Matador Is Stage For Movie Making

MATADOR was the stage, and all the people were the actors. Some of course were hired as extras. Others were there to secure autographs, and cameras were all over the place as photographers took pictures of stars, crewmen, technicians, props and anything associated with the production, but principally the stars.

The stars of course, were Roy Rogers and Clay O'Brien, "Mackintosh and T. J.," the characters and name of Rogers' first moving picture in 21 years.

The action took place Friday and Saturday, and again Tuesday night as work was rushed to catch up on a schedule which has been delayed in filming of the picture because of weather conditions.

There had been nothing like it since the days when people came to town on Saturday nights to visit and buy groceries while the kids went to the picture show. The streets were filled and parking space was at a premium.

To add to the confusion, more big transport trucks were rumbling down the highway than ever before in daytime, interfering with the sound and causing numerous re-takes. It was soon discovered that the drivers were sending messages to each other that a movie was being made, and to drive through Matador A re-routing down Dundee street was then arranged.

The crowds followed the shooting all through the day Friday, and when they learned that there would be more on Saturday, they

TRAIL DUST

Some people seek a form of religion that can be taken with the same convenience as vitamin pills and discontinued when their spiritual deficiency has been replenished. Science has yet to perfect a nostrum which will restore a surfeited life to normalcy and religion is not a cure for the soul; it is a course.

Burning low on the shelf of night, the autumn moon is like a candle whose tallow has dripped on the sill of space, leaving the reflection of a silver flame in the window of eternity.

Before our reformers become too excited about children reading comic books they might conduct a survey to determine the number of children subscribing to daily newspapers which print a page or more comic features.

Extolling the accomplishments of ancestors is about as futile as whitewashing an indiscreet politician. First, no one is impressed and second, we did not select our ancestors and they did not select us.

Even our enemies feel obliged to help us remember our mistakes.

Grant Received For Water Supply System

A $100,000 community development plan for the city of Matador, Texas, was approved Monday by the Federal government.

At a ceremony held in Matador, Mayor Kirby Campbell received a formal letter approving the city's application for funds under Title I of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974. "Now," he said, "we can start building."

The formal presentation was made by Don Earney, Director of the Lubbock, Texas HUD-FHA Office to City Councilman L. B. Campbell. He told newsmen at a briefing prior to the ceremony that the next step is for a formal contract to be signed, and then a letter of credit will be issued. He said this will be done "shortly."

BRUCELLOSIS MEETING SET

A meeting to explain the proposed changes in the Texas Brucellosis Program will be held at the Texas A&M Research and Extension Center at Lockett on Monday August 11th, starting at 8:00 p.m.

ceived a personal letter from Secretary Hills congratulating the city and asking the Mayor to ensure "total public participation" as the development plan is carried out. It was also presented to him at the ceremony.

The new law eventually will provide $2.5 billion for 1,271 cities and 85 counties across the United States this fiscal year.

The plan calls for a new water supply system. Secretary Hills said the 1974 law under which the plan was submitted is designed to "change the old helter-skelter system of helping U.S. cities grow." She said the new act "is designed to let the cities and counties of our nation set their own priorities with maximum discretion—within broad federal guidelines."

"I urge that you enlist all your citizens in helping to carry out this plan. This is a new direction in Federal policy and requires total public participation if it is to succeed," the Secretary added.

The HUD official emphasized that the new law provides for local direction and local priorities in creating and carrying out development plans, but he said one of the few strict guidelines is in the civil rights area.

Supplies the energy - but only YOU can use it wisely!

Reddy's helpful tips for your Room Air-Conditioners

Your air-conditioner will operate inefficiently if filters are not cleaned regularly. Dirt and lint, collected on the filters, restricts air flow to the coils. Clean filters every two weeks.

Let nature help you save energy by shading your home with trees and shrubs to help cut down on summer cooling costs. Draw draperies against afternoon sun.

Remember to keep outside doors, windows, and fireplace dampers closed. If you have window units, close the heating vents near the floor, as cool air falls and can escape through vents.

You purchased fine home comfort when you bought your air conditioning unit. Properly maintained, it will offer you years of efficient service. A once-a-year check-up by your dealer pays dividends in savings on operating and breakdown costs.

STUDIES ABOUT THE BIBLE

Hate destroys. Hate destroys others and self. Hate is one of the mental elements which disrupts family, national, and international peace. Hate causes extreme mental and physical suffering. Hate originated with Satan.

There is only one thing which has the power to destroy hate—LOVE. Love originated with God. And God has shown His love toward mankind in many ways and at various times. But God's greatest expression of love is given to us by one of Christ's apostles in these words.

For God so loved the world, that He gave His only begotten Son, that whoever believes in Him should not perish, but should have eternal life. John 3:16.

This was really a strong test of God's love. For, at the time Christ appeared on the human scene, the world was enveloped in deep, spiritual darkness. God had been eliminated from the hearts of all peoples in North America, South America, Australia, and the "islands of the sea." And there were only a few in Africa—northern Africa—Asia, and Europe who had a knowledge of God. Only one nation claimed to know God—Palestine. And this small nation—about the size of New Jersey—was in captivity. A sad picture. But God's love, through Christ, overcame darkness. God's love has power.

For I am not ashamed of the gospel, for it is the power of God for salvation to every one who believes...Ro. 1:16.
