RAIL DUST

By DOUGLAS MEADOR

The mine has been sucked dry and the little town is left a shell. Foundations are empty; monuments to the glory of a community. Stones once held the weight of a broken like brown in a skull. A stubble of corn that once supported the sky is half buried by the sliding mountain of rock and sand. Here is a grotesque monument built by weary hands, stained by sweat; perhaps birth and death were visible in the humble homes that knew lamplight, the fragrance of pine fires, and prayers of love, goodness and evil as their abodes between the iron walls. Mothers held their children close and sang, laughter echoed under the sky. Silence is there now as shadows climb the mountain, except a whispering of crystal stream stumbling rocks in its path.

Big Acreage Sold For State Game Preserve

MORE than 40 square miles of land that was once a part of the historic Matador Land & Cattle Co. ranch, has been sold to the state of Texas as a wildlife management area, according to Texas Game & Fish Commission. The land is located in Cottle County.

The purchase price of 28,250 acres, was $706,538, to be adjusted on the basis of $25 an acre, when final surveys are completed and the exact acreage determined.

The game department will receive one-fourth of the mineral rights.

Three-fourths of the purchase price will be paid from the Pittman-Robinson Funds while the remainder will be paid from the game department funds. Pittman-Robinson Funds are derived from federal excise taxes on guns and ammunition, and are allocated back to the states for use in game conservation projects.

Elliot Cox and George A. Volmers, both of New York City, are sellers of the land.

The big tract of land is located in the northeast corner of the Pease River Cattle Corp. pasture, being approximately 11 miles long and four miles wide. It is the northern border of the pasture and includes the mouth of Tongue River at a point where it empties into Pease River.

L. A. Wilke of the Texas Game, Fish & Oyster Commission Tuesday called the Tribune to obtain information on the history of the Matador Land & Cattle Co. ranch to be used in a future issue of the commission's magazine.

He said money was in escrow for the purchase of the land and that a contract had been signed, although many details yet remain to complete the transaction.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Vern Sanford
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Tex. — Most people connected with the 56th Legislature are comforting themselves with the knowledge that conditioning was installed in the Senate chambers last year.

It may be pretty hot, they say, but a majority of both houses agreed on new tax measures.

House members systematically cut pieces of the big omnibus bill (HB727). As originally passed, it would have raised $200,000,000, mostly from scores of new selective sales taxes on things ranging from face paint to house paint. After members through cutting out the loudest items, it was down to less than $100,000,000.

Speaker Waggoner's "yes" vote Carr stepped in to plead with members to strip to practically nothing so as to "get something to the Senate."

Senate cannot consider a tax bill until it has been passed by the House. But for the Senate, the shattered fragments of HB 727 is like getting four pieces and some broken glass in the invitation to make an omnibus bill.

TASK AHEAD — In the days ahead until May 12, or in the sessions thereafter, the Legislature faces these decisions:

Appropriations — House passed a bill calling for $200,000,000 in general revenue, a bill for $302,000,000. References must be adjusted in reference committee, which produced under the health and sanitation standards placed on Texas producers.

Sen. Ray Roberts of McKinney pushed through a bill that would provide a penalty for allowing cattle to roam on state and national highways and relieve motorists of liability for hitting stock.

A bill tightening licensing regulations of veterinarians also was passed by the Senate. Sen. Andy Rogers of Childress, sponsor, noted that there is no present law to suspend licenses of veterinarians guilty of malpractice.

WHAT'S THE USE — Senators refused, 16-to-15, to take up Sen. A. M. Aikin's bill to improve schools and raise teacher pay.

Those who opposed said passing the bill before tax money is found wouldn't bring a "crying dime" to the teachers.

Hopeful teachers could take some comfort from the fact that some voted against considering the bill said they would favor it when money is on hand.

LOAN SHARK CURB PASS-ED — Texans will probably have an opportunity to vote in November, 1960, on whether to adopt a new approach for regulating lending practices.

Both House and Senate have approved a proposed constitutional amendment that would allow the Legislature to regulate the amount of interest that could be charged. Present 10 per cent ceiling on interest, set in the Constitution, would be abolished.

A constitutional amendment must be approved by the voters at a general election after it has been passed by the Legislature and signed by the governor.

Backers of the change say it will pave the way for driving loan sharks out of Texas. Such a measure has been sought for a number of years and has the backing of Texas Legislative Council.

MORE COLLEGES OKAYED — Texas is on the way to having a new medical school and three new state-supported four-year colleges.

Senate, in a burst of educational zeal, passed bills to (1) elevate Arlington State College between Fort Worth and Dallas to a senior college, (2) make Tarleton State College at Stephenville a four-year college

(3) make Midwestern University at Wichita Falls a four-year State-supported college and (4) establish a new University of Texas medical branch at San Antonio.

All except the Midwestern bill already had been passed by the House.

OPEN MEETINGS APPROVED — Meeting of state, city, county and district boards and their records will be required to be open to the public under a bill given final Senate approval.

Measure that passed was a combination of Sen. Preston Smith's "open meetings" bill and Sen. George Parkhouse's "open records" bill.

Senate Jurisprudence Committee had amended Smith's original proposal to say that closed meetings could be held "for the discussion of appointments or matters which, if made public, might adversely affect the public security or the financial interests of the state or its political subdivisions."

COUNTY AGENT PALLMEYER SAYS:

WET SPRING WEATHER AIDS MESQUITE CONTROL

Control of mesquite has dropped off in the last five years, with drought the major factor.

In 1951 and 1952 over a million acres were treated, but the late and dry springs of these years resulted in very little total kill of mesquite. In 1957, only 20,000 acres were treated, but in 1958 the acreage treated more than tripled.

Mesquite is moving into new areas, and taking over a lot of abandoned cultivated land. It is an aggressive, persistent plant on some 75 million acres of grazing land in the Southwest.

The best time to spray mesquite is in the late spring. The best mixture for single stem plants is 1/2 pound of 2,4,5-T, 1/2 gallon of diesel oil and enough water to make 3 gallons of spray solution per acre. For multiple stem and sprouts regrowth, use 1/2 pound of 2,4,5-T in the mixture.

Brotherhood-WMU Attendance Scant

Rev. Dintzel Leonard, pastor of the Flomot Baptist Church, was guest speaker for the Brotherhood. Theme of his talk was, "Effects of Communism," in which he stressed the obligation of the church in combatting this evil.

A planned missions study program did not materialize for the W. M. U., and instead, Mrs. Ben Keltz, serving as leader, read the story of the organization of the Pearl Harbor Baptist Church.

District W. M. U. Retreat Announcement was made of the District Nine retreat for the Woman's Missionary Union of Plains Baptist Assembly, which will be held Thursday (today) and Friday at Floydada Cabin. Theme of the meeting is "Our Task, Mighty Things."

PIED PINIONS

By Mrs. N.

WHETHER or not this filler feature has been dead, or just lying dormant is debatable, depending on the viewpoint.

Several readers have recently stirred the old sparks of ambition by inquiring when-and-or-if it would appear in print again. Laying aside then, more pressing duties I say with reservations, we (the column and I) have returned.

ONLY thing that makes sandstorms and wind like those of Sunday and Monday, endurable is the fact that it has been called to my attention that whenever we have weather like this, other sections are having tornadoes and cyclones. So thank goodness for sandstorms which we can sweep out instead of being blown out.

FOLLOWING from the Wellington Leader has a parallel here. "When a recent service ended at First Baptist Church, there was an extra child in the nursery. She just didn't belong to anyone. Then her mother rushed in. She had parked her child in the church nursery while she attended the picture show a block away."

In Matador, the "abandoned" was Shane Stevens, 4. However, she wasn't parked at the church while her mother was in the picture show. Helen just plain didn't gather up all her brood when she left church for home one recent Sunday. It wasn't until they reached home and were joined by some friends, who inquired where Shane was, that she was missed. "I saw you drive away," Shane told her mother, "but I didn't cry."

MARTY Don McCaghren, 5, of Amarillo looks like his father all over again, but is much more talkative than W. F. ever was, and keeps his grandparents, Bill and Judine highly entertained.

Once recently while Judine and Marty were sitting in a doctor's waiting room, he conversationally questioned, "Know what happened at church the other night, Judine?" and to her negative answer, continued, "The preacher drowned four people."

WHICH brings to mind Gloria Gatlin's reaction to an announcement made at a morning church service in Abilene, where she and her parents, the Harold Gatlins (she is the former Charene Ketchersid) and their other daughter, Cheryl, lived before moving to Austin last winter.

When the pastor announced that the Lord's Supper would be observed at the evening service, and that everyone was urged to return at that time, Gloria, 4, exclaimed in a loud whisper, "Did you hear that, mommie? You won't have to fix supper tonight, cause we can come back here and eat."

IT was also Gloria who last summer stood silently before the falls at Roaring Springs, and remarked quietly to her mother, "God was here, wasn't He?"

Fountain of Freedoms...a Free Press

True history of the press, since its development five centuries ago, has been a history of restraint. It is natural for men in authority to resent the sting of criticism. It is human for them to be ambitious, and to seek to entrench themselves. Hence rulers of men avoid criticism and disagreement by stifling it. But the courageous men who founded this new nation sought here full freedom for each individual. When they established a constitution, aware of the human frailty even of rulers elected from among them, their First Amendment provided that "Congress shall make no law...abridging the freedom of speech and of the press..." With the widespread education and enlightenment that resulted, the people here have advanced farther toward all freedoms than the people of any other nation. The beacon of this Western World, marks for all nations the start of the path to Freedom: Freedom of Speech and of the Press.

All About The Atom
by Ira M. Thompson

The actual theory of the atom was started in ancient Greece, but the atomic theory was brought to life one hundred fifty years ago by an Englishman, John Dalton. Today, atoms are being put to work. More nuclear reactors are being set up all over the country. Submarines are now powered by atoms, and experiments are being made on atomic powered planes and rockets.
Some types of nuclear rays are used for health purposes.
There is a bright future for atomic energy.

All About The Atom is simply stated and more easily understood than most other explanations of the atom. This book has 150 pages and is found in Matador High School library.

CAMPUS CUES

by Carolyn Pahl

New talent was discovered in the junior play. His real name is Boots, but his stage name is "Nibs." The new star is a dog belonging to the C. M. Bartons.
Deep down, Cherri felt that Boots had talent, but had never had a chance to display it. When he was given a chance, her notations were proven true.

For weeks, when the juniors were practicing, the dog seemed a little reluctant to be on the stage. When Anne (Kay Rattan) would bring "Nibs" in to see Dr. Fergis (Clem Edwards), she would have to drag him across the floor on his toe nails. Also when Dr. Fergis was supposed to shake hands (paws) with "Nibs," Boots would turn his back and run. This was rude and the night before the big performance, I guess "Nibs" made up his mind to act like he was supposed to.

He overdid it a little though;
he jumped into the lap of the performers.
See ya next week!

Homemaker's Hints

By Ruth Wilson
Home Demonstration Agent

It pays to read labels on floor wax containers. The right kind for your floor is a great household aid. The wrong kind can do damage.

In general, there are three kinds of floor waxes — paste, liquid polishing and self-polishing," according to extension specialists. Reliable manufacturers list on the containers the kinds of floors on which the wax should be used. If your floor is not listed, select another type of wax.

Paste wax gives maximum protection and a soft glow to wood floors, inlaid linoleum and vinyl tile. Liquid polishing wax is also excellent for the same purpose and easy to apply.
Neither should ever be used on asphalt tile or many types of rubber tile, for the solvent may pit asphalt surfaces and soften rubber.

Self-polishing wax is water soluble and is the kind recommended for asphalt and many kinds of rubber. It may be used on inlaid linoleum, enameled felt base and vinyl. You may use it on wood or cork only if the surface is sealed with a sealer, shellac or varnish, and the finish is in good condition.

Could you guess
what's good about a headache?

If you happen to have one right now, probably all you need is an aspirin. But the fact is: a headache sometimes is a signal. It may be telling you something is wrong... perhaps something quite remote from the pain. In this event it's a symptom—valuable information for your physician. So if you have a persistent or recurring headache and don't know why, see your doctor. Don't take a chance. Your physician can probably clear up your problem in short order. Of course, he may say all you need is aspirin—but even that's worth knowing.

Church Announces Christian Home Week Observance

The First Baptist Church of Matador will participate in Christian Home Week activities beginning Sunday, May 3 and continuing through May 10, observing planned efforts throughout the Southern Baptist Convention.

Theme for the week is, "When the children are all in," suggesting that the family circle should be complete in Christ.

"This is an appropriate emphasis during 1959, the year of evangelistic endeavors among Southern Baptists, leading up to the Year of Jubilee in 1964," said Rev. Gene Hawkins, pastor, in making the announcement.

Emphases are planned for each night, although there will not be meetings every night during the week, he explained.

Activities will get under way Sunday when recognition will be given to all families present. A beautiful, new Bible will be presented to the largest family in attendance on Sunday morning. Families are urged to sit together during both services Sunday when the pastor will speak on Christian homes.

Sunday will also be "Home Dedication Day" with a special part on the service given to a brief dedication of homes to the Lord and to the church.

Monday will be a continuation of this dedication held in the homes of the members. Tuesday will be "Family At Home Night" when all families are urged to be at home together engaging in recreation and devotion suitable to family members. Wednesday night in the mid-week prayer service at the church, emphasis will once again be upon the family.

On Thursday night at 7:30 the area between the church and the pastor's home will be the scene of an "all-church picnic." Every family is invited to bring a picnic basket and share in the fellowship.

The next day of emphasis will be on Mother's Day, May 10, when special services honoring all mothers present will be observed, with more information on this next week.

SALVATION ARMY CANTEN TO BE IN MATADOR TODAY

Another mobile disaster canteen is being made available to West Texas and the Texas Panhandle, through The Salvation Army, to be used in relief work in an area that extends from Fort Worth to El Paso and from Dalhart to Del Rio.

It will serve the victims, repairmen, and relief workers of any type disaster, such as tornadoes, floods, fires, explosions, gas fires, oil well fires, freezes, snow storms, drownings, etc.

Purchase of this mobile disaster canteen was made possible by the service unit committees of a group of West Texas towns, and will be stationed in all the important cities and towns of the area by rotating its station.

The new canteen is being delivered to its first station in Lubbock, and on its trek from Dallas, stops will be made in a number of towns.

Advance schedule calls for a stop in Matador, where it will be parked in front of the Court House at 11:00 a. m. Thursday (today), for brief ceremonies and to serve coffee and doughnuts to the Mayor and other City and County officials, and civic leaders.

Mr. and Mrs. Noble Whitworth visited here Saturday night and Sunday with his brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Whitworth. The visitors were en route to their home in Amarillo, from a trip to Odessa, where Mrs. Whitworth's speech pupils were entered in Interscholastic League meet and won first place for their one-act play.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Smallwood left Saturday for Pharr, in the Rio Grande Valley, where he will be employed during the summer months as ginner. Cotton harvest begins in June in that section of the state.

Clam Shell, and Coconut Milk.

Miniature islands and palms decorated the tables, and favors were beachcomber hats for boys and orchids for the girls. The orchids, handmade by the high school homemaking department, were of varied colors of wood fibre, nested in silver corsage doilies. As the student guests arrived, each received a lei, from the "Islanders."

Other guests were members of the school faculty.

Mrs. A. L. Fair, Homemaking instructor, supervised the decorations, menu and other arrangements.

wisdom, and guidance she has provided to the students through the years, we dedicate the 1959 La Arena to Mrs. Viola Keith."

Upon receiving the yearbook, Mrs. Keith declared this to be the greatest honor she had ever received in the Matador Schools. She expressed her appreciation to the students and asserted that "every student seemed as if they were one of my very own."

Is Dedicated Teacher

Mrs. Keith ranks among those who are truly "dedicated" to the profession of teaching, and her services often go beyond the call of duty.

Many have been the children she has provided with lunch money, because she couldn't bear to see them go without, and many have been those for whom she has solicited clothing when she, alone, knew that they were in need.

Bereaved an orphan, she has a tender feeling for all children, and her influence on the lives of her pupils has been manifested in many ways through the years since she first became affiliated with the schools here as Miss Viola Knight.

The dedication of the Matador Schools annual could not have been made to a more worthy individual.

Ranch . . .

price was $600, considered big at that time."

Large Ranch Home

When it was built in 1918 the headquarters home contained 21 rooms, including two in the basement. The country club type ranch house is built of native stone, which was blasted from the foothills a short distance west. Some changes have been made in the room arrangement, which now is in the neighborhood of 14, including two living rooms and a servant's quarters. There are three baths. The ranch is one of the outstanding beauty spots of this entire area. When the house was first built it was heated by steam but the system has since been changed to gas.

The late J. M. Jackson, who was manager of the ranch for 14 years, was living at the headquarters when the house was built. Mrs. Jackson said they moved from the old house into the new quarters in 1918 and that approximately one year was required in the construction.

The acreage offered is the Rodatam Corporation (Matador spelled backward) and a part of the vast purchase of Fred Koch of Wichita, Kansas. Mr. and Mrs. Seth Sager have lived at the ranch since Mr. Sager came here as manager following the purchase a short time after the old Matador Land & Cattle Company holdings were first offered for sale in 1961.
