PRICE SEVEN CENTS

TRAIL DUST

By DOUGLAS MEADOR

Herd of trumpeting days have passed the melancholy windmill where I used to stand as a boy and watch flights of wild geese. Mysterious as the wild geese, the graceful wedges swoop through the skies like pieces of brown string, swaying at the tilt of a leader's wings. My streams broke their moorings and traveled with the flocks to strange lands and the shores of uncharted seas. When they had vanished into the horizon and only the echo of their voices remained with my thoughts, I swallowed some of the salty tide of fatality. But now I have been there in the skies where the wild geese flew, shared space with the clouds and sped ahead with the wind. Forever unsatisfied, I must live with the conviction that the horizon is not as important as where we stand.

Winter arrived like the lash of a whip across the soft lips of autumn and the single morning glory blossom quivered as a betrayed child. Compassion had fled the skies when the wind fettered its might; summer, like a wounded dove, looked at the frosty dawn with hopeless eyes, but unafraid.

Automatic steering in automobiles may serve a useful purpose but it will never equal the degree of perfection attained with the horse and buggy. The device came as standard equipment if you owned a gentle horse. It required no more attention than trying the reins together and dropping them over the dashboard or wrapping them around the whip stock. These automobile boys are resourceful but we were ahead of them.

Life might be an extended adventure if necessity did not require the sale of luggage in which we pack our dreams.

The chief of a Nigerian tribe used to say: "Our soil belongs to a group of men, some of whom are dead, others alive, but most of them are still to be born." — Bernard Binns in Quote Magazine.

'55 Pontiac On Display

The new 1955 Pontiac embodies more engineering advances in its mechanical make-up than has any model since the introduction of the first Pontiac car in 1926, according to Matador Motor & Implement Co., local Pontiac agency. The new car is on display today.

Mike Hoyle, manager of the Matador firm said the new Pontiac has 109 new features. Heading the new features is the 180 horsepower, overhead valve, Strato-Streak V-8 engine.

Among the many new engineering features of the 1955 Pontiac is the gusher valve cooling system which feeds water directly to the cylinder head and from there to the cylinder block, increasing cooling efficiency and decreasing chances of cylinder walls being distorted by cooler water.

Styling of the 1955 Pontiac is completely new, as are the interiors. All new Pontiacs have 12-volt battery, tubless tires and many other completely new features. The public is cordially invited to visit the showroom and inspect the new car.

VISITING PARENTS
Mrs. Vernon Higginbotham and small daughter, Jan, of Dallas are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bloodworth, who drove to Duncan, Okla., to meet and accompany them here. Their other daughter and family, Lt. and Mrs. L. R. Anderson and baby daughter, Robin, were recent visitors here as they were enroute to Corpus Christi, where Lt. Anderson is being transferred from Pensacola, Florida.

Forty-five years ago the above Matador High School graduating class received their diplomas when this community was little more than a few stores and hitching posts in a vast area of cattle country.

The printed program at the right is an exact reproduction of what may have been the first graduating exercises ever held in Matador. The date was Friday night, April 9, 1909.

In the picture, left to right, standing, Frank Speer (deceased) Beatrix Morris Watson Hines (Wellington, Kan.), C. A. Murry (then principal) now an instructor at West Texas State College, Canyon; Carroll Thompson (suprintendent), Vernon, (Carroll Thompson high school at Lubbock was named for him), Vashli Cammack Teal (Dallas).

Second row: Mamie Williams Martin (San Antonio), Blain Speer (Edinburg), Bessie Morris Williams (Sulphur Springs) and Jack Wofford (deceased).

The photograph was made available through the courtesy of Mrs. Frank Speer of Dickens, and the special trip to Dickens made by Joe Speer of Llaneta, to bring the photo to the Tribune.

Matador Welcome Mat Out for Returning Exes

The red carpet has been unrolled and the welcome mat dusted—Matador is ready for its returning ex-students and teachers. Quantities of "high-on-the-hog" food is being prepared to provide a free buffet supper for former students and their "in-laws". An orchestra has been engaged for the after-dinner open house at the Legion building. Students and former students and teachers are invited.

Everything is without charge to former students and teachers (excepting membership to the ex-student and teacher association). The program begins Friday morning with registration and coffee at the high school building, 9 a. m.

The homecoming football game between the Matador Matadors and the Turkey Turks here on Burleson Field at 8 p. m. promises to be one of the most exciting grid contests of the season. Presale of tickets has been under way here for the past week.

Stores Decorated
Many Matador business places have decorated their windows to honor the returning exes, displaying old school pictures, programs, annuals and souvenirs of former students. Interest in the homecoming has grown rapidly during the past week and officials expect a peak attendance.

Hotels here have reported reservations from other states, although most of the former students and teachers have made plans to visit friends and relatives either in Matador or in this area.

Memorial Poppy Sale Announced

Announcement was made this week of the forthcoming Memorial poppy sale, sponsored annually by the Fleming Post-American Legion, Auxiliary.

Mrs. H. H. Schweitzer said date of the poppy sale would be early in November, and that the community chairman will choose a sales day most suitable to their community.

Mrs. Marvin Patton will be in charge of Poppy sales in Matador; Mrs. Marvin Leary, Northfield; Mrs. Edith Martin at Floreat; Mrs. M. S. Thacker, Roaring Springs and Mrs. Ida Morris at Whiteflat.

"Your support of our local poppy sale will be greatly appreciated," Mrs. Schweitzer said. "The success of the Auxiliary program means occupational therapy for disabled veterans and a means of support for their families. The poppy was adopted as The American Legion official flower in its National convention in 1930 and the Auxiliary adopted it as its official flower at its first National convention in 1921. It has become a memorial to all of those who have died in battle under the Stars and Stripes."

Pete LaMaster Is GOP By Conviction

Pete LaMaster, candidate for Congressman of the 18th district on the Republican ticket, says he is "a Republican by conviction."

Candidate LaMaster accompanied by his pretty wife visited in Matador Sunday afternoon. The young couple were enroute to Childress and thence on to their home in Perryton.

"My convictions," he said, "are not entirely in keeping with the Democratic party as it has been controlled by the radical left-wing element and big city machines. I find that my convictions more closely conform to those of the Eisenhower administration, and for that reason, I choose to run as a Republican, although I was born and reared a Democrat."

Mr. LaMaster is a farmer in Ochiltree county. His friends and neighbors, many of whom have known him all his life, have raised the funds to pay the cost of his campaign.

Girl in Coma Is Improving

FLASH: Late report Thursday afternoon is that Karen Burns is improving and regaining consciousness.

Karen Burns, 14-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Burns of Matador, is still unconscious at Stanley Hospital following an automobile accident Saturday night on Highway 70 about two miles south of town.

Janie Norman, 18-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Norman, driver of the almost new Bel Air Chevrolet which went out of control on a curve, was treated for bruises, lacerations about the face and shock.

Glenda Smith, 15-year-old daughter of Mrs. Jake Simpson, third occupant of the car, was not injured. The trio was returning from the Roaring Springs-Girard football game when the accident occurred. Jack Norman said the girls attempted to negotiate the curve while driving too rapidly.

Petitions Ask Route Unchanged

Congressman Walter Rogers last week pledged his support in preventing the Postal Department from deleting the eight-mile Whiteflat to Matador run from the daily Turkey to Matador star route service.

Congressman Rogers, Saturday sent the following telegram to Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield:

"Respectfully request your withdrawal any action concerning discontinuance part of star route No. 50153 from Turkey to Matador, Texas. Patrons and interested citizens want to present evidence to support contention that route should be continued as presently operated. Would appreciate your advising me as to any action contemplated or taken concerning the same. Walter Rogers, Member of Congress."

On the advice of Congressman Rogers, petitions are being circulated in Matador, Whiteflat and Flomot, asking that the route be left unchanged.

The Postal Department has advised that the route will be turned back at Whiteflat since partial service is rendered by RFD. The star route to Whiteflat and Flomot is the only daily public service between the county seat and the two communities.

DEATH CLAIMS A. A. TIPTON

A. A. Tipton, 80, who has been critically ill since July, died at his home in Matador this morning at 4:30.

Funeral services have been set for 3 p. m. Friday, at the First Baptist Church, with the pastor, Rev. Bruce Oliver, in charge. He will be assisted by Rev. W. B. Vaughn of Matador, pastor of Roaring Springs Methodist Church.

Burial will be in East Mound cemetery under direction of Eudy-Seale Funeral Home.

Response to X-Ray Declared Excellent

More than 1,000 residents of this area will have passed before the lens of the State-operated x-ray camera operating in the Legion building until 1 o'clock today.

At 5:30 yesterday total registration was 840 for the day and half. Officials of the Matador Lions Club sponsoring the TB x-ray survey declared the response has been excellent, and considering the county's lowered population, may be above the average in most counties.

Recent visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Allsup were their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Burl Allsup and son and also a daughter, Mrs. Erema Boring, all of Albuquerque, N. M.

Chevrolet Low, Lovely

Never in the history of Chevrolet have so many outstanding changes been made in a single model, as the low and lovely 1955 line which went on display at Campbell Chevrolet this morning.

The new car is about two inches lower, yet has more head room, more shoulder room and more seat room. The V8 engine developing 162 horsepower is the greatest innovation. Two overhead valve sixes are also available (123 HP and 136 HP). It is possible to see all four fenders from the driver's position through the new Sweep-Sight windshield.

Greater driving ease, more safety and economy are features of the new Chevrolet, according to Forrest Campbell, manager of the local agency. All models are equipped with 12-volt battery and tubless tires. A cordial invitation is extended the public to view the new car and receive a souvenir.

Yellowjackets Select Sue Lewis Sweetheart

Roaring Springs Yellowjackets Captain Charlie Long played a good game Saturday night. He did all right at the halftime activities. Flanked by two co-captains, "Fee Wee" Long and Bill Woodin, he kissed Sue Lewis after she had been crowned football sweetheart and presented her with a large box of yellow carnations in behalf of the team.

Little doubt remained at the halftime as to who would win the homecoming game against the Girard Cardinals. The Jackets had 28 points and the Cardinals 6. The Jackets remained undefeated in conference play at the end of the game with a score of 41-12. Bob Stafford scored for the Yellowjackets during each of the four periods of the exciting game.

At the halftime the Roaring Springs pep squad was arranged in a heart formation while a pink convertible circled the field. The car stopped in front of the home stands and Miss Lewis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lewis, was escorted on the field. The ceremony was concluded with approximately 500 cheering fans singing, "Let Me Call You Sweetheart."

President Is Elected
Joe M. (Buz) Thacker was elected president of the Roaring Springs Ex-student and Teacher Association, organized Saturday. Mike Hoyle of Matador, was elected vice-president and Charles Long, secretary-treasurer.

Mrs. Jessie Freeman read a history of the school compiled by Mr. and Mrs. Duff Green, beginning with the first school in 1896, taught in a dugout and then in the rock house until 1917.

Corsages were presented to the first graduates present, being Mrs. E. E. Moss of Lubbock and Mrs. Cal Monteith of Wichita Falls. Both women graduated in 1917.

Also awarded corsages were Mrs. Herman Havis of Lubbock, for having present the most children who graduated from the school, and Mrs. Duff Green for having the largest number of children to graduate. Eight children of Mrs. Green graduated from the Roaring Springs school.

Other corsages were presented to Mrs. Lila McDorman Montgomery of Valera, Texas and Sidney Smith of Pampa, who traveled the farthest distance to attend the homecoming.

Ex-Student Stanley Rose Was Legendary Hollywood Character Bob Thomas Writes

Hollywood lost a colorful character with the recent passing of Stanley Rose. He was well known in literary circles, and tribute was paid him by newspaper columnists who knew him intimately.

"For years" (one columnist writes) "Stanley ran a shop on Hollywood Blvd. where most of our stars bought their books—some by the yard, others to read. Stanley could have been a west-end Damon Runyon if he'd taken time to write the yarns he told us in private. When he turned literary agent, he tried for a year to sell 'Tobacco Road' for $500, but no takers. He also was unsuccessful in interesting a producer in 'The Informer'. But he did sell Bill Saroyan's 'The Human Comedy' to MGM, and more recently Ted Bonnet's 'The Mudlark' to 20th."

Bob Thomas, Hollywood AP correspondent, released the following character sketch, which was published in newspapers over the nation, including the Lubbock Evening Journal, last Wednesday:

"Today we're burying one of Hollywood's richest characters, Stanley Rose, who died broke."

"Stanley was never rich in terms of material wealth. But his life was rich in legend and few men had more friends. I counted myself lucky to be one of them."

"Rose was a fey character who could be counted on to do the unpredictable. He proved that in World War I. He had enlisted at 18 and his throat was shot away by the Germans. Attendants put curtains around his bed in the hospital because he wasn't expected to live. But his Texas spirit wouldn't give up that easily.

"He was born in Matador, Tex. and that was ironic. One of his last deals as a book agent was selling the life story of Pat McCormick, the lady bullfighter. Flips A Coin

"After the war, Stanley turned up in Wichita Falls, which was enjoying a boom. When his luck ran out, he flipped a coin to determine whether he would go to Chicago or Hollywood. Chicago lost.

"Stanley set up the Satyr Book Shop on Hollywood Blvd., and it was a landmark for movie stars, novelists, con men and producers for 17 years. One of the young kids who haunted the place was Budd Schulberg. Stanley got ample mention in the lad's first novel, 'What Makes Sammy Run.'

"Stanley knew them all—Chaplin, Pickford, Fairbanks, Griffith, Barrymore. He used to pal around with a one-time boiler-maker named Mack Sennett, among others. He hired a young Fresno to sweep out the store. His name: William Saroyan.

"Stanley used to take a load of books and peddle them down the halls of the studio offices. Saroyan pushed the cart for him.

"The lack of business sense finally did Stanley in. Out-of-work actors and writers spent hours in his shop reading books they never bought. Whatever profits came in promptly vanished ed in permanent loans to hangers-on.

"He sold out the shop and left Hollywood to raise tomatoes in the Imperial Valley with a man who is remembered only as 'Moonface.' But they soon found themselves out of the farming business and Stanley returned to Hollywood as a writer's agent.

"A bookie staked him to an office. One of Stanley's first big deals was establishing his former employee, Saroyan, as a big-name author. He sold Louis B. Mayer on the idea of having Saroyan take full charge in making a movie out of 'The Human Comedy.'

$60,000 Bonanza
"MGM gave them a check for $60,000. Saroyan and Rose revealed the check around with them. No one would cash it for them.

"Stanley acted as a catalyst for many a hopeful author who wanted to break into print. He put together Audie Murphy and a columnist's leg man named Spec McClure. Out of the association came Murphy's autobiography, 'To Hell and Back', which is now being filmed.

"Rose encouraged the serious ambitions of Ted Bonnet, press agent for Cecil B. DeMille and Walter Wanger. Bonnet turned out 'The Mudlark' which 20th-Fox bought for around $100,000.

"One of Stanley's last big flings was a party to promote an actor he was agenting. It attracted a wide range of his friends—producer Arthur Freed, artist Henry Clive, several actors, columnists, sport editors, ranchers, bums, etc.

"In his last months, he was in and out of the Veterans' Hospital and various Hollywood hotels. He has left little to his wife Maud and their son Bruce. But he brightened the lives of hundreds of people in and around Hollywood and he contributed more than one man's share to the literary product of America."

Attended Matador School

Stanley Rose was reared at Matador and attended school here before enlisting in World War I. He made few trips back here however, and during the years was joined in California by his brothers, Olin and Cecil; and his half-brothers, Sammie (who died in 1938) and Jack. Besides his wife, son and brothers, he is survived by his mother, Mrs. Joe Gaines of Matador, and a nephew, Stanley Dan Level of Amarillo.

Funeral services were held at 11 a. m. Wednesday, Oct. 20 in Pierce Brothers Hollywood Chapel on Santa Monica boulevard.

Like most natives of the Texas Panhandle, LeRoy "Pete" LaMaster was born a Democrat. In recent years he has come to the conclusion that his political views are not entirely in keeping with those of the Democratic Party, as it has been controlled and operated by the radical left wing element and big city machines. Pete finds that his convictions more closely conform to those of the Eisenhower administration . . . and for that reason, he chooses to run on the Republican ticket.

Pete supported Eisenhower in 1952 and he feels that to successfully carry out his program, he needs the continued help of all the free thinking people who elected him to office.

Pete believes he can render a greater service to his district as a Republican representative.

Not only can he join the Eisenhower Republican ranks without altering his own political views, but in doing so, he will be able to give full support to the Eisenhower administration. At the same time, he will be in a position to fill key committee assignments in Congress . . . thus strengthening the voice of the Panhandle in Washington.

It is Pete's greatest desire to serve the people of the 18th District . . . and he believes he can do it best as a Republican. He asks that you give this thought full consideration before you cast your vote in the coming congressional election.

Taxpayers Offered Rent Bill Saving

"Something for nothing" isn't altogether a thing of the past. That is the belief of members of the State Courts Housing Committee of the State Bar of Texas who are urging passage of Amendment Number Four at the November 2 general election. The Amendment which would provide for the construction of two state office buildings, without additional taxes, and as a saving of $250,000 per year now being paid in rent by state agencies housed outside the Capitol. That is about as close as you can get to "something for nothing," they believe.

The Committee, headed by Ed Gossett of Dallas, is one of many groups throughout the state who have given their endorsement to this Amendment. It provides for the transfer of surplus money in the Confederate Pension fund to a building fund for a State Court building to house the Supreme Court, Court of Criminal Appeals, Court of Civil Appeals, State Library, and Attorney General's office and for a State Office building to house state agencies now paying rent for office space outside the Capitol.

Endorsement of the amendment has been given by Governor Allan Shivers, the State Legislature, four former governors and seven former attorneys general, the State Bar of Texas, the Texas State Employees Association and many other groups.

Chief Justice J. E. Hickman and U. S. Senator Price Daniel have expressed their approval of the amendment and cited crowded conditions in the State Capitol as evidence of the need for the buildings. State employees are now forced to work in cramped cubbyhole offices in the basement and on stair landings, they pointed out.

Matador School Organized 1891

The Matador school was organized in the fall of 1891, soon after the final organization of the county and town.

First school house was a small frame building located near the east edge of the town. From this building the school was moved to the old Masonic lodge building located where the city hall now stands. In 1898 a three-room frame building was erected to house the eight grades of the school.

In 1911 a three story brick building was erected near the former site of the Church of Christ, and this was used until the building of the present high school in 1925.

The first teacher, Mr. Clarence Neugent, opened school in February, 1892, with fourteen students. Mr. Neugent was an early settler and well-known for his part in shooting his right big toe off in an early gun battle. Mr. Neugent held a second grade certificate.

Another early-day teacher was Mrs. Allen Bridges, a niece of the late Dr. H. H. Harris. She and her husband came here from Mississippi, and after living here and in east Texas for a number of years, they returned to Mississippi. Mrs. Bridges is a patient in the Carter Convalescent Home in Jackson, Miss., at this time.

DECEASED LIST OF FORMER STUDENTS

Deceased list of former students who attended Matador schools has been compiled, and will be posted in the high school building during Homecoming.

Since no records have been kept of the deceased, the committee depended almost entirely on memory to compile the list, and many dates are therefore missing.

Any omission of a name or date is unintentional on the part of those who worked on the list, and the cooperation of anyone knowing of a name that has been omitted, who will supply same, will be greatly appreciated.

MATADOR MAVERICKS SEASON SUCCESSFUL

The Matador Mavericks brought their football season to a successful close by beating the Quitaque Panthers, 20-0 last Thursday, October 21.

The Mavericks started the season off with a bang by tramping the Estelline Cubs 36-0. Next we played the Quitaque Panthers and beat them 39-6. We then played Lakeview and defeated them 18-6.

We went through the first half of the season undefeated, but in the fourth game the Turkey Turks defeated us 32-6. We came back to win the next game 32-12 against the Silverton Owls. Our last game was successful and we beat the Quitaque Panthers 20-0.

Our starting lineup was Harry Campbell, Lewis Fair, Tommy Scaff, Jimmy Irwin, Larry Hoyle, Ronald Bailey, Mike Groves, Gerald Pipkin, Ramey Brandon, Bobby Cross and Manuel Nichols.

Others in the seventh grade are: Dahl Clower, Gary Jenkins, James Smalley, Harry Hamilton, Andy Fish, Thomas Edwards, Pete Chambliss, Darrel Crump, Robin Darsey and Clinton Burns.

In the sixth grade are: Guy Campbell, Dink Wilson, Clinton Thrasher and Carter Luckett.

JUDGE HAMILTON RETURNS TO SCHOOL

Yes, Judge Hamilton went back to school Wednesday of last week. At the invitation of the fourth grade and his granddaughter, Jane Hamilton, who is in the fourth grade, Judge told interesting stories of early pioneer life in Motley County. His stories of early Indians at Roaring Springs, and the story of two cowboys at the Matador Ranch almost shooting each other to death were outstanding. He held the children spell-bound when he told in detail the story of Cynthia Ann Parker.

The children enjoyed his visit very much and are looking forward to having Mr. "Kid" Kennedy, Patsy Briscoe's great-grandfather up to visit them and tell other pioneer stories. First hand stories add to the study of pioneer life which the fourth grade is using in reading and English.

The first grade was invited to the fourth grade to hear the pioneer stories because Harold Meason, Judge Hamilton's grand son is in the first grade and wanted to hear the stories. Mrs. Coldiron said she had a hard time getting the children calmed down after the visit as they wanted to talk about the Indian stories. They want to visit the fourth grade when Mr. Kennedy speaks.

QUESTION OF THE WEEK

What would you do with a shandygaff???

Clinton Holliman—I would eat it.

Ronald Crump—I would put it in Mr. Stamper's desk.

Sara Carson—I would keep it and love it.

Joyce Lynn—Kick it and hang it up.

Rose Donovan—Train it to do tricks.

Lucretia Edwards—Cut it up and make the senior boys eat it.

C. H. Murphy—Make Frances McMahan eat it.

James Taylor—Trade it in on a Chrysler.

A shandygaff is a beverage made by mixing beer and ginger ale.

STUDENTS PULL COTTON

There seem to be quite a few cotton pullers around M. G. S. this year. A total of 149 grade school students are pulling cotton every day when school turns out. The first graders are trying to average 30 pounds a day.

Out of 80 high school students a total of 32 are pulling cotton.

KAMPUS KLATTER

The girls who went to the Dallas Fair were telling us Monday what a good time they had. They even saw Pete the Python! I don't think Raynita had a very good time on the roller-coaster though.

Wow! You had better be careful when you come to school now. The senior boys have decided to have some law and order around the school house. They even fine themselves!

Everyone that went to the Roaring Springs homecoming really enjoyed it. We hope ours will be just as nice or even better.

Have you heard about the new fad around H.S.H.? Some of the boys are letting their hair grow out. So if you want to be in style, don't go to the barbers!

We were glad to see all the parents around M.H.S. Thursday and Friday. We hope they will come back soon.

Well, I guess this is all for this week. See ya around!

LaMaster Charges Rogers Variable On Beef Supports

LeRoy "Pete" LaMaster, Republican candidate for Congress from the 18th District, has challenged his opponent's stand on price supports on live cattle.

LaMaster, a farmer from Perryton, speaking on television from Amarillo, stated, "I want to make it clear that I am not in favor of price supports on live cattle."

The GOP Candidate also issued a challenge to Rep. Walter Rogers to explain use of tax money for what he charged were salaries of personnel not working in Rogers' Washington office on government business. . . . including the salary of Rogers' campaign manager in Amarillo and other campaign workers in the district.

"My opponent has yet to answer a flat 'yes' or 'no' to any question on current issues," said LaMaster.

"As a taxpayer, I want my opponent to tell the people of the district how he stands on the question of price supports on live cattle," LaMaster said. "I find there is a decided difference of opinion as to where he stands.

The opinions depend on the groups before whom he appears."

He also directed a public question to Rogers regarding the public payroll and additional training of additional employees who spend part of their time working in Texas.

 "Grow Out Of Debt"

In a meeting held in the Commissioners Court room during the afternoon, Pioneer H. H. Campbell asked Congressman Rogers what could be done about cotton allotments which penalize the non-irrigation grower. Mr. Campbell said the dry-land farmer can no longer make a living on the amount of cotton he is allowed to grow.
 The Congressman said he realized the inequality of the condition but that he had been unable to change it despite his strongest efforts.

Mr. Campbell also pointed to the need for more than one year's time of FHA loans and Congressman Rogers agreed, saying, "That is true. The farmer can only grow out of debt."

Congressman Rogers, three members of the Commissioners Court, and a small group of business and professional men were guests of Judge Gilbreath for a steak supper at Bob's Cook Shack previous to the speaking in the courthouse.
