

About The Courthouse

Building Plans Provide Adequate Accommodations

This is the fourth in a series of articles designed to analyze all circumstances in connection with the courthouse last term...

If protracted voters approve the $600,000 courthouse bond issue Saturday, what will be the appearance and design of the structure?

Like a lot of other questions, this cannot be answered with finality at this moment. Only the preliminary plans have been drawn...

The original draft shows the building to be 190x28 feet; three stories and a basement; exterior of brick with limestone dress and trim...

Naturally, the interior would contain space for the essential functions of county government—the clerical, enforcement, administrative and judicial rooms, utility and jail facilities.

The second floor would be more or less a district and special agency center clustered about the district courtroom with 400 seating capacity...

The third floor would contain a juvenile ward, the jail with men and women blocks; kitchen; jailer's quarters, and egress directly to the district courtroom...

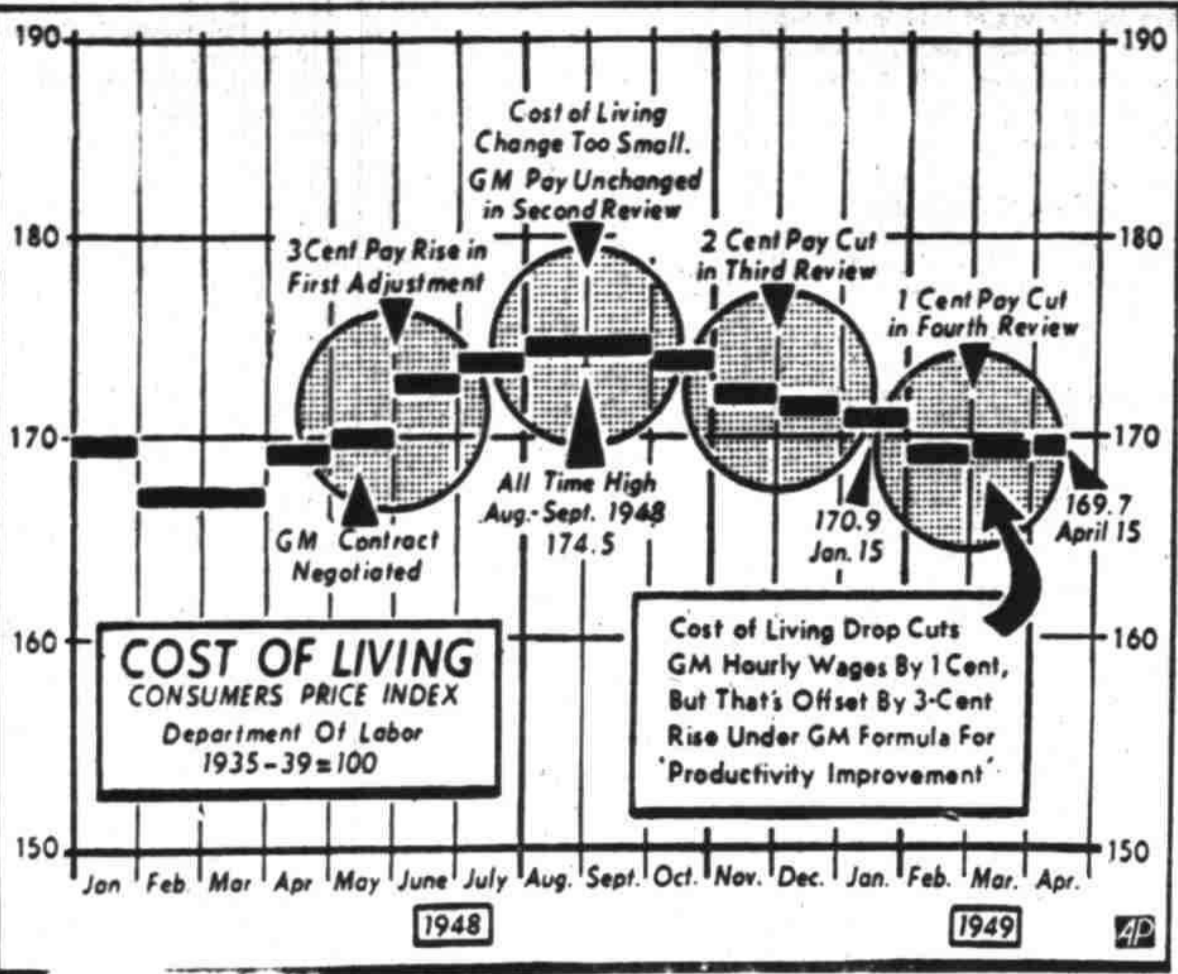

The basement would contain the central heating and air conditioning plants, utility rooms, etc. In addition, the collector-assessor and clerk offices would be connected with the basement for extensive storage...

Rancher Gives His Pastures A Rest

Leroy Echols deferred his four section ranch southeast of Midland last year. Echols, a rancher co-operator with the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District, rested his pastures during the growing season to give his grass a chance to grow. The rest from grazing improved the cover on the range, Echols said, and let the better grasses seed out and spread.

A better cover crop on the range helps the soil soak up more rainfall to grow more grass and protects the land from washing. Echols is using light stocking on his ranch to protect his grass from close grazing and to maintain a protective cover of grass on the range.

Range cover evaluation tests have been completed on the ranches of Gordon Stone, Jim and Edmund Tom, O. H. McAllister and Leroy Echols. Ben Osborn, range conservationist with the SCS at San Angelo who is making the tests, used a raindrop applicator machine to test the value of various degrees of cover as a protection against the splash effect of raindrops on the soil.

The force of raindrops striking bare soil detaches the soil particles which are carried away in runoff. Osborn said. A vegetative cover of grass or grass litter breaks the fall of the raindrops, lets more water soak into the ground and protects the land from loss and water. Tests made on High Plains soils at Amarillo show that a cover of more than 2,000 pounds per acre of grass litter is needed to give effective protection to the soil. Results of tests made on sandy loam soils in the Rio Grande plains showed that twice as much water soaked into the ground on range with fair cover as on range with poor cover Osborn said. Glen Green and John Meyer, conservation aides from San Angelo, and local SCS personnel are assisting Osborn in the tests which will be completed this week.

O. H. McAllister deferred a section of his pasture land on his ranch ten miles east of Midland last year. McAllister has used a deferred grazing system on his ranch for several years to improve his cover of grass. McAllister and Echols deferred grazing on their ranches as a part of their coordinated soil conservation program in cooperation with the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District.

Lines for terracing were run this week on the farm of Dr. W. B. Hardy, district cooperater in the R-Bar soil conservation group. Dr. Hardy is terracing new ground put into cultivation to protect it from washing and hold water on the land.

Edwin Schwarz started leveling borders this week on his irrigated farm east of Big Spring. Schwarz will use level borders in his irrigation system for efficient application of water. Kudzu on the farm of Jimmy Eason in the Midway soil conservation group has runners 15 to 20 feet long. Eason reported this week. Eason has found the Kudzu adapted to sandy soil. It affords a protective cover for the land, enriches the soil and will furnish good grazing, Eason said. Ocie Smith, district cooperater on his irrigated farm 4 miles west of Tarzan, has 85 cows grazing on 38 acres of improved pasture. Smith planted perennial rye, orchard grass, alto fescue, southern smooth brome, alfalfa and white Dutch clover on his irrigated pasture last fall. Smith plans to put in another 100 acres to improved pasture grasses this fall.

Presbyterians To Talk Race, Religion, Unity

MONTEAT, N. C., May 24.—Presbyterians with a prayer and a purpose were headed for this mountain resort today to talk race, religion, reorganization and unity. For delegates to the 89th general assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the U. S., which opens tomorrow, unity with the northern denomination still is the big issue despite a five year moratorium on such talk.

But while unity was uppermost in their minds, the delegates, or commissioners as they are called, were called upon to face for the first time the role of a true Christian toward Negroes.

"Only a church that heeds the summons of principles above all else, and that dares in deeds and spirit to defend the rights of men without fear or favor, will gain the abiding respect of the world." The report, signed by Dr. Stuart Oglesby of Atlanta as chairman, pointed out: "In the face of warnings that controversial issues must be avoided lest the fellowship of the church be broken, Christians in growing numbers are refusing to buy the church's physical unity at the price of its ethical loyalty to Jesus Christ." This report, however, was not prepared for submission to the assembly for action but only for "consideration and study." With this report, however, the assembly was slated to receive two overtures, or resolutions from the churches at Knoxville, Tenn., and Meridian, Miss., asking withdrawal from the Federal council of Churches. Both resolutions asked withdrawal on the grounds that the council has advocated the abolition of racial segregation. The Presbytery of Knoxville's overture also contended that the council was a political pressure group. The American Antiquarian Society, Worcester, Mass., has one of the country's largest reference libraries of American history and printing covering 11 miles of shelving.

Youth Shot To Death In Cafe

DALLAS, May 25. (AP)—A 17-year-old youth was shot to death at the rear of a cafe last night, and a 50-year-old man surrendered to Sheriff Bill Decker.

The dead youth was Charles R. Smith. Jess F. French, who surrendered to the sheriff, said he fired one shot after Smith fired at him with a shotgun.

Decker said the boy's gun had been fired. The youth's father, Robert Smith, said his son had left home earlier in the evening carrying a single-barrel shotgun. Decker said French could give no reason why the boy would fire at him.

Classifications For 117 Draft Registrants Posted By Board

Selective Service classifications for 117 individuals have been posted by Board No. 71, which embraces Mitchell, Howard and Martin counties. Twenty-two of that number involve reclassifications, while 95 are new registrants. Most of the classifications assigned were IV-A and V-A. The IV-A classification is assigned to all veterans, while registrants who have reached their 28th birthday are classified V-A. The new classifications were made at a recent board meeting attended by C. C. Hamilton of Loraine and A. Frank Roquemore of Stanton.

Land Planning Is Local Challenge

Planning the use of land to control soil and water erosion is an immediate challenge to land owners and operators in the Martin-Howard soil conservation district. Frank Loveless pointed out this week as the district joined 154 Texas soil conservation districts in observing Governor Beauford Jester's proclamation for soil conservation emphasis week.

The Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District recognized the need for a well planned coordinated conservation program in the development of their locally administered program when the district was organized in 1941. In assisting the district with its action program the SCS maintains a technical staff at Big Spring and Stanton. They help farmers and ranchers analyze the needs of each acre of their land and plan and apply measures in keeping with a coordinated soil conservation program based upon the needs of each of their various classes of land. Other agencies assisting the district are the Extension Service, Vocational Agriculture teachers, the P. M. A. and the F. H. A. and local civic clubs. Loveless said. The district supervisors sponsored a soil conservation field day December 9 on the farm of Mrs. W. S. Miller seven miles east of Big Spring. They placed emphasis on the measures selected by Alton Denton, who operates the farm, for application in his coordinated soil conservation program. These included cover crops, leaving crop stubble, chisel plowing, contour farming, terracing where needed, cover crops on orchard, pasture improvement, and planting of permanent cover on land not suited for crops.

Among the measures stressed by the supervisors are soil management and soil enriching crops to maintain and improve the soil by addition of organic matter and nitrogen. District cooperators are including cover crops of Abruzzi rye and hairy vetch, Madrid and Hubam clover, Dixie Wonder and Austrian winter peas in their cropping systems to protect their fields from blowing and washing and to increase the fertility of the soil. Loveless pointed out. Planning and applying coordinated soil conservation programs on irrigated farms became an important phase of the district's assistance to land owners this year, Loveless said. With the development of more than 70 wells in the western portion of the district farmers put in level border systems designed to make the most efficient use of water applied. They also planned soil building crops to take care of the increased drain on their soil resources from increased production. The district has taken the lead in encouraging land owners to develop crops needed in a soil man-

JUDGE WANTS TO SEE SECRET FBI REPORT ON TEXAS CITY DISASTER

HOUSTON, May 25. (AP)—Federal Judge T. M. Kennerly has seen two orders ignored, but he says he's still determined to get a look at a secret FBI report on the Texas City disaster.

He recessed trial of the $200 million disaster damage suit yesterday until May 31 in Galveston. But the judge said he wants that report in court when the gavel bangs again.

Two FBI agents have ignored orders to bring the report into court. It deals with shipments of ammonium nitrate fertilizer—the chemical that blew up aboard the French ship Grandcamp and touched off Texas City's disastrous explosions and fires of April 16 and 17, 1947.

Maurice H. Price, Milwaukee, Wis., agent, made the report. Yesterday was his second day on the witness stand. When he refused to produce the report, Judge Kennerly told him: "The court is bigger than you are, Mr. FBI."

Galen N. Willis, agent in charge of the Houston FBI office, was agent program which will be of benefit to them in their farm and ranching needs for acreage control, Loveless said.

subpoenaed to bring the report to court yesterday. He showed up a short time later—but without the report. Willis and Price quoted a Justice Department order forbidding release of FBI material except by special permission from the attorney general. And U. S. Asst. Dist. Atty. Joseph W. Cash of Houston remarked that Price is under jurisdiction of the Justice Department. Judge Kennerly replied he doesn't care whose jurisdiction the FBI men are under—he wants to see the report.

5 doctors prove this plan breaks the laxative habit

If you take laxatives regularly—here's how you can stop! Because 5 New York doctors now have proved you may break the laxative habit. And establish your natural powers of regularity. Eighty-three per cent of the cases tested did it, in one year. Stop taking whatever you now take. Instead: Every night for one week take 2 Carter's Pills. Second week—once each night. Third week—once every other night. Then—nothing! Every day: drink eight glasses of water; eat a definite time for regularity. Five New York doctors proved this plan can break the laxative habit. How can a laxative break the laxative habit? Because Carter's Pills "unblock" the lower digestive tract and from then on let it make use of its own natural power. Further—Carter's Pills contain no habit-forming drugs. Break the laxative habit... with Carter's Pills... and be regular naturally. When worry, overeating, overwork make you irregular temporarily—take Carter's Pills temporarily. And never get the laxative habit. Get Carter's Pills as any drugstore for $24 today. You'll be grateful the rest of your life.

MECHANICAL SLAVE DEVELOPMENT IS POSSIBILITY, SAYS SCIENTIST

BERKELEY, Calif., May 25—Another war would result in the development of "mechanical slaves" which would make many types of human labor worthless, says Dr. Norbert Wiener, originator of a new idea in science. Already science and engineering are nearer to the production of automata than they were to the development of radar prior to the outbreak of World War II, Dr. Wiener told a news conference. Under this new concept of industrial production robots would do much of the work now done by men on assembly lines. These mechanical slaves would take over

Paternity Suit Is Thrown Out

LOS ANGELES, May 25 (AP)—A paternity suit against Wallace Beery has been dismissed on the grounds that it couldn't survive the actor, who died April 15. So ruled Superior Judge William B. McKesson yesterday. The action had been brought by Mrs. Gloria Schumm, 32-year-old screen bit player, who claimed Beery fathered her son, Johan, aged 15 months. Her attorney, Walter N. Anderson, failed in an attempt to make executors of Beery's estimated $2 million estate defendants in his stead.

Second Negro Is Given Death In Guam Rape-Murder

GUAM, May 25 (AP)—A sentence of death was pronounced today on Pvt. Calvin Dennis, Negro airman of Frederick, Md., in the rape murder of Miss Ruth Farnsworth. A 20th Air Force court martial found Dennis guilty and assessed his punishment the same as that of his half brother, Pvt. Herman Dennis, of Calvert and Seguin Tex., who was sentenced to die last week. Calvin Dennis denied participation in the crime. But he admitted being present when Miss Farnsworth was slugged and carried into the jungle Dec. 11. After the girl was raped she was left to die. A third Negro, Sgt. Robert Burns, 32, of Spokane, Wash., will go to trial Friday in the case. Miss Farnsworth, of San Francisco, worked part time in a jade shop from which she was kidnaped the fatal night.

RIBBON RAMBLINGS

By MILDRED YOUNG

Visited in "Big D" this past week-end and had the opportunity of touring the News Dallas Morning News plant. I've always been a believer in the idea that publishing a newspaper is a lot more complicated than the general public realizes and now I'm just as firm a believer in the idea that publishing some newspapers is a lot bigger job than some newspaper people on other papers realize.

One of the outstanding features, of course, is the size. I had the feeling that if you could easily get lost and heard some of the employees tell some of their difficulties in knowing where they were going for the first few days or weeks. Another feature was the smoothness with which the work goes on. Having handled many a difficult task, the News was still mailing copies of "Texas Unlimited" to people outside the state Monday.

Most people seem to agree that something great has been accomplished by the establishment of such a newspaper plant in the state. It makes us want to change the wording of a quotation we've heard and say "great institutions are not sent from the skies, out of men's hearts they must arise."

Rita Will Be Flatly Told Aly To Be Boss

PRINCE ALY ARM-IN-ARM—Rita Hayworth, a demure look on her face, is escorted by Prince Aly Khan as they leave an art gallery in Cannes, France, after attending an exhibit there which includes the works done by Aly's uncle, Mario Magliano. Aly and Rita are to be married May 27. (AP Wirephoto)

By HARVEY HUDSON AP Staff CANNES, France, May 25. — When Rita Hayworth marries Prince Aly Khan she won't be asked if she agrees to obey him. She'll be told flatly he's the boss.

The French civil wedding ceremony, which the couple will have, says "the husband is the head of the family."

The marriage of the American movie actress and the heir to the spiritual leadership of the Ismaili religious sect is set for Friday.

It will be in the newly-white washed marriage room of the tiny city hall in Vallauris—a tiny hillside village about two miles from the Mediterranean.

The couple, to avoid crowds, had wanted the ceremony in the Prince's sumptuous Chateau De L'horizon. The French government, however, refused to grant the necessary special permission.

Under French law all marriages must be in the city hall except in cases of grave emergency.

Confusion about where the marriage would take place was not settled until last night.

The ceremony will be read by Communist Mayor Paul Derigon He says he is happy to be honored by officiating at the ceremony.

But there will be no bowing and scraping just because a movie queen and a spiritual prince are being married. The mayor will refer to them simply as "monsieur" and "madame."

Everyone at the Chateau De L'horizon has been silent about any Ismaili religious ceremony. Aly Khan said in a curbside interview "certainly there will be a religious ceremony," but he did not say the religious ceremony would be the same day as the civil ceremony. Nor would he say where the religious ceremony would be held.

At the residence of the Aga Khan, holder of the spiritual leadership to which Aly will succeed it was said two Imams (priests) were coming down from Paris to perform this ceremony. No one would say when they would arrive or what the ceremony would be.

Lee Ellroy, Rita's business manager who flew from Hollywood to handle press relations, was asked about the religious ceremony and the Imams.

He said "I don't know anything about it. I don't know anything about Imams. There's a guy camping out on the lawn. Maybe that's one of them."

Other visitors to the chateau said they hadn't seen anyone camping on the lawn.

JUST A MEMORY

Louis, Jacobs Dissolve Partnership On June 1

NEW YORK, May 25. (U.P.)—The richest partnership in prizefight history—that between Joe Louis, Alabama Negro, and Mike Jacobs, the Broadway ticket man—will become just a fabulous memory after June 1.

That is the day when old Mike's retirement from the 20th Century Sporting Club, the near-monopoly he founded 15 years ago, becomes official. Actually, Jacobs has had no active hand in the club's promotions since he suffered a stroke two and a half years ago.

Already the men who watched the great Louis-Jacobs combine take over the fistie world on the strength of Joe's fists and Mike's brains are beginning to debate the question of "Who made whom?" Perhaps a majority hold that it was Louis, a mighty champion, who carried Jacobs into national headlines, established him as the undisputed czar of the boxing industry and made of him the most respected—if not lived—figure in the game.

"Where would Jacobs have been," they inquired, "Without Louis? He would still have been peddling show tickets. The Jacobs faction, on the other hand, contends that Louis got at least an even break when, fresh out of the Golden Gloves, he signed a personal contract to fight only for Mike.

"Of course, Joe would have been a great fighter under any circumstances, concedes one of Jacobs' closest associates. "But who can say for certain that he would have had a chance to win the title, much less defend it successfully 25 times if Mike had not been guiding him?"

There was no answering this question. Until Louis knocked out Jim Braddock in June '37, there had been no Negro heavyweight champion since Jack Johnson. Harry Wills, now a prosperous Harlem landlord, never got a shot at the big title.

"Another thing," continued the Jacobs adherent, "Mike never let Joe make any mistakes. He kept him on the right track. Probably the best example was when Joe got knocked out by Max Schmeling in '36.

"It could have ruined Joe. He thought the world had come to an end. His confidence was lost. Mike was the only one who kept his head.

"As quickly as he could he threw Joe into a fight with Jack Sharkey, a former champion. He figured Joe was like a flier who had been in a crack-up and needed to go right up again. So Joe knocked out Sharkey, got his confidence back, and went on from there.

"All the point I want to make," he concluded, "is that Louis owes a lot to Jacobs, too. They ran as a pair."

Looking 'Em Over by Tommy Hart

We're completely in sympathy with Collier Parris' recent trade against baseball players who take the attitude that they know more about scoring games than official scorers themselves. Parris, a veteran Abilene scribe who has been at this business of writing sports quite a while, lashed out at the athletes who try to tell the sports bookkeeper how to run his business and do nothing to help build public relations between his trade, the Fourth Estate and the great sports-loving public.

Many of those grouchy athletes get to the point where they think the world owes them a living and treat writers and fans alike as if they were in their debt. This reporter has always had the most trouble with the 2 o'clock hitters, the boys who do all their clouting in batting practice but think every time they get on base they should be accredited with a hit, and some of the greybeards who are over the hill and don't realize it.

Will Ramsdell, the ex-Big Spring flinger, won three decisions in a row for Hollywood, one of them in a relief stint. Carlos Cowan, who tried out with the local diamond crew last season, is now with Brownsville of the Valley league. He won his latest start, 14-9, despite the fact that the opposition, Donna, touched him for 16 hits.

Y's Locke Vs. Entire Links Field Now

NEW YORK, May 25 (U.P.)—Whoever is responsible for getting Bob-by Locke to leave South Africa must be a disliked person among professional golfers.

This spring marked Locke's third trip to America to join up with the play-for-pay golfers. Each time the story has been the same. Locke and his rusty 25-year-old putter have been so successful that the American press mutter when you mention the man in knickers, white shoes and white cap.

In the recent unique Goodall Round Robin tournament his attire included the once popular button-down-the-front long sleeve sweater. With the top three buttons unfastened, a few in the middle buttoned and those at the bottom open, Locke looked like anything but a fashion plate.

One day coming up to the ninth hole, one side of the sweater hung perilously loose over his left shoulder. It looked as though it might bother the smooth rhythm of his swing. But Locke chipped from 150 feet out to within one foot of the pin and dropped his putt for a birdie 4.

Locke might look like something just off the boat in his odd attire but his dress is just one of the things that makes him different from the American pros. He had made a runaway of many tournaments. In his most recent victory at New Rochelle's sporty Wykazy course, he had a 33-point edge on the field. He was so far ahead of the 15 top American pros that some people lost interest in the event before the final round. The result was a foregone conclusion.

It's happened before. In the 1948 Chicago Victory Open he shot 266, beating par by 18 strokes. During six months in 1947 he won $24,327.50, capturing six tournaments and finishing second in three others.

Locke is so consistent with his chipper and putter that rival pros shake their heads. American pros seem to play the ball around the hole while Locke plays his shots in the hole.

Our pros have tried about every method to pierce Locke's seemingly cold armor. They have given him the "cold shoulder" treatment. They have praised him, and they have needed him. Nothing disturbs him.

When Locke was introduced at the first tee during the Goodall's fourth round, the announcer informed the gallery that Locke was "plus 43 and nine points ahead of Herman Barron."

"He won't be after this round," chimed in Jimmy Demaret with a smile. Locke then addressed his ball and sent it on a straight line down the fairway.

Demaret, popular even in his crazy-quilt costumes, has been one of Locke's constant needlers the past three years. Jimmy has a way of doing it with a smile. But this time Demaret's apparent attempt to ruffle round-faced Robert backfired. Locke came back with a 68 and Demaret a 75 to lose 21 points on the round.

Staseymen Edge By Roswell Rockets In 4-3 Thriller

Vasquez Bunt Produces Run

The Big Spring Broncos had to deal them close to their vests to defeat the Roswell Rockets in a 4-3 thriller played before some 1,100 fans here Tuesday evening.

A squeeze play executed by Ray (Cookie) Vasquez enabled Eddie Ramirez to race home from third in the eighth with what proved to be the winning run. Ramirez had gained a walk off Vic Michalec, gone to second on Carlos Pascual's safety and on to third when Catcher Tom Jordan of the guests dropped a Michalec pitch.

Latarus Coto, batting at the time attempted to lay the ball down and ease Ramirez's transportation to the far corner. He missed an outside pitch but the ball trickled out of Jordan's mitt and Ramirez was in there in a very close play.

Coto preceded to whiff but Vasquez, a lot of ball player all evening, poked a bunt down first base way and Ramirez thundered home. Michalec pitched brilliantly all the way for Roswell, matching three Big Spring hurlers in all departments. His mates gambling first to put him in the lead, then for a tie and yielded their ante on both occasions.

In a dramatic ninth inning, a great throw by Ace Mendez and an equally great play by Vasquez cut off Bob Mann with what would have proved the winning run at the plate. Mann tried to leg it all the way from first on Roy Baird's two-baser to the fence.

In the fifth, the Roswell manager, Bob Crues, tried to cross up the homelings with a bunt that would have scored Michalec but Gil Guerra, the Big Spring tosser, retrieved the ball in time to nip the front runner.

Coto climbed on his horse to snag a long fly by Jordan in the fifth that surely would have meant two runs for the opposition. Coto, playing right field, snagged the ball with his back to the grandstand. The play earned him a great ovation.

Pablo Molina the Hosse's second hurler, received credit for the win although he had to have help from Julio Ramos, who pitched to the last two batters.

Guerra, the starter, pitched sterling ball for six rounds only to have the roof cave in in the seventh when a single by Crues and a

Tottering Eagles Drop Decision To Aroused Fort Worth Panthers

By the Associated Press. The Dallas Eagles, who made hay while the other clubs were collecting themselves, are having their troubles.

The Eagles wind up a 15-day home stand tonight and it's been a dull stay. They have won only five out of 14 played.

Fort Worth's Cats, who have helped make the Eagles' home coming a nightmare, didn't start to play ball until their park burned. Since the fire they have won seven out of nine.

Last night the Cats plastered another one on the tottering Eagles winning 10-4 with 16 hits. San Antonio moved into second place in the standings, two and one-half games away from Dallas by edging Houston, 4-3, while Shreveport was vacating the runner-up spot with a 9-5 loss to Beaumont.

Joe Frazier furnished the punch that won for San Antonio. One run behind with two out in the ninth Frazier smashed a home run with Emilio Rige on base.

Beaumont pounded 13 hits in smashing Shreveport with big Gayle Pringle pitching a nine-hitter.

Oklahoma City licked Tulsa, 4-0, in the other game of the night. Dick Rozek allowed only three hits and fanned 12 batters.

Dependability Is A K&T Keynote

Dependability, a factor always sought by business and industrial concerns which require their own electrical power plants, might well be called the key to services offered by the K&T Electric Co., located at 400 East Third street in Big Spring.

The local concern not only is capable of furnishing new power plants of proven quality and durability, but also serves as a clearing house for expert repairing and servicing for all types of commercial electrical equipment.

Regardless of whether the repair or service job is presented at the shop or K&T technicians are required to go to the scene of the installation, the dependable service is the same. The K&T firm furnishes power plants and regular service throughout the oilfields in this area. They specialize in motor re-winding, magneto service and other tasks required to keep power plants and heavy duty electrical equipment in prime condition.

The K&T Electric Co. now has a large 5-KVA Kohler power plant on its floor that is proving to be economical for many users. Based on late experiences, it is capable of replacing two or three of the smaller units.

The K&T also has an ample stock of Chief electric motors, as well as belts, pulleys and other supplies. Although the firm does not ordinarily stock items outside the commercial field, a "Tryrite" electric unit for deep frying in the home is now being displayed and is available for immediate delivery.

Modern Kitchen Is Home's Major Asset

American architects and builders are doing an outstanding job today in building homes that are easy to live in.

In deciding whether a home is easy to live in, most home buyers look first at the kitchen—the room usually used most.

An organization which specializes in equipping the modern kitchen is the Stanley Hardware company, 203 Rinnels street, in Big Spring.

The famous Youngstown Kitchen, a prefabricated assembly which is made to fit any size room, is featured at Stanley's. The concern has in stock a wide variety of white-enameled steel Youngstown Kitchens, complete with both wall and base cabinets, the Kichenaid cabinet sink and the new Mullinard electric garbage disposer.

Youngstown equipment cuts costs and can be installed speedily. Most Youngstown Kitchens actually cost less than many old-fashioned built-in cabinets.

Among other items sold at Stanley's are the Crosley Frostmaster frozen food cabinet, the Crosley Shelvador refrigerator and the Estate Air-Flow range.

The Estate make of range features the Hide-Away Grid-All, perfect for preparing extra touches at mealtime; the Bat-B-Kewar, a separate meat-oven; automatic control

Proper Insurance Coverage Makes A Happier Vacation

Vacation time, just around the corner, should be a time for complete relaxation from worry. One worry that may be in the back of vacationers' minds is that of some mishap on a trip incurring financial loss. R. B. Reeder Agency, 304 Scurry, has the answer to that, and inexpensively. Of course most people wouldn't budge for a trip without their automobile being protected by insurance. But many do not know about public liability insurance, which, for a bargain rate, can protect the holder against personal losses which might arise out of any unfortunate mishap, at home or on the road.

Turkey is now working on an 18,000 mile road-building program aided by American capital, know-how and machinery.

British coal production in 1948 totaled 206 million tons—11 million tons more than 1947 production, but still below the prewar level.

Cotton Producers Finding Crop Protection With Hail Insurance

Weather is making big news this year, and news columns have been dotted with stories of extensive hail damage.

Less dramatic perhaps than a battered roof and windows is the even greater damage which sometimes comes to growing crops. For most fire and extended coverage policies on business and residential property is covered by insurance. Crops can be underwritten against hail damage, too, and the R. B. Reeder Agency, in its enlarged quarters at 304 Scurry, is writing an increasing volume of this type of financial protection to cotton producers.

Policies are handled through the company, founded in 1853 as a solid stock company, and one of the first companies to write hail insurance on crops.

The protection is simple. As soon as a cotton crop is up to a stand, it may be underwritten against loss by hail. This holds good until Oct. 15 when the crop should be made, harvesting well underway and the danger of hail largely past. Always a good investment, hail insurance has become particularly important this season with the weather pattern inclined to thunderstorms which can easily wipe out a field of promise in the twinkling of an eye.

Reeder also offers complete insurance service—fire, extended coverage, casualty, automobile, and life, all through capital stock companies; commercial and residential loans; and has vigorous real estate department headed by W. I. Broadus, experienced in property values and transactions.

KNIFE HAD SHORT BLADE
Testify In Murder Trial Of Doctor

CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia., May 25—Two Cedar Rapids men have testified in the murder trial of Dr. Robert C. Rutledge, Jr., that Byron C. Hattman's pocket knife had a blade only 2 1/2 inches long.

Dr. Rutledge, 28-year-old St. Louis pediatrician, is charged with the fatal stabbing of Hattman during a hotel room fight last Dec. 14. The defense contends the stabbing occurred accidentally after Hattman, a St. Louis aircraft engineer, pulled a knife during the fight. The blade, Dr. Rutledge has testified, was about four inches long.

Kenneth Ebershoff and Arthur Leubs, engineers for the Collins Radio Co., Cedar Rapids, testified yesterday they saw Hattman pare his fingernails with the pocket knife the afternoon of Dec. 14. They said he used a bone-handled knife with a 2 1/2 inch blade.

Earlier, a group of Emerson Electric Co. employees testified that from July 23 until about Aug. 10, they often saw Mrs. Sydney Rutledge, the doctor's 23-year-old blond wife, talking to Hattman at Hattman's desk. Both were employed at Emerson's.

Mrs. Rutledge has testified that she had avoided Hattman after July 31, when she said Hattman forcibly seduced her.

Other Emerson employees who testified yesterday are Fred Gals, head mathematician at the plant; Walter Funk, who was Hattman's immediate superior in the instrument design section; John C. Quody, head of the ballistics division; J. T. Thorp, Jr., project engineer; and W. L. Davis, Jr., assistant head of the ballistics division.

Their testimony agreed in these points:

1. Hattman was a "quiet and peaceful" character, and his disposition was "amiable and friendly."
2. Conversations between Sydney Rutledge and Hattman appeared to cease about Aug. 10 or 11.
3. Hattman used the pocket knife in his work to put a fine point on drawing pencils. He used a bone-handled knife with a blade about 2 1/2 inches long. He had never been known at Emerson plant to use any other knife.

Murder Charge Will Be Filed Against Convict

RICHMOND, May 25—Sheriff Ruce Lincoff said he would file a murder charge today against Joe Jaurez, 22, El Paso convict in the killing of a prison guard's wife.

Officers said Jaurez confessed last night the assault slaying of Mrs. R. P. Stovall, 57, wife of a Hartgen Prison Farm dog sergeant. The said his oral confession was picked up on a wire recorder.

The recorder was used by officers questioning a number of convicts about the death of Mrs. Stovall. She was found beaten and stabbed to death Monday in her house near the South Texas prison farm headquarters.

The recorded confession said Jaurez did not intend to kill Mrs. Stovall but did intend to assault her.

Jaurez said he entered the house on the pretext of asking Mrs. Stovall if she needed some potatoes. When she resisted his advances, Jaurez said, he grabbed her and tore her clothing, then slashed her throat four or five times and stabbed her twice in the heart with a large paring knife.

Jaurez said he had no help. But Capt. Loyd Frazier, head of the Harris County Sheriff's identification bureau, kept on checking fingerprints on the theory there might have been an accomplice.

Meet Set On Policy Toward Chinese Reds

PARIS, May 25—A responsible American diplomatic informant said today the United States has asked more than a dozen leading nations to meet on shaping a unified policy toward the Chinese Communists.

The informant said the State Department had sent notes to these nations, both in the Atlantic and Pacific regions, proposing talks to weld a common diplomatic front toward the emerging Red Chinese regime.

The move, the informant said, was touched off in part by recent reports that India was planning to recognize the Chinese Reds as soon as they formed a government for all China.

One of the most important suggestions made in the note, the informant said, was that none of the countries concerned should recognize a new regime in China without consulting the other nations.

He said another suggestion was that the powers should seek to bind China to maintain an open door policy for the West. Many of the big western powers, notable the U. S., Britain and France, have big commercial and economic interests in China.

Prisoner Lacks Time To Escape

ALBUQUERQUE, May 25—A prisoner who was lodged in the jail here one night en route to Tyler, Tex., sawed through one of the window bars and might have escaped — if his stay had been longer.

Police Chief Paul Shaver said J. H. Sowell, wanted in Tyler on a burglary charge, apparently used a small bent file he had concealed in his belt or coat-tails.

Here is the way Shaver reconstructed the story:

The Texan was brought here early yesterday by a Tyler officer. Police gave him lodging in a double-bunk cell apart from the main jail.

Apparently he tried to saw through three bars—one on each side of the one he completed. However, it took too long. He was again turned over to the Tyler officer at 6:28 a.m. He had sawed on the lone bar since he was placed in the cell at 2:05 a.m.

Report Half Million Die Of Tuberculosis In India Every Year

NEW DELHI—More than half a million people die of tuberculosis in India every year, Health Minister Rajakumari Amrit Kaur recently reported.

The health minister frankly admitted that it was impossible to prevent the spread of this disease in India because of overcrowded cities and the scarcity of hospital beds and sanatoria for TB patients.

The Tuberculosis Association, with the co-operation of the Health Ministry, is embarking on an extreme campaign of anti-tuberculosis vaccination.

The Library of Congress is now the largest library in the world occupying two buildings providing 414 miles of bookshelves and covering almost 36 acres of floor space.

Senate Group Okays Rent Decontrol Bill

AUSTIN, May 25—A House-approved plan to sweep off all rent controls in Texas is ready for debate on the Senate floor.

The Senate State Affairs Committee approved the House bill yesterday, 15-0, but only after amending it to give city councils the power to reinstate controls if a housing shortage develops.

Loyalist Demo To Appeal Rulings

FORT WORTH, May 25—An attorney for Loyalist Texas Democrats says he will appeal to the state supreme court the lower court rulings which blocks a purge of party officers who refused to sign Truman-Barkley pledges.

Ernest May, the attorney, said last night he will file the appeal next Tuesday, if the printer returns the brief in time.

Loyalists gained control of the Democratic state convention here last September and voted to throw out anti-Truman officials. But Tarrant County conservatives obtained an injunction against the purge. The second court of appeals upheld the injunction.
