

Voters Ready To Douse Campaign Fires

Heavy First Primary Vote Indicated as Candidates Swap Out Final Overtures

POLITICAL FIRES that have raged across the length and breadth of Texas with increasing intensity during the past few weeks, will be reduced to steaming ashes Saturday. The voter with a few marks from his pencil will extinguish the burning campaign issues, wipe the smoke and grime of the first Democratic primary from his face, and turn his thoughts to other matters.

Few voters will change their opinions in this, the final days of the campaign. Voters are people and they are intelligent. They are equally intelligent as newspaper editors, political campaign writers and candidates. They have, in their own minds separated the statesman from the demagogue, truth from untruth, and appraised the halos thrust by eager camp followers on unseemly heads.

Campaigns for county offices have been conducted with dignity and reserve. Top place in the point of interest is the race for county judge and ex-officio county superintendent between incumbent Vance Gilbreath and Elbert Reeves. Gilbreath is seeking his third term. Reeves, a native son of Motley County, has served two terms in the Legislature but has never held a county office.

Fight in Senate Race

Most violent campaign affecting this county is for the office of state senator. Altho three men are in the race the campaign has narrowed to two. Leroy Saul, state representative from Kress and incumbent Andy Rogers of Childress.

Next race in magnitude of interest is the state contest between Wm. Blakely and incumbent Ralph Yarborough for the U. S. Senate.

Two commissioners races in the county center their interest to communities, and commissioner precincts. In precinct 4 (Roaring Springs) Ralph Long, J. N. Fletcher and Omar Parks are candidates. In precinct 2 (Flomont and Whiteflat) Alfred Watson and Malcolm Turner are candidates. None of the candidates seeking the two commissioner places are incumbents.

MAIL DUST

H. D. Bugbee Sends Contribution for Monument to "Kid"

One of West Texas' most famous personalities, Harold Bugbee of Clarendon, western artist of national fame, has sent a contribution of $5 to the Tribune's fund to erect a monument at the grave of "Pitchfork Kid."

Mr. Bugbee's famous paintings, sketches and murals are rated among the finest of modern artists and his interpretations of the cowboy and the west have appeared in books and magazines for more than a quarter of a century.

Mr. Bugbee also ordered a copy of Harry Campbell's "The Early History of Motley County." Regarding the book, his letter in part, follows:

"I have always been particularly interested in the Matador, not just because it was one of the outstanding ranches of the entire west, but because it was located by Frank Collison, my favorite old timer, at what had been his hide-hunting camp."

"In 1921 Mr. Collison took two trainloads of cattle to the Matador Canadian ranch and was very anxious for me to go with one train. He went into considerable detail pointing out what a wonderful opportunity it would be to see the north country, and as a final inducement, he said, 'and we'll come back by Great Falls and visit Charlie Russell.'"

"I could not go but that was the one chance of a lifetime to have been with the West's two outstanding story tellers. In looking back over our lives there are many things that we should like to have done differently."

"Pitchfork Kid was one of the outstanding cowboys of his period that I never met — most of them I made sketches of — but I am enclosing $5 to your fund for his monument."

The Tribune gratefully acknowledges the following additional contributions to the memorial fund: Brit Daniel $2, G. C. Keith (Whiteface) $5 and Mrs. L. W. Vivian (Muleshoe) $3. Mrs. Vivian said: "He stayed with us at a line camp during the winter of 1906. He surely was a nice man."

SHOULDERS FRESHEN CROPS and RANGES

Two early morning showers at the beginning of the week have freshened up crops, ranges, lawns and flowers. The "cotton showers" were welcomed throughout the area after the siege of high, hot winds and 90 and 100 degree temperatures.

Abundant rains (two to more than five inches) that blanketed the county two weeks ago left sufficient underground moisture in most places. Dry weather, however, had quickly affected young growing crops, lawns and flowers.

The showers were "spotted" but ranged across most of the county. The Sunday morning shower was light (about 10-inch) but Monday morning the precipitation was reported at 48-inch.

Moss Well Is Plugged

A plug was placed in the E. E. Moss & Sons No. 1 M. S. Thacker wildcat test about one mile west of Roaring Springs. Monday night.

The test was stopped at 2875 feet after an electric log had failed to show any trace of pay formation. It was the third well drilled in the Roaring Springs area by former Mayor and resident E. E. Moss and sons. Two previous wildcat wells were drilled on the late Ollie Scott property, and on Omar Parks' farm.

Wildcat well on Mrs. Carl Bird's property in the southeast section of the county had reached it projected depth of 5,000 feet yesterday without oil showing, according to reports.

One report said it is probable that application will be made to drill the test another 600 feet.

Veterans Barbecue Is Well Attended

Benefit barbecue sponsored by the VFW Thursday night at the VFW building patio, was well attended, altho many made contributions to the cemetery fund and did not attend.

Total amount collected was $414 and it was estimated yesterday that approximately $175 would be profit and be used to further the East Mound Cemetery watering system.

Speaker following the barbecue was Mark Smith, Lubbock attorney and immediate past post commander of the Lubbock VFW post. He was introduced by County Judge Vance Gilbreath.

Smith cited the public service of the VFW, declaring "the name of this organization, Veterans of Foreign Wars, implies the great public service it is possible to render."

Smith said the serviceman is a hero in battle but that in the eyes of the public he becomes a parasite in times of peace. He then issued an inditement against President Eisenhower and the Republican party charging that Eisenhower's "get tough policy" had brought hardships to veterans and their families.

Following the barbecue and address, entertainment included music by the "Off Beats" and the "Hep Cats" in the VFW club room.

Tickets for the benefit barbecue sold for $4 per couple.

Leon Smallwood, Commander of the VFW, expressed his appreciation for the response of the public and courtesies extended in helping make the affair a success.

All campers will also take part in the crafts division, of which all expenses are covered in the initial registration which is $1.50 for those 15 and younger, and $2.00 for those 16 and over.

Camp will be under the supervision of Bob Berry, Dickens County Agent; Mark Geeslin, Kent County Agent; Agnes Maars, Kent County Home Demonstration Agent; Truett Hennig, Stonewall County Agent, and Motley County Agent Bill Palfrey.

SWIMMING TO SWIM — Mrs. Deva C. King of Roaring Springs found an experienced swimmer, grandson James Swim, 10, of Smithfield, to coach her for final exams in beginner's swimming at North Texas State College, Denton. The grandmother, an elementary school teacher in Matador, enrolled in the class to satisfy a long-time desire to learn to swim. (Story on page 6) NTSC photo.

Championship Ropers Program Is Colorful

FEATURES of the two nights program announced by the Texas-Oklahoma championship roping association tournament to be held at Roaring Springs Old Settlers arena Friday and Saturday nights, August 1 and 2, offer a full complement of western entertainment.

In addition to the calf roping by champions, a calf scramble for boys 16 years of age and younger will be held both evenings. The calves are turned loose in the arena with a ticket attached to each. The tickets have a cash prize value. The boys must catch the calves on foot.

Another feature of the program will be a jack-pot bull riding contest each evening.

A preliminary feature of the roping association tournament is a roping "party" to be held Saturday night (July 27) a week in advance of the tournament. There is no admission charge for the advance "party" roping. Admission to the tournament (August 1 and 2) is 50c and $1 each evening.

The tournament is sponsored by the Roaring Springs Lions Club, with Lion Bill Hand chairman of the roping tournament committee.

A new arena sprinkler system has been purchased by the Old Settlers Association and has been installed to be used during the tournament roping. H. L. Smith, president of the Roaring Springs Lions Club has urged attendance of all rope and saddle fans in the area to the fine program of western entertainment. He said about 15 calves would be used each evening in the roping contests.

Profits in the Roaring Springs Lions sponsorship is used in the club's general fund.

Postage Boosted, Box Rents Reduced

Matador Post Office was reclassified July 1 according to its service, resulting in lower post office box rents. On the other hand, postal rate increase effective August 1 will offset the saving.

Higher postal rates will be as follows: first class matter will go from 3c to 4c an ounce; air mail rises from 6c to 7c; air mail postal cards will be 5c; "penny" postal cards, now 2c, will go to 3c. Further information on postal rate changes may be obtained from Postmaster E. F. Springer.

Rates boosts will put an additional $550,000,000 into post office cash registers annually. Still not enough to cover annual deficits, as most of the increase money, each time it becomes effective, goes into increased salaries to postal employees.

Since there is no city (or village) delivery service the rent on post office boxes has been reduced. Rent on 90c boxes is now 70c, $1.10 box rent now 90c, $1.50 rent decreased to $1.10, all rates per quarter.

PIED PINIONS

By Mrs. M.

Greetings all you girls and boys, who will be starting back to school in 38 days — and you moms who have 130 more shopping days until Christmas.

The Tribune is almost setting a record for being on time. For three weeks now we've maintained a Wednesday night instead of Thursday afternoon trek to the P. O. and people have almost stopped looking at any member of the crew with that "I wonder where they're going this week" expression, (if they don't ask outright.) Whether we meet the schedule this week remains to be seen, at this writing.

I've got Charlotte doing it now! I hardly ever start out the door that I don't run back, sometimes two or three times, for something I've forgotten. C. Lou thought it was funny at first — sort of a sign of advanced age or something, now she's doing it too!

About this time last year we — Mr. M., Nell and myself — were making plans for our vacation trip to Mexico City where we arrived on July 27, and were so rudely awakened the next morning in the early hours, by the memorable earthquake which tumbled the Golden Angel from her pedestal and set off a series of adventures for our party which included a wild ride in the back of a pickup with an entourage of Latin Americans, across the city which was still enveloped in nighttime darkness, to the offices of the Novedades, principal newspaper of the city. Mr. M. had made a picture of the Angel which the Mexican youths wanted to use in their paper, not realizing that their own reporters, photographers and editorial staff had been on the job, and the first "extras" were already in the process of rolling off the press. Incidentally, Mr. M. still hasn't recovered his holder containing the film that he left with the paper.

Since our experiences South of the Border have been so out of this world, we are again eyeing that land for further visitation. There are some new ruins near Tula which need personal investigation. Overlooked for three centuries and more, the newly uncovered ruins of Tollan include great idols, impressive ruins and huge sculptured figures which have revealed this area to be as important a center of antiquity as the famed ruins of Yucatan, says "Ford Times."

CHILDREN VISITING MRS. VELMA FULFUR

Visitors in the home of Mrs. Velma Fulfur the past week have been her children, Rev. and Mrs. Norris Fulfur and children, Sue, Devona and Craig arrived Wednesday of last week from Fortuna, Calif., and Rev. Fulfur continued to Union, Ky., where he is holding a revival meeting, after which he will rejoin his family here. Mr. and Mrs. Elwyn Fulfur and children, Mike and Sherri of Lubbock visited Thursday and Friday, and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Leslie and small daughter, Gerri, of Lubbock spent the week end. Mrs. Jimmie Newbury, of Blanket who is visiting, was accompanied here last Wednesday by her husband, who will return for her this week end. Completing the family group are Mrs. George Fulfer and sons, Robert and Mark, who are spending the summer while their husband and father, a Navy Chaplain, is on sea duty. Other visitors in Mrs. Fulfur's home Sunday were her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. I. C. Hinson of Plains.

RECENT VISITORS IN FLUMLEE HOME

Mrs. I. N. Plumlee and daughter Mildred, had as recent visitors, other daughters of Mrs. Plumlee, with their families, including Mrs. Clifford Webb and her daughter, Judy of Los Angeles, Calif., Mrs. M. B. Braselton of El Paso, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Young and son, Larry of Lubbock, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Webb of Floydada, Mrs. Gordon Wright and children, Mary Beth and Mike of Leveland, and Mr. and Mrs. Marion Rivers and children, Deborah and Linda of San Angelo. Visiting the relatives Sunday night were Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Mitchell and family, of Roaring Springs.

MARKHAM REUNION HELD IN ARKANSAS

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Markham of Matador and four of their seven children met at Albert Pike Camp near Langley, Arkansas for a family reunion during the 4th of July week end holiday.

They visited their home place where they lived before they moved to Motley County.

The family gathering included in addition to Mr. and Mrs. Markham, Mr. and Mrs. Elvin Markham and family and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis McDonough and son Stanley, of Matador; Mr. and Mrs. Tom Medley and Kim of Freeport, and Mr. and Mrs. Hillie Markham and daughter Judy of Houston, who spent several days there and have gone for the past seven years for the 4th of July.

Mrs. C. A. Markham's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Miller of Idabel, Okla., also joined the relatives there.

Texas like a public official who is independent in his thinking and doesn't have to account for his actions to anyone except the voters themselves.

William A. Blakley is such a man. Of his race for U. S. Senate, the Port Arthur News says: "He entered this race by his own decision. He is beholden to nobody. He doesn't have to promise special interest groups anything and he wants to represent all of Texas, not any political splinter or fragment or faction above the rest."

A vote for Bill Blakley on July 28 is a vote for returning to Washington a man who will truly represent Texas.

CHARLOTTE RUSSE

by charlotte campbell

Summertime is summertime. That wasn't particularly a brilliant statement, but nevertheless true. In its finer meaning, summertime is mosquito time, rodeo time, sun burning time, and family reunion time.

Most enterprising summer enterprise is the lemonade stand. Little Miss Marsha Seale and friends erected a lemonade stand in-between her father's funeral home and her mother's flower shop. They had a thriving business until movie time Saturday night.

My cousin Gerald Pipkin and I were partners in a similar stand when we were nine years old. Only we didn't do so well profitwise. I blame it all on lack of advertising. I regret the entire situation with apathy. No customers. . . more lemonade for the thirsty owners.

A six year-old relative of mine, Laura Jacobs, opened a Kool-aid stand a few weeks back with hopes of making enough money to purchase a real playhouse with real doors and floors. She promptly let the business fold when her mother told her that she had to pay the grocer for the Kool-aid packages before she could buy the playhouse.

Summertime brings out vacationing urges in me, but I hate to mention the word vacation at home. Daddy thinks that vacation means to go fishing.

I'll never forget the vacation when our family of five spent the first night car-cast in a mud puddle on a dead-end road 43 miles from anywhere at Cowles, New Mexico. Mother took the flu the next day. We stayed in a 4 x 10' cabin. Daddy fished. It took two weeks for us to half-way recover after we returned home. Then the Old Settlers Reunion began. You can't win 'em all.

$75,000.00

Waco was struck by a tornado in 1954. Both Senator ANDY ROGERS and Representative LEROY SAUL voted for a tornado relief appropriation of $75,000 for the City of Waco.

Nothing!

Silverton was struck by a tornado, May 15, 1957. The next day LEROY SAUL in the House, presented a bill, which was unanimously passed, to grant $10,000 aid to Silverton.

This bill died in the Senate!

Senator ROGERS never made a motion to pass the bill in the Senate. WHERE WAS HE? Who does the Senator represent?

State Senator--30th District

THE Country Editor

H. M. Baggary, Publisher, The Tulia Herald

THE most vital races in Saturday's Democratic primary of State Senator. There is much more involved than merely the issues have been clouded by gossip, rumors and even defamations of character, the voter's personal responsibility to sift truth from fiction, and from objective appraisal, and fact from fancy.

NOT supporting Senator Andy Rogers, the incumbent, I think he is perfect, because he has pleased us all the way we think he is the only resident of the 30th Senatorial District of serving with ability and integrity. We are supporting him because he towers head and shoulder above the two other men in the race. So completely objective in his appraisal of the other two men, in our opinion, that we would not wish to see either of them elected if the name of Senator Rogers did not appear on the ballot.

SOME of our reasons for having to support Rogers, the incumbent, having served only one complete term in office, and it is our belief that an incumbent deserves re-election there is a good reason why he should not be re-elected. In voting, our choice is not to select the candidate, according to our own specifications — our vote for the man who most nearly reaches perfection. Senator Rogers' batting average in the Senate is high, his voting records of his opponents are completely in line with his own.

anyone who studies Rogers' record carefully will find that he is the typical resident of the 30th district. He has always seen eye to eye with Rogers on every issue that has come up, in fact, on occasion we have attacked some of his editorially — but we have approved his actions in a number of cases. In voting, our choice is not to select the candidate, according to our own specifications — our vote for the man who most nearly reaches perfection. Senator Rogers' batting average in the Senate is high, his voting records of his opponents are completely in line with his own.

ROGERS' opponents have represented big business including the utilities monopoly, much more effectively than he has represented the farmers and smalltown businessmen of the district.

man in the race, when he was in the Legislature, exempting utility companies from the license fee (re- other appliance dealers) for the privilege of selling gas appliances, parts and repairs in towns of 3,000 or less for a two per cent gross receipts tax on soft drink bottles. Gov. Shivers offered. It was adopted 15-14, so his was the law. Later, the Senate reversed itself and killed this tax. Then Aikin tried to exempt milk from the bot- tle tax. This candidate voted not to exempt milk.

CANDIDATE introduced a bill to give the state a first lien on property owned by old-age assistance recipients and to foreclose on their deaths and the state well- being would get back all they had been paid. This intro- duced by anti-pension folks ever since. He also intro- duced a bill regulating sale, distribution or possession of oleomargarine which hurts every cotton farmer. And most objectionable supported a two per cent state income tax proposal.

to say that Senator Rogers, the incumbent, is much bet- ter than the other two men in the race. Ask any informed farmer who is familiar with REA and major farm problems. Ask informed leaders of any organization who have had occasion to make trips to Austin to meet with farm problems.

THIRD place, we would have to vote for Andy Rogers. He is the special interest groups, the gas pipeline group, the utilities monopoly, the anti-farm group, those who would like to have state control of underground water, those who would like to keep the lid on Austin scandals, those who do not support the healing arts controlled or licensed by the state, those who have proved themselves enemies of the farmer, those who have proved themselves enemies of the Market road program, those who abhor independent business men, those who try to tell legislators to get on their team or they will have to smear them, all have combined to try to elect Andy Rogers and to defeat Senator Rogers. Rogers has been a good boy, to go back to Childress and settle down, he wouldn't be hurt by the character assassins and gangsters who have had a great deal of influence in Austin.

Rogers would have retired to go back to Childress and live with his family had he not been threatened as he is now. There is something in a red-blooded American that causes him to yield to gangster tactics. So Rogers defied the warnings of more men like Rogers in Austin, men who will put their necks on the line for above politics, men who will not sacrifice honor for expediency. Men like Rogers are and will be in a minority for some time, at least they will speak out against corruption so we can elect a man who will not be a step in the right direction.

FINALLY even if we did not have the reasons mentioned above for supporting Rogers, even if we did not believe him to be a better man intellectually, morally and spiritually, we would support him because of the campaign techniques used by him and his supporters of his opponents.

From the time it started with the mailing of anonymous literature, has been one of the filthiest races in the history of Texas politics.

We had "Fort Arthur" type stories in circulation almost from the very beginning. Some of the false stories planted here have been petty. Others have been outright libelous. One, for example, the testimony of a former medical student who lost his license, who has served numerous terms in prison in several states including Florida, Maryland and Texas, who is at present under indictment for performing an abortion in a Dallas tourist court, who perjured himself when he voluntarily made statements a week apart in direct contradiction of what he had said in a previous hearing when he was convicted three times for being a confidence man.

There are those having an interest in getting Rogers out of office who produce a completely false statement signed by a doctor in trouble up to his neck which they expect people to believe in preference to the word of Senator Rogers, other members of the Legislature, official records in Austin, and even the word of public officials who have not been particularly friendly to Senator Rogers. And, strangely enough, one of the men who has served on the House investigating committee to unseat Senator Rogers served on the official investigating committee and would have had access to the official records, had they contained information adversely affecting Senator Rogers, would have made a perfect rope with which to hang him. Yet instead of bringing about the prosecution of Senator Rogers, had there been any basis for doing so, he does nothing. Either this man is guilty of negligence of duty or he is a complete fabricator. These charges against Senator Rogers are complete fabrications.

OF THESE false stories, planted and distributed, appeal to the moron vote because of their utter absurdity.

As a Tulia pastor told us when we showed him some of the smear literature now in circulation against Senator Rogers, "When I see something like that, it spurs me on to vote for the man who has been slandered and wronged."

ARE WE TO assume that Rogers' opposition has so little to offer the voters of this district that they must base their campaigns on such things as the testimony of an ex-con, and a several-times loser, and also other stories of equal veracity?

Andy Rogers' life is an open book. If there exists adverse information concerning his character not available to the public, certainly it has been available to those trying so hard to discredit him. They have proved during this campaign that they have keys to many doors in Austin.

The issue in this race is Andy Rogers and his record. Vs. a cesspool full of slanderous accusations. Let all honest men and women of the district turn a deaf ear to vile gossip brought out during the closing hours of a political campaign.

Don't fall for literature and whispered reports published for morons.

My Automobile Trip to California

By Butch Waybourn

My mother and I started to California from home at about 6:30 a. m. June 28. My aunt and uncle Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Lott and their son Oscar, and two other cousins, Susie and Billy Richards went with us. We got out of Texas at about 1:00 p. m. One stop we made was at a roadside stand where we bought some cherries to eat on the way. We drove on through New Mexico and into Arizona while it was still light.

Just before we got into Tucson, Arizona we had a blowout on the car. Since we couldn't find a place to get a new tire at night we decided to stay all night there to get tire-hunting the next day.

Early the next morning Susie, Billy and I went swimming. It was 5:30 a. m., too early for the motel pool to be crowded.

In the afternoon mother took all of us kids to see the Colossal Cave where three bandits used to hideout. We went swimming again when we got back to the motel. It was too hot to do anything else.

We left Tucson in the night so that we could drive across the desert to California while it was cool.

The first main stop we made in California was at San Diego where we went to the zoo. It is the only zoo that doesn't have bars on lion's cages. We also saw tigers, bears, and monkeys. The monkeys watched me as much as I watched them. They drove back through to Tucson and on home. When we arrived in Matador Monday I had already started making plans for another trip next summer.

Here for a weeks' visit are Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Coffey and daughters Sharon, Barbara, and Cindy, all of Pasadena, Texas. The Coffeys are guests in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Price. Mrs. Coffey is the former Betty Price.

at the PRECINCT CONVENTIONS, July 26th!

The Precinct Convention is the only time a voter can help plan the policies and platform of the Texas Democratic Party. And it is the only way the individual citizen can participate in the selection of a president.

YOU CAN HELP MAKE THESE VITAL DECISIONS ON JULY 26

Democrats throughout the State will hold precinct conventions on Saturday, July 26. Conventions in Motley County will be held as follows: Matador, Box No. 1 (north) in the Commissioners Court room (courthouse) at 2 p. m.; Matador, Box No. 2 (south) in the District Court room (courthouse) at 2 p. m.; Flomador, school house at 2 p. m.; Whiteflat, school house at 2 p. m.; Northfield, Lane's Grocery Store at 2 p. m.; Roaring Springs, school house at 2 p. m. and Union Corner at Bill Morris residence at 2 p. m.

MINORITY VS. MAJORITY

Issues this year have been clearly defined. A radical, minority group known as "DOT" has publicly announced its goal of taking over the Democratic Party — and ultimately the Texas Government. "DOT" is not recognized officially by either the State or National Democratic Party. "DOT" opposes the leadership of Governor Price Daniel, Speaker Sam Rayburn, U. S. Senator Lyndon B. Johnson, and National Committeeman Byron Skelton.

The question is: Shall the State of Texas have minority rule or majority control of Governmental affairs. Only YOU can decide.

SUPPORT YOUR OFFICIAL STATE COMMITTEE

The duly-elected State Democratic Executive Committee represents the views of all Texas Democrats and opposes party control by any extremist organization such as "DOT". Let's build a stronger and more united party by supporting Governor Price Daniel and the State Democratic Executive Committee for good government, honesty and integrity in party affairs.

Assuming you are type who can tan — a "heliophilic," that is — the well-known rule about doing it by progressively longer exposure times is valid and should be followed.

Sunshine is a source of vitamin D, as most people know. What is apparently misunderstood is that ordinarily healthy people can get all the D vitamin they need through routine activities such as hanging out the family wash, mowing the lawn,

After all, a sunburn — like any other burn — is a manifestation of a skin injury. True, a sensible bask in the sun makes a fine mental pick-me-up, and there is no denying the supple appeal of a tawny life-guard. But to overdo it can lead to trouble. In fact it can kill you. More than one person has succumbed to prolonged and unaccustomed exposure to the sun.

Even at best, overexposure can mean two or three miserable days when a mere shirt or blouse is torture, and a friendly pat on the back can end in murder.

The medical term for sunburn is "erythema solaris." It's the ultra-violet light in sun rays which does the damage. And since clouds don't remove all ultra-violet rays, it is possible to get burned even on overcast days in mid-summer.

Some people are physically unable to tan. Known medically as "heliophobes," they could spend the entire summer on Pardi Island, and all they'd get would be blisters on their blisters. The reason their skins lack the pigment necessary to produce the tan tint. They never had a tan and they never will, so they ought never attempt one. Each new exposure will only mean a new burn.

It will arouse the wrath of sun worshippers, but this must be said: The healthful effects of a suntan aren't worth the time and trouble it takes to get one.

or walking to the store

For persons suffering from pellagra, lung tuberculosis, high blood pressure, or hyperthyroidism sunlight may be definitely harmful.

In case you have wondered about the source of freckles, here's the answer: The color of everyone's skin is determined by the amount of pigment in skin cells. Dark-complexioned people have considerable, blondes very little, and albinos none at all. Under a microscope the pigment in skin cells looks like tiny flecks of brown paint. Sometimes, especially in children, it is manufactured unevenly and collects in the spots we know as freckles.

Ultra-violet rays can be filtered, fortunately, by smearing a thin film of olive oil over exposed skin. So if you're a heliophilic, and if you just have to have that golden sheen this summer, it might pay you to try it.

If you need more storage space in your home, Charles Tompkins, extension home management specialist, suggests "storage furniture" as a possible solution. Storage pieces can be quite decorative as well as useful, she says.

Mrs. Deva C. King Describes Self as Modern, Old-Fashioned Grandmother

DENTON. (Special) — A recipe for "staying out of ruts" has called for swimming lessons and a Spanish class this summer. Mrs. King, an elementary teacher in the Matador Public Schools, said she has always had a not-too-secret desire to learn to swim, but never got to take lessons until this summer.

In her beginning swimmer's class, Mrs. King found that all the people were younger, but said it didn't bother her. "They were a nice bunch of kids. I always felt that they were rooting for me when I tried something new."

Did she have any gripes against current trends in women's swimwear?

"All the suits I've seen are cute," she said, "but I did have to look all over Denton, Dallas and Fort Worth to find one I'd be seen in." Her final selection was an all-time favorite, black lastex, and she topped it off with a bright yellow cap.

How about other fashions? The grandmother just smiled. "I haven't bought any sack dresses, yet. But I'll very likely try one on eventually."

This grandmother loves to travel, too. Perhaps that's what prompted her to take the Spanish class. Already she has visited more than 30 states, Canada, Mexico and parts of Europe.

"Alaska was the first place I ever wanted to go," said Mrs. King. "I applied for a school there when I got my first degree. I'm glad now I didn't get it. It's too cold."

Having attended college here for periods during the past three college administrations has made Mrs. King quite familiar with Denton and NTSC.

She was in the fifth grade when she picked out a picture of the North Texas Normal School campus in her Texas history book and proudly announced to her classmates, "That's where I'm going." "That's where I'm going."

That determination is characteristic of the energetic woman who pioneered the current trend of attending college while working and supporting a family back in depression days when it wasn't so easy.

She came to North Texas first to take her eleventh year of high school. She was back later in 1934 as a young widow with two small children to finish her education and go into the teaching field.

Her daughter, Darnelle, Mrs. S. A. Swim of Smithfield, and son, Claude Morrison of Loraine, each have two children of their own now and are both school teachers, too.

Mrs. King says she is just "Granny" to her grandchildren, but "my children think I'm a character."

King is a retired wholesale agent for Magnolia in Roaring Springs. Mrs. King has served as president of the six county area which composes Gamma Eta chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma, international teachers' organization, and is a former president of the Wesleyan Service Guild and Worthy Matron of the Order of the Eastern Star in Roaring Springs.

"If I come back to school again," the grandmother announced, "I'm going to take art!"

Civic Lubbock to Open Season with "Auntie Mame"

Civic Lubbock, Inc. has announced that the Broadway comedy hit — "AUNTIE MAME" — has been signed to open their third season at the Lubbock Auditorium. The show will be presented at 8:00 p. m. on October 24 and 25 with a Special Matinee set for 3:00 p. m. on Saturday, October 25. Sylvia Sidney, motion picture, stage and television star, will be seen as the hilarious comedy character — "Auntie Mame."

"Auntie Mame" first appeared as a book in 1955, and immediately top all "best-seller" lists. Soon after the publication, Jerome Lawrence and Robert E. Lee adopted the show for New York and it has been Broadway's biggest hit ever since.

The twenty-four scenes were designed by world famous Oliver Smith, and the entire production was directed by Morton Da Costa of "No Time For Sergeants" and "The Music Man" fame. Travis Banton designed Miss Sidney's fourteen gowns while Noel Taylor created the costumes for the rest of the cast of thirty.

The production to be seen in Lubbock will be an exact duplicate of the New York one as far as scenery, lighting and costumes are concerned. The rest of the cast has not been announced, but it will include some of New York's most prominent actors and actresses.

Civic Lubbock, Inc. has previously announced The National Ballet of Canada for one night—March 23, and a Special Attraction — "Music With Mary Martin" for February 2nd.

Ticket prices for "Auntie Mame" will be $4.50, $4.00, $3.00, $2.50 and $2.00, and will be on sale in early October. The Season Ticket sale for Civic Lubbock, Inc. patrons will be held during September.

"Despite an economic recession and unsettled conditions internationally, we organized 700 new clubs and added 12,495 new members in the first 11 months of the fiscal year," Barry declared.

"Our association now has 578,610 members in 13,771 clubs in 91 countries or geographical areas of the free world," he added.

Barry said that in public respect and prestige, Lions International has made "heartwarming strides."

"More and more men of international influence are becoming affiliated with our fellowship, men who are respected for their leadership in their own countries and abroad. You may already know that President Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon have recently accepted honorary membership," Barry said.

Both, he said, accepted the membership with high praise "of our program of service and world peace."

Barry told the delegates that during the last year he had visited clubs in 73 countries.

Earlier Wednesday Chicago police estimated a crowd of 250,000 watched the opening parade down the "magnificent mile" — Michigan Ave. The line of march started at 9:30 a. m. and ended before 2:30 p. m.

Outstanding among the groups were blind bands from Iowa and Missouri, six Coloradoans on stilts who towered over everyone and made a stair step effect to depict "Colorado is growing a sariclad beauty from India; Georgia Crackers in blue and gray playing Dixie and giving rebel yells; the mounted group from Mexico and numerous beauties from states who are entered in the Miss Universe contest.

Texas entered a float, a mounted group, Lions afoot, and high school bands from Kilgore, Longview, Sabine and Vander-
