

PLANS ARE STARTED FOR NEW COUNTY HIGHWAY

State May Build Childress To Whiteflat Road

One of Motley county's oldest wagon-road routes may soon become a state maintained highway according to an announcement made here Tuesday by a committee of Childress county citizens, including Jerry Debenport secretary of the Childress Chamber of Commerce, Representative Bob Alexander and commissioner C. L. Inman. The proposed highway will possibly follow the general course of the present road from Northfield to Whiteflat. It will serve Tell and the southern part of Hall county, intersecting Highway 4, 1.2 miles south of Childress.

The Motley county commissioner's court agreed Tuesday to purchase and fence a 120 foot right-of-way for the highway in this county, in event a designation is secured from the State Highway Department. If the road is secured, maintenance will start at once, the court declared.

Delegation To Austin

A delegation of county officials from the three interested counties Hall, Childress and Motley, will meet with the Highway Department in Austin on June 20, according to present plans. Representative Bob Alexander has assured the counties which are in his district, that he will lend full support to the plan.

Altho the designation of the highway will rest entirely with the Highway Department, it is assumed that the course will follow that of the present Northfield to Whiteflat road in order to save as much as possible on the purchase of a right-of-way.

The old Whiteflat to Childress mail-back route followed the same course over 35 years ago.

YOUTH VICTIM OF HIGHWAY CRASH MONDAY Nephew Of Fulfer Brothers Killed South Of Tulia

Funeral services were held at Plainview yesterday afternoon at 2:30, for Foster Moring, 22, employee of the Plainview Creamery, who was killed Monday evening about dark when a truck which he was driving over-turned about 5 miles south of Tulia. Moring was born and reared in Matador, but had moved with his family, from this community about 15 years ago. He was a nephew of Messrs. Elbert, Foster, W. M. and Fred Fuler of this place.

Three other occupants of the truck sustained injuries, being, the victim's wife, whose collar bone was broken, and his mother, Mrs. B. F. Moring, whose right hand was mutilated to such an extent that it was feared amputation would be necessary. A Mr. Campbell of Tulia, who accompanied the Moring family, also received a broken collar bone.

The accident occurred when the driver of a Chevrolet coupe which Moring was attempting to pass on a clear highway, turned toward the left side of the road ahead of the Moring vehicle, forcing the latter to swerve back to the right side of the road, when the coupe also suddenly turned right.

The deceased is survived by his widow, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Moring, one brother, Tracy Moring and three sisters, Mrs. Alta Sanford, Mrs. Annie Kate Garner and Miss Alene Moring, all of Plainview.

Attending funeral services from here were, Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Fuler, Mr. and Mrs. Foster Fuler, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Fuler, Fred Fuler and his daughter, Mrs. Joe Terrell, and Mr. and Mrs. John Boggus, he latter being a cousin of the deceased.

Mrs. A. A. Harp and Mrs. C. A. Pitts were Paducah visitors Wednesday afternoon.

BOSS LION HENRY FORD

The new officers will include Boss Lion, Henry Ford, who will replace W. F. Jacobs, Henry Pipkin as 1st Vice-President, G. E. Hamilton 2nd Vice-President, J. R. Whitworth, re-elected as secretary, A. ### Attendance Awards To Be Made Another feature of next Tuesday will be the presentation of perfect attendance awards, attractive gold buttons. It is declared that the largest number of perfect attendance members in the history of the club, will receive awards this year.

Outstanding in the award presentation will be Vice President Henry Pipkin, who is a charter member. There is no record of his ever missing a meeting during the nine years the club has been organized. Lion Pipkin is recognized as the wheel-horse of the club and his willingness to cooperate in every instance is a shining example of Lionism.

Terrace Work Here Receives Acclaim

Several members of the Soil Conservation Service have recently visited the "Syrup-Pan" water conservation projects being conducted by Frank A. Buckley, county agent, on Motley County farms. C. A. Rechenberg and H. M. Hartman of the San Angelo project spent Tuesday inspecting the demonstrations. They expressed surprise at the unusually good work being done by the county terracing equipment.

On Friday last week, Mr. Varnell, project manager at Garland, spent the day looking over the Motley County work. He stated that without exception no county in the state could show such outstanding accomplishments.

Mrs. Jack Barton and Mrs. Claud Groves of Spur, visited friends here Tuesday.

County Agent Office In New Quarters

The new offices of County Agent Frank A. Buckley, located on the second floor of the court house, have been completed and all equipment has been moved to the new quarters. The new offices provide almost double the amount of space of the former location and the equipment is arranged to a much greater advantage. The two, well planned rooms have been re-decorated and suitable filing and equipment closets have been constructed. In addition to the increase in sorely needed space, the more favorable organization made possible by the new arrangement is expected to materially improve the efficiency of the office force, Mr. Buckley declared.

Responsible for the improvements in the county agent's quarters is the fore-thought of the County Committee and the County Commissioner's Court who recognized the immense value of the county agent's work to all interests in Motley county.

RETURNS HOME

Mrs. Ora E. Patterson, former Tax Survey Supervisor of this district, has returned to Matador, after having completed her duties in that capacity at Paducah. Mrs. Patterson visited with friends in Denton, Texas, before her return home.

New Church Edifice Soon To Be Opened

Father's Day Drive For $250 Will Aid On Auditorium

With the end of construction on the new $20,000 Baptist Church building in view, enthusiastic plans are under way for opening services in the immediate future which will probably be in the nature of a Fellowship service for the congregation. R. E. Campbell, Sunday School superintendent and chairman of the building committee, had set Father's Day, June 19 as date for the doors of the new church edifice to be opened for worship, but with a few details yet to be worked out, it is doubtful that the opening services will be held before Sunday week.

Although original plans for the construction of the building did not allow, financially, for finishing either the exterior of the church, or the interior of the auditorium, the work has progressed steadily, and with special funds which have been raised from time to time since first pledges to the building fund were made, ample monies have been maintained in the building account to allow for the completion of the auditorium.

A special contribution of $250 has been set to be raised in the Father's Day services to add to the one taken on Mother's Day for the purpose of completely paying for the finishing of the auditorium which will then leave the exterior of the building to be finished. It is contemplated that new pledges will be taken in the early fall and work begun on the exterior in time to assure completion before the first of the year. Consideration is being given for a stucco, brick veneer, or native rock finish.

Construction on the church was begun this spring, with a cash contribution of over eight thousand dollars in pledges, practically all of which have been paid, in addition to extra donations that have been made by the membership and others from time to time.

HOPPER WAR CONTINUED

The war on grasshoppers continued a pace in Motley County this week as the destructive pests were rapidly developing wings and migrating into the fields of young crops. A temporary lull in the poisoning campaign was attributed by Frank A. Buckley, county agent to unsettled weather and the replanting of crops which had been destroyed by recent rains. The supply of government bran and poison was near depletion early this week, but a new shipment was expected daily.

Buckley stated a concerted drive during the coming week to kill all remaining hoppers before they become too scattered for effective control was urged by the county agent. W. Dirickson district supervisor of grass hopper control was in Matador Wednesday to aid in the work.

Bake Sale To Be Held Sat.

The ladies of the T. E. L. Sunday School class of the Baptist church announce that they will hold a bake sale at Campbell's Food Market, Saturday, June 18th for the purpose of raising money to be contributed to the church building fund.

A special Father's Day offering will be taken Sunday to be added to the building fund, and each Sunday School class has been given a quota to raise. Cakes, pies, bread, and many other items of food will be offered for sale by the ladies.

Singer's President

T. M. DIXON

T. M. Dixon of Whiteflat, above, was re-elected last year to serve a second term as president of the Motley County Singing Convention. Mr. Dixon has been a member of the organization for many years and much of its success is attributed to his extensive cooperation.

Plans Near Completion For Singing

Basket Dinner Will Be Provided By Matador As Host

Plans will probably be completed this week-end for the Motley County Singing Convention meeting to be held in the Matador High School auditorium, Sunday, June 26, it was announced by District Attorney John Hamilton, chairman of the arrangement committee.

The 47-year old Motley county organization, has held two meetings yearly and without interruption, according to A. B. Echols and W. J. Whitworth, the only charter members now living in the county.

All singers in this vicinity are especially urged to prepare basket lunch in abundance for the meeting since it is the custom of the organization for the host community to provide "dinner on the ground."

Details To Be Completed

All details for the meeting will be completed in ample time. T. M. Dixon, president, has been assured by the committees in charge. Coffee, ice-water and possibly the bread required for the meal, will be supplied by Matador organizations, it has been announced.

Singers from neighboring counties, as well as members and visitors, and everyone interested in singing, are expected to attend.

The second meeting this year will be held on the 4th Sunday in October, according to present plans.

Local Lions Attend Crosbyton Meeting

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ford and Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Whitworth drove to Crosbyton Tuesday evening where they attended a group meeting and Ladies' night of the Crosbyton Lions Club.

Principal speaker of the evening was Joseph R. Griggs, County Superintendent of Lubbock county. L. A. Woods, State Superintendent of Schools was also a guest at the meeting, and addressed the group in a brief speech.

AT FT. WORTH MEET

H. F. Pipkin drove to Ft. Worth Tuesday where he attended a Safety Convention which met there yesterday.

Explosion Is Fatal For Sammy Catlin

Sammy Catlin, 21, of Hollywood, California, son of Mrs. Jack Catlin of this place, met a tragic death yesterday at his place of employment when a gas stove exploded, burning him. Stanley Rose, halfbrother of the victim advised Marvin Patton over long-distance, of the accident, who in turn broke the news of the tragedy to the boys' mother. Sammy, who was born and reared here, went to Hollywood four years ago to join his two brothers, Orin and Stanley Rose, the latter of whom conducts a bookstore on Hollywood Blvd.

Although scant details of the accident were available, arrangements are being made to bring the body home for burial.

MAKING HEREFORD VALUE HISTORY

ROTAN, Texas.—New Hereford history was made this week when John B. Stribling, Hereford breeder of Rotan, Texas, announced the sale of one-half interest in the herd bull, Advanxiety, to Drs. W. J. and J. L. Jenkins, physicians of Galveston, Texas, who maintain a Hereford breeding establishment at Normangee, in Madison County, Texas. This sale not only establishes a new record for the sale of partial ownership in herd bull, but sets a new high in Texas herd bulls when the $15,000 value was established.

The bull has held the attention of Hereford breeders throughout the nation since his birth three years ago. At four months of age he gave such promise of being outstanding that Stribling announced him as a future herd bull and inaugurated a naming contest which resulted in more than 3,000 suggested names by Hereford breeders of thirty-six states, the Dominion of Canada, Australia, and Hawaii. The chosen name, Advanxiety, coined by adding to Anxiety the first three letters of the calf's sire, Advance Domino thus deriving Advanxiety pronounced, "Ad-vang-zee-u."

Originally selected by Stribling because of his individual merit and illustrious ancestry, his development has been closely followed by Hereford breeders. At Stribling's second sale in 1936, the bull, as a yearling, sold for $1,425, the top price of the sale, to Winston Brothers of Snyder, Texas. During the ensuing year the bull, while in service, was shown by them at six major livestock shows. Though not highly fitted he placed well up in the money each time. Stribling noted the outstanding individual merit of the calves sired for him by the bull prior to his sale and repurchased him from Winston Brothers for service in his own herd. Shortly after the repurchase of Advanxiety, his first son, Advanxiety Jr., a six-month-old calf, sold in Stribling's 1937 sale for $1,325. This great young herd bull is of linebred Anxiety 4th breeding and combines the blood of two great sires, Advance Domino and Superior Anxiety Jr., through the well-known Pretty Lady cow family.

The Jenkins brothers, co-owners of Advanxiety, physicians, at Galveston, Texas, have been consistently building a Hereford herd for the past two years. Addition of Advanxiety to their herd marks a long step forward in advancement of a herd already numbering many outstanding individuals, including a number of the better females of the Stribling 1937 and 1938 sales. A week prior to the purchase of Advanxiety the Jenkins brothers purchased the heifer Blanche Mischief 44th, at the Mousel Brother's sale at Cambridge, Nebraska for $2,500, there by giving them the honor of having purchased the highest-priced male and female of the Hereford breed for the current year.

Records are not new to Stribling and his cattle. He has achieved many of them in the past four years. His 1937 sale, with an average of $605 set a new all-time high on Texas Herefords at auction. A bull in that sale sold to Jack Frost, Blackwell, Texas, for $6,000, a new breed high for a Hereford bull at auction since 1923. His March 1938 sale holds the year's record to date with an average of $540 on fifty-seven head.

tation. The public and business establishments have been adequately warned. Any subsequent violations will be dealt with through legal channels.

We want the public to cooperate with us in this campaign. Such filthy conditions as heretofore have been prevalent over the state will never again be tolerated. When the public finds a rest room that is unsanitary, whether it be in a cafe, tavern, filling station, retail establishment or bus station, they will be doing their community a favor if they transmit this information directly to the State Health Department, Austin, so that necessary steps can be taken.

Disease breeds in unsanitary rest rooms and is spread from one person to another, indiscriminately, under such conditions. Facilities should be available for washing the hands; toilets must be sanitary and kept that way. The rest room that does not meet with these minimum requirements is a reflection on the establishment it serves and should be so interpreted.

O'Daniel Asks Governorship

W. LEE O'DANIEL.

FORT WORTH—Offering himself as a business man for a business office, W. Lee O'Daniel, Fort Worth flour merchant and former president of the Fort Worth Chamber of Commerce, will open his campaign for governor of Texas, Monday night at Waco, it was announced here Tuesday.

Accompanied by his Hillbilly Boys, his radio ambassadors in the flour business, Mr. O'Daniel will make his formal opening address on the Court House lawn at Waco Monday. His platform for the office will be the Ten Commandments; his motto, the Golden Rule, and his slogan, "Less Johnson grass and politicians; more smokestacks and businessmen."

Pledging himself to follow the same tactics in the governors office which has made him one of the most successful of all independent flour merchants of America, Mr. O'Daniel seeks the office on the grounds that it has too long been in the hands of politicians and should be returned to the people by the business man route.

Mr. O'Daniel has been in the flour business all his life and has never before participated in a political campaign. It is time for other citizens of Texas to gather around a "common citizen's candidate and promote the office from the depths of political vote getting chicaneries to a business basis."

The Common Citizens Candidate was the first commercial broadcaster of Texas and has made an enviable record by use of radio in his business. He has appeared daily on radio with his Hillbilly boys, and each year has received numerous requests from his listeners urging him to run for governor. This year when he began receiving these requests he asked for an expression from his listeners, and within a week's time received 58,499 letters urging him to make the race.

Mr. O'Daniel will campaign over the state, accompanied by his Hillbilly Boys touring in a large advertising bus he has used several years in his business. He will work out a regular itinerary, and between now and election will visit as many Texas cities and towns as possible.

He is campaigning without the aid of a campaign manager, and has set up his headquarters in his home at Fort Worth, thus eliminating the political atmosphere and much needless expense customarily attaching itself to a statewide campaign.

State Fights Filth Menace

AUSTIN, Texas.—The State Health Department's three-month old campaign against filthy rest rooms over the state has been marked by splendid cooperation from the retail business establishments involved, the public at large and the press. Our department is firmly convinced that filthy rest rooms are a major public health hazard that the department's sanitary inspectors are checking rest rooms as carefully as they do other violations of sanitary regulations," states Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"We have served notice on all retail establishments in Texas that must clean up their rest rooms and continue to keep them clean under penalty of violating the State Food and Drug Law, Article 695, which carries a fine of not less than ten nor more than one hundred dollars.

"Our sanitary inspectors have been notified to assess this fine whenever they find rest rooms maintained without adequate sani-

"Reddy Kilowatt" On W. T. U. C. Staff

With the announcement in today's issue of the Tribune, introducing "Reddy Kilowatt", C. A. Pitts, local manager of the West Texas Utilities Company, made this explanation of the new addition to the company's staff:

"For a number of years, we've been seeking some way in which electric service could be pictured to the public. Practically everyone knows about electricity. But to many persons it is a mysterious force which they believe comes out of the sky. In fact, however, it must be generated at a high voltage, then subdued and more or less served on a platter in homes and businesses where it may be safely used at a mere turn of a switch.

"In Reddy Kilowatt we believe we have a figure which illustrates electric service in an unmistakable manner—one which immediately suggests electric service."

In order to help acquaint WTU customers with "Reddy," Mr. Pitts said that free balloons bearing Reddy's picture and small pasteboard cutout figures of the little fellow will be presented to all children, accompanied by an adult, who will visit the local office Friday.

"We preferred a character such as Reddy Kilowatt because we regard our service as friendly and helpful," Mr. Pitts declared. "We felt that our sentiments could best be expressed by a real, life-like electric servant. That's how Reddy came into being. He typifies modern electric service as it is available in every home."

County Agent Is Unable To Locate Deceased Client

Some sympathetic farmer from Roaring Springs, who failed to enclose his name, mailed the following clipping to Frank A. Buckley, local county agent:

Give Farm Agents A Rest! There's an old story about a dance hall out west which displayed the following sign: "Don't Shoot The Fiddler, He's Doing The Best He Can."

No doubt nearly every county agent in the South these last few weeks has felt like hanging up a similar sign. The county agent didn't write the 1938 farm act and he is not to blame if Congress waited almost 'til planting time to pass it and then left a thousand and one kinks in it that only time and experience can straighten out. The county agent is going the best he can in a bad situation and everybody should have patience with him. We are indeed quite ready to sympathize with a North Carolina agent one of whose farmers died in 1936 with some dispute pending about a government crop payment. Although the county agent reported the death, the U. S. Treasury Department kept sending one letter after another until finally, just when the agent had been through a full month of night and day agony over the 1938 crop allotment, he sent Washington this reply:

"I have been in Hell 30 days. I know Mr. Jones isn't there. Under present conditions no county agent can ever get to heaven, so I can never tell you whether Mr. Jones is there. All I know is he has been dead two years and I'm through."

Just as far as possible let's give the farm agent a little rest, and all possible thanks for a hard job conscientiously performed.

OUTGROWN SHELLS

In my walks about the Mexican Capital, I came across a few Colonial mansions that once housed the proud aristocrats, but they had left their outgrown shells by life's unchanging sea. And beautiful shells they were too.

In the very heart of Mexico City, just a short distance from my hotel, I saw one of the very finest of these old Spanish mansions of the past. It was built in the 18th Century for the Counts of Joral de Berrio. The exterior presents a very handsome picture in stones of grey and old rose. Rose-colored volcanic stone trimmed with carved grey stone. A very large magnificent door, studded with nails leads into a fine patio, majestic in its series of superimposed arches. In former times this was the very soul of the house.

As time went on this Colonial mansion sheltered Mexico's First Emperor, Iturbide, later on it became a magnificent hostelry. The Hotel Iturbide. At the present time small shops, stores and offices occupy its rooms.

The famous House of Tiles, already described, now occupied by Sanborn's, was a worthy neighbor of Iturbide's palace.

The Casa de la Marquesa de Uluapa on another street, is noted for its Majolica tiles set in the walls of the rooms and in the patio. Here one sees not only a portrait of the Marquesa done in tile, but also many of her servants. The Casa de los Condes de Santiago de Calimaya is another gem of Colonial architecture built of volcanic rock and its foundations are composed of stones taken from Aztec temples. Its very corner stone once served as a base for an Indian Idol. This mansion housed a cousin of Cortez.

All these charming old mansions have seen the vicissitudes, the devastating effects of time. In spite of their former magnificence and beauty still manages to survive. All these homes seem to speak in their own muted tongue, of their former aristocratic tenants who once tarried here for a few years in their earthy transit before continuing their

TODAY'S PICTURE STORY--MODERN EAST AND WEST

1. Up-to-date express liners, like the Queen Mary, provide air conditioning with streamlined luxury and speed. 2. Here's a brand new dish which delights guests at the Worth, in Fort Worth. Modern devices open new fields to culinary art—even for skilled chefs. 3. How'd you like to "unlax" in a chair like this modern Radio Clubber. It has a broadcast receiver, telephone, cigar lighter, humidifier, beverage bar, bridge table, etc.—all conveniences for an all-day stay. 4. Here's West Texas' modern hotel—the WORTH in Fort Worth. On the highway to and from all points west, it dispenses the peculiar brand of hospitality that regular folks like—toothsome food, all modern conveniences, including silent air conditioning—with ingratiating and appealing simplicity.

5. Now, from all quarters of the compass come modern air conditioned streamliners of the rails—into Fort Worth—these miracles of our wonder age. 6. But we'll always have the refreshing beauty and rough glamour of the western plains, Home on the Range and all the other lasting traditions. 7. There's new interest in breakfast where air conditioning adds to comfort. 8. The joy of "dining out" is greatly increased in this air conditioned room at the WORTH Hotel. Superb food is the first of Manager Jack Farrell's requirements for his guests. 9. If you've never seen what makes the wheels go 'round in scientifically cooling a modern hotel—here it is. This is a typical compressor which makes resort weather on summer's hottest days.

Tree of the Sad Night— Puente of Alvarado— In another part of Mexico City I beheld two pegs on which History (or was it a fable?) had hung a few reminders of the past, the night of June 30th, 1520, when Cortez and his followers had left the old Aztec capital known as Tenochtitlan. A cavalcade of men, horses, and vast amounts of rich plunder. A gossipy old hag seeing them depart, the place is still pointed out to tourists near the present Post Office, informed all and sundry. Soon the maddened Aztecs gave hot pursuit to the fleeing Spaniards. Much of their booty was so heavy and cumbersome that it was thrown away in their hasty flight. This ancient caseway with its adjacent canals was soon the scene of carnage, the canals choked with a wriggling mass of horses, men, dead and dying. The stolen spoils intermingled to swell the mass.

Alvarado, the right hand man of Cortez, his Lieutenant, to save his hide that night, did his famous pole-vault over a canal. His physical prowess made a deep impression on his bitter enemies, so at least it has been claimed. To commemorate this famous Leap of Alvarado one now sees "Puente of Alvarado" affixed to this particular section of the caseway. A little farther, one comes to a tree, dead at the top, and surrounded by an iron fence, known to fame as the "Tree of the Sad Night." The only living witness of those hectic times when a handful of Spaniards affected the Conquest of Mexico. Under its hospitable branches Cortez was said to have found shelter and temporary respite after his ignominious flight. And Cortez wept, wept when he beheld the destruction of his hopes, his losses of men and horses and booty. The heavens who thought they were getting great bargains. MONTE de PIEDAD— Across the street from the Cathedral in Mexico City stands a large rose-colored building of volcanic stone. This is a huge pawn shop, minus usurious rates, and is called the Monte de Piedad, (Mountain of Piety). Count Regla founded this humanitarian institution in 1775 by donating $300,000. The object was to save the refined, impecunious people from the tolls of usury. Many human vultures had heretofore fattened off the misery of the unfortunates. The amount loaned on any article is about three-fourths of its value as set by the appraiser. The article is placed on sale at the expiration of seven months if the interest is not paid. If not sold in five months, it is sold at public auction. If a greater amount is realized than the amount of the loan and the interest is placed to the credit of the borrower or his heirs and after a few years, after to the institution. As one wonders, titles on display might tell some of the stories of misery. These things I saw somehow struck me and had served former were now put in a block to go to new and the slavery of the have pawned their buy a ticket for the very poor come their mattresses to get the whereabouts fight, in the sun. The Motley County Game Management Association was represented at the meeting at Galveston Friday and Saturday by U. L. Wilie, vice-president, Gus Bird and J. R. Nall, members and Jim Canon, game warden.

A report of activities in this county, prepared by Frank A. Buckley, county agent, was read to the convention by the state president; Mr. Willie was called upon for a verbal report. Efforts of Motley County landowners and sportsmen to build up a great game country in this section were the subject of wide discussion among leaders from all parts of the state, according to the delegates.

SEEKS NOMINATION

JUDGE H. N. GRAVES

GEORGETOWN—Judge Harry N. Graves of Williamson County today made formal announcement of his candidacy for Judge of the Court of Criminal Appeals of Texas.

Judge Graves succeeded the lamented Judge O. S. Lattimore on this Court and now seeks the Democratic nomination for the unexpired term. He has served with distinction upon the Court after many years in the fields of public service and after more than thirty years in the active practice of the law in this State.

"I feel impelled by duty to remain on the Court until the end of the present term and therefore will be unable to make a personal campaign throughout the State. I shall deeply appreciate the efforts of those citizens who feel that my record in public and private life merits continuing my service upon the Court," Judge Graves stated.

Persons who have filed claims for unemployment compensation and then found work should cease filing claims with the Employment Service. The Unemployment Compensation Act was created only for those out of work and if a claimant finds a job he is no longer eligible for unemployment benefits.

Crowley Is Choice Of Pensioners

Karl A. Crowley, candidate for governor, this week became the choice of the old age pension people, receiving the endorsement of the heads of all six state-wide pension groups. Leaders of organizations endorsing the Crowley platform are Wallace Jinkins of Dallas, President State-wide Advisory Committee of One Hundred; W. H. Granger of Waco, State Chairman of Social Security Association of Texas and Editor of "Social Justice"; X. Carson of Dallas, State Chairman of Social Security League and Editor of "Human Security"; W. B. Price of Texarkana, Chairman East Texas Old Age Reliberation Association; James O. Rall of San Antonio, Old Age Compensation Association of Texas.

Those named above, it was said, would enter the field in Crowley's behalf and help organize an intensive program of public address throughout the State.

"I treasure and appreciate the confidence and faith shown in me by the representatives of the various old age pension associations," said Crowley.

"Their confidence will not be misplaced. Payment of the $30.00 monthly pensions, by taking the system out of politics and giving equal and just treatment to all people, will be my first undertaking as the Governor of Texas."

The groups in a jointly-signed letter to Crowley said: "The hope of the old people, the needy blind, dependent children, and school teachers of Texas to receive just and fair treatment, which has been withheld from them, depends upon the election of a Governor who is wholeheartedly in sympathy with the social security program of the state as adopted by the people in constitutional amendment.

"We have considered statements made by all candidates for governor and have come to the conclusion that you are the only candidate for that office.

"We are, therefore, writing this as an unqualified endorsement of your candidacy, and are going to advise every citizen of Texas to read your constructive platform.
