New School Building Loan Sought

Application Made To Texas

Lubbock Engineer Makes Estimate Buildings Needed By Local School

Possible far reaching benefits of President Roosevelt's vast public works program as applied to Roaring Springs and Motley county were made clear to a group of officials and leading business men by A. W. Elrod, representing the recently created Texas Rehabilitation and Relief Commission at an informal conference held in the basement of the Methodist Church in Matador last Friday afternoon.

Title 11 of this measure known as the National Industrial Recovery Act is to be the President's unglorified, knockout blow at the depression.

Dr. J. F. Hughes, president of the Roaring Springs School Board, said today that if the loan is granted that it was believed work on the school building could be started in six to eight weeks. Immediate relief for unemployment being the major purpose of the gigantic measure.

The Act put $3,300,000,000.00 in the President's fist for this specific purpose. It is estimated that at least $250,000,000 can be secured for Texas from this enormous Federal fund if prompt action is taken by those in a position to negotiate loans covering eligible projects.

On acceptable projects the Federal Government will make an outright grant or gift of 30 per cent of the construction cost, and will loan the balance of 70 per cent at a low rate of interest.

MEETING HERE
A meeting was held by the Roaring Springs School Board and local business men in the Masonic Building Monday night, where application was made for a loan to build new school buildings here.

The services of a Lubbock architect were secured to make an estimate of the cost to build a new high school building and also the cost of re-modeling the present high school building into a modern grammar school building. Proper project survey papers have already been filed for consideration.

MAY COMPLETE ROADS
Motley county will possibly ask for enough funds to hard surface the two major highways crossing the county. Matador will ask for funds to enlarge the present water system.

A new show every five days will be the new policy at the 1933 State Fair of Texas, it has been announced here by Otto Herold, president of the association. Contract has been closed with the Shuberts to present three big musical shows.

TRAIL DUST

It is painful, especially when we are young, to have our images reflected to dust. Yet reality with its relentless blows usually destroys or disguises them until they no longer fit the picture we had long ago looked in our hearts.

Perhaps the best cattleman I ever knew did not ride a saddle with a white star on the head, nor was the saddle mounted with silver. He was a pot-bellied and bald-headed man who rode a mangy horse that walked carelessly over his head. His saddle of old and twisted leather had withstood too many rains and too many suns. A tom slicker was always hooked with hemp strings under his chin. He had a hobbler rope. As a cowboy he had a secret light in his faded eyes that betrayed a trace of his character. It was not a pre-pendable promptness about him. There was no wash day problem about the daring work he had done. He accepted the lot of a cowboy what it is, hard labor, and no silk of romance into what he believed.

Grass has greened every spring now, but I remember a cowboy but as a man of life honestly, without pretense.

Men because their mellowness with the wine. Sometimes their silences are longer than the extended silences of younger men. They know what is false. One of the experiences of my life was the spoken wisdom of an old man whose memory I revered.

He was sundown and he drove his old car. I sat in the seat holding as best I could, my covered body of a dead man. He was part of a searching party and he had found him drowned before. It was decided to take him on to the under-land and myself and the dead man for twenty days. I knew he had lived an honest and good life. Nothing so vividly of that the philosophy of his words as he drove this is his last ride.

He will no longer be and fears that we are. We value the life until it is too late. The best happiness I have known is when my children were on my lap at evening and I was finished. I did not know it was my happy life is so short. Both of us may be on the same road in a few days later I followed the same road and moved beside his casket. Life is so short, it pays.

T. A. (MAC) McDONALD MARCHES TO ALTAR IN WASHINGTON SUNDAY

Burning the well known bridges of bachelorhood behind him, T. A. (Mac) McDonald, popular principal of Roaring Springs Grammar School, who left for a seven weeks tour of the eastern states and Canada with the Omnibus College, was married to Miss Dorothy Roberts at the National City Church in Washington, D. C., last Sunday afternoon. Dr. T. T. Roberts performed the ceremony. Directly afterwards the young couple left for Ashbury Park, New Jersey, where they joined the Omnibus College to continue the rest of the trip. The College permitted Miss Lorene Fryar, Miss Julia Luckett and Cecil Godfrey, all Motley county friends of Mr. McDonald, to remain over for the marriage ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. McDonald declined an offer from the Omnibus College to be married in The Little Church Around The Corner in New York City, with all expenses paid, which would have received national publicity, as other arrangements had already been made.

The News wishes to extend congratulations to this young couple who have youth, love and love of life, as they step side by side into the now strewn path that leads into the distant and uncertain horizons. May the rose petals of happiness continue to bless a long and glorious union.

WALLACE COTTON PLAN ALLOWS FARMERS CASH OR OPTION ON STAPLE

CAMPAIGN TO REDUCE COTTON BY TEN MILLION ACRES STARTS NEXT WEEK

What the Star-Telegram in editorial terms, "A Gravy Train with the cotton farmer as preferred passenger", starts next week when the campaign to reduce cotton by ten million acres gets under way. Meetings will be called by county agricultural agents or other representatives where the plan will be explained to growers.

The Wallace Plan will entitle the farmer to a cash rent of from $4 to $20 per acre based on the production of the land, for each acre plowed under.

If the farmer elects to take option on cotton already owned by the government at 6 cents per pound, to be sold at any time he decided it ought to be sold, he may receive rental payment of from $6 to $12 per acre.

Land on which rental is paid can not be planted in anything to sell off the farm. It may be left idle.

The voluntary agreements or contracts to be signed by producers will constitute an irrevocable offer which may be accepted or rejected.

Another industry of Texas which leads the world is the production of polo ponies, this state producing a total of 90 per cent of all ponies played on in this country.

MAYTAG COMPANY USES MANY NEWSPAPERS TO ANNOUNCE 'NEW DEAL'

To announce a "New Deal" to the Texas and Southern Louisiana Housewives, The Maytag Company of Newton, Iowa, is using 83 newspapers in the territory covered by Maytag Southwestern Company, distributors of Maytag Washers in Texas and Southern Louisiana.

The distributing company which has its headquarters at 2115 Griffin Street, Dallas, Texas, reports a sizeable increase in business with better business conditions, and with the new low prices expects even a greater increase. For the month of May 1933 there was an increase of exactly 79.9 per cent over the same month in 1932.

Thacker Supply Company has recently become Maytag distributor for Motley county.

Gulf Display At Century of Progress

"Everything in action"—this is the outstanding impression of the exhibition displayed by the Gulf Refining Company at Chicago's Century of Progress. Although featuring realistic airplane and racing car rides, a beautiful Oil Fountain, and one of the largest automobile cylinders ever built, the Gulf exhibit is fundamentally practical and instructive.

Even the huge auto cylinder, reaching 29 feet towards the ceiling, gives a lesson in power. In the cylinder a large piston operates, showing, with the aid of lights, intake and exhaust and bringing out the truth that "fresh gas packs power." At the base of the cylinder three shelves rotate, displaying miniature models of an airplane, a racing car, and a motor boat. In this section of the Gulf display, visitors also find a cut-away Chrysler marine engine, an Evinrude outboard motor which established a world's record, a Cummings Diesel engine, a Westinghouse Farm Lighting Plant, and four Gulf Service Station Pumps.

Every Graduate In A Good Position

That was the honest record and the motto of the outstanding business college of the United States until the world-wide depression struck us.

With business again gaining momentum and with the optimism our people possess—and with the faith and confidence in our leader in Washington—it seems likely at this time that the Business College graduate in the future will enjoy an even greater prestige and have a better choice of business opportunities than ever before.

There are many good business training schools in America. They survive in competition with schools whose services are free, because they fill an important place in our general educational scheme. Most of these schools—and we are glad to include ours among them—are improving year by year. Good teachers are maintained in our school on a yearly salary basis, instead of eight or nine months. Good courses of study, good executive management, a good student body, good equipment and good facilities for the placement of graduates are considered the most important factors of the Tyler Commercial College and School of Business Administration.

The most valuable asset that any institution depending upon the public for patronage can have is a reputation for leadership in its field. The name of a school on a diploma must give prestige to its graduates, otherwise the applicant for a position is at a great disadvantage.

The Tyler Commercial College and School of Business Administration has been the leader in its field for thirty-two years. Every business training school that has been in existence long enough to be familiar with schools will vouch for this statement.

Our school is accredited by the National Association of Accredited Commercial Schools. Our graduates are preferred by the larger business concerns throughout the United States. It costs no more to attend our school that has both a national and international reputation than it does to a small school. Fill in the coupon below for our current catalog, "Achieving Success in Business." It is yours for the asking.

Modern Electric Service a Partner of Industry

Modern transmission lines has played an important part in the progress and development of West Texas. With a new era of expansion awaiting this region in the next few years—this economical and elastic power supply is destined to play an even greater role in the industrial drama here.

Electricity has been the equalizing force that has enabled progressive small towns to compete on an equal basis with large centers of population. Because of the inexpensive power supply furnished to the West Texas Utilities Company, it is possible for Texas cities to go after, and secure, the value of industrial establishments. Much progress has been made during the past ten years—and considerable advances will be made during the coming decade.

The West Texas Utilities Company, serving progressive cities, towns and communities in the West Texas Opportunity, will continue to work for the benefit of West Texas. With three major generating plants, more than 2,600 miles of transmission lines and scores of office buildings throughout the 250,000 square miles it serves, the company's future and yours are inseparably linked together. We will accomplish marvels of progress in the next few years.

Hollywood

By MARSHALL FISKE (Special Correspondent) To The News

Generalizations are often apt to be unjust, unfair—so many exceptions can be cited that give the lie to the statement. I will confine myself, therefore, to saying that there are some mothers in Hollywood who are guilty of a grave misdemeanor. This is generally the result of ignorance, vanity and blinding love for their offspring. These mothers I accuse of killing the finest character trait of a young child—its charming, unaffected simplicity. But with one fell swoop these mothers change all this and behold their darling little daughter aged four and one-half years with bleached hair, that is marcelled and hennaed, cheeks powdered and rouged, lips carmined with lip-stick, about their little neck a golden necklace from which a large heart is suspended that has a large imitation diamond in its center, their arms adorned with bracelets, black ribbon bows, small wrist watches, their little fingers covered with two or three rings, their nails manicured a deep crimson, on one ankle is a black velvet bow on the other a 'love' or 'slave' anklet. And as to their frocks, instead of something simple you see affairs of silk and satins, beribboned, belaced, bespangled. Most of these vulgarly over-dressed children turn out to be overbearing snobs—children not of the movies are beneath them.

And when these fond, but woefully misguided, mothers take their offspring to the studios the atrocious manners are even worse than their 'get-up'. One of these little bedizzened creatures recently was taken to a director's office on an interview. Her entrance was dramatic, if anything, she turned several 'cart wheels' then she broke out in a tap dance that shook the rafters, and as a climax she did the 'splits'.

When the director recovered sufficiently to talk he asked her how old she was. "How old do you want me to be?" was her insolent quick comeback. The mother roared with laughter at her young daughter's witicism. The resiliencies of the director, however, were not invoked. He replied with an outer calm that belied his inner disgust, "I'm looking for a little girl who is old enough to be polite." No 'cartwheels' were in evidence when she left the office with her mother nor did she favor the director with any more of her 'splits' but perhaps it set the mother to think if she were at all capable of performing such a cerebral act

I am quoting excerpts from a little brochure that is handed all applicants when they register or attempt to register at the Central Casting Corporation. The pertinent statistics this pamphlet contains gives a hint to the wise: "Approximately 17,000 'extras' are registered with the Central Casting Corporation with 30,000 more casual unregistered 'extras' used occasionally to make up large mob scenes, while the motion picture industry for the past seven years has had to offer an average of only 758 jobs for 'extras' daily. Each call for such people makes a specific requirement as to age, appearance, wardrobe and frequently demand is made for ability to speak foreign languages, to sing, dance, play musical instruments, to ride, etc.

"These conditions have the effect of dividing the work among so many of these people that only 58 men out of 6,000 registered averaged three days of work a week or better. Only 20 women out of 10,000 registered averaged three days per week or better."

Do You Know, perhaps, that— Alice White was once a telephone and then a script girl before she became an actress?

William Boyd was once a grocery clerk? Victor McLaglen was once a boxer and a wrestler?

Monte Blue was a lumber jack and mighty handy with the pick and shovel and no mean soap-box orator?

John Gilbert was a former salesman for an Automobile Tire concern, but his mother being an actress, the call of heredity was too great for him to resist?

'Buddy' Rogers was a Jazz Band leader and he is at his old tricks again in a Chicago Nite Club during the duration of the Exposition?

Baby Le Roy who made such an impression in Chevalier's latest picture, "Bed Time Story" has been given a seven year's movie contract. This is 'golden youth' with a vengeance.

Frederic March had a good job, before he entered pictures, in the foreign department of J. P. Morgan & Co.? Perhaps he, too, was on their 'preferred list'.

Methodist Church

The pastor had a good day at Dickens City last Sunday. Good reports from our work here. Those who availed themselves of the opportunity had a treat after Sunday school. Rev. A. E. Butterfield, who spent years as a Missionary to the Indians in Oklahoma, preached to the delight of all who heard him. His coming was unannounced, but we were glad to have him.

Hope to see each one in his place next Sunday. Sunday school at 10 a. m., preaching at 11 a. m. by the pastor. At the evening hour we will have a combination service. Will have a short program in the beginning consisting of readings, little playlet and one or two songs, honoring our fathers. The pastor will follow up the program with a short sermon to the men, young men and boys of the entire community. We give you an invitation to attend all of the services Sunday. Especially are we anxious for all the men to be present.

Thursday night, June 29, we will have our Lawn Party on the church lawn in honor of our men. We want each male member of the church, each man who is Methodist inclined, and each one who is a friend to the Methodist church to be present. We will have an informal program, consisting of readings, games, negro quartet, and a 15 minute address by our outstanding layman, then followed by eight refreshments. Remember the date and make your plans to be there.

On the whole the work of our church goes well. We will welcome you to all of the services.

Command us if we can help you in any way.

"The Friendly Church."
T. MARVIN McBRAYER,
Pastor.

W. M. S. Notes

The Methodist ladies met Monday in their regular Bible Study with Mrs. Weatherall as leader.

After the song service with prayer by Mrs. Keahy, the leader took charge and discussed in a beautiful way chapters 7 and 8 in our Study Book. "Thy will be done in Heaven so on earth—Give us this day our daily bread", were the subjects spoken from.

All the class entered into the discussion of the questions on the lesson.

We have only one more lesson in this Study Book on the "Lord's Prayer". It has been a wonderful study. Those that have not attended have missed a great lesson from this book.

Mrs. Geo. Springer will have charge of this last lesson.

Sorry to report Mrs. Albert Hodges as sick with blood boil in head and unable to attend, we miss each one from their places. Wishing her a speedy recovery.

The President took charge of the business session. Next Monday, June 26 being Social day. The social will be held at the church.

Mesdames Hurst, Braselton and Favers were appointed as entertainment committee.

The Pastor requested the ladies to set the date and make arrangements for the "church lawn" entertainment for the men's banquet, which had to be put off on account of other things interfering. The date has been set for Thursday night, June 29th.

The entertainment committee and refreshment committee will please take notice of this and get busy.

If you are a Methodist or Methodist inclined or should you be a visitor in town come and meet with us and enjoy the program. There will be something said or done that will help you along life's way.

Mrs. W. A. Campbell worded the closing prayer.

Supt. of Publicity.

LUBBOCK OPTOMETRIST TO BE HERE IN JULY

Dr. W. A. Pettey, optometrist of Lubbock will make a return engagement to Roaring Springs and Matador about the 10th of July.

Dr. Pettey, who is a graduate of Southern California University, has been practicing optometry for the past five years. An unusual volume of business while here and at Matador last week will possibly warrant his coming here once each month.

While in Roaring Springs Dr. Pettey has office in the City Drug Store, and in Matador at the Simpson Drug Store.

MEETING OF EX-GRADUATES CALLED JUNE 22

The organization of an Alumni Association has been an interesting topic of conversation among the ex-graduates of the Roaring Springs High School for a long length of time. At last steps are being taken for the establishment of such an organization. Next Thursday evening, June 22 at 8:30 o'clock a meeting of all the ex-graduates of the high school will be called. Invitations have been sent to the majority of the group and a large crowd is expected. We feel that this organization, when started, will prove successful and that it will be of pleasure and of value to the community as a whole.
