TRAIL DUST

By DOUGLAS MEADOR
An emergency is often used as an excuse for some action that might otherwise appear dubious, or beyond the normal form.
Down in the Hill Country they have a custom of estimating the number of mortgages on a ranch the number of gun racks the owner has in the cab of his pick-up.
Nature keeps a careful balance, estimating the amount of a corn crop produces according to size. One with the dimensions of a quarter could send the victim screaming at the turning cart-wheels in the field.
In trying to pinpoint problems there is a human tendency to pin the blame away from self.
Clever people also have the operating facility of implying that being superior to the remainder of us mortals, requires no effort.
Someone has taken the trouble to figure that we work about five months of the year to pay taxes. It is an alarming thought, but on the other hand what happens to our earnings for the other nine months?
Desire for possession is about the only factor that can be used to distinguish some antiques from junk.
Two delegates to the Farm Bureau Citizenship Seminar held in Waco in August, will speak Monday night at regular monthly meeting of Fleming Post No. 337 American Legion, and Auxiliary.
They are Miss Frances Martin of Matador and Coy Franks of Pflomot, who will bring a report of the seminar following the customary covered dish supper 7:30.

Hospital Board Is Continuing Active

A meeting Wednesday night of the Matador County Hospital Board, brought the group closer to a solution of the county's tough hospital problem.
A spokesman for the board said no announcement had been made simply because no single plan had been advanced far enough to present to the public.
"We have studied every feasible action," he said, "considering the county's needs and its ability to finance. Every plan we have considered has had first to meet the state's requirements. Any financing plan we have considered has required first the approval of a government agency."
"With almost every county in the state attempting to advance some type of hospital facilities, we have run into a log jam of approvals and the only thing we could do was to wait until our turn."
"In the meantime we had no definite action to announce. There was no purpose in announcing something that might not be approved."
The board said that they had faced many problems and received some criticism. "We expected this when we accepted places on the board," they said.
At present there is nothing definite to report, except that the board is working and has made some progress. In event the present rate of progress continues, the board believes that a practical plan can be submitted to the public in the near future.
Members of the hospital board are John V. Stevens, J. M. Hill and Farris Fish, all of Matador, J. C. Franks of Pflomot and Newton Fletcher of Roaring Springs.

Bulldogs Smother Matador Matadors

by Larry Elliott

The powerful Spur Bulldogs overwhelmed an outclassed but valiant Matador eleven at Swinson Park Friday night, by a score of 48-6.
Although the Matadors launched several attacks, they were frustrated by fumbles and a steel spined Spur defense which smothered them when the yard age got valuable.
The Matadors were caught without the necessary yardage for a first down three times in the first quarter and forced to punt. Spur used a running game based on the gains of fullback Larry Powell, to turn each of the opportunities into a score and when the curtain fell on the first quarter, the Bulldogs had racked up a 20-point advantage.
In the second period, Spur produced another touchdown before the Matadors took over. Taking advantage of two successive penalties Matador moved into scoring position before they were penalized, ending the drive. The Bulldogs gained control on the Matador side of the 50 where quarterback Jerry Reynolds tossed to Sheldon Parsons for the final tally of the half.
After kicking to Spur, the Matador defense went tough, forcing them to punt. The Matadors used a Spur penalty and a hard run by halfback Larry Byrum to gain a first down on the Spur.

Horned Frogs Incubator in Matador Home

It was fun for a while but Mrs. Melvin Meason is a little weary of the horned frog incubator in her home. The "nest" was discovered in her yard during the hot, dry weather of the past summer.
The mother frog dug a round hole about eight inches deep in hard earth and deposited a total of 17 eggs. The mother frog and the eggs were brought into the house to watch development, but the parent frog escaped to the yard.
A horned frog "incubator" was set up with the aid of an electric light to match the same temperature as that of the hole in the yard for a month or more. It appeared that nothing was going to happen, but a test of some eggs showed that small frogs were forming. Some estimated that the small frogs might not hatch until spring.
About ten days ago things began to happen. The remaining eggs started hatching and Mrs. Meason had horned frogs in abundance. Sunday she turned nine baby frogs into her yard to shift for themselves.
Many natives of this area of West Texas have never seen or heard of a horned frog egg. It is reported that a booklet available in some pet stores claims that horned frogs are born alive.

Forrest Campbell, manager of Campbell Chevrolet Co., said with regard to the 1967 cars:
"Camaro, the new Chevrolet model is on display, as well as other established models. We feel that Chevrolet has some of the finest cars ever produced in this year's showing. We were agreeably surprised at the small increase in price, considering the new safety features and engineering improvements."

"We are very proud to show the new 1967 models Ford and Mercury cars. All models have new features that will interest the owner and driver, which include new safety features."

New Front Strikes In Stormy Pattern

A "quickie" cold front struck Motley County early Tuesday morning in a violent storm pattern that dumped rain and hail in scattered sections.
Roaring Springs has reported as much as 2 inches of rain in parts, with damaging hail east of town. Heavy rain also fell east of Matador. The rainfall here was .15-inch.
The storm struck with excessive electrical display and cracking thunder. Some unconfirmed lightning damage was reported in Roaring Springs.
After the passage of the front the temperature dropped sharply and a fine mist fell during part of Tuesday afternoon. The chilling wind and mist sent many to clothing storage for coats. The clouds had dissipated by nightfall and bright sunshine was welcomed yesterday.
Excellent crop prospects are at a crucial stage, according to farmers, with the need for dry, hot weather to develop and mature cotton and feed. Range conditions are the best at this time of the year in the memory of many veteran ranchers.
Cotton is late in maturing due to unfavorable conditions for early planting. A first bale is yet to be reported in the county. In over 30 years of publication, the Tribune is unable to find any record of a first bale failing to be reported before this date.

MR. AND MRS. DON CARL TARDY

Deborah Jean Wirt is Bride of Don Carl Tardy in Recent Rites

Miss Deborah Jean Wirt, Canyon, became the bride of Don Carl Tardy, Roaring Springs, in double ring nuptials read Saturday, Sept. 10, at the First Baptist Church of Canyon with the Rev. Strauss Atkinson officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Vincent Wirt Sr. of Canyon. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Carl Tardy of Roaring Springs.

Setting for the exchange of vows was a large, two-tiered fountain arrangement of pastel pink mums and pompons which framed the altar. In the background were arched candelabra, and palm stands fashioned of dark green emerald foliage. Flanking these central arrangements were cathedral candelabra filled with large pink mums and pompons, and traditional seven bract candelabra.

The choir rail was draped with pale pink satin and clusters of emerald foliage. The bridal aisles were marked with three bract candelabra and white aisle runners.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal wedding gown of candlelight satin, with a Sabrina neckline, and long sleeves. Appliques of re-embroidered Alencon lace and pearls enhanced the bodice and full chapel length train of her wedding gown. Her three tiered illusion veil was attached to a miniature Queen's crown of pearls and lace. She carried a cascade arrangement of red carnations topped with an orchid corsage. The bridal bouquet crested a white Bible which held an antique watch, which had belonged to the bride's maternal great grandmother.

The bride attendants were Judy Carol Stevenson, maid of honor; Lorna Rae Dunnagan, cousin of the bride, Emily Carolyn Upshaw, and Deborah Mozell Sparks, bridesmaids.

Candlelighters were Nancy Janelle LaGrone and Shelly Nan Davis. Laurie June Carlile was flower girl and Gregory Dean Harmon, cousin of the bride from Tulia, served as ring bearer.

The attendants wore formal length sheath dresses of pink net over satin with a band of red accenting the empire line. The dresses were fashioned with scooped necklines and brief sleeves. Each carried a crescent arrangement of red carnations accented with English ivy. Their headpieces were red satin roses with red veiling.

The couple are at home at 2604 Sixth Avenue, Apartment 1, in Canyon, following a brief wedding trip.

A graduate of Canyon High School, the bride is a student at West Texas State University.

The bridegroom, a graduate of Roaring Springs High School, is a junior at WTSU where he is a member of Kappa Alpha Order and is a member of the varsity football team where he lettered as a freshman and sophomore.

Appropriate wedding music was presented by Sherry Kay Killingsworth, pianist; Mary Ann Wheelock, organist; and Mary Alexander Starnes, soloist. Wedding guests were registered by Kathy Hoover of Canyon and Lynna Hulsey of Vega.

A reception honoring the couple was held at the home of the bride's parents, northwest of Canyon. The serving table was laid with a white satin cloth covered with net which was trimmed in pink. An arrangement of pink perfection roses and red carnations centered the table.

The three tiered colonade cake was decorated with a miniature bridal pair on the top tier, framed with a heart. Also gracing the table were three tapers in crystal holders. Presiding at the serving table were Mrs. Bert Schweitzer, Lubbock, and Mrs. Clyde Renfro, Hereford, cousin and aunt of the bridegroom.

Among out of town guests at the wedding, in addition to the bridegroom's parents, were Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Smith, Michelle, Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Starnes, Mrs. M. S. COUNTY AGENT PALLMEYER SAYS:

Insects, rodents and birds, if permitted to gain entry into grain storage bins can cause substantial losses. Before harvest begins, check bins for moisture leaks, cracks or holes through which rats, mice or birds can enter and give a good cleaning. Spray the entire area with an approved insecticide.

Grain contains few if any insects when it comes from the field, and can be kept clean. The first cleanup before harvest is the first step to take, making sure it is tight and weather-proof. Be sure the grain is dry enough when put up for storage, remembering that moist grain heats and insects like moisture. Don't limit the cleanup to the bin, but also clean the area around the bin. Remove trash, tall weeds and grass or other debris which can harbor rats and mice. Also make sure the area around the bin is free of grain, and be sure to cover all vents with screen or hard ware cloth. Finally, make regular checks for moisture and insects, treating if necessary.

With winter not too far off, feeding time is also nearing. Urea is receiving a lot of play, and the following information may prove helpful.

Urea is a non-protein nitrogen compound which through bacterial action in the rumen and in the presence of readily available carbohydrates is converted into protein usable by ruminants. Readily available carbohydrates are such feeds as molasses and the grains of corn, wheat, barley and sorghums. Correct amounts of urea thoroughly mixed with molasses or the grains gives comparable feeding results to the vegetable protein supplements.

The following points should be considered if urea is fed to cattle.

1. Mixtures containing urea require thorough mechanical mixing.
2. Getting cattle adjusted to feeds containing urea is very important. Range cattle may be fed 1/4th of their daily supplemental protein allowance for the first 3 days, then gradually increase until they are receiving their full daily protein requirement within two weeks.
3. Urea may make up 1/3rd of the total protein in a supplement.
4. Urea may make up 1% of the total ration.
5. Urea is most efficiently used when fed with a readily digestible carbohydrate, and for each pound of urea in a mixture, add 7 to 8 pounds of ground grain or 9 to 10 lbs. of molasses.

Urea probably serves no useful purpose when included in a ration that is already adequate in protein.

From a quality standpoint, the basic objective in cotton harvesting is to keep moisture and trash content to a minimum. Their removal at the gin creates a major quality preservation problem. Excessive moisture and the presence of green leaves also cause quality losses in storage.

The moisture and trash content factor in seed cotton is related to prevailing weather, plant condition and machine adjustment and operation. Important factors to consider are: moisture of seed cotton in the field should be 10% or less. Machines must be conditioned prior to harvesting and kept in adjustment as directed by plant and field conditions. Operators must be trained and supervised. A specific service program should be followed. With excess lubrication removed. Also, don't mix seed cotton of varying trash and moisture content in the same truck or trailer. True, we can't do much about the weather, but we can stay out of the fields in the early morning until plants dry. Try these steps and see if your results at the gin are not more pleasing.

Soils of Motley County will be Classified in New Survey Work

A standard soil survey is now in progress in Motley County, according to an announcement by Erwin Willard, Work Unit Conservationist of the local office. He said two soil scientists from Paducah work unit, Johnson Hajek and Conrad Neitsch, will make the survey.

Soil surveys consist of an inventory of our most important natural resource. Soil series will be separated and plotted on aerial photographs, with chemical and physical properties, such as depth and texture, permeability, underlying materials and other characteristics will be recorded.

These records will serve as a basis for classifying the soils in a world wide classification system. Future research in soils will be geared to this new system, Willard said.

He declared about 33 soil series are presently recognized in Motley County. As new soils are found they will be named and classified.

When the survey is completed a report of county soils will be published. The report will consist of an aerial map showing location of various soils in the county. A description of the soils will also be published, giving estimated and predicted yields and also the recommended capability unit for each soil mapped unit.

As the survey progresses, information concerning the soils will be available at the local office. The surveys are made in cooperation with Texas A&M Experiment Stations.

The surveys are also useful to engineers in road construction, Willard said, and to pipe line construction and soil mechanics. The surveys will aid in locating road building materials, and gravel deposits and will give depth to bed rock, red bed, etc. The surveys are also helpful to geologists, land owners and appraisers.

At the Springs Lions Club, it was announced this week. The unit will be located at the school, from 1:00 to 7:00 p.m. Everyone is urged to visit the unit and have a chest x-ray made.

Republicans likewise gave approval at their state convention to the idea of modernizing the 1876 constitution. But a long row lies ahead. Already many are expressing doubt as to the wisdom of a complete revision.

It would be a long process. First, the Legislature would ask the voters to approve the calling of a constitutional convention. Then, presumably, delegates to the convention would be elected. Their final product would go to the Legislature for submission to the voters for approval or rejection.

Governor Connally's suggested route would be to set up a cabinet system like the federal government. This would give the governor responsibility for all phases of state government.

Among subjects scheduled for new looks are:
* Alternative sources of irrigation water for West Texas, including possible diversions from surplus East Texas basins.

* Reduction of water quantities from San Antonio's surface water supply, originally tagged for delivery to lower Rio Grande Valley for new irrigation.

* Importing water into or above Highland Lakes in the Colorado River basin.

* New sources of industrial and municipal water for Abilene, San Angelo, Odessa, Lubbock and the Trans Pecos-El Paso areas.

Board also will cooperate with the U.S. Bureau of Reclamation in determining costs of delivering water to West Texas, utilizing a pump-back system up the Colorado River channel.

Students Portray Matador Teachers

by Carol Martin

Members of the student body presented a program under the direction of Mrs. Reece Timmons for the Matador Lions Club, Tuesday night, Sept. 20, at the American Legion building.

The program was entitled "The Road Not Taken." The students portrayed the ambitions of the Matador teachers, which they had at one time, but did not choose to follow.

Karol King portrayed Supt. Charles Johnson as a punch drunk, cauliflower-eared, brook en down fighter, named Killer Johnson. Portraying Mr. Moore as a star cowboy with a fast draw, was Coy Franks.

Imitating Mr. Byerley as a doctor, was Terry Keltz with the aid of two nurses, Judy Pitts and Deborah Tilson. Mr. Myers' secret ambition was to be a hair stylist as acted out by Charles Meador who was assisted by Patsy Green as his client.

Rosanne Terry portrayed Mrs. Timmons as a sloppy house keeper in her palatial pigpen home Gary Markham and Kathy Lawrence portrayed Mr. and Mrs. A.L. Fair, who lived on a hill farm in Arkansas. Judy Gwinn imitated Mrs. Gilbreath as a "red-hot mama" singing in a night club in Las Vegas. Helping as prompter was Carol Martin. Larry Elliott was Master of Ceremonies.

Twirlers Perform At Spur Pep Rally

by Karol King

Matador Drum and Bugle Corps majorettes performed to "Rock Around the Clock," Friday afternoon at the Matador vs Spur Pep Rally, in the high school auditorium, Friday, Sept. 23.

Larry Elliott, Gary Markham, and Terry Keltz were recognized by the cheerleaders for helping with the signs that decorate the school building each week. The MHS students did not realize that these boys possessed artistic talents and were impressed by the unique victory posters the boys had designed and painted.

Season Starts For College Students

The student body was then asked to "growl." Since the football players growl on the field to show their hustle and fire, it seems appropriate that this same spirit should be shown at the pep rallies, also.

Speeches were given by Wayland Moore, MHS principal; Joey Meador and Larry Bostick, junior class team members; and Earl Byerley, football coach.

Paducah Defeats Malador Mavericks

by Gary Markham

A close battle was fought on Burleson Field, Thursday night, Sept. 22, as the Paducah Junior High team squeezed by the Matador Mavericks with a score of 12-8.

Jackie Bynum kicked off for Matador at 7:30 p.m. Paducah took the ball on their own 30 yard line and promptly made two first downs, fumbled and recovered, made another first, and drove to the goal line for the first touchdown.

Donnie Jackson then took the kickoff on the 30 and made ten yards before being brought down. Matador fumbled and recovered before the quarter changed.

Bynum punted early in the second quarter and Paducah took the ball to their own 25. They ran out of downs and Matador took the punt and drove to the 50 before halfback Robert Elliott broke through the line and raced 50 yards for the Maverick's only touchdown.

Bynum bulldozed through for a two point conversion.

Paducah took the ball and on the first play broke through and raced to the goal line. The score was not counted, however, because of holding penalty against Paducah, and the ball was brought out to the 20. Matador punted to the 49 yard line before the horn sounded for the half with the score 8-6.

Paducah scored again, only 46 seconds into the final period, making the score 12-8. The try for points was futile. Bynum again took the kickoff and bulldozed to the Maverick's own 49. On a long drive, the Mavericks penetrated past the 20, but were penalized back to the 35 for illegal use of hands.

Matador lost yardage and Paducah took over with 38 yards to go. The game ended with Paducah still in possession and the score 12-8 in Paducah's favor.

National 4-H Club Week Observed

County Membership Over Three Hundred

Three hundred and six 4-H members enrolled in ten clubs in Matador County join over two million others in the nation, in celebrating National 4-H Club Week Sept. 24 through Oct. 1. The fourth generation of 4-H boys and girls and some 24 million adults who once were members, are observing the week. Texas enrollment is approximately 84,000. County Agent Bill Sturdivant directs the activities in Matador County. The main objectives of National 4-H Club Week, say leaders, is to acquaint more parents and youngsters with 4-H so they will join the program. Total enrollment in 4-H this year exceeds 24 million. The youngsters, from 9 to 19 year of age, reside in every county in every state. They are about equally divided between farm and non-farm residents, according to reports from the Cooperative Extension Service which supervises and conducts all 4-H work, including training of 525,000 adult and junior volunteer leaders.

Featuring new sheet metal for the first time since its introduction in April of 1965, the Mustang for 1967 is sportier in appearance and livelier than ever before. The 2+2 Fastback model (above) has a new roof line and concave rear panel while the convertible (below) illustrates the thrusting new hood line and deeply inset grille. All Mustangs for 1967 have two-inch wider front and rear tread for improved handling. Options for 1967 include a 320-horsepower, 390 CID V-8 engine and Select Shift Cruise-O-Matic transmission for manual or automatic gear shifting.

This youth program also extends to Puerto Rico which has nearly 33,000 members. There are 96,000 clubs throughout the nation in which the members hold office, plan activities and work on a variety of projects. As interests of youth have changed, 4-H has changed and expanded. The support of 4-H has increased. Nationally 57 donors last year pledged well over $1 billion, according to the National 4-H Service Committee of Chicago. These funds are used for long established 4-H programs and some brand new ones. Scholarships alone will amount to $148,500, and an estimated 600 deserving boys and girls will enjoy national recognition for superior achievement and receive trips to the National 4-H Club Congress held in Chicago last week after Thanksgiving.

Better Scouting Ensured by Goals

(Special to the Tribune) To ensure better Scouting for boys in the South Plains Council, Scouts of America, more than 300 Scout units will review their goals for the year during September, according to Carl Minor, Council Organization and Extension Chairman. Each Cub Scout pack, Boy Scout troop, and Explorer post sets annual goals at the time it applies for a charter from the Scouts of America. Recognition as a part of the national breakthrough for Youth program is given to a Scout unit that attains 75 percent of its goals, Minor explained. Among the goals are trained leadership, membership large enough to make the activities of the Scout unit meaningful and interesting to every boy, a well-balanced program, adequate finances to make the program a reality, and individual and Scout unit service projects. Cub Scout packs set specific goals related to the use of the Scout method, Boy Scout troops

49. End Max Barton took Larry Bostick's aerial inside the ten yard line but the offense failed to click and Spur resumed control after another pass proved too tall for Barton. The Bulldogs moved to the Matador 45 and shifty halfback Larry Powell went into the end zone on a pass play with 2:30 remaining in the third quarter.

In the final stanza, Matador moved to the Spur 36 but lost possession on a fumble. The Matadors resumed the drive on the next play, however, as Spur quarterback Reynolds, surrounded by red jerseys passed into the hands of cornerback Mark Timmons. Larry Bynum and Joey Meador grounded out first downs for the red and black and Bynum rammed over the line and into pay dirt with 9:40 left on the clock. Try for extra points failed.

The final tally was made on a fumble recovery by Spur which Powell ran for the score on the next play. Extra points were good and the final score was 48-6.
