 years. The interest rate is based on the Federal National Mortgage Association rate with a maximum loan amount in most counties of $67,500.

The Farmers Home Administration assists rural America by guaranteeing private sector loans and by providing temporary, supervised direct loans to farm and housing borrowers who have a reasonable chance for success, and whose current needs cannot be met at reasonable rates and terms by commercial sources. The Agency is committed to excellence in providing its services.

"Applications for assistance may be obtained at the Farmers Home Administration office located at 314 Willard Ave.", FmHA County Supervisor said. The FmHA office in Spur is open from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Monday through Friday.

A Mrs. Jones, possibly the mother of Walter Jones, kept a home that was beautiful. Every curtain, bedspread, and table cover was spotlessly white, starched and ironed. She was a talented homemaker. One keen pleasure was when I could occasionally make the payment on the church building which was only $50.00, but so hard to raise in their small community. Mrs. John Stevens used to play the piano for church services there.

Another joy was to see how lovingly Mable Brembray Barrett took care of the Reverend Barrett during his last years. He and his room were always "hospital" clean - a task that looked impossible with the limited facilities. He loved music, and was so appreciative of a recording of Amazing Grace. Mable and Ossie Lee Sanders Brown helped Algie and me with the publication of INTERMENTS IN MOTLEY COUNTY.

Blanch Davis at Roaring Springs helped look after my mother. She was the one who called me and stayed with my mother when she discovered she had suffered a light stroke. The Davis children were always kind and courteous.

Other faithful and true friends were Lee and Oressa Harris. Lee's kind presence added to one's comfort at Stanley Clinic, and Oressa "spoiled" the Stanley kids and the visitors to the Stanley home. One time Walter and Algaree Jones helped us give a backyard barbecue for our seniors. The older as well as well as the younger Mangrums were special, and how many times has Jessie T. Sims solved our plumbing problems? Harry and Robert Gay were a proud couple. Harry was an "evangelist". He said he learned to read from the Bible with divine guidance.

One year I was privileged to teach a class in New Math to a group of mothers who were interested in being able to help their kids in school. We met in the community building where sewing classes were also taught. I felt honored when I was called to get a sewing machine working because it was out of order. The Cole children were in school in Patton Springs the year I set out to visit in the homes of all my pupils. It was one of the best years of my life.

Friends

stopped to listen. Beveland was talking over an imaginary telephone to an imaginary friend and was saying, "No, I can't come over today, I got too much chil-luns."

Jessie grew up, married and raised a family, and we were friends for many years. Jessie died last year in Amarillo. Sam, Lorene and the girls moved from our place to the Echols family where he worked until they retired and moved into their own home.

My mother's next help was Fannie. There has never been anyone else like Fannie. She was a wonderful cook and housekeeper and she guarded her family just like a well trained watchdog, and had a vocabulary all her own.

When my mother died Fannie was devastated, but stayed with us for several years. My brother and his wife stayed with us several days after mother's death, and when they were gathering their belongings, and getting ready to go home my sister-in-law was looking for a pair of my brother's white socks. She was looking in Dad's sock drawer and Fannie caught her in the act. She said, "Mr. John's socks are not in there, they's Mr. Hamilton's white socks, he wears them because he has epileptic feet."

We were married soon after my mother died and some of my friends were planning a bridal shower for me and one of the ladies asked Fannie what housekeeping things I needed, she replied, "She sho don't need no cooking attentions."

We had just gotten a new puppy and Fannie was admiring and petting the little dog and said, "I use to have the prettiest little white dog." I asked her what it was and she replied, "Oh, it was one of those little Splits dogs."

Minnie Charles was another black woman who worked for me and she was a prize! She was half Seminole Indian and half black, well educated, tall and straight as an arrow. She never talked except to ask me something. She was a fast worker, and everytime I told her somethin'g I wanted her to do, she had already done it. My dad said he hated to talk when she was present and I asked him why and he said "She embarrasses me because she speaks such proper English. Minnie was a wonderful cook and I never had to tell her what to fix for a meal.

When I was keeping the house it was my practice to clean the downstairs one day and the upstairs the next day, and the same with the laundry. I always did the washing one day and the ironing the next day. But not Minnie. She cleaned the entire house in one day and did the laundry and ironed in one day.

There were two things that amused me about Minnie. She wore gold rimmed eyeglass frames, but they had no lens in them, but I never saw her without those eyeglass frames.

One morning she came in wearing a bracelet of Irish potato pieces. When I asked why she was wearing it she said, "I wear it to draw the arthritis pain out of my hands." She finally quit working because her hands were so arthritic.

Minnie's son-in-law worked for the Meason family as a farm hand for sixteen years. He was also half Indian and half black, and was certainly copper colored. Everyone called him Red, but his name was C.C. Beck. Besides being a farm hand he was also a Baptist Preacher and a good one!

When my husband joined the army he left our farm and 85 hogs for me to take care of so he would have it when he came home. As far as farming was concerned I was a total loss! But I learned real fast under Red's kind teaching. Red promised my husband he would help me until the war was over, and he did.

After the war, Red went to Colorado City as pastor of the Black Baptist Church and was there for a number of years.

Mabel Barrett, whom I had known for years, taught school in the black school here and worked with the young people of the black community for many years and everyone loved Mabel. After she had moved to Abilene she called me one day and told me that Red was to preach his farewell sermon the next Sunday in Colorado City.

My sister-in-law and I drove to Colorado City that Sunday morning and Red didn't know we were going to be there. The ushers seated us on the second seat from the front by Red's wife. We didn't know her because his first wife had died after they left Roaring Springs.

When Red came to the pulpit he looked over the congregation and when he saw us he started crying. When he could speak he had us to stand and he introduced us to the people. After church we took Red and his wife to lunch and we had a very good visit with Red. After leaving Colorado City he went to Kansas City where he continued his work in the Church.

Red and his first wife had two children, a boy and a girl. The girl was named after my sister-in-law and me, Mary Helen. The last I knew she was working in the Social Security office in Kansas City. The boy, Willie Edward, became a Secret Service Agent.

Lugenia and Walter Mitchell were teachers in the black school here. Lugenia was my son's babysitter and he loved her so much. He pronounced her name, "Boogenia" when he was little and as he got older he just shortened that name to "Boo". When my son was in college the Mitchells had moved to Denton to send their youngest son to college. We were in Dallas one time and my son wanted to go to Denton to see Boo. When we knocked at the door and Boo saw my son, she paid no attention to me, but grabbed my son, hugged him and said, "Oh, there's my white baby!"

Her youngest son came by to visit us several years ago. He had graduated from Medical School and was a Brain Surgeon. He had gone back to school and also became an orthopedic surgeon.

Walter Jones was always a special friend of my husband's. He used to butcher for us when we had the grocery store and locker plant. He and his wife, Algaree, were always friends of ours.

Nearly all of these black friends are gone now, but they have all been a very pleasant and happy part of my life.

The sign-up period for the 1993 cotton program is rapidly approaching and more specifics about the program are being finalized according to Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers (PCG). Sign-up for the 1993 program will begin March 1 and continue until April 30.

Some of the provisions previously announced include the 7.5 percent Acreage Reduction Program (ARP), the estimated 1993 Deficiency Payment rate of 20.55 cents and the advance deficiency payment rate of 10.275 cents, as well as the continuation of the 72.9 cent Target Price and 52.35 cent Loan Rate.

Newly announced provisions include eligible cover crops for planting on Acreage Conservation Reserve (ACR) and Conserving Use (CU) for Pay acres. In addition to the cover crop announcement Optional Flex Acres (OFA) can be planted to any crop other than fruits and vegetables or peanuts and receive Planted and Considered Planted (P&CP) credit for the crop base that the acreage was flexed from. Limited cross compliance will not be applicable for 1993.

Eligible cover crops for ACR and CU for Pay acres are:

- Small grains disposed of before reaching hard dough;

- Special approval from the Texas State ASC Committee will be necessary to harvest and donate blackeye pea seed to an approved food bank on no more than 50 percent of cotton ACR and CU for Pay acres.

Cover crops of corn, sorghum and blackeye peas are not eligible to be hayed or grazed at any time during the calendar year.

Producers are encouraged to contact their county ASCS office to make an appointment, if necessary to facilitate the sign-up process, and also to get clarification on specific program details.

GRASS FIRE IN

GRAY MULE COMMUNITY

High winds up to 51 mph played havoc for the Quitaque and Silverton firefighters, Saturday, Feb. 20. A fire was detected by Glen Pigg of Quitaque around 1:30 p.m. in the Gray Mule (Edgin) community and over 400 acres of grassland and fences of Jack and John Pigg were lost in the flames. The land is located northwest of Flomot.

The fire moving from southwest to northeast raced across the Gray Mule Cemetery and the fence was destroyed. However, Mrs. John (Deloras) Pigg stated that by a miracle of God, the tombstones and silk flowers in the cemetery, homes and farm structures escaped damage. It was determined the fire was ignited when railroad tracks were being removed for the Rails to Trails Tourist Route.

The Pigg families expressed appreciation for the good work of the firefighters and friends who helped control and extinguish the fire.
