MATADOR, MOTLEY COUNTY, TEXAS, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 8, 1956 PRICE SEVEN CENTS

RAIL DUST

By Douglas Meador

It is a fact that the forest is being cut on the hill. Its fiber is imbued with the spirit of victory over adversity. Like a man alone whose strength is sufficient to meet the life with a fortitude of strong roots in the soil.

I am willing to be the problem of women's thoughts on the calendar, to astronomy, astrology and the Republicans. Admittedly I am a concern of mine, but I like to bring to the community a little bit of this world's a little better. If the average man is worried with a tight every morning he would be a petulant, irritable, and snappy, hostile.

He has banked the fires on a regime that used to pull my thoughts on schedule a natural affinity for last has set the brakes.

Most of the bargains on the market of matrimony are snapped up by the early shoppers.

The hills were like purple clouds clinging to the rim of a bowl, and small puffs of smoke as each horse's hoof lifted from the trail. Little flames of yellow cottonwood lay placid in the late light and a quail's call echoed over the sound of the feet. Dim lanterns were seen in the sky when the two made out of the river valley winding wagon road. They were for a few moments then faded from their saddles and hands, each departing in opposite directions. The sound of beats became fainter until the tip-toed back into the

Ike is Still In the Saddle

COUNTY GOES DEMO, TOTAL VOTE IS 918

PRESIDENT DWIGHT D. Eisenhower is again the choice of the people. He has been re-elected to the helm of the nation for another four years in an overwhelming vote victory.

He is not the choice of the majority of the voters in Matley county. Democratic Presidential candidate Adlai Stevenson received 502 of the county's 918 votes, while the County received 412. Constitution Party Candidate Andrews received 4. Matley county went Democratic by 90 votes.

Matador was the only community in the county giving a majority to Ike. He received 219 votes to Stevenson's 196 in the two boxes here, or a majority of 23 votes. The four votes cast for Andrews all came from the north Matador box. Roaring Springs went Democratic by a slim margin. Stevenson received 94. Eisenhower 82. Democrat voters are 100% Democrats. All of the county's smallest voting box, 10 votes, went to Stevenson.

Pappy Lee O'Daniel received a total of 127 write-in votes in the county for the office of governor. Pricie Daniel received 732 and the Republican Candidate Bryant received 33 (which might indicate that 33 voters in the county voted a straight Republican ticket).

Motley county voters favored the eight constitutional amendments as did all the people of Texas. All passed by landslide majorities. In Motley county almost half of the voters failed to vote on the amendments. The only opposition was shown by the veterans land fund and it was approved more than two to one.

The state of Texas voted for Eisenhower again, but a large block of West Texas counties (Motley included) changed from Eisenhower to Stevenson, since the last election four years ago.

City To Observe Vet Day

Matador will observe "Veteran's Day", Sunday (November 11) with union church services at the First Methodist Church. It was announced this week by Bill Seale, President of the Matador Lions Club, who said that all stores and places of business will be requested to fly flags as a symbol of honor for all veterans.

The special services Sunday evening will include a message by Rev. Ray Manning, pastor of First Baptist Church, a talk by Methodist pastor, Rev. Woodrow Williams, who will give a short history of veterans' organizations and music by combined choirs of the churches. All veterans of both wars will sit together in a group. It was announced.

A cordial invitation is extended the public to join in the observance of Veteran's Day by attending the church services, which are set for 7:30.

BANK HOLIDAY MONDAY

First State Bank will observe Monday, Nov. 12, as a holiday, since Veteran's Day falls on Sunday, officials announced.

Varied Program Presented For American Legion

In pre-observance of Veteran's Day, Fleming Post American Legion heard a varied program at a regular monthly meeting Monday night in the Legion hall. The covered-dish supper and program were held jointly with the Legion Auxiliary.

Rev. Ray Manning, local Baptist pastor, was guest speaker for the occasion and stressed the privileges and duties of citizenship. He attributed the downfall of a nation to the selfish interests of its citizens.

The Roaring Springs Accordion Band, composed of Mary Alice James, Mary Lou Watson, Marcus Sewart, and Mrs. Eva Kingery, accompanied, played two selections, Hula Blues and Mockingbird Hill. The group was accompanied by Paul Sewart, and expressed appreciation for the invitation and supper.

Also on the program were songs by the Flomot School Choir, directed by Mrs. L. D. Wilkerson. These included Carolyn Tanner, Katherine Kimbell, Lynn Tanner, Katherine Kimbell, Jodie Schofield, Joy Johnson, Gail Johnson, Wanda Coffee, Phyllis Starkey and Sheila DeSchofield, accompanied by Mrs. M. J. Schofield and Mrs. Foad Johnson.

The Legion voted to cooperate with the churches in observing Veteran's Day in union services at the Methodist Church Sunday night, and all veterans of the county, of both World Wars I and II, are urged to attend, and to sit in a group.

Mrs. Pat Sheridan is visiting in Lubbock this week with her son and family. Mr. and Mrs. Pat Sheridan, Jr.

COME TO CHURCH SUNDAY

MATADOR DIGS OUT after one of the most severe wind and dust storms in the memory of pioneers. In the top scene city employees are cleaning up the roof of the I.O.O.F. building which was blown into the street (as far as a block away). The picture was made looking south on Main Street from a point in front of Spot Cash Grocery. Several truck loads of roofing material and debris were hauled away. City employees in the picture are, left to right, Major Walding, far center L. M. Cox and right Skee Burks. Sidewalk superintendent is Jack Case. The object in the picture immediately above is a water hydrant in a Matador lawn. The hydrant 'faced' the west and the substance that appears to be ice, is sand and dust. Moisture in the hydrant held the accumulated materials carried by the storm during its hours of fury.

Heavy Damage In Wake Of "Worst" Sandstorm

"Worst" sandstorm in the county's history. It began shortly after midnight Thursday and picked up speed as it progressed.

By daylight Friday everything that could be moved, was moved. Trees were uprooted all over Matador. The roof of the I.O.O.F. building was blown away and other roofs were damaged. Many television antennas were blown down or damaged. Windows were blown out of several homes.

NEGRO DUEL PUTS TWO IN HOSPITAL

Two middle-aged Negroes, Bob Jackson, 56, and Jimmy Brown, also 56, are in Stanley Hospital as the result of a pistol duel which they staged Sunday night. The shooting took place in the shaded section of Matador. Jones said Jackson was in the cafe when Brown entered and that both drew pistols and began shooting. He said he knew of no previous trouble between the two men.

Brother-In-Law Is Wreck Victim

Joe Davis, 31, of Amarillo, who died in a highway accident, was a brother-in-law of Mrs. Wade Berryman of Matador.

The two-car collision on U. S. Highway 287 eight miles east of Matador, Texas, on Sunday, killed a third. Merced Rea, 27-year-old Latin American of Alice also died in the accident, and injured was David Cordona Moreida, also of Alice, who suffered a compound fracture of the right leg. Davis apparently was killed instantly. Rea died later in an Amarillo hospital.

Davis was on route to Turkey to join his wife, who had attended Turkey Homecoming. He was the son of Judge and Mrs. Tracey Davis of Memphis. Besides his wife and parents, he is also survived by a 3-year old son.

Attending funeral services in Memphis, Monday at 3:30 p. m. were Mr. and Mrs. Wade Berryman, Mrs. Clint Hicks and Mrs. Jack Case.

COUNTY SCHEDULES SPECIAL ELECTION

Motley and all the other counties in Texas will hold a special election Tuesday, November 13. Tickets have been prepared and voting arrangements made according to County Judge Vance H. Gilbreath. He said the same judges will officiate as conducted the general election this week.

The special election is made necessary because of a mistake made in the Legislature when the one amendment was approved. It will only require a moment to vote. The ticket is small and bears only the one amendment proposition.

If passed, the amendment will greatly benefit disabled citizens of Texas (see more complete story on the amendment elsewhere in this issue of the Tribune).

The Tribune urges its readers to go to the polls and vote for the amendment. It is evident by the approval of the eight amendments on the general election ballot, that this vital legislation would also have been approved if it too had appeared on the regular ballot. It is not the fault of crippled children and disabled adults that the error was made.

Both Teams Rated As Top Choice For Dist. Champs

By Pat Groves

Taking one of the most decisive games of the season in their stride, the Matador Matadors Friday night here on Bursleson Field ran over the Silvertown Owls to the tune of 34-7. The Matadors, hitting hard from the first play, surprised the Owls by gaining 21 points in the first quarter. Both teams had been rated as top choices for the district championship.

After kicking, the Matadors recovered a Silvertown fumble and began a triumphant march to the goal line which ended when Right Halfback Pat Green moved 5 yards around the left end of the hard-charging Matador line for a touchdown. Green kicked the extra point. Still in the first quarter, and while on their 30-yard line, the Matadors halted the following Owl attempt and again showed their eagerness to score when Quarterback Dayton Graham slung the pigskin to Right End Garland Cartwright who raced the remainder of the 70-yard distance to the goal line. Pat Green kicked the extra point.

Gaining possession of the ball as quickly as possible, the Matadors began rolling up yardage against the bewildered and once overconfident Silvertown team. This drive ended when Dayton Graham kepted over left tackle and crossed into the end zone 8 yards away. Pat Green again showed his talented toe in action when he placed the ball squarely between the uprights.

Owls Begin Drive

Going into the second quarter, the Owls began a drive toward the Matador goal line which halted their only touchdown. After gaining their first 1st down (continued on back page)

Near End Of Milo Harvest

Approximately 90% of the area's milo harvest has been completed according to S. J. Braselton, Jr., manager of Kimbell Elevator at Roaring Springs. The severe wind storm early in the week did little damage to the milo crop in the area had brought farmers about $36,000.

Early this week the Kimbell elevator had handled 2,000,000 pounds of 1956 milo with the average price being $1.60 per cwt. Mr. Braselton said the marketed milo crop in the area had brought farmers about $36,000.

Glenda Smith Misses Brush With Death

Glenda Smith, 17, daughter of Mrs. Jake Simpson, is a patient in Hendrick's Memorial Hospital (room 343) Abilene, where she received surgery Tuesday for injuries received in a two-car accident early Sunday in which two persons were killed.

Mrs. Rosie Guzman, 45, and James Wright Farria, 26, both of Brownwood, died of injuries, and Miss Smith and her uncle, Frank Richardson, 23, of Strawn, were taken to Ranger General Hospital following the accident 12 miles east of Ranger on Highway 80 at 1 a. m. Sunday.

Miss Smith, with her mother, step-father, and brother, Jimmie Smith, were spending the weekend in Strawn with Mrs. Simpson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Richardson.

Details of the accident were not learned by the Tribune. However, Mr. Simpson reported on his return to Matador late Wednesday, that Glenda was recovering satisfactorily from the surgery, and would probably be released from the Abilene hospital Saturday, to return to Ranger, for further observation of the physicians there. Her return to Matador will be indefinite.

The popular Matador High School junior suffered a broken jaw and lacerations on her forehead which necessitated seven stitches. Three teeth were knocked out, and others were broken.

'57 Pontiac Tested For 100,000 Miles

"Fresh from 100,000 miles of testing" the new 1957 Pontiac will go on display here tomorrow at the Matador Motor and Implement Company, local Pontiac agency.

Mike Hoyle, manager of the firm, says the new Pontiac is outstanding in every respect. He said the Pontiac power plant is even more efficient than previous models, the engine which set over 50 new world records, and led all rights in miles per gallon.

"We extend an invitation to everyone to visit us Friday to see and drive the new Pontiac," Mr. Hoyle declared. "We warn you, however," he said, "to be prepared for a surprise because the '57 Pontiac is a thing of beauty, safety and economy."

Army Pals Meet After 12 Years

Until yesterday, James "Tootie" Meador had not seen his Army buddy, Lou Settle, since 1944. He remembered the incident very well for Meador had just been wounded in the leg. Settle, an ammunition bearer, dragged his friend to a first aid station and went back to the business of war on a German front.

Meador was taken to a hospital and never saw Settle again. Later he heard that he had been killed in action. And then one day the war was over and soldiers returned to the homes.

Yesterday Meador saw a large automobile transport truck waiting at a gate where the road enters Campbell Ranch. When he reached the truck he found the driver was Settle. He lives in Kansas City. Settle remembered that Meador lived here and inquired about him. He was waiting at the gate for his arrival.

Some new automobiles were probably late in delivery and some ranch work may have been delayed as the two friends took up life where they had left it on that German battle front 12 years ago.

Baptist Church Roll Call Set

Roll Call of church members is going to be conducted at the First Baptist Church, beginning Sunday, according to an announcement by the pastor, Rev. Ray Manning.

"The idea is to recognize all the people of our church family," Rev. Manning explained. "We shall begin in alphabetical order and call the names of 10 families each Sunday morning.

Many churches have had roll call Sundays with great success, the pastor declared, and urged all members to attend services each Sunday, and help make it a success here.

Who says dream cars never come true?

Dynamite from Detroit

Coming! America's first production dream car — it will influence the shape of cars for years to come.

The old Detroit rule was to introduce new features gradually, to make little changes each year. Sometimes a new grille, an engine improvement, or new colors and trim.

We broke that rule. In fact, we broke all the rules. This is dynamite!

For you are not the only one who has dreamed of a totally modern car, a car that has everything you find at automobile shows, in illustrations, and in custom-built experimental cars.

Detroit has had that dream, too. And that's why the 1957 Mercury is the car that has honestly excited the most car-jaded, the most sophisticated of Detroit's automotive experts.

When you see the new 1957 Mercury, you'll see America's first full-production dream car—a car that will influence the shape of cars for years to come.

You'll see a dream car you can own and drive—a car that has far more than startling years-ahead beauty.

THE BIG M for '57 boasts dream-car features never before found outside a designer's dreambook: a Keyboard Control that makes ordinary push-button driving old-fashioned; an exclusive Floating Ride with a revolutionary new cushioning action you have to feel to believe. There are Mercury "firsts" everywhere you look. A Power-Booster Engine Fan in the Montclair series that saves horsepower other cars waste. And many more Mercury exclusives.

You'll see THE BIG M—the new Mercury for 1957—soon. You'll see it. You'll drive it. The first dream car that can be yours. The dynamite is on its way from Detroit to your dealer's—now!

Rheumatic Fever Responsible For Defective Hearts

AUSTIN, Nov. 8—Heart disease is still the number one killer over all other causes in the United States today State Health Department statistics show. Despite awe-provoking advances in the cardiovascular field of medicine, the high tensions of modern living continue to reap its harvest of deaths from heart diseases.

Rheumatic heart conditions, though not high on the mortality list, nevertheless takes its toll. Rheumatic fever is responsible for 95 percent of the defective hearts in childhood.

It accounts for more than a third of the crippled hearts in adult life, and according to insurance statistics, chronic rheumatic heart disease accounts for five percent of deaths from dia-ease of the heart. Rheumatic fever is no longer the threat it once was. Scientific advances of the past few years have made it possible to prevent most cases of this disease which disables so many each year.

The main target in the fight against rheumatic fever is a special kind of sore throat—called a strep throat, which is an infection caused by the streptococcal germ. Doctors know that a strep infection precedes most attacks of rheumatic fever.

Children between the ages of six and eight are the most common victims. The plan is to prevent the strep infection or to treat it adequately at the onset, thereby averting a possible attack of rheumatic fever.

This information is encouraging for all parents and especially to the child who has had rheumatic fever. The condition has a way of repeating itself and each attack increases the chances of heart damage.

To protect a child who has rheumatic fever, doctors are prescribing regular doses of such medicines as penicillin and the sulfa drugs. It may be necessary for the child to take such a medicine for a long time. These medicines are available free at your city or county health departments for those unable to pay.

If a child who has never had rheumatic fever gets a strep infection, immediate treatment is required because rheumatic fever usually doesn't follow when treatment is prompt and complete.

Disease Advances With Fall With the late fall season, strep throats are on the rise in Texas. Dr. Henry A. Holle, commissioner of health, asks that parents watch for these signs which may be an early warning of a strep throat condition in your child.

A sudden sore throat or pain in the throat when a child swallows; pain when you press under the angle of the jaw; swollen glands; fever, usually between 101 and 104 degrees.

Also, the child may have a headache or experience nausea, and be especially watchful if the child has been exposed to anyone who has had scarlet fever or a sore throat. Call your doctor if any of these symptoms are present.

Elementary Elim

The Diary of Mary White

[Author's Note: Didn't realize until last week that I had not mailed all my summary of the summer. Had another half telling of the good things happening, but didn't know until I cleaned my office that I had not typed it up. Guess it's too late now, so will just forget about it.)

October 3, 1956, Wednesday
Planes began circling Elim about ten o'clock this morning. DC-3 after DC-3 circled and then an amphibian. They came from the direction of Nome, turned and went back. By their maneuvers we knew that they were search planes. Quietly we crossed our fingers while our hearts lifted an unvoiced prayer. "Lord, if they can not live, let death be swift and sudden."

A frustrating day in the school room. There are days when lesson materials fit into class experiences beautifully. Some days a portion fits and the rest gives trouble to a teacher of slow ingenuity. Then, to provide variety, there are days when nothing fits - absolutely nothing. This was one of those.

Those farm and city units that fit so well into primary work in the States are "de bunk" here. The children never saw a farm or a very good resemblance of a city. It really stretches my imagination to build from the Elim that they know, to the tall buildings, traffic lights and such of the city.

October 4, 1956, Thursday
Stepped back to the living room about eleven o'clock to get a book. There sat Harry. He had heard the news. John Hutchison, the pilot of our mail run and our personal friend with four passengers had crashed in a snow squall. All were dead. I thought, "Oh, the merciless toll of the flying in this country." Actually, I suppose the percentage is no worse than Stateside accidents, but I found it hard to keep my mind on my work for the remainder of the day.

October 5, 1956, Friday
Besides no pilot for our run, the weather was misbehaving this morn. No one seemed to have any hope of mail. Our hopes were justified, for snow began soon and made a steady onslaught all day.

Led my students far afield today - to Mars first then to the mystic worlds beyond. A news paper article about Mars coming close to the earth started the discussion and it drifted from there to the infinite. My new book about angels, spirits, and the spiritual side and future life, by G. Campbell Morgan is just too good not to share a little of it with my students.

Listened to Brooklyn-Yankee ball game after school, read a while, and called it enough.

October 6, 1956, Saturday
Awoke to the sound of running water. . . rain. It got rid of a goodly percent of our snow but more fell this afternoon. Just before dark the skies cleared and the temperature dropped to twenty degrees. The whole out of doors is an ice rink tonight. Of course I didn't go ice skating. There is always the family wash! I'm looking rather longingly to that day of white and shining robes. I don't think they have to be washed.

October 7, 1956, Sunday
A mercifully bright sun on our ice and snow. Temperature climbed upward until noon then excitement flared and we forgot to look at such trivial things as weather. Out of the sky swooped mail! Secure contributions, and film. Listened to the fourth world series game while we read. One Eskimo came in to visit. He was so bored with the baseball game he promptly went to sleep and snoozed contentedly on my couch. He awoke after about thirty minutes, told us he came to return a rope, he had borrowed, then walked out the door and carried the rope home with him. I looked up long enough to wonder why, then went on reading. H W was so engrossed he didn't even look up. Our appreciation of the U. S. Postal System is growing.

October 8, 1956, Monday
And the old covered wagon rolled right along. Our snow was "The Man from the Alamo". Eskimos think that all Texas people do is ride horses, chase Indians, and fight in general. They never have asked me how girls on Indian-beset wagon trails running in the dust and shooting all the time can still have beautiful coiffures, and wear lovely silk and lace dresses. Maybe people are as stupid as movie directors and soap opera writers think they are.

October 9, 1956, Tuesday
Routine without an inspiration.

October 10, 1956, Wednesday
Routine until the arrival of an army man connected with the National Guard. For lunch he had practically nothing but had my ire been the fuel under the pot, the little he ate would have been well done. Army personnel that drop in and act like they were in a hotel, cause me to go into a slow burn. I couldn't drop into army quarters uninvited. I'll bet a doughnut. It's a purr lashed rule that they are not to come to us without clearance through the B.I.A. office with us but. . . (Explanation: We are no longer ANS. We are Bureau of Indian Affairs proper.)

Was so put out that I could not concentrate so I read "White Fang" to the children this afternoon. They were happy even if I was not.

October 11, 1956, Thursday
Plane about three this afternoon to pick up Mr. Army. Breathed a sigh of relief as he went up the path then nearly choked. Down that same trail came another man, bag and baggage. AH-NE-KAH!

This visitor turned out to be our radio technician. Definitely we were glad to see him despite the board, so I quit choking. He has been in Alaska for thirty-two years and is quite different from these army guys fresh from the States with an aura of "God's gift to Alaska" about them. People who have spent many years in Alaska are easy to accommodate and easy to talk to.

We now have radio and radio two brand new sets. We can hear anything in Alaska. Mr. Burkher heard Atka and that is the last station at the far end of the Aleutian Islands. There is a noticeable grin on R. W.'s face. Think he is looking forward to some gab.

Elim now has a little Marelda. The midwives interrupted my 10 o'clock class and by noon the news was out. It was a baby girl named for the last girl to die in the village. According to tradition, my Marelda's spirit will guard the baby and keep it safe.

Went down to see the baby to night. It is a perfect little thing, but I couldn't help being sad when I looked at the surroundings in which it will grow up.

AS VOTES FOR SECOND TIME

By CHAS. A. GUY
Matador Journal Editor

David Eisenhower, a five-star general with a star on his shoulder, Tuesday carried off the second time hard-running race for the American citizenship in re-electing the president by a vote of landslide.

Eisenhower, a native Texan who spent his first years in Pennsylvania, took the lead in the Texas election on Tuesday, and never looked back. His victory was his second over Democratic Standard-bearer Adlai Stevenson.

former Governor of Illinois. As the President's grip on Texas' 24 Electoral College votes tightened to a mathematical certainty, voters gave all other Democrats on the Statewide ballot whacking majorities and approved all of eight proposals to amend the Constitution.

Big Cities For "Ike"
This year, as in 1952, Eisenhower's Texas strength flowed strongest from the larger centers of population, including those where organized labor is most deeply entrenched. Although the Texas Federation of Labor had urged all unionists to "vote the Democratic ticket from top to bottom", there must have been some labor defection from the Stevenson camp, else the President would have received fewer votes in highly unionized areas.

Metropolitan areas of Dallas, Houston, Fort Worth and San Antonio all gave the President healthy leads. Other populous cities, including Lubbock, Waco, El Paso, Tyler, Longview, Midland, Odessa and Amarillo added to the Eisenhower vote.

Numerous counties which gave the nod to the President in 1952 reversed themselves this year notably in West Texas. On the other hand, some East and Central counties which gave margins to Stevenson four years ago, this year flopped to the redoubtable Ike.

Incomplete returns indicated the President had lost support in 15 or more West Texas counties which supported him in 1952 and Stevenson had lost out in 12 of more East Texas counties he carried four years ago.

Counties which switched from Eisenhower to Stevenson in West Texas included Dallam, Oldham, Collingsworth, Childress, Briscoe, Castro, Parmer, Bailey, Hale, Floyd, Motley, Hardin, Foard and Wilbarger.

Whether Eisenhower's margin of victory Tuesday will surpass that of 1952 remained in doubt. Four years ago, he became the second Republican Presidential nominee since Reconstruction days to carry Texas and he did it by more than 135,000 votes. Herbert Hoover's 1928 victory in Texas was more than 100,000 votes shy of Eisenhower's 1952 winning margin.

Highlights and Sidelights FROM YOUR State CAPITOL
Texas Press Association
By VERN SANFORD

AUSTIN, Texas—Good news from Gov. Allan Shivers.

Texas' Governor reports that the State will begin the new biennium with a $50,000,000 surplus. He also advised the Texas Research League, to whom he made the announcement, that under the same general budget now in use, a tax bill might be avoided by the upcoming legislature.

Four future needs were listed by the retiring governor, for the Legislature's consideration.
1. Full-time paid parole supervisors.

2. Authority to back up responsibilities placed on the governor.
3. Abolition of a earmarked special funds.
4. A building for housing state archives.

Austin's biggest spotlight of course, be turned on the Capitol building come January. Arrival of a new Legislature will quicken the tempo of the city. Large turnovers in the summer primaries mean a horde of newcomers to both houses.

Crusade For Archives
Legislators likely will hear many pleas for a "permanent and proper home" for Texas archives.

Group after group has joined the crusade to protect the state's historical documents. Their theme: a remote Quonset hut is no fitting place to house the original Texas Declaration of Independence and William B. Travis' famous "victory or death" letter from the Alamo. Besides being unhandy and unsuitable, say the crusaders, the hut is unsafe. It's the same building where Highway Department records burned two years ago. It's leaky, and some water already has seeped in and damaged some documents.

Texas State Historical Foundation is taking the lead in rallying its 1,400 members and other tradition-minded groups to seek legislative action.

Water Money Sought
Texas Water Resources Committee is working against time to have a statewide water conservation program ready for the next Legislature.

Already approved by the committee is a proposed $10,000,000 appropriation to buy storage space in federal reservoirs. Three other proposals are being re-written and will be taken up at a December meeting. They are: (1) an anti-pollution bill to deal with contamination of underground water supplies; (2) a constitutional amendment to set up a $100,000,000 bond fund to finance local conservation projects and (3) an enabling bill to finance the bond revenue.

Also still being considered is a three-cent property tax with proceeds earmarked for water conservation. Some observers have suggested that several plans operating all at once will be needed to finance the kind of water program Texas needs. Texas League of Municipalities is backing a $300,000,000 program.

Sam Houston Shrine
Another request of the Legislature, this one from Huntsville, will be laid before both houses in Austin, come January. Asked for will be $82,000 to add three new wings to the Sam Houston Memorial Museum, plus a $3,000 appropriation increase for maintenance.

Gas Pricing Formula
Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd has filed a "friend of the court" brief in the case of Panhandle Eastern Pipeline Co. vs The City of Detroit. He wants the U. S. Supreme Court to review a decision by the court of appeals for the District of Columbia.

Shepperd's complaint is that the appeals court decision compels the FPC to use a gas pricing formula that penalizes small producers. "The Federal Government should not have the power to fix Texas natural gas prices," Shepperd contended, "but if they assert that power, then the FPC should determine local prices on a local basis."

Christmas Is White Hope
Despite a steady four-month sales decline Texas merchants still think Christmas will cure the year's average.

Opinion surveys by the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research show that "typical merchants are confident that holiday business will surpass 1955 and that satisfactory volume can be expected well into 1957."

Latest figures pointed the other way. September sales were down 12 percent from a year ago and the year as a whole was 6 percent under 1955. Shipping significantly from last year were Automobiles, 28 percent; Food Stores, 18 percent; Furniture, 13 percent; Building Materials, 13 percent.

Bureau explanation in a nutshell: People bought so heavily in '55, they're having to use '56 income to pay off the installments.

Farmers At Work
Widespread rains, though generally light, put farmers to work day and night. It was a chance to get winter crops in before the soil dried out again. But it wasn't soon enough, say agriculture experts, to prevent a hard winter for livestock owners.

Over 20,000 Arthritic and Rheumatic Sufferers have taken this Medicine since it has been on the market. It is inexpensive, can be taken in the home. For free information, give name and address to P. O. Box 522, Hot Springs, Arkansas.

"It's pretty late in the year for winter grazing to be produced... herds will require heavy supplemental feeding," said a spokesman for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "But with additional moisture, farmers and ranchers can begin their 'come-back' next spring and summer."

Short Snorts
Frank A. Driskill is the new administrative assistant to Land Commissioner Earl Rudder. Driskill, a Crockett businessman, succeeds Douglas Weitzel who went to Longview as an investigator in the district attorney's office.

Six major air-sampling stations will operate in Texas after the first of the year, reports the State Department of Health. Sites will be Dallas, Houston, Corpus Christi, San Antonio, El Paso and Point O'Connor on the Gulf Coast. Air will be tested for sources and types of contamination.

State assistance for Austin city finances was suggested by a Travis County grand jury last week. It noted that the city furnishes police and fire protection and other governmental services to state institutions and buildings—all except from city taxes.

Texas contributions of $5,000 have been sent to Europe to help feed refugees in Hungary, according to John Gillies, Texas Director of the Christian Rural Overseas Program. Request has gone to Washington for approval of 1957 Texas cotton acreage allotments, the Texas Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee has announced. Figures were not released. West Texas cotton farmers say they will be unable to repay their obligations and make a normal income unless their acreage quotas are increased.

Lawrence E. Leubetter, superintendent of the Capitol building and grounds, has retired after 38 years of state service. He was among 17 long-time employees of the Board of Control to retire at the same time. A new policy of that department makes retirement compulsory at the age of 72. Those leaving ranged in age from 70 to 82.

Disabled Texans To Receive Assistance If Special Election HJR 30 Is Approved

With the excitement of the general elections behind them, Texas voters are now preparing to go to the polls on November 13 to pass on House Joint Resolution No. 30, also known as Amendment No. 9.

The proposal is aimed at providing financial assistance for permanently and totally disabled Texans.

Urging today for the amendment, Euclid Hudson of Port Arthur, new president of the Texas Society for Crippled Children, said that more than 15,000 needy Texans are victims of crippling conditions which make them unable to support themselves.

"There are many things which can so disable a person that he or she becomes permanently and totally disabled, and unable to earn a living", Hudson explained.

"Besides the tragic results of traffic and household accidents which can strike any of us at any time, there are diseases of the bones, muscles, heart and nerves which disable thousands of Americans daily."

Hudson paid tribute to the research work of such organizations as the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, the Easter Seal Research Foundation and others, but pointed out that research studies are necessary, slow and are not always rewarding.

"There are thousands of disabled persons living today for whom the wonderful medical discoveries of the last few years came too late," he said, "and many others will be disabled by other conditions before methods of prevention or cure are found. We never know but what we or someone we love will be next."

Noting that many men and women are stricken by crippling conditions in the productive years between 25 and 60, Hudson explained that at present only those Texans who are either younger than 18 or older than 65 receive state aid for disabilities, through the programs of aid to dependent children and old age assistance.

Already In 41 States
Passage of the proposed amendment will enable the Texas Legislature to draft legislation to take advantage of federal assistance available under the Social Security act of 1950, already in effect in 41 states and Puerto Rico.

The proposal limits to $20 per month the maximum amount that can be paid to any disabled person from state funds and bars from its aid anyone who receives other forms of assistance, such as aid to the needy blind, old age assistance, aid to dependent children, or anyone resident in a completely state-supported institution. Federal funds would increase the maximum amount of assistance to approximately $55 per month.

Applicants for aid must meet residence requirements and undergo careful medical examination and determination of their ability to make a living. Any who would benefit from medical or curative measures will be helped to get such care.

Submitted to the last session of the Legislature by State Representative Will L. Smith of Beaumont, co-author in 1945 of in the Lubbock Morning Avalanche.

For Eisenhower there was a clear-cut, resounding vote of confidence from the great American electorate—one of the most crushing landslide victories in the nation's political history.

The soldier-statesman thus became the first Republican to win a second term since William McKinley did it in 1900. McKinley was assassinated soon after his re-election.

Stevenson conceded (at 1:20 EST a. m. Wednesday) his defeat in these words, addressed to Eisenhower:

"You have won, not only the election, but an expression of the great confidence of the American people. I send you my warm congratulations."

"Tonight we are not Republicans or Democrats, but Americans. We appreciate the grave difficulties your administration faces, and as Americans, join in wishing you all the success in the years ahead."

on the last play of the first quarter, the Owls showed a new determination which momentarily startled the Matadors. C. L. Dunn, Silverton quarterback, finally plunged one yard for the Owl's only TD. Bobby Stafford placed the extra point kick over the goal. Now both teams settled down and dug in. Time ran out in the first half before they were able to score again. The score at halftime was 21-7.

Jumping back up after the short rest, the Matadors again put the spectators on their feet as Graham ran back the opening kickoff for 88 yards and Matador's fourth touchdown. They failed to make the extra point. Defensive football now became the rule and neither team reached their opponent's goal line until the Matadors scored for the final time late in the fourth quarter as Fullback Arvin Ellthorp plunged through the middle of the Matador line and didn't stop until he reached yard 15 yards away. Pat Green successfully kicked the extra point. The score stood at 34-7 when the official pitched the ball in the air. The Matadors have scored 274 points this season to their opponent's 66.
