PRICE SEVEN CENTS

TRAIL DUST

By DOUGLAS MEADOR

Life is a catena of days, each like a separate room with different decor, echoing with changing voices and laughter. Night is the door that connects one room to another.

Some improvement has been made in the quality of calendars during the past two or three decades, especially with regard to decorative value, but their former usefulness is facing a crisis in the blinding due to progress. My father used to mark the calendar when the first norther was due, designate when various milk cows would be fresh, and by checking conditions of the moon, decide on planting time for June corn. It is interesting to estimate the effect on social and community life following the turn of the century, if Esquire calendars had been readily available.

Perhaps the incident does not deserve recording since my thoughts at the time were disturbed by the constantly increasing pace of modern existence. Belching black smoke from its funnel, the engine rocked a little ridiculously in an effort to provide an impression of speed. The two ancient box cars and the antiquated, unpainted caboose followed stubbornly. Except for the motion, it might have been a picture painted half a century ago. Again the dinky little train might have crawled back under the curtain of years for another glimpse of the world which the iron rail once made its subject. While the noisy and clumsy ghost struggled against the naked horizon, there was a flash in the pale sky overhead. A gleaming air liner had been pressed from the tube of distance and prepared to land.

Silence is the essence of night. Except for the tempering of the wind, a tree grows great and strong without sound. It is not easy to husband our resources while they are still infatuated by the swish of a skirt on a passing taxi.

R. E. A. DELEGATES TO SAN FRANCISCO

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bloodworth of Matador, and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Ross of Flomot, left Friday for San Francisco, Calif., where they are attending a national convention of R. E. A. delegates. They drove to Amarillo where they boarded a special train to the coast for the convention. En route, they were treated to "side-trips" which included a visit to Grand Canyon National Park, and other points of interest.

Mrs. Powell will be unable to attend her duties for several days. Mrs. Bess Patton of Matador is spending several days with Mrs. Powell. — Floyd County Hesperian.

New Oil Prospect Located

A new "wildcat" oil test well has been located in Motley county according to an item in yesterday's Lubbock Evening Journal. The well will be located 14 miles southeast of Turkey which would probably be about 15 miles north of Matador. Drilling operations are scheduled to begin by February 2.

A reprint of the complete item which appeared in the oil news section of the newspaper, follows:

"In north-central Motley county an operator has spotted a location for a deep test prospect, which will probably be drilled to the granite basement. "Lion Oil Company of Midland will dig the prospect as the No. 1 Shoe-Nik Ranch. Proposed depth is 8,000 feet with rotary operations to begin by February 2.

"Drill site is 1,980 feet from the north and east lines of Section 212, Block S-R, D&P Survey, 14 miles southeast of Turkey."

City Housing Project Is Being Considered

Despite a change in administration and the refusal of many formal policies, Matador still has a chance to secure a federal housing project.

G. S. Klemmedson of Ft. Worth, economist for the Public Housing Administration, was here Tuesday, meeting with members of the Matador Housing Authority, and making a study of the feasibility of a project here.

Mr. Klemmedson is famous as an economist and gained much publicity when he completely reorganized the administration of the Colorado state government a few years ago.

"The government wants to know many things regarding a community before a project is approved," he declared, "but my prime interest is the character and attitude of the members of the panel in control of the project."

Firms Make Change In Closing Hours

"The Kid" Laughs At Father Time On 90th Birthday

Business places in Matador did not close Saturday in observance of a very important day. It was J. B. "Kid" Kennedy's 90th birthday and he was slightly less than disappointed because county offices, the bank and business places did not declare January 24 a legal holiday.

"Kid" Kennedy is among the oldest residents of the county and despite the recent impairment of his health, he is able to continue his familiar pilgrimages on Matador's Main street.

He received many congratulations and gifts on the advent of his 90th birthday and the occasion was climaxed by a birthday party at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Frank Stafford. Mrs. Gertrude Bloodworth, another daughter, other relatives and immediate friends, including Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Lawrence, attended.

The boys' A team and girls' B team will also play at Roaring Springs Monday night to round out the program.

Tribune Building Nears Completion

Following a series of delays the new Tribune building is now in the final stages of completion. It is probable workmen will finish the office and office supply department tomorrow, so that some moving may be started by Saturday.

The back snop still awaits ceiling and completion of plumbing in the wash rooms. Part of the electrical wiring is awaiting the ceiling so that it can be completed.

The front awning of the building, which will be masonry, will probably be the last of the construction since it requires form material now in use in the present printing plant. It will be necessary to move some materials to the new building before the material for the forms can be removed and taken to the new site.

Teacher Is Killed When Car Strikes Rear Of Gas Truck

Andrew Henry Dacus, 26, a Paducah school teacher, was killed instantly about 6:30 Saturday morning when his car struck the rear of a gasoline transport truck driven by Earl McBride of Matador. The accident occurred about six miles north of Abilene.

McBride, who is a former Tribune employee, had just left the Onyx Refinery north of Abilene with his truck loaded with gasoline. He had pulled onto the highway and was changing gears when he felt the impact.

He said his first thought was that the "king pin" had broken in the big truck trailer. He pulled the big truck off the paving and went back to examine the cause of the jar. He found Dacus' 1951 Ford sedan wedged under the rear bumper of his truck. He tried to remove the man and found it impossible.

The impact had broken two faucets on the rear of the truck and gasoline was flowing over the entire scene. McBride placed his flares on either side of the accident to warn other motorists in the early morning darkness. Approximately 2,000 gallons of gasoline spilled on the highway and ran into the bar ditches.

Dacus was believed to have been killed instantly. Help arrived in a few moments after the accident and great difficulty was experienced in getting the man's body out of his crushed automobile. Several employees of the refinery and truck drivers saw the accident, McBride declared. The transport truck is owned by T. J. Daffern, Matador Magnolia agent.

Because of the extreme fire hazard resulting from the released gasoline police were cautious in allowing any effort to separate the wedged car from the truck. It was approximately two hours before the two vehicles were pulled apart. Police said the smallest electric spark could touch off the highly inflammable liquid.

Failed To See Truck Investigating officers said Dacus apparently failed to see the truck while rounding a curve. The two vehicles moved about 111 feet down the highway after the impact.

Dacus received his Bachelor of Science degree at Abilene Christian college in 1949. He had taught school for the last two years in the Paducah school system and had resigned January 16 to accept a teaching job with the Navarro Junior College, Corsicana, and apparently planned to go there from Abilene since his car was loaded with school books, clothing and personal effects. He was unmarried.

The young teacher had spent Friday night at the home of O. B. Proctor, 2941 Grape street, minister of the North Park Church of Christ in Abilene.

Survivors include the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dacus, Roosevelt, Oklahoma, a brother, Richard of Kress and a sister, Freda, of Roosevelt. The body was taken to Hobart, Oklahoma (near Roosevelt) Saturday to await funeral arrangements.

JESSE JAMES OPENS BANK

ABILENE, Texas, Jan. 23—Jesse James opened the First State Bank in Abilene at 12:01 a. m. Friday. Bankers tumbled out of bed in a hurry when they received word that the bank had been entered. Wayman Rose, executive vice-president, rushed downtown. But the money was safe, still locked inside the bank's vault.

Banker Rose thanked City Patrolman Jesse James who found the door unlocked while on his rounds.

City Petitioned To Open Streets

Request to the city council in the form of a petition to open several streets in northeast Matador has been received. The petition was signed by approximately 15 owners of property in the area, which is in the original townsite. It was pointed out that many owners of lots in the section are unable to locate their property because it is either in cultivation or covered in mesquite brush, without designated streets or alleys.

The council approved the petition at the last regular meeting and a licensed surveyor is being employed to correctly locate the streets. As soon as the surveying is completed the streets will be opened so that the owners of lots may obtain access to their property.

Air Cadet Admits Murder Of Lubbock High School Girl

LUBBOCK, Jan. 28 — The nude body of Joyce Fern White, 18-year-old Lubbock High School senior missing since Jan. 8, was found in a shallow grave early Wednesday morning after officers were led to the lonely spot about nine miles west of here by a youthful Air Force cadet.

The cadet, Walter H. Whitaker Jr., 20, was charged with murder with malice here a few hours later in the court of Justice of Peace J. R. Shipp.

Whitaker, member of a well-to-do Hartford, Conn., family, was stationed at Reese Air Force Base here before he was transferred to Lackland AFB, San Antonio, for preflight training a few days after Miss White disappeared.

A large crowd gathered at noon as Whitaker was taken from the Lubbock County jail and started for San Antonio, where civil authorities hope to gain custody of the youth on a murder charge.

Officers accompanied him without incident. County officials expected to return him to Lubbock some time Thursday.

In an oral statement to Ranger Capt. Raymond Waters, Lubbock County Sheriff Grady Harris, and other police officers, Whitaker said the girl was strangled to death after a quarrel over another girl. The statement, given at Austin shortly after midnight Wednesday morning, was made in the presence of Jack Coats, Lubbock newspaperman.

Whitaker said he strangled the girl with a cord from a venetian blind.

The other girl, he said, was an exchange student from Switzerland, who lived for a while in the Whitaker home in Hartford.

Whitaker said she had returned to her homeland. The prisoner said Miss White was killed in the back seat of a car about 91 miles west of Lubbock.

Garden Club Takes Up Fight To Raise Balance Of Quota

MOTHERS of Matador and Roaring Springs tonight will wage a special campaign to raise funds that will be used to alleviate the pain and agony of polio victims.

They hope also to aid County Fund Chairman Jack Norman and his faithful volunteer workers achieve the $2,500 county quota. The drive tonight is scheduled as a "porchlight drive," will start at 8 p. m., at the sound of the fire siren and continue for one hour.

Those who will make a contribution will leave their porchlight burning until a neighbor calls. The porchlight will be a signal that a contribution is waiting. The drive here is sponsored by the Matador Garden Club.

Late yesterday Mr. Norman held little hope that the quota would be raised by this weekend. He said, however, "the people of Motley county are the most generous in the world and it is possible that the porchlight drive here and at Roaring Springs and additional contributions Friday and Saturday, will bring our campaign to the 'hoped-for' $2,500 total."

"We now have $1,850, leaving a shortage of $650," Mr. Norman declared, "but the porchlight campaign in previous drives has been very successful and in many instances those who have given earlier, will make an additional contribution. We also always reach many people who have not been solicited for a contribution, or who have waited to give at this time."

"During the entire campaign we have had an excellent attitude of cooperation and we are grateful for the response of the people. We hope many porchlights will be burning in Matador and Roaring Springs tonight between 8 and 9 p. m. and when they are switched off and the receipts counted, that we will have reached our 1953 goal."

Safe New Polio Vaccine Nearing Widespread Trial

NEW YORK, Jan. 26—A safe new vaccine against polio has worked in a few humans, and probably will get large-scale trials on children this summer, it was announced Monday night.

Officials raised guarded hopes that this spells the death knell of polio as a crippling and killer.

The vaccine gives humans and animals antibodies against all three types of polio virus. Antibodies are natural disease-fighters that can prevent invading viruses from doing any damage.

Almost-final steps in developing this vaccine were announced by Dr. Harry M. Weaver, director of research of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, at a special dinner meeting of foundation trustees.

"I would like to announce this evening that field tests with such a vaccine will be undertaken during 1953," he said. "This I can not say with complete assurance, but I can say that tremendous progress has been made during the past several months—in fact, the kind of progress one is accustomed to see prior to the taking of an important forward step," Dr. Weaver declared.

The vaccine would not be available generally until after these human tests are run. Scientists first must learn how long it takes the vaccine to give you antibodies, how long the protection lasts, whether booster shots might be needed after one vaccination.

But it means scientists have gone as far as they can in the laboratory. The next step definitely must be human tests, on many youngsters. And this also implies great confidence in the new vaccine for safety and protection.

The vaccine is made out of killed virus, killed by a chemical, formalin, so that the virus can not hurt human nerve cells. It is thus perfectly safe. But the killed virus still keeps some ability to produce antibodies in the human who gets the vaccine.

Two M. H. S. Students Attend Inauguration

(By Bette Montgomery)

The inauguration ceremonies for the Governor of Texas this year could only be overshadowed by the inauguration of the President of the United States.

The festivities began in Austin, with a parade down Congress Avenue. The governor and his wife were near the head of the parade with several other high officials. After leaving their cars, they viewed the parade from a review stand.

Several high school bands, as well as college, Army and Navy bands marched in the parade. One of the most outstanding groups marching in the parade were the Apache Belles from Tyler Junior College.

The actual inauguration took place at high noon when a nineteen gun salute was fired and Governor and Mrs. Shivers and Lt. Governor and Mrs. Ramsey entered from a door in the capital, through an arch formed by swords of ten A&M students.

Mrs. Shivers was a perfect picture wearing a mauve suit with matching accessories and a beautiful fur stole with a purple orchid pinned on it and she was carrying a bouquet of red roses.

Four dances ended the fourteen hour day of festivities. Governor and Mrs. Shivers led the grand march at nine thirty at the grand inaugural ball, then continued to two of the dances held in downtown hotels, and

The boys won consolation when they lost their first game to Childress B team 42-40, won their second over Flomot B team 63-27, and then won over Flomot A team 51-38 to win consolation.

The girls won second place in the tournament. Their first game was against Flomot B and Matador won with a score of 31-12 and they also won over Quitaque B 30-14 in their second game and in the finals they lost to Quitaque B, 24-26 to take second in the tournament.

In the Boys' teams Childress B took first place, Silverton second, and Matador Consolation. In the Girls' bracket Quitaque girls were first, Matador second, and Turkey Consolation. The sportsmanship awards went to Quitaque boys and Flomot girls.

M. H. S. Welcomes Sophomore Student

The Sophomore class welcomes Frances Strickland to their class. Frances comes to M.H.S. from Rochester, Texas, where she lived for a year and a half. She is fifteen years of age, has blonde hair, brown eyes, and is 5' 4" in height.

In her pastime, Frances loves to ride horses and when she gets hungry she really enjoys sitting down to a big chicken fried steak, which is her favorite food. Her favorite movie stars are Margie and Gowel Champion and her hobby is dogs.

We are proud to have Frances in M.H.S. and hope she enjoys going to school here!

We were so happy to have Sam Hines visit with us this week. Sam says he's improving everyday and soon the skin grafting will be completed. The doctor says he will walk without his crutches in six or eight months. You recall Sam was injured in an accident in a cotton gin near Muleshoe in late November. Come back to see us, Sam.

We know Martha Jones, Carol Gordon, and Cecil Shelton are proud of their gold basketballs. They made all-tournament team at Flomot last week-end.

We are glad to welcome Frances Strickland from Rochester to the Sophomore Class. Frances promises to be a welcome addition to our basketball team, also.

We congratulate Wanda McMahon on her recent engagement to King Faulkner from Turkey. King is stationed in San Diego with the U. S. Navy. Wanda received her ring via postman and there was never a happier girl in M.H.S.

Betty Ruth tells us Joe has arrived at Lackland Air Base in San Antonio and will be there until he completes his nine weeks basic training. Betty plans to join him as soon as possible.

The "flu" epidemic is still taking its toll in M.H.S. this week. We sincerely wish each one a speedy recovery. Those on the sick list this past week were: Marlene Bailey, Emmie Carson, Franklin Glasscock, Lucretia Edwards, Gary Laughlin, Dewayne Martin, Harold Dean Martin, and La Royce Mitchell.

Dewayne Martin had a little tough luck in the basketball game with Turkey last Tuesday. He received quite a blow on his mouth and had to have two stitches taken in it.

The eighth grade English class believes in "To learn is to do." Last week they made a practical application of the art of learning by demonstration. Several members of the class brought candy and different confections to class and explained the recipe and the method by which they made them. Best part of project — they ate 'the products'!

We had an interesting American History class last Thursday. Pat Reeves and Bette Montgomery told us about the Governor's inauguration at Austin, which they attended the first of the week.

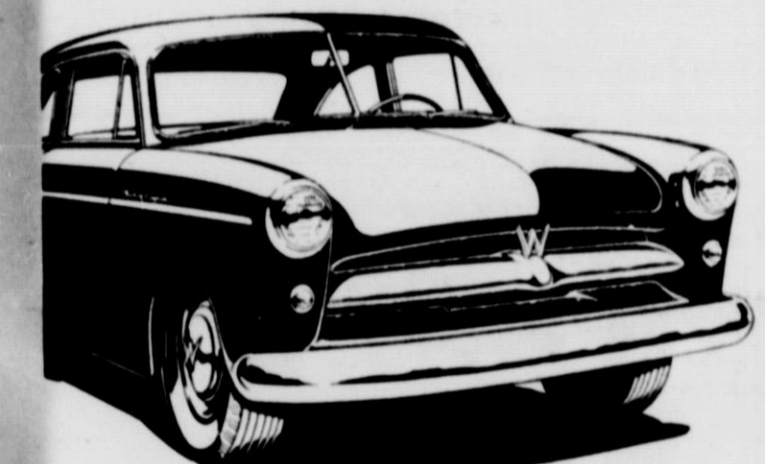

The Senior Class decided on their play last week. The title of it is "Ready Made Family" and it's a comedy that will keep you laughing all night. It will be put on sometime in March, so plan to attend and we'll guarantee you some laughs!

With the beginning of a new semester the Home Ec. Classes have begun a new study — sewing. Each year the classes use the first semester learning how to cook and the last one learning how to sew. Everyone is studying color combinations and learning how to choose clothes or patterns to fit your figure style. Oh, yes, everyone has become expert "take-out" artists. It seems like we have to take out at least one seam for every three put in.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Surprise Ending!

That raffle for our Volunteer Fire Department went over fine. We're going to have money to get a new engine—and then some.

Our local merchants really donated some wonderful prizes. Like Buzz Ellis, the radio-TV dealer, giving that big television set... and the Superior Motors putting up a brand-new car.

There was a humorous note, too. The prize of a year's supply of coal—donated by Baker Coal Yard—was won by Mrs. Thayer, whose husband is the biggest fuel-oil dealer in the county! What did

Mrs. Thayer do with the coal? She gave it to a church she's not even a member of. (Her Church uses her husband's fuel oil.)

From where I sit, that's real generosity. But then, Mrs. Thayer never did believe in dividing people into groups. She's "for" everybody — whatever church they go to, whether they like TV or radio, people who enjoy temperate beer, people who don't really swim-hearted persons.

That ability apparently can be stepped up by giving one or more kinds of mineral oils along with the vaccine, Dr. Weaver said. The vaccine is made more potent.

Getting a supply of virus for vaccines has been achieved. Virus of all three types—Brunhilde, Lansing and Leon—is being grown in test tubes, in veritable glass farms, using animal or human tissues other than nerve tissues.

An autopsy was performed Wednesday but results were withheld temporarily.

Miss White's widowed mother, Mrs. Lena B. White, told officers Whitaker had taken the girl to get groceries on Jan. 3 and then had visited in their home here, leaving shortly after 9 p.m. Mrs. White said she heard her daughter gasp or sob soon after the youth had left.

Shortly afterward, Mrs. White said, she heard Joyce walk from the living room into the kitchen. When Mrs. White called to her daughter a moment later she received no answer.
