TRAIL DUST

By DOUGLAS MEADOR

It is a great relief to know the Treasury Department is recalling all large denomination bills, from $100 to $10,000. This is the kind of a thing that reduces the pressure of financial problems. From the number of $1 denomination bills I am able to acquire it appears they are being called in secretly.

When time was measured by the hourglass it passed with the same rate of speed as the most accurate electric watch. The only advantage was the smaller number of things vitally affected by punctuality.

Practiced silence is one of the greatest attributes to gracious character.

Distance has lost much of its romantic charm and the former tears of parting have dried on the leathery cheeks of speed.

My mother believed in saving everything of any value and often salvaged a 2c postage stamp which had inadequate muckage. She would break an egg to be used in the kitchen, and use a small amount of the white as an adhesive.

The agencies of tranquility are powerless against the technology which gave us the television commercial.

Patriotism is more than waving a flag; it is faith in the symbol of liberty that makes men equal at no greater expense than dedicated respect.

Excuse is the adjustable crutch of the poor loser.

A contemporary who taught me many of the delicate timings of deficit financing, says it is phenomenal how poorly a car runs after the last installment has been made.

Lions Queen Reports On Girls State

PROGRAM Tuesday at the regular luncheon meeting of the Matador Lions Club held in the First Methodist Church basement, was a report on Girls State, by Miss Brenda Wason, the club's queen.

Miss Wason, who made a report last week to the American Legion, defended the young people of the country and said: "We hear too little from the great majority of young people, and listen too much to the minority."

"At Girls State we learned many worthwhile things, including the need for leadership," Miss Wason declared. "and we also learned the importance of courage to exercise our convictions. I feel that the youth of the country (the great majority of young people) should stand up for what they believe."

As guests at the luncheon were two other members of the Matador cheerleaders, Miss Bridget Barton and Miss Debbie Smallwood. They were introduced by Lion Wayland Moore. Another guest welcomed at the meeting was Mrs. Claud Harp.

Boss Lion Bundy Campbell made a brief report of his trip to Tokyo, Japan.

Man to Set Foot On Moon

It is not news, since most of the world knows, that man is making his most ambitious bid in all history. Three men, Neil A. Armstrong, Edwin E. Aldrin Jr., and Michael Collins, blasted a path into space at 8:32 yesterday morning, from Cape Kennedy. The goal is for two of the men to set foot on the moon and return to earth.

Eyes of the world are on the flight of Apollo 11, as man poises at the historic threshold of visiting the satellite that revolves around the earth. The two men will land on the moon Sunday but will not attempt to set foot on the surface until Monday, July 21.

He said Lionism which has clubs in 145 countries, had 32,000 members attending the Tokyo meeting. Lionism had 8,201 voting delegates in Tokyo. Hot Weather Sets Record

All hot weather records have been broken at the Lubbock Weather Bureau, according to the Lubbock Avalanche. They have also been broken in Matador according to Bob Stanley who has kept temperature and rainfall records for about 20 years.

Today, if the mercury reaches 100 degrees will be the 26th day in succession, with one exception. We had a "cool front" on June 29, and the temperature only reached 99 degrees.

No relief is in sight according to the weathermen, and much of the nation is blistering under drought conditions.

Here in Matador Pharmacist Stanley has recorded two days of 106 degrees. The area has recorded higher temperatures, but never so many 100 degree days in succession.

Crops in most areas of the county are holding well against the hot, dry weather, due mostly to the excellent underground season. Veteran farmers say, however, if some relief does not arrive soon, the crop prospects will deteriorate rapidly.

A small band of thunder clouds Friday afternoon cooled off Matador for a short time when .35-inch of moisture was recorded. The rain covered a small area, and the 100 degrees temperature returned Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Campbell Sr. spent the week end in Fort Worth and attended Six Flags Over Texas. Prairie Fire Blackens 700 Acres of Range

BLUE QUAIL were fluttering late Tuesday just beyond the border of blackened acres where a prairie fire Sunday had struck the J. R. Moore Estate Ranch, about four miles south of Matador.

Matador Volunteer Firemen and ranchers fought the fire after the first call in 100 degree temperature Sunday morning. They left the scene when it was believed the fire was extinguished.

About three p.m. the fire alarm sounded again and the firefighters returned to a new outbreak from the original fire. The burning grass and trees area was again brought under control.

About six p.m. Tuesday the alarm again sounded and firefighters returned to the same area where the grass was again burning. According to Farris Fish, the Tuesday fire probably started from smoldering trees near the border of the first fire area.

In the two fires Sunday approximately 500 acres were lost and the Tuesday fire claimed another 200 acres. Cause of the original fire is not known but believed to have started from some burning trash.

CAUTION IS URGED

Everyone entering any pasture or rangeland is urged to use extreme caution in any use of fire. Any bordering areas are also vulnerable. Most of the rangeland in the county has an extremely heavy cover of valuable grass, in addition to the growth of trees, brush and weeds. The long period of hot, dry weather has made the risk of fire greater than usual. The fine grass is a valuable asset to Motley County and this area. A disastrous prairie fire could bring extensive loss.

Rites Held For Pioneer Cowboy

Funeral services were held in Wolforth Church of Christ at 10 a.m. Wednesday for Luther M. Griffin, 70, former resident and pioneer cowboy on the Matador Ranch. He was a member of the Matador I. O. O. F. Lodge, and of the Church of Christ.

Services were conducted by Jay Don Rogers, minister from Snyder.

Mr. Griffin died at 7 a.m. Monday in St. Mary's Hospital, Lubbock, where he had been a patient since Thursday. He had been in ill health for several years.

"Snakes" Griffin as he was affectionately known by early-day cowboys and other friends here, was a frequent visitor in Matador, after moving from here a number of years ago.

He was born December 26, 1898 near Clifton, Okla., in what was then known as Indian Territory. He came to Matador in 1915, as an orphan and secured work at the ranch. He was married here in 1923 to Miss Pauline Lee and they continued to make their home here until the late 1930's when they moved to Lubbock. He moved to Paducah in 1958 and operated the Brookhaven Motel for several years. In 1965 he moved to Wolforth.

Survivors include his wife; a son, B. R. (Rip) Griffin of Lubbock; a daughter, Mrs. J. D. Bray of Kingsland; nine grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Attending the funeral from Matador were relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Lee and Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Smallwood, and friends, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Wason and their daughter, Mrs. David Campbell of Floydada.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Payne and son, Blake of Lubbock, visited here recently with his mother, Mrs. Ethel Payne.

Cemetery Road Is Now Paved

An old dream of Commissioner (Precinct 1) Clyde Gilbert has been realized with paving of the road between East Mound Cemetery and US Highway 70. The work in completing the all-weather road was done last week.

Commissioner Gilbert said the cost of the paving was paid out of the District No. 1, road funds and not at county expense.

The public is invited to see the new paving and notice the improvement over the former condition.

HOME FROM PADUCAH

Manly Thompson returned home Monday after spending the past several weeks in Richards Memorial Hospital in Paducah. He was brought home by ambulance, and was accompanied by Mrs. Thompson and daughter, Kate. Visiting Mr. Thompson while he was in the hospital were Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Smallwood of Levelland, Mr. and Mrs. Claud Swearingen of Dickens, his sister, Mrs. Berry Lyons of Whiteface and her daughter, Mrs. Buddy Canon of Levelland. Visitors here Tuesday at his home were an uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Truman Blalock of Scranton, Mrs. Thompson's brother, Tom Spears assisted members of the family in staying with Mr. Thompson while in the hospital.

BEFORE TRIAL FLIGHT — Motley County Sheriff J. D. Spray stands beside the Department of Public Safety jet helicopter, before he made a trial flight at Paducah last week. The craft stationed at Lubbock, is designed to service 60 counties. A mercy flight of the craft, a few days later, carried an infant from Paducah to a Dallas hospital. The pilot en route from Lubbock spotted a prairie fire in the Wolf Creek area southwest of Matador, called officers here, and the fire near the QA&P Railway, was soon extinguished with small loss. —Tribune photo

TAX MAN SAM SEZ:

If you have found yourself wishing that somebody had hanged Alexander Graham Bell with a potato vine when he was a mere boy, consider the Internal Revenue folks. During the recent income tax filing season they had about 300,000 taxpayer calls. More than 125,000 additional taxpayers dropped by for a visit with the good tax folks.

Since the Dallas District receives about 1,600,000 tax returns, it would appear that about one taxpayer in four decided to have a few words with Internal Revenue before he voluntarily complied.

Some 49% of the tax returns come from the Dallas-Fort Worth combined metropolitan areas, but 3/4 of all the telephone calls were received at the Dallas and Fort Worth offices. 54% of the visitors also showed up at the big city offices.

Wichita Falls won the popularity contest among the other seventeen offices. Lubbock, Amarillo, Abilene, Odessa, Midland, and Plainview had more telephone calls than walk-in visitors, but the margin was narrow.

The farm and small town areas appear to have had more visitors from outside the headquarters city, and these people naturally were walk-in visitors, since apparently they came to town for this purpose. Tyler, San Angelo, Sherman, Texarkana, Lufkin, Big Spring and Vernon were in this group. Longview, Brownwood and Pampa bucked the tide for their types of communities and had more telephone calls than walk-in visitors.

The next time you feel that you are doing nothing but answering your telephone just remember—it's easy to find proof that Internal Revenue finds time for lots of other things besides talking on the phone.

AUSTIN — Stiff resistance is forming to a proposed 11.4 percent average private auto insurance rate hike.

Gov. Preston Smith promised a "full scale" investigation of soaring rates after State Insurance Board rate experts recommended the new increase.

Smith said the proposal "borders on catastrophe" and the car insurance situation "has become intolerable for many of our citizens." Governor announced an early meeting with insurance company executives and said he is considering appointment of a select panel of citizens outside the industry to make a thorough study and recommendations.

Board rate authorities blamed the increase on the number and cost of auto accidents. Labor cost for repairs, in particular, was emphasized.

Recommendations and testimony at the public hearing will be reviewed by the board before August 1. New rates will take effect with policies written or renewed on or after September 1.

"Liability rates, under staff recommendation, would go up 5.5 percent. (Bodily injury coverage actually would be reduced 3.7 percent, but property damage would increase 21.4 percent.)

"Collision insurance would increase 17.5 percent.

"Comprehensive coverage for physical damage would climb 24.9 percent.

Commercial vehicles, with better safety records, would get lower rates. Figuring all classes of vehicles, the statewide average increase would be 9.2 percent under staff recommendations.

Insurance company spokesmen urged even higher increases, but AFL-CIO spokesmen argued for reduction, rather than raise.

"An automobile is an absolute necessity in our current society, and, I for one, do not intend to sit idly by and see it priced into a position of being a luxury," said Smith.

TREASURE HUNT CAUSES RUCKUS — A story which began in 1553 still is one of the state's headline items.

Lawsuits, sharp exchanges between state officials and threatened impeachment proceedings raged over what should be done with the treasure recovered from a Spanish galleon which sank in a storm off Padre Island more than 400 years ago.

Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler incurred the ire of a legislative committee earlier when he declined to cooperate with members probing his agreement with the Gary, Ind., firm of Platoro, Inc. Sadler's proposal was to salvage artifacts from the sunken ship and divide the loot 50-50 with the state.

Sadler announced that he had recovered all the articles taken from the galleon by Platoro and has them in his custody. He got a court order temporarily restraining Platoro from further salvage operations which firm, according to Secretary of State Martin Dies, engaged in the Padre treasure hunt without the proper state permit.

District judge at Corpus Christi postponed a hearing on disposition of the treasure hunt until after the special legislative session. Meanwhile, he named a committee to determine if the Gary salvage firm still has some of the treasure and, if so, how to get it back. Serving on the committee are Col. Wilson E. Speir, director of the Department of Public Safety, Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin, and Ed Harte, Corpus Christi publisher.

State Rep. Jake Johnson of San Antonio threatened impeachment of Sadler over his contract with Platoro.

DEER HUNTING LONGER — Longest deer hunting season yet has been set by the Paks and Wildlife Commission.

Season will open on the morning of November 8 and continue until sunset January 1, 1970.

Commission agreed to reduce the white wing dove season drastically. Shooting will be permitted only on one week end in September, since experts reported the dove population down 20 percent from last year.

COUNTY AGENT PALLMEYER SAYS:

Motley County landowners who have been fighting mesquite will probably be interested in the findings Ervin Willard, James Bell of the SCS and myself obtained on June 9 relative to the brush control plot on the Matador Ranch near Russellville.

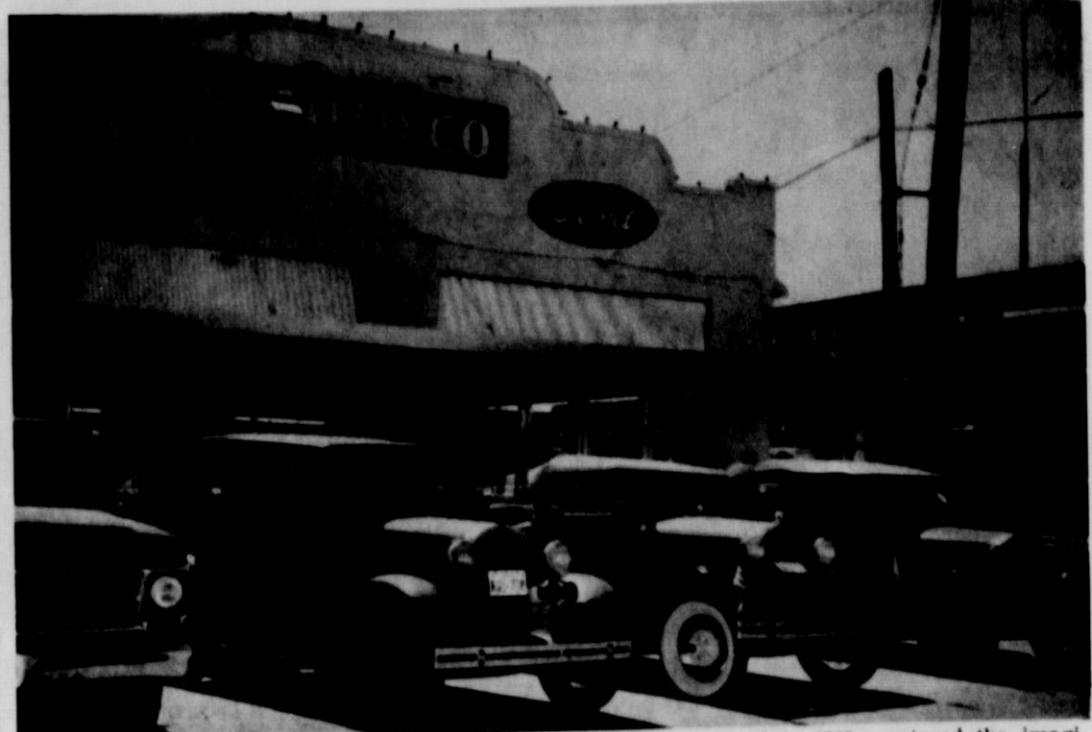

Nine plots were treated June 10 and 11, 1968. Indicated kills and mixtures are as follows:

2.4.5-T: 1/4 lb. per acre, 34% top-kill, 15% flagging, 51% basal sprouting; 1/2 lb. per acre, 64% top-kill, 11% flagging, 25% basal sprouting; 1 lb. per acre, 51% top-kill, 6% flagging, 43% basal sprouting.

Torodon and 2.4.5-T: 1/8 lb. and 1/8 lb. per acre, 65% top-kill, 9% flagging, 26% basal sprouting; 1/4 lb. and 1/4 lb. per acre, 85% top-kill, 12% flagging, 3% basal sprouting.

2.4.5-T and Banvel D: 1/4 lb. and 1/4 lb. per acre, 52% top-kill, 16% flagging, 32% basal sprouting.

2.4.5-T and Tryad: 1/2 lb. and 12 oz. per acre, 37% top-kill, 13% flagging, 50% basal sprouting.

These figures should not be used for determining top-kill as in the past we have found that additional plants may sprout later. Additional checks of these plots will be made the next three or four years to determine final plant kill.

None of the materials used in this plot are available to the general public as these are still in the experimental stage.

You will also note that different rates of application were made for the same material. Indications are that too much material as well as too little of the material affects the root kill of the plant.

In addition to the control of mesquite this test will also include calf weights produced in this treated section as compared to a similar untreated mesquite section. After all, if additional gains can not be realized from control of brush is it wise to control the brush in the first place. This 10 year test should provide valuable information for Motley County ranchers with a mesquite problem.

Both pastures were stocked with 25 cows of approximately the same age and weight. The latest report is that 24 cows in each pasture have calves with age of calves in the two pastures approximately the same.

Texas A&M University researchers have found that an inexpensive by-product of the cottonseed oil refining process contains a factor which prevents common scours in calves.

The by-product is acidulated soapstock (acid oil), which is an excellent source of fat in milk replacer formulas for calves and has a unique anti-diarrheic quality. Research dates back to 1956 when Dr. R. E. Leighton of the A&M Animals Science Department discovered an anti-scour substance in a methylated product made from cottonseed oil soapstock. Later attempts to isolate the factor revealed that it was in the non-distillable, hexane-insoluble, saponifiable fraction of the product.

Because this finding indicated similar results might be obtained from a less sophisticated soapstock product, Leighton and co-workers explored the use of a number of cottonseed oil by-products.

Leighton said excellent success has been reached in the past two years with dairy calves fed a milk-replacer formula containing 15 percent acidulated soapstock. The material was supplied by Anderson, Clayton, and Company.

The researcher noted that the cottonseed oil refining industry formerly regarded the product as of little value. Disposal was often a problem. Later, uses were found in the feed industry, but it is currently the least expensive fat ingredient in calf milk replacers.

Cost per pound is 5 cents or less in large quantities.

"The ever-increasing use of milk replacer formulas in feeding both dairy and beef calves, plus the surprising reduction in calf diarrhea which results when the acid oil is used in the diet, suggests that this finding will be of considerable importance to livestock feeders, feed manufacturers, veterinarians and the cottonseed oil industry." Leighton said.

Audiences Come From Everywhere To See TEXAS

More than 200,000 people have seen the "TEXAS" production which plays each evening in Palo Duro Canyon.

The spectacular musical drama by Pulitzer prize-winner Paul Green, tells the story of the Plains in song and story, dance and light and sound. Audiences in this fourth season, 1969, have averaged more than a thousand people each evening. They have come from nearby and the ends of the earth, and from all walks of life.

To discover who made up the audiences, and where they came from, the staff made a survey during the second week of performances.

They found one man who had come five times and many who had seen the show three or four times. They encountered one visitor who rode a horse in the first production ever given in the theatre, who had brought his children and grandchildren to see the place and the show.

Students from Sweden and the Avon manager from the British West Indies have been in the audiences. A businessman from Chile and a coach from Perth, Australia; a doctor and an electronic engineer from New York and a librarian from Long Island; housewives from the Panhandle and North Dakota and Louisiana; a photographer from Mississippi, a glass worker from Houston and a mechanic from New York who heard about the show on a plane. Ministers, bankers, factory workers, beauticians, well servicers, businessmen, secretaries, railroad men and truckers, roofers and oil field workers, barbers and chemists, professors and auditors, teachers, and a new Mexico museum manager; and the TOPS Club from Amherst.

ARLINGTON — Half of the United States' domestic oil-producing capacity would probably be shut down for economic reasons if controls on imports of foreign oil are eliminated, a board member of Humble Oil & Refining Company told the Texas Press Association Saturday, June 21.

Nelson Jones, a vice president and director of Humble, said an unrestricted influx of foreign oil could lead to a weakening of national security by creating U. S. dependence on politically unreliable fuel sources.

"Texas and other oil-producing states would suffer drastic reductions in oil exploration and production activities if the U. S. is flooded with foreign oil," he added.

Pointing out that the Oil Import Control Program is under review in Washington by a cabinet-level presidential committee, Jones reminded the assembled newspapermen that some critics of the petroleum industry have demanded that all import restrictions on foreign oil be lifted.

"If this is done, the flood of foreign crude into the country would have serious economic repercussions. The domestic oil industry would be seriously weakened and national security could be threatened by undue dependence on oil from politically unstable foreign countries," he said.

Jones revealed results of studies done to project the effects on U. S. producing capacity and reserves if import controls were eliminated.

—Without import controls, the number of exploratory wells drilled in the U. S. in the period 1970-1985 would be reduced by 85 percent.

—Development well drilling in this same period would be reduced by 50 percent.

—The additional premature abandonment of many thousands of existing low-productivity wells would reduce by over 60 percent the number of active oil wells in the U. S. by the early 1980's.

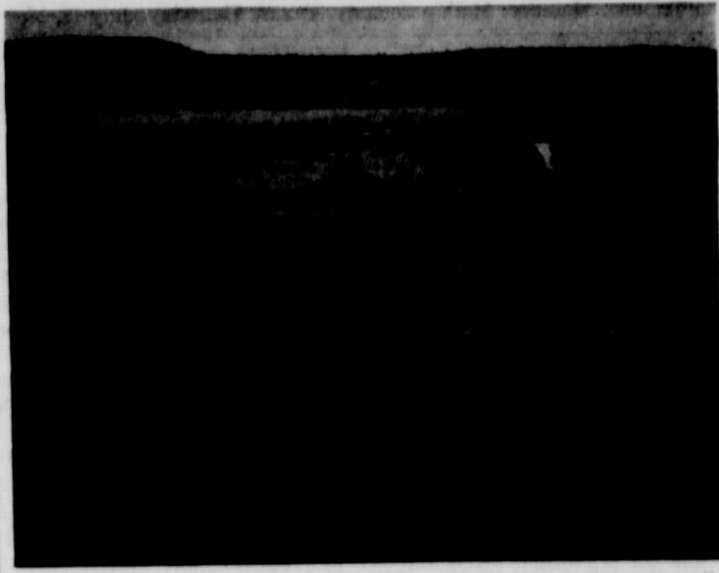

—The net effect of all of these factors by 1985 would be a cumulative reduction of future oil reserves of approximately 55 percent.

—Domestic production would be seven million barrels per day lower by 1985.

—The decline in oil industry activity would cause a reduction of more than 50 percent in employment in the exploration and producing functions, the associated service organizations, and the oil-field supply organizations.

—The total displacement of trained petroleum industry personnel could be in excess of 100,000 people nationally.

Jones called for "a continuation of reasonable restraints on all imports of crude oil into the U. S."

He also said there is a need for "a firm decision in principle" to phase out of the program "those elements of favoritism which have been allowed to creep in over the past several years."

TSTA Publication Releases Article By Grace Timmons

An article, "Coordinating the English Curriculum," by Mrs. Reece (Grace) Timmons appears in the July issue of "The Texas Outlook," official publication of Texas State Teachers Association. Mrs. Timmons teaches English and physical education at Matador High School.

In the article she presents a curriculum that "combines grammar, composition, and literature into an organized, sequential program for all 12 grades" which is prescribed by the University of Nebraska Curriculum Center.

"Responsible for introducing and financing the Nebraska Curriculum in Matador is the Panhandle Education Service Organization, better known as PESO, whose headquarters are at Amarillo and West Texas State University at Canyon," Mrs. Timmons says.

"The Nebraska curriculum grew out of a need to help the small schools in Nebraska prepare their students for college." Matador is serving as a pilot school for the program in the United States for usage in all twelve grades.

Mrs. Timmons devotes the article to explaining the units used in high school, the teacher aids and her own experiences with the program during the past year.

She says, "One of the assets of the program is that it includes popular, contemporary selections of literature . . . as well as more classical selections."

Mrs. Timmons adds that modeled writing, "patterning paragraphs after professional writers" has been fun as well as helping students "to expand sentences and develop an eye for detail, as well as to increase their understanding of and appreciation for differences in style and technique."

"After working with the Nebraska Curriculum this year, neither the students nor I would be willing to go back to grammar exercises and nonsequential selections of literature. My letter to Santa this year will be asking him to drop the Nebraska Curriculum down some other English teacher's chimney."
