DUST

I had rather see a street with a few more cigarettes, better than a street with a few more cigars. I have seen a woman smoke a cigarette and as if she enjoyed it, and I have seen a man smoke a cigar and as if he enjoyed it. I wish to quarrel with no one, but I wish to see a man and a woman of their sex, their place in the world, and their part to play in it. I have yet to do grace to a cigarette and wear a pair of shoes. Perhaps I am getting narrow.

Something bewitching about the deserted streets in the morning. Glistening, polished with the countless wheels. The tall buildings of their sole purpose be the night sky. White lights waiting for another in its first wedges of weary-tired car whines and is gone. A cargo on their way to an unknown destination. Silence—the glistering ball-room after the dance.

Most favorable thing I heard about Texas was Molyneaux who decided to show that a native born Texan decide to live elsewhere, the natural desire of the human animal to taste the another pasture, it is a must really have a bag says it is size never get enough of it, which is not true of our population. Another part of the become restless. I have yet to be a reason for this, I can't think of it.

Matador and Matador have arranged to have a constant and adequate supply of water heaters now on display. Cottle County Votes Wet As Nearest "Oasis"

Thirty citizens of Motley county who wish to quench the arid feeling in their throats will have to drive at least 19 miles east of Matador after Sept. 15 to Cottle county when the sale of beer is made legal in the state of Texas. Beer will be legalized in 130 of the 254 counties in Texas.

While a small vote was cast in the Roaring Springs box, every issue voted upon carried.

The result of the votes cast in the county are as follows: For repeal 172, against 201. For 3.2 beer 174, against 210. For bonds 205, against 152.

SCARLET RIVER

Tom Keene comes to the Rogue Theatre, Matador, Texas, this Friday and Saturday in his latest talking picture entitled "Scarlet River". Along with Keene in the cast is the famous stuttering man, Roscoe Ates, and the good looking Lois Wilson.

This picture is somewhat different from the old type western picture, in that the impossible, shoot 'em in the neck element is no longer there. The action is highly possible, and highly entertaining. The modern Tom Keene pictures are also given somewhat to music.

THE OLD DARK HOUSE

Boris Karloff, the monster of "Frankenstein", "The Mummy", etc. is coming to the Rogue Sunday and Monday in one of his latest character portrayals—this time its in "The Old Dark House."

This picture is one which was not made for the weak hearted, there is the old dark house, spirits here and there, rain, darkness, lightning, shadows, screams and muffled footsteps, mystery—its a picture made strictly for those who like thrills and suspense. If you liked "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde", then you will certainly enjoy "Old Dark House"—Sunday Matinee and Monday night.

MINISTER BEN WEST TO GO TO PORT ARTHUR

Minister Ben West is to resume his work with the downtown Eleventh Street Church of Christ in Port Arthur about Sept. 20th. He and Mrs. West are to drive through in their car. Their parsonage is completely furnished and they will move none of their furnishings from here.

Minister West has preached for the Eleventh Street Church before. Many of the members of the church are friends of college days at Huntsville and Houston, some of whom were co-laborers in the First Church, Houston where Bro. West was Minister for five years.

His year's leave of absence from the Paducah church expires in Oct., and that church has released him so that he may go to the larger service in Port Arthur.

Mr. S. E. Swim of Vernon and daughter, Miss Ruby, a teacher in the Garland public schools, have been visiting in the home of their son and brother, Mr. J. T. Swim.

Matador Mayor Dies Suddenly Wed. Nite

Walter Reeves, Mayor of Matador, well-to-do retired cattleman and a resident of Motley county for 42 years, died suddenly at his home in Matador Wednesday night. Mr. Reeves had retired early after complaining of not feeling well, aroused his family about 11 o'clock and a physician was immediately summoned. Death came a short time after the doctors arrival.

Mr. Reeves was one of the true pioneers of the county. Perhaps no man in this section of Texas enjoyed a wider friendship or had a more active part in the history of Motley county.

DESCRIBES FARM ADJUSTMENT PLAN

Agricultural College President Says Federal Program Seeks to Coordinate Production with Reduced Exports

The Federal farm adjustment program is partly guided by the belief that export of agricultural commodities will not soon recover its volume of five or ten years ago. In the opinion of F. D. Farrell, President Kansas Agricultural College, writing in the August issue of the American Bankers Association Journal.

"Nobody knows whether the farm adjustment program will succeed," writes Mr. Farrell. "Its sponsors describe it frankly as an experiment. It seeks to socialize agriculture at least to the extent that farmers, in what is believed to be the public interest, will restrain their production activities and that processors, distributors and consumers will contribute something toward paying farmers for exercising this restraint. The adjustment programs definitely are based on the fact that prices are determined primarily by supply and demand. They also are based on the assumption that the export business in agricultural commodities will not soon return to its volume of five or ten years ago.

Dependence on Public Support
"The plan offers wheat price insurance for 1933, 1934 and 1935, for the domestically consumed portion of the wheat crop. The insured price is to be sufficiently high to give the domestically consumed portion of the wheat crop pre-war purchasing power. If the plan is as effective as its sponsors hope it will be, the reduction in supply may influence wheat prices so that the entire wheat crop will have pre-war purchasing power.

"If the adjustment program succeeds, its launching probably will mark the end of an era of extreme individualism in agriculture in the United States," says Mr. Farrell.

"Recent fundamental changes led Secretary Wallace to say, 'What we really have to do is to change the whole psychology of the people of the United States.' This is a large order. It involves the whole program of farm adjustment as well as the larger national economic program, of which farm adjustment is a part. If the people decline to participate in the program to the extent necessary to give the experiment a fair trial, we shall never know whether farm adjustment as now proposed would have succeeded or not if it had been given a fair trial."

BANKERS PREPARE FARM FINANCE BOOK

Tells Bankers and Farmers What to Consider in Making Sound Loans

A book on "Making Farm Investments Safe" has been prepared by the Agricultural Commission of the American Bankers Association, summarizing material published by it during the past ten years. It presents a compendium of scientific facts, practice and experience in farming, with timely and helpful suggestions to serve as a reference and guide in the daily routine of banking and farming. From it practical workers in these fields can obtain an idea as to what extent and in what manner farm loans should be limited by soil erosion, weeds, plant diseases, rodents and fire hazards, etc. The book also indicates how much is added to the security of a farm loan by the farmer who keeps accounts and practices good business methods, as well as the extent to which loans are safeguarded by crop rotation, production of legumes, judicious use of commercial fertilizers, the use of quality seed and the providing of home grown feeds.

Another section sets forth the precautions that should be exercised by both the banker and farmer when negotiating loans to increase or improve dairy production, or beef, sheep, swine or poultry production, as well as what factors should be considered in the economic marketing of products and the way efficiency in production affects efficiency in marketing. Many other everyday details of farm life that have a practical financial significance are treated in the book. A particular important section deals with experience with farm leases and another with directed farm credit.

This pastor is indeed gratified with the attendance at Sunday school and the Leagues for the last two weeks.

Our fourth Quarterly Conference Aug. 20 was good—a record attendance and much optimism expressed and shown. Our revival begins here Wednesday night, Aug. 30th with Rev. James E. Harrell of Lorraine doing the preaching and our local people leading and directing the music. Everybody invited to take part in these services. The membership is urged to get into the meeting from the very first service.

Recently about a dozen of Governors and Secretary of War, Dern, honored us with their presence. They went on a "rubber-necking" expedition to the various studios. Mr. Mayer, the Vice President of the M. G. M. Studios acted as host. Luncheon was served on one of the stages. Many stars and socialities were present. That night Will Rogers acted as Master of Ceremonies at a banquet given at the Ambassador Hotel. With Roger's wit and humor the atmosphere was filled with a raucous din of hilarity. At midnight all these notables attended a performance of the "Gold Diggers of 1933" at Grauman's Chinese Theatre. The streets leading to this theatre were blazing with bright lights, flags, banners and bunting flapped in the evening breezes making a multi-colored canopy overhead. The cavalcade was escorted by gaily dressed motor cycle police. It all went off brilliantly except there was one fly in the ointment. When a certain governor passed, his name was clearly legible on the side of his car, he bowed to right and he bowed to the left and there was a strained smile on his face—why strained you may ask—because no cheers, no applause greeted him only a ominous silence that was shot thru with malevolent looks.

Louise Glosser Hale whose passing we all mourned was not only a good character actress but, what is of much more importance, a good woman. She was well bred, cultured and travelled and the author and co-author of many books. Her dying wish was to have her body cremated and she did not wish any one to send flowers. She preferred that such money as would have been spent for them was to be given to charity, so that the living might benefit from it. Her will left many bequests to charitable organizations. So even to the last she was solicitous of the welfare of others less fortunate than herself.

Motion pictures were first projected on the screen May 20th, 1895, at 156 Broadway New York City, by the Lathams. In 38 years much water has flowed under the bridge. Motion pictures are based on a defect of vision—the image being retained for a fraction of time after the object that produced it has been withdrawn. The ten biggest money-making stars of 1931-32 mentioned in their respective order are: Marie Dressler, Janet Gaynor, Joan Crawford, Charles Farrell, Greta Garbo, Norma Shearer, Wallace Beery, Clark Gable, Will Rogers and Joe E. Brown.

TONSIL OPERATION

B. S. Watson of the Tee Pee Flat community was removed to the Lubbock Sanitarium Tuesday where he underwent an operation for the removal of his tonsils. The News wishes him speedy recovery. The eight days revival was a refreshing time. The church has not had an evangelist that was so universally satisfactory as Mr. Fitzgerald. Every sermon was a gospel gem and reached the hearts of all who attended regularly. There were seven additions, six of whom were baptized Sunday night. The church is revived and determined.
