More Rain Falls Here

Following the season's first severe heat wave Monday and Tuesday which sent citizens in search of shade, and artificial climate, a rain storm visited this section during the late afternoon and night, adding 65 inch fall here.

Also the rain was considered local since some localities in the county received little more than a shower, it was declared of great value to farmers and ranchmen.

Reports of a severe hail storm in the north section of the county were made in Matador Friday. The storm started in the northern Whitefat area and destroyed a wide path beyond Quitaque, reports said. In the Flomot area, most of the crops were destroyed and will require re-planting.

Marvin Jones To Run Again

AMARILLO. — Congressman Marvin Jones of Amarillo, who recently was appointed to the United States Court of Claims, will seek re-election to Congress, he advised friends here Monday afternoon.

He made the announcement after many Panhandle persons and Government officials urged him to seek return to Congress because of the swift changes in national and international events.

Friends here said they had made arrangements to file his name with the 28 county democratic chairman to assure him a place on the ballot.

Motley county Democratic chairman, Pat Sheridan, declared Tuesday that a group of Amarillo citizens, numbering about 30, visited him late Monday with a signed petition and the required candidate fee, to place Marvin Jones' name on the ticket in this county.

Mr. Sheridan said the process was in legal order, and only a few hours remained until the deadline for filing a place on the ticket.

Twelve other men announced as candidates for the place after Jones was appointed to the bench. Several weeks ago several of them have said they would withdraw if Jones were persuaded to make the race. Some of them won't withdraw.

Jones is serving his twenty-fourth year in Congress. He is chairman of the House Committee on Agriculture and is considered one of the Texas delegation's most powerful members.

Jones said he would not make a campaign, that if the people wanted him in Congress he would continue to serve.

Monday night a dozen men, including Mayor Ross Rogers of Amarillo, who had urged Jones

WAR TO START ON HOPPERS

Work on eradicating young grasshoppers now hatching thruout the county will be begun next week, according to J. R. Emmons, county agent. Although the young insects are appearing from ten to fourteen days later this season than last, experts predict that damage will be even greater unless prompt control measures are applied.

The poison mixing station will be opened at the Farmers' Co-operative Gin at Matador, and poison will be distributed to the public on the same basis as in previous seasons, Emmons announced. He suggested that all turnrows, borrow-ditches, gullies, and lakes where young hoppers are found should be poisoned within the next two or three weeks even if planting has not been completed.

The tiny young insects are much easier to kill with poison than older ones, and the job of distributing poison is not nearly so great on the egg beds as after they have scattered over the fields.

Landlords To Share Checks With Tenants

Under the 1940 AAA program tenant and landlord will share in AAA payments in exactly the same proportion as they share in the proceeds of the crop, the State Agricultural Conservation Committee has pointed out.

At the same time the committee informed county committees that they could refuse to allow any increase in the share of payments to landlords who rearranged their farming system in order to obtain a larger share of the AAA payments for their farm in 1940.

Citing the AAA regulations, the committee said: "The net payment computed for any farm for special and general crops shall be divided among the landlords, tenants, and sharecroppers in the same proportion (as indicated by their acreage shares) that such persons are entitled, at the time of harvest, to share in the proceeds (other than a fixed commodity payment) of such crops on the farm in 1940."

In other words, if a farm is operated on a third-and-fourth basis with the landlord receiving one-fourth of the cotton crop and one third of the general crops, then he will also receive one-fourth of the cotton payment and one-third of the general crop payment.

ONLY ONE DAY REQUIRED TO MAKE CANVASS

The great sympathetic heart of Western Texas was aroused after a mass meeting on the war emergency Red Cross drive at the courthouse Monday morning, and Matador responded by following its well established tradition. The city's quota was over-subscribed in cash within a few hours.

Homer Sheats, chairman of the Motley County Red Cross chapter, explained to the small crowd, the extreme need of six million destitute people, mostly women and children, who are being driven from their homes daily. He further explained that the county's quota of $240 had been doubled, since the National drive had increased twofold, and that Motley county's share of $20,000,000 drive was a quota of $480. He produced figures from the drive last week which indicated that little interest was being shown and that only about $120 had been contributed.

Legion Promises Aid L. B. (Bob) Robertson, Commander of the Fleming Post American Legion immediately promised that organization's support, followed by promise of support by officials of the Matador Lions Club. Mr. Robertson and D. E. Pitts were appointed committee chairmen, aided by the following committee, Marvin Patton, H. F. Pipkin, U. L. Willie, Elmer Stearns, J. R. Emmons, Mrs. A. A. Harp, Mrs. H. H. Schweitzer and Mrs. D. E. Pitts.

John Meason was selected to head the drive at Roaring Springs, Rev. Jess Terry at Whiteflat, Oscar Vinson at Flomot and Willie Meyer at Folley.

Drive Made Quickly The drive in Matador was made within a few hours after the committees started action. Response was immediate and the donations were large. By late afternoon the city of Matador had paid more than its portion of the quota, which had been set at one half

Washington, West Texas Meet In AAA

(This is one of a series of articles on the government in farming.)

By Ray Davidson

Washington is in one world, the Smith's West Texas farm in another.

It is 2,000 miles between them. In custom, thought and atmosphere, it is many times that far from the humble confines of the average farm to Washington's corridors.

Washington has come to influence the way the farm is done there; and John Smith has gone to Washington, to check on the government.

Washington and the West Texas farm have met at the AAA office. The result is a revolution—bloodless and sweeping in its extent and swift in its accomplishment.

This revolution has been brought about by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration—that Washington agency from which tentacles reach to practically every cultivated acre in the nation.

And whether you like it or not, the farmer's revolution has brought us here to stay for good; until they too become obsolete and are shoved aside in the changing order of things.

Whether you look upon the government-farming union as a scandalous condition, a necessary evil, or a great boom, you may resign yourself to the fact that times have brought the new condition upon us for a long time to come. The farmer will consort with the government until decades pass and the present order gives away to a newer.

The government-farmer combination has been brought about and will be perpetuated by two powerful factors: (1) the fact that for 150 years of American history, U. S. tariff walls have put agriculture on the short end of the double-barrel, and (2) the fact that conservation of soil, greatest of all resources, is an integral part of the new agriculture.

Average laymen will tell you the AAA is merely an "alphabetical agency giving a dole to the farmer." The AAA has been classed as another charitable division of the New Bureaucracy.

But our farmer cousins tell a different story about this. They tell that farmers now work longer than they did before the AAA came into being in order to earn AAA payments. They tell you that AAA suggestions have opened new vistas of farming opportunity to them. They tell you that AAA has given them a chance to work and earn on a farm that a few years ago would not bring in enough cash income to keep a mule alive.

The farmer will tell you that the AAA is not a dole.

And he will make you believe it. He will make you believe it is a new way of farming. The new way may be socialistic. It may be regimentation.

"Four-Sixes" Cowboys will Attend Reunion at Stamford

the "Four Sixes", headed by their foreman, George Humphries, will attend the Texas Cowboy Reunion at Stamford July 2, 3, and 4, taking the chuck wagon along as they do every summer. Ten or more chuck wagons from various ranches are expected at the Reunion.

ROARING SPRINGS

But farmers like it. Powerful farmer votes will make the new agricultural methods brought about by the 1933-39 revolution more or less permanent.

The writer of this article has talked to hundreds of farmers about the AAA and its rights and wrongs. He has heard praises and complaints.

A series of articles will be presented in the Tribune, beginning this week, telling some of the things the AAA had done and is doing in West Texas. Only a few vital points will be reached, for a book could be written on the subject. These articles will tell what farmers are doing now that they were not doing seven years ago.

These articles are written on the premise that farming is the most important pursuit of our nation. Both praises and criticisms aimed at AAA by those it affects will be repeated. The central idea, however, is to interpret, objectively, what the government and the farmer have been doing since they have become bedfellows, leaving the reader to draw his own conclusions.

One Variety Cotton Group Sign Up 48

Over 4,300 acres of cotton are now signed up under the Motley County One-Variety cotton program, according to a statement released from the county agent's office yesterday. A total of 48 producers have signed contracts and more are expected before June 15, at which time opportunity for participation expires. Producers who joined the plan in 1939 are not obligated for this season, but must sign up again if they wish to again be members, the statement explained.

Under the Smith-Doxie Act, the producer who is a member of the One-Variety cotton program, is allowed free classing and cotton news by the Federal government, saving 25c per bale on cotton if a loan is allowed by the A. A. A.

Texas cotton has been improving in staple during the past three years due to one-variety cotton organizations. Since Texas must

Texas Boys Needed For CCC Camps

A total of 4,500 boys from Texas will be needed between July 1 and July 10 for the Civilian Conservation Corps, according to information received here from Adam R. Johnson, executive director.

Any boy is eligible to enroll who is unemployed and wants employment, and whose family is not financially able to send him to college.

Boys are accepted between the ages of 17 and 23½; they must be willing to go to any camp in the United States and to remain there six months. They are not allowed to stay longer than two years.

Night Schools Held

In the CCC, besides the work they do and the experience gained in this way, boys attend night school and are given educational and vocational training, making them more fitted to obtain and hold private jobs on their return home.

With the present world conditions, the question is asked if the CCC will be turned into army camps. It is not a military organization, and at present the President has assured the camps that they will not be militarized. In event the army is increased, the fact that a boy is a member of the Corps will not automatically transfer him into army service.

There are moments of life that one never can forget. Shards of a dream of this passing illusion Vignettes that swim into view—then slowly dissolve...

CAPRI AND ANACAPRI

One must see the "Blue Grotto" at Capri, that goes without saying. It is one of the "must's" when one is traveling in Italy.

Before entering, one is impressed with the dark blue color of the waters hereabouts. The thought strikes one that some giant laundress must have spilled the entire contents of her great bottle of bluing into it—otherwise, how could one ever account for the blue-blackness of the waters seen here?

We negotiate the entrance into the cave by bending backwards in the small row-boat. To thus enter the blue Grotto is not always an easy matter if one is old and the bones are stiff. When the waves are running high, it becomes impossible to enter this grotto. Should the force of one of the great waves hit the boat at such times, heads would be crushed like so many egg-shells.

The interior of the Blue Grotto is lit by refracted light shining thru the deep sapphire of the waters; in consequence, a grey-blueness fills this cave and when a small boy volunteers to help about, we can see a silvery sheen imparted to his skin. To a lesser degree, this is also noticed as we regard our hands as they drag thru the waters by the side of the boat as we slowly row about in the large cavity of this great hollow sapphire.

In leaving the dim blueness of the cave and emerging into the brilliant sunshine once more, we blink our eyes as we catch the glare of the bright light reflected on the waters in great wavy, oil-like patterns. On arriving at the shores we disembark and enter a waiting cab and ascend a winding road that leads from Capri to Anacapri on the top of the promontory.

In this ascent we see ever-broadening vistas. Finally we arrive at the small village of Anacapri with its flat-topped houses, standing on the summit. Fruits are spread about on the many roofs, clothes are seen fluttering in the sunny breeze. All about us are magnificent views—great inspiring vistas—the curving Bay of Naples, smoking Vesuvius, no wonder then that this spot has always been a favorite place of residence from time immemorial.

Here some of the great Roman Emperors had their magnificent seaside residences. Here Hadrian had his immense pretentious villa spreading over a vast area—a great mass of architectural beauty. Here, too, the former Kaiser had one of his many summer homes. Here much later, Dr. Axel Munthe built his fine artistic home. In his book, "The Story of San Michele" he has imprisoned the charm, the spiritual subtlety of this region. Here Beauty is at home—on the sunny heights swept by the clean breezes; here amidst the charming far-flung views of sea and sky, of curving bay, of smoking volcano, lies the very soul of Italy—the land of Art—of History—of scenic beauty—here an incense is softly wafted towards us as we stand there on the heights of Anacapri—even the very wreathes of the former Roman Emperors are loathe to leave their earthly home as they hover in the purple shadows—

RESTRAINT IS ADVISED FOR SUN BATHERS

AUSTIN.—"Use caution in basking under the sun," says the advice of Dr. Geo. W. State Health Officer.

"Under a misconception, the amount of sun they can without ill effects, many people thoughtlessly submit their unprotected faces, backs and over-exposure to sun and, painfully, sometimes serious result," Dr. Cox pointed out.

Restraint in acquiring a suntan is advised. Exposure of minutes the first day should be ample, and the amount of sun spent in the sun can be on a day-to-day basis as the body becomes accustomed to sunbathing.

Advising sun-bathers to "know their limits", Dr. Cox pointed out that individual differences may determine the amount of time that a person can spend in the sun without being burned.

Before becoming too over-prolonged sunbathing, would do well to remember many a vacation or weekend has been ruined because of the sun's rays on tender skin was insufficiently appreciated.

Some persons are susceptible to sunburn but don't tan; others individuals tan over a long shorter period, but the general rule applies to all, "overdo."

Most sunburns, according to Dr. Cox, are similar to first-degree burns, but some, as the result of over-exposure, reach the blistering stage characteristic of a second-degree burn.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie P. and children, LaVerne Charles, returned home Friday night from Clarksville, after a two weeks visit in home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Pollock, and other relatives and friends.

to seek re-election, took the petition to the various county democratic chairmen.

Deskins Wells, Wellington news-paper publisher, indicated he would withdraw as soon as he had talked with Jones.

Dennis Zimmerman of Tullia said he would stay in the race.

Gene Worley of Shamrock, won resigned from the Legislature to make the race, could not be reached. "Gene" got out beating the bushes and yucca for votes as has been doing the last six weeks," said Mrs. Worley.

Amarillo Globe News Tuesday issue of the Childress Daily Index quotes the following statement:

"Allen Harp, youthful 121st district state representative who is in the race for congress, this afternoon said he would not withdraw from the campaign despite the decision of Marvin Jones last night to seek reelection."

LANDLORDS...

The regulations further declare: "If on any farm in 1940 any change of the arrangements which existed on the farm in 1939 is made between the landlord and the tenants or sharecroppers and such change would cause a greater proportion of the payments to be made to the landlord under the 1940 program than would have been made to him under the 1939 program, payments to the landlord under the 1940 program with respect to the farm shall not be greater than the amount that would have been paid to the landlord and operator if the arrangements which existed on the farm in 1939 had been continued, if the county committee certifies that the change is not justified and disapproves such change."

Thus, the committee said, a county committee can refuse to allow any increase in payments to a landlord who replaces a tenant with wage labor in order to obtain for himself the total AAA payments to the farm.

H. J. Pool and son, Calvin, of Clarksville, are visiting here in the home of Mr. Pool's sister, Mrs. T. H. McCain.

Roaring Springs accepted one fourth of the county quota and reports yesterday indicated that the amount would be over-subscribed. Mr. Sheats had not received reports from Whiteflat, Flomot and Folley, but declared he was confident the entire county's quota was assured, with possibly some extra funds.

Nine Thousand Men Needed In Marine Corps

According to word received by Postmaster Edward F. Springer, an authorized increase of 9,000 men for the U. S. Marine Corps has been approved by Congress, bringing the strength of the Corps up to 34,000. These 9,000 men will be used, in addition to bringing the present regiments up to peace time allowance, for the following: One Infantry Regiment, two Defense Battalions, and 1,500 men to increase the guards at Navy Yards.

The Defense Battalions are a new type of unit intended for the temporary defense of a small base, an island base for example. They provide an antiaircraft defense, having 12 3-inch guns; 48 .50-caliber antiaircraft machine guns; 48 .30-caliber machine guns, and 6 5-inch guns for use against surface vessels. Only 750 men are used in each battalion. It is a most powerful unit.

The opportunity afforded by this increase will be grasped by many young men physically and mentally qualified for military service. Young men between 18 and 30 years of age, white, single and without dependents, not less than 64 nor more than 74 inches tall, have had one year high school, and of good moral character are eligible for enlistment. Those under 21 years of age must have the consent of parents or guardians.

Application blanks and illustrated pamphlets may be obtained from Postmaster Springer or by writing direct to the Marine Corps Recruiting Office, 822 Allen Building, Dallas, Texas.

Floyd County Red Cross To Stage Dance

FLOYDADA—Faced with a doubled quota to meet immediate war-relief needs of the American Red Cross, the Floyd County Red Cross chapter is planning a benefit dance to be held in Floydada Saturday night, June 8, with Leon Hester and his Swing Kings providing music for the festivities.

Entire proceeds of the dance will go to the war-relief fund. County chairman Cecil Hagood announced Monday. Admission will be one dollar per couple.

The Floyd County chapter, assigned a quota of $440 under the first ten million dollar relief fund drive inaugurated by the Red Cross three weeks ago, has almost completed the required fund when the national organization, faced with the huge task of caring for millions of refugees in France, asked last week that the quota be doubled and requested donations totalling $20,000,000 from the American people.

Plans were made immediately to hold the benefit dance in Floydada on the huge dance floor specially built a week ago for the three dances which featured the Floydada Roundup and Rodeo.
