ELMER STEARNS SUFFERS STROKE

Elmer Stearns was still unconscious in Stanley Hospital late yesterday after suffering a stroke at his home some time Tuesday night. He was found on his living room floor yesterday morning by his housekeeper Mrs. Claud Jeffers, where he had apparently started to turn off his lights in preparing to retire.

He was rushed to the hospital in a Eudy Seale ambulance. His temperature was high yesterday afternoon as a result of a congested condition of his lungs. It was believed the stroke was caused from a blood clot which might be dissipated but the pneumonia condition is causing serious concern.

The air conditioner was still running when Mrs. Jeffers found Mr. Stearns and it is assumed he lay all night in the cool atmosphere.

Mr. Stearns' daughter, Mrs. B. E. Shaw Jr., flew from her home in Omaha, Neb., and arrived last night to be at her father's bedside. Also here is a brother, Claude Stearns of Temple. Alvin Stearns, local resident returned home yesterday from Cowles, N. M. upon receiving word of his brother's illness.

Mr. Degan said he believed the staple would class strict-middling, 1-inch which has a market loan value of approximately 36c. Mr. Degan paid a first bale premium price of 40c. The bale produced 850 pounds of seed. Present market value of seed is $45 ton.

Twister Damages East Afton Home

Hail Leaves Wake of Heavy Damage To Irrigated Cotton in Area; Shower Here

A SMALL CYCLONE spawned in a thunder cloud yesterday afternoon struck the Maurice Goodwin home in East Afton and ripped away the heavy stone veneer on the west and north sides of the garage which is a part of the palatial farm home.

No one was injured. Mrs. Goodwin, her three children, Billy, 17, Martha, 15, and Jane 13, a friend of the youngsters', Sharon Ragland, 14, and Mrs. Goodwin's father, R. P. Shelton, were in the garage, where they had gathered when the storm approached.

In attempting to close the garage door Mrs. Goodwin was lifted from the floor by the force of the wind. A glass brick window on the west side of the garage was blown down. The group was unable to reach a concrete storm cellar only 30 or 40 feet away, so quickly did the storm strike. Mrs. Goodwin said the roaring was so terrific that they did not hear the stone as it was ripped away from the garage.

A hail storm which accompanied the wind resulted in serious crop damage to between 300 and 400 acres of fine irrigated cotton in the area. Mr. Goodwin called the Tribune late yesterday and said he estimated the loss on 120 acres of his irrigated cotton to be between 50% and 75%. Other crops damaged were on the Alvie Pernel and F. L. Byars farms. A pump house on the Drue Byrd farm was demolished by the wind, as were two television antennas at the Jack Lawson home near the Goodwin home.

Heavy rainfall in the Dickens area about 4 p. m. yesterday was reported to be 1.80 inches within 25 minutes. The rain was accompanied by high wind and some hail.

Rainfall here yesterday afternoon measured 1/2-inch which brought relief from the excessive heat. A shower Tuesday noon measured 1/2-inch here according to Bob Stanley's rain gauge.

Principal interest in the county is centered at Roaring Springs (precinct 4) where Charlie Long and Omar Parks are candidates for commissioner. Long was top candidate in the three-man first primary race. Parks and J. N. Fletcher tied for second place. Fletcher lost in an elimination arrangement through the county Democratic committee.

In the one state race for Associate Justice of the Supreme Court (Place No. 1) Robt. W. Hamilton of Midland County is favored to lead West Texas. The Dallas News says J. Edwin Smith of Harris County, his opponent, is a labor union lawyer and is backed by the state labor organizations.

TO TEACH
Miss Vertin Reeves, former teacher in Matador Elementary School, has accepted a teaching position in Petersburg for 1958-59 school terms. She will teach a second grade class.

Freak Wind Tosses Large Tree in Pool
A SMALL CYCLONE out of a cloud "about the size of your hat" Thursday afternoon uprooted a large oak tree and tossed it in the Roaring Springs swimming pool. No one was injured by the storm.

Harry Hamilton, 17, dived into the pool after it had been partially emptied and sustained injury to his head and neck. He was rushed to Lubbock by a Eudy Seale ambulance where x-ray examination indicated that his injuries were not serious.

A few "hot weather" showers scattered over the area Thursday afternoon. A few drops of rain fell here. The cloud in the springs pool area produced a few bolts of lightning and rain began falling on the crowd at the pool. Those in the water, and visitors took shelter in the bath house at the pool's edge.

The wind hit with terrific force and suddenly, uprooted the big tree from the east side and tossing it in the pool. The tree and debris carried by the sudden storm made it necessary to drain the pool.

A group of Lubbock Scouts volunteered their help. It was necessary to saw the tree in several pieces in order to remove it from the pool. The popular bathing site was closed to the public for two days until the tree and debris could be removed and the pool refilled from the springs.

Shallow Water Dive
Young Hamilton dived into shallow water at the south end of the pool while it was in the process of being drained, a witness said. He received lacerations about the face and injury

Being critical it is prudent to secure the hatches and doors on our own faults. They appear in transparent places in the path of the light intended to emphasize perfection.

It is the mountain that resists steadfast through the stress and is revealed in its beauty by the dawn.

Shoring your nest through the credit is as unwise as the off suspender buttons to the church collection. Time daily adjusts all accounts.

Unwanted vacation is the possibility that a man has been over-stuffed with the awareness of the condition.

Never of ambition often delusions of grandeur extend into the calmer permanence of achievement.

There are many rich adventures in the medium of memory after the filling of the mind has been exhausted. As I used to enjoy riding in a wagon with bare feet dangling from the end of the wagon box. Pleasure is seldom expensive.

"Lionism helps me to know other men of the community," Rev. Tucker said, "and enables me to enjoy a larger fellowship in a new community I like the spirit of doing things together for the progress and betterment of a community."

"I have always found Lions a group of select and progressive men and I know they have achieved some wonderful accomplishments in aiding youth, and rendering service to unfortunate people. I consider the Lions Crippled Children's Home as the Heart of Texas Lionism. Another reason I like Lionism is that it provides me with another avenue of service to my fellowman."

OF THE RECORD" SCOUT SCOOPS

After there be rain, is a combination fork, spoon, scissors, screw-driver, and bottle opener knife.

The same souvenir buyer brought home to his favorite and only sister a most prized possession — an exploding fountain pen.

Last, not least, but saddest, is the scout whose pocket's worth of uranium got run through a wringer when his mother dumped his soil stiffened levis into the washing machine.

About Your Health

A weekly public service feature from the Texas State Department of Health.

Many Texans like to spend their vacation time with an extended trip to far away places. There are several health risks in travel to strange places, but knowledge teamed with common sense can make your trip both safe and pleasant.

Immunization requirements for foreign travel vary from country to country and should be determined in advance so that you have ample time to receive the proper immunizations.

While it is probably safe to drink water in the big tourist hotels and the big cities everywhere, the traveler who gets off the beaten path should, in most areas, be careful!

Coffee and tea are not necessarily safe because of boiling, and carbonated or noncarbonated soft drinks from unfamiliar sources should be avoided.

Unless you are sure that the local milk is absolutely safe, and that the custards, ice cream, etc., are made from safe milk, you had better steer clear of them.

There is no rule that cooked food is safe food, but you should be especially careful of uncooked foods: refrigeration standards may be poor and, especially in sub-tropical climes, foods will spoil quickly.

Bathing in salt water is usually safe unless the water is grossly contaminated with sewage. Water infested with dangerous fish-sharks, barracuda, piranha — should of course be avoided.

In some places of the world, blood worms or flukes are prevalent and bathing in fresh water pools or rivers may be dangerous, so seek local advice.

Also, walking barefoot in southern climes where hook worm is prevalent should be avoided. If all this sounds dangerous, perhaps you should see America first!

There's plenty to see in Texas, wherever you may roam on a holiday jaunt or on a vacation trip. Clockwise from the lower left hand corner, some of the impressive sights to see in Texas are: The Big Bend, some of the most striking scenery in the state; Guadalupe Peak, highest point in Texas at 8,751 feet; the Palo Duro Canyon, camping grounds for Indian tribes in frontier days; East Texas oil fields,

Law Enforcement Career Offered

Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, made another offer today to young Texans interested in a career of law enforcement.

Col. Garrison announced that the DPS has openings for patrolmen in four of its law enforcement services. He said entrance examinations will be given to applicants in major cities throughout Texas during September.

The positions offer many personal benefits to young men 21 to 35 years of age who have a high school education, and who have been a resident of Texas one year. Applicants must be between 68 and 76 inches tall and weigh not less than two pounds, per inch of height.

Among the personal benefits afforded by the patrolmen positions are: two weeks vacation annually, retirement benefits, thorough training, travel and variety of assignments, promotional program and equipment furnished.

Persons interested in learning more about these important jobs may obtain information from the Texas Department of Public Safety in Austin. Applications received before the first of September will be processed before the entrance examinations to be given Sept. 16, 17 and 18.

COUNTY AGENT PALLMEYER SAYS:

UNDESIRABLE WHEAT TO BE DISCOUNTED

The U. S. Department of Agriculture has named wheat varieties which are undesirable because of inferior milling or baking qualities and will be discounted 20 cents a bushel in price support rates on the 1959 crop.

Discounts to discourage plantings of the undesirable wheat varieties were included in the price-support program for the first time in 1956.

The list includes among the hard red winter class Bluejacket, Chiefkan, Cimarron, Early MC 22, hull, Kanking, Kharkof MC 22, New Chief, Pawnee Sel. 33, Purkof, Red Chief, Red Hull, Red Jacket and Stafford.

Also listed in the soft red winter class is Kan Queen, Kawvale, Nured and Seabreeze. Durum varieties listed are Golden Ball, Peliss and Pentad.

rum varieties listed are Golden Ball, Peliss and Pentad. The list was developed by the USDA's Agricultural Research Service after consultation with state agricultural experiment station personnel, agronomists, cereal chemists and others.

Representatives of crop improvement associations support the program which is aimed at improving the overall quality of U. S. wheat production.

Application of the 20-cent-per-bushel discount to producer support rates will be the same as under the 1958 operation. Because wheat varieties are difficult to determine from threshed samples, identification of the variety going under price support will be the responsibility of the producer based on his knowledge of the varieties he seeded and harvested.

Even though some of the undesirable varieties might have protein content high enough for a premium, no protein premiums will apply to the undesirable varieties when loan rates are determined.

Scouts Back From Annual Encampment

"Bull Wagon" bellowed into town last Thursday night and deposited twenty-six sleepy scouts from Matador's Boy Scout Troop No. 60 on their respective door steps. It is interesting to note that the same number of scouts returned from their eleven day trip to Colorado as the number that left in the early hours of August 3rd.

Two scout buses, Bull Wagon and Chuck Wagon loaded to their brims, stopped to rest on the first night of the trip at Walsenburg, Colorado. Monday stops were at Pagosa Springs and Bayfield. Destination was reached Tuesday and camp for the week was set up on the shore of Vallecito Lake, Colo.

Reveille at 6:00 each morning awakened the camp of boys to a day of swimming, boating, mountain climbing, and fishing, also dishingwashing for those on KP duty.

Scouts found that a bus will serve the purpose when a train is too crowded. The boys had made a special trip to Durango to ride the narrow gauge train from that point to Silverton, a small but famous Colorado mining town. Bull Wagon tackled the high mountain roads after finding a full train in Durango.

A tour was made by the young Texans of the Colorado town that is noted as headquarters for a number of Western movies.

Return trip from Vallecito Lake camp was made through New Mexico. After traveling Wednesday, camp was set up for the night in Hyde Park, N. M. Santa Rosa was the main stop Thursday. With dinner behind them the scouts boarded their bus for the last lap of their journey.

In addition to Scout Leaders Freddie Welling and Douglas Pitts Jr., Ott Hines, Marvin Vaughn, and Howard Edmondson, were scouts: Richard Campbell, Jimmie and Stanley Welling, Kenneth Pitts, Gary "Candy Bar" Campbell, Loyd Martin, Tim Timmons, Ronald "Beetle" Bailey, Harry Campbell, Harry Hamilton, Lewis "Sticks" Jack, James and Ross Bearden, Fair Lockett, Roger Vinson, Lonnie Terry, Thomas A. Edmondson, David Rattan, David Thompson, Jimmy Taylor, Robert Brandon, Thomas "Clem" Edwards, Robin Darsey, Don Seigler, Key Vaughn, and Buddy Hart.

Only casualty on the trip was
